

The People's Choice

VOLUME 68 PLYMOUTH, OHIO, THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1919. NO. 33

Why Buy It in the Fair Silver That the S. N. & M. will not be Scrapped.

The S. N. & M. will not be junked. You can write this on the wall, on the mirror, or etch it into the family silver, for the S. N. & M. is so far from the scrap heap that it looks like ready money.

This fact was disclosed in the spirit that characterized the meeting of stock and bond holders held at North Fairfield Monday evening in which about forty participated, and which was attended by Receiver C. G. Taylor, Attorney for the receiver, G. Ray Craig, Norwalk, and Attorney Irving Carpenter, of Norwalk. Present from Plymouth were C. E. Heath, H. F. Root, E. W. Heath, Geo. Sauer and O. A. White.

The meeting was called to order by Clarence Irwin, of North Fairfield, who stated the object of the convention of interested holders, and invited a permanent organization, which was unanimously agreed to.

On the suggestion of Attorney Craig a committee of three was named by chairman Irwin to work matters on the bonds and stock and bond holders living along the line between Norwalk and Shelby, and who hold $83,000 of the road paper.

This committee was named as follows: C. E. Heath, of Plymouth, Jay Wheeler, of Willard, and Wilbur Hoyt of North Fairfield.

This committee has already been supplied with a full list of local holders and it will immediately solicit each one asking for authority of the committee to confer with the bondholders' committee at Pittsburgh, and which is standing sponsor for $370,000 of the road paper.

This Pittsburgh committee is anxious to meet with the local interests, and effect a sale and liquidation of the road paper. The committee will clear the estate of old scores, dissolve the receivership and re-officer the line for an energetic but economic administration.

When we speak of economy we mean no reflection on Mr. Taylor's administration, for he has conducted the road paper business during his administration with an acumen for all concerned, and has paid operating expenses despite the handicap upon his conditions.

Mr. Wilson will be given his old job back at the same pay, while Mrs. Wilson will probably slip on her cover and give the White house the once over. No doubt Mr. Tumulty, the hired man who has the kitchen sink piled full of dirty dishes and the garbage can hasn't been emptied for a month.

We have just been advised by H. W. Ladow, of Kansas City, that while the Advertiser's publicity to B. E. Ladow, Glazier National Park, Montana, until about August 15.

closed the usual dereliction, no books, no attempt at economy, interlocking directorates, in fact the same directorates for the S. N. & M., the Plymouth and Shelby line, and the construction company, and under whose management the lines were constructed leased and buffeted for private interest rather than the interest of local bond holders and the public.

This studied indifference led to the actual costs aggregating twice the actual cost of the road, and makes it practically impossible to pay dividends on the legitimate and deserved stock.

When the whole matter went through the court two years ago at Toledo, the co-fidant of the original promoters and builders was found to be flagrant in the court ordered about $200,000 of bonds held by them charged off and to be no longer an obligation.

It will take a ten per cent assessment on the bonds and stocks to pay the expense of sale, reorganization and present obligations that can not be otherwise wiped out.

Mr. Craig warmly supported the plan of sale and reorganization, and took occasion to say that he knew it was the only way to save interests, and vouched for their sincerity in an effort to join local interests.

The biggest thing Mr. Taylor said was his suggestion to abandon the electrical equipment and substitute gasoline equipped cars. This would do away with power houses, booster plants, poles and overhead trolleys, leaving nothing but rails and road bed.

He further stated that the same number of gasoline cars could be operated at an annual saving of $20,000 over the present expense for electric power. In other words we would save $200,000 a year for power.

Even steam lines are using gasoline locomotive cars, and they pull ten to twelve cars of freight with ease. Full passenger trains are drawn over the roads from central stations to city limits and turned over to steam power.

ing should be called at an early date for both Mr. Craig and Mr. Taylor assures us that the Pittsburgh committee will come here immediately to confer and will bring with it a new name, a new name, a new company, a new name and a new lease of life.

The new organization will no doubt mean the name and Mr. Taylor suggests it should be the Norwalk, Plymouth and Shelby line. The old name is misleading, Sandusky and Mansfield are in no wise interested. The old Plymouth and Shelby line, should be embraced in the new deal and the federal court has held that this may be included providing stockholders therein are rewarded on the same basis as those of the old S. N. & M.

This would get away from dual relations now existing and which entails separate reports and the maintenance of an expensive staff. We are in favor of a name that will read Norwalk, Plymouth and Shelby.

Shelby could accommodate themselves, but the Norwalk, Plymouth and Shelby line could not readjust herself. The abandonment would mean her early decadence, and since she is the best, for she has the best, we must all touch shoulders, for her and Steuben and New Haven.

The committee of which Mr. Hoyt is chairman, and Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Hoyt are associate members, should get in touch immediately with the local stock and bond holders. A meeting should be called at an early date for both Mr. Craig and Mr. Taylor assures us that the Pittsburgh committee will come here immediately to confer and will bring with it a new name, a new company, a new name and a new lease of life.

Pretty soon the Prince of Wales will come to America. We are trying to acquaint you with this prospective royal guest, for no doubt the press will have something to say daily about his movements and the entertainments arranged for his pleasure and amusement.

