

Dr. Grayson, the president's physician, gives us an insight into Mr. Wilson's personal habits, and from which we conclude that he is notably similar to many men in Plymouth.

We are too apt to think that the president of the United States is so different, and that if we were suddenly elevated to the position of chief executive we would have to abandon many of our daily customs, and take on many new ways.

The president, we are told, does not drink, and in this respect he is very similar to our good friends Rev. Hollett, or Dr. Judson, or Albert Kirkpatrick, all of whom are just as conspicuously great abstemious as President Wilson in the matter of sobriety.

The president does not speak French, and neither does Bob Nimmons, Fred Clark, Elmer Evin, Frank McKellogg or Sol Spear, all of whom resort to English just as exclusively as Mr. Wilson. They may not speak English as fluently, nor perhaps as elegantly, but we want Mr. Grayson to know that there are men in Plymouth that keep just as far away from French in their daily conversation as does the president, and they do it for precisely the same reason.

Dr. Grayson also tells us that the president leaves nothing in politics to chance. Neither does Hamilton, Bill McIntire, or Scooper Mittenbuxler. They play the game exactly as Mr. Wilson. The stakes may not be so large, but they exercise the same caution, and spend for spurs, as just as important as is the chief executive.

Dr. Grayson also releases the information that Mr. Wilson does not play poker. Neither does Rev. Smith, Attorney Gunsaulus, Reuben Desler, Uncle Billy Parsel, or Leonard Fitzinger Hale. If letting the game alone is a virtue Plymouth has men who are just as great and worthy as the president.

Getting away from the don'ts and revealing the things of which Mr. Wilson is fond, we still have men who are very much like the president.

For instance, Dr. Grayson says that Mr. Wilson loves to sing and has a beautiful tenor voice. So does Ed Willinger for whom we act as a tenor voice, we would ask Dr. Grayson not to grow too enthusiastic until he has heard Prof. Willett, or Dr. Holtz.

The president, according to Grayson, abhors red tape and etiquette. If he has anything over Cashier Beelman we are from Missouri and will have to be visualized. The only red tape John knows is the one on the type writer, and we are not morally certain that it is so equipped. If Grayson is in doubt let him come over and deal the Cashier a bunch of steers some morning before the bank opens.

The president uses his own typewriter. So does Karl Webber, Dave French and Elmer Trauger. We can not vouch for their speed and accuracy, but, like the president, they used the peck, or one-finger system.

The president plays solitaire. So does E. M. Patterson, Mack Rogers and Chas. Stewart. They also put in as much time and win just as often as does Mr. Wilson.

The president rides a bicycle. So does Rev. Phillips, C. F. Root, and Jimmie Bevier. Furthermore, we are betting eight to five that they ride just as gracefully as Woody, and mount and dismount with the same ease and composure.

After all, men are great only so long as they are remote. When we get up real close they are men like the good fellows all about us. It is the distance that lends enchantment.

Miss Doris Murray, of Wellington was a guest last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beckler.

The band is coming along apace. The organization now numbers about twenty pieces, and lessons are being given twice a week in the high school room, where the black board is available for Director Beamer.

No one is chirping and everyone is buckling down to business and we miss our guess if the boys are not out by June first playing first and second grade music like veterans.

Furthermore we are told to announce that the concerts for this season will be without expense to the business men. The boys are going to do their level best to make all the advancement possible, but do not feel that they should accept pay for their services until they have sufficient mastery to make themselves a real factor in public entertainment. Therefore, will you give the amount necessary to purchase three or four instruments?

Many have their own instruments. Others are buying new instruments and going down into their own pockets for the money, but a few are not able to do this, but are willing to give their time and take a place in the organization.

They will need a bass, three al-tes, and a bass drum. These will cost in the neighborhood of $300. Will you give, that the instruments may be purchased at once? They are not to be given to those who play them, but only loaned. The new instruments are to belong to the town and it is suggested that the Mayor become custodian. If the Mayor abandons the organization for any reason the instruments are to be surrendered that they may be used by their successors.

