MRS. B. F. LAUCK.

Summoned to Her Howard by the Reaper Death.

It was with hearts filled with sadness when at a late hour Wednesday evening the death of Mrs. B. F. Lauck, 241 East Charles street, was announced. Mrs. Lauck had been a patient and indulgent sufferer for a long period of time with a complication of diseases, incidental to one of her years, and at 10 o'clock, she wrapped the drapery of her couch about her and rests in pleasant dreams.

The funeral services will be held at the home Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, her residence, Rev. C. W. Smith, of the First M. E. church, assisted by a former pastor, Rev. Daston Kemble of Lisbon, Ohio, officiating. Interment in Oakwood cemetery.

Laura Etta Bodine was a daughter of Peter and Susan E. Ervin Bodine and was born in Wayne county, N. Y., Feb. 1, 1858, and had attained the age of 77 years, 10 months and 21 days. At the age of 2 years she came with her parents to Plymouth, Richland county, Ohio, where on Nov. 21, 1860 she was united in marriage to Benjamin F. Lauck, an infant that same year they were their residence in Bucyrus, which city remained her home. To this union three children were born, and of these, James L. Lauck, who was a merchant in Mansfield, preceded the mother in death, his demise occurring in 1908. The surviving children are Mrs. Anna L. Franey and Frank B. Lauck of Bucyrus. There is also one grandchild, Miss Marion Alice Franey of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. D. R. Locke, of Toledo, and Mrs. Martina Parks of Bucyrus. To the husband, the children, the sisters and grandchildren the sympathy of all is extended in this sad hour of their bereavement.

Mrs. Lauck was a womanly woman, a friend to the needy and distressed, and a great home body. She ever had as the uppermost thought in her mind the welfare of her home and children and so lived that she numbered her friends by the scores and their hearts are saddened because of her demise. Her husband and noble woman has been called to her reward, a home eternal in the promised land, and she awaits the coming of those who are left behind when the family circle will again be reunited there to dwell forever and aye. She lived a true life and in no way rest with him, and with all things well.—Bucyrus Forum.

MRS. GERENA KIRKPATRICK

Died Suddenly Christmas Day at the Home of Her Son.

Mrs. Gerena Kirkpatrick, wife of Daniel Kirkpatrick, of 45 West 22nd street, died at the home of her son, John B. Kirkpatrick, December 26, at 4:15 p. m., having just arrived there to attend Christmas dinner.

Upon entering the house and having been seated she presented her grandchildren Christmas presents and wished all a Merry Christmas. She then removed her wraps and soon after was stricken with apoplexy, from which she never regained consciousness. Her death was very sudden and she leaves a host of friends to mourn her departure.

Funeral services were held at the home of B. Kirkpatrick, 26 West Main street, Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, and was conducted by Rev. C. Wendling Hastings, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Interment in the Plymouth cemetery.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick formerly was Miss Gerena Burrill. She was born at Canal Dover, Ohio, September 21, 1846 and was 70 years, 8 months and four days old at the time of her death. She was united in marriage to Daniel Kirkpatrick at Butler, Ind., February 10, 1869. For many years the family lived on a farm in Plymouth township, and she resided with her death. She is survived by her husband and three sons. They are Harry C. Kirkpatrick at Columbus, Ohio; John B. Kirkpatrick of Shelby, and Clarence Kirkpatrick, of Los Angeles, Cal. She also leaves three brothers and two sisters residing in Indiana, besides several grandchildren and a number of other relatives.

In early life Mrs. Kirkpatrick united with the Methodist Episcopal church and after coming to Shelby united with the Presbyterian church. She was highly respected and well-remembered by all who were personally acquainted with her, and will be missed greatly in the community.—Shelby Globe.

Methodist Notes.

The church led your ancestors out of bondage. Do you owe her anything for that?

A meeting of the official board will be held Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the parsonage.

The calling of the roll of members of the church was the unique feature of the service last Sunday morning, the Epworth League will hold the New Year's Eve Watch-Night Social at the parsonage this (Friday) evening, Jan. 2.

The Junior League will meet this Friday afternoon at three o'clock. The teacher-training class continues each Thursday evening. The lesson for Jan. 6 is Chapter 7.

The regular communion service will be held Sunday morning. Opportunity will be given on this first Sunday of the New Year for any one to unite with the church either by letter or probation.

When Justice Sleeps.

The third drama in a series of twelve on vital questions of life featuring Ruth Roland and Henry King, in three parts, with one scene and a comic will be the special feature at the Deister Theatre, Sunday evening, Jan. 2.

