

Obituary.
Dr. Isaac A. Ruby was born near Denton, Holmes Co., Nov. 8, 1849, and departed this life Jan. 1, 1916, aged 66 years, 1 month and 23 days. His father passing away in his young manhood, Dr. Ruby was early left to his own resources. He was a most successful school teacher and choral director for a number of years which work he followed ever after his marriage.

He engaged in farming at North Liberty, this state, until he decided to pursue a course of instruction in the Ontario Veterinary College, from which he graduated with great credit. He was a man of high ambition, and took thorough in his undertakings. This characterized him in all his work, and those whom he served could always feel that he was exceptionally endeavored to do his best. He doubtless often was more attentive to the interests of others than to his own. His record as a practitioner is a credit to the profession. He was never false to any professional trust. For a number of years he was located at Bay View, Ohio, where he came to Plymouth where he continued his professional labors to the end of his life. He was a member of the Ohio State Veterinary Association and of the Lake Erie Veterinary Association the latter of which is represented here today, and members of which will carry him to his last resting place.

Dr. Ruby was married Dec. 28, 1871 to Miss Catherine Stahl. They were blessed with four children, two sons and two daughters. One son passed away in infancy. He is survived by his two daughters, Mrs. Dr. S. S. Kauffman of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Adeline Maurer of Plymouth, and his son Dr. Clarence Ruby of Toledo, and by his wife. He is also survived by three sisters and one brother. To mention he was a father until his death about five years ago.

In his family relations Dr. Ruby was a true husband and devoted father, and all in turn were devoted to him.
He has been a member of the Lutheran church for about 43 years and for the most part been actively identified with her interests. He has served as Sunday School superintendent, Lutheran layman, and has had office in the church for a goodly number of years, and has naturally been among the leaders of the work.

It is perhaps needless to say that he was a man of high ideals, of lofty aspirations, and stood for the best things in his country and in his life. He was a man of genial disposition and delightful to approach. He had the natural talent, was an extensive reader and was fitted in many respects to be not only a good and thorough professional, but could converse intelligently and elegantly upon a wide variety of subjects. For a number of years Dr. Ruby has not been well, but for some years in months has failed more and more until on the morning of the 29th of December he was unable to rise from his bed. His final moments were peaceful and he entered his life's work ended.

His Life Work Ended.
Edward A. Chappell died January 8, 1916, having attained the age of 88 years, 2 months and 6 days. He was the son of Thomas and Louisa Chappell, the eldest of eight children, all of whom are living. He was born in Clarkston, Mich., Oct. 17th, 1827, where he lived until five years of age, when his family moved to Milford, Mich.

He was married to Zada A. Russell Oct. 12th, 1869. To them were born three children, Neva A. Chappell, Herbert E. Chappell and Russell T. Chappell, all of whom are living. In 1884 Mr. Chappell brought his family to Plymouth, O., and established himself in the laundry business, and by his attention to his work succeeded in building up a large and ever increasing business, and was one of our most honored and respected citizens of Greenup, the silent city of the dead.

Jacob Adams Dies.
In our hurry of last week we overlooked mentioning the fact of the death of Jacob Adams, well known in this place, and herewith present the facts as taken from the Chicago Junction Times in its issue of December 31:
"Jacob Adams, well known resident of Chicago Junction for a number of years was stricken with paralysis while on the streets of Marion last Friday. He was taken care of by policemen who finding no money on his person had him sent to the county infirmary."
A small book that he carried with him told the officials to notify C. J. Spencer of Chicago Junction, in case anything should happen him.
Mr. Spencer was notified by telephone and went immediately to his bedside. His condition was found to be serious but he begged Mr. Spencer to take him to Chicago Junction, saying he would rather go, then if he should die there. They started in the afternoon, and arrived late Friday night at Spencer's home. He was tenderly cared for, but the spark of life was too nearly burned out for him to revive, and at 3 o'clock Saturday morning, he passed away.
Funeral services were held at Shiloh cemetery by Rev. J. B. Funnell, and interment was made by the side of his wife, who died about a year ago."

At a recent meeting of the Sunday School board the teachers and officers were elected for the new year. The teachers and officers have been exceedingly faithful during the past twelve months. The Friendship class of young women, is alive and pushing for a better and bigger Sunday School.
A goodly number attended the Epworth League meeting last Sunday evening. Six of our Leaguers are now college students. These with two visitors, all home on Christmas vacations added interest to the meeting. The Morning Watch was the very appropriate subject considered.