Please start the subscription list. Send your name and amount to the Advertiser. We will publish the names and the subscription that all may know who has helped. Let's do this with speed and willingness that the boys may feel encouraged.

These subscriptions should come from manufacturers, bankers, business men, lawyers postmasters, doctors, dentists, and all good citizens who wish to be helpful, and who are amply able to spare from their means. Even a good farmer would not look out of place on our first page, for town and country are both at their best when they are knit close together. Come on now.

That Busy McBride.

The Ford is coming into its own again. The big factory is squaring itself for a record output and N. J. McBride, Plymouth and Shiloh, has contracted to sell this neck of the woods full of the popular Universals.

The new Ford truck that Al Steele is running day and night, was furnished by the McBride agency.

O. McCarron, Shiloh is also the owner of a Ford which was the result of McBride salesmanship. Frank McDowell, Shiloh, chose a Ford touring car for his pleasure, comfort, and service, and he couldn't gotten more for his money anywhere, nor purchased of a more accommodating agency.

R. L. Hoffman who has contracted to serve the Roderick-Lean Mfg. Company, of Mansfield, to the best of his ability, and cover his territory, has hurriedly purchased a Ford runabout of the McBride agency.

Thus does the busy McBride improve each shining hour.

Macabee Benefit.

For the benefit of those interested I will make the following statement:

Miss Clyde Failer took a $500 insurance policy with the Lady Macabees, Oct. 18, 1917. Nov. 19, 1918, she died. During her membership she paid $21. Dec. 13, 1918, she died from the day of her death I presented Mr. Failer with a check for full amount of certificate. This was the first time in the history of the Lodge in Plymouth twenty-three years March 14, 1919.

Mrs. D. W. Danner.

Who Got The Dollar?

Wilson Day was the lucky boy in the bread contest last week, and received a dollar from the Home Bakery.

Virginia Smith was the lucky girl, and also received a dollar. Wilson had 40 votes to his credit, while Virginia turned in 88, ask for the tickets when you buy bread and give them to your choice in the contest.

Former Resident Dead.

A. V. Place, formerly Northern Ohio agent here, and who will be buried by many, died suddenly in Battle Creek, Michigan, last week and was buried with Masonic honors in Lima. He was a member of the Masonic order here.

G. W. Cupp Indicted.

G. W. Cupp, Mansfield real estate operator, was indicted by the Morrow county grand jury at its session this week on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The indictment against him is in consequence of representation made by him to the Peoples Savings Bank of Mt. Gilead which resulted in the institution making him a loan of $400. The bank now states that the securities given for the loan are worthless. Cupp at the time represented that he owned 100 acres of land in Adams county worth $5,000, which was covered by a first mortgage for $800. It developed that the land was not worth $400 and that there were no mortgages. The loan was secured by Cupp at about the time he negotiated the sale of the O. J. Miller shoe stock at Mt. Gilead.—News.

P. H. Root Improving.

Word from the Carnegie Hospital, Cleveland, report the condition of P. H. Root as satisfactory, and physicians say a steady convalescence is anticipated and removal home may be possible in ten weeks.

Mrs. Root and daughters Miriam and Ruth left this morning for Cleveland to spend a few days with her husband, and to bring the money of ordered confinement.

Mary A. Ames, confined to her home, placed her check in the hands of her brother, L. M. Paine, of Columbus, who was sojourning here for a time, and thus this column is initiated.

We owe John Beelman a little sum, and a glance at your label might help some.

H. J. Schneider, Monroeville, is the man who purchased the Nimmons & Nimmons lumber yard in Plymouth. Then he saw another good bargain and bought a subscription to the Advertiser, and he's patronizing our job department.

Rev. Walter E. Hollett is a good friend of our pencil, and while announcing his sermon subjects, tarried for a moment while he wrote a check for his recently furnished subscription to the Advertiser, and he's ministry abundantly helpful.

A country lad stood before us in a genteel way announced his intention to renew his subscription of James Willett. Crediting the card, writing the receipt and saying thank you doesn't grow mechanical. If the performance is of frequent occurrence.