"A young man with a future meets a young girl blessed with straight features and an enormous appetite for the good things of life. They get married and are one of the 'few' couples in this world who do not 'live happily ever after'."

He tries to keep her love, and she to wreck his credit. He can't keep her love without losing his honor, so he chooses to lose his honor—even as you and I. He 'borrows' a large sum of money to give her a holiday. When he is cashier, risks it on a long shot in a horse race—and wins. He then plays the stock market, and his big gain is lost. His creditors are coming in the morning, and the borrowed money must be returned to the locked vault before daylight.

His wife has a friend who was once a 'what' but has since beaten his way back to decency. They play him and win again. But the brother does not win. He kills a man to save his sister's and her husband's name, and becomes a fugitive from justice. Forged by the vigilance of the law, he is driven to a life of crime by living by night in the easiest way. But he finally gets him. His obvious guilt is undeniable.

Compromised Justice. Blind with Law. Sees the Crime but not the Cause. His dream of honor finds its fulfillment in a criminal's cell. The other two are left to the more explicit texture of their acting-conscience."

For Wednesday evening, Jan. 5, "The Closing Net," in 5 acts, by Henry C. Brown, a most successful story first appearing in serial form in the Saturday Evening Post. Featuring Howard Estabrook, Bessie Milford and Kathryn Browne-Decker will be shown.

Six States Ready for the Water Wagon.

Six western states will climb onto the water wagon January 1. The six states voted dry by a legislative action were Colorado, Iowa, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Arkansas.

With Carolina, which also becomes dry January 1, and Virginia, prohibitionist, after the first, nineteen states in the Union will be in the dry column.

Nebraska, Michigan, California, Vermont and the Territory of Alaska, will all vote on statewide prohibition next year. These states have already expressed their intention of voting on the question and several other states are also expected to do so. The dry ranks now total 8,254,000 according to the last census.

To Cure Children's Colds.

Keep child dry, clothe comfortably, avoid exposure and give Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It is pleasant, soothing, antiseptic, raises the temperature and relieves inflammation. The first dose gives relief, continued treatment with proper care will avoid serious illness or a long cold.

Don't let your child suffer. Get a bottle today. Insist on Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. 25c at druggists.

DARWIN VAN WAGNER

Died This Morning at the Home of His Son on Mack Avenue.

Darwin VanWagner, a pioneer resident of Richland county, died Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock, of heart failure at the home of his son, Harlow VanWagner, 26 Mack avenue. Two weeks ago he suffered a severe hemorrhage of the nose and by the loss of considerable blood, he was left in a weak condition. A severe cold developed, from which he seemed to have recovered. He has been suffering with heart disease for some time.

The funeral was held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the home and was conducted by Rev. C. W. Hastings, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Interment was made in the Gibson cemetery, northwest of Shelby.

Darwin VanWagner was born in Plymouth township, June 22, 1831, and was aged 84 years, 6 months and 5 days, at the time of his death. All of his life was spent on the farm in Plymouth township, with the exception of the last two years, which was spent at the home of his son in Shelby.

Mr. VanWagner was a very prosperous farmer and was well known throughout the community where he resided. His wife died nine years ago. He is survived by five children, two sons and three daughters. They are: Wm. C. VanWagner of Chicago, Ill.; Harlow VanWagner of Shelby; Mrs. Bert Crumpler of the township; Mrs. A. T. Morrow and Mrs. Wm. McKeel, of Auburn township, Crawford county. He also leaves a host of other relatives and friends to mourn his death.—Shelby Globe.

List of Words for Spelling Bee Here.

The official list of words for contestants in the Ohio state spelling contest to be held in Columbus on Friday, June 2, have been received by County Superintendent E. W. Bell. He was allotted a large number of the sheets which contain 7,000 words.

These lists will be distributed in the rural schools of Richland county in order that the pupils may be preparing for the big "spelling bee" in June. The date of the county contest has not been fixed, but there will be a representative from each rural school in the county.

The spelling list is more difficult this year because of the European and Mexican trouble. It means the introduction of several unpronounceable and almost unspellable words.

For Rheumatism.

As soon as an attack of rheumatism begins apply Sloan's Liniment. Don't waste time and suffer unnecessary agony. A few drops of Sloan's Liniment on the affected parts is all you need. The pain goes at once.

A grateful sufferer writes: "I was suffering for three weeks with chronic rheumatism and stiff neck, although I tried many remedies they failed, and I was under the care of a doctor. Fortunately I heard of Sloan's Liniment and after using it three or four days an up and well I am employed at the biggest department store in S. F., where they employ six to eight hundred hands, and they surely will hear all about Sloan's Liniment.—H. B. Smith, San Francisco, Calif., Jan., 1915. At all druggists."