His father, the King, is taking more or less interest in the Prince since war's end. He has decided that the Prince should have his own residence in New York. St. James the home of his boyhood days has been selected.

Except that it lacks a garden and a garage, York House is regarded as an admirable residence. Decorators are now preparing it for the prince, who will move in about August. His household will not be large.

York House formerly was the property of the King of Hanover, who refused to let Queen Victoria have it. But after his death she was able to offer it to the widowed Duchess of Cambridge. Subsequently the house was occupied by the Duke of Clarence and the present king and queen. Its most recent occupants have been the late Lord Kitchener and Sir William Robertson.

Since the armistice the Prince of Wales has been very much in the public eye, and his activities are diversified. He made a speech in the ring at the National Sports Club after the Will-North contest, being introduced by Lord Londale, the chief figure of the British sporting world. He spoke also at the dinner of the Royal Academy on the eve of the opening of the annual exhibition which was attended by a great gathering of notables.

He has been initiated into the Free Masons, following in the footsteps of his grandfather, King Edward, his great-grandfather the Duke of Connaught, and has become an honorary member of two of the old city trade guilds.

Recently the Prince of Wales flew over London in an airplane piloted by one of the most daring army flyers, and looped the loop over the city. He was on the program of stunts, which have begun to discourage since the end of hostilities.

Walt Mason, the Kansas bard, run his fingers up through his hair, burn mane and then dashed off the Backward Turn backward! oh Time in your flight, and give us a girl whose skirts aren't tight. Give us a girl whose eyes are blue, though a few are not all revealed by the peek-a-boo. Give us a girl no matter what age, who won't give us a girl whose hair is brown, stage. Give us a girl not too sharply in view; and don't dress her in skirts that the sun shines through.

Death of O. O. Garrett.

Oryelle O. Garrett died Saturday evening last at his home near New Haven, aged 46 years. Deceased was unmarried and he leaves a mother and sister with whom he made his home.

Putting Up a Clean Front.

The front of the Advertiser office has been improved by the application of a coat of Hanna's white paint. Carl Jacobs is the artist, and he's doing it exactly right. Another coat will be applied before the week is over then we are all dressed up for the summer.

Awry Beach.

It was a great morning long to be remembered, when Steel's Midway Plane started for Ryeburn. The crew consisted of Steel, accompanied by Miss Elma Becher and Miss Verda Trauger, together with a small grocery department and household furnishings. The plane guided by Mr. Al Steele, landed at White Cap Annex No. 1 at 5:10 a. m. Sunday.

The girls enjoying this treat of a life time are, Misses Loretta Brown, Sylvia Leck, Lavonia Sheely, Edna and Eleanor Lofland, Beulah and Beatrice Blosser, Florence Hills and Alice Lybarger. Our eats bought in Plymouth are tasty. Breezes and dark brown complexion free to all.

Equity Exchange Improvement. The Plymouth Equity Exchange Co. is making a new improvement in the office section of its elevator. The old gasoline engine that has been removed, and on the cement base now stands the big safe, once the property of The Peoples National Bank. The machinery is now run by motor.

Fifty-nine On Sunday Excursion.

The B. & O. excursion to Cedar Point pulled into Plymouth Sunday morning with eleven coaches crowded to standing room only. Fifty-nine boarded the train here, which was considered by Agent Ruckman as a good sale. Good time was made and returning train arrived 7:35 p. m.

Returned From Overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, of Washington, returned from their recent trip to Europe. They are expected to go direct home, thus skipping the delousing precaution at Camp Merritt, also Camp Sherman.

Mr. Wilson will be given his old job back at the same pay, while Mrs. Wilson will probably slip on her cover and give the White house the once over. No doubt Mr. Tumulty, the hired man who has the kitchen sink piled full of dirty dishes and the garbage can hasn't been emptied for a month.

Yes, there's going to be a Chamber of Commerce meeting on Friday evening July 18. It is taking a chance on a cool evening, but the new dishes are here and the membership wants to take a peek at the china.

Besides there's a man over in Mansfield who will come over and talk to us for a thirty minutes. This thirty minute limitation is established because there is some important business to be transacted, and the further back the mid summer speech should not have undue length.

This man who will make this thirty minute address is a Captain. He earned his title in the Spanish-American scrap. He was also the one time secretary of the one time Senator Dick, and who would now be a member of the lower house if Martin L. Davey, of Kent, hadn't beaten him to it.

This man who is to talk for thirty minutes to the boys of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce is a member of the Mansfield chamber. He's just a shade more than a member, he's the secretary of Mansfield chamber.

So we will all gather around the linen on Friday evening July 18, and eat ice cream, drink tea, cold lemonade, sip mellow Havanna, listen to the orchestra, then a song, then thirty minutes of fervency, then a business session.

The hay is in the stack or mow. The wheat is in the sheaf. The farmer's not so busy now. That's because the harvest of the crop is bag and bumper wheat. So let us from our labor, rest. For a thirty-minute treat.

Lights will shed cherry glow. The music will be sweet. The drink as cold as polar snow. So never mind the heat. Besides the night may bring a breeze. As cool as Autumn's night. But hot or cold, come listen, please. To this thirty minute flight.