Mrs. Jasper Fraick is now the queen of a recently established home over in Shelby, and to her our subscribers who completely furnished the Advertiser will now take its place in the library.

N. G. Carson, who has been a diligent employee in the Fats shop for a sixth of a century, came on the very day his subscription expired. That's what we call punctuality, and his record, furnished the Advertiser will now take its place in the library.

G. N. Carson, who has been a diligent employee in the Fats shop for a sixth of a century, came on the very day his subscription expired. That's what we call punctuality, and his record, furnished the Advertiser will now take its place in the library.

Miss Iva McCaskey is a new subscriber, thanks to her father, who was kind enough to lengthen our subscription list by his recommendation of her name. These new ones are certainly helpful.

Ted Devoe lives over by Greenwich, but the stone bruises and stubbed toes of his youth were all accumulated in and around Plymouth. That's why he stetches out this paragraph to the Advertiser, and he's in good standing until March nineteen twenty.

S. E. Nimmons, a cousin of Robert and former postmaster of Plymouth, but now of Saginaw, Michigan, pinned the label to his check, that he might hold his seat in the family circle.

J. E. Thompson, farmer, and an intimate reader of the Advertiser watched the linograph perform in its capable and mysterious way while we made the change and the blue receipt that reads five-one-twenty. We like these good natured rural folk.

Night had drawn her curtains and we were building castles in the thickening shadows. As the moonlight shined on a group of us awakened from our reverie in time to say good evening to D. F. Groves, who was bearing us a new one. C. O. Light, Monroeville, Mr. Light will remove soon to a farm near Plymouth, and the Advertiser will be his letter of introduction to his new home.

Benfort Deveny, isn't that a characteristic name? If we were writing a work of fiction we'd use it for the title of one of the characters in the cast. Mittenbuxler was removing the hirsute appendages from Benfort's facial area when we happened in. Fifteen minutes later we had the money and Benfort the credit to one, one, twenty.

We remember the first time we met C. N. Youngs, Boughtonville. Some how or other we grew chummy and now C. N. calls in say howdy when he comes to Plymouth. He was in Friday and smoked one of our cigars, while we wrote two receipts, one for C. N. and one for Ross, a chip off the old block.

R. H. Wilson, who sings well, and manages the Plymouth Equity Exchange with like ability, came in to tell us about feed and coal then wrote his check for fifty-two records on this talking machine.

Mrs. C. M. Nickler, Tiro, Rd. 1, is one of our good friends, being one of the first we met when we came over to Plymouth to assume a place in the town's citizenry. We are thanking her gratefully.

Miss Mollie Keller, chief operator at the local exchange, and a very good one, come over to say "number please" and we said "give us one fifty," and now the subscription of Mrs. E. M. Keller is up in the twenties.

Mrs. William Myers, trades in Plymouth, and reads the Advertiser, but gets her mail from our Shiloh list. She was in last week just as we were taking our baking long enough to accept her contribution to our expense fund.

Miss Nettie Garrison was doing a little masonary work last week, and among her ministrations was the payment of two subscriptions. Mrs. Mattie Head and Mrs. B. F. Perry, and for whom Miss Ganong acted as special messenger. We believe in home missions.

Some lady, modest and polite, but whose name we failed to get, advanced the subscription of Mrs. G. B. Sheely, Crestline. The stub of the receipt we retained reads 11-10-20. It should read 11-10-19, and if the receipt also reads 11-10-20, Mrs. Sheely will please correct and accept our apology.

This month has many expirations. Keep your eye on the label. We are working hard not making much but having an awful good time, and glad we are in Plymouth. Receipts and disbursements are so intimate and so closely related that they seem like twins. The horoscope says that those who pay in January will be prosperous and receive a letter from a rich relative saying that he is closing up his affairs and dividing his wealth among the worthy kin.

To Telephone Subscribers and Toll Users.

The following notice does not apply to lines of The Local Telephone Company.

