

The fact that the 6th of the present month was the 125th anniversary of the birth of Joshua R. Giddings, the great Ohio abolitionist leader, impresses us with the fact that the issues of slavery and the factors of the irrepressible conflict are fast receding into the past of our history. Born at Athens, Pa., in 1795, Giddings' parents removed in his early childhood to New York, and after a short residence there, on into Ohio, settling in Ashtabula county.

He was 13 years old when they came to Ashtabula county which was his home for the rest of his life. At 17 he enlisted for the war of 1812 serving for a few months. Then he taught school and studied law. Admitted to the bar he was in 1825 elected to the legislature serving in the house in 1826-7. For some reason he was not returned. But ten years later he was sent to congress and for the next twenty-two years he remained as the representative of the old Ashtabula district in congress.

It was while he was still a yearling to all intents and purposes, that the most notable act of his life was performed. A vessel, the Creole, had sailed from a Virginia port for New Orleans with a cargo of slaves. Out at sea the negroes overpowered the crew and put the vessel into Nassau, the port of the British Bahamas. There under the English law they were free, but a claim for the loss of the property was made to England.

In this situation, Giddings offered a resolution to the effect that slavery being only an abridgment of natural rights under form of law, slavery under such law could not extend beyond the jurisdiction establishing it; therefore the slaves had only recovered their natural rights when the opportunity presented itself. As could well be imagined this roused the lion of slavery in congress, and when its author temporarily withdrew it, a resolution censuring him for offering it was adopted.

Giddings immediately resigned and reported the matter to his district. Within six weeks his district had re-elected him and he was back in congress. For the next 20 years he was in the forefront of all the anti-slavery fights in congress, up to the very beginning of the civil war. He refused further re-election to congress in 1850 because of impaired health and was appointed consul general to Canada and died in that office at Montreal, May 27, 1864, with the outcome of the war against slavery still in doubt.—Galbraith in Columbus Dispatch.

France Ratifies Then Jollifies.

The "cessation of hostilities" in France was formally marked by the signing of the document ratifying the peace treaty by the President of the French Republic. While no official announcement has been made of the ending of the state of war it is provided that the signing of the document by the President is to have the effect of an official announcement. There were many celebrations of rejoicing throughout the country in honor of the event.

It has been stated that the new Cabinet formed at Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria, was constructed with the express purpose of securing a personnel that would ratify the peace treaty. The Cabinet is headed by M. Stambulsky, leader of the peasants and agrarians.

A Tragedy On The Farm.

"Ninety-four dead sheep murdered by vrant dogs. Six hundred sheep in the flock. After the raid, 94 dead, 506 worth much less than before. The owner, Mr. Charles P. Guy, lives near Rosedale, Madison county. The damage to his flock was appraised at $1,920. No money in treasury to pay the loss.

"The dogs attack at night. Some of the sheep piled up and smothered. Dogs also attacked a big flock of sheep on the farm of Willis O. Wing, Mechanicburg, Champaign county. He succeeded in shooting the two tramp dogs that made the raid.

"These are tragedies on the farm. For several years Ohio farmers have asked for sensible and workable laws that would protect their flocks from dogs. Each time such a law has either been vetoed or subordinated. Pooodle and society dogs are said to have more influence with some Ohio statesmen than Mary's Little Lamb, and the entire sheep industry of the state.

If the sheep killed and injured in one year in Ohio were lined up one behind the other, the line would reach across the state.

An old-timer was reminiscing at the club. "Speaking of famous singers," he said, "I remember being present at a concert at which Madam Nilsson was to sing, but she was indisposed. The foreigner who announced the fact said: 'Madam Nilsson sees a teetle horse.'"

"Noticing a ripple of laughter run through the audience, he repeated in some confusion, 'teetle horse, a teetle horse, a teetle colt.'"

Beer Saloons All Over Ohio

If One or Both of the Proposed Constitutional Amendments by Ohio Brewers Are Adopted at the November Election and the Brewers Win in the Courts, Unregulated Beer Saloons Will Open in Every Town and Township in the State—A Situation so Alarming That it Should Arouse the Citizenship of Ohio.

How would you like to have a beer saloon at the cross roads down below your home?

How would you like to have a beer joint in the next block, and two or three more on nearby streets?

How would you like to have these beer saloons run day and night, week days and Sundays, and selling to boys and girls, as well as to men and women?

How would you like these saloons all about you and no laws regulating and restricting them, because the State Constitution says the beer they sell is not intoxicating, even though it IS intoxicating?

The Brewers of Ohio believe they have a chance to bring about such conditions and they are asking you to help them by voting for the two proposed amendments to the state constitution which they have initiated and which will be approved or rejected by Ohio Voters at the November election.

The one proposed amendment initiated by the brewers aside from providing for repeal of state-wide Prohibition and the re-establishing of the license system, contains this further provision:

The phrase "intoxicating liquor" shall not be defined or construed to mean any beverage which is in fact non-intoxicating and no beverage containing 2 1/2 or less per cent of alcohol by weight shall be deemed an intoxicating liquor.