"The Love Liar."
Fourth drama in a series of two or three vital questions of life, featuring Ruth Rowland and Henry King, in three parts.
The theme being the tale of a woman who rushed in where love had feared to tread, and of a gentle invader who would not be wanted. Also of a young man whose speed was greater than his control, and how it lost him the same.

The story began with the proverbial silver spoon in her mouth, reared in the even more proverbial lap of luxury, the lady didn't know what it meant to make a man meet. Her ends had always luxuriated overlapped. But in the time came when the lady had to choose to see whether she would be a woman of money with a rich invalid whose only knowledge of Youth was a distant memory. She was led to the altar by the man who would not be wanted. It is at this point that "The Love Liar" makes its greatest appeal, for the man who would not be wanted, in the place of the usual lollipop romanticism. It is just this reverse twist in the most loved of the dramas that makes the "Love Liar" series the most talked of pictures from the Maine Coast to the Golden Gate.

FERTILIZER SITUATION.
Statement of the Secretary of Agriculture Regarding the Supply of Potash, Phosphatic and Nitrogen.
The secretary of agriculture recently made the following statement regarding the fertilizer situation: American farmers are confronted by a serious situation in reference to fertilizer materials. As a result of the embargo placed by the German government on the exportation of potash, the supply of this substance has been seriously cut off. Under normal conditions sulphuric acid, which is required for making superphosphates, is sold for $5 or $6 a ton. The increased demand for it since the breaking out of the European war has caused the price to rise to about $25 a ton. It is impossible, therefore, for farmers to secure superphosphates at prices which they have been accustomed to pay. The nitrogen supply is not materially less than usual.
In 1913, when conditions were normal, about $125,200,000 worth of commercial fertilizers was used in this country. It is estimated that the farmers paid $48,820,000 for nitrogenous substances, $56,000,000 for phosphates, and $20,450,000 for potash. The fertilizers of this class were imported from Germany, and the entire quantity of nitrate of soda came from Chile. Ammonium sulphate to the value of $20,000,000 was received from abroad, mainly from England. The remainder of the fertilizer materials was derived from domestic sources.

Although the wind blew a gale and the rain came in torrents, twelve persons found their way to the pleasant home of Mrs. Susan Beelman, Wednesday, Jan. 5, 1916, at 2 p. m. The rain poured without but all within was sunshine. The meeting was opened by singing and scripture reading by Mrs. Margie Nixon. The present read several letters, some being delayed from last meeting on account of the death of Mrs. Daisy Walters, a member, whose funeral occurred Dec. 1, 1915, W. C. T. U. meeting date.

TAX COMMISSIONER
Affected by Legislative Abolishment of Office.
Friday marked the end of what has been known in all parts of the state as county tax commissioners' offices. The office of county tax commissioner was abolished in all sections of Ohio by a law enacted by the state legislature. One Keating has been the tax commissioner of Richland county and Arthur Beck his deputy. These two men will be elected by the law and will be out of office so far as the duties are concerned which have marked the abolished offices.
The duties of the tax commissioners' office were some time ago moved from the rear of the first floor of the court house to the office of the county auditor. The work hitherto performed by the abolished office will be carried on by the employees of the county auditing department.

A TALE OF TWO VILLAGES BY RANDALL PARTISAN OF ILLUS TRAITIONS BY C. DRHODES

CHAPTER XXVIII—Continued. "You might make the jump," I said, drawing a revolver from his belt, "but to my best judgment there is a hundred foot sheer drop right here, and it would damage you some to take it."

"I don't believe she is your wife," "Not after she gave you her word that she had married the man she loved."

CHAPTER XXIX. The trail to Covington. And now what? Kelly, and his followers, would not be gone long exploring the depths of the ravine.

I tossed the discarded revolver into the bushes, and struggled with the limp body until I was able to rise to my feet. My hand was still gripping the handle of the revolver.

CHAPTER XXX. The trail to Covington. And now what? Kelly, and his followers, would not be gone long exploring the depths of the ravine.

"No, Raymond," I said, "that trick doesn't work a second time. Stand up if you can cover the man with your fight, and you are going to have one."