In accordance with order No. 2495 of the Postmaster General, all toll messages on and after 12:00 a. m. on January 21, 1919, will be classified under the following heads.

Station to Station Calls. A station call is one in which the person originating the call does not specify a particular person but only gives the number of the telephone station desired or the number on which order which the telephone is listed.

Charges for Station to Station messages cannot be REVERSED.

Station to Station rates from 8:30 p. m. to 12 midnight will be approximately 1/2 of the day rate (known as Evening rates).

Station to Station rates from 12 midnight to 4:30 a. m. will be approximately 1/4 of the day rate (known as Night rates).

Person to Person Calls. A person to person call is one in which the person originating the call specifies a particular person to be reached at the called place.

Person to Person calls when charged will be approximately 25 per cent higher than the Station to Station rate.

Appointment Calls. An appointment call is a Person to Person call in which communication is to be established at a specified time.

Appointment calls when completed will be approximately 50 per cent higher than the Station to Station day rate.

There will be no reduced rates on appointment calls either day or night.

Messenger Calls. A messenger call is a Person to Person call requiring the use of a messenger, or a telephone not connected with the company's system (over which the message routes), to bring a specified person to a public pay station or another telephone.

Messenger calls when completed will be approximately 50 per cent higher than the Station to Station day rate.

There will be no reduced rates on Messenger calls either day or night.

Collect Calls. A collect call is a Person to Person call, the charges for which are to be "REVERSED", i. e. collected from the called station.

For further information call the Information Operator.

America's Answer.

Coming to the Dealer, February 7, for matinee and evening is America's Answer, distributed by the World Film Corporation.

It is the second United States matinee picture, and shows vividly the scenes from American activities in France. It is assembled from 80,000 feet of film taken by the U. S. Film Corps, and is one of the finest Pershing under the general staff.

Admission will be 20 cents, and the management urges attendance at the matinee, otherwise many may not be accommodated as the evening will no doubt over task the capacity of the theater.

We can see that Chamber of Commerce taking form.

We can see the bright lights, a long table with immaculate linen, groups of good fellows talking cheerfully, while white aproned ladies are preparing the spread.

We can see a shoulder touch that is inspiring, and which will make it easy to do many things for the good and beauty of Plymouth.

We can see it serving as a sort of mint in which opportunities will be stamped into the coin of accomplishment.

We can see about seventy-five or a hundred good men stripping themselves for action, and saying: By gosh, this is our town, and we are going to make it a worthwhile place to live, a worthwhile place to trade, and a worthwhile place to come.

We can see them glad that they are organized to advertise Plymouth. For in as much as they do it into Plymouth, they do it likewise unto themselves.

We can see from the town's old war power, so many possibilities that we are glad that real men are going to put something in where they are taking much out.

Speaking of January Weather. Uncle Charlie Smith, West Broadway, created quite a commotion in his neighborhood Wednesday, when he captured an honest to goodness butterfly on his lawn.

It is a perfectly developed specimen and as lively as you get them in the good old summer time. At present it is housed in a quart glass jar, and is attracting as much attention as a new baby.

On Tuesday our good friend Butler aged 78 years, and who boards at the farmer, lighted his pipe and went out and sat in the shade of an old apple tree in the back yard, but the flies were so bad that he had to return to his room.

New Washington Wins.

We hate to write about that dandy leader game of basket ball played in the Plymouth High School Gym last Friday evening. New Washington City Team put it all over the Plymouth City team, showing a speed that made the score look bad.

The New Washington boys were equally formidable, and all the Plymouth High got out of it was the fun of the evening.

Be it said that there was nothing rough in the visiting teams. They simply came over with the speed and pep, and played rings around us.

Friday evening the Mansfield team comes to the Plymouth High Gym for a game with our boys and we are not making any predictions, further than to say that the admission will be 15 cents for the school and 20 cents for all others.

Plymouth girls will stage a preliminary, and in this, of course, the honors will stay at home.

Give the boys a crowd. Nothing helps like an enthusiastic bunch of home roots, and our guess is that our team will need all the pep it can get.