We are under obligations to the good pastor of the First Lutheran church. We need not say how, or when, nevertheless he did us a favor for which we are profoundly grateful. We doubt if we could have walked and carried the door, and toted the load without great discomfort and much wear and tear on our new oxfords. By way of further substantial acknowledgment we hope to place on the ministerial dining room mahogany a hunting case, pie, ten inches in diameter, with the circumference all beautifully pieced, with a few dicos cut curved like in the center. These facial decorations, with their edges beautifully stained with the rich fruit juices, will present an appetizing picture, when he gets it.

Balm For The Dishwasher.

We have never held with those who think dishwashing a dreary and sordid task, according to Collier's. Give us plenty of hot water, plenty of some abrasive soap and a couple of clean cloths and we will tackle the debris of the evening meal with keen and joyment. After a long day at the office it is delightful to steep one's hands in hot dishwater (which acts as an excellent febrifuge for the brain and a tonic for weariness of the body) and pass through the purifying and happily gestures of ablution and wiping. These simple tasks of the hand always induce a pleasant and domestic train of thought. We must have plenty of hot water, but always use cold water on any utensils where eggs have been broken. Heat hardens the yolk, and boiling water poured upon an egg-meatened plate will so softify and solder the juices that it will take sandpaper to remove them.

If any husband should ever protest against being asked to wash the dishes let his wife refer him to II Kings, 21:13.

One Dollar Tells Truth.

State Auditor, Vic Donahay, states that on March 4, 1919, there were 370 National Banks in Ohio, with total deposits of $763,258,000.00. State Inspector of Building and Loan Associations, James A. Divine, states total deposits in Ohio Building and Loan Associations June 30, 1918, were $116,148,776.00. State Superintendent of Banks P. C. Berg stated that on April 12, 1919, Ohio had 609 state banks and 172 private banks, with total deposits of $956,870,324.00. Total in all National, State and Private banks and Building and Loan Associations in Ohio, $1,888,077,100.00. State Tax Commission's report for 1917 shows total cash listed for taxes $226,831,000. There are several million dollars in pocket-books, socks, stockings, money drawers, cash registers, and in other places not included in above total deposits. The total cash in Ohio is easily over $2,000,000,000. It is doubtful whether one dollar in nine tells the truth and gets on the tax list. What should be done with the dollars that lie

Mansfield's Fourth of July Accidents.

Mansfield was particularly unfortunate in tragedies on the Fourth. Five people gave their lives on a deadly grade crossing when a flyer on the Pennsylvania struck a loaded automobile enroute to a bible school picnic held near Yanketown school house. They were Martin Meyers, 54, of Mansfield, driver and owner of the car. Rev. H. A. Addington, 35, of Pittsburgh, Pa. Mrs. A. B. Fogleson, 36, of Cleveland. Miss Alice Jones aged 14, of Cleveland.

Richard Otto, 38, of Cleveland. The injured were: Miss Lillian Myers, Mansfield, arm lacerated and internal injuries. Miss F. E. Micky, Alexandria, Pa., right arm fractured. Miss Agnes Welland, Pittsburgh, right hip fractured, internal injuries.

Reported that the crossing gates were open at the East Fourth street crossing where the accident occurred, and the watchman, George Bassett is under arrest. He allowed the auto to pass unsignalled, to be caught squarely on the track. His defense is that he had no signal from the gateman above, who, so it is reported, was sprinkling the lawn and allowed the train to pass his crossing unheeded.

Roy B. Gardiner, pilot for the Mansfield Air Service, fell 150 feet with his plane and received slight injury. His mechanic, Ernest Price, escaped without injury. The plane had just taken the air for Ashland where it was scheduled to give exhibition. The engine stalled when about 150 feet in the air, turning over and crashing to earth.

Sharon Township Absent.

The Sharon township soldier boys who were entertained at the big dinner at Mansfield yesterday wish to thank the Jackson township ladies and others for furnishing them their meal yesterday, and also Sam Stroup and Mr. Winbigger for arranging for their eats. Each township was supposed to feed its own soldiers and the Mansfield people were to furnish the tables. The Sharon township table was there and a large sign pointed it out, but there were no eats there for some reason or other. A few Sharon township ladies from the northern part were there but they had gone with the Plymouth township ladies in much as this township was not solicited. The soldier boys from here are very grateful to the other townships who kindly fed them.—Globe.

Hamlet Up-To-Date.

To sign or not to sign? That is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer The slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles, And, by opposing, end them? Ja! but how? To die? Ach, nein! To sleep, and say we end The heart ache and the thousand natural shocks Our state is heir to? 'Tis a consummation Devoutly to be wished. To sleep! Ach! ju! To sleep! perchance to dream—ay, there's the rub! For in that sleep of death what dreams may come Of Foch and Yankees numberless and wild And Bolshheviki and vixens here at large These make us ruder bear those ills we have Than to fly to others we know not of. Thus conscience doth make cowards of us all And thus the native hue of reason Is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought. Ach! Himmell what to do? etc, etc.

Obituary.

Fred Coykendall was born at Plymouth, Ohio, Oct. 3, 1871, and died June 15, 1919, aged 47 years, 6 months and 6 days, after an illness of three weeks. He spent his entire life at the old Coykendall home, where he died, and for the last few years has had entire charge of the mill. Since the death of his parents he has lived by himself at the old home rather than live elsewhere. Fred was kind in disposition and surely charitable as those who knew him will testify. He had many friends and his presence will be sadly missed in the community.