A REFLECTING LANTERN.

The reflecting lantern is more useful in its operation than a magic-lantern because instead of projecting through transparent slides it reflects opaque pictures placed within it.

You can construct a satisfactory lantern yourself. You must get a box about 10 by 17 by 20 inches in size, 2 oil-lamps, or two 16 or 32 candle-power electric lamps with the parts necessary for connecting them to the lighting circuit, two 1-lb. baking-powder cans and two tomato cans, two pieces of tin about 6 by 10 inches in size, and a double-conver lens about 3 inches in diameter. The lens from a lantern or bicycle lamp will do.

Figures 3 and 4 show the inside arrangement of the lantern box. Place the lamps in the corners of the box next to the front and tack in back of them the piece of tin for reflectors (A, Figs. 3 and 4). Bend the reflectors as shown in Fig. 5.

If oil-lamps are used, their tops will project through the ventilator holes as shown in Fig. 4. These openings must be inclosed with lead sheet, and yet allow the smoke to escape. The most satisfactory arrangement is that shown in Figs. 1 and 4. A baking-powder can with its bottom rim covered (B) is slipped over the lamp chimney and fitted into the chimney hole, then a tomato can (C) is inverted over the top of the can and fastened in the slotted ends of three wooden pegs (D, Fig. 2), and the pegs are fitted into holes made in the top of the box (Figs. 1 and 4). The lens is mounted in a baking-powder can jacket (Fig. 5). Remove the bottom of the can, and fit the lens is smaller in diameter than the can, make a band of cardboard  $\frac{1}{2}$  in. fit around the edge of the lens, as shown in Fig. 6, and glue these strips to the inside of the box and the cover boards with lamp-black thinned with turpentine, so there will be no reflections other than those produced by the lamp reflectors and the picture. In nailing the boards in place, leave an opening about 7 inches square directly opposite the lens. Cut a piece of board to fit this opening (E, Fig. 7) for a picture holder, and hinge it in place. A frame for postcards to slide in should be built, as shown in Fig. 8.

First nail strips 7 to 10 cent. in then nail strips G to them so their edges project over strip F.

MANAGEMENT OF SMALL APPLE ORCHARD

Heavy Load of Snow Apples in Michigan Orchard.

(By M. C. BURBETT, United States Department of Agriculture in Farmers' Bulletin 61.)

Throughout the humid regions of the United States there are large numbers of small apple orchards. In many sections there is scarcely a farm which has not its small home orchard. These orchards vary in size from a few trees to several acres. They were planted mainly for the purpose of having a home source of supply of this excellent and popular fruit. In most cases they were not intended as commercial plantings nor was the fruit grown for sale. They were planted in order to have apples to eat during the long winter evenings, to make the famous apple pies, and to lay in a stock of sweet cider and vinegar.

Farmers of earlier days knew little of scientific orchard management and cared less. It was sufficient for them to know that the trees lived, grew, and eventually bore fruit. Not being a source of income, the orchard was naturally left to take care of itself. As a result, where the conditions were favorable some very good trees were grown, but where they were unfavorable the trees became stunted, scrubby, diseased, and unproductive. As a rule set too thick, they grew up in the air, the lower limbs died or were pruned off to get them out of the way, and high-headed, almost unreachable trees were the result. The trees usually stood in sod, and in most of these orchards the hay was cut and removed or the grass pastured off. In many places the regular rotation of crops was followed in the orchard. Too often it was planted on the poorest soil, site able requires either a good demand in the local market or exceptionally good transportation to and demand in a more distant market. Much the same is true of odd or uncommon varieties.

Some of the characteristics which make a variety poor are unattractiveness in shape, size or color; inferior quality; lack of hardiness in tree or fruit, making them subject to disease; small production; and being comparatively unknown in the markets and therefore not in good demand. To make a variety worth renovating, then, it should be fair to good quality; attractive; a fair or better, prolific producer; a good keeper and shipper; and in good demand at good prices on the market. All these factors should be considered before renovation is attempted.

Unfavorable Conditions. An apple orchard set on a wet soil which cannot be readily drained is worthless. Trees set on poor soils require too much fertilization to get them in shape to allow of much profit. Trees growing on soils that are too dry or leachy are less amenable to renovation. In like manner orchards located in deep pockets, at elevations too low or too high, or sites too much exposed, or on slopes too warm or too cold will not pay returns on the money spent in renovating them equal to the returns from those better situated. The renovation of orchards at a considerable distance from the railroad, with poor highways and poor shipping facilities, and in isolated and inaccessible places will not prove as profitable as the renovation of orchards in better locations. In short, orchards in sites or locations which are naturally unfavorable to apple growing will be more expensive to renovate and less profitable in the long run. In fact, they may not give any profitable return because of these adverse conditions.