HOW U. S. ARMY GREW AFTER DECLARATION OF WAR

In Twenty Months Uncle Sam's Fighting Force Multiplied Itself by Twenty

How the United States army grew after the declaration of war against Germany is one of the most interesting pages of the history of the nation. It is a story told in figures.

When America entered the war only one person in each 860 in the nation was in the army. When the war ended more than 25 per cent of the entire male population between the ages of eighteen and thirty-one years was in the army.

On April 1, 1917, America had an army of 190,000. In twenty months it virtually multiplied itself by twenty. In twenty months an army more than ten times as large as America had at the beginning of the war had been enlisted, trained and sent abroad.

How the army was built up and how many were sent abroad, month by month, is told eloquently in figures furnished by the war department, as follows:

Table with columns for Date, In the United States and Foreign Possessions, and In the American Expeditionary Forces. Rows range from April 1, 1917 to November 1, 1918.

These figures are not final, because more men were landed between November 1 and the signing of the armistice, the total being considerably over two million.

The Boys Who Have Not Died

Dear God, what shall we give them as they come— Our blind, our crippled—men with faces marred. Or aged by anguish, their young spirit scorched. Our soldier boys, come home?

How may we show our reverence, our pride For all they dared, for courses clear that led to this? Or mind and body and resistance soothed— These boys who have not died? Yet who may feel, perchance, that death is best. Compared with lagging life thus twisted, trained. Or youth's bright eagerness, life marred and stilled— That death were passing sweet? For they who died for freedom still shall live. In every heart that loved them, young and fair. But these, the living, wounded over there— To these what may we give? Not gifts—rich gifts as men give to the weak— But work that lifts the spirit, flicks the will. Awakes the vital thought, to hopes that thrive— Such work as whole men seek! Not pity—mere that—nor coward tears. Not re-creating friendship, healing, gay. And gratitude not only for today But through the coming years! And down those years the balm of memory. So when we meet some cripple, withered, wry. Some poor old soldier who yet lives in his day Did fight for liberty. We see not shabby garments, surly stance. But through the veiling flesh the gallant boy. Who touched the great adventure— knew the joy And gave his youth to France! —Elizabeth N. Hepburn in New York Times.

Mother's Cook Book

If instead of a gem, or even a flower, you should cast the gift of loving thought in the heart of a friend, that would be giving. I think as the angels most give—George M. Donald.

A FEW APPETIZING DISHES.

Scalloped dishes of various kinds are especially good for luncheon or supper with a white sauce made from two tablespoons each of butter and flour, the butter bubbling hot before the flour is stirred in; then a cup of milk, and salt and pepper to taste, all cooked until smooth and thick. Such a sauce may be used in any scalloped dish.

Scalloped Onions and Peanuts.

Cut the onions in quarters and cook uncovered in boiling salted water until tender. Drain them and reserve the liquor for soup. Grate a baking dish and put in it a layer of onions; sprinkle with three tablespoons of chopped peanuts; add another layer of onions and peanuts, then pour over the top a well-seasoned white sauce prepared as above. Cover the top with a generous sprinkling of buttered crumbs mixed with chopped peanuts. Bake 20 to 30 minutes.

One often has a few tablespoons of canned sauce or preserves left from the table, not enough to serve, but it will make a pretty garnish for various dishes. Two or three spoonfuls of raspberries, jam or canned fruit, added to a dish of sliced bananas gives a bit of flavor to the banana, adds color and uses up an otherwise wasted leftover.

Chicken Pie.

The bits of chicken left from a stewed or roasted fowl, if the gravy and some good, rich milk is left, will make a chicken pie that is quite worth noting. Let the chicken, gravy and one small onion cook until well heated through; add a cup of rich white sauce and some milk or cream, then season well, add a covering of baking powder biscuit and bake in a quick oven.

Apples in Grape Juice.

Peel, after coring, four medium-sized apples and put them to stew in grape juice. When the apples are tender, but not broken, remove them carefully and drain off the juice until it is quite thick. Serve cold with the grape juice and whipped cream for a garnish.

