DECAYING PARLIAMENTS

The French senate has joined the chamber of députés in voting to the cabinet the power to decree laws without previous action and ratification of parliament.

The premier has asked for this authority in order to hasten governmental economies and increase revenues. He has promised to confine such laws as he promulgates to this business. But if he is so inclined he can decree acts of any kind and at any time. Parliament ceases to be the sole legislative branch. It has acknowledged the domination of the administrative branch.

One of the most significant movements of the times is the decay of the parliamentary system. The bolshevik government of Russia refused absolutely to allow the Duma to have a share in the ruling of the country. Premier Mussolini of Italy forced the parliament of his nation to grant him dictatorial powers. The Spanish revolt was against incompetent and corrupt government of all kinds, but its most important activity was the dissolution of the parliament. The same waning of parliamentary effectiveness is shown in Britain, the British parliament being so divided politically that the government maintains itself only by an artificial arrangement, likely to break down at any time.

Doubtless one phase of the disease which seems to be attacking parliamentary bodies is the confusion in the American congress, its vacillating sentiments, its lack of self-discipline, its outbreak of bad temper and childness. Congress had certain very important measures before it since the first week in December. It has not reached a final decision upon one. It has repeatedly admitted its duty to deal with business quickly and intelligently. It has actually scored itself for failure. But it perversely keeps up the custom of delivering speeches to which few persons listen, dropping affairs of the state to indulge in the play of making political capital, wrangling over matters it confesses to be trivial.

The reason given in France for the extraordinary renunciation of parliamentary power is that senate and chamber of deputies have become too slow for meeting the crisis of government. Yet the crises of the war did not suggest such a surrender of power. Apparently, the French government has reached a stage where it has sense of its own futility. Given a few more sessions such as the present one and the American congress may come to the same state of mind. The thing is not improbable.—Toledo Blade.

Simmered down, success is the absence of worry, not the attainment of ambition.

PROPOSE MERGER OF AUTO CLUBS

Ohio automobile clubs are arranging to send a large delegation to the national convention to be held April 11th, in Chicago, for the purpose of ratifying the recently proposed merger of the American Automobile Association and the National Motorists Association. The Ohio State Automobile Association, affiliated with the N. M. A., already has indicated its approval of the consolidation plans by vote of its board of directors.

At the Chicago convention, to which 400 clubs of the N. M. A. will send delegates for consideration of merger plans in detail, a ratification will be voted upon as a matter of national policy.

The Ohio delegation will be from nearly 100 cities and will represent more than 100,000 organized owners. Their voice is expected to carry considerable weight with the convention because Ohio took the lead among all states in endorsing the proposal and has a membership approximately one-tenth the total membership which the new amalgamated association would have.

The decision of the convention will represent the opinion of approximately half a million motorists relative to the organization of the largest civic body in the world, with a probable membership of around one million, to be formed by the combination of the two national motoring bodies.

Within a few weeks after the N. M. A. national convention, A. A. A. Clubs will meet for a similar purpose and if their action is also favorable, it is expected that the consolidation will be completed immediately. "Every effort will be made," James said, "to complete ratification before the touring season is well under way, in order that the combined touring facilities of both the N. M. A. and N. A. A. clubs will be available to all members of the clubs belonging to either association on a nation-wide basis of reciprocal service."

CONFESSES HE STOLE MAIL POUCH

Chief McClure of the Mansfield police force, was in Shelby yesterday consulting Chief Tucker in connection with the case of Sterl Hutchinson, who was arrested in Mansfield for forging a check for $242.90. An envelope containing about 30 checks was found in possession after-arrest and a confession was obtained from him that he had stolen a mail sack in Shelby.

Chief Tucker and Chief McClure called at Shelby Junction and a check up was made by the officials. It was discovered that a mail pouch was stolen from a truck at the junction last Friday night but its loss had not yet been discovered.

The pouch was found in the cement block house of the Shelby Lumber Company were Hutchinson had rolled it up and secreted it. The officers then went to Hutchinson's rooming place and found an envelope containing 30 other checks for amounts from $100 to $400. Hutchinson confessed that he had placed a C. O. D. package in a Prince Albert tobacco can and had thrown it on a sand pile. The officers were unable to locate this.