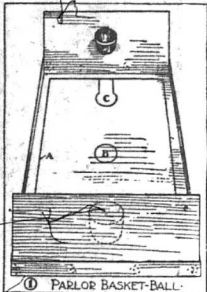

Four important steps must be taken in the improvement of the general farm orchard. These steps are practically the same as those which would be employed in the average orchard under normal conditions. With but little modification, the methods to be outlined may be continued after renovation. These are: (1) Pruning, (2) fertilization, (3) cultivation, and (4) spraying.

A general outline of work or a plan of campaign may be briefly summarized as follows:

- (1) If the orchard is and has been in sod for a number of years, plow in the fall about four inches deep. If not, plow either in late fall or early spring.
- (2) During the winter put on from 12 to 15 loads of barnyard manure per acre, or one load to from three to five trees. Another plan is to apply in the spring 100 to 244 pounds of nitrate of soda, 300 to 500 pounds of acid phosphate, and 150 to 300 pounds of sulphur or of sulphate of potash.
- (3) In the winter or in early spring before growth starts, cut out all dead and diseased wood from the tree, head back the branches, and thin the branches to admit sunlight.
- (4) Apply 1,500 to 2,000 pounds of lime per acre and work it and the manure or fertilizer into the soil thoroughly with a disk harrow or spring-tooth harrow. Keep up this cultivation until midsummer.
- (5) After cultivation ceases for the season, sow a cover or green-manure crop to plow under the following spring. Clover is one of the best leguminous crops in the North, while cowpeas are widely used in middle latitudes and in the South. For a non-leguminous crop rye is the most extensively used, though buckwheat is commonly used in some sections of the North.
- (6) Spray the trees in accordance with the directions given in government and state publications on this subject.

Cleanliness in Dairy Barn.

The milkster should remember always that he is handling a human food which is very easily contaminated. Soap, clean water and towels must be readily accessible in the dairy stable.

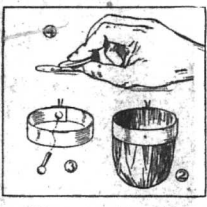

PARLOR BASKET BALL.

three inches away from each end boundary line (C). Connect the ends of the boundary line and the three-quarter circles with parallel lines drawn as shown.

If you own a game of Tiddledywinks the little bone "winks" and "snappers" are what you need with which to play this game of basket ball. They should be ten winks, five of each of two colors.

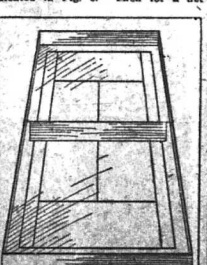

Parlor basket ball is for two persons, but four may play with two on a side. Starting the balls one at a time in the center of the field (B), and in turn, each player in her parlor basket ball game has for her object the flipping of her five balls into her basket, the basket having been chosen for the start. One flip consists of a turn whether it causes a ball to move or not. If a ball crosses the boundary line (out of bounds), the opposite player may flip it in the opposite direction to that which it is being played.

In addition to using her regular turn for advancing one of her own balls, if she fails to flip the ball from out of bounds, the other player receives two flips in her next turn. If a ball is flipped on to or touches a ball of the opposing player, the play constitutes a foul, and the opposing player has take any one of her balls, place it in the three-quarter circle (C) beneath her basket, and have a free flip for the basket. In addition to using her regular turn. The player getting her five balls into her basket first wins.

Parlor tennis is played with two "winks" from a game of Tiddledywinks or two cardboard disks.

Fig. 5 shows how the tennis court is constructed in the cover of a cardboard box. Rule off the lines of the court with ruler and pencil as indicated in Fig. 6. Then for a net and location on the farm, and received little or no care. Is it any wonder that these orchards have become unprofitable, not to say unsightly?

The old apple orchard, be it 20 acres or 200, may form an important source of income on the general farm. An effort should be made to make this unit a productive one and so to rejuvenate and care for these old trees that they will contribute as much as they are able to the net farm income.

Profitable Renovation.

It usually will not pay to renovate orchards composed largely of worthless or very poor varieties. Nothing is to be gained by increasing the yield or grade of a variety which cannot readily be sold in the open market at a good price. When trees of such varieties, however, are not too old—more than thirty years—and are in fairly good vigor, they often may be top-worked to advantage. The best method of doing this is by cleft-grafting in early spring. Under favorable conditions a tree may be changed from a poor variety to a desirable one and made to bear fruit in from three to five years.