Not satisfied with this proposal, the brewers have initiated another proposed amendment which contains the same paragraph as that quoted above, and that one paragraph only. This amendment will also be voted on at the November election.

And so these beer saloons would operate all the time, selling beer to old and young. They would be in the country districts as well as in the villages and cities and could neither be regulated, controlled, nor taxed as liquor saloons.

It is such a condition that Ohio brewers are seeking to establish and they have peddled petitions and have initiated these proposed amendments and are now asking the voters of the state to adopt them at the November election.

Uncontrolled beer saloons are not the only menace confronting Ohio voters this year in the four wet proposals. Aside from asking the voters to declare beer non-intoxicating, the wets are asking for the repeal of the state-wide Prohibition amendment, the setting up once more of the license system, the defeat of the enforcement law enacted by the Legislature, and they also want the state to declare against National Prohibition by voting down the action of the Legislature in ratifying the federal dry amendment.

It is a more important campaign than the one last year, for its results may determine if the work of the dries for many years is to be at least partly undone.

If the brewers should win in Ohio this year, the wets of the state and nation would take courage and the fight would be prolonged and intensified.

Vote "NO" on the two initiated amendments and sustain the legislature by voting "YES" on the two referendum proposals.

Suppose the brewers should win in the courts and either or both of the Oberlin's amendment should be adopted at the November election. Then the Constitution of the state would declare 2 1/2 per cent beer non-intoxicating and the Legislature would be powerless to act.

What's An Acre Worth?

For 50 years this country thought it knew what an acre of farmland was worth.

And the value of the average farm acre is the most important thing in agriculture.

For, if the value be held too high, and the farmer cannot make a profit and pay taxes and interest, agriculture is in a bad way.

For years $80 an acre was believed to be about right.

Now we have suddenly boosted acre prices to $200, and the $500 an acre farm is no rarity.

The danger appears to be that the $300 lands will bankrupt their owners when produce prices drop.

For a couple of years unprofitable profits have been made from fruit, corn, wheat, the small grains generally. Even hay lands are paying a good return on a high valuation.

But if these high prices recede, and the value of the farmlands is left on the tax rolls at the present assessment, one can see without much prophetic vision where the farmer is going to alight.

Aid to this is his interest charge for the capital invested in this high priced land and you have an impossible condition.

Since the price of farmland actually determines the cost of food for American homes it is not and senseless gambling in farmlands, and maintain their values somewhere on a parity with what they are worth as farmlands, not as frontage tracts for the city speculator?

Keep Apples Easy by Burying In Pit.

One of the most successful ways of keeping apples is to pit or bury the fruit during the late fall, according to horticulturists at the Ohio Experiment Station. It is necessary to prevent premature ripening as much as possible before burying the apples and for this reason it is best to defer picking until the fruit begins to drop.

The most successful way of making a pit is to select a well-draining spot and make an excavation 8 to 10 inches deep. The apples are placed in this pit and covered with straw as the weather gets colder. Not until the temperature falls to about 20 degrees is it necessary to cover the heap with dirt. At this time 3 or 4 inches of dirt and another layer of straw protects the apples from heavy freezing and the last covering of dirt is applied when the extremely cold weather begins. The pit does not need ventilation.

Some varieties of apples like Ben Davis and Russet keep best in a pit and their quality is improved by burying.

Control of Clothes Moths.

Packing woolen goods, furs and rugs in tightly sealed, moisture-proof boxes or wrapping them in paper will prevent clothes moths and carpet beetles from destroying them, according to entomologists of the Ohio Experiment Station. Frequent brushing and airing prevents the insects from getting a foothold. Steam cleaning is also recommended to control these pests. Naphthalene tends to repel moths.

Tick-Tock-Tick—

When man split life into years did he affect our term of existence here?

When we become sixty, is it a signal to expect the "call"—and does that expectation hasten its arrival?

Why do we have seconds, minutes, hours, days, weeks, months, and years? "at once, immediately a little while, soon, later and sometime" serve as well?

Man's span of life once numbered five times the years required for him to attain his full physical growth. That is to say, he lived to be a centenarian—one hundred years, for he reaches his height at twenty.

But the increasing shortness of man's earthly life dates from about the time he began the animal fad and clock industry. Has the added fear with each year after fifty, shortened life?

The man who can write a letter that will sell a bill of goods is limited in his sales only by the number of postage stamps he is willing to use. The personal salesman is limited by the number of customers he can see.

Resolutions of Appreciation adopted by the

Plymouth Chamber of

Whereas, there is located in our little city the large and splendid manufacturing plant known as the Fate-Root-Heath Company, which has been for so long a time a large source of living comforts and business to our town and community; and,

Whereas, through the foresight and daring enterprise of the present company, so much money has been invested, and such extensive enlargement and additions completed, to accomodate many additional workmen and their families, and to increase very materially the business of Plymouth, also stimulating building enterprise and enhancing property values, adding, furthermore, not only a local fame to our city, but a world-wide reputation calling prominent business men, even from the distant parts of the world to walk upon our streets, and to do business here.

