The Plymouth Advertiser.

Built Like Fine Furniture

Dutch Kitchenet, Model A-Oak Nickel-plated sliding top, non-warping 27x40, height 72-inch Easily filled flour bin, satin finished, removeable, pivot balance, Built up chopping block, Nickel-faced wood shelf, jars and salt dish furnished, Nederlaced wood shelf, jars and sait dish turnished, Swinging glass sugar bin with automatic valve at bottom, Ventilated food chamber with removeable wire shelves, Soft golden satin finish, Heavy nickel hardware throughout.

ee display in our sales window

Ralston Hardware & Imp Store

NIMMONS & NIMMONS

CARRY A COMPLETE LINE OF EACH.

Hardware

Quality is Economy. ************

Lumber

A BRILLIANT SUCCESS.

Chantalqua from Every Point Was Great.

The chautauqus, which started in last week Saturday and closed Wednesday evening was certainly a great success from all angles, and but few adverse criticisms has been heard from the many hundreds of patrons who attended the various sessions, and all are loud, in their praise of the Cleveland Chautauqua System and the talent they favored us with. Rain and sold weather interfered very much, but the people were so thoroughly imbued with the chautauqua spirit that they did not give much heed to the elements and every afternoon and evening were on hand to hear the good things in store for them.

very much, but the people were solver or thoroughly imbed with the chautangua spirit that they did not give the control of the

the program of the afternoon, the audience being the largest of any of the five days' sessions.

Wednesday afternoon's program wisopened by the Royal Male Quarterly conference and strumental music and were a decided hit. Following this came J. E. Dinger, who gave his bistoric, patriotic and bleasing lecture on "America, the Queen of Nations," and considering the strife now rampant in the foreirn countries, made every one proud and thankful that he was an American. He is a very pleasing packer, and carried the audience with this throughout his entire lecture. The evening session was opened by John Killham, who gave a very interesting lecture on the habits and customs of the indians, impersonating a number of the chiefs in costume, and ilkewise ex-lating services morning and evening next Sunday Sunday School chiefs in costume, and ilkewise ex-lating next Sunday Sunday School chiefs in costume, and ilkewise ex-lating next Sunday Sunday School chiefs in costume, and ilkewise ex-lating next Sunday Sunday School chiefs in costume, and ilkewise ex-lating next Sunday Sunday School chiefs in costume, and ilkewise ex-lating next Sunday Sunday School chiefs in costume, and ilkewise ex-lating next Sunday Sunday School chiefs in costume, and ilkewise ex-lating next Sunday.

hibited a number of Indian relics, the chautauqua program closing with the Royal Male Quartette in another pleasing program of music.

Ripley Items.

Again the grim reaper has thrust his arm into Ripley, and removed another of her most solendid men, Andress Dewitt, beloved by all, a triend to everybody, self-sacrificing and helpful in any way he could be to those in need. Pleasant, affable, and genial, a christian gentleman, was suddenly stricken in the midst of his friends at the home of his brother-in-law, a Mr. Kirne, in North Fairfield, July 4, 1915. This transition was so sudden that we hardly think it possible that he is gone. Funeral services were held at the house Thursday morning, conducted by his pastor, Rev. Hughes.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because It's for One Thing Only and Plymouth People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for every-

ing. Doing one thing well brings suc-

ss. Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disordered kidneys.

Here is reliable evidence of their

Here is reliable evidence of them worth.

C. R. Bricker. 133 Main St. Shelby,
Ohio, asys: "Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to give me relief from backsche and other kidney disorders, and I would not be without them. Whenever I feel the slightest pain in my back or the kidney secretions become disordered, I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills. I am only too pleased to tell of my experience."

l am only too picascu to ten of an experience, at all dealers. Don't Simply ask for a kidney remedy—Get Doan's Kidney Pills - the same that Mr. Bricker had, Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Monroeville Gets Normal School,

Monroeville has been awarded one of the seventy-two county Normal schools, provided by legislation last winter, the announcement having been made by the state superintendent of instruction, who makes the selection.

selection.
The county normal schools are designed to supplement the established normal schools and provide for 36 weeks of training for young men and women who wish to educate themselves for teaching in the rural distri selves for teaching in the rural districts.

A regular course is provided and anyone residing in the county is eligible to attend the school without cost. The state pays $1,000 toward the expense of each school.

The normal school is under the direction of the county superintendent, who selects directors with the approval of the county board of education. A regular course of study is provided, of which about three-fifths is devoted to methods and the balance to common school branches.

An Editor's Commission.

Not long ago, a man came into this office and stopped his paper because he said it was always printing a lot of things about the same people and he said it was always printing a lot of things about the same people and he said he was sick of it. Now, when something goes wrong with the country, the government appoints a commission to investigate the man who made the holler to see if the holler was a reasonable holler.

So we appointed a commission consisting of ourselves to investigate this man. We just followed the man's career ever since we knew him. The first thing that happened to that man was that he was born, but he had nothing to do with it. However, we mentioned him, although his parents were entitled to the credit. When he was in his early twenties, he got married. We mentioned that, including the name of the bride, the preacher, etc., in fact, we mentioned everything but the preacher's fee, which was not worth mentioning. We never mentioned the fact that he never won any premiums at the county fair, because he never exhibited anything. We never mentioned his name in the list of committees, because he never attended anything. We never mentioned his name, in the list of donors, because he never donated as much as a doughnut.

We certainly have been treating this man shamefully, but we will agree to run a nice obituary when the time comes.—Litchfield, (Ill) News-literald.

Little Cupid Broke Record.

Little Cupid Broke Record.

Little Cupid Broke all his records at the Huron county probate office for the month of June. At the close of the day, June 30th, 41 licences had been issued by the marriage license clerk.

Wedding bells fairly crashed the last two weeks of the bridal month, some days as many as four or five pairs of loving swains applying for the coveted papers that spelled "hymen" with love after ward in cottage or mansion as fate decrees.

A comparison with the same months of the two previous years showed 32 licenses in 1914 and only 28 in 1913.

A Good Household Salve.

Ordinary aliments and injuries are of themselves not serious, but infection or low vitality may make them dangerous. Don't neglect acut, sore, bruise or hurt because it's small. Blood poison has resulted from a pin prick or seratch. For all such aliments Eucklen's Arnies Salve is excellent. It protects and heals the hurt, is antiseptic, kills infection and prevents dangerous complications. Good for all skin blomishes, pimples, salt theuro, eczema. Get an original 2-ounce 25c box from your druggist.

We herewith wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and friends for their assistance dur-ing the burial of our daughter and grandaughter, also for the beautiful flowers

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Cramer. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Danner.

Oberlin Business College Studept Wins Gold Medal.

Law Protects Highways From Rubbish Throwers.

Rubbish Throwers.

The Cass law enacted at the recent session of the legislature provides a penalty for throwing glass, nails or other substances onto the road. The text of the section follows:
Whoever places upon a public highway, lane, road, street or alley any tacks, bottles, wire, glass, nails or other articles liable to damage or injure any person, vehicle or animal traveling along or one said public highway shall be fined not more than $200, nor less than $25." This section was writtn into the Cass bill at the behest of the Ohio State Automoble association to protect pneumatic tires against the next and alleys.

Blight—Control It.

Blight-Control It.

Blight—Control It.

Blight affects apples, pears, quinces, and occasionally plums, apricots, and few oramentals and wild plants related to the pear of the disease starts from the cover canker, which in sond well of the winter, then the blossom blight, which the bees and flies carry from tree to tree, which infects the fruit, hence the fruit blight. Note then the blackened and wighered tips of the branches, twig blight. Now it is up to you. Take your pruner and prune all of these off, but be sure to dip vour pruner or saw in a strong disinfectant between the twigs cut, so as not to carry the disease farther. After all the diseased branches are pruned off, gather and burn every twig, branch and leaf. Will explain each stage later. Decayed and diseased leaves or vegetables and flowers should be removed at once, as they are apt to breed fungi.

Unnecessary Steps Waste En-

Unnecessary Steps Waste Energy.

The saving of unnecessary steps in the performance of farm and home work receives too little attention, thought, and discussion in farm homes. The number of stepsenguired to perform ordinary chores could often be materially reduced by a little planning and readjusting. During the year, the distance traveled to bring water into the kitchen is on some farms close to 100 mies in the little of the installation of a simple material to the strength of the strength

Then you realize the utter weakness that robs ambition, destroys appetite, and makes work a burden.

To restore that strength and stamina that is so essential, softning has ever equaled content of the stament of the

One Minute Cough Cure, cures

The Latest in Cabinets is the Nananee

Lutheran Church.

The new pastor will be installed the coming Sunday. The charge to the congregation will be delivered in the morning by the Rev. S. G. Dornblaser, D. D., of Bucyrus. The charge to the pastor will be delivered in the evening by the Rev. J. H. Neuhauser of Shelby, Sunday School, 9:39. Church Service, 10:30, Evening Service, 7:30. Christian Endeavor, 6:30. The public is cordially invited to all services.

Miss Marion Bradner, a student at the Oberlin Business College, won in June the Gold Medal offered by the Remington Typewriter Co. of New York for speed and accuracy in typewriting. Miss Bradner wrote 62 words per minute for 10 minutes from mew matter. Fifteen students from this school won awards from the Remington Co. in June. The Business College at Oberlin has one of the finest typewriting departments in the country.

Spring Footwear

Contractors' and Builders' Orders Receive Prompt and Careful Attention. Do not buy till you consult

Stoves And Ranges OF EVERY

us, as we can save you money.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER XV.

A Mother Intervenes.

One past midnight the telephone she Deamond apartment rang sharp-insistently. Lydia, who shad just on asleep, awoke with a start and bolt upright in her bed. A clammy spiration broke out all over, her y. She knew there had been 4 astrophe.

ody. She knew there had been a stastrophe.

She sat there chattering until she sard her mother's door open and then be click of the receiver as it was fitted from the book. Then she put the fitted from the book. Then she put per fingers to her ears and closed her yes. The very worst had happened, he was sure of it. The blow had allien. The only thought that seared see brain was that she had failed him, allied him mercally it he crisis. Oh.

se brain was that she had failed him, slided him slerably in the crisis. Oh, she could only reclaim that lost sur of indecision and cowardied:
The light in the hallway suddenly mote her in the face and she realized or the first time that her eyes were ghtly, closed as if to shut out some bhorrent sight.
"Lydial!" Her mother was standing it the open door "Oh, you are awake?" Irs. Desmond stared in amazement the sirl's faure.

hat is it, mother? Tell me what imppened? Is he—" e wants to speak to you. He is e wire. I—I— His voice sounds queer—"

The girl sprang out of bed and hur-di to the telephone.
"Don't go away, mother—stay here," se cried as she sped past the white-ad figure in the doorway. Mrs. Des-ond flattened herself against the wall and flattened herself against the want of remained there as motionless as atatus, her somber gaze fixed on her auchter's face.

sharp and querulous. She closed eyes in anticipation of the blow body rigid.

her body rigid.
"I'm sorry to disturb you," he was axing, "but I just had to call you up." The words were disjointed, as if he forced them from his lips one by one in a supreme effort at coher-ey.

"Yes, yes—it's all right. I don't ind. You did right. What is it?"
"I want you to release me from my promise.

"You mean—the promise—but, Freddy, I can't release you. I love you. I will be your wife, no matter what has happened, no matter—""oh, Lerd, Lyddy—it isn't that! It's the other—the promise to say nothing to my father—""O—oh!" she sighed weakly, a vast wase of selled almost suffocating her. "He has made it impossible for me to go on without—"".
"Where are you, Frederic?" she cried, it sudden slarm.
"Oh, Fiss all faths! I shan't so home."

to on without—where are you, Frederic?" she d, its sudden slarm, dis, Frei all right. I shar't go home, may be sure of that. Tomorrow he thus enough."
Where are you? I must know,
c eas I reach you by telephone—Don't be frightened, dear. It's got to this all. It might as well be d now as later on. The last straw hale on tought. Now, don't ask slows. I'll see you in the morning, raight, sweetheart. I've—I've told that f can't stick to my promise.
I'll undersind. I couldn't rest unted you and heard your dear Regire are for calling you up, your mother I'm sorry. Goodtr.

fisten to me! You must I-Oh!" He had hung up or. She heard the whir of

There was little comfort for her in the hope held out by her mother as they sat far into the night and discussed the possibilities of the day so near at hand. She could see nothing but disaster, and she could think of nothing but her own lamentable weakness in shrinking from the encounter that might have made the present situation impossible. She tried to make light of the situation, however, prophesying a caimer attitude for Frederic after he had slept over his grievance, which, after all, she argued, was doubtless exaggerated. She promised to go with Lydia to see James Brood in the morning, and to plead with him to be merciful to the boy she was to marry, no matter what transpired. The girl at first insisted on going over to see him that night, nowthistandig the hour, and was dissuaded only after the most earnest opposition.

It was four o'clock before they went back to bed and long after five before either closed her eyes.

Mrs. Desmond, utterly exhausted, back to bed and long after five before either closed her eyes.

Mrs. Desmond, utterly exhausted, was the first to awake. She glanced at the little clock on her dressing-table and gave a great start of consterna-tion. It was long past nine o'clock.

at the little clock on her dressing-table and gave a great start of consternation. It was long past nine o'clock. While she was dreasing, the little maid servant brought in her coffee and toast and received instructions not to awaken Miss Lydia but to let her have her sleep out. A few minutes later she left the apartment and walked briskly around the corner to Brood's home. Fearing that she might be too late, she walked so rapidly that she was quite out of breath when she entered the house. Mr. Riggs and Mr. Dawes were putting on their coats in the hall preparatory to their short morning constitutional. They greeted her effusively, and with one accord proceeded to divest themselves of the coats, any mounting in one voice their intention to remain for a good, old-fashioned chat.

ea and—"
Mrs. Brood's voice interrupted her

Mrs. Brood's voice interrupted her.

"What do you want, Mrs. Desmond?" came from the landing above. The visitor looked up with a start, not so much of surprise as uneasiness. There was something sharp, unfriendly in the low, level tones, Yvonne, fully dressed—a most unusual circumstance at that hour of the day—was leaning over the banister rail.

day—was leaning over the banister rail.

"I came to see Mr. Brood on a very important—"

"Have you been sent over here by someone else?" demanded Mrs. Brood.

"I have not seen Frederic," fell from her lips before she thought.

"I dare say you haven't," said the other with ominous clearness. "He has been here since seven this morping, waiting for a chance to speak to his father in private."

She was descending the stairs slowly, almost lazily, as she uttered the remark.

was descending the stairs slowly, almost lazily, as she uttered the remark.
"They are together now?" gasped
Mrs. Desmond.
"Will you come into the library?
Good morning, gentlemen. I trust you may enjoy your long walk."
Mrs. Desmond followed her into the library. Youne closed the door almost in the face of Mr. Riggs, who had opened his mouth to accept the invitation to tea, but who said he'd 'be d—d' instead, so narrow was his escape from having his nose banged.
He emphasized the declaration by shaking his fist at the door.
The two women faced each other.