Banks Take No Chances.

Cleveland banks are taking no chances of loss by payroll robbers. When large sums of money are delivered from the banks, it is locked in a safe, which is locked in a wagon and guarded all the way to its destination.

Cold Storage Eggs.

Dairy and Food Commissioner, Thos. C. Gault, says: "Ohio has licensed 46 cold storage plants for eggs. The largest at Washington C. H. in Franklin Co. Girceville and Menton. An egg can stay in storage ten months if the temperature is 40 or colder. Fertile eggs germinate at 70 degrees. April is the best month to store eggs. Swat the rooster. Fertile eggs cost Ohio a heavy penalty.

Here Happiness Is.

How You Gonna Keep 'Em on the Farm; queries a recent "popular" song, which in words, sentiment and music is about on a par with the average "popular" song; that is, some degrees below absolute artistic zero.

But this, painting the delights of Broadway, and considering the farm as a cold storage plant for all joy, is popular in the crowded centers.

And has a reflection on the mind of the growing generation that bids fair to make us an urban nation.

The truth is that farmers' children generally have more reason to be happy, and are, than any city child.

Childhood loves the outdoors; it loves growing things, and animals, and going barefoot, and fishing with a bent pin, and shooting rabbits and mothering kittens instead of dolls.

Any boy would rather have a dog than go to a movie. Any girl would prefer a pet lamb to a kewpie doll.

The farm boy who has his own saddle horse, and his own little drove of pigs, and his own herd of heifers, has more to keep him happy than any city child can have, and the farmer who is a wise father will see to it that his children become partners with him at an early age.

City minded juvenies who must breathe coal soot to be comfortable, who must feel hot asphalt shoes, who must have a movie theaterman a day or watch an animal, such youths will be of no value on the farm, nor anywhere else, until they have learned the art of living rationally, simply and, therefore, happily.

Woman Framed.

Told by an Upper Sandusky traveling spectacle vender that she had a contract forming on one eye, and that correction of the difficulty required expensive lens. Mrs. William Caris, of Kaler avenue, was inveigled into paying $50 for a pair of ordinary glasses. Friday, says Saturday's Bucyrus Telegraph.

When the deal came to the ears of relatives, C. C. Heller and F. M. Laah, of this city, and Dr. W. A. Crum, of Caledonia, jumped into a car and "beat it" for the Pennsylvania railroad station to head off the man. They caught him.

"We want that $50 and want it now," they told the vender.

"Trembling all over the vender dug up the fifty.

"Anything else, gentlemen," quivered the vender.

"No, you can go now," they told him.

Squirrel Hunting, Time Limited.

The new game law goes into effect September 5. It provides that squirrels may be hunted from Aug. 20 to Sept. 20, but as the law is not in effect until the middle of that period the first fifteen days are lost to the hunter this year. The former time for hunting the squirrel was from Sept. 15 to Oct. 20.

Flirting With Bill's Girl

Oh, have you seen the little green
That's stepping out with Bill?
She's neat and sweet and quite complete
In every tuck and frill
She leads poor Bill a merry chase,
He's always up a tree
D'you s'pose I'd want a girl like that?
Well, try me out and see.

She spends enough on clothes and stuff
To raise the national debt
Bill's always broke from buying "coke"
And candy for his pet.
And people say she's rather gay,
I wouldn't doubt it's true.
D'you s'pose she makes a hit with me?
Oh man, I'll say she do.

Now on the beach she's sure a peach
If she don't learn to float
Upon her back it's not for lack
Of teachers. Bill's the goat
Who idly sits with folded mitts
Until it's time to go.
D'you s'pose I'd teach her how to swim?
Why, surest thing you know.

She surely has a crase for jazz,
Most every night I guess
She shimmys Bill around until
The boy's a perfect mess
Now my girl's stout and sits 'em out
As portly people should
D'you s'pose I'd trade my girl for Bill's?
Well I should say I would.

One night when Bill was out of town
And I was home alone
Without a care to keep me there
She called me on the phone.
She said that she was lonesome, gee,
She missed her loving kid.
D'you s'pose I tried to take his place?
You bet, your life I did.

The night was warm, the porch was dark.
The swing was made for two.
I held her hand (you understand
Because you've done it too)
A little sigh, a dreamy eye,
My arm about her slid.
D'you s'pose we cheated poor old Bill?
Oh boy, you know we did—

Webb's Annual Report of Courts.

Departing Aliens.

Governmental agents have already listed a million and a quarter "Americans" of foreign birth, who are ready to sail for the "home land" as soon as the ships can take them.

It is estimated that these tourists, for they were only visitors among us, will take back $4,000,000,000 of this nation's money.

Fair enough; we can produce wealth more easily than we can produce patriotism in the hearts of a million foreigners, who yearn for the homeland.

Probably there are a few million more who would go if they had the price. It would be cheaper for Uncle Sam to give them the price of their exit, and keep giving it until there were none here with divided aspirations, or sundered loyalty.

But this thing we can do; shut the gates when they swing to let these immigrants out, and see to it that they don't return to gather another four billion to send or take across the seas.