Resolved, that the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce hereby and now expresses its hearty appreciation of the great benefits which this institution has afforded Plymouth's citizens and business interests in the past, and is also at present affording them; and, further, that we express our appreciation of the foresight and enterprise which under great difficulty has crowded to speedy completion the present large improvements.

Resolved that we remember kindly and reverently the names of the men, now gone on before, through whose talent and ceaseless toil these factories were firmly established.

Resolved, that we express our appreciation of the splendid prospect for growth and greatness now opening before us through the instrumentality of this enterprise; that we forward a copy of these resolutions to the president of the company; and, that we have a copy spread upon the minutes of this Chamber, also that they be published in our city paper.

BOOSTER SALE

Men's and Boy's Clothing and Shoes by McKellogg Clothing Company Plymouth, Ohio

We invite you to our Booster Sale. About 18 months ago we started a cash clothing and shoe store for men and boys. Under the management of Mr. H. L. Bucey, and the advice of Mr. Sol Spear, this store has done a very remarkable business, but we are not satisfied. We are very anxious to boost our sales.

We know that with the prices we are making on goods we ought to be able to boost our sales, indeed we should double them. We can undersell our competitors because we have three stores and buy in very large quantities. We are able to shift stock from one store to another as we need it.

Just a Little Message

We have been in the clothing business since 1880, and while we have not made such wonderful success, we do think we know the business quite thoroughly and understand how to buy merchandise worth the money.

Every one knows that merchandise is very high in price, and hard to obtain we have a very large stock to select from. We are on the market nearly every week, and by so doing we have been able to keep our stock up in good shape. We were lucky in having a lot of merchandise on our shelves before the extreme high prices were reached.

We want it distinctly understood that we are offering to the people of Plymouth and vicinity in our Booster Sale, nothing but good reliable merchandise, and the time has gone by to get something for nothing.

First of All

We want to call attention to our wonderful showing of Men's and Boys' suits and overcoats. We do not confine ourselves to any one brand of clothing.

It is true that we handle a very large amount of CLOTHCRAFT CLOTHING, which we think is the most reasonable clothing on the market.

Young Men's Clothing

We are showing quite a large assortment of young men's suits in waist seam, with and without belts. Also double breasted, and quite a lot of form fitting, singlebreasted suits.

These makes of young men's suits range in price from $25 to $37.50. A very few at $42.00

Our Boys' Suits

Our boys' suits which we have a good assortment, are mostly made by Schoenberg Bros., and Stitz Bros. & Myer Co., of Chicago. Both of these firms are well known in Plymouth.

Our larger size of Boys' Clothing, from 8 to 16 years, range in price from $6.50 to $14.00, and our little suits, age 2 to 7 years, in Cassimere, serge, kurds, and Khaki cloth, sell for $5 and $6.

MEN'S SINGLE TROUSERS.

We always try to have on hand a good assortment of men's single trousers for work or dress.

MEN'S HATS AND CAPS.

We have a wonderfully nice assortment of Emerson dress hats made in Danbury, Conn. We have these hats in all colors for $3.50 to $5.00. Cloth hats for winter, very nice quality, $2.50.

SUIT CASES AND HAND BAGS

We are showing a very nice assortment of Men's medium priced Suitcases for $1.75 to $6.50.

Hand Bags, all prices, in black and tan, from $2.50 and $2.50. They are beautiful and serviceable.

Trunks, good assortment, $6.50 to $14.50.

Men's Staple Suits

Our men's staple suits and overcoats, which are our best sellers, range in price from $18.50 to $35.00.

Did you ever notice the kind of clothes successful business men wear? They are neat in appearance, to be sure, but they are so designed that they can be worn season after season, with the approval of the most critical.

Our line of Clothing being produced in so many beautiful fabrics, makes selection a pleasure, and the wearing most economical.

Basement Bargains

If you are accustomed to reading the big advertisements in the daily papers you will see a lot about BASEMENT BARGAINS, but Mr. Bucey says our basement is too damp and not desirable for showing clothing. So we have gone through our stock and taken out all of our older models of Men's and Boys' Suits and Overcoats, and have cleaned out our second floor, and have made a bargain room of it.

While we are not able to show all sizes, we have a very good range of Men's suits, from 34 to 37, and Boys' Long Pant Suits for 15 to 19 years.

Our Men's suits in this showing range from $5 to $12.

Our Boys' Suits from $3.00 to $8.

Also a large lot of Boys' Overcoats, size 15 to 19 years, at $1.75 to $5 and $8. These are a little out of date and slightly damaged.

This lot of Clothing in our bargain room should not last 30 days at these prices. It is not over 20 cents on the dollar on today's market.

If there is a small man or boy that wants a good warm suit or overcoat for every day wear, now is the chance to get fitted for a very little money.