Brood, said Lydia Desmond's mother, sternly, accusingly. She expected a storm of indignant protest. Instead, Yvonne smiled slightly "It will not burt my husband to discover that Frederic is a man and not a milksop," she said, but despite her coolness there was a perceptible note of anxiety in her voice. "You know, then, that they are—that they will quarrel!" "I fancy it was in Frederic's mind to do so when he came here this that they will quarrel?"

"I fancy it was in Frederic's mind to do so when he came here this morning. He was still in his evening clothes. Mrs. Desmond."
"Where are they now."
"I think he has them on," said Yvonne, lightly.
Mrs. Desmond regarded her for a moment in perplexity. Then her eyes flashed dangerously. "I do not think you misunderstood me, Mrs. Brood. Where are Frederic and his father?"
"I am not accustomed to that tone of voice, Mrs. Desmond."
"I am no longer your housekeeper," said the other, succinctly. "You' do not realize what this quarrel may mean. I insist on going up to them before it has gone too far."
"Will you be so good, Mrs. Desmond, as to leave this house instantly?" cried Yvonne, angrily,
"No," said the other quietly. "I suppose I am too late to prevent trouble come to that?" she demanded, herrously,

come to that?" she demanded, herrously
"It what I fear should come to pass, he will not stay in this house another hour. He will go forth from it, cursing James Brood with all the hatred that his soul can possess. And now, Mrs. Brood, shall I tell you what I think of you?"
"No, it isn't at all necessary. Besides, I've changed my mind. I'd like you to remain. I do not want to mysmice. The Mrs. Desmond, when Mrs. Desmond.

And, it may at all necessary. Be-sides, I've changed my mind. Td like you to remain. I do not want to mystify you any further, Mrs. Desmond, but I now confess to you that I am losing my courage. Don't ask me to tell you why, but—" when it burns them."
"I suppose it is the custom with those who play with fire. They shrink when it burns them."
Mrs. Broad looked at her stasdily.

Mrs. Brood looked at her steadily for a long time without speaking. The rebellions, sullen expression died out of her eyes. She sighed deeply, almost despatringly, "I am sorry you think ill of me, yet cannot blame you for considering me to be a—a—I'll not say it. Mrs. Desmond, I—I wish I had never come to this house."

"Permit me to selve your means."

mond, I.—I wish I had never come to this house."

"Permit me to echo your words."

"You will never be shie to understand me. And, after all, why should I care? You are nothing to me. You are merely a good woman who has no real object in life. You—"
"No real object in life. You—"
"No real object in life. You—"
"Precisely. Sit down. We will wait here together, if you please. I.—I am worried. I think I rather like to feel that you are here with me. You see, the crisis has come."
"You know, of course, that he turned one wife out of this house, Mrs. Brood," said Mrs. Desmond, deliberately.

sately.

Something like terror leaped into the other's eyes. The watcher experienced an incomprehensible feeling of the other's eyes. The watcher experienced an incomprehensible feeling of pity for her—she who had been despising her so fiercely the instant before. "He—he will not turn me out," murmured Yvonne, and suddenly began paring the floor, her hands clinched.

Stopping abruptly in front of the other woman, she exclaimed: "He made a great mistake in driving that other woman out. He is not likely to repeat it, Mrs. Desmond."

Desmond." -I think he did make a mis

it, Mrs. Desmond."
"Yes—I think he did make a mistake," said Mrs. Desmond, calmly.
"But he does not think so. He is a man of tron. He is unbending."
"He is a wonderful man—a great, splendid man," cried Yvonne, fiercely.
"It is I—Yvonne Lestrange—who proclaim it to the world. I cannot bear to see him suffer. I—"
"Then why do you—"
Mrs. Brood flushed to the roots of her hair. "I do not want to appear unfair to my husband, but I declare to you, Mrs. Desmond, that Frederic is fully justified in the attitude he has taken this morning. His father humiliated him last night in a manner that made forbearance impossible.
That much I must say for Frederic.
And permit me to add, from my soul, that be is vastly more sinned against than sinning."
"I can readily believe that. Mrs.

than sinning."
"I can readily believe that, Mrs.

Brood."

This morning Frederic came into the breakfast room while we were having coffee. You look surprised. Yes, I was having breakfast with my husband. I knew that Frederic would come. That was my reason. When I heard him in the hall I sent the servants out of the dining-room. He had spent the night with a friend. His first words on entering the room were these—I shall never forget them: Last night I thought I loved you, father, but I have come home just to tell you that I have you. I can't say in this house another day. I'm going to get out. But I just wanted you to know that I thought I loved you last night, as a son should love a father. I just wanted you to know that I thought I loved you last night, as a son should love a father. I just wanted you to know it. He did not even look at me, Mrs. Desmond. I don't believe he knew I was these. I shall never forget the look in James Brood's face. It was as if he saw a ghost or some horrible thing that fascinated him. He did not utter a word, but stared at Frederic in that terrible, awestruck way. Tim going to get out's said Frederic, his volce raing. You've treated me like a dog all my life and I'm through. I sha'n't even any good-by to you. You don't deserve any more consideration from me than I've "This morning Frederic came into between those two men, but I shall at least remain here to assure Preseries of my sympathy, to help him if I can, and the shelter of my home."

A spann of alarm crossed Yvoune's 1 more son. By Gdd, you don't deserve the honor of being called father. You have the shelter of my home."

I what I dar as should come to pass, he will not stay in this house another hour. He will go forth from it, curring James Brood with all the hartest hat he sooil can possess. And now, Mrs. Brood, shall I tell you what I fall they now that it saw in this double of the my mother, but it would at seast give mer seen such a look of rags. think of you?

"No, it isn't at all necessary be still thought he was going to strike Predict and I think I screamed—just a little scream, of course. I was so terrified. But he only said—and it was still you only writher, Mrs. Desmond, but I now confess to you that I am in the subdealing my course. Don't sake me to leave the strike of your part of the reverse she sighed deeply, almost the would at least give me somethins of health of the prediction of her eyes. She sighed deeply, almost believe the house."

"Take she they only a with firs. They shrink when it burns them."

"Mrs. Brood looked at her steadily for a long time without speaking. The fore almost home."

"I am sorry you think ill of me, yet cannot blame you for considering me to be a—a—I'll not say it. Mrs. Desmond, I—I what I had never come to this house."

"You will never be able to understand me, and, after all, by should I care? You are nothing to me. You will never be able to understand me, and, after all, by should I care? You are nothing to me. You will never be able to understand me, and, after all, by should I care? You are nothing to me. You will never be able to understand me, and, after all, by should I care? You are nothing to me. You will never be able to understand me, and, after all, by should I care? You are nothing to me. You will never be able to understand me, and, after all, by should I care? You are nothing to me. You wh been waiting, too-waiting as you are waiting now-to comfort Frederic when he comes out of that room a wreck."

Mrs. Desmond started up, an incredwreck."

Mrs. Desmond started up, an incredulous look in her eyes.

"You are taking his side? You are against your husband? Oh, now I know the kind of woman you are. I know—"

"Peace! You do not know the kind of woman I am. You never will know.

Yes. I shall take sides with Frederic."

"You do not love your husband!"

A strange, unfathomable smile came into Yvonne's face and stayed there.

Mrs. Desmond experienced the same odd feeling abe had had years ago ou first seeing the Sphinx. She was suddenly confronted by an unsolvable mystery.

"He shall not drive me out of his house, Mrs. Desmond," was her anhouse, Mrs. Desmond," was her anhouse was the same of the same o nystery.

"He shall not drive me out of his nouse, Mrs. Desmond," was her answer to the challenge.

A door slammed in the upper rections of the house. Both women start-

A door siammed in the upper regions of the house. Both women started to their feet.

"It is over," breathed Yvonne, with a tremulous sigh.
"We shall see how well they were able to take care of themselves, Mrs. Brood," said Mrs. Deamond in a low voice.
"We shall see—yes," said the other, mechanically. Suddenly she turned on the tall, accusing figure beside her.
"Go away! Go now! I command you to go. This is our affair, Mrs. Deamond. You are not needed here. You were too late, as you say. I beg of you, go!" She strode swiftly toward the door. As she was about to place her hand on the knob it was opened from the other side, and Ranjab stood before them.
"Sahib begs to be excused, Mrs. Deamond. He is just going out."
"Going out?" cried Yvonne, who had shrunk back into the room.
"Yes, sahibah. You will please excuse, Mrs. Desmond. He regret-very much."
Mrs. Desmond passed slowly through!

cuse, Mrs. Desmond. He regret very much."

Mrs. Desmond passed slowly through the door, which be held open for her. As she passed by the Hindu she looked full into his dark, expressive eyes, and there was a question in hers. He did not speak, but she read the answer as if it were on a printed page. Her aboulders drooped.

She went back to Lydia.

CHAPTER XVI.

"To My Own Sweetheart."
When James Brood and Frederic left the dining-room nearly an hour prior to the departure of Mrs. Desmond, there was in the mind of each the resolution to make short work of mond, there was in the mind of each the resolution to make short work of the coming interview. Each knew that the time had arrived for the parting of the ways, and neither had the least desire to prolong the suspense.

The study door was closed. James Brood put his hand on the knob, but, before turning it, faced the young man with an odd mixture of anger and pity in his eyes.

"Perhaps it would be better if we had nothing more to say to each other," he said, with an effort. "I have changed my mind. I cannot say the thing to you that I—"

"Has it sot anything to do with Yvonne and me?" demanded Frederic ruthlessly, 'lumping at conclusions in his new-found arrogance.

Brood threw open the door. "Step inside," he said in a voice that should have warned the younger min, it was so prophetic of disaster. Frederic had touched the open sore with that uninappy question. Not until this instant had James Brood admitted to himself that there was a zore and that it had been featering all these weeks. Now it was list bare and smarted with pain. Nothing could save Fraderic that receives, deliberate thrust at the very core of the malignant growth that lay so near the surface. It had been in James Brood's heart ospars the boy, defined. They glowed like points of light, unflickering.

"I shall be sorry for Lydia," he said a service in the sorry for Lydia," he said level of the sorry for Lydia, "he said level of the sorry for Lydia," he said level of the sorry for Lydia, "he said level of the sorry for Lydia, "he said level of the sorry for the so understand with it all means. Fou are not a young man any longer. You cannot understand."

"Good dod!" burst from Brood's lips. Then he laughed aloud—grotesquely." Younne is the most wonderful thing that has ever come into my life. I adored her the instant I saw her. I have felt sometimes that I knew her a thousand years ago." A caim seriousness now attended his speech, in direct contrast to the violent mood that had gone before. "I have for thought of little else but her. I confess it to you. But through it all there has never been an instant in which idid not worship Lydia Desmond. I—I do not pretend to account for it. It is beyond me."

Brood wanted patiently to the end. "Your mother before you had a somewhat similar affliction," he said, still in the steady, repressed voice. "Perhaps it is a giff—a convenient gift—this ability to worship without effort."

"Better leave my mother out of it," asid Frederic sarcastically. A look of wonder leaped to his eyes. "That's the first time you've condescended to acknowledge that I ever had a mother."

Brood's smile was deadly. "If you have anything more to say to me, you mother."

Brood's smile was deadly. "If you have anything more to say to me, you would better get it over with. Purge your soul of all the gail that embitters it. I grant you that privilege. Take your innings."

it. I grant you that privilege. Take your inning."

A spasm of pain crossed Frederic's face. "Fes. I am entitled to my innings. I'll go back to what I sald downstairs. I thought I loved and honored you last night. I would have forgiven everything if you had granted me a friendly word. You denied."

"I suppose you want me to believe that it was love for me that, brought you silaking to the theater," said the other ironically.

"I don't expect you to believe anything. I was lonely. I wanied to be with you and Yvonne. Can't you understand how lonely I've been all my life? Can't you understand how lonely I've been all my life? Can't you understand how lonely I've been all my life? Can't you understand how lonely I've been all my life? Can't you understand how hungry I am for the affection that every other boy I've known has had from his parents? I've never asked you shout my mother. I used to wonder a good deal. Every other boy had a mother. I never had one. I couldn't understand. In o longer wonder. I know now that she must have hated you with all the strength of her soul. God, how she must have hated you, and if she did, I hope she alterwards found someone who—but no, I won't easy it. Even now I haven't the heart to hurty noby asying that." He stopped, choking up with the rush of bitter words. "Well, why don't you say something?"
"Tm giving you your innings. Go on?" said Brood sortly.
"She must have loved you or it wouldn't be here in this world. She—"
"Hal" came sharply from Brood's stiff lips.
"—didn't find you out until it was too late. She was lovely, I know. She was weet and gentle and she loved hotograph. For a month I've carried it here in this world. She—"
"Hal" came sharply from Brood's stiff lips.
"—didn't find you out until it was too late. She was lovely, I know. She was weet and gentle and she loved happliness. I can see that is her face, in her big, watful eyes. You—"
"What's whis?" demanded Brood, startled. What are you saying!"
"Oh, I've got her portrait—a cid photograph. For a month t've carried way round. She's dead now, I but she didn't die for years after I born. Why was it that I never a hee? Why was it that I never a hee? Why was it hat I never a hee? Why was I kept up there in it damable "Hinge-"

"Where did you get that plograph" demanded Brood houses "Where, I say! What dammed, Intering fool-" T wouldn't be too heaty, if I we you," said Frederic, a note of tr'um in his votes. "Yoonne gave it to mamade her promise to say nothing you about it. She—"
"Yoonne found it! Tyonne? A gave it to you—your mother. Some ophotograph."

trait of your-your mother. Some old photograph—"
"No, it is my mother. Younne saw the resemblance at once and brought if to me. And it may interest you to know that she advised me to treasure it all my life because it would always tell me how lovely and sweet my moth-er was—the mother I have never seen."

er was—the mother I have never seen."
"I insist on seeing that picture," said Brood, with deadly intensity.
"No," said Proderic, folding his arms tightly across his breast. "You didn't deserve her then and you—" "You don't know what you are saying, boy!"
"Ah, don't If Well, Pve got just a little hit of my mother safe here over my heart—a little faded card, that's all—and you shall not rob me of that. Last night I was sorry for you. I had the feeling that somehow you have always been unhappy over something that happened in the past that my mother was responsible for. And yet when I took out this photograph, this tiny bit of old cardboard—see, it is so small that if can be carried in my watstoost pocket—when I took it out and looked at the ours. lovely face. I—

"I Shall Be Sorry Let blame."

"A" you finished?" asked Brood, while his brow. It was dripping.
"Except to repeat that I am through with you forever. I've had all that I can endure and I'm through, My great' est regret is that I didn't get out long ago. But like a fool—a weak fool long ago. But like a fool—a weak fool I kept on hoping that you'd change and that there were better days ahead for me. I kept on hoping that you'd be a real father to mn. Good Lord, what a libel on the name! He laughed rawously. 'The site of calling you father. You did me an honor downstairs by calling me 'bastard'. You had no right to call me that, but, by heaven, if it were not for this bit he heaven, if it were not for this but You had no right to call me that, but, by heaven, if it were not for this bit of cardboard here over my hear, I d laugh in your face and be happy is about from the housetops that I ameno son of yours. But there's no such luck as that! I've only to look at my mother's innocent, soulful face to—"Stop!" shouted Brood in an awful yoice. His clenched hands were raised above his head. "The time has come for me to tell you the truth shout this innocent mother of yours. Luck is with you. I am not your father. You are innecent mother of yours Luck is with you. I am not your father. You are with you. I am not your father. You are with you are going to tell me that my mother was not a good woman, I want to go on record in advance of anything you may say, as being glad that I am her son no matter who my father was. I am glad that she loved me because I was her child, and if you are not my father then I still have the joy of knowing that she loved some one man well enough te." He broke off the bitter sentence and with nervous fingers drew a small leather case from his waistocast pocket. "Before you go any farther, take one look at her face. It will make you ashamed of yourself. Can you stand there and lie about her after looking into..."