America is no longer a pleasure resort for the rehabilitation of European paupers.

We still have room for earnest men, who accept our government and who desire to become a loyal part of it so long as they do live; but those who come from over the seas and are on our must understand that this is a place to stay and grow up in, not merely a tenting place for a night.

We have one on our left, despite a hundred years of looting by aliens, for the prosperity of our own people.

We haven't one thin dime remaining for unregenerated immigrants who abide with us for a season, and then depart, to be followed by another hungry horde of bloodless parasites.

Good-bye you million aliens, keep going.

If you spill your milk and splatter Clean it up.

If your bottles break and scatter Clean them up.

No one likes to follow after. To clean the mess midst jeer and laughter.

You're the guy that made the mess. Then clean it up.

Hard Coal

Get your orders in for your winter's supply. If you don't order you will have no coal.

Kentucky Splint

Extra good, worked over 5 in. shaker screen, and very low in sut and ash.

Pocahontas

In lump and egg, or in run of mine. This is real Pocahontas, but to get it we must have your order.

Peacock Coal

Over 4 inch shaker screen. You know that Peacock is one of the best mined, but we must have your order. Give it now.

Farmer Up To Date.

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Sellers are the proprietors of Buckley Valley Farm, Somerset, Perry County, Ohio. They have printed letter-heads which carry a good picture of an up-to-date farm home. Good barn, out buildings, good fences. Everything painted. The letter-head carries the name of both husband and wife. They specialize in Delaine Marina sheep, Duroc hogs, improved Leaning corn. Both are Grange workers. The next time they get letter-heads printed they will probably add the name of the bank at which they do business. Somerset is the old home town of General Phil Sheridan. The Advertiser will print yours. Ask us about it.

Military defenses came in generals,—the fort and the fortress. The latter is feminine because no one knows how to take it.

Least You Forget.

Least auto drivers forget and slow down unnecessarily, we are again calling attention to the new speed law which permits fifteen miles in congested districts, twenty miles in resident sections, and thirty miles in the open country. You must not be less, however, at any speed for it is written into the new law that if you are not exceeding the limit, you must exercise care, you will be found guilty if indifference is proven, even though you are driving within the limit.

Send It In.

If you have a bit of news, Send it in; Or a joke that will amuse. —Send it in; A story that is true, An incident that's new, We want to hear from you, —Send it in; Never mind about your style, If it's only worth the while, —Send it in.

Some poetry is like hash. The composition is so much a mystery that it defies investigation.

Books are the first thing affected by financial panics. The pocket book is the first to feel.

The reason some people do not take vacations is because they are lonesome away from their work.

If there was a race on between the brotherhood of man and the sisterhood of women, which would you place your money.

The path of success in business is invariably the path of common sense.

A letter came to us by mail Monday addressed "The Advertiser, on the Square, near Chatham. Thus is Chatham known and made secure. It pays to advertise."

We've heard so much, and read so much about revolutions, that we can't go to sleep with our rolling over about a million times. Resulting seems to be world's happiest diversions now-a-days.

Transportation is making headway. Witness the delivery of telegrams, the Tribune and Chicago and New York papers by airplane.

Views from the top of the bell to the finish left Toledo at 5:15 p. m. arriving at the landing field in Chicago, 244 miles, at 7:53 p. m.

Seven minutes later they were in the offices of the Tribune and Herald-Examiner, in time to appear in the Saturday morning issues.

If the circumstances demand we can figure now that one city is just a mile a minute apart so far as transportation goes. As a matter of course the flight status is already in Chicago, and in line-type slug, but what a newspaper wants is a photographic story to accompany the text, and the flight steps in and delivers the product of the camera in time for the special or succeeding regular issue.

This is Real Comedy.

Pilot Alecock, who flew across the Atlantic recently said in the presence of a nest of reporters that "they had a lot of hail on the way over." The English Alecock drove his "it" and made it sound "it." The Associated Press sent the news world wide that the pilot and his aid were refreshed on the trip with ale, and you've seen it in print dozens of times.

Fact is they had no ale, no place to store ale, and couldn't have drunk it if they had. Thus prohibitionists may now be quiet, and the home rule association will have to strike from their records the statement that the flight could not have been made without the aid of stimulants.

The Fight.

The fight is all summed up in a few sentences. The fans were sore. The show was not worth the price paid, nor the punishment endured in sitting under a scorching sun on a hot pine board, for hours that it might see nine minutes of fight that had no contention worth the name.

Willard when he can see to travel will go back to his home with a cool one hundred thousand dollars, for it took that much of a flat pledge to induce him to defend the title. He will add this amount to the two hundred thousand already accumulated, and about all you'll hear of Jess hereafter will be in the investment columns. He's a money snatcher. He never had beyond a living until he won over Johnson at Havana four years ago, and the roll looked so good to him that he hasn't done anything but add to it ever since.

He wasn't popular with the sports. They like a spender like Willard just settled down and lived a sort of home life. Now they will hate him worse than ever, but Jess would work a lot better than a quarter million he can stand for slams at his conduct better than he could endure the punches at his anatomy.