Would you like to know how the automobile and truck have influenced the horse business in Ohio?

It was in the civil war period that the number of horses passed the 700,000 mark.

The first year to pass the 800,000 mark was in 1880, but there were no automobiles then. It took about 25 years to raise from 700,000 to 800,000.

In 1914 we passed the 900,000, and you will note that it took another 25 years to add this 100,000. In 1917, just three years later, we listed 965,182 horses. We were then in the height of the automobile industry, but we added more than 65,000 horses to the supply in three years. But this was the high mark. We have not reached it since nor will we be likely to ever pass this high number.

Here's a paragraph to say that in 1908, Ohio had 10649 automobiles of all kinds. In 1917, when we struck the high mark in horses, we had in Ohio 312,630 automobiles. While we were making this big automobile increase in nine years, we also increased the horse supply 209,821, in the same period.

But most of the automobiles were for pleasure. Since 1917 the truck and tractor have made a wonderful showing, and it is interesting to note that the horse supply decreased from 822,467 in 1919.

While it is probable that the horse supply will never "again" reach 800,000, it is remarkable to note that with a half million automobiles and trucks in Ohio, horses are still a 100,000 more than there were a dozen years ago when automobiles began to make their appearance in earnest.

Darke county has the greatest number of horses, 20,257. In civil war times this honor belonged to Hamilton county. Only two other counties exceed 15,000—Franklin and Cuyahoga. Vinton county has the least, 3,264. Richland has 10,383. Huron has 9,535.

There are a few mules in Ohio. In 1918 we listed 41,834. In 1919 Ohio listed but 32,277, with Hamilton leading, and since the civil war Hamilton county has had first place in mules. Huron county has 120. Richland, 375.

Sizing Up Father.

Little Johnny has a sister of whom he is very proud. His mother the other day heard him talking to the infant and this was what he said:

"It's too bad you can't go anywhere. You can't go to the movies; you can't go to see General Edwards. You haven't seen any big men at all—only Uncle and father, and they ain't so very big."

How papa learned of the incident hasn't been disclosed, but it can be imagined that mother for a while, had a large sized twinkle in her eye.

Legislation As We Get It.

The Kansas legislature passed a law providing: "When two trains approach a crossing, both shall stop and neither shall go ahead until the other has passed over."

This is like the Irishman who attended a public meeting called to discuss the building of a new jail. After listening to arguments for and against the jail, he broke out:

"Mr. President, I'm in a notion to make a motion, I would suggest we do build a jail. I would further suggest that we take the bricks out of the old jail, put them in a new jail and let the old jail stand until the new jail is completed."—Buffalo Commercial.

A Prayer For Little Folks.

By Hiram Moe Greene.

Dear God, I'm just a little boy, And sometimes I do wrong; And I'm sorry, for I want to be Big, and brave, and strong.

And grow up mighty, like an oak. That from an acorn grew, With its topmost branches in the sun— All reaching up to You.

I know that everything that's good Dear God, has come from You. That nothing evil ever was, Or could be, real and true.

I know that I'm your little boy, That You have given to me. A body that is sound and strong And a mind of purity.

So now I ask You, let me know It's not hard to be good, And let me feel your Mind in mine Just as I know I should.

And now I'm going to my bed— To sleep till morning bright; I know no harm can come to me So now, dear God, Good-night.

One of the strangest things in this world is why, after a girl gets married, she quits singing songs and begins dinging dongs.

"WONDERFUL"—MRS. NICHOLS FIRM OPINION

"I'm Better and Stronger in Every Way, Since Taking Trutona", She Declares

Portsmouth, O., Oct. 22.—"It's wonderful", was the brief yet convincing manner in which Laura Nichols, 44 years old, of 517 Seventh street, Portsmouth, recently expressed her high regard for Trutona, the perfect tonic.

"I had been suffering from a nervous trouble for the past five years", she said. "My stomach was out of shape, too. My appetite was poor and I was unusually in a constipated condition. For the past two or three months I haven't eaten hardly enough to keep a bird alive."

"The good I've derived from Trutona in the short time that I've been using the medicine is simply wonderful. Why, I have not experienced one of my nervous spells since I began using Trutona. As for my appetite—I can eat anything now and I enjoy the food more than I have for some time. In short I feel better and stronger in every way now. I think Trutona is a wonderful medicine and I can recommend it to anyone troubled as I was and feel sure it will help them."

Trutona is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and bowel troubles, catarrhal complaints, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like and has proven an almost unfailing reconstructive tonic for overcoming after effects of pneumonia, influenza and the like.

Trutona is now being introduced and explained at WEBBER'S Drug Store, Plymouth, Ohio.

Australians Fond of Meat.

