

J. P. Co. Wants to Light Village

It is rumored that the Ohio Power company will in the near future present an ordinance to the village council asking for a 50-year franchise on the lighting privileges of the village.

Just what action this body would take on such a proposition is not known, however, a few of the citizens have expressed themselves as opposing the granting of such long term franchise and favor the maintenance of the present light plant.

The Ohio Power company recently completed a high tension line from Plymouth to Willard, where they furnish power to the B. & O. Shops. The petition is on file with the clerk of the Board of Public Affairs.

BRIDGE PARTY

Thursday evening at her home, Miss Helen Poisel presided as hostess to a number of young people. Two tables of bridge were in play and at the conclusion Miss Olga Aslakson was presented with first prize while Miss Frances Mayer of Hamilton, Ohio, was consoling.

At an appropriate hour, a lovely lunch was served the guests at the card tables, with appointments in keeping with the occasion. A color scheme of yellow and white intermingled with various summer blooms was used effectively in the home decorations.

Those present were: Misses Beatrice and Marfan Kappenberg, Ruth and Margaret Nimmons, Thelma and Gertrude Beelman, Olga Aslakson, Caroline Bachrach, Frances Mayer of Hamilton, O., and the hostess, Miss Helen Poisel.

SURPRISE PARTY

In the social rooms of the M. E. Church, the members of the choir and their families enjoyed a delicious chicken supper Thursday evening.

The affair was in the nature of a surprise party, honoring three members of the choir, whose birthdays occurred during the same week.

Covers were laid for twenty-two and the guests seated at a long table artistically decorated with summer flowers, while a large birthday cake centered the table.

At the close of a complete meal, Mrs. Rank presented the guests of honor, Mrs. L. Z. Davis, Mrs. Ed Phillips and Miss Ruth L'Amoreaux with a birthday gift.

This was the third party of this nature given by the choir members.

STEVENS-EVANS WEDDING

Mr. Lloyd Stevens, formerly of New Haven, who resides in Ohio, and Miss Serena Evans of Shelby were married Monday in the office of Dr. C. R. Tranger, Jr. of Britton. Licenses were secured from the probate court, Mansfield.

Stevens, son of Chester Stevens, New Haven, and is connected with a steel industry in Gallon.

IN NORWALK

E. K. Tranger is in Norwalk today as a witness in the Brandt-Britton case, which comes up for hearing in the common pleas court. Tranger alleges that Brandt, who purchased onions from him last fall, has refused to pay the amount contracted.

Girl Scout News

"Did you go on the hike with us? We started out down North street around by the old mill, and finally cut across the fields, crossed the Huron river several times, and ended up at Mrs. John Root's summer home, where lots of good things to eat were waiting for us. Those had been carried out in a machine earlier in the day."

The girls must have been hungry by the way the eats disappeared, and finally there was only a few eggs and a little cake left, and at 4 o'clock we came home, well pleased with our afternoon.

Sixteen of the scouts were there, Captain Froese of Woodlawn troop, her lieutenant Miss Wilson and myself.

Later in the season we are planning a hike some Saturday afternoon, when the leaves begin to turn.

At the last meeting there were fifteen present. Scout Ethel Chappelle was presented with the second class badge, having passed her tenderfoot test, and has since qualified for two merit badges, first and Pathfinder.

Helen Dick and Mary Gebert have passed their tenderfoot tests, and I hope before long that they will be like every girl in the troop has completed this part of the work.

After the business meeting and the formation we devoted the rest of the time to fun, and played games until 4 o'clock. This will be the last of the meeting now that it is a little cooler and work can be done in comfort. The next meeting will be held at 4 o'clock after school.

TO STUDY AT MARION

STARTS BIG SALE

The J. L. Price Jewelry store will begin drastic reductions Saturday an added reduction of 5 per cent will go into effect, and each business day an added reduction of 30 per cent will be made. This is a novel way of reducing prices, but Mr. Price states he wants to close his doors as quickly as possible, and the longer the people wait the cheaper they can buy.