He was holding the window curtains apart, and a stream of light rell upon the lovely face, so small that Brood was obliged to come gutte close to be able to ease it. His eyes were distended.
"It is not Matilda—it is like her but—Yes, yes, it is Matilda—it. I mend be looking my mind to have thought..."
He wipsd his brow. "But, good God, 'He was startling—positively uncanny, 'He was startling—positively uncanny, 'He spoke as to himself, apparently forgesting that he had a listener.

He wiped his brow. "But, good God, I was startling-positively uncanny." He spoke as to thimself, appearently forgating that he had a listener.
"Well, can you lie shout her now!" demanded Frederic.
Brood was still staring as if has cinated at the tiny photograph. "But I have never seen that pleture before She never had one so small as these than the startling of the startling of

ers and Shrubbery-Their Care and Cultivation

COLORS IN ANNUALS

By L. M. BENNINGTON.

For summer flowering, ganuals are very ratisfactory, blooming profusely through the entire season, while the cost of a seed packet is but a trifle.

cost of a seed packet is but a trifle. Good tasts dictates the system of planting large bunches of single species together rather than the old way of mixing a dosen varieties in as many square feet.

It is the same plan that places a dozen carnations or rosses in a vase rather than the betergenous collection in the old-familioned bouquet. Mass your flowers if you would secure the best effect.

the best effect.

The old calliopsis, "lady"s breastpin" they used to call it, is a handsome plant, its long slender stems rendering it extremely useful for cutting, and the shades of gold and brown harmonizing nicely.

A mass of it next to the shrubbery in the background gives a most pleasing effect.

Some handsome forms of single dahla may be secured by planting a packet of the seeds in pots early in the spring and transplanting the young seedlings to the garden as soon as danger from frost is over.

young seedlings to the garden as soon as danger from frost is over.

The colors of some are very fine and to one liking the single flowers the plan is a good one of getting a variety at a small price; but unless started very early these seedlings rarely mature tubers that will keep through the winter, though they commence flowering almost as soon as the plants are started from the tubers. The chrysanthemum-flowered asters are much more pleasing, both grown in masses and for cutting, than the quilled bouquet sorts. If but two kinds are chosen, let them be lavender and white with rose as a third choice. When ordering seeds there is a strong temptation to profer mixed packets, yet if the very finest specimens are expected, the surer way is to single out one or two of the choicest.

colors.

These are made up from the best individuals, while the mixed packets are what the name implies, though in many instances highly satisfactory.

With pansies for spring, sweet pens for summer, and asters for autumn, one may be sure of having an abun-dance of the most beautiful cut-flowers for all occasions.

Water the Gloxinia

WORK-A-DAY NOTES

By L. M. BENNINGTON.

If the season is a dry one some of the plants in the garden will have to be watered if you want flowers from them, Especially is this true of grom them, Especially is this true of giornia.

Use enough water to penetrate all the soil in which their nots grow, and see that it is kept moist.

Watering today and neglecting for a week to come isn't the proper thing. Save the suda from wash day for this purpose. The snap in the water will benefit the plants.

Be sure to supply substantial supports for your dahlias. If this is not done you will likely find them broken some morning after a sudden wind or a hard reinstorm. The stakes should be at least four feet tall—allow an extra foot and a half for insertion in the ground and they should be at less as inch through, and of good somal week. Paint places and digress and they will not be upplemanned.

ly obtrusive. Tie the stalks to them with broad strips of cloth instead of strings. The latter will cut into the tender branches when they are whipped by the wind.

DO NOT OMIT THE SHRUBS

By JULIE ADAMS POWELL

By JULIE ADAMS POWELL.

One corner of my garden shaded from the hot sun is devoted to herbs. It you have never had a herb bed this is a good time to plant one. I am going to add several herbs to mine this year and if give the list of those most useful. In some cases it is best to buy the plants, and such I note.

Three sage plants.

Three clumps of chives,
Twe lavender plants.
Bix roots of mint.
One package summery savery,
One package thyms.
One package whiler savory,
Two plants of itarragon.
One package differ favoring.

MISS DREW'S SECRETARY

By JEANNE KILBY

Carlotta Drew pushed away the account books that littered her desk and sighed wearily.

"Oh, dear, I never can make these books balance," she panted. "I wish Miss Smith had not been so stupid or Miss Hart so slovenly. I simply can't get along without a secretary."

"You might try one of the secretarial schools," suggested Mrs. Marsh, bending over her embroidery.

"I will—I must have someone at once."

bending over her embroidery.

"I will—I must have someone at once."
Carlotta picked-up the receiver and telephoned her wishes:
"Send along anyone who is fairly intelligent," she wailed at last.
"There," she said, looking defiantly at her aunt, "they are sending up a young man."
"A young man!" echoed Mrs. Marsh. "Are you crazy, Carlotta?"
"Only desperate, Aunt Anna."
"I shall send him away again."
"Not until he has straightened out my accounts. I make them say that I have spent just four dollars instead of five hundred in the last month, and yet my checkbook shows I have overdrawn my account."
"What as muddle!" sighed Mrs. Marsh. "You really ought to marry a good business man, my dear, someone who can look after you and your property."
"I met a man last summer," she began. Then, biting her lips to keep back a secret she had not dared confost to anyone but herself, she added gayly, "I'm going out, Aunt Anna. If the young man comes tell him to straighten out my books. I'll be home before he leaves."
"Humph!" sniffed Mrs. Marsh. looking coldly at the tall, self-possessed young man who regarded her so affably. "My niece is out at present. She wants you to wait until she returns. No use wasting your time, though. Miss Drew said you might straighten out her books—there on the desk—find out what the trouble is."

Lester smilled and sat down at the desk. Presently Mrs. Marsh noted the desk—find out what the trouble is."

Lester smiled and sat down at the desk. Presently Mrs. Marsh noted that he was working busily over the offending accounts.

He worked so steadily that Aunt Anna's heart warmed toward him. She would reward him with a little amiable conversation.

"Are you married?" she asked abruptly.

"Good beavens—no!" he laughed.
"I was married for twenty years and I never had one single regret. My husband has been dead for ten years. Ours was a perfect marriage," slighed tople, "and I dislike to hear young people laugh filippantly at marrimony."

topic, "and I dislike to hear young people laugh flippantly at matrimony."

Lester colored. "I assure you," he said gently, "I had no intention of laughing. It was the idea of your thinking I would be here—" His voice trailed into embarrassed silence.

Aunt Anna Marsh sat up stiffly and lence.

Aunt Anna Marsh sat up stiffly and regarded him over the tops of her eye regarded nim over the tops or ner eye-glasses.

"Young man," she said sternly, when you came here this afternoon did you know that my niece, Miss Drew, is very, very rich indeed?"
Lester had the grace to blush quite pareners this.

Lester had the grace to blush quive perceptibly.

"Yes," he said at last.
"I thought so," she said.
Lester got up and paced the floor.
Now he was secwiling in a most unpleasant manner, but even the black look didnt' mar his handsome face.
"Can't a man marry a rich girl without being called a fortune hunter?" he suddenly asked.
"No!" exploded Aunt Anna indigmantly.

ter?" he suddenly asked.
"No!" exploded Aunt Anna Indignantly.
"Does your niece share your views —that every man—no! I won't doubt her for an instant!" He turned toward the deak.

The door fiew open and in came a radiant Carlotta, her blue eyes agleam with the glad light of surprise and her cheeks aglow.
"Anthony! Anthony! you dear!"
she cried, and she went straight into the arms of the "secretary young man," who held her closely.
Aunt Anna shut her eyes upon this horritying sight.
"And there is the poor secretary waiting in the hall," cried Carlotta, releasing herself from Lester's arms.
"The secretary! Carlotta Drew, who is this young man?" demanded Mrs.
Marsh in a tragic tone.
"Why it's Anthony Lester, the man
's lemost told you about—it's a secret.

Marsh in a tragic tone.
"Why it's Anthony Lester, the man
I almost told you about—it's a secret that we love each other, and I sup-pose now our engagement must be announced. Who did you think he was, auntie?" she asked curlously.

Lester gallantly came to the rescue and Aunt Anna never forgot it. She took him to her heart even before she discovered that he was considerably richer than Carlotte dook aim to her heart even before she discovered that he was considerably richer than Carlotta. "Way, who did you think he was?" repeated the girl curiously. "Mrs. Marah asked me to help straighten out your accounts," he interposed tactfully. "The brought or ner thing to settle."

A small, dapper-looking youth, with owlish, spectacled eyes, entered the room meekly.

"This is Mr. Mook, the secretary, Aunt Anns," sald Carlotta. (Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspepper Syndicate.)

Not Contents 15 Fluid Drach 900 DROPS A/GOHOL SPER CENT A/College of Appendion for INFANTS CHILDREN

Promote Discellin Cherry, reason at the Cambin seiner Option Morphing nor Mineral, NOTA (ASSOCIATE).

MOTE (ASSOCIATE).

Manual of the Seiner Internal Control of the Cambin States of the Cambin Stat

FacSimile Signature of Carry Tatana THE CANTAIN COMPANY MEW YORKS 35 Doses 35 Cexes

Children Cry For

·What is CASTORIA

OWIIGL IS CASTON IN THE CONTROL OF T

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

His Complaint.

"You say in your paper," said the man who had asked to see the editor, "that Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peck are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Feck's mother."

"Isn't that statement correct?"

"Oh, she's visiting us, all right enough," admitted Mr. Peck, "and I daressy my wife is enjoying it, but you can leave me out of it. If you put any more sareastic remarks like that in your paper, I'll stop my subscription."

TOUR OWN DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU Try Murine Bye Bennedy for Red. Weak, Watery Byes and Granuiated Eyelids, No Smarting-just Bye comfort. Write for Book of the Bye by mail Free. Murine Bye Remedy Co., Chleston

Horses in Iceland are shod with sheep horn and those in the Sudan are fitted with camel-skin socks.

A woman would rather be inconsistent than otherwise.

The Army of Constipation

Is Growing Smaller Every Day, CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are responsible — they not only give relief
— they permanently cure Cosstipation. Mil-

Milioumess, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Sallow Skin. SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE

Genuine must bear Signature BrentGood

His Complaint.

Cotton in California.

Since cotton was first planted in imperial valley, California, as un experiment, about eight years ago, the acreage has increased yearly until it is now 65.000; belding 60.000 belac. The United States department of agriculture says the valley's production per acre is more than twice that of any other part of the country. In the valley there are all enteen cotton gins, the valley there are done in the valley and inject done in the valley of the Woke Him Up.

The young man was rather slow.
The girl thought it time to give ma hint.

A short time later with an elastic mind."

A short time later the editor invited Bowles to have dinner with him to which invitation Bowles replied:

"I approach the table with an elastic belt." hint. cious," she exclaimed suddenly, "I've bruised my lip! Do you know.

Mr. Jenkins, my mother always used to kiss a hurt place to make it well?"

"And did it do any good?" asked the young man, failing to see the

the young man, failing to see the point.
"I don't remember," replied the girl, getting desperate; "but those old-fash-ioned remedies are sometimes very good."

Then he got busy.

Expression Misunderstood.

There is a certain young man who used to be notoriously egotistic. Some of his acquaintances were one day speaking of him before an old lady who was not "up" in the slang expressions of the day.

The next time she met him she put out a congratulatory hand.

"Oh, Mr. Smith," she cried. "I am so glad you are better! I heard last week that you had a swelled head."

From the Way it Acted.
Little Aimee was learning to sew, and one day after vainly trying to thread a needle; she said: "Mamma, what do they call the hole in a needle?"

needle?"
"It is called the eye, my dear," re-plied her mother.
"Well," continued Aimee, "I'll bet this old needle is cross eyed."

Nearly Lost.
She—If you could have only one wish, what would it be?
He—It would be that—that— Oh, if I only dared tell you what it would be!

be!
She—Well, go on! Why do you suppose I brought up the wishing subject?

Grand Prize at Panama-Pacific Expo-sition Awarded to Walter Baker & Co. Ltd.

The Grand Prize for superiority of Co-coa and Chocolate preparations has been awarded to Walfer Baker & Co. Ed., Dor-chester, Mass. This famous old house has received 55 Highest Awards at the leading expositions in Europe and America. Adv.

what made that stout woman so furious?"

"Just as she was getting on the sub-way train the gateman said Both gates, lady."

HANY WAR ZONE HOSPITALS
Have ordered Allen's Foot-Exse, the antisptic gweler, for use among the convalenced troops,
gweler, for use among the convalenced troops, both, Allen's Foot-Exse gives refreshipe rest and corrifor and prevents the feet getting tired or corrifor and prevents the feet getting tired or stitute. Sold Everywhere, 25c. For FREE series, address, Allen S. Olimstod, LeRey, N. Y.—Allen, anderson, Allen S. Olimstod, LeRey, N. Y.—Allen,
anderson, Allen S. Olimstod, LeRey, N. Y.—Allen, and the converse of the Sure Cure.

"What are you taking for your old?"

"Advice." — Philadelphia Public

"A woman is as old as she looks."
"But not always as plump."—Bos

DR. J. D. KELLOGG'S ASTHMA REMEDY for the prompt relief of Asthma and May Fever. Ask your drug-gist for it. 25 cents and one dol-iar. Write for FREE SAMPLE. throp & Lyman Co., Inc

KELLOGG'S Dr. J. D.

Expansive. George Powles, press agent for "The Birth of a Nation," was dealing with an editor who was hostile to the production, yet in a note to Bowles arranging for an engagement the editor wrote: "I approach the matter with an elastte mind." taxune

A Soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed For Douches

In the local treatment of woman's file such as learn-orders and inflammation, he douches of Paxtine are very effications, and the such as learn-orders and the such as learn-orders with follows its use. This is because Partine Improved the Comment of the Solution Paxtine produces and disconfert which follows its use. This is because Partine Improved the Comment of the Comment of the Solution Co. In the Comment of the Comme Envious.

"What is the matter, Alice?" asked her mother as the little girl came home crying as if her heart would break."

"Mabel Jones has got adenoids and I never have anything." sobbed Alice.

