Select Poetry.

FIRST FALL OF SNOW. The snow had begun in the gloaming, And lull'd all the night.

Every plant and leaf was hushed, We crept close to dear father's ear!

I thought of a home in sweet Auburn, Where a little brook in a wood, How the stars were falling in grandly, And did but the hush in the wood.

Up like our little Mabel, Saying, "Father, make the snow!" And I told him of the good old Father, Who was care for the snow!

Again I looked at the snow-fall, And I thought of our dear old mother, That she'd be our first great sorrow, When that mist was heaped on high.

I remember the grand picture that fell from that cloud-like snow, Flake by flake heaving and hissing, The sign of the deep-remembered.

And you to the child I whispered, "Do not cry, my little Mabel!" During the snow-fall, Above can be felt!

Then whistles that we met, I did not know, And the kissing back, did not know, That I love was given to her sister, And I love was given to her sister.

How Russia Got the Crimea. "Russia's Repository contains an account of the means by which Russia became possessed of the portion of territory which the English and French forces are now trying to wrest from her.

Catherine had concluded upon a peace with the Sultan in 1774, partly because of the poverty of her treasury, and partly on account of the intrigues of the British and French ministers.

At the time of the Crimean war, the Sultan was in a war with the United States of America, and France preparing to strike in the Crimea, on the Kuban, northward to the traditional policy of St. Petersburg.

Advantages of Legal Forms.

IN A small town of Saxony lived three young men, whom we will call Ernest, Lewis and George, and who, from their infancy, were strongly attached to one another.

One summer's day Ernest and George set out on horseback for a town about half of where they had business to transact.

Ernest returned the subject of their former conversation, and both rather dejected by the wine they had taken, the dispute became more violent as they proceeded on their way.

George's passion knew no bounds. Unconscious of what he did, he pulled out a pistol and presented it at his companion's head.

The other to whom he delivered him, remained not the slightest doubt of his being committed the murder of which George accused himself.

The local Tribunal transmitted all these particulars to the Supreme Court. The case was brought up to the Supreme Court.

The legal proceedings against George commenced. He repeated his confession to the court, and was sentenced to death.

At the same time, Lewis only wished for death, but I submit to the required formalities. My friend may make the best of his situation.

With profound emotion Lewis, entered upon the most painful duty that had ever been assigned to him.

With this view, he objected that Ernest's body had been committed to the earth, and that he was not permitted to see it.

"What kind of a job!" inquired the wag. "Oh, a most anything-I want to get a man to take the body to do."

"Oh, merely to put medicines, that's all. It requires a stout man, one of good constitution, and after he gets used to it, he doesn't mind it."

"It requires a stout man, one of good constitution, and after he gets used to it, he doesn't mind it. You see, we are very particular about the quality of our medicine, and before we sell any, we test every article."

"Well, we want a man—a good strong, healthy man, as simple as that." "Wages are good; we pay $1,000 to a man in that situation."

"Oh, merely to put medicines, that's all. It requires a stout man, one of good constitution, and after he gets used to it, he doesn't mind it."

A Little German Story.

A countryman one day, returning from the city, took home with him a pair of the finest peaches one could possibly desire.

"How did you like them?" asked the father, who was sitting at the table. "I have picked up the soft ones," replied the son.

"I have picked up the soft ones," replied the son. "I have picked up the soft ones," replied the son.

"I have picked up the soft ones," replied the son. "I have picked up the soft ones," replied the son.

THE CRYSTAL PALACE
A General having been published that the liabilities of the Crystal Palace Association are $500,000 with its assets are but $100,000, the Journal of Commerce concludes that the debt of the concern is about $200,000. As to the value of the assets, it will not hazard an opinion, but quietly remarks that the Crystal Palace cost in the neighborhood of $700,000.

LETTERS-WRITERS
That the city of Washington is to be more usually the scene of the operations of the land than the number of visitors is less than usual, and the attractions of gray society and entertainments will be lacking this winter to an unusual extent. The failure of the banking house of Selden, Withers & Co. has had a depressing effect upon local business.

NEW YORK, JAN. 21.—Waldworth & Sheldon, Bankers, Wall street, have made payment to-day. Liabilities about $2,500,000—assets about $1,000,000. Over this they were the agents of the state of New York in connection with the liquidation of the bank. It was made this morning on account of interests, etc.

HARRISBURG, JAN. 21.—The Legislature meets to-day. Hon. H. M. Keiser, of the American, Speaker, on the first ballot, by 76 votes. The Senate meets at 3 o'clock. Hon. J. H. Wiegman, of the American, is expected to be elected to the chairmanship of the House.