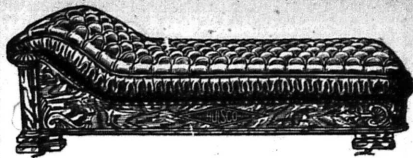

Australian appetites are quite robust, judging by recent statistics, which show that the average Australian eats every year 254 pounds of meat, which works out at an average of two sheep and one-fifth of a bullock for every man, woman and baby in Australasia! He eats more than twice as much as the average Englishman, three times as much as the average Frenchman, and four times as much as the average German or Swiss. In addition he consumes about three and three-quarter hundredweights of wheat, two and a half hundredweights of potatoes, and almost one hundredweight of sugar. If he is a Tasmanian he eats a quarter of a ton of potatoes in a year.

CLOTHES AND SHOES FOR MEN AND BOYS

McKellogg Says
With money so plentiful there is no need of people denying themselves many pleasures that they could enjoy if they had better clothes. The solution to the problem is buy your clothing now. Buy before the next advance. Buy while you have a chance at a reasonable price. Clothing is not going to come down in price for a long time. We are honest in our belief that men's suits will be from $10 to $15 higher in the next few months. If you haven't the money go to your bank and borrow it. But supply yourself with plenty of good clothing. Take it from us that if you buy at our Booster sale you will be getting value received and will be getting good honest merchandise at a very low price. We hope to have the chance of seeing a lot of new faces and of selling many more goods. McKellogg Clo. Co., Plymouth, Ohio. Cash and one price.

Earl C. Bear Gives Up Earthly Labors.
Earl C. Bear, well known here and at Tiro, and a cousin of Mrs. Geo. Gling, on Park avenue, died at his home in Hicksville. Mr. Bear was so highly respected and so intimately connected with the business interests of Hicksville, that we reproduce from the Hicksville Tribune as follows:

Last Thursday afternoon at the family residence on North Main street Earl C. Bear succumbed to a struggle of many months with diabetes, and passed into the Great Beyond.

It had been feared for a long time that fate was against him and that while but in middle life, he would be a victim of it. In this world would soon be over.

His hosts of friends hoped otherwise, and when it was announced that he could not come, a wave of deep regret and sorrow swept over the whole community for miles about.

He came to Hicksville with his family sixteen years ago and engaged in the grain buying business. At once it was realized that our community had made a fortunate acquisition in the way of an energetic and public spirited man.

He took an active interest in all public questions, and was not merely an adviser along these lines, but always set an example along with his precepts.

He was prominent in Mason and Odd Fellow; was a leading and prominent member of the Methodist church; and had served the city both in the capacity of Councilman and Mayor, always with credit to himself and the community.

Perhaps our little city never had a more pleasant and genial man to do business with than Mr. Bear.

He possessed that rare faculty and spirit of paying a bill with the same genial cheerfulness that he collected a bill. This is always hard means to apply to any man, but the deceased measured a hundred per cent under those exact conditions.

A wish in which he was always a pleasure and enjoyed even though it was a business trip and to render a bill. So cheerful and obliging, as well as accurate and accommodating was he, that it was remarked among those whose duty it was to meet him that way, that he was a remarkable exception to the general run of citizens.

He was held in the highest honors among all who came in contact with him and his ideas of progressive and business and social integrity made of him that type of a citizen that any community can ill afford to spare.

The wife and two sons to survive him, have the deepest sympathy of the whole community, as does also the aged mother who survives him.

He was forty years of age and his years were filled with useful and honorable activities.

Kindly memories of him will long linger in our little city—(Hicksville, Ohio, Tribune.)

Letter Written by Omer Woodward.

Our readers will recall Omer Woodward, the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Keel DeWitt, on Trux street, and who has been blind from birth.

He is now in the Institute for the blind, Columbus, taking his second term and has learned to use the type writer.

The letter below was written by Omer, and is so accurately done that it is almost wholly devoid of mistakes in execution.

We are indebted to Clem Bodley for the letter:
School for Blind, Columbus, O. Oct. 14, 1919.

Dear Mother:
I would like to have a box. I am in the third grade and my teacher thinks I am doing very well. My teacher's name is Miss Sylvus. The best room that I sleep in is number seven. How are my dogs and chickens? Are you setting a lot of eggs? Do you think my dog misses me? How does he pass his time? What is my kitty doing? I hope she is all right. Does sister still get the bread? Does she play with the kitty very much? Who feeds the chicken and does all of my chores now? Can I buy a Braille slate? It will cost one dollar. What is father working at now?

Did the cucumbers do any good? I got my suit and my tooth paste. Have you put up any more tomatoes? We have a lot of new boys here. I had a lot of fun yesterday. I got up on the fence and jumped down in the leaves and ran all around the building. I like my new matron real well. I can put on any of my clothes that I want to now. I wish that you would send me some soap. I hope you are all well. How are all of my friends? I have not seen George yet. Have you talked to the doctor any more since you wrote to me? How are my rabbits getting along? How are my banties? Do they get up on the swing and crow like they used to? We have still got the plank swing and the two chain swings that used to be here. We don't have water in the swimming pool any more. I like our superintendent real well. I am going to start in choir today. My teacher, Miss Sylvus has had to go home for a while. Her father died last week. I like it hee pretty well now. We don't have mashing any more. It is raining today. I am feeling all right. I wish you would send me some of your camphor. My table writer's name is Miss Bell. When are you coming to see me? Does sister talk about me every day. Now I think I will have to go to choir. So I will close. With lots of love to you all.