ABSORBINE

Removes Bural Echargements
Thickened, Swollen Tiannes, Curbs, Filled Tendons, Sorseness from any Bruise or Strains Stops Spavin Lameness. Allays pain.
Does not Bitter, remove the hair of lay up the horse. $2.00 a bottla, delivered. Book IK free.
ABSORBINE, JR., the antiaptic liniment for mankind. For Synovitts, Strains Gouty or Rheumatic deposits, Swollen.
Painful Varicose Veins. Will tell you more if you write. $1 and $2 per bottle at dealto or delivered. Mannifactured only by wiff, United, $P. of $1.0 these $1.5 threspeed, have $1.5 threspeed, have $1.5 threspeed, $2.5 threspeed, have

PATENTS Watson E. Caleman Patent Lawyer, Washington D.C. Advice and tooks fre

1 CARTERS

The war's fearful devastation of European from the American Continent. The people of the world must be fed and there is an unusual demand for Canadian wheat. Canada's invitation to every industrious American is therefore especially attractive. She wants farmers to make moneyand happy, prosperous homes for themselves while helping her to raise immense wheat crops.

You can set a Homesstead of 160 acres FREE.

You can get a Homestead of 160 acres FREE and other lands can be bought at remarkably low prices. Think of the money year make with wheat at its present high prices, where for some time it is be to continue. During many years Canadian wheatfelds have averaged so bushes to the acre—many yields as high as 45 bushels to the acre—many yields as high as 45 bushels to the acre. Wenderful crops also of Osts, Earley and Flax.

also of Oass, narrey and First.

I farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain raising. The emotivations of the first book or dairy purposes. Good schools, markets convenient, climate excellent.

Military Bervice is not compulsory in Canada. There is no continuous and no war tax on lands.

PLYMOUTH, OHIO. SATURDAY - JULY 10, 1915

EnteredatthePostoffice.Plymouth,Ohlo.as

TELEPHONE No.59

Petitions bearing 135,000 signa-tures, twice as many as needed, making a pile nearly five feet high, were filed with Secretary of State Hildebrandt last week Friday to ini-tiate the state-wide prohibition a-mendment.

Since Ohio adopted the workmen's compensation law it has investigated and disposed of over 90,000 cases of injury or death to workmen, and distributed to those injured and the dependents of those killed, the sum of $3,436,460.

of $3,485,480.

Ohio agricultural exhibitors at the Panama-Pacific exposition are many and the exhibits at the Ohio building attract considerable attention. The state of the part of the

The new eight-hour-a-day labor law of the state, county, city, township and school district improvements went into effect on July 1. Laborers cannot be employed longer than eight hours a day on any improvements which are now awarded after July 1. Work on any improvements which are now awarded by the city, county and township authorities will be limited to eight hours a day.

Petition against eight railrands hours a day.

Petition against eight railroads, asking for judgment of $8,000 in all, were filed Thursday in the United States court at Toledo. Allegation is made that the B, & O, and C. H. & D. have been offenders against the workmen's law relative to limiting hours continuous service and the safety appliance law. Seventeen counts are filed against the B. & O, for alleged violations of the law limiting the hours of continuous service to 16.

Controller of the Currency, John Skelton Williams has a word of congratulation for national bankers for the way they have reduced overdrafts since the order was sent out about the first of the year that this practice must be cut to a minimum. The controller says that he is greatly pleased with what has been done but is anxious that the good work go on, so that the overdraft habit among national bank patrons shall be largely a matter of history.

ly a matter of history.

Circulation of petitions for a referendum election on an amendment to the Ohio constitution providing for home rule in taxation was started in Summit county this week. The amendment provides for adoption of the site value system of taxation—formerly known as the single tax—by any city or county that wasts to raise its revenue that way. That is, any city or county may exempt personal property from taxation and raise its local revenues by taxing land values only.

Nearly fifty members of the Ply-land values only.

Nearly fifty members of the Plymouth lodge Knights of Pythiss, came to Shebby lodge No. 392 K. of P., says the Shebby Globe of last week Friday. The visitors came over on the car that gets in here shortly after 7 o'clock and marched in a body to the local hall After the regular meeting of Shelby lodge, two candidates were given the rank of Knight. The degree work was put on by the degree team of Plymouth and the ritualistic exercises were beautifully exemplified. After the initiatory work a lunch was served by the entertainment committee. the initiatory work a lunch was serv-ed by the entertainment committee, after which the remainder of the evening was spent in games. A fine time was enjoyed by all and the event will long be remembered by all those present.

For Sale.

A 10-room house—with bath, electric lights and hot water heat. A double lot with large barn. For particulars call on Nimmons & Nimmons.

W. C. T. U

Old members—remember the day and date, Wednesday, July 14th. Go on the 10:15 car with well filled baskets, to the home of Mrs. We Bittinger, and help to make a success of the picinic and recention for the sixty-one new members secured by Mrs. Hill of Elyria.

Tired, Aching Muscles Relieved.

Hard work, over-exertion, mean stiff, sore muscles, Sloan's Liniment lightly applied, a little quiet, and your soreness disappears like magic "Nothing ever helped like your Sloan's Liniment. I can never thank you enough," writes one grateful user. Stope suffering, aches and pains. An excellent counter-irritant, better and cleaner than mustard, All Druggiets, 25c, Get a bottle today. Penetrates without rubbing.

The Check That Never Come.

The committee in charge of solic-ting the finances to carry through the coming centennial celebration have certainly met with great success, the business men and citizen cess, the business men and citizens responding generously, while a few outside wholesale houses have honored the committee with liberal checks. But the same can not be said of the mail order houses, who do a large and flourishing business here. A few weeks ago the finance committee, through the secretary, appealed to Sears & Roebuck for a small contribution and patiently awaited a reply, but none came. Thinking (?) perhaps the letter had been miscarried the committee again wrote them about three weeks ago, this time enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply, but up to the hour of going to press they have not headen anything from this big corporation who every few monts floods. hour of going to press they have not heard anything from this big corporation who every few months floods this section with catalogs begging for business. One would naturally suppose, after taking thousands of dollars out of a community, and that too, to the detriment of the home merchants and town, they would be courteous enough to reply. Just think of this, you people, who have been sending your money out to these concerns, before you make up your next order. Your local merchant contributes of his time and means to all local projects, pays taxes to keep up the schools and build up a good system of roads, but from the mail order house what do you get? Only the hal ha!

Plymouth has pulled off other big doings without their assistance and can do so again, but this only goes to show that the only interest they have in you is the financial end.

Personal Mention

Miss Nell Johnston of Mansfield, as a guest of Miss Loa Weatherby

Chas. Conklin of Cleveland, was an over Fourth guest of his mother, Mrs. Jno. Conklin.

Mrs. Jao. Conklin.

Dr. Clarence Ruby of Toledo, O., spent the Fourth with his pareate, Dr. and Mrs. I. A. Ruby.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wolff of Mansfield, was a gnest this week of her brother, Chas. McClinchey, and wife.

Misc Carrie Nichols of Ceveland, bas been the guest of Dr. and Mrs.

E. Motley, for the past week.

Miss May Huston of Columbus, O., as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy orter a few days this week. Ellsworth Russeli and family of Toledo, were over the Fourth guests of their aunt, Mrs. Georgia Board-

Miss Lotta Brewbaker of Cleve-land, O., spent the Fourth with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brew-baker.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Howell will leave is Friday evening for a week's visit ith relatives at Tiffin, Sycamore and Upper Sandusky.

Mrs. M. Lerch of Columbus, is the lest of her daughter, Miss M. M. erch, and also a regular attendant the chautauqua numbers.

rs of North Fairfield, were guests Lewis Gebert and family Sunday nd also attended the chautauqua.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Johnston and hildren of Cincinnati, O, who have een visiting A. E. Willet and family eturned home Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ramsey, Mr. ad Mrs. Art Majors, Mrs. Ben oolet, Mrs. Frank Lofland, and Miss innie Curpen motored to Bucyrus

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Huffman of kron, and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kel-er and two sons, of Lorain, were uests of A. E. Willett and family wer the Fourth.

over the Fourth.

Mrs. M. E. Wilson of Bettsville, and nephew, Orville Patterson, of Tiffin, were visitors among Plymouth relatives this week, and also attended all sessions of the chautauqua.

On last Thursday, Misses Daisy and Grace Hanick entertained Sister M. Chrysostum and Sister M. Law-rence of St. Vincent's Hospital. Cleveland and Miss Katherine O'Neil of Chicago Junction.

of Uniego Juneton.

Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Heibert of Champaign, Ill., stopped in Plymouth over Friday night and called on a few of their old time friends. having come here from Shiloh, where they had been visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Carter and son, Roy, with their guests, Mrs. Jennie-Carter and grand-daughter, Evelyn, Clements, Miss Ida Wollpert, of Dieveland, O., and Miss Grace Potter, of Worthington, O, spent the Fourth at Cedar-Point.

as team-Foint.

Mrs. G. W. Reed, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Bell, and daughters, Betty and Rosamond, of West Liberty, and Mrs. M. E. Wilson of Bettsville, were in Shebb Phursdav, guests of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Light and family.

1815

Centennial Celebration

AUGUST 10 to 14, 1915

Plymouth, Ohio

A Town One Hundred Years

Big Free Attractions

1915

1915

An Easy, Pleasant Laxative.

One or two Dr. King's New Life Pills with a tumbler of water at night. No bad, nauseating taste; no belching gas. Go right to bed Wake up in the morning, enjoy a free, easy bowel movement, and feel fine all day. Dr. King's New Life Pills are sold by all Druggists, 36 in an orginal package, for 25c. Get a bottle today—enjoy this easy, pleasant laxative.

BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD

$1.10

ROUND TRIP TO

Newark $1.10

Columbus SUNDAY, - JULY 18

Special Train Leaves Plymouth at 6:10 A. M.

Brothers

A Fresh Shipment of

Chase

Sanborn's Coffee

ALL PRICES....
SURE TO PLEASE

The Quality Grocery

CHAS G MILLER

Funeral Director and Licensed Embalmer

LADY ASSISTANT AMBULANCE SERVICE te, Show Boom and Morgue, Plymouth St., Plymouth All calls promptly attended to day or night. Office call 97; Residence North St., Telephone 31.

SPECIAL

Ladies' Hose---white and black regular 25c quality

> 17c pair 3 pair for 50c

Gowns---Crepe and Slipovers $1.00 values for

Dress Skirts--- White P. $1.00 each

Elnora Taylor

HARANA WARNAMANANA MARKA MININA WARNA

N IRRITABLE, fault finding disposition is often due to a disordered stomach. A man with good digestion is nearly always good natured. A great many have been permanently cured of stomach troubles by Chamberlain's Tablets after years of suffering. These tablets strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Try them. They only cost a quarter.

Chamberlain's Tablets

F. D. GUNSAULLUS,

Attorney and Counselor at Law

Practices in all State and United States Courts Stenographer and Notary Publicin affice. Office 'phone No. 117; Besidence phone. No. 32.

W. A. CLARK DEALER IN

RealEstate, Fire Insurance, &c PLYMOUTH, OHIO.

E. K. TRAUGER,

Attorney, Notary Public, Rest Estate and Collection

Office-2nd Floor Clark Block.

Joseph H. Jefferson Veterinarian

CHICAGO. -

ce and Hospital: Myrtle Avenue Prompt attention to all calls.

Dr. H. U. SYKES. Dentist.

· Plymouth, Ohio King Bldg.

Hours:

Monday Tuesday, and Saturday. 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. 6:30 to 8:00 p. m.

Dr. W. AGNEW. OF SHELBY.

Specialist in Diseases

EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT.

ERRORS OF VISION CORRECTED

AND GLASSES PRESCRIBED.

Will be at the Smith Hotel every second and fourth Wednesday

(f each-month.

OUICK RELIEF BALM

adons, Neuralgia, Toothache and Earache.
up, Piles, Burns, Ivy Polson Aching Joints.
up, Piles, Burns, Ivy Polson Aching Joints. up, Hongarde, Tickle in Throat. up of St. oo Jar Druggiets and Desiers of Colla Chemical Co.

COFFEY'S RED CROSS HEADACHE POWDERS

umatism, an nervous across pains and arrorders of menstruation accompanied by pair toc for 4 Powders is Powders ago Druggists and Dealers or by Mail to Col's Chemical Co. COLUMBUS, 0

Substatials and Delicacies Go Hand in Hand, Here

Buns Rolls

Cakes Cookies Jelly Roll Angel Food

Our patrons usually depart with something of one in one hand, and something of the other in the other.

Bread Is the Staff of Life Variety Is the Spice of Life

HOME BAKERY

J. G. O'Heron, Prop.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS GIVEN QUICK RELIEF

Next on the program will be the

It hasn't done anything much but rain this week.

The chautauqua started in the rain and ended in the rain.

Anyway, we had two days without rain-Monday and Tuesday.

It's a long, long way to Tipperary even if you were a big red rose.

Nearly every property owner has aught the paint and sleek-up fever

Alpha sewing circle will meet Tuesday evening in the church annex July 13.

There will be preaching services at the Presbyterian church morning and evening Sunday, July 11th.

Don't forget that extra pair of trousers, free, with each suit of Kahn Tailored Clothes. Hatch & Hatch. Mrs. C. B. Rowalt delightfully en-tertained the members of the Lady Maccabees at 12 o'clock dinner, Thursday.

For Sale—Bornsteel range in ex-cellent condition; also gasoline stove. For price and particulars call on Mrs. E. Motley.

Out of town parties have leased

Ruth, the seven-weeks' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kramer, died Tuesday, July 6th, burial having taken place on the afternoon of the following day.

or the following day.

L. M. Upham, D. C., of Shelby, successor to Doctor Ingabritzen gives chiropractic adjustments on Tuesday and Friday afternoons in Plymouth. Inquire at Price's Jewelry Store.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Lutheran church will hold their reg-ular quarterly meeting in the appex

Miss Susie Beelman had the mis-fortune of overturning her ankle and badly spraining the same Wednesday evening, she having the same ank'e sprained only a short time previously.

Born-To Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Scisinger, on Saturday morning, July 2, a ten pound and one ounce son, which gave Jno. the double opportunity of celebrating the birth of his on and the glorious Fourth.

fon and the georous Fourth, Rogers, the shoe man, has made another slashing cut in all ladies' and gents' oxfords. This is an opportunity to get seasonable footwear at a great saving. Drop in early as they will go fast at this reduction sale.

The Fourth passed off here without any fatality or undue excitement, and aside from the explosion of a fire cracker you would not have known it was Independence day. People are slowly coming to the same

The fronts of the Derringer & Hilborn barber shop and the Kap-enberg meat market have been painted—80 green that if a drove of cattle were to pass down street they would mistake the fronts for a pasture field.

ure field.

Work on the Deisler opera house has progressed fairly well the past week and has now reached the height of the top of the first story, and is ready to receive the steel beams, after which the work on the second story will go rapidly along.

Ruth Onalee, the five weeks old in fant of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Crammer, died at the home of its grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Danner, Tuesday afterneon at 2 o'clock Funeral was held Wednesday at 3p m. Interment was made in Greenlawn.

lawn.

The largest mortgage ever recorded in Huron county was filed in the office of Recorder Elmilinger, Friday afternoon, by the New York Central Railroad company. The amount of the mortgage is $99,578,400 and it is given to the Bankers Trust Co. and W. H. Elmandors, trustees, "New York City."

York City.

Ira S. Barr, a retired farmer and prominent resident of Greenwich, died suddenly at his home in the neighboring village, some time last week Thursday night. His lifeless body was found in bed when he did not present himself in the home at the usual hour. The deceased was 73 years old.