Hutchinson is a paroled reformatory inmate and was still making his reports to the institution. Now that he has confessed to the theft of a mail sack, the probabilities are that the federal authorities will step in and prosecute him for robbing the mails instead of the Mansfield authorities holding him on the check forgery.

W.C.T.U. ACTIVITIES

It is concluded that the foundation for the 15th Amendment was laid in the school room, through the temperance instruction given during the years preceding the passage of this Amendment. Foundation must not be shaken. The children of this nation must be taught that alcohol is present in beer, wine and brandy, and that alcohol, when found, is a poison. Habit forming drugs are dangerous. In addition to the regular physiology and hygiene text book teaching, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union recommends the essay contest method for instilling temperance truths.

The local W.C.T.U. Supt. of the W.C.T.U. in this county is Mrs. V. W. Robinson, 96 W. Broadway, carrying out the plans of the Ohio W.C.T.U. through the splendid co-operation of Mr. Davis and the teachers of the Plymouth school, has been very successful. The essay work in Plymouth was taken up by the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, and Eighth grades, and a large number of essays written. Judges were selected and the writer of the best essay from each room has been awarded a prize of a suitable book by the local W.C.T.U. These prize essays have been sent to the county Supt. of the S.T.I. and Anti-Narcotic dept Mrs. Wm. Ackerman, Monroeville and will be entered in the contest according to grade for the county prize. Should a Plymouth contestant win the county prize, their essay is then forwarded to the State to be entered for State prize.

NAMES OF DOGS

Wonder is sometimes aroused at the high sounding names given dogs. There was a period when Pullman cars seemed to have appropriated all the flosky titles...

Styles change in dog's names just as they change in names for children. The dogs of nursery sales were mostly Rover and Fido.

Tig was a contraction of tiger and many a dog that had a meek disposition bore the name of Lou Don and Dan were favorites.

Irish dogs usually were named Tim or Patsy, although an occasional Mike could be found.

In recent years the fact that a dog attained some sort of a name such as Laddie Boy enjoyed when he had run of the White House...

OWERS Colony Brooder

More Chickens—Less Cost
 This brooder is a chick-saver and a money-maker. It raises more chicks and healthier chicks, at less cost than other brooding devices. The stove has steel body, is safe, and has automatic temperature that automatically maintains a steady, moist heat day and night. No chance of gas—air is always fresh and pure.
Burns Soft Coal, Wood, Etc.
 The cheapest brooder fuel is soft coal. The owners' recorder shows burner is perfectly safe. One fuel costs in half—more fuel than most says for brooder. This brooder also burns hard coal, coke, wood, and kerosene. It has 20 square feet of stove wood 14 to 20 inches wide.
Two Sizes—Low Prices
 For a Brooder—also chick heater and incubator. No wires or trouble to operate. Size for 500 and 1000 chicks. Low prices. Fully guaranteed.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

SOME OTHER TIME

THE individual who defers action... puts off until 'some other time'...

As an old shoe, for he experiences no commanding emotions, no hurt or depression of feeling in the hours of disappointment.

What he has done year after year without getting results, he continues to do with his customary complacency.

Have You This Habit?

By Margaret Morison

TIMOTHY RUGGLES

IF a stranger wanted to know the spot where the trout were in the spring, or his wife the hidden slopes where the first arbutus grew under the leaves, they asked Tim Ruggles.

From that moment, fifteen-year-old Tim began to take count of stock. Although he felt as if he could not live away from the farm, he suddenly realized that the village offered him no future.

TRAP NEST TO TELL PROFITABLE FOWLS

One of the principal objections to the trap nest generally employed where individual records of hens are desired is that too much time is required to take the hens out of the nests and record the achievements.

When the hen enters to lay she lifts the door and disengages the latch.

As she passes through, the door drops again and closes the entrance.

The only objection to this method of trap nesting hens is that it is not possible to know which egg is laid by which hen.

Artificial Lights Will Encourage Fowls to Lay

A hen will lay a dozen eggs more per year if given lights in her house. This is shown in records kept on 100 pairs of hens.

Good feeding practices must be followed when lights are used or the flock will get thin and sometimes molt.

Eighteen pounds of scratch grain should be fed to 100 layers.