"Not seriously," he uttered a bit— "Yes, he is here; there beside the tree. Tell me what has happened! What have you here? Why it is a man, a shrank back, 'is a dead man'!"

low to distinguish the features. Her lips gave a startled, half-suppressed cry. "Why it is Lieutenant Raymond! You—you fought together? How did you come here?"

"I think he suspected we might manage to escape from the church. He was more anxious to capture me than to fight a duel for a woman."

"Yes," breathlessly, "we saw them come across, just after the torches began to burn. He was the man who later another man rode along there."

"I've been over it enough," mumbled the man. "I saw the man who shot the woman."

"Go on," I said quietly, yet with a threat in my voice. "At least, to run or play any trick, and I drop you to your tracks."

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

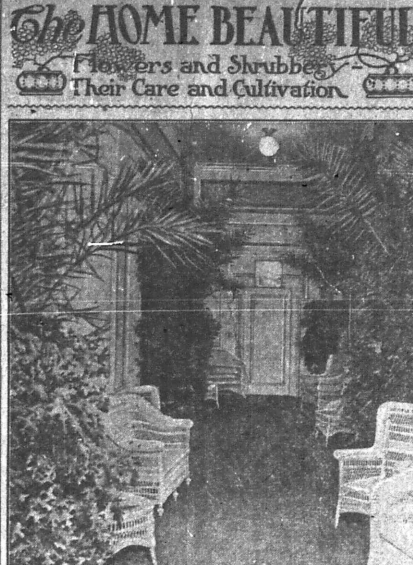

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clear-headed; to avoid the need to coat your tongue and stoken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or any acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your druggist or at the store. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish taste which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphate hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up. As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, softening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—Adv.

Ferns Make Attractive Winter Decorations.

BEST WAY TO WINTER GERANIUMS

By EBEN REXFORD.
The question is asked, "How can geraniums be wintered in the cellar?" in two ways: First, in pots. Second, by hanging them up by the heels, so to speak.

Neither way is absolutely sure to bring them through in good condition. But either way may prove successful, therefore it is advisable to try both if one has fine varieties he would like to save for next summer. If one fails the other may prove successful.

To winter them in pots the plants should be crowded into as small pots as will contain them, and then the tops should be cut away so that all that remains of the summer's growth is a few stubs at the base of the plant. Do not try to encourage any growth after potting. Set them away in a cool but frost-proof place and keep them there as long as it is safe to do so. Then put them in a cool cellar.

The soil in the pots should be quite dry when they go into cold storage, and it should be kept in that condition, as nearly as possible, all through the winter. No really dry, of course, but with only a hint of moisture in it—so little, indeed, that it would seem dry when compared with ordinary soils.

The aim is to keep the plants as nearly dormant as possible, and this cannot be done if they are moist at the roots. Heat also encourages growth, and the absence of it has a tendency to keep the plants at a standstill.

Treated as advised above, it is possible to bring geraniums through the winter in such a condition that they begin to grow as soon as brought to the light and warmth of the sitting-room after being watered.

The necessary conditions, you will observe, are dryness of soil and a low temperature.

It is less work to make the plants free from the soil they have grown in during the summer and simply hang up the mass of roots in the cellar. This should not be done immediately after lifting the plants, however.

This method makes it necessary for you to leave them in the ground as long as possible, well up to cold weather, in fact, for if they were to go into the cellar while the temperature was high, growth would be almost sure to begin.

Therefore the plants must be left in the ground and protected from frost until about the first of November, if possible. Then lift them on a warm

Not a Myth but an Actuality Shown in the Returns of Agricultural Statistics and Every Department of Trade and Commerce.

The trade revival in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta is an actuality and not a myth. There is today a spirit of optimism in the air just two years ago there prevailed the opposite spirit of pessimism.

A general trade revival has been felt in every department of business in the Prairie Provinces. The agriculturists are in better shape than they have ever been before in their lives.

Not a myth but an actuality shown in the returns of agricultural statistics and every department of trade and commerce.

It is the fact that the prosperity of the country has been reflected. Everywhere business is on the hustle. The wholesalers and the retailers and the implement dealers find business good.

The banks and other collection houses find collections satisfactory, and financial men declare that westerners are getting up their debts in big way.

The financial press along carefully as regards any creation of new debts. They are economizing but not scrimping, acting cautiously but not miserly.

The financial base of western Canada, the United States and of Europe no longer criticizing western Canada; rather they are unstintingly offering their praise and their compliments.

The financial press recognizes the tide has turned in western Canada, and it has been published to the world.