Mr. Price expects to remain in Plymouth but will put in his time at his home in a novelty and bicycle shop.

Death Takes Young Matron

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Lutheran Church for Mrs. Christine Davis Crockett, who died in the Mt. Sinai hospital Thursday morning. News of the death of Mrs. Crockett cast a gloom over the entire village, and the altar at the last rites and the array of floral offerings expressed the high esteem of the community in which she has made her home for a number of years before moving to Cleveland.

Mrs. Crockett was a member of the 1920 graduating class. Later she attended Oberlin Business College. Later she accepted a position with The Fate-Root-Heath Co., where she was employed for a number of years. In 1924 she was united in marriage to James Crockett.

The deceased leaves besides her husband, and one infant son, three weeks old, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davis, two sisters, Esther of Youngstown, and Hulda at home and one brother Ford Davis, of Cleveland.

The remains were brought over the Big Four to Shiloh where they were met by the Chas. G. Miller funeral car. Rev. A. M. Himes read a most expressive eulogy. Interment was made in Greenlawn cemetery.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereft husband and father, also to the immediate family.

Hattie Christine, second daughter of Chas. A. and Grace Watts Davis was born in North Fairfield, Ohio, on Easter Sunday, March 30, 1902 and died in the early morning hours of Sept. 2, 1924 at Mt. Sinai Hospital, Cleveland. She was aged twenty-four years, five months, and two days.

Nov. 1st, 1924 she was united in marriage with James A. Crockett of Cleveland, Ohio, who is now left desolate with an infant son, James Davis Crockett, born Aug. 16th, too young to realize his loss and destined never to know the tenderness of a mother's love.

Besides these two, she is mourned by her father and mother, and aged grandmother, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Watts, two sisters and one brother, Walter, a teacher in Youngstown, Ohio. Hulda, still at home, and L. Ford Davis, of Cleveland, Ohio. Many other relatives and a host of friends and acquaintances are saddened by her early death, for by her quiet sunny disposition, she had endeared herself to all who knew her.

Her parents having moved to Plymouth when she was but one month old, nearly her whole life was spent here, as she with her husband; and taken to Cleveland, where they expected to make their future home, only one year ago.

She graduated from the public schools of Plymouth, in June, 1920, and completed the commercial course at Oberlin Business College, in the Spring of 1921. Then she accepted a position in the office of the Root Fate-Heath Company of Plymouth, where she remained until her marriage, proving herself painstaking, efficient and trustworthy.

In early girlhood she united with the Lutheran Church where she remained till death, a consistent and valued member.

Too frail to endure the strain of motherhood, she has passed from child bequeathing to those who loved her, the little son for whom she gave her life.

When death comes to the aged we feel that their work is done, but when it comes to one with all the best of life before her, only faith in the infinite wisdom of God can bring us hope and comfort.

"Not now but in the coming years, it may be in the Better Land" We'll read the meaning of our tears, And there, sometime, we'll understand.

"God nothing does nor suffers to be done,

But thus would do himself, If thou couldst see.

The end of all He does as well as He."

P. T. A. to Hold Annual Affair

The first Parent Teachers meeting of the school year will include a reception to the new teachers. It will be held in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms Tuesday evening, September 14 at 7:30. Committees have been appointed to prepare for this reception.

A short program will be provided and refreshments will be served. All parents and friends whether members or not are urged to be present to meet the school teachers.

At the regular meeting of the P. T. A. which will follow, reports will be heard and work outlined for the year. A plan will be adopted for a membership campaign. The goal should be 100% in membership, that is, every mother and every father enrolled as a member.

NOTICE

Regular meeting of the Richmond Masonic Lodge, No. 294, will be held Monday night, Sept. 12. Work in the M. M. degree. All members urged to be present.