Dempsey is just stepping into his fortune. He got only a little pin money, $27,500, but his opportunity to work half a year stands up. There's the movies, the vaudeville, the exhibition bouts, and the defense of the title. He was a candidate by Seneca County, he may get one. If he does it will mean a snug sum for Dempsey. If he gets licked he'll get the dirt and the meal ticket will be fully punched.

Questions and Answers.

Q.—Name the territories of the United State?—H. M.
A. Alaska and Hawaii.

Q.—Is Empress Eugenie, wife of Louis Napoleon III, living?—R. C.
A. Yes, Empress Eugenie, widow of Louis Napoleon III, lives at Farnborough, England. She is now 83 years old.

Q.—Why is Death Valley, in California, so called?—A. A.
A. Name is derived from the fact that in 1849 a party of pioneers perished there from thirst. It is one of the hottest and driest places in the United States.

HAMLET PARAPHRASED
By Col. Riggs.

TO harvest,
OR not to harvest,
THAT'S the question.
WHETHER it is better
TO sit and write
IN a stuffy office.
OR go out in the
OPEN
WHERE the heat
IS raging
AND where a coat of sunskint tan
JS fitted akin tight.
WHETHER it is better to
WADE the stubble and
SHOCK a million sheaves
OR hug the shade and
THEREBY avoid a stroke
THAT sun and heat portends
AH, there's the rub. For
WHAT if prostration came,
AND with it long days,
AND weeks, and maybe
MONTHS of pain,
AND all because you
CRAVED a breath of ozone
AND a chance to help
TO garner a bumper crop.
BUT age is ours. We may
BE nimble, on the square,
And push the graphite
WITH the zest that marked
THE early twenties,
BUT labor in the open
HAS not been ours
FOR ten and thirty
YEARS,
AND one brief hour in
A shimmering heat, goaded
ON by the brawn that's
USED to it,
MIGHT mean a pendant
FROM the door latch,
MIGHT mean music and

FLOWERS, and a saddened
SPEECH. Might mean an
Absence from friends,
AND a whereabouts
UNCHARTED. Uncharted did
WE say?
YES, for friends in flesh
DO not care to follow
Beyond the brink of
SEPULCHER, therefore
THEY speak in guarded
TERMS when discussing
DESTINATION.
METHINKS that we will make
THE day in Nimmons' field
THE last of current season.
TWAS Monday last when
WE went out with Robert
HUGH.
THE day was cool, and
THE task of shocking
TWO to Robert's one
WAS not sufficient to INVITE a sweat. The
LAUNDRIED collar that we WORE stood up at
EVENTIDE unwilted and
UNSOILED.
WE came to town unwearied,
MUCH because a day
WITH Bob is
A season with a kindred
SPIRIT.
AND worth the grief of
TOIL to be enjoyed.
THUS with the loan
OF brawn and toil
TO Bob on Monday
LAST, we close the
BOOK till nature
DOTH another harvest
GROW and bid us garner.

Special Rates For State Fair.

One and one-half fare for the round trip from points in Ohio to the state fair, the last week in August, will be the rate railroads will put into effect, E. V. Walborn, manager of the Buckeye position, has been notified by the United States railroad administration.

Tickets at this rate will be sold from August 24 to 29, with a return limit to reach the original starting point not later than midnight Aug. 31. Granting of this reduced fare is expected to swell attendance at the fair.

Manager Walborn has been notified also that articles for exhibition at fairs under public auspices, except autos, airplanes, horses for races or bucking contests or trained horses or other animals, used for other than exhibition purposes, when exhibited at only one such exposition, will be hauled to the fair at fall tariff rates but will be returned free if shipped back within 30 days after the close of the show.

When certain requirements are complied with exhibition articles when moving over a circuit of fairs, will be carried at one-half of the regular tariff rates. Railroads announce. Special rates will not have been made for live stock "cheap" valuable for breeding, racing, show purposes or other special uses.

Evidence of Unfitness.

It appears that the commission of Filipinos which was sent to this country to urge the granting of independence to the Philippines wants a great deal more than self-government. They want the release of the Philippines from the supervision under which their government now is, and then to assure them of protection in case they should be threatened with aggression from any source. They want a protectorate without allegiance to the protecting power. This demand is good evidence that the Philippines are not yet fit for self-government. A nation intelligently comprehending the duties and responsibilities as well as the rights and privileges of self-government would not make such demands.—Albany Journal.

Richland County's welcome of her returned soldier was a success in attendance and program, including the fine music.

by the women of the various townships. Plymouth township was present in goodly number, and with her baskets filled, Barney Purvis was the man of the hour, he having in charge the organization that brought the baskets from the rural districts.

The three trials of Walter O. Bigham will cost Seneca county $2,741.50. The fees for witnesses an mileage were $1783 for the three trials. The fees for taking the deposition of William Fulk was $112.40 and the sheriff's office fees were $297.21 and for summoning jurors $303.10. This does not include the expense incurred by the defendant in the employment of attorneys and other items, which of course will not be paid by the county.

Royal Neighbors.

There will be a meeting of Royal Neighbors Friday evening of this week. This will be the only meeting in July, and important business demands a full attendance.

Why not buy a Burt and Packard shoe when it is the best in Plymouth. Did you ask Mr. Buecy at McKellogg's?