The condition of western Canada at the close of 1915 is one of optimistic prosperity, backed by the same determination of western people to go on increasing their productivity and maintaining the records which they have already established.

The trade revival of western Canada is the happiest feature in the business survey of the whole Dominion for 1915 and in the outlook for 1916.—Advertisement.

Protecting Bulbs

The bulb bed ought to be covered with six or eight inches of coarse manure. This will not keep the frost from penetrating the soil, where the bulbs are, but it will prevent the sun from thawing it out.

In other words, the soil once frozen will remain in that condition.

It is the alternation of freezing and thawing which does the damage, not the freezing, as many persons think. Alternations of these conditions rupture the tissue of the plants.

Let the ground become frozen, and stay so, and the bulbs will not be injured by heaving of the soil. If they freeze and thaw and freeze and thaw again, and this process is kept up, as it is likely to be in an unprotected bed, they are torn loose from their tender roots and great harm is done.

Leaves, if you can get enough of them, make an excellent covering for the bulbs.

Some Hardy Evergreens
In winter evergreen trees and shrubs give warmth, and color, to the garden, which cannot be obtained in any other way.

Some of the best are the growing laurels, but they grow rapidly, and soon create shelter and warmth, and the dark-green foliage tends to make a place cheerful.

These are harder than the common laurel, which suffers in very extreme climates.

The winnings of Western Canada at the Soil Products Exposition at Denver were easily made. The list comprised Wheat, Oats, Barley and Grasses, the most important being the prizes for Wheat and Oats and sweep stake on Alfalfa.

No less important than the splendid quality of Western Canada's wheat and other grains, is the excellence of the cattle feed and fattened on the grasses of that country. A recent shipment of cattle to Chicago topped the market in that city for quality and price.

Western Canada produced in 1915 one-third as much wheat as all of the United States, or over 300,000,000 bushels.

Canada in proportion to population has a greater exportable surplus of wheat this year than any country in the world, and at present prices you can figure out the revenue for the producer. People talk and know not whereof they speak. They retail slander to show how foul is the dish most palatable to them. Let us walk straight along. Let us each mind our own business and we will never be out of employment.

A singular coincidence in the Greenleaf-Aurand mayoralty contest at Bellefonte, Pa., took place in favor of the latter in Fremont when a recount of the ballots was made by Judges Garner, Young and Williams. Of the court of common pleas who were hearing the controversy, was the result of the recount. Three ballots cast for Dr. Aurand were thrown out. It is so hard to count. The vote was offset by two votes cast for Mr. Greenleaf that were also thrown out, leaving the majority as found by the official count by the county board of elections.

30,000 VOICES

And Many Are the Voices of Plymouth People.

Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And this is the number of American men and women, who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder troubles. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Plymouth people are in this chorus.

Here's a Plymouth case:

T. P. Neely, farmer, Park St., Plymouth, says: "I had a lame back and pains through my loins. My kidneys were weak and I had to get up five or six times at night on account of their acting too frequently. Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the kidney weakness and pains in my back."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for C. L. Doan's Kidney Pills—Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Neely had. Foster-McMillan Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Fortunately I heard of Sloan's Liniment and after using it three or four days an up and well. I am employed at the biggest department store in S. P., where they employ six to eight hundred hands, and they surely will hear all about Sloan's Liniment.—H. B. Smith, San Francisco, Calif., Jan., 1915. At all druggists.

Tips in Family Feeding.

There is no economy in feeding fowls one kind of grain for the purpose of saving time and money. They ought in order to get a sufficient quantity of food elements. A large part of this grain is water. A fact which shows the necessity of providing layers with an ample supply of pure clean water in fountains or dishes which are frequently disinfected. A sluggish hen is never a good layer. The flock should be made to exercise by scratching a whole and stacked grain, a dish filled with clean material and jangling for green food, such as a cabbage or a mangold.

UNIVERSAL SERVICE AND AN ARMY OF 3,000,000

This is What the United States Should Have in Withstand Any Invasion From Abroad, According to Gen. Scott

Washington, D. C.—Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, Monday told the house military affairs committee that the United States should have compulsory universal service for men between the ages of 18 and 21, an army of between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 and an inviolable force.

Replying to suggestions from members of the committee that no European nation could land an inviolable force on the United States without giving the country time to make ample preparations, Gen. Scott said...