F. B. STEWART, W. M.

AT TIFFIN

Plymouth will be well represented this year at the fall term of the Tiffin Business college, as five of Plymouth's young people have taken up studies at that institution. They are Misses Mary Petters, Opal Phillips and Mabel Sourwine, Mr. Benjamin Colyer and Ted Beberick.

TAKEN TO CLEVELAND

Mr. Laurence Buzard, sales manager of the Fate-Root-Heath Co., was taken to Cleveland Tuesday afternoon where an examination will be made by Dr. Gamble. Mr. Buzard suffered an attack of appendicitis, and it is not known whether an operation would be necessary when he first suffered the attack. Mr. Buzard and Mr. Earl Heath accompanied Mr. Buzard to Cleveland.

MAKES GOOD SHOWING

Mr. G. W. Page, local poultry fancier, made an unusually good record with his exhibits at the State Fair last week. Mr. Page won prizes as follows:

First on young white Pekin drake. First second on young white Pekin duck. First on production pen Anconas. On exhibition Anconas won second prize, old pen, second prize young pen; second pullet and second hen. Mr. Page is rapidly making great strides with his Anconas and his hatchery is becoming noted far and wide for this stock.

FRIENDSHIP CLASS MEETS

Friendship Class of the Methodist church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Stacy C. Brown, where they were delightfully entertained. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Frank Kestrick and Mrs. Olive Gottfried were joint hostesses of this affair.

After the regular business transaction the usual program was omitted and an old pen, consisting of a turkey, was enjoyed, and to say the least nothing of time was lost. At an appropriate hour the refreshments were served the guests, who pronounced the hospitality of the Brown home most enjoyable.

BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marvin Sunday, September 5, a baby boy.

Library Notes

The monthly meeting of the Pleasant home of Mrs. Harold Jeffrey last Thursday, delicious two course chicken luncheon was served at one o'clock.

After the usual business meeting, a social good time was enjoyed by the following ladies: Mesdames Elmer Rogers, George Hershiser, W. A. Doyle, G. A. Arty and L. Z. Davis.

C. of C. Meet Is Postponed

On account of the Parent-Teachers Reception to new teachers, the Chamber of Commerce Dinner for Sept. 14 has been postponed until Sept. 21. Plans are going forward, however, for one of the best monthly meetings yet held. The meal will be of the best, and there will be special music. Rev. Louis A. Sittler, Chaplain of the Ohio Reformatory will be the speaker. Every citizen should bear him because he should be able to tell us how to make our homes and community the kind from which reformatory boys do not come. Don't forget the date, September 21.

AT THE PAGE HOME

Among the guests and callers on Sandusky street were: Mrs. Anna Page, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Lane and three children of Lakewood. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Snyder and daughter Phyllis of North Fairview, Mr. E. C. Everett of Milan, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. R. Page and four children of Marion, Mrs. George W. Page of near Shiloh, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Dowd and three children and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dawson of Shiloh.

Attractions at Flower Show

SHILOH, O.—One of the attractions at the recent flower show given by the Get-to-Gether club were two Egyptian lilies sent from Sunset Lake by Miss E. Floy Rose who with her mother were visiting there. These lilies were received by Mrs. Cockburn and one is still in good state of preservation. To show the rarity of this flower we quote from a Michigan paper: Miss Esther Briggs Selber sent some of these lilies from the same place to President Coolidge and in his letter of appreciation from "The Summer White House," Paul Smith's New York, he expressed his thanks for the box of Egyptian lilies, which he assured her arrived safely. He refers to them as "unusual specimens" and to the kind thought which prompted the gift. It is believed that they would be especially interesting to the president inasmuch as they were grown on the Briggs ancestral acres, of which family the president is a descendant.

3 Killed In Train Crash

David Brown, 45, a guard at Ohio State reformatory, his wife, Jennie Brown, 50 and their eight-year old son, Ellsworth, of 3 Anna street, were killed Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock when the Star machine in which they were riding was struck by a west bound Erie passenger train at the multiple crossing just west of the institution on the road which leads to North Main street.