The following is gleaned from the Sandusky Soldiers' Home adjutant's annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30: There were 148 deaths, of which 83 were given burial in home cemetery, while 85 bodies were shipped elsewhere by relatives or friends of the deceased. The number of discharge was 292. Of the total membership of the home there were on that date 994 civil war comrades, 81 Spanish Americans, 7 Indian war, 2 Mexican border, 2 Mexican war and 1 world war veteran making a total of 1,088. During the year there was a gain of 21 members and a corresponding loss of 446, making a net loss of 69.

Why not lighten your labor on the farm?

Why not save much of your time?

The men folks buy anything they need that is time and labor saving.

The family washing comes every week. It is no small task to wash a heap of soiled clothing.

No woman should be asked to wash and rub by hand, no more than the man should be asked to swing the old fashioned cradle in wheat harvest.

The wash board is just as much out of date as the old grain cradle.

For a little money we will sell you a United Washer and engine to run it, and you can sit by and let the power do the work.

Besides you can use the engine for a lot of other farm uses.

The United Washer will last a life time, and the up-keep and expense to run costs no more than the soap you use.

A self binder stands idle 50 weeks out of the 52. Yet the man does not hesitate to buy.

The United Washer is straight 52 times a year, and costs less, much less.

Come in and talk it over.

WOULD NOT FIGHT THOUGH A HERO

Conscientious Objector Now Under Guard is Loved by His Fellows.

Bravery on Battle Front

Attended the Wounded and Saved the Fighting Men While the Battle Raged—His Fellow Soldiers Declare He Deserves the D. S. C.

New York—Richard Sterheim is under guard at Camp Dix as a conscientious objector who refused to bear arms in France.

Yet companions who fought by his side in the 79th division view that Sterheim is one of the bravest men in the entire division.

Sterheim is a member of Company D, 315th Infantry. He lives in Ingham, a small town, some miles north of Pittsburgh. He is twenty-seven years old, stands five feet five inches tall, and is built on massive lines.

bearing on his sturdy shoulders a big can of water which he doled out to the thirsting men.

He carried ammunition up to the front line and rations, too. In short, there was not a deed which would help his fellow fighters, with the exception of fixing a gun, that Sterheim did not perform; and always cheerfully and with superhuman courage. So say his fellows one and all.

"It's this way," said Sterheim. "There is no man that is a man who would desert; his fellows when they are in trouble. So of course I helped them. I saw a good many of my friends dropping around me, dead and wounded. That made me feel pretty good. I didn't make me mad as the fellows we were fighting. I regarded it as simply a matter of war. The fellows in the other trenches couldn't help being there any more than we could. We were trying to kill our men just as they were trying to kill me. No, I don't feel any more resentment against the fellows who shot me down than I had before."

Other Heroic Deeds. A sergeant of his company was shot down in No Man's Land. Despite shell and machine gun fire, Sterheim walked out alone to where the sergeant lay, stopped for him for a moment, and then returned.

"He's dead," there's no use," Sterheim reported. "But if you want me to I'll go out again and bring him in." He held his companion's foot while pulling strenuously at a log half-buried in the trench. An ordinary man is exposed from the chest up when he stands erect in a trench, and Sterheim looms far above the ordinary man.

"Hey!" shouted his friends, "get away from there! You're to be shot."

"No," he replied, "this log will make a peach of a support if you dug out."

So several of the boys helped him pull the log out, and because of enemy machine gun fire it took them more than two hours to carry the log 50 yards.

"And believe me, boys, that was some dugout he built," an admirer chirped in.

By reason of his skill as a carpenter Sterheim was the official dugout builder of the regiment.

All Sorts of Helpful Service. They say that Sterheim's willingness to serve his friends, bound their wounds, buried the dead, and always helped the wounded.

And he was never without food and water for men in fearsome positions where food and the most lion-hearted would freeze or creep.

His fellows all declare that Sterheim deserves the Distinguished Service Cross and all kinds of honors for his bravery under fire.

In this mood he registers impatience and irritation, his attitude being: "Don't talk about what I've done; the ones that did something should get the honors."

With shells bursting everywhere, machine guns spluttering lead on every side, men falling wounded and dying, Sterheim, the man who refused to fire a shot because of religious scruples, exposed himself through it all.

Feeding of birds usually should only be done after storms or during severe weather," says Mr. Dale.

SCOUTS

SCOUTS ARE NOT FOR SALE

Another letter received at national headquarters suggests a criticism. This letter states:

"It is an unfortunate fact that some business houses do not have some plan to offer for using our organization to sell goods."

It is an unfortunate fact that so many men have failed to understand that the ideal of service wrought into the boy scout movement is entirely free of the spirit of gain.

The scout good turn which takes on so many forms and has even risen to the high plane of national service in the time of war cannot be bought.

It is not devised to help increase the gains of any person or business or institution. It is helpfulness outside of the field of commercialism.

If a boy scout does any one of the many honorable things a boy can do for business concerns and for other to earn money, he does it as a boy, not as a boy scout.

BOY SCOUTS TO FEED BIRDS.

The first 38 troops (there are 129 troops) were organized on Oct. 19, 1919, by Troop No. 1, Los Angeles Boy Scouts of America, in honor of Theodore Roosevelt.

Some Stunts by the Scouts.

Wheeling W. Va. has approximately 100 scouts who successfully cultivated war gardens.