From Omer Woodward.

Jolly-Jingles

By Dudley T. Fisher, Jr.

By sunny shores there used to dwell
A mermaid sweet named Annabelle
Who sat all day upon the strand
(That's just another name for sand)
And combed the seaweed from her hair.
(Don't tziggle, please, it's on the square).
You never saw a fairer face
Or finer figure any place,
'Twas envy of this little queen
That turned the mighty ocean green.
At least the gossips say it's so,
And fish all carry tails you know.
She used to do a turn or two
In Neptune's nine o'clock revue,
And though her voice was worse
Than his
She never failed to make a hit:
Of all of Mother Carey's chickens
Annabelle was choicest pickin's.
And after nearly every show
A dozen jobsters in a row
Would wait to take her out to dine
And stunk a quart or two of brine
(Don't mention this, or, by and by,
They'll want to make the ocean dry)

Now all went well with little Anne
Until, one day, she met a man,
A life-guard swimming far beyond
The ropes they stretch around the pond.
To keep the bathers on the beach
From stepping out beyond their reach.

His name was Alf, a flirt of flirts,
He had a wicked eye for skirts,
And when he spotted Anne, you know,
He tumbled hard and told her so,
And little Annabelle was game
And said she felt about the same.

Alf stuck around all afternoon,
They found a dandy place to spoon
Behind a wave that rocked and swayed
Just like a hammock in the shade,
And when the bell for supper rang
She asked him in to meet the gang.

But when some forty fathoms deep,
He found the going kind o' steep,
"This blowing bubbles neath the sea,"
Said Alf, "is not the job for me
I hate to go but feel I should—
Skidooodle while the doodle's do!"

Poor little mermaid, all alone,
Had left her cold to sob and blink
A mile or more beneath the drink
Without so much as "An revoir!"
Or "call me up, 2-6-0-1"

A sportive cod fish left his play
To brush her salty tears away,
And though it seems beyond belief
A cod could be a handkerchief,
When eating salty cod 'tis well
To think of weeping Annabelle.

Tragedy at Lykens.

Wm. H. McBride, 22, shot and killed his 18 month child Tuesday, blowing its head off while it was in the arms of the mother.
McBride then attempted to shoot his wife, but she grabbed the muzzle of the shot gun, and deflected the remaining load against the ceiling.
He then attempted to club his wife to death with the empty gun, but broke the stock of the gun when he struck the floor as his wife dodged.
He then went up stairs and shot himself in the forehead with a flobert rifle, dying a few hours later.
The young wife, only 19 years old, will live.
McBride became incensed when his wife wanted him to go to work as they needed food. He had been previously in trouble, having stolen an automobile, the theft not being pressed to prosecution. He had been convicted in 1917 of stealing money from Kibler Bros. at New Washington. He was the son of John L. McBride, living between Chatfield and New Washington.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

HURRY, MOTHER! REMOVE POISONS FROM LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

GIVE CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS AT ONCE IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When feverish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs...

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative," they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of California Syrup of Figs, which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle.

CHURCH STREET CHURCH

STANDS DESOLATE IN DESERT

Once Splendid City of Ctesiphon, Now Heap of Ruins, Peopled by Creatures of the Wild.

A few miles south of Baghdad on the banks of the Tigris are the ruins of a once great city—the Ctesiphon of history and romance.

Not to the casual passerby, perhaps, is Church street beautiful, but it has the charm which grows with knowledge.

Great statesman, himself resident in Church street, Chelsen, once said that it was "one of the most interesting streets in the world world!"

Starting at the Queen's Elm, a somewhat grotesque reminder of the famous tree under which Queen Elizabeth took shelter from a storm, and in royal language commanded: "Let this henceforth be called the Queen's tree."

Though little more than a slum, this end of Church street is full of interest.

Almost opposite to the rectory is a low-roofed Georgian building, now used as motor works, once the stables of the old Chelsea stage coaches.

Has Character All Its Own. Crossing the King's road, we come to the more fashionable part of Church street, or to speak accurately, the part which the well-meant efforts of many architects have failed to make fashionable.

How Children of Brittany Were Accustomed to Look Forward to Day of Alsace's Liberation.

How the spirit of loss concerning Alsace-Lorraine has been kept alive in the younger generation in Brittany can be seen from the following story.

Alsace's Liberation. The French boy of six was excessively burling during the war, and he said solemnly of his still smaller sister's dolls that he did not know what might happen should he discover them to be spies.

Practical Girl. He was looking for a chance to pop the question and the girl was not averse.

MAY TRAIN WOMEN FOR ADVANCED SPRING WEAR

Plan to Develop Them Same as Men in War Camps.