World's Cleanest City.

It is stated that the cleanest town in the world is Brock, Holland. It has been famous for its cleanliness from the immemorial. The yards and streets are paved with polished stone interspersed with bricks of different colors.

High Standard is Set for Lawyers in the Oath of the Wisconsin Bar Association

Every citizen before joining the Wisconsin bar association must solemnly swear: I will support the Constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Wisconsin.

I will maintain the respect due to courts and judicial officers. I will not counsel or maintain any suit or proceeding which shall appear to me to be unjust, or any defense, except as I believe to be honestly debatable under the law of the land.

I will employ, for the purpose of maintaining the causes confided to me, such means only as are consistent with truth and honor, and will never seek to mislead the judge or jury by any artifice or false statement of fact or law.

I will abstain from all offensive personality and advance no false pretensions to the honor or reputation of a party or witness, unless required by the justice of the cause with which I am charged.

HINTS FOR THE POULTRY GROWER

Unless paired matings are made and a single female kept with each male, the trapnest is an essential to pedigree stock of poultry, according to W. A. Lippincott, head of the department of poultry husbandry in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"This holds as true for the fancier as it does for the production breeder," said Professor Lippincott, "although the fancier may not find it necessary to continue its operation for so many months of the year. It is surprising to find how few even of the so-called 'log breeders' know the exact parentage of every bird in their flocks. They know from which pen a given bird is, but what male headed the pen, but they can only guess which of 12 to 15 females produced a given outstanding bird."

"Had such a state of affairs been allowed to exist in the breeding of the larger animals it would probably be far below their present high level of excellence. Only when complete and careful pedigree records are kept will the standard of every breeding be on a par with that of other pure bred farm animals. The keeping of such records can be done only with the help of a trapnest during the breeding season."

"For the fancier the use of the nest during the breeding only is sufficient. For the production breeder it is necessary to trapnest through the season of use and to keep records of winter months—in addition to the breeding season, in order to secure an indication of each layer's productive powers. If, for purposes of advertising, the record of a given season is desired, the trapnest must be kept in use the full 12 months."

"The trapnest is now so commonly used that most persons understand that it is a simple mechanical device by which the hen shuts and locks herself in when she goes upon the nest. When she is released the number of eggs laid can be written on the egg, and in this way a correct record of all eggs used for hatching purposes can be kept. It is better to write the number on the small end of the egg, as frequently the egg is cracked or broken during hatching."

Iceland Also Experiences Increase in Cost of Food

Even far-away Iceland has felt the pinch of war. An increase in the average price of necessities at Reykjavik, the principal city, last July amounted to 211 per cent, when compared with the same month of 1914, as shown by a data appearing in the journal of the Icelandic statistical department. If coal and petroleum, which show increases over prices in July, 1914, of 275 and 275 per cent, respectively, be omitted, and the comparison be limited to articles of food alone, it is stated that the average increase was 150 per cent, as compared with July, 1914. The extent to which certain of the principal groups of food rose in price may be seen from the following official compilation: Butter, 261; flour, oatmeal, beans, 284; sugar, 181; coffee, tea, cocoa, chocolate, 100; butter, fat, milk, cheese, eggs, 225; beef, mutton, bacon and pork, 112.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

HURRY, MOTHER! REMOVE POISONS FROM LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

GIVE CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS AT ONCE IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, bill of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt—Adv.

What Doctor Pierce Has Done for Humanity

BY DOCTOR PIERCE

It has always seemed to me that Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., should be placed near the top when a list of America's great benefactors is written. He studied and conquered human diseases to a degree that few realize. Whenever he found a remedy that overcame disease, he at once announced it in the newspapers and told where it could be bought at a small price. He did not follow the usual custom of keeping the ingredients secret, so that the rich only could afford to buy the medicine, but openly printed the name of each root and herb he used. And so today the names of Dr. Pierce's and his medicines are widely known, and they stand for better health and better citizenship.