There is some question as to whether it will pay to renovate summer apples in the northern states. To make renovation of these trees profit-

A bill will be introduced in the next legislature to reduce boards of election from four judges to two, and the county boards from four to two. This would reduce the cost of the pay of election officials just cited.

At the election next fall the electors will vote on officers all the way from president down to coroner. We will hold to elect a U. S. senator, governor and other state officers, probably some judges, and a bunch of county officials; all of them in fact.

Perhaps but few people are aware that unless Governor Frank B. Willis interferes every man in the state between the ages of 17 and 45 will be enrolled in the state militia next year, excepting policemen, firemen, men who have served five years in the army, navy or marine corps, and those who are physically and mentally unfit for military duty. Under the provisions of a law which became operative in 1911, such enrollment for military service is required to be made every fifth year, unless the governor of the state orders otherwise. The enrollment was not made in 1911 but military men are insisting that this reserve list should be prepared next year.

County Auditor C. E. Bloomer and a force of clerks have completed the abstract of the 1915 tax duplicate, which shows where the money now being collected and to be collected next June, will be distributed. The figures are based upon complete collection, which, of course never occurs, there always being a small percentage uncollected. The total amount of property returned for taxation was $22,654,386 of which $38,042,965 was real estate and $28,098,885 was personal property. In Plymouth the real estate valuation is $361,800; personal property, $217,410; to state, $285,641; county, $1,650; township, $1,308.22; corporation, $2,928.01; schools, $2,316.84.

A blanket indictment charging Congressman Buchanan, David L. Turner, congressman, Robert Fowler of Illinois, Frank S. Monnet, former attorney general of Ohio, and four others, with conspiracy, was returned by the federal grand jury in New York Tuesday, as a result of investigations into the alleged activities of the LaSalle national council. All are charged with conspiracy under the Sherman anti-trust law through endeavoring to incite labor trouble and interfere with commerce. It is charged that working through German agents, they sought to bring about unrest in factories manufacturing ammunition for the allies. The penalty for the offense is one year in prison, and $5,000 fine, or both.

The day after Christmas, how'd you like to get a notice to pay a $10 fine and costs because you nicked up a skunk pelt out of season? That's the present a Norwalk young man got this morning. A couple of months or so ago he was out on a hunt for skunks—a lady and young man friend were returning from Bellevue, bowling along at a good pace in their auto, when suddenly they hit and killed a skunk; it was perfectly evident. They stopped the car and picked up the carcass, as any one would have done and brought it home. They skinned it and one of them hung up the pelt to dry—a valuable piece of fur. What was his surprise therefore to have a deputy game warden call on him and notify him he would have to pay a fine and costs for having a skunk pelt in his possession out of season. It is one of the fine kinks of the law.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because it's for One Thing Only, and Plymouth People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only. For weak or disordered kidneys. Here is reliable evidence of their worth.

C. E. Bricker, 133 E. Main St., Shelby, Ohio, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to give me relief from backache and other kidney disorders, and I won't do without them. Whenever I feel the slightest pain in my back or the kidney secretions become disordered, I take a few Doan's Kidney Pills. I am only too pleased to tell of my experience."

Get Doan's at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Bricker had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Happy New Year!
 Start the new year right.
 Today you can write it 1-16.
 Going to watch the old year out?
 The show windows have lost their Christmas charm.
 This is the night of the big K. of P. reception and ball.
 Christmas was white on either end and green in the middle.
 A fire was found Friday morning, awaiting to warmer at this time.
 Did you get what you wanted?
 Did it amount what you got?
 Keep the snow off your walks and the snow to off your business.
 Today is it. It's another whole year before we have another Christmas.
 Why Henry is back, but the snow is sticking to the trenches.
 You got some exhilarating excitement in the snow shovel this week.
 Did you bump up against Tom and his Christmas? Or did they bump you?
 The holidays are now over but the clearance sales are just beginning to bloom.
 What if you got a snow shovel for Christmas? It came in handy Tuesday morning.
 The friendliness of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Doyle, Wednesday evening, Jan. 5.
 The snow of Tuesday morning and the early interurban cars to the delight of our schedulers.
 Did you get your supply of calendars?
 The business houses have certainly been handing out some dandy ones.
 Mrs. Dove has sold his Hill farm of 24 acres in Ripley township to Tom parties, the consideration being $19,800.
 Next extend to each and everyone the usual season's greetings, and hope the New Year will bring you added joys and prosperity.
 Monday the kids will all be back to school again, and too with the expectation of putting in some good solid work for the next few months.
 Found—On the streets Sunday morning, gent's tan glove. Loefer can have same by calling at this office and paying for this notice.
 Word was received here Thursday morning that Mrs. Jos. Gleason, a highly respected lady of Ripley township, had passed away at her home Wednesday evening.
 Lost—The first of the week, two rubber tires, for which the finder will be liberally rewarded if they will confer with the Spencer-Hull Furniture Co., Chicago Junction.
 Dr. R. C. Erley will be here Monday, Jan. 3, to examine eyes and fit glasses. Can be found at his father's place of business all day; but all calls should be made as early as convenient.
 That corn can produce something like the best whiskey is evidenced from the fact of the charges brought by Riddle, the deposit conductor of the boys' town, against the newly appointed in-