Walter and Mrs. Brown were instantly killed, according to reports, and Ellsworth died in general hospital five hours later. Mr. Brown, driver, had stopped the car at the crossing for a freight train and drove onto the tracks without noticing the fast approach of the passenger. It is believed that he became excited and so confused that he could not control the car's shift operations.

Surviving relatives of Mrs. Brown are two daughters, Geraldine, about 20 years of age who with two aunts is attending the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, Can. and who has not been located nor notified of her parents' terrible death, and Mrs. Warren Smith, of Shenandoah, her aged mother, Mrs. Nancy Huston, four brothers, Marion, of Shelby, John, of Blountingrove township, Alpha and Orville, of Butler township; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Roseberry, Adario; Mrs. Margaret Beckaw, Adario, and Mrs. Cora Webber Shelby.

Services were conducted by I. L. McQuate, Shiloh undertaker, assisted by Schroers and the Mansfield Funeral home.

Short services were held from the farm home near Shenandoah and extended services from the church at Adario, the Rev. Corwin officiating. Burial was made in the Adario cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation of the kindness and sympathy of our friends and neighbors, Rev. A. M. Himes, and those who kindly furnished cars, during our recent bereavement.

Mr. James A. Crockett, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Davis and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Davis.

VISITING PARENTS

Miss Ida Stock, who is employed in the treasury department at Washington, D. C., is spending her vacation with Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Stock. Miss Stock had a very delightful trip from Washington, motoring with a party of friends via Niagara Falls and other scenic points. They will return to the capital over the National Trail.

WILL VOTE ON CENTRALIZATION

The Attica school district is again going to make an effort toward centralization. This time it is proposed to vote on a $175,000 bond issue for erection of a new school building. According to papers filed with the county election board the election on the question will be held on the regular election day in November.—Tiro World.

Maybe surveys aren't all useless. Ohio's annual wheatfield survey of insect infestation has saved Ohio farmers hundreds of thousands of dollars in helping them control the Hessian fly.

Village Sued by Taxpayer

Papers were served this week on Mayor J. B. Derr, and Clerk E. K. Tranger, members of the village council, in a damage suit entered by W. H. Petters. The entanglement is a result of the row which has been brewing for several months between the village council and taxpayers concerning the purchase of the old stone quarry as a source of supply for a proposed improvement of the local water works.

Some time ago a referendum signed by the required number of property holders asking for a vote of the people at the November election on the question of the purchase of the stone quarry as a source of water supply for the village.

The clerk and mayor have been summoned to appear before the common pleas court of Richland county. A date for the hearing has not been set.

No Council Meeting

Tuesday night was the time for the regular council meeting but as four members of the board were absent the required number was not available to hold the monthly meeting. W. C. McFadden is in Richland county, Wenzel in Pennsylvania, W. O. Ritter in Canada and L. E. Buzard is in a Cleveland hospital. It is expected that a meeting will be held as soon as enough members return to town.

Oberlin Students Must Do Without Automobile

In a statement recently released by officials of Oberlin college, reasons for establishing a rule forbidding students at that school to have automobiles this coming year were given as follows:

1. Use of cars in the past had been found to distract the student so that he could not do proper classroom work. Students with cars were found on the average, to have lower grades than those without them.
2. Use of old "filfers" which were used by students to nearly close in on passengers who rode in the car as well as to other motorists on the road.
3. Use of autos made the enforcement of rules governing the conduct of students more difficult, and tended to create student non-alienation, when they should be in their classes.
4. Possession of an auto was found to engender a spirit of recklessness, and abandon which was out of keeping with the ideals and background which the college sought to provide of the benefits of a college education.

Bus Men to Meet

The Ohio Motor Bus Association will hold its annual meeting at Akron October 6 and 7. Nearly every county in the State will be represented, as every student, student nearby, city and country, is supplied with bus service and many companies are being served which otherwise would have no common carrier service. The National Bus Exposition will be held at Cleveland at the same time, so the bus men will be able to visit the bus show.