Ross W. Wvandt of New Haven, and Miss Hazel Fern Gurney of Chicago Junction, were married last week Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at Norwaik at the home of Rev. Chapman. The happy young people will make their home at New Haven and will have the best wishes a large circle of friends.

a large circle of friends.

A young woman witness in a divorce tase at Fremont, a few days ago, created a consternation in court by refusing to answer a question as to which part of the anatomy of a child had been spanked by the mother when correcting the youngster. Even the court smiled. If that young woman or any other witness ever

Wanted-Girl for general house ork. Good wages. Box G, New

Only a little over three weeks nore and Plymouth will celebrate her one hundredth anniversary.

The Aid Society of the Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Chas. Mott, Tuesday afternoon, July 13th.

People here were too busy attend-ng the chautauqua to give much recking noises.

The Highest Clothes Distinction is mbobied in every Taylor made suit. den in pursuit of smartness and elecance should make it a habit of shopping here.

Hatch & Hatch.

ping here. Hatch & Hatch.
Mack Rogers' little pacing mare, Belle Earle, pulled down second money at "Silver lake Wednesday.
Notwitwithstanding the heavy condition of the track she stepped the first mile in 2:19½.

first mile in 2:194.
Judge Mansfield has confirmed the sale of land, upon the report of George H. Crafts, executor of the will of Florian W. Ames. The executor is ordered to make to the purchaser a sufficient deed.

The tax duplicates for that part of Plymouth lying in New Haven township, are now at the Peoples National Bank and can now be paid between this and July 18, when the books will be returned.

JOUNS WILL DE FEUTRED.

A 55-acre fruit farm down on Catawba Island sold for $30,000 a few days ago. This same farm, but a few years ago, had but little value, but, by hard work on the part of the owner, valuable peach or

Every business man and the peo-ple in general are invited to take part in the centennial parade. A prize of $5.00 is to be awarded for the best decorated float and $4.00 to the most comical one. See Chas G. Miller for particulars.

AGENTS—Donahue writes, "I sell nine out of ten." Scranton makes over $40 00 weekly. Big money sell-ing our brand new 25c kitchen uten-sil. Mail postcard for full informa-tion. Sample 25c. H. W. E. Mfg. Co. 27-7th St.. Binghamton, N. Y.

Miss Loretta Boinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sonnger of New Haven, and Mr. Clarence Billiard, employed at the East Side Garage at Chicago Junction were united in marriage at 11 o'clock Wednesday of last week at Norwalk, by Rev. S C Michelfelder at the Lutheran parsonage.

The farmers are certainly unagainst it on account of the rains and harvesting is next to impossible. Wheat is going down badly and haying is out of the question, while many corn fields are submerged. If we ever obtain suitable weather it will bring haying, wheat harvest and oats cutting at the same time.

and oats cutting at the same time.

The 49th annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, at which will occur the 50th anniversary of the Grand Review, will be held in Washington. Sentember 27-October 3, next. This may be the last encampment of the Grand Army. It will certainly be the last one for many of the aged veterans of '61-'65.

many of the aged veterans of '61-'65.

Some editors are known for their kind leartedness and liberality. An exchange tells of a subscriber who died and left fourteen years subscription unpaid. The editor appeared as the lid of the coffin was being kerewed down and put in a linen duster, a thermometer, a palm leaf fan and a recipe for making ice cream.

Boyd Hamman and 39 other prop Boyd Hamman and 39 other property owners of Bloominggrove township have petitioned the county commissioners for an improvement two and three-fourths miles long from the west line of the township to the J. R. Sloane farm. The land owners have not decided upon what kind of road they want, but they have decided they do not want water bound macadam.

and they want, out they have decided they do not want water bound macadam.

Ninety-seven Ohio postmasters will receive increases in salaries the inext fiscal year and forty will be refuged according to an announcement made at the postoffice departed ment Tuesday. The changes became effective July 1. They are based on the receipts of the offices for the past fiscal year, which ended June 30. Attica will be increased from $2.100 to $1.300 to $1.400, while Chicago Junction has been decreased from $2.100 to $2.000. The salary of the local posterior of the fiscal year, which can be provided in the coming along nicely and all things point to a big time during the week of August 10. The attraction committee have booked several high class features for the free attractions, while not merous shows have asked privilege concessions for their entertainments. These together with the various other concessions will furnish amusement for all. Noted speakers will be present and the program for each day will be made up as to not leave a dull moment, the whole combining to fittingly commemorate the 100th anniversary of the founding of Plymouth, which is not only a town of a hundred years but a town one hundred years.

For Sale—Two desfrable building tox. Nicely located as to the center of town and the manufacturing district. For location and other particulars call at this office.

In a letter from Frank Bevier the first of the week he requests us to change his address from Brementon. Wash, to San Francisco, where has been transferred and will be stationed on the U. S. battleship Oregon, which is located close to the sexposition grounds, which will give him an ample opportunity to visit; the exposition daily, being off duty from 1 p.m. until 8 the following morning every other day. He, also requests any one from this section at the dilight of the morning every other day. He, also requests any one from this section at the dilight of the morning every other day. He, also requests any one from this section at the dilight of the morning every other day. He, also requests any one from this section at the dilight of the dilight o to be placed with the Brinkerhoff poor fund.

Murrav Stevens, while in Chicago Junction Tuesday afternoon met with rather a sudden death. For several days past he had been indulging in liquor to excess, and presumably had gone to our neighboring town to appease his craving appetite, when death overtook him. He had purchased a sandwich at one of the bars in a saloon at that place, and while in the act of eating the sandwich, he was seized with a choking sensation and started to leave the saloon. Just as he stepped from the door he fell, striking the back of his head against the sharp edge of the stone step, causing concussion of the brain, death ensuing shortly after. Postle's ambulance was driven over and his body brought back to his home in this place, from which funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He is survived by his wife and six children, the oldest of whom is about 18. He was of a jolly and good natured disposition, a good worker, when not in liquor, which was his one great curse, and in spite of numerous attempts to throw off the yoke, it finally brought him to an untimely end. He was aged 39 years and burial was made in Greenlawn.

Cant Harry B. Kirtland, former-l f Plymouth, cipher cole expert of the war department, has just add-ed new laurels to a brilliant record at the United States army signal school, Fort Leavenworth, Kans, by successfully writing for the gov-

THEATRE

OPEN EVERY NIGHT

Saturday Night

A SOLDIER OF PEACE (Drama in two reels) SLIPPERY SLIM GETS SQUARE

(Western Comedy) EXPENSIVE ECONOMY

WILLIE'S WAGER

(Comedy)

Sunday Night.

COLONEL OF RED HUZZARS

E3CAPE OF THE LIMITED (Drama)

· 10c TO ALL

7,454.70

27,322,78

9,436 77

1.000 00 $403.550.37

IT WILL PAY YOU TO WAIT FOR YOUR PEACHES.

Northern Ohio Island Peaches will be on the market from September first to October tenth. See that your grocer has them for you. The crop this year will be unusually large and the price low.

the price low.

This fruit is fully matured before being picked and contains a larger percentage of sugar than any other grown.

OTTAWA COUNTY FRUIT GROWERS EXCHANGE, PORT CLINTON, OHIO

Report of the Condition of THE PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK AT PLYMOUTH,

In the State of Ohio, at the Close of Business June 23rd, 1915. RESOURCES

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts (notes held in bank)
U. S. Bonds deposited to secure circulation (par value).
Bonds other than U. S. bonds pledged to secure postat savings aeposits.
Securities other than U. S. bonds (not including stocks) owned unpledged.
Subscription to stock of Federal Reserve bank.

Less amount unpaid.
Baaking house, 86,000; furniture and fixtures, $2,000. but from Federal Reserve bank in New York, Chicago, and St. Louis of reserve agents in New York, Chicago, and St. Louis of the provided reserve agents in other reserve cities Due from banks and bankers (other than included in 8 or 9).

Outside checks and other cash items, $331 18; tractiontional currency, nickels and cents, $299.75.

Notes of other national banks
Federal Reserve house.
Lawful money reserve in bank:
Total

LIABILITIES

Total

State of Ohio, County of Richland, ss:
1. Jno. I. Beelman, Cashier of the above-named bank do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 3rd day of July, 1915.

F. D. Gunsaulius, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest: H. J. Willment, F. W. Kirtland, Sam'l Parker, Di rectors.

······ Peace! BE PREPARED

Ouri mmense line of

MEN'S, BOY'S AND CHILDREN'S CLOTHING AND FURNISHINGS

offers you this opportunity.

Second to

The best merchandise the market affords, with a variety of selection.

QUALITY THE BEST PRICES THE LOWEST

COME IN AND SEE US

M. Shield & Son

Pioneer Clothiers

Made to measure suits at special prices. èwwww.www.ww

A Charming New Summer Low Shoes

PATENT Leather. Light turn sole Pretty new pattern

A new creation direct from the workshop of

JOHN KELLY

We ask you to call and see this new style. It is a shoe you will be proud to wear. The price is right.

SEE THE WINDOW

Dick Brothers

Economy Store

to Know That This Business

Is Conducted on the Full Value For Money Received Principle.

The Money You Save on Pur-chases Made Here Means Money In the Bank

WE ARE PAYING FOR

Eggs In Cash .

GEBERT

GROCFRIFS Plymouth Chautauqua

Five Big Days of Music, Or-

July 3rd to 7th, 1915 SMOKE THE

We Want You Katy-did Cigar

A Plymouth Product.

LOCAL MARKET REPORT Eggs (cash) 18

 Eggs (in trade) 20

 Butter
 18 to 20

 Wheat
 r 00

 Corn, per cwt..... 10

If you want clean hands-

12 ON SHIP KILLED

CAPTAIN AND ELEVEN OF CREW VESSEL, ATTACKED BY SUBMARINE, SLAIN.

CARRIED CARGO OF HORSES

Seamer Anglo-Californian Reaches Queenstown After Four-Hour Flight
From Kaiser's Undersea Craft—
Dead Litter Decks of Boat.

Dead Litter Decks of Boat.

London, July 7.—The big British steamship Anglo-Californian Imped Into Queenstown harbor a veritable floating shambles after having outrun a. German submarine. Her wireless shot away, her funnels pierced and her docks littered with dead and dying, she accomplished the feat.

She was laden with transport animals for the British army—a cargo of horses shipped from Montreal.

The commander, who brought ber through the hali-of shot, hell and rifle fire—Captain Paralow—paid for the achievement with his life. He remained on the bridge amid the inferno until blown off by a shell. The officer who assumed his post found his body with one arm and one leg shot away.

The others of the crew who shared away.

The others of the crew who shared his fate, were, like the :aptain, horribly mutilated. The dead number 12. Eight others were desperately wound-

Bight others were desperately wounded.

The Anglo-Californian is a staunch steel ship of 7,333 tons, and is owned by the Nitrate Producers' Steamship company, Ltd. She was built three years ago and is 450 feet long.

While the crew was largely British, Americans and Canadians were in charge of the cargo of horese.

The attack on the Anglo-Californian began almost twenty-four hours before she reached port and continued four hours. The submarine signaled a command for her to lay to. Instead, the captain gave the order full steam ahead, and the most dramatic atruggle of the submarine blockade of the United Kingdom was on.

Reports of the sinking of five more merchant ships were received in London.

TRAINS HIT AUTOS: 7 DIE

Fatal Accident at West Detroit, Mich., and Another Near Farming-dale, N. J.

dale, N. J.

Detroit, Mich., July 7.—An automo bile in which eight persons were riding was struck by a fast west-bound Wabash passenger train at Greene avenue, just inside the city limits of West Detroit, Sunday night, and three of the occupants were killed, while the others were injured more or less seriously. The dead are: Joseph Fabyszak, fifty-four: his wife Nettle, aged forty-two, and Olga Ewinesky, a twenty-year-old girl.

Farmingdale, N. J., July 7.—Four members of a Trenton family met death on the Asbury Park-Farmingdale road, a mile from here, on Sunday when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a New Jersey Southern train. Robert Mayer, his wife and daughter, Ethel, twenty-one, were killed outright, and Herbert Mayer, thirteen, died while being conveyed to a hospital.

HIJERTA JAILED: OROZCO GONE

Juarez May Be in Hands of Escaped Mexican Before Many Hours, Is El Paso Report.

El Paso, Tex, July 7.—den. Victoriano, Huerta, who has been out on $15,900⁺bond since his arrest, was rearrested on Sunday on a new federal warrant issued at San Antonio. He is now locked in the county jail here and a military guard probably will be placed about the building to thwart any possible attempt to escape or attempts of triends to release him. It was admitted that Huerta was rearrested to prevent the possibility of his following the footsteps of Gen.
Pascual Oracco, who apparently has forfeited his bond and escaped across the border. A message received here said that General Orozco was at Valentine, Tex, and intended to cross the border into Mexico and lead a force against Juarez.

VICE-PRESIDENT THREATENED

Marshail Declares He Has Received Dozen Anonymous Warnings in Last Six Weeks.

St. Louis, July 7—Thomas R. Marshall, vice-presidert of the United States, has been threatened with death in more than a dozen anony mous letters which he has received during the last six weeks. Vice-president Marshall made this statement on Sunday to newspaper men here.

Tower Falis, Twelve Hurt.
Rock Island, Ill., July 7.—A light tower 60 feet high on which scores of people were perched viewing an exhibition by Aviator Miles collapsed in Exposition park, causing serious injuries to a dozen persons.

Cholera Epidemic Spreads. Choiera Epidemic Spreads.

Paris, July 7.—A dispatch to the Havas agency from Geneva states there were two cases of cholera to Vienna, five in Moravia. three in Silesia, two in Crucow, four 'n Yavprow and twen'y cight in Valovitch.

ITALIAN OPERATIONS IN THE TRENTINO

Invading Austria west of Lake Garda and descending a steep mountain 8,000 feet into the Ledro valley an Italian force has cut the electric power from Riva, which was generated at falls on the Ponale river in the valley. It has also occupied part of a historic road cut in solid rock which connects Breacla, Storo and Riva.

PRESIDENT WILSON READY TO CRUSH ANARCHY.

Falk of Intervention to Save Foreigners and Avert Starva-

Washington, July 3.—Fighting for Messico City has been going on in the suburbs for fifteen days. Zapata's army and armed civilians are fiercely resisting the Carrana army's entrance. Gen. Raphael Pacheco of the Zapata forces has been killed. In the capital there is looting. All bushiess houses have been barriended. The bread line is filled daily with 40,000 poor. Food is scarce. Diplomats are trying to protect foreigners. A train is held ready to take away officials of the Zapata government.

President Wilson has determined to end the anarchy which prevails in Mexico.

The policy of "watchful waiting," which was modified a month ago when the president threatened to act unless the leaders of the several factions in the neighboring country got together, his definitely come to an end.

The new policy of the president contemplates forcible intervention if such an extreme step proves necessary. The state department has advised comparies forcible intervention it such an extreme step proves necessary.

The state department has advised the president of the terrible conditions prevailing in the Mexican capital and of the difficulties placed in the way of the transmission of information of the situation of the diplomats and foreigners there.