One of this great physician's most successful remedies is known as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These are little, sugar-coated pills, composed of Mayapple, leaves of aloë, root of plumbago—that Nature grows in the ground. These Pellets are said when they move the bowels gently, leaving no bad ingredients secret, so many pills do. Very often they make a person who takes them feel like a new man or woman, for they cleanse the intestines of hard, decayed and poisonous matter that accumulates when one is constive. If you are constipated, by all means go to your druggist and get some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They may prove to be the very thing your system requires to make you well and happy.

DELPHI.

Influenza in the homes of Ravens Noss and Ed King is now over.

Miss Margaret Cole of North Fairfield, was a last Sunday caller at the homes of F. E. Craig and E. A. Stotts. She was in company with Mrs. W. J. Wilkinson.

While assisting Leonard and Swander move from the G. A. Knight farm to North Fairfield, the horses of B. I. Blackmore, became frightened, when the wagon was partly loaded and ran away, going over the bank at the road with a drop of five or six feet. When the horses started the wagon contained the range, a large box of jars of lard and canned fruit, a box of dishes, all of which were thrown and broken. B. I. in the mix up was injured by having a wheel pass over his ankle.

The board of health lifted the lid that has so rigidly been over Ripley for the past weeks. School opened Monday morning. Church at the usual hour next Sunday provided.

Rev. A. R. Brown, pastor of the Ripley M. E. church, was smitten with the Flu last Friday if all goes well he will be in his pulpit by another week.

Several brothers and sisters of the late Israel Walker, from Toledo and vicinity attended his funeral last Saturday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Sarah Knight, in Boughtonville.

Mrs. Lucille Blackmore Frank received a letter from her husband, in the Chicago Navy Training school, containing the cheery news that his discharge from the service was near at hand.

Mildred and Verne Smith are numbered with the sick, Mildred has pneumonia.

Mrs. Roxana Tooker has been confined to her bed the past week, old age infirmities predominating in rheumatic tendencies.

Earl Tooker of Mansfield, was a caller on his mother, Tuesday.

Mrs. Phoebe Bowser of Pennsylvania, was a last week's guest of her brother, C. D. Albert and wife.

Mrs. Emma Baker, of Ripley, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. S. E. Gleason.

Jane Scooby, age 87, who calls Shiloh her home in the summertime, spends the winters in the temperate climes of Ripley, with her nephew, the writer, is this winter with her niece, Mrs. Maude

Craig. She expects to plant a peace garden in Shiloh next summer.

As soon as we are sure of a certainty of carrying out a two week's announcement, we will announce the debut of one of the finest Sunday School programs ever held in Ripley for the Delphi church.

The houses of F. C. Young and son Clyde have been temporarily combined this winter in order that they could better take care of the sick therein, than when separated. The mother, Mrs. F. C. Young, has been in poor health the most of the winter. Miss Oleta, New Haven's prominent primary teacher turned her pupils over to a substitute a week ago and gave her undivided attention to the Flu, and in all her other undertakings of her active life, she is a winner. The bundle of post cards she received from her pupils attests her popularity.

Mrs. Anna Reeves who has been suffering for several weeks on account of a persistent growth upon the side of her neck, has been compelled to take to her bed.

The Boughtonville Telephone Co. held the 13th annual meeting in the Delphi church basement last Monday morning, the session lasting about two hours. The reports show that the company is in splendid shape, having a tax valuation of over $5000.00 in equipment out side of the phones, they are owned by individuals, we have a surplus of over $1100.00, all debts paid. There are about 140 stockholders or members, counting the towns of Greenwich, Fitchville, Olms, Clarifield, and Ruggles, with which we have free exchange by former treaties, thus giving us the privileges without extra cost of between seven and eight hundred phones, thus giving us wire connection with all elevators, mills, stores, stockbuyers, doctors, pastors, lawyers, and homes both in the towns and country round about, besides we have splendid toll rating and connection with that matchless service given by the popular Local Telephone Co. whose splendid connection with all long distant lines can deliver and receive our message from the most remote office. By looking over the following directorate for the ensuing year, you will at once understand our reason for guaranteeing a service of courteous treatment and efficiency that will be above par and at cost.