Gen. Scott said, were based on the available shipping tonnage of the various nations as well as their military status.

Then you favor compulsory military service in the United States in time of peace, he was asked.

"Do you think the United States will ever have such an army as that?" asked Representative Anthony of Kansas.

"If we ever get into a war we will have to have them or expect disaster," said the veteran general.

Gen. Scott endorsed, but without great enthusiasm, the administration's proposal for a continental army.

Huffman. Many fine and useful presents were received, one coming from St. Louis, Mo. Candy and por-cains were served. The evening was made pleasant with music and games,
all present having a pleasant time.
It was a social gathering long to be remembered.

The Boys' Class of the Methodist Sunday School, Monday evening, at the home of their newly-elected teacher, Mrs. E. Howell on West High street, and organized, electing the following officers for the ensuing year: Harry C. Jones, president; Zalmon Glimmer, vice-president;
Harris Hinton, secretary; Myrl Rotloff, Treasurer. This is an earnest band of boys, who are choosing for their class motto, "Faithful in little things," and class name,
"Loyal Sons." After night refreshments were served and a talk on Sunday School work for the coming year, the boys adjourned after determining to meet the first Monday evening of each month. The next meeting to be held at the home of the secretary, Harris Hinton.

A wedding which occurred at Jackson, Mich., during the holiday season, in which a Plymouth woman was one of the central figures, has just become known here. The lady was Mrs. Harry Smith of this city, and D. E. Coates of Jackson, Mich., the ceremony having taken place in the latter named city, while the new
Mrs. Coates was there on a visit.
They have returned to Plymouth with the expectation of making this place their future home, and as soon as Mr. Coates can obtain suitable rooms will engage in the mail order business, selling merchandise from the mail to the millions.

A delightful reception and farewell was given Mr. and Mrs. J. Z.
Davis in the basement rooms of the Methodist church Saturday night.
There were present the boy scouts and others to the number of 65. A splendid program was rendered, and short speeches were made by many present, all regretting the loss of this esteemed family, but wishing them "God Speed" in their new home at Middleport. A set of military brushes was presented Mr. Davis by the Scouts, as a slight token of their love and appreciation of his work. A delicious luncheon was served and while there was sadness because of the loss of the Scout Master, yet all were glad to enjoy the festivities.—Chicago Times.

Another business change will take place here the first of the week when the Bamer Laundry, for the past twenty years conducted by the late E. A. Chappell, will pass into other hands, the equipment having been purchased by H. J. Hemminger & Sons, the latter of whom comes from New London here Saturday morning to open the business Monday morning. Neither of the above mentioned are experienced laundry men, but they will employ experienced help until they become thoroughly familiarized with the work, and will use their best endeavor to do work satisfactory to their patrons. At the present time there is considerable laundry remaining uncolored for, and the present management would be greatly obliged if the owners would call for the same by the end of the week so they will be able to close up all their business before Monday morning. May success attend the new management.

The next number of the Business Men's Lecture Course will be given on the evening of February 1st by Henry A. Adrian, the Luther Bar-bank Man, and is the one number that every one should hear, being both instructive and entertaining, and it is seldom a town the size of Plymouth has an opportunity to hear a man of such wide fame. There are two more numbers in the course and the price, if season tickets are bought for the remainder of the course, will be 75c or 50c for single admission to each of the two remaining numbers. The sale of season tickets are still being made, but they should be and if the people of Plymouth want a course another year they will have to come forward better than they have been doing. The business people took hold of the matter for the purpose of building up the lecture course business in Plymouth, and have willingly given of their time and guaranteed a high grade course, which evidently has not been appreciated as it should have been, and why, it is hard to understand, as any number in the course is really worth the price of a season ticket.

AFTER GRIPPE
Mrs. Finley Made Strong By Vinol

I was too weak to do my housework, and

The next number of the lecture course will be held on the evening of February 1st, and will be given by Henry A. Adrian, the Burbank Man, and is one to high school student or farmer should miss, and will be equally interesting to all.

John Lowry, aged about fifty years, who has worked on the farm of Mrs. Sarah Miller, in Fairheld township, for seven years or more, died from exposure and alcoholism Sunday night, according to the statement of Coroner Bell, who was called in to investigate the case.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 11th, Rev. E. H. Burt was installed pastor of the Presbyterian church. Officiating clergymen, Rev. Brice of the Ashland church, Rev. McMillin of the Mansfield church, and a host of members of the Shelby church. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

New London reports an exciting hold-up in that village last week. Miss Bernice Salsburg, daughter of E. E. Salsburg, when on her way to school, was held up on Wednesday night, was suddenly accosted by a stranger just as she was about to enter her gate. He grabbed her and threatened her with a knife, and snatched her purse worth $5 and ran.