Forty-five scouts of the Liberty Bonds in Ohio county, were secured by the scouts.

BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio—"I inferred from newspaper, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get up. I tried to go to work, and as I had four in my family I was obliged to make it every hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. BABA SWAN, R. No. 1, Portsmouth, Ohio.

 Dad—Is that the way to ask for it?
 Bob—Please.
 Bill—What's there got to be a world for?
 Dad—If there weren't any world there wouldn't be any world series.
 Bill—What's a series?
 Bob—I know. It's when you don't laugh and somebody says, Why are you so serious?
 Bill—Is that right?
 Dad—That's near enough.
 Bill—Will I ever grow up to be a giant?
 Dad—I hope not?
 Bill—Why not?
 Dad—There are no giants here.
 Bill—Where are there any?
 Dad—In New York.

The Coffee Market.

There's something the matter with the coffee market. Some one is profiteering with a vengeance, and it is a dirty shame that the merchants can find no way to bring the guilty up with a jerk and a big stiff fine. Brazil is loaded with coffee. She says her wharves are stacked high with the berry, and so cheap that two pounds for a quarter is the prevailing price for a better grade than America is using. They want to sell it, for the coffee market has been slack during all the war years. Brazil says coffee merchants can buy now for less per pound than in years before, yet the price in America is now above the 50c per pound with $1.00 predicted. The rubies and the sapphires may make unholly profits. Why is it that a government with power to citizen the world can not protect its citizen from hold ups. Big business pleads with the government for privileges, and when entrenched do nothing but bid the masses white.
 If a Republican congress wants to do something that will give them a real-for-goodness standing with the people it could take a week to do what the Democrats are hammering the League of Nations for a year.

Galion is one city which is experiencing the effect of prohibition. The number of passengers for the cars journeyed to Galion on the Big Four from Cardington, Mt. Three Things Held Him.

I once met a scholar, says Bishop Whipple, who told me that for years he had read every book that he could which assailed the religion of Jesus Christ, and he said he would have become an infidel but for three things:
 "First, I am a man. I am going somewhere. Tonight I am a day nearer the grave than I was last night. I have read all such books that I can tell me. They shed not one solitary ray upon the darkness. They shall not take away the only guide and leave me stone blind.
 "Second, I had a mother. I saw her go down the dark valley where I am going, and she leaned upon an unseen arm as calmly as a child going to sleep on the breast of its mother. I know that this was not a dream.
 "Third, I have three motherless daughters," and he said it with tears in his eyes. "They have no protector but myself. I would rather kill them than to leave them in this sinful world if you blot out from it all the teachings of the Gospel."

Obituary.

Orville O. Garrett, the oldest son of Cyrus Garrett, deceased, and Margaret E. Roush, was born at Shelby, Ohio, Jan. 11, 1872. Died July 5, 1919 aged 46 years, 5 months and 24 days. He leaves to mourn his departure a mother, brother, William A. and sister, Mattie, all of New Haven. The deceased spent the greater part of his life in New Haven, having resided 21 years on the present farm. He was a Past Grand of the New Haven Lodge No. 41, I. O. O. F., and was treasurer of the order at the time of his death; also, clerk of the New Haven township school board. He bore his sickness patiently, and will be sadly missed in his home and in the community. Funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the residence. Burial in Maple Grove cemetery, Rev. W. F. Neff, conducting. Some day we say and turn our eyes toward the fair hills of Paradise. Some day, some time a sweet new rest; Shall blossom flower-like, in each breast. Some day, sometime, our eyes shall see. The faces kept in memory. Some day their hands shall clasp our hand. Just over in the morning land. Card of Thanks. We wish to express our sincere thanks for the flowers, sympathy and kindness shown us by neighbors, friends, and relatives, the Maccahees, I. O. O. F., and all other comforts sent to cheer and help us during the illness and at the death of our dear son and brother, Wm. A. Garrett, those who so kindly placed their machines at our disposal and especially do we thank the Rev. W. F. Neff for his comforting words, and also to express our appreciation of the beautiful music rendered. Mrs. C. J. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Garrett, Miss Mattie Garrett. Out of town relatives and friends attending the funeral of O. O. Garrett were: Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Jenny, of Shenandoah, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Long, of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. THE JULY CLEARANCE SALES

Starts Tuesday, JULY 15th at 8:30 A. M.

Here are Sales—real Sales, each one offering you exceptional value because it is made up of odd lots, accumulated stocks, discontinued lines or broken sizes.

Here are garments which must be sold at a sacrifice because of seasonableness. In some cases they are mussed from handling in others they are one-of-a-kind styles, but all are of a guaranteed quality and dependable.

You won't get "something for nothing" in these Sales but your money will go a great deal further than it does under ordinary circumstances and that's why we urge early attendance.

The total number of soldiers who were rendered totally blind during the war amounts to 125 as announced by the war risk insurance bureau. Over 69 of these men were recently discharged from a hospital in Baltimore where they had been taking treatment. All are classed as totally blind in an industrial sense, although some are able to see objects dimly. A compensation of $100 a month will be paid each month under the provision of the new risk law and in addition will receive a government insurance of $7.50 per month.

These are three kinds of dogs seen as they were taken out of the hospital and the first kind of dog seen.