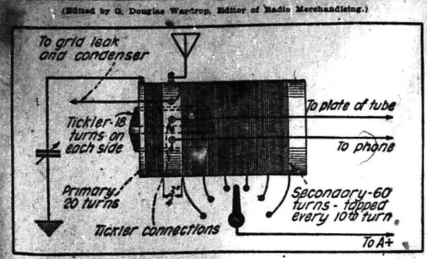

One hundred pullets laying 25 eggs a day should eat approximately 25 pounds of scratch feed.

Important Requirements in Winter Care of Hens

The important requirements in the care of the fowls in the winter are that they should take sufficient exercise, have sufficient food, and be supplied with some form of protein.

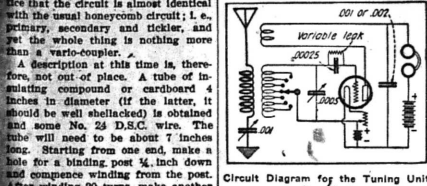

License-Killing Powder Is Big Help to Turkey Hen

Always be sure that the turkey hen which is sitting on eggs has her plumage filled full of lice-killing powder.

NEW HAVEN

On April 2 the county oratorical-reading contest will be held in the M.E. Church at Norwalk. Marcus Duffy winner in the oratorical and Bousene Bauma winner in the Reading contest will be entered. It is to be hoped that a goodly number of New Haven people will arrange to go to Norwalk at that time. A little encouragement sometimes helps a great deal.

Baseball games have been scheduled with New London, Greenwich, Fitchville, and Fairfield.

Approximately two hundred people attended the program given by Pietro La Verdi last Friday evening.

The Seniors are now wearing their rings and pins which arrived a week ago.

The date of the Senior Class Play, "Boastful Mr. Bobs" has been set for April 25th.

With only eight more weeks of school, parents would do well to urge their children to give close attention to their studies.

A little extra home study might take them beyond the danger zone of failure.

Chanel exercises were conducted this week by Miss Cole.

DATE ANNOUNCED FOR COUNTY WRITING SPELLING BOU

The annual county spelling contest will be held at the Mansfield high school on Saturday, May 3, at 1 p.m. Three separate contests will be held, one for the third and fourth grades, one for the fifth and sixth grades, and one for the seventh and eighth grades. Work in all contests will be written.

Each rural school in the county will be allowed to send one pupil to enter in each of the above contests, making three from each school in all. The method of selecting representatives from each school is left to the teacher, but it is suggested that several written contests be held in each school and that the pupils with the highest averages be sent.

The rural schools will hold their preliminary contests during April. The dates have been set for some of these as follows:

- Midlin, Center Hall school, Wednesday, April 2, 7:30 p.m.
- Weller, Franklin Church, Tuesday, April 8, 7:30 p.m.
- Plymouth, Kahn School, Thursday, April 10, 7:30 p.m.
- Troy, Clover Hill School, Friday, April 11, 1 p.m.
- Worthington, Butler Village School, Friday, April 11, 7:30 p.m.
- Sharon, Gamble School, Tuesday, April 15, 7:30 p.m.
- Franklin, Pleasant Valley school, Thursday, April 17, 7:30 p.m.
- Jackson, Union Grange Hall, Friday, April 18, 7:30 p.m.
- Bloomington, Rome School, Thursday, April 24, 7:30 p.m.
- Jefferson, Bellville, Village School, Friday, April 25, 7:30 p.m.
- Butler, Adario School, Tuesday, April 29, 7:30 p.m.

The prize, a silver cup, given by The Mansfield News for the best speller in the preliminary contest, was won last year by Kenneth Wolfe, of the Adario School in Butler township. He will not be eligible to spell this year, on account of having been nominated to the regular school. Pupils who have passed the eighth grade but who did not go to high school, may enter the oral contest this year, but not the written, according to a ruling of the school authorities.

Money prizes will be given the winners in the preliminary contest. The board of education of Butler township is offering additional prizes for the pupils of her schools. Butler township is working hard to regain the silver trophy cup now in possession of the Adario school.

Exhibit School Work

A township exhibit of school work will also be held at the same time and place. Exhibits should be in place by noon, so that the judges may get their work done in the afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to all to come and see the work of the boys and girls. Suitable prizes will be awarded to first, second and third place winners in each contest. The silver trophy cup, won last year by the Adario school, Butler township goes each year to the school producing the best seventh and eighth grade speller. A school winning this cup three times secures it permanently.