F. Voegle, one of the best respected and leading businessmen of Mansfield, died Sunday about 6:30 o'clock at his residence on Fifth street, after attending over a period of months. His death marks the passing of a man who has long been one of the city's great worthies. He was a leading and influential citizen.

Our people certainly had a rare treat Monday evening in Miss Grace Sage, who gave the second number of the lecture course to a large and very appreciative audience. Her presentation of J. Hartley Manvers' "Fear My Heart," together with her own words, soon won the hearts of her audience, who followed her closely throughout the entire recital. She has a beautiful and distinct voice, and an unobtrusive grace which wonderfully holds her audience. This was her first appearance here, and those who heard her are and in their praise and will want to hear her again.

A deal, which involves a considerable exchange of money, was consummated here early in the week when the Schreiner room, now occupied by the hoteling as was purchased by H. Bachman & Sons, r.o. for several years have been conducting a meat market just off the sodary on Plymouth street. The building is under lease until April first, just as soon as vacated it is the intention of the new owners to put it up and remodel the same and put it in a state to be set back on the corner, and just how far they will go in this matter is not yet determined, but we are safe in saying that Plymouth will be supplied with a meat market that will do the owners and the town credit.

Straws do not show which way the wind is blowing in the drug stores today because one cutting of the board of health says that all straws used around soda fountains, must be sealed. This new ruling of the state board of health says that all straws and glasses used around soda fountains must be sterilized. The soda fountain men must either get sterilizers or use paper cups.

John W. Case has made application to the court of common pleas asking Judge Mansfield for $3250 for additional clerk hire for the office of the county auditor. Auditor Case renews to the court that since he has had to take over the duties of the tax office he will need three experienced clerks and he asks for $2700 for this department. The auditor also asks for $550 for an additional clerk, or a total of $3250.

The second of a series of games between Duvoce's All Stars and a Chicago Junction team was howled on the local alleys here Wednesday evening, in which the local won out by 176 pins. Last week Wednesday at Chicago Junction our boys were losers by 12 pins. The third game of the series was held at Chicago Junction next week Wednesday evening and our boys are going over with the return of making it two straight.

A wife will insist that a husband shall not go out of the house on cold raw days without double underwear, a liver pad and a muffler on, in addition to his regular clothes. Yet as soon as he is safely down town she will rush on her barbed and harrowed to hang out clothes, so as to get ahead of the woman next door; or she will tramp off down town; or she will insist to house to use up some society or church enterprise with nothing on her head but a little saucy cap of a hat, and shoes not thicker than a newspaper. Isn't this so?

The new year will go on record as making its entry in a slush. From the standpoint of weather it has been many years since the new year opened with a more disagreeable type of weather. Several inches of snow was turning to slush as the old year waned and on New Year's day a heavy rain wiped it completely away. Swollen streams was the result, but fortunately, the rain ceased before streams had burst their banks and reached the destructive point. A cold wind that followed, completely dried the earth by the following morning, and only here and there was a vestige of snow to be seen. Water was higher in the river bottom than at any time since the flood of March 1913.

A business change took place here the first of the year, when the Home Bakery, which for two or more years past has been conducted by J. G. O'Hara, was sold to J. J. Goetz, who comes here from Gibsonburg, he having already taken charge. Mr. Goetz is a practical baker, married, and comes to Plymouth with the expectation of making this place his future home. He is now busily engaged in getting himself adapted to his new place of business and will have a special display of baked goods for his Saturday trade and cordially invites the people to call and inspect the same. He will conduct the bakery on the same sanitary and businesslike principle as heretofore and will treat one and all alike and kindly solicits your patronage. Mr. O'Hara expects to engage in the same line elsewhere, but just where he has not definitely determined, but will be in a more populous center. Mr. O'Hara has made many warm friends while a resident of Plymouth who are loth to see himself and family go, but wherever they may decide to settle are assured the best wishes of their many Plymouth friends. The Advertiser, together with the people in general, extend to Mr. Goetz and wife a warm welcome and success to all parties connected with the above transaction.
