KINGDOM COME.

I do not believe the sad story.
Of ages of sleep in the temb;
We shall pass far away to the glory
And grandeur of Kingdem Come.
The paleness of death, and its stillne
May reat on my brow for awhile:
And my spirit may less in its chille.
The splendur of hope's happy smill

But the gloom of the grave will be transient And light as the slumbers of worth;
And then I shall blend with the anident.

And beautiful forms of the earth.

Through the clines of the sky, and the bowers

Versies, evermore I shall roam, Fearing crowns of the stars and the fic That glister in Kingdom Come.

The friends who have parted before me The friends who have parted, before me, From life's gloonay passion and pain. When the shadow of death passes o'er me Will smile on me forely again—