Plymouth will usher in the New Year with a new set of officials.
 Let's make 1918 the banner year for Plymouth. We can if we all put together.
 Woodmen attention—Installation of officers next Thursday, Jan. 6. Refreshments will be served.
 A recent real estate transfer: From the State Bank to Mary Frances Drew, lot, Plymouth, St. 1.
 The W. H. & F. M. Society of the Lutheran church will meet in the church parlor, Friday, Jan. 7.
 The J. D. Fate Co.'s plant is closed down in several departments this week, taking their inventory.
 The snow and sleet of Wednesday morning certainly made it tough sledding for the steam and interurban railroads.
 Found—Ladies' pin, set in brilliant stones, has been lost by calling at this office, describing property and paying for this notice.
 The Harry Shannon Steak Co., in new plans and vanguard, at the Temple Theatre, Chicago Junction, for the coming year.
 Mrs. Mary Ames is arranging for the erection of a new residence to the west of her present home on Broadway. How many others will do likewise in 1918?
 The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. Dan'l Beaman on High street, Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 5, beginning at 2 o'clock.
 Through the J. C. Lacer real estate agency of Shelby, the property corner Broadway and Park ave., known as the Beckman place, was sold to Oscar Tyson Tuesday.
 Everybody had a job Tuesday morning shoveling snow which fell to a depth of about four inches during the night, by all odds the heaviest fall so far this season.
 A good many missed a warm Christmas dinner on account of the S. N. & M. electric being out of juice from early in the forenoon until near 4 o'clock p. m. Christmas day.
 Mrs. Geo. Sinsler has in another new assortment of hood and scarf sets, the latest in hockey sets, and a new line of embroidery goods, also, you can have your choice of any velvet hat at $1.50.
 The Lorain board of education has adopted a rule limiting the cost of dresses for girl graduates to $12. "This will stop the idea of being with one another for the honors in dress rather than intelligence," said one member who has seven children in school.
 Plymouth, if all reports are true, will have another industry established in her midst, gentlemen having been here, and about closed a deal for a building in which to manufacture and reassemble Come right along gentlemen. We need you and the mattresses likewise.
 Another Adams, Hough and Howard success is coming to the Masonic Temple Theatre, Tuesday, Jan. 8, is the romantic musical spectacle, "The Prince of Tonight." The scenes are set at Palm Beach, Fla., and Woodford Forest in the land of the woods. A special carload of tickets is carried by this company.
 The Tribune says the city weights and measures made 100 tests in the past eighteen days and that a fair-sized junk result. The proportion of defective weights was few but not all liquid measures. Out of 100 cart measures he found 16 in pints three good and 1,000

An opinion rendered by Attorney General Turner gives Richland county the right to use the one mill levy voted at the temple theatre for road work in 1916. While the $20,000 voted for road work for a period of five years, will not be in sight, the decision the attorney general allows the county to borrow a certain sum. This sum, with interest, must be paid back by the end of the five years.
 On Friday, Dec. 24, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mills, of New Haven, Mr. Norman Underwood and Mrs. Marjorie Mills, of Cleveland, (formerly of New Haven) were united in the holy bonds of wedlock. Both are excellent young people and enjoy a large circle of friends and relatives in this vicinity, all of whom join in wishing them years of happiness. They will make their future home in Cleveland.
 The Christmas entertainment given by the members of the Lutheran Sabbath School at the church Friday evening, was one of unusual merit and delighted old and young alike. Beside the usual customary exercises by the smaller members of the school, a dramatic presentation in oriental costume of "The Coming of the King," in three scenes, was given and most creditably enacted, highly pleasing all who attended the exercises.
 Part of the country is in the clutches of the grip. It seems to be raging in all the territory between the Upper Mississippi and New York. In Chicago 17,000 school children were ill with it last week. In Philadelphia within a few days, thirty persons are reported either from that cause or pneumonia, of which it is often the advance agent. In Cleveland it cast a blight upon some Christmas celebrations and it is responsible for many vacant places in office, store and workshop.
 Miss Lura Dell Youngs, the attractive and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. N. Youngs of New Haven, and Corwin Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hoffman of Boughtonville, were united in marriage last week Friday afternoon by the Rev. Johnston, pastor of the Norwalk Disciple church, at his home on Benedict avenue. They were unattended. The young people have a large circle of friends, all of whom extend hearty congratulations.
 They must have shipped the winter weather by the wrong route as it arrived a few days late for a Christmas present. Genuine winter wear with about six inches of snow now covers the ground. Late Monday afternoon the snowflakes began to fall. Although very wet and melting almost when they touched the ground, the snow soon became heavy enough to be covered the ground to a depth of six inches, making sleighing passably good. The wet snow cling to the branches of trees and bushes and they present a beautiful and unusual sight.