More important from the viewpoint of the United States, European gov-ernments again are inquiring if the president intends to take measures for the protection of European life and property.

The administration fears it will have to re-occupy Vera Cruz once more and perhaps march on Mexico City.

BRITISH DESTROYER DAMAGED

Admiralty Says Vessel Was Either Torpedoed or Hit Mine—One Dead and 15 Missing.

London, July 3.—The admiralty announced on Thursday that the British destroyer Lighthing encountered a mine, or was torpedeed, off the east coast of England Wednesday night and that one of the crew was killed, while 14 are missing. The vessel succeeded in reaching harbor safely. The Lighthing is an old boat, dating from 1893. She has a displacement of 290 tons and carries one 12-pounder, five six-pounders and two 18-inch tons and carries one 12-pounder, five six-pounders and two 18-inch torpedo tubes

TURK TOWN TAKEN BY ALLIES

Anglo-French Forces Capture Krithia According to Dispatch to Athens.

Athens, July 3.—A Mitylene dispatch says it is reported there that the allies have occupied Krithia on the Gallipoli peninsula.

Roads to Get Rate Raisc.
Washington, July 7.—The railroads traversing what is known as "Western Classification Territory" will receive practically all of the advance in rates for which they asked, it was announced unofficially here.

U. 8. to Lease Million Acres., Washington, July 7.—Grazing lands to the Crow Indian reservation in Montana will be leased for another three-year period, the Indian office announces. More than 1,200,000 acres are included in the tract.

U. S. MAY INTERVENE 19 AMERICANS PERISH

ERMAN SUBMARINE SINKS BRITISH STEAMER ARMENIAN.

Vessel Attacked by Undersea Craft Off Traverse Head, Cornwall—Carried Cargo of Mules.

Washington, July 2.—The Britishowned steamship Armenian of the Leyland line was torpedoed and sunk by the German submarine U-38 20 miles west of Trevose head, Cornwall, England, on Tuesday night, and a miles west of Trevose news.
England, on Tuesday night, and a number of Americans were lost. The information came in dispatches to the state department.
The official count says that 29 men were lost and ten injured and gives a lise of American citizens, white and colored, who were crossing with the ship.

lise of American citizens, white and colored, who were crossing with the ship.

The Armenian sailed from Newport News June 17 with a cargo of horses consigned to Avenmouth, west coast of England, for the English army.

The facts in the case as obtained from Consul Armstrong at Bristol and all the information obtainable here as to the character of the vessel were telegraphed to the president at Cornish, N. H.

State department officials do not regard the information now at hand as sufficient on which to express an opinion and especially on which to make intelligent representations to, Germany. The department therefore cabled to Ambassador Page to send on at once all the details he could secure.

on at once all the details he could secure.

The main point in the case of the Armenian is whether she is an actual member of the British navy as a troop ship or horse ship. She could be such, either by having been taken over by the government itself for that purpose or by the government itself having chartered the ship, and therefore making it a warship subject to attack on ing it a warship subject to attack on sight by German war vessels.

TRUCE CALLED IN MEXICO?

Reported That Villa and Carranza Will Make Peace Soon—Plan Public Soon.

Public Soon.

El Paso, Tex., July 2.—Following the announcement that Villa and Carranza are considering a peace agreement to avoid a new revolutionary movement which might unseat them both, Chihushua reports that a temporary armistice has been declared near Encarancion, south of Augusacalientes. Travelers from the south report that furious fighting was in progress Monday at Encarnacion.

STOP DRINKING IN ALABAMA

State-Wide Prohibition Goes Into Ef-fect—No Disorders Reported In the Transition.

Montgomery, Ala, July 2.—State-wide prohibition went into effect on Thursday. Every saloon and dispensary in the state was closed Wednesday night. There was no disorder in the transition. The saloons were closed under the proyisions of the Merritt-Denson bill enacted in January.

German Losses 2,190,0007 London, July 7.—The German official casualty list now includes 7,300 pages. As each, page contains about 300 names, it may be reckoned that Ger-many's losses so far aggregate 2,190, 000 officers and men.

German Submarine Raised.
Amsterdam, July 7.—The German submarine U-30, which was sunk off the mouth of the Ems through an accident, has now been raised, and only one man of the crew is dead, says the

DIAZ DIES IN PARIS

FORMER DICTATOR OF MEXICO DEAD AT AGE OF EIGHTY-FIVE

EXH PD FROM NATIVE LAND

x-President Ruled Republic for Thir-ty-Five Years—Fought Against the United States—Fied During Madero Revolution.

Paris, July 5. Gen. Porfirio Diaz, on Friday. General Diaz's wife, Se

Trains, July se-Gen. Tornies Dias, former president of Mexico, died here on Friday, General Dias's wife. Senora Carmen Romero Rubio Diaz, and their son, Porfirio Diaz, Jr., and the latterismite, were at the bedside.

About three weeks ago General Diaz began to fail rapidly and while his death was not unexpected, owing to, bis advanced age and recent failing health, the crisis came suddenly Friday afternoon. Colone] Diaz. Jr., in announcing the death of his father, said that he was unable to state the nature of malady, but expressed the opinion that the cause was a complication of diseases, due to advanced age. Porfirlo Diaz was Mexico when there was a Mexico. When on May 31, 1911, he fied the western homisphere in the face of Francisco I. Madero's rising revolution, Mexico started on the wild orgy of disintegif in anarchy. Loosed from the iron hand, the nation blew up.

Before Theodore Roosevelt was born Diaz was an apostle of the Big Stick and its effective accompaniment of the soft voice. For 35 years he ruled Mexico, all of that time, with the exception of four years, as its president. Under his dominance the country was an invision which he encouraged with the wisdom of a statesman and a true conomist.

His military career, however, had begun when he took up arms against Coconomist.

His military career, however, had begun when he took up arms against the United States. Diss was born at Canaca September 15, 1830. His mother was an Indian and his father was of old Spanish lineage. The father died when Porfirio was three years old, and he was educated at the expense of the bishop of Oaxaca. He intended to become a priest, but when the war with the United States broke out he enlisted, at the age of sitteen.

sixteen. At a time when defeat meant death young Diaz cast his lot with Juarez in the revolution which in 1884 brought about the downfall of Santa Ana, the one-legged dictator. His study of military science stood him well, and his campaigns were a succession of victories until, in 1876, he marched into the City of Mexico at the head of 12,000 men and was elected president of the republic almost unanimously.

Assuming the presidency again 1884, he remained in office until h resignation in 1911.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

New York, July 2.—Black Diamond, the famous bison of Central park zoological garden, whose image adorns one side of the nickel, will be alian within a few days, but his massive head will be preserved and mounted. He was born nineteen years ago in the zoological garden and weighs more than a ton. He is docile and considered a spledid specimen of his kind. but has outlived his usefulness.

Muskogee, Okla., July 2.—Six per sons were killed in a tornade which swept Ottawa county, in the northeast part of the state, according to reports received here.

received here.

Washington, July 5.—An explosion on Friday night caused slight damage in the public reception room of the senate wing of the capitol building. The detonation could be heard for many blocks and the shock threw F. C. Jones, watchman at the northeast entrance of the building, from the chair in which he was sitting. The damage, which is confined almost exclusively to the reception room, was estimated by Superintendent. Woods of the capitol at about six hundred dollars. Among the details of the dam. lars. Among the details of the dam-age were a smashed large plate glass mirror, a part of the handsome chan-delier in the reception room and two wrecked telephone booths. No one wrecked telephone booths. No one was hurt.

New York, July 2.—The largest forcign order yet placed for refined sugar was poceived at Yonkers when the Federal Sugar Refining company got an order for 55,000 tons worth, $6,000,000, from an English company.
The company split the order with other companies. The F-deral Refining company two fmonths ago received an order for 25,000 tons, worth $3,000, odd, and the plant has been working night and day.

lows City Doctor Heads Hospital. Indianapolis, July 5.—Dr. Charles S Woods of this city, who Las been for the last two years a professor in the lows State college, at lows City, was elected secretar, and superintendent of the Methodist hospital.

Chicago Manufacturer Dies.
Chicago Manufacturer Dies.
Chicago Jaly 5.—Georgo Porter
Hitchcock, Chicago paper manufacturer er and membr of the firm of Mencke à Hitchcock company, died suddenly of heart fallure on Friday at his old beld in $3,000 surety for appears for trial.

TEUTON-RUSH IN EAST IS LOSING MOMENTUM

Austro-German Drive on Warsaw Appears to Have Been Checked---British Take 200 Yards of Trenches.

London. Eng.—With the exception of certain sections between the Vistula and the Bug, the Austro-German rush in the eastern war zone seems to be losing fits momentum. The Russlans have braced themselves and are holding at most points along their line, although the Austrians claim continued progress to the northeast of Krasnik, and further east, along the River Vleprz, in the neighborhood of Tarnogrod. This is a critical sector as far as a northward blow at Warsaw is concerned, but it is evident that the Russlans are stiffening their resistance after their long retreat, and the British press, for the first time in weeks, takes a more cheerful view of the eastern situation.

It is noteworthy that Tuesday's Berlin official communication speaks only of a gain on the northern Poland front leaving the neutrinesters.

It is noteworthy that Tuesday's Beritin official communication speaks only of a gain on the northern Poland Iront, leaving the southeastern field entirely to the Austrians, who in their official statement emphasise that an advance on the center between the Vistula and the Bug was made by "Austrians."

The last 24 hours have brought many renewed rumors that the Germans are planning to launch a new offensive in the west, their aim being to duplicate their Galician tactics and break through to Calais at all costs. Reports to this effect came almost simultaneously from Zurich, Brussels, Paris and Amsterdam.

The quiet which had prevalled on the British front in Flanders so long, has been broken by a British gain of German trenches to the north of Ypres, Field Marshal John French reporting that his forces had captured 200 yards of German trenches on the extreme left.

Milan, July 7.—The operations of the Italian army south of Gorizia, on the rugged plateau of the Carso hills, are being pushed with great vigor. Ever since the weather improved every day has been marked by fresh success. being pushsince the weather and the weather allowing the enemy to spend his strength in incessant attacks during the past fortnight when the weather has been wretched, the Italians have assumed a decided offensive and are now dealing with an adversary partially exhausted by frequent and futile assaults.

WORK ON PLAN TO AID JOBLESS OF COUNTRY

Federal Officials Would Establish Land Credits to Finance Men Who Want Farms in the United States.

Washington, D. C.—An interdepartmental committee named by Secretary of the Interior Lane and Interior Lane with preliminary cratts of necessary legislation, is to be framed before congress meets in December, and will be proposed in connection with a rural credits bill which the administration is expected to press at that time. The committee, which includes officials of the general land office, the reclamation service and the department of labor, was appointed specifically to consider means of broadening the scope of the federal employment bureau in the department of labor, and it has had the co-persition of officials of the postoffice department and the department of agriculture.

The plan under consideration contemplates a system of farm credits operating through the department of labor, which would enable workers in congested cities to take up agriculture and the operation of officials of the operating through the department of labor, which would enable workers in congested cities to take up agriculture and seek on the consenior of the consenior o compares a system of tarm creditsoperating through the department of labor, which would enable workers in congested cities to take up agricultural land on government reclamation projects, or public lands, on easy payment loans.

Commissioner General Caminetti of the immigration bureau suggested a government back-to-the-farm scheme some time ago, and the inter-departmental committee has developed the idea to a point where work has been begun our framing of initial drafts of necessary legislation.

In addition to requiring, an suuflary rural credit system under control of the department of labor, the plan would necessitate amcadements to the St. Clairsville, O.—Rather than walk four miles, Milan Cherovich, aged 23, asked a picnic party to haul him home with them in a contractor's truck. As he jumped off in front of his home he was killed under a wheel of the machine.

Five Face Perjury Charge.
Providence, R. I.—Pive arrests on charges of perjury were trade in connection with the federal grand jury investigation of the alleged election fraude at the last congressional election in the towns of North Providence and Coventry.
The defendants, William H. Bigelow, Calvin E. Hopkins and Sumeel Frankilis, Jr., of Coventry, and O'vde Fostes and John Graham of North Providence, all pleaded not guilty and each was

Look For This Name

Olives and Pickles

Insist on Libby's at your grocer's. Libby, M?Neill & Libby Chicago

The General Says:
You can buy the most durable rooting in the world at a price that is reasonable it you lists to Certain-teed

Roofing Your local hardware or lumber dealer can supply you with Certain-Seed Roofing. Quaranteed 5, 19 or 15 years according to the thickness. Don't accept a substitute, GENERAL ROOFING MFG. CO.

IS WANTED—Wonderful opening for men and on; no experience necessary to make large in-as our Local Representative. Greatest house-necessity ever manufactured; setls itself on untation. Setalls for So; large profits. Write for is. Ferenital Recessity Os. Dept. 548, Essiles, F. A.

Revenge!

Mollie—What are you letting your hair grow so long for? Going to be a musician?

Chollie—No; I've got a grudge against the barber.

CARE FOR YOUR HAIR

By Frequent Shampoos With Cuticura Will Help You. Trial Free. Preceds shampoon by touches of Cuticura Ointment if needed to spots of dandruff, itching and irritation of the scalp. Nothing better for the com-plexion, hair, hands or skin than these fragrant supercreamy emolitents. Also line surplexion, hair, hanns plexion, hair, hanns fragrant supercreamy emollients as preparations for the toilet.

Sample each free by mail with Book.
Address postcard, Cuticura, Dept. XY, Boston. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

O, Swear Not by the Moon.
Romeo was swearing by the moon.
"Nothing doing," protested Juliet,
"the moon is a dead one."

Makes Hard Work Harder

Makes Haru work Haruer

A bad back makes a day's work twice as hard. Backache usually comes from weak lidneys, and if orders are added, don't wait-get help before the kidney disease takes a rip-before dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease sets in. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new life and new strength to thousands of working men and women. Used and recommended the world over.

An Ohio Case

ney Pilis corrects these ailments.
have used the n
since and they have kept my kidney in good working order.

Get Doon's at Any Store, 50c a Bon DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS
FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

The Brightest Women Find

sometimes that they are dull in mind, depressed in spirits, and that they have houdache, backache, and sufferings that make Hids seem not worth living. But these conditions need be only temporary. They are usually eaused by indigestion or billousness and a few dozes of will quickly, safely and certainly right the wrong. This famous family remedy tones the stomach, stimu-lates the liver, regulates the bowels. Beecham's Pills cleanse the system of accumulation. Beecham's Pills cleanse the system of accumulating poisons and purify the blood. Their beneficial action shows in brighter looks, clearer complexions, better feelings, Try them, and you also will find that they

May Be Relied Upon

Soid erecyclers. In house, like, flit. W. N. U. CLEVELAND, NO. 28-1918

ERRORS FOUND IN GOOD ROADS BILL

Mistakes May Invalidate Sections of the Cass Measure.

INDICATE CARELESS PROOF READING

Whether Courts Wilf Go Back and Read Journals of House and Senate to Determine What Assembly Meant Is Uncertain.

Meant is Uncertain.

Special Columbus Correspondent.