Lenders to Meet

Industrial Lenders of Ohio will be hosts to the Industrial Lenders of America when they meet in Cleveland September 14. Industrial Lenders loan a store in the city. They have taken a prominent position in the financial world within the last few years and are members of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

A. & P. Store Will Leave New Washington

The Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., who for the past two years have run a store in the city, have quit business in New Washington. The store under the management of Mr. B. W. Pugh enjoyed a fine trade. Mr. Pugh after a short vacation, will take over another store with the A. & P. Co. but at present does not know just where he will locate.—New Washington Herald.

EXECUTION STAYED

James Lyon, doomed to die Sept. 21, for the murder of a railway car store detective, K. M. C. block, was granted an indefinite stay of execution, by Chief Justice Marshall.

The stay was granted when attorneys, representing Lyons, filed an appeal with the court asking the supreme court to review the case.

M. E. Church :: Notes ::

The Devil! Who is he? A person or a personality. This will be the topic for Sunday, September 12 at 11 a.m.

If you are undecided what to believe, let us help you get it straight. A minister once announced the above topic, and someone said, "It is full of his subject."

At the regular meeting of the Official board Monday night, the following officers were elected. In the board of trustees, chairman, E. A. Stotts, Secretary, Mrs. Alice Ford, treasurer, J. L. Price.

Of the board of stewards, J. L. Jolson was elected chairman, A. A. Ross Secretary and J. L. Price treasurer.

Reports show finances in good condition, and within a few days accounts can all be closed for the year.

But to more Sunday remain before conference. The pastor has been invited to return for another year. $1423 has been paid for repairs this year with some yet to be made. The financial report to conference will likely be as much as last year or better. Conference Sunday there will be a city preacher in our pulpit at Plymouth, and possibly at New Haven.

Our character is the sum total of our desires. Will be easily determined by our self-indulgence. Is never strengthened by compromise. Cannot be inherited, must be built. Depends more upon will-power than ancestry. Is better security than bonds or mortgage. Is what God knows about us. A journey of a thousand miles begins with one step.

Man should avoid temptation, not seek it.

A community is made up of individuals. You are one. The standard of your community is either higher or lower because of you. What can you do to raise that standard. Food for thought.

I am what I am, because of my associates. I cannot blame them for making me less a man than I should be, for it has been my own choice to associate with them. If I have chosen the best, I am better than I could have been by living alone. This is one reason why we should find a church, attend its services and help and be helped.

The law of compensation is that a good deed, a kind thought, a smile or a pleasant word reflects upon our selves. Wonder if this is not why some folks look as if they had just drunk a pint of vinegar.

Ignore a friend for a little while, and you will lose your friend. This is why so many people have lost touch with God. They have failed to visit with Him.

Three Bright Pennies

Can Save Peach Trees

Three cents invested in each peach tree will control the peach tree borer. Gas does it.

Paradichlorobenzene, known as P. D. B. by the orchardist, applied on a mound of earth around the base of the tree above the place of the borer's entrance into the trunk, kills the pest. The treatment must be applied late enough to get all the small eggs and before the soil gets cold and damp. The gas will not come off the fine crystals of the chemical when it is cold or wet. Northern Ohio peach growers, entomologists at the Ohio State University advise, will find P. D. B. most effective if applied after September 15 and before October 10. In southern Ohio apply from October 1 to 25.

Use only on trees three years old and older. One ounce is sufficient for a full-grown tree. Trees three to five years old will be protected by a half to three-fourths ounce per tree. More may injure the tree.

Remove the fliminating material from the tree less than five years old in two to three weeks, and in four to six weeks from older trees. The time depends largely on the warmth and moisture in the soil during the fumigation. Many growers, according to T. H. Parks, extension entomologist at the university, do not remove the mounds of earth from trees six years old or over. They have experienced no injury.