THE AMBLER TRADE BOARD PLANS INDUSTRIAL BOOM.

Small Pennsylvania Town Has Campaign For Community Betterment.

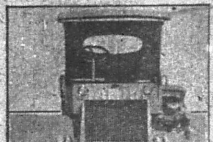

The borough of Ambler, Pa., will witness a distinct boom if the plans of the recently formed Ambler board of trade are carried to completion. Backed by more than fifty of the town's most active business and professional men, residents say there is every reason to believe the new organization will not file so many similar ones in the smaller boroughs, but strive for a time and then quietly die.

Comprehensive plans have been outlined by the board of trade for community betterment and advancement. Movements to be developed immediately include the erection of booster signs for Ambler at the approaches to the borough. Also there will be designating signs on borough highways, as well as the obtaining of additional industries, at least two of which now are being considered.

Howard Dwyer, president of the Ambler board of trade, had this to say concerning the recently inaugurated movement: "Ambler business men have organized for the purpose of fostering, encouraging and developing the mercantile and manufacturing interests of the borough, for the purpose of promoting the workings of all transportation lines operating in and through the borough and for the remedying of defects and abuses of transportation methods, telephone and telegraph facilities, gas and electric lighting and all other public service corporations operating in the town, and to promote integrity, fair dealing and good faith among our business people and their patrons.

"It is our intention, further, to obtain as many local conventions as possible. And, while Ambler has been on the map for a good many years as a leading industrial and manufacturing community in the district immediately north of Philadelphia, we are going to 'make that map dot much larger.' We hope to accomplish this end largely by co-operating and urging the improvement of all county, state and township roads leading into the borough, to the end that motorists will appreciate our efforts. Summarized, the work of the Ambler board of trade will be most absolutely constructive, the betterment of moral, social, commercial, civil and industrial conditions in Ambler. We are at this time negotiating with one manufacturing plant desirous of locating a branch here."

Modern Street Cleaning Appliances. The illustrations show a tractor and trailer such as are used by the department of street cleaning of New York city. These tractors and trailers are of ten-ton capacity and are so constructed that a trailer carrying garbage and ash cans may be hooked to the tractor, or the tractor may be used supplying locomotive power to a sweeper er trailer or a flusher trailer or a saw-blade trailer. Twelve of these machines are part of the equipment installed in the model district in New York city. This district was established in response to the suggestion of Street Commissioner Fothergill that one of the districts of the city be selected in which modern appliances and apparatus should be used.

Slow Burning Moving Picture Films. An important activity of the New York bureau of fire prevention has been the attention given to the subject of moving picture films. Recognizing the danger to the public from the use of the nitrocellulose film, the New York fire department has endeavored to encourage the manufacture and general use of films made of safe substances. A number of experiments have been conducted, and the department has made, for its special use in educational presentations, a series of films on slow burning material, which so far have proved satisfactory.

GARDEN CITY MOVEMENT IN THE UNITED STATES.

The Idea Should Receive Greater Industrial Encouragement.

The time has never been more opportune than the present for American manufacturers to give serious thought to the advancement of the garden city movement, according to W. J. Home.

"The object in our minds," he says, "is to build up all nations into a happy, contented and healthy life, but we have not yet reached our limit. We can no longer, excuse ourselves for past errors in town planning or the theory that this is a young country. New towns are being laid out today with the same pitiful lack of imagination as heretofore, paralleled streets giving the aspect of a great city checkerboard, with no civic center, no playgrounds, and no building law."

The garden cities that are destined to bloom in America and that are to be the result of movement nurtured by American industrial legislation should be lacking in no respect and should be equal, if not superior, to any like developments anywhere in the world.