OUR additional errors have been found in the Cass good roads bill and a court suit to determine whether the aggregate errors can invalidate sections of the measure is now almost certain. The new discoveries make the total number of mistakes an even half dozen, and iswers are closely scanning the entire statute for further possible discoveries make the total number of mistakes an even half dozen, and iswers are closely scanning the entire statute for further possible discissors. All question, however, that the errors might have been cherwise than purely clerical has been removed, for they are of such a kind as indicate only a slipshod method of proofreading. Observers here aver that no measure ever passed an assembly with a larger number of omissions and slips. In one place the word taxes is spelled "taves." In another instance the word "joint" is omitted when the law intended to say that an appeal might be taken to the common pleas court when joint boards of county commissioners could not agree in apportioning the cost of stated improvements. In still another instance the measure is drawn to make it appear that bonds shall mature 10 years "prior" to their being issued. Of course such a miracle could never happen, and what the bill originally said was 10 years "after." In still another case the word "may" is left out of a section intending to authorize the commissioners of two or more counties jointly to improve roads, and in a further instance the word "board" is used, so that the section becomes an absurdity. What may save the law is the fact that the mistakes are so patent that in the majority of cases the real meaning can be gleaned. Whether the courts will go back of the face of the bill and read the journals of the house and senate to determine just what the assembly meant is uncertain.

Highway Contracts Are Let. what the assembly meant is uncertain. Highway Contracts Are Let.

Highway Contracts Are Let.
Highway Improvement contracts amounting to about $180,000 were let Tuesday by Highway Superintendent.
Clinton Cowan, All were let at figures well below the estimated oost. Nearly all of the work is to be completed this year. The contracts let, the nature of paving, successful bidder and price follow: School go to seep, just for a week" School Bond Issue Annulled.
The very first test case of the new law permitting a recount of ballots in alleged "corrupt" elections has resulted in the annulment of the $25,000 school bond issue in Brown township, Franklin county. Common Pleas Judge E. B. Kinkead, appealed to by those who held the ballots to have been counted improperly opened the ollow:

Licking—Summit extension, 5 of a mile, feet wide, waterbound macadam, to J. Imboden, Logan, O., 43,715.
Muskingum—Zanesville-McConnellsville add, 0 of a mile, including bridges and ulverts, 16 feet wide, brick paving, to fard, Patrick & Co., Wheeling, W. Va., re $9,574.8.

$9,927.62. andusky—Sandusky-Clyde road, 16 feet le, 1.24 miles, concrete, to Earl Walt-, Sandusky, $15,490. ranklin—Repairing Columbus-Newark

Sandussy—santa-correte, to Earl Waitera, Sandusky, 315,490
Franklin-Bepairing Columbus-Newarkroad with bituminous macadam, sections to Graham & Kinnear, Columbus, 450128,95, Alternate bid for bituminous macadam, waterproof macadam treated, was to the same company for 183,341.44.
Franklin-Bepairing Columbus-Maryaville road, reshaping and resurfacing with bituminous macadam, 16 feet wide, 3.34
miles, to Graham & Kinnear, Columbus,
*TT-50,

was to the same company for $63,341.44.
Franklin – Repairing Columbus Marys
bituminous macadam. 16 feet wide, 3.34
miles, to Graham & Kinnear, Columbus, 325,372.30.
Same of the same columbus, 325,372.30.
Including the same columbus, 325,372.30.
Including the same columbus,
325,372.30.
Including the same columbus,
325,372.30.
Including the same columbus,
1.58 miles, 14 feet wide, 10 miles,
to E. C. Radebaugh, Logan, 36,587.14.
Lucas—Todelo-Wausson road, reshaptound macadam, 16 feet wide, 1.09 miles,
to E. C. Radebaugh, Logan, 36,587.14.
Lucas—Todelo-Wausson road, 18 feet wide, 3.73 miles,
36,71.
Same columbus,
36,71.
Same columbus,
37,71.
Same columbu that ballot was duly counted and tallied.

Announces Appointments have just. A number of appointments have just. Been announced by the state agricultural commission. Charles E. Ruckle of Akron has been reappointed deputy fish and game warden for a new term of two years. C. W. Ziegler of Hocking county and J. S. Williams of Darke county have been given provisional appointments as deputy fish and game wardens. Chester A Baird of Madison township, Franklin county, and Olin Smith of Mahoning county have been appointed assistants in soil survey work. D. G. Swanger of Wayne county has been appointed an assistant in the department of animal husbandry at the state experiment station at Wooster. Two of the state employes were granted salary increases. C. A. Garhart, assistant agronomist, was increased from $1,300 to $1,400 and E. G. Houser from $440 to $1,400 and E. G. Houser from $40 to $1,400 and $40 to $1 department to the state civi service commission office.

Held as Public Utilities.

Just before adjourning for the summer Friday evening the supreme court decided that mutual telephone companies must get permission from the public utilities commission before beginning operation. According to the ruling, such companies are public utilities and hence must obtain a per-sit of necessity before being authorseed to start in business.

Want Old Fashloned Fourth.
There is uncertainty here as to Estatured.

Joke on Amateur Fire Laddiea.
The rolunteer fire department of Frank View, on a exclusive village in Franklin county, is affording all manier of merriment for Jokesters. In last, the biggest Joke of the season is fost the smatteur fire isaddiea. For the last two pears they have been the pide of the village and the envy of sutsiders. Their drills have been ephanded and their maneuvers theoret cally perfect. But they never had a time, and now course the disclosure that if there had been a fire the effectiveness of the department would the season of the season of the season of the department would the season of the Publicity Scores for Anti-Lobby Law.

Without the newspapers—publicity—the Ohio anti-boby law wouldn't be worth the paper on which it is worth the paper on which it is written. This stalement is proven the public of the paper on the paper published the fact that of the papers published the papers papers

Man Who Shot Morgan Kills Himself While Keeper Steps Away Into Tier.

HOW PRISONER ENDED LIFE IS MYSTERY

Half Crazed Professor Leaves Note Presumably for Wife, Which Indicates He Had Some Means of Suicide at Hand.

of Suicide at Hand.

New York City.—Frank Holt, the half-crazed professor of languages who shot J. P. Morgan twice after setting off a bomb of the property of his brains.

County Physician Clegborn, after examining the body, said: "I believe the man blew his head off."

"Undoubtedly a suicide and undoubtedly the man jumped to his death," was the statement of Coroner Walter ones. There also were reports of an explo There also were reports of an explo-sion in the fail at the time Holt met his death, and there was a rumor that he had made away with himself who chiewing a percussion can that he had secreted in his clothing until it ex-ploded and blew off the top of his head.

ploded and blew off the top of his head.

Another theory is that he shot himself with a revolver that was slipped in to him by a visitor with whom he had done business at Central Park, L. L, and it also was rumored that he had been shot from the outside. The last became current through Police Commissioner Woods telegraphing the information to Chief of Police Pullman in Washington.

Later in the night Dr. Cleghorn Joined with District Atterney Smith, Warden Hultz and Corner Jones in declaring that Holt had met his death from a fracture of the skull suffered when he dove head first to the floor of his cell or in the cerridor outside. No further details were given, the officials being chaggined that Holt was able to fool them after they believed they had taken every precaution to safeguard him.

Note is Found in Cell,

Judge E. B. Kinkead, appealed to by those who held the balliots to have been counted improperly, opened the returns and did some counting himself. The face of the returns showed the vote to have stood 100 to 98 in fayor of the bond issue. When the judge got through with the recount the vote was a tie, or 100 to 100, and the issue maturally went by the boards. As the coffit interpreted the ballots the "yeas" first gained one and then lost it. Then the "noos" gained four and lost two and the whole thing became a tie. Incidentally, the court waived all captious and whimsical technicalties in his counting. Whenever a ballot-was marked with sufficient clearness to show what the voter mean that ballot was duly counted and tallied.

Announces Appointments.

Note is Found in Ceil.

That he had some means of suicide at hand was indicated by the following note found in his cell after his body was discovered and which is supposed to have been directed to his wife, although no name was found on it. The note read:

"My Dear One: I must write you once more. The more I think of it, the more I see the uselessness of living under the circumstances. Bring up the dear babies in fear of God and man. Goodbye, sweet. Frank."

"P. S.—All please pardon me for the heartaches I have caused. Pray with me that the slaughter will stop. My heart breaks. Goodby.

His mind tortured by illusions and with his vitality at such a low ebb that removal to the Nassau county hospital was considered by the authorities as the only means for saving him from death, Holt lay on his cot all of Tuesday the mere wreck of a human being. Earlier in the day he had made another attempt at suicide by severing an artery in his writs with the lead pencil he borrowed to write the note that was later found in his cell. This attempt occurred just before daybreak. Taking off the metal castings of the craser on the end of the pencil, which ho borrowed from Jerry O'Ryan, his guard, Holt flattened the two sides to gether with his teeth and made a crude knife. But his nerve failed him at the last minute and after a vein was opened he was found writhing, an agony on his cot and given medical attention.

At half past 10 o'clock O'Ryan found it necessary to go to the other end of the tier and for five minutes he was busy at some other duty. His back was toward the cell occupied by Hott. As O'Ryan turned to go back to Holt he heard what he says was either or most of the circumstance of the cell and YRyan ran to the food. O'Ryan turned to go back to Holt he heard what he says was either on come of the cell and YRyan ran to the food of Holt doubled up and from the body of Holt doubled up and from the lop of hight thrown by the single elective bulb into a corner of the cell is and belon of light was burning inside and that in Holt's Bomb Factory Located.

New York City.—Prank Holt's bomb factory has just been located in a little bungalow on the outskirts of the sparsely settled village of Central Park, Jr. I. It was here that Holt made the bomb he exploded in the Capitol building at Washington only a tew bours before he hastened to Glen Core to attempt the life of J. P. Morgan.

LAST OF OLD SHIP

Once Famous Yankee Sea Fighter is Sold as Junk.

ortsmouth, Ornament of American Navy, to Be Broken Up—Had a Long and Glorious Fighting a Career.

"Gallant Old Portsmouth Sold as Junk for $3,662.

Junk for $3,662."
This heading marked the inglorious end of one of the old and tried defenders of the nation.
Even as the mighty fighting ships of

ers of the nation.

Even as the mighty fighting ships of the Atlantic fleet, swept down the Hudson, across the bay and but to sea a few weeks ago, the doom of the old sloop of war was announced in an advertisement that she would be sold to the highest bidder above $3,000, her appraised value.

The government had tried to save the Portsmouth from such a fate, but lis efforts were unavailing. Secretary Daniels was willing to present her to any patriotic society that would take her and repair her, or to give her to the city of Portsmouth. N. H., after which she was named. But it would cost at least $25,000 to raise her from the mud of Norfolk navy yard and take her any distance and fit her out so as to make her presentable even as a relic.

Because she had taken an active part in the troubles on the Pacific costs that even'cally brought Cali-a relic.

Because she had taken an active part in the troubles on the Pacific coast that even cally brought California into the Union it was thought fitting by many that the sloop should be sent to San Francisco for the exposition. In August, 1911, a bill was introduced in congress to appropriate $25,000 to make her ready for the trip. The senate passed the bill, but the house rejected it.

She was launched in 1843, a sister ship to the St. Mary's. She was of about one thousand tons, 150 feet lone, with a draft of about seventeen feet. For many years she plowed the seas in all parts of the world, an active unit in the navy.

Her first service of note was during the war with Mexico, a few years after she was launched. With Commander she was launched. With Commander she was launched. With Commander ploth B. Montgomery in command, she took possession of the Bay of San Francisco and the adjoining territory, previously having met the full rigged ship Admittance, under charter to Mexico, and forcing her to strike her colors. She towed the prize into port and soon afterward took part in the bombardment of Guaymas. She remanded in these waters for several months, and for two years patrolled the coast of meanuments of the slave traders.

Her next achievement of note was when her commander taught the Chinese the respect due to the Stars and Stripes. It was just before the beginning of the war betwen England and China, and Commander Foote was with the Aslatic squadron, then under Capt. James Armstrong. While endeavoring to protect the property of American residents in Canton one of the forts opened fire on the Portsmouth. An apology was not forthcoming, and Commander Poote received permission to avenge the finsuit. He did so effectively, assisted by the Levant and the San Jacinto.

They attacked the four forts of massive granite, eight feet thick, mounting 176 guns and garrisoned by 5,000 men. After a fight lasting several days the four forts were captured. The American loss was 12 killed and 28 wounded, while 409 Chinese were killed.

Her last venture of note was during the Civil war. When the question killed.

Her last venture of note was during the Civil war. When the question arose of capturing New Orleans it was determined to have the wooden stips of the Massissip, past Forts Jackson and St. Philips, past forts and stemples would be compeled to surcessful take the two forts, ent of from their base of supplies, would be compeled to surcessful the was dark when the order was given to start. The Portsmouth, the flag, ship of the mortar flottlis, soon found her sails too slow for the frenzied rush; but she threw a line to a steamer, and swept up the river with the rest of the fleet.

The attack was soon discovered by the forts, and cannonading began and the sails too slow for the steamer, and she was almost directly abreast Fort Interest and the sail to the server of the line which held her to the rescort, and sakeson. The enemy saw her pline which held her to the rescort, and she began to drift helplessly down the stream of the same and the same was past of the same and the same was her plant to the help to the same and the same a its top.

Taking Papa Along.

"Oh, that!" replied the lady commptuously. "Ten or tweive dollars temptuously. "Ten or twelve dollars will cover that one."
"I see," returned the official, "Fa-ther's going along too."

ther's going along too."

Such a Long Time Ago.

He had just reached the philosophical stage when he slipped into a restaurant between bars for a bit to eat. He ordered. Then he sat staring ahead, quietly thoughtful in expression, and waited.

It is admitted he did some waiting, too. What happened to his order couldn't be understood outside the peculiar ronvolutions of a restaurant kitchen, but he spent half an hour sitting there staring ahead of him. At last it came. As the waitpess put the order before him he started from his deep study, as if he had forgotten he had an order coming. Then, looking up at the fair transporter of edibles, he said.

"You don't look a day older!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

Pa Knows Everything. "Father, what is a 'sepulchral tome

That means, to speak gravely."

HUBBY HAD NOT FORGOTTEN

Was Right There With Wedding As niversary Present, and Yet Wife Was Not Pleased.

It was late afternoon and time to get her husband's supper, but this woman sitting modily by the are never moved.

Her heart was breaking.

It was her birthday. She had been married only four years, but he—her husband—had forgotten her birthday already. That morning he had given her no present; not even an extrakiss before rushing off to town.

Presently there was the sound of a key turning in the lock. Into the room came her husband. Still she never moved.

He bent over her and whispered as he dropped a tiny parcel into her lap: "Many happy returns, darling!" Her heart was mended. She sprang to her feet and seized him in a frantie grasp as she realized that, after all, he still loved her. Then she opened the parcel.

"Pipe cleaners!" she gasped, as she displayed a little hundle of feathers.

he still loved ner. ruen saw ogsatte the parcel.

"Pipe cleaners!" she gasped, as she displayed a little bundle of feathera.

"Yes, swetheart," said the man. "I knew that they'd please you, as you object to my using your hairpins!"