NEW YORK, JAN. 21.—The failure of Waldworth & Sheldon, Bankers, has taken the street by surprise, and caused a depressed feeling. We learn that the failure was occasioned by the non-receipt of large amounts, which had been received by the bank. They had been assigned to the creditors, and they hope the suspension is only temporary.

THE KAISERBOCKER BANK and the Empire City Bank, New York, have given official notice of their intention to close their business affairs immediately. In the meantime their notes will be redeemed at par value at the North River Bank, New York.

A little girl named Margaret Langdon, aged 13 years, was shot dead in St. Louis on Sunday morning last, by a pistol in the hands of a young man, named Jack Baker. She was walking along the street; and the perpetrator was entirely acquitted. On Sunday evening a man named Michael McCarty was shot through the heart in an affair between some St. Louis firemen and a party of seaman's engineers.

By the explosion of a boiler upon the Great Western Railroad on the 21st, the engineer was instantly killed and the fireman so badly injured that he is expected to die. Several passengers on the train were also injured, and it is supposed that the explosion was caused by a defect in the fire box.

Rev. Bishop Bayley (Roman Catholic) on Tuesday last, blessed a chime of bells for the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer, in New York. This is said to be the first time the ceremony was ever performed in that city. There were twenty thousand present on the occasion.

In regard to the Crystal Palace, Barron states its debt at $230,000, assets $700,000—so that after all, there is something of a margin for the creditors and stockholders. It is also supposed that the Crystal Palace is a charitable institution.

A few days ago, at the Fayette House, Syracuse, New York, about twenty Indians who participated in the conflict of 1812, came together from the Green Bay, Onondaga and Oneida. Three of their number were appointed delegates to the national convention of the veterans of the war of 1812, to be held at Washington on the 8th of January next, where they are going to fill continents. Their names are George W. Hall, Henry Webster, and Samuel George.

There is plenty of water in the Ohio river present. There is now navigation on the largest steamers, and its commerce business generally is resuming. The immense quantity of produce, provisions, etc., awaiting shipment at Cincinnati will take the river crafts to their number for a number of weeks; while the coal to come down from above will add materially to the busy aspect of affairs. This streak of soft weather is most opportune for Cincinnati and her suffering people.

The Albany Journal, of Thursday, says that the railroad companies have constructed two bridges from the pier to the ice, by which vehicles of every description are enabled to go from that city and reach the Eastern shore with perfect safety. The ice in the river has become so thick and strong as to make vehicles laden with two tons of freight to cross over it with apparent safety. The bridge to the Hudson river railroad is constructed at the foot of the State street bridge and that of the Boston depot at the foot of the Columbia street bridge. Besides these, there are bridges leading on to the ice constructed for foot passengers only. The Hudson river railroad is receiving an immense amount of freight, and is taxed to its utmost ability.

REVEREND BROTHER—On Sunday of last week, the house of Mr. J. B. Deane, of Sterling, was entered by a thief while the family were at church, and he was discovered in the act of rifling the drawers of a little boy named M. B. who, after a short search, was arrested. The thief was taken to the police station, and after a short trial, was committed to the county jail. The boy's life he did not tell where the money was hidden, and he was released on a $1000 bond. The thief was taken to the police station, and after a short trial, was committed to the county jail.

Parental Government.
Fathers provide for their children an order,
Which they themselves do not receive.
The treatment which they propose to an heir, Will also provoke a child. He is but the miniature of a man, his mode of personal rights is developed at a pretty early stage in life; and as his wishes are often directly crossed, and made to yield to the requirements of others, he learns to question the propriety of each new demand made upon his claims. It sometimes seems to him, that every one, not excepting his parents, is willing to contract needlessly the circle of his known joys. Extended freedom for such menagements is apparent to him, and he very naturally thence there none. Hence he is provoked; he turns away from his father, as from an enemy, and becomes discontented.

This is a point of great importance. If you become the accidental associate of your children, you secure them effectually against the influence of the disease. It has been known to outbreak with your own. Do not land them over to peevish, wailing, wailing children. Spare no pains to secure the first place in their affections; so that their prevailing desire shall be to merit your approval. This will deter them from many an improper act, and strengthen their good resolves in the hour of temptation.

What Parents Must Do.

One of our paper makers, speaking of the scarcity of paper, writes thus:
If our offspring would only raise fax,
Instead of importing their linseed oil,
Or for their own use, we should soon have paper scarcity in abundance. Those farmers in this country who raised fax this year, have sold their crops standing in the field at 840 per acre, and some get more than that—A. F.

The Crime and Death.

It is rather to throw a glare about the lady's rich bed; better to have a care while the land burning to the sea than when the boat has scorched the heart of the ungarbed bosom.