Government Cantonnements to Be Used and the Work Extended to Every Part of Country.

Women will be trained in government cantonnements if plans of the United States training corps for women are carried out. The corps, organized for women war workers in Washington...

Admiral Cary T. Grayson will act as medical director of the corps. On the board of directors with Miss Corroff are Surgeon General Rupert Blue, Gen. Knock Crowder, Brig. Gen. J. F. Kerr, Mrs. Bert Lansing, wife of the secretary of state, Miss Mary T. Boardman of the American Red Cross, Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, wife of the secretary of interior, Miss Gertrude Lane, well known magazine editor, and Julius Kahn, chairman of the military affairs committee of the house of representatives.

Permission has been asked of the war department for the use of a part of the cantonnements when they are released from military service for use as training camps where women can be trained as teachers of setting-up, exercises and semi-military drills.

The original training corps in Washington numbered more than 3,500 war-working women. It was organized on the White House lot and the war department detailed 75 army officers to assist Miss Corroff.

The work will be extended to every part of the country modeled after the system which has developed the men in the war training camps, except that it will be made specially suited for the training of women.

In announcing the purpose of the corps, Miss Corroff, its organizer and director, said: "We wish to utilize the knowledge of what the camps have done for men, mentally and physically, and to apply this same knowledge to the conditioning of women while the public mind is quickened to this utility, so that all men and women, the young, the middle-aged, the old, may be given an opportunity to benefit by standard life regularly prepared and under the supervision of competent medical and nursing assistance."

GRACEFUL FOR THE BALLROOM

Table Linen Designs Showing Semi-Barbaric, but Pleasing, Popular in Needlework World.

A vogue for table linen showing the semi-barbaric, but wholly pleasing, designs used by Russian peasants is making itself felt in the needlework world.

For the color, it is usually a monochrome, a dark red, for instance, or a blue, while the background is a loose weave linen. Often they are worked with a punched-work background done with a thread to match the linen.

Some new slips to be worn in these pitiless times are made of silver cloth, very delicate, and sleeveless, of course. Faith, hope and a tiny narrow ribbon across the shoulders keep them in place. Anyway, they are distinctly desirable, as they fall from the shoulders to the knee and serve as camisole and petticoat, too.

One of black shadow lace will be welcomed for wear with the fashionable black evening gown, and one of red Brussels lace is charming for a white dancing frock or for a bride.

Until the laundry situation returns to normal, the cotton crepe undergarment will enjoy deserved popularity. A camisole and a robe de nuit of white cotton crepe make a useful and attractive set.

Some new slips to be worn in these pitiless times are made of silver cloth, very delicate, and sleeveless, of course. Faith, hope and a tiny narrow ribbon across the shoulders keep them in place.

Many of the black gowns are of lace—and sometimes black chintilly is mounted over white satin. This is very distinguished when the lace is new, but chintilly which is an heirloom should never be put over white or any light tint. The old, if rare, lace tears easily, and any mending of the fabric, however delicately done, is unacceptably against the light lining.

It is always best to mount valuable old laces over a "drop" of tulle or to veil the lace frock with tulle if this can be done without spoiling the design and the lace work.

Facts About the Teachers' State Pension Law.

By A. L. Murry, Supt.

The first step that will be taken under the pension law will be the election of the two teacher members of the retirement board. This has been done and the result will be made known this week.

Payments by teachers and boards of education do not begin until September 1920. After that date each teacher who is a member of the system will pay in four percent of his salary, not over $2000, and the boards of education will pay in 5.57 percent of their pay rolls. The amount which boards shall pay will be readjusted from time to time according to the experience of the system.

Any teacher upon separating from the service before he becomes a beneficiary will receive upon request a refund of all he has paid in with four per cent compound interest. Should the teacher die in service such amount will be paid to his heirs.

A teacher who becomes disabled after ten years of service may receive at once a pension of not less than 30 per cent of his average final salary. (Average final salary means the average for the last ten years of teaching.)

A teacher may go on pension after 35 years of service, or at the age of 60 regardless of length of service. The pension would of course be small if the service has been short. After the 35 years of service in Ohio the pension will be not less than $300 per year.

Teachers do not have to make up back payments; although they get credit for the prior service—that is service before September 1920. The pension a teacher gets for service after September, 1920, depends upon the payments made by the teacher and his age upon retirement—he gets twice what his payments and the interest upon them would purchase in annuity. But for the part of service before that date the amount the teacher will get depends on his length of service and his salary—multiply years by 1-1/3 and take that many percent of the final average final salary. The result is the part of the annual pension based upon prior service.

An arrangement may be made at the time the teacher goes to pension which will assure his estate of all remaining equity should he die before the average expectation.

In estimating prior service, a year will be the period the schools were in session within a school year in the given district at the time—even if only six or seven months. Fractions of years may also be counted. Forms will be circulated by the retirement board in time for the statement and proving of the prior service.