The garden city and town planning movement has reached the highest point of effectiveness in England. The model villages of Letchworth, Port Sunlight and Bourneville, which provide homes, real homes, for working people, are artistic creations of the highest order of splendid imagination and sympathetic understanding.

TREES FOR CITY PLANTING.

Elm Has Been a Failure in New England.

The love and veneration of the New England mind for the elm is so great that it is hard to acknowledge that the tree has been a total failure in city planting, says the Boston Transcript. As a matter of fact, the liability of the elms and maples to insect attacks, their brittleness in storms, the maples and the sensitiveness of both trees to dust and gas conditions unfit them for the test of a strong elm. One of the most common tree diseases, chestnut blight, which is a sure sign of decay, was first seen in the Elmwood section, in the parkway near the Forest Hills section, in the Rock Bay Pines, in Brookline and elsewhere, and it is a joy to the eye and a solid assurance of arboreal beauty in the future. Not only do these young elms withstand the storms and the insect pests, but they appear with their natural dust, to gases, to excretion and to all the city conditions which prove so disastrous to the elms and American maples. Our young elms should indicate themselves through every test of storm and insect plague to be the best trees for city planting. It is certainly a sad thing to find favored trees as a single elm or sugar maple, for no trees are more deeply loved by our people or with better reason in long association and the record of noble sheltering service, but it is apparently a farewell which is ordained by the powers of nature.

Hygiene and Schools.

Don't let the wisdom of closing schools during epidemics of contagious diseases be expressed by Dr. Francis George Curtis of Newton, Mass., in a bulletin on the "Hygiene of School Children," which has been issued by the United States bureau of education. Dr. Curtis says: "If the schools are closed when an outbreak occurs the children are turned loose from supervision. They mingle freely with one another in the streets, on playgrounds and in one another's homes. They are having an extra vacation and enjoying themselves thoroughly and are unwilling to admit that they feel ill, but they are kept at home and prevented from having a good time. For this reason they will not say they feel ill until the disease has advanced to such a stage that they are active sources of infection for some time before it is discovered that they are ill.

"If the schools are kept open and the children continue in the classrooms as usual, they are under strict observation and examined daily by the school physician, and all suspected cases being sent home for observation or treatment."

New Idea For Playgrounds.

On the 12th inst. a system of playground government that might well be adopted in many cities of the country. According to an announcement made by the Orleans branch of commerce and Commercial City Const. of the children of the Public Vista playground in Oakland are put under the management of a committee of boys. This committee is called "Little Citizens' committee" and consists of ten youngsters from different neighborhoods near the playground. The committee has the rules and regulations governing the playground, and if a member of the committee observes a violation of the rules he reports the offender to his brother committee member and a trial takes place. The work of the committee has been done very well by the boys. The committee members are in the service it proposes to be the system will be recommended for adoption at all thirteen playgrounds in Oakland.

ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Hon. Elihu Root On Woman's Sphere

"The question of woman suffrage is an issue before the American people. It is an issue which should be open to all men and it is an issue which should be open to all women. It is an issue which should be open to all men and it is an issue which should be open to all women. It is an issue which should be open to all men and it is an issue which should be open to all women."

"I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to woman, because I believe that it would be a loss to woman, to all women and in every woman, and to all men and in every man. It would be an injury to the state, and to every man and every woman in the state. It would be a loss to woman, to all women and in every woman, and to all men and in every man. It would be an injury to the state, and to every man and every woman in the state."

Attest: W. A. Jeffrey, Clerk of the Village of Plymouth, Ohio. Approved Dec. 21, 1915. GEO. H. SAHREN, Mayor and President of the Village of Plymouth, Ohio.

Why Best for Babies?

"Grassy" Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is best for babies. Well, there are several reasons: First, it is perfectly harmless and can be given with every confidence to the youngest or most delicate child. Secondly, it contains no alcohol, opium, chloroform, morphine or any other narcotic. Thirdly, Children like it, and no persuasion is needed to get them to take it. For the above reasons alone it is impossible to get a better medicine for babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

But aside from its safety it relieves coughs and colds, is the best remedy known for croup, and when given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will even prevent the attack.

Older But Stronger

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty. Is sound wisdom, because in the process of middle age the human body is subject to neglected colds, or chronic tractment of slight aches and pains, simply because they are not being cared for. To be stronger when older, keep your blood pure and your system healthy by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It is the only medicine that will strengthen the system and build up the body. It is the only medicine that will give you a good appetite and a good sleep. It is the only medicine that will give you a good complexion and a good complexion. It is the only medicine that will give you a good complexion and a good complexion.