HADN'T THOUGHT ABOUT THAT

Of Course Young Mother Could Only Reason That the Fault Must Be With the Scales.

With the Scales.

The story is told of a young mother who, after her first buby had been born, hurried to a hardware store to purchase a pair of scales, that she might be able to keep tabs on the remarkable growth of her first born.

When she got them home and weighed the baby for the first time the little bunch of humanity did not quite measure up to her expectations and she promptly arried the scales back, stating that they were not satisfactory. Asked by the storekeeper what the difficulty was, she replied. It think the scales are not right, My baby did not weigh as much as I think she ought to:

hard-hearted seller of hardware, "that the fault might be with the baby and Ready to Rist. it.

"Mr. Jones wants a windy-pane wilve inches be four en," remarked oung Patrick Mulirooney, entering

Pat. "Haven't any that size," he replied gravely. "Will one fourteen inches

"Haven't may gravely "Will one fourteen by twelve do"
Pat looked thoughful for a minute.
Then he replied
"He's wantin' it at once, and this is the only shop in town. Give me wan of thim Prhaps if we put it in sideways no one will notice."

Her Worry.
"Darling, will yo. love me when I'm old?"

"I will if you'll promise to love me if I should grow fat."

A new dishpan is rectangular to fit rmly in a kitchen sink and has rub-er feet to hold it steady

Summer Comfort

is wonderfully enhanced when rest and lunch hour unite in a dish of

Post Toasties

There's a mighty satisfying flavour about these thin wafery bits of toasted corn.

So easy to serve, too, on a hot day, for they're ready to eat right from the package—fresh, crisp, clean. Not a hand touches Post Toasties in the making or packing.

Served with cream and sugar, or crushed fruit, they are delicious.

PLAYING A PART

By WILLIAM CHANDLER

"Mr. Kenworthy," said Mrs. Middleton when that gentleman appeared for her dinner party, "before we dine I wish to speak a word to you about the young lady I have assigned to you for a dinner companion. She has a mild form of insanity, or rather monomania. She fancies that every man she meets is in love with her, and no matter what he says she considers it a proposal of marriage. But don't be alarmed; the next day she forgets all about it."
Kenworthy assured his bostess that

about it."

Kenworthy assured his bostess that he would excuse the young lady for anything that might occur between them, and she left him to attend to other matters connected with her disner party, without giving him any other information about the young lady he was to take out to dinner, not even mentioning her name.

At the last minute the sudden indisposition and recress of an unyined near

At the last minute the sudden indisposition and regrets of an invited guest rendered a change in the arrangement of the couples necessary. When dinner was announced Kenworthy had not been presented to the lady that had been assigned him for a dinner companion. The procession had started for the dinlag room when a sister of the hostess hurried toward him and, leading him to a young lady sitting by herself, introduced him. He bowed, crooked his arm, and the two formed the last couple to take their seats at the table.

Among the changes made was Mr.

the table.

Among the changes made was Mr.
Kenworthy's dinner companion, and in the hurry the card bearing the name of Miss Bilss, beside whom he was to have sat, had not been changed for that of Miss Steele, the lady who had been assigned bim in her stead. Miss Steele glanced down at the card on taking her seat, and a strangle look came over her face. Then the corners of her red lips quirked upward, and a mischievous look came into her eyes. Kenworthy, too, gave a quick gliance at the name and opened conversation.

For three hours the guests regaled themselves with Mrs. Middleton's table delicacies, and Miss Steele had ample time to win Mr. Kenworthy's good opinion, to say nothing of his admiration. During the early part of the dinner he was quite troubled lest she should construe something he said into a proposal of marriage, but about the time the game was served he began to think that he would consider a proposal, and lastly he began to put forth certain tests. Freending a mistake, he took up the glass of wine bedre her and sipped it, remarking at the same time that it must be a different brand from what he was drinking, for it instead far sweeter. The surposa d Miss Steele dropped her eyes, but said nothing. This started a succession of delicacity turned compliments on the part of Mr. Kenworthy; to all of which the lady listened with apparent emotion.

It is the nature of the small boy to see how near he can skate to an arhole in the lew whom her with and the fall mer came to the small boy to see how near he can skate to an arhole in the few without reaking in Urged on by a similar impulse, Mr.
Kenworthy; a she she held in her had as though struggling with some dependence of the small boy to see how near he can skate to an arhole in the flower in the shear very school. Nevertheies I believe in quik a for the chief grant and success of his investigations was curiously and my mate would resonance in the short a time he was not aware of it. The dianer came to he he was for any or her old o

to induce Miss Steele to norm but failed. It was reported that time of Mrs. Middleton's diag-she was as good as engaged man she married, but friend heard the story of her plather maniac said she was not quite a

An Exploded Secret

By FMMA BLAKE

. The French ship Arago sailed from New York for Cherbourg, France, in New York for Cherbourg, France, in March, 1915, loaded with munitions of war for the allies. She had been sur six days, and two of the voyage re-mained, when one of the passengers, a man, appeared at the door of the cap-tain's cabin on the upper deck, slipped in hastily, put his finger to his lips to in nastity, put his finger to his lips to enjoin silience and stood for a moment watting, evidently endeavoring to con-quer some strong emotion. Then after turning the key in the door he said almost in a whisper to the astonished commander:
"Captain Le Moyne, this vessel is in imminent danger."

nminent danger."
"How so?" 2sked the captain, start imminent danger.

"How so?" 2 sked the captain, starting.
"Write me out a promise of immunity, that I shall be treated in every respect as any other passenger aboard and that you will take no action except such as I approve and I will tell you."

The captain demurred for some time, tross questioning the man in an effort to get out of him something of what he had to say without making any promises. But the man shut up like a claim and would say nothing further except that there was a strong probability that the ship would be wrecked that night. Finally Captain Le Moyne gave in, wrote out a bond such as the man required, and he told his story.

The wall that in the stateroom next

Le Moyne gave in, wrote out a bond such as the main required, and be told lis story. He said that in the stateroom next to his he had heard two men talking. He could not hear all they said, but had heard enough to lead him to believe that they were emissaries of either the German or Austrian government, who had been sent to blow up the ship and send the cargo of arms and annipunition to the bottom. He had heard distinctly one of these men say to the other, "Very well, we'll do it tonight." The captain started to leave his cabin when his visitor took the key from the lock and held it in a tight grip while he added: "Remember your promise—if on examination you see anything that looks all hot him of the destruction you will not know it overboard, but place it when it can do no serious damage to the ship." "Why do you stipulate for that?" asked the captain.
"Because I do not wish to be responsible for property destroyed by mistake. I should never forgive dayself liable to damages that might take all I have."

This satisfied Le Moyne, who had no more relish for destroying harmless property than his informer.

The captain obtained a pass key and, accompanied only by the informer, went to the stateroom. There they found a box about the size of a sult case with a stiding cover, which was locked. Putting his ear down to the box, the captain funcied he heard a faint teking, but was not sure. His informant also listened and declared that he could hear nothing. But he was a trifle deaf, and could not hear a watch tick without putting it close to his ear.

s ear.
The captain was for heaving the box erboard at once, but the other deurred, reminding him of his promise.
Moyne averred that the lives of the ew and passengers were of more the than any promise, whereupon the value than any promise, which is defined and in the first place, capitaln, if you don't keep this matter a secret you'll have a panie aboard your ship; in the second place you can make all safe without the risk of laying you and maliable for damages in the destruction of what may be valuable property. All be found.

Nor was he or the box ever heard of. When the Arago reached port detectives who had been cabled from New York came aboard to arrest an absconding bank castifer who had taken a hundred thousand dollars of the bank's funds.

HEADING THE. L'MOR'AL DAY

By M. OUAD"

It was about a weak before Memo ratio Sparrow, a resident of the vil-lage of Okenios, entered the drug store in that burg looking as if he had something serious on his mind, and on being encouraged a little be said to the being encouraged a little be said to the druggist;

"Doe, don't say nothin' to a livin' soul, but the town of Okemos is to be jarred from center to circumference this evenin!"
"In what way?" was asked.
"Never you mind, but be at the post-office at 7 -o'clock. Meanwhile get ready to feel the earth tremble!"
"Is it dynamite, Horatio?" was gasped.

gasped.

"You be there and see!"

Horatio was a man that never got excited when he woke up in the morning and found a cow in his garden, and the druggist felt quite-sure he had something big on hand. He must have bold about fifty other people what he told him, for there was a big crowd at the postoffice of 7 o'clock in the evening, and all expected to hear big news, Deacon Holden took charge of things, as usual, and as the crowd got impatient he said:

"It is understood, feller citizens, that Horatio Sparrow is goin' to launch a thunderbot here tonight, and it is with more than ordinary interest that I call the meetin' do order. Stand out, Horatio, and let's hear all about it."

Horatio stood out. He looked pale, but determined. He'd been thinking for a week of what he was going to say, and he starred off as smooth as grease:

"The drums are beatin' a wild alarm."

Memorial day parado," replied the orator. "We hev never paraded and never decorated."
"By John, but that's a strong p'int", shouted the deacon. "Hang me if Horatio ain't knockin' things edgeways, No, sir; we've never had a parade nor decorated any graves, and we ought to be ashamed of ourselves. It is your suggestion that we celebrate the day, this year, Horaţio?"
"That's a p'int, deacon."
"And it's as strong as a log chain torder to make it a howlin' success I'll agree to take charge of the parade."
"B'ibu I object to that." said Horatio.
"Hevin' originated this idea, I thin it's fur me to ride on horseback at the head of the procession."
There was a painful pause, and then Ahner Jones, who was in freman's uniform, jumped off the counter and said:
"There' shouldn't be no jealousy about this thing. Horatio would look purty like on his spotted horse, and the discon would be no slouch in his cocked hat, but if there's to be any feelin' over it I'll take the job off their hands. As I'm foreman of the fire company, it comes in my line anyhow."
"I don't propore to give up my right for nobody," said Horatio.
"And I'm thinkin' I'm the man to boss things," added the deacon.
"I't appears to me," said Slias Lapham as he stood up and rubbed his hands together, "that we are not workin' in complete harmony in this mitter. It will be the event of the centry. Let us sacrifice any selfish interests as individuals and work to make the affair a general success."
"That's powerful good advice." said
"the deacon as be ranged on the store."

salas, "but beln' there seems to I controversy here I think it betre settled by selectin' me to boss thing "I'll never surrender my rights" Horatio Sparrow.
"Nor me" added Deacon Holden, "Nor me", yelled Abner Jones It was early the selection of the selection o

Nor me? 'yelled Abner Jones.

It was evident that the meeting was on the point of breaking up in a row when Joe Richard came sauntering in as entanty as could be. The deacon saw him and called out:

"Feller naretes."

bim and called out:

"Feller patriots, before this meetin' breaks up in a row that will send the price of Okemos real estate down 50 per cent and put our clvilizashun back fifty years let's hear what Joe Richard has to say about it."

"What's the question?" asked Jor.
"About Memorial day. Shall we decorate?"

"Decorate whit?"
"Why, the soldiers' graves."
"I don't see how you are gold to lit," said Joe as he scratched his e
"So fur as I kpow or fave bin able find out pobody from Okemos went war. It therefore follers that no ??
mos man was ever killed. It folle agin, that you might look the gra yard over far a mouth and not fine soldier's grave to decorate. Tensme that you liad better all yer gre frast."
"Two minutes later Joe was the on man loft is the pessione. It was he had said—there was nothing to d orate, and all the blowing had been i nothing.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

Sunday School, 9:30 a. m., Christian Endeavor, 6:00 p. m. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

Lutheran Church.

REV. G. C. SMITH, PASTOR, Sunday School, 9:30 a. m. Chief Service, 10:30 a. m. Young Peoples' Meeting, 6 p. m. Mid-week Prayer Service, Thursday, 7 p. m.

Everyone will find a cordial wel-ome at this church.

M. E. Churches.

BEV. C. F. MOTT, PASTOR 9:30 a, m. Sabbath School Morning Worship at 10:30 Evening Worship, at 7:00 6:00 p. m. Epworth League Prayermeeting Thursday evening

Choir practice Friday at 7 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend all services.

McKendree Church. Preaching, 8:30 a. m. Sunday School, 9:30 a. m.

Good Things to Observe.

When you can't get it, don't want

Save a little money and save a lot of worry.

Why should a town muzzle dogs and not knockers?

and not knockers?

Be a live one and the town will never be a dead one.

Be one of the leaders of the town, if you can; but, anyway, keep up.

The world owes every man a living, but the street corner is a poor collecting agency.

Many men prate of their sympathy for the under dog, forgetting that what he needs is help.

A town is like a girl. It's wonder-ful what a little fixing will do for her.

Don't look for soft snaps, the hard snaps are the ones that have the zinger in them.

When the other fellow is wrong, you how!; and when you are wrong, you shut up like a clam.

The only good thing about the war, is the fact that it is on the other side of the Atlantic

A Cough Remedy That Relieves.

It's prepared from the healing pine balsam, Tar and Honey—all mixed in a pleasant, soothing Cough Syrup called Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey. Thousands have benefited by its use—no need of your enduring that annoying cough or risking a dangerous cold. Go to your dealer, ask for a 25c original bottle Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey, start using at once and get rid of your cough and cold.

Legal Notice.

Notice is hereby given that Clemen
L. Backensto of Shiloh, Richlan County, Ohio, has been duly appointe and qualified as Executor of the Ias will and testament of Henry Backen sto, late of Shiloh, Richland county Ohio. deceased.

DAVID W. CUMMINS, Probate Judge of Richland County, O. June 17th, 1915.

Legal Notice.

Notice is hereby given, that F. D. Gunsaulius, of Plymouth, Ohio, has been duly appointed and qualified as Executor of the last, will and testament of Mary Elizabeth Fenner, late of Plymouth, Richland County, Ohio, deceased. David W. Cusmins, Probate Judge of Richland County, Ohio, June 28, 1915.

Legal Notice.

Estate of Daniel Wyandt. Decea Estate of Daniel Wyandt. Deceased.
Notice is hereby given that Lucila
Wilson has been appointed and qualified as Administrativ, of the estate of Daniel Wyandt, late of Huron County, Ohlo, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate will present them, duly authenticated, to said Administrativa E. Bowley.
Norwalk, Ohlo, June 28th, 1915.

Taxes.

I am now taking taxes for June in stallment in Plymouth township an Plymouth village. Expect to have the books for the usual time, or un til the close of the time allowed by the Tressurer. E. K. TRAUGER is a natural beautifier. It adds to the beauty of cottage or mansion.

DR. KING'S

Hanna's Green Seal Pain

is prepared paint, made according to a scientific formulathe result of years of investigation and test. It is the BEST. "Made-to-wear".

Forty-nine colors.

Sold by

Nimmons & Nimmons

MPRESS on the young man who is burning the candle at both ends and who is mending his big salary as fast as he makes it the VALUE OF A PANK ACCOUNT. Start him on the RIGHT ROAD today. If he is not hopelers he at once will see the error of his ways. The opening of a half account has put a stop to many a youth's wild desire to be a HIGH F. IFR.

THE PEOPLES NATIONAL BANK