The expense of maintaining the system will be borne out of the betterment fund of the district, increasing by an annual assessment on the teachers which must not exceed one dollar.

The funds received must all be invested in public bonds, and all funds and bonds must be deposited with the state treasurer and he must give bond for these securities. The payments made by teachers will be deducted from their salaries and transmitted by the clerk of the board of education to the state board. Each teacher's payment will be kept in an individual account.

Provision is made for the merging of a city system of teacher's pensions.

If a teacher already in a pension system votes for members of the retirement board at the first election held this year, that is regarded as a vote for a merger of his system.

A secretary and the other necessary helpers will be chosen by the retirement board. Some of these will probably be put to work soon after the election of teacher members of the board is held. Forms will have to be prepared, systems records built up, work of proving prior service begun, negotiations with present systems conducted, information distributed to boards of education, retirement tables canvassed and adopted, and much other pioneer work accomplished or at least set afoot.

The election for the teacher members of this system was held last Friday and Saturday throughout the state. The teachers of the Plymouth schools voted last Friday for two members, one which represented the city teachers and the other a county superintendent who represented the rural teachers. Supt. P. C. Zemer of the Mt. Vernon schools and John W. Moore County Supt. of Columbiana county received the vote of eight teachers. But one rural teacher voted. The result was as follows:

| P. C. Zemer | 9 |

The Early Razor Back Hog.

Of all the domestic animals raised by the early settlers, the hog was the least cared for and had the fewest good qualities.

The early settler permitted his hogs to run at large, and the typical razor-back had the speed and strength to escape the wild animals. They were strong in head and neck, with thick skin and tough coat.

Not until the ground was cleared and fenced did the herds improve. The first good breed was the Suffolk, esteemed for its tender flesh and early maturity.

After came the Byfield, Chester, Arkshire and China.

None of these breeds were native. The White hog from China were crossed with the black hog from Italy. The Berkshire came about 1852 and first introduced in Warren county. In 1840 the Poland-China was produced in Butler county. A breed now popular, the Duroc-Jersey, came from New Jersey.

The Poland-China was first called the Magic hog, because first produced by D. M. Magie near Hamilton, Ohio. In 1872 the Swine Breeders Convention, held at Indianapolis, decided to adopt the name of Poland-China, though the Magie was slow in passing out.

Ohio Dogs.

The Ohio dog registration, enacted in 1917 is a failure. A failure because only about one-half the dogs are registered. According to the records there are 65,000 fewer dogs in Ohio in 1919 than there were in 1918.

The failure to register shows a surprising decrease in revenue. Cuyahoga county dropped from $7,000 to $2,000. A few counties made slight gains, but the total receipts are shy.

The dogs went right on destroying property whether registered or not. From July 1918 to July 1919, they killed 27,672 sheep, and the taxpayers had to dig up $296,695 to pay for them. Then the taxpayer went down into his pocket again for $7,222, to pay for damages done by the dogs to other animals.

That's an awful price to pay. If you would throw away the entire receipts of Pike county the loss would not be as great as the damage which the dogs do each year. In other words, we feed all the tax money of Pike county to the dogs every year.

We used to say, that we could take the dog tax, pay his damages and have a tidy sum left for school purposes. Half the counties in Ohio last year did not receive a cent from the dog tax for school purposes.

Marion, Highland, Sandusky, Union, Guernsey, and several other counties are bankrupt so far as the dog fund is concerned. They haven't enough to pay for the sheep the dogs kill.

And the worst of it all is that the greatest damage is done by the out law dogs—those that wear no tags.

HELP KEEP OHIO DRY

Your Dollars Are Needed to Clinch the Victory of Last Year; If You Were in Earnest in Working to Make the State Dry You Should be Doubly in Earnest Now in Keeping it Dry. Send Your Dollars to Make Dry Victory Next Month Certain.

The liquor interests are spending thousands of dollars in an effort to swing Ohio back into the wet column next month. The great national organizations of the liquor forces are pouring men and money into this state to control this year's election. The wets, according to their own affidavit, spent nearly $8,000 in peddling petitions to get their proposals on the ballot. They are now advertising in street cars and newspapers, and the agents of the brewers are at work everywhere.

If Ohio is to be kept dry, men Dry Federation, which is making the fight for the dry. This organization depends on the men and the people to back it morally and financially. There is great need of money in the closing weeks of the campaign to the thousand one things which should and must be done to keep the saloons out of this state. Men and publicity cost money.

We want your help. We need you and you need us. Every man and woman who wants Ohio to remain dry should respond to an appeal for the dollar shower for this purpose. Send your dollar today. Better make it five. What about ten, or more? It is your fight. Stand by the guns and clinch last year's victory. Do not delay. Every dollar will drive a nail into John Barleycorn's coffin lid. We will credit your President with your contribution. Send the money to

What more convincing argument can be adduced for the conserving of natural gas and the prolongation of supply? For when it is no longer available, the cost of cooking by any available substitute fuel will increase from two to eight times the cost of cooking with natural gas.