HENRY WHITE

Of the American delegation to the peace congress, Henry White is the most familiar with diplomacy, having been long connected with the American embassy in London and afterward ambassador to Italy and France.

RECEPTION ROOM OF LOUIS PHILIPPE

This beautiful reception room of Louis Philippe is in the Grand Trianon, which is a part of the palace of Versailles. It is used as a reception room by the delegates to the peace conference.

ARTHUR J. BALFOUR

Arthur J. Balfour, British minister of foreign affairs, is one of the leading members of the peace delegation of his country.

PRINCE GEORGE LYOFF

Prince George Lyoff is chairman of the delegation that represents Russia in the conference of the peace delegates.

GEORGES CLEMENCEAU

Georges Clemenceau, premier of the French republic, is the president of the peace congress, having been chosen for that place not only in recognition of his great ability, but also because of his great ability. Long known as the "Tiger," Mr. Clemenceau has always been a steady friend to democracy.

JULES CAMBON

Jules Cambon is considered an especially valuable member of the French peace delegation, as he has been French ambassador to both America and Germany. His appointment was especially pleasing to the American delegation.

SECRETARY LANSING

Next to the president in the American peace delegation comes Secretary of State Robert Lansing.

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE

At the head of Great Britain's peace delegation is David Lloyd George, the British premier.

McAdoo Favors a Five-Year Test Period in Which to Prove Which is Better, Government Ownership or Private Ownership

Wisely Regulated Under Superior Authority of Federal Government.

By W. G. MADDOO. The railroad problem is today one of the most, if not the most, important and vital economic questions facing the American people.

Let me say immediately that I have no pet theory to advance in discussing the settlement of the railroad question. At the present time I am neither an advocate nor an opponent of government ownership.

Callie Attention to Problem. The recent suggestion I made to the congress for such a test period under peace conditions has at least served to concentrate attention on the problem.

The suggestion most generally adopted by the opposition is that the roads be continued under government operation for the twenty-one months' period after the war, as provided by the present federal control act.

There are two reasons why such a course seems to me impossible; first, the roads cannot be operated successfully under the present act for twenty-one months with the prospect of their return to their owners at the end of that time approaching nearer every day.

Face Stubborn Fact. The railroad officials and employees of the United States are only human.

Then, too, were the effort made to maintain the present control under existing legislation, the railroad would not be a political standpoint, might stand still or even deteriorate during the twenty-one months' period.

One of the British engineers taking part in the surrender of the German army in the Meuse valley was a German engineer. The aviators were rescued by the British and the pact was signed.

Under federal control, in spite of the tremendous demands that the war needs have imposed, here again were forgotten apparently that the railroads were placed under government control for the purpose of winning the war against the German autocracy.

But even in the conduct of ordinary business, the record made by the railroads during the past year is a record of private control in previous years when considered from the standpoint of important traffic.

Became Simple Matter. The accommodation of passengers in peace times, and the proper attention to the transportation of ordinary freight, becomes a comparatively simple matter once the complicated conditions have been disposed of.

Neither contingency being possible in my judgment, I see no escape from the conclusion that the period of federal control must be extended for five years, so that an adequate test of unified operation may be secured under any war conditions.

John Anderson, Who Broke Sitting Bull's Heart

BOZEMAN, MONT.—There has just left Montana to enter the soldier's home near Los Angeles, Cal., one of the picturesque figures of the state.

At a critical moment Anderson ran upon the red chief with his pistol and shot him dead. The Indians retreated. The son's fall, it is said, confirmed Sitting Bull's determination to try to wipe out the whites and led to the Indian war that followed.

Drain Tile.

Mr. Farmer, this is the season for land draining. Well drained farms are the most productive and the most valuable. If you have a field that needs drainage, prepare now, for the weather conditions next season may render it of little value unless it is tiled. Fine weather, this, for hauling and distribution.