More Pupils Eligible

Efforts are being made by the county school men and teachers to create a new spirit. As far as possible, in both the preliminary and the county contest.

The number of pupils eligible to enter the preliminary contest will be much larger this year than last. According to the plan last year, each township was represented by a small group of spellers. The plan has been changed this year. At the county contest on May 3, 1924, each school in the county may have representatives in each contest. The schools will be divided

Poultry Houses Approved by Experiment Included in New College Bulletin

Information and plans in detail, based on several years experience with the Ohio type poultry houses, comprise the 40 pages of a bulletin just off the press at the Ohio State University and now available for free distribution. Poultry Houses and Equipment, is the title of the publication.

Such changes as are included in this bulletin are the result of experience with Ohio houses throughout the state. Says the foreword: This bulletin offers working drawings and quantity surveys of three laying houses and their equipment and one brooder house. It contains more than 40 drawings and 12 photographs.

Accompanying detailed plans and specifications for the shed roof laying house, 25x30 feet, is the note that such a house will accommodate 120 leghorns or 200 birds of the heavy breeds. It can be built in any multiple of the length shown. Practical points on operating such a house are printed with the drawings.

For a flock of 200 leghorns or 150 of the heavy breeds, there is the 30 by 30 shed roof laying house. For the average farm flock the bulletin recommends the combination roof laying house, 20 by 30 feet, because it is neat in appearance and easy to construct.

The shed brooder house, 10 by 12 feet, is designed to meet the demand for a portable house large enough to brood 100 chicks at one time; small enough to be moved easily; and cheap enough to be within the means of any poultryman.

Equipment for laying houses is described and working drawings are shown. Such equipment includes a brooder coop, dry mash feeder, feed bin, nest rack, catching crate, and watering stand.

It makes a Difference of Fertilizer It Makes a Difference Where Potato Growers Apply Their Fertilizer.

Improper placing of fertilizer may cost potato growers as high as 70 bushels an acre, the New Jersey Experiment Station discovered recently.

Where the fertilizer was applied in direct contact with the seed piece the experimenters found, the yield was 132 bushels an acre, where fertilizer was applied lower and along the side of the seed piece and separated by and inch or two of soil, the yield was 206 bushels.

Most potato growers apply the fertilizer at planting time; hence the need for extra caution to avoid injuring the seed-piece and to insure the greatest use of all the plant food in the fertilizer.

When adjusting the fertilizer, distribute attachments of their planters. Ohio growers can utilize these additional results from the New Jersey station: When fertilizer was sown above the seed, with soil between, the yield was 128 bushels an acre; fertilizer mixed with the soil in the row, 132 bushels; fertilizer at the side of the seed-piece but on the same level, 173 bushels.

Solving the Problem

A young salesman had embezzled from his kind-hearted employer a considerable sum of money and had lost every cent of it on the races. He was apprehended, and the boss didn't know just what to do about it.

Keep him on the job and deduct what he owes you from his pay, suggested an advisor.

But, wailed the victim, the amount is too large. He could never make it up that way. His wages are too small.

The other ruminated for a moment. Then his face cleared.

Well, then, raise his salary, he suggested.

Civilization may be on the down grade, but at least we have learned a safety rule to be shocked by things that are not shocking.

When we hear a liberal man referred to as a good fellow, we generally wonder whether his wife has the same opinion.

ACTIVITY IN GAS FIELD

Several Producing Wells Drilled Since Last Issue Of Paper.

Renewed activity is manifest in the Shiloh Gas Field, and several good wells have been drilled in since the last issue of the Digest. Brown, Henline and Warner, of Chicago, drilling on the Champion Farm, struck a good producing well Tuesday. This makes the second producing well on the Champion farm drilled by this firm. The well brought in Tuesday is producing better than a half-million feet. Two others were drilled on the same farm, but proved to be dry. The Brown, Henline and Warner Co., expect to start drilling their fifth well on the Champion Farm next week.

Messers, Groves and Hart, drilling on the Marling Farm, secured, a quarter of a million foot well also in the past week. They also express their intention of starting another well on the same farm.

Her first conversation betrayed the fact that she was not fastidious.

At a distance she had appeared unusually neat, immaculate. But upon their first face-to-face meeting he discovered that her teeth were not clean. And he soon lost interest.