Epworth League at 5:30 p.m. Sermon at 7:30. Subject: "A Three fold Chord can be Broken."

Let every one realize that the future of the church of Christ depends upon a common interest in the uplift of humanity, not in the gratification of selfish ambition or unholy desires. No church can be of any material interest to men of the world unless it practices the principles advocated in Holy Writ, namely Fellowship with God and Faith in Humanity. It is this which gives the church the power to transform human lives.

What a world this is after all, nothing can happen by accident, there would be no chance work possible, for it would not elude his close inspection, the falling of the forest leaf, the fluttering of the dying insect, yet the changes of the season, the inner thoughts of our hearts, all are as an open book to the Great I Am That I Am. It is only man, the creature that speaks of small and of great things, God knows no such distinction. How especially comforting then to thing of his tender solicitude with reference to His people. He enters into their joys. He lightens their sorrows. Not a tear is shed, but He knows all about it, and is in sympathy with His children, not understood by man, often the so called dark dealings, are after all ordinations of His never ceasing Love.

Often we look into the future with tear dimmed eyes, much mystery and uncertainty seems to hang over it, let us remember the words of the Sage of Israel, who said "Thou Heavens, yet I Trust Him."

In all our sermonizing we try to lay special stress upon the fore-going sentiments, if you have no other church home, you will always find us welcome at the church of the glad hand.

DR. G. R. MENTE, Pastor.

A large audience greeted Dr. Mente last Sunday night at his church to enjoy the great lecture on Mexico, present and future. The speaker used over 150 finely executed slides to trace the making of Mexican history from the landing of the Spanish conquerors to the government of president Calles, plainly showing the power of the gospel of Christ over superstition and ignorance. Mexico stands at the open door of a new day, and methodism is taking its stand on the side of education and Christian liberty.

A Generous Gesture

The recent statement of former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker renewing the suggestion that the European war debts be cancelled has been thoroughly discussed in Washington official circles in the past few days. The suggestion is passed by on the ground that it is merely being a "generous gesture." In the future the administrative and legislative leaders of the Government expect to continue their efforts to secure settlements from the foreign nations that borrowed our money so freely in wartime.

Editorial opinion upon debt cancellation generally opposes Mr. Baker's suggestion. The Washington Post, counted as the "administration organ" in Washington, talks about Liberty Bonds in taking distinct issue with the former War Secretary, and issues this challenge: "Surely Mr. Baker would not ask the United States, trustee of the account, to embezzle the money due the owners of these bonds, or to hand it over to third parties in Europe. The United States is bound to collect taxes and apply the money to the payment of the bonds. It has pledged itself to do so. It has not yet repudiated any pledges to its people who have loaned money to it. Does Mr. Baker now ask the United States to repudiate the Liberty bonds?"

Non-Freezing Dynamite

It used to fall to the lot of the editors of local newspapers to tell how farmers and others who used dynamite for explosives unsuccessfully attempted to "throw it out" in cold weather. In the lumbering country editors of newspapers were always urged to write accounts of accidents, and fatalities, during cold days in winter. The old style dynamite froze at a comparatively high temperature, and as frozen dynamite possessed very little efficiency the "stump-blowers" used to take it into the house and lay it in close connection with the kitchen stove. It was this process, often conducted with extreme carelessness, that led to the tragic accidents recorded in the newspapers.

One of the most important steps forward in the manufacturing of dynamite is the provision of a formula which results in explosive being practically non-freezing. The new explosive does not blow up without just cause and provocation. Of course all explosives require handling under proper safeguards. In the accounts of the new non-freezing dynamite it is disclosed that as early as 1896 experiments were conducted in order to get a non-freezing dynamite. In 1908 some low freezing gelatin dynamite was produced which withstood temperatures down to zero. This low freezing gelatin was continually improved until a method has at last been found to manufacture the low freezing nitroglycerin, which permits its use in all types of high explosive tests. Tests of the new explosive conducted within the last year in Northern Minnesota, which is acknowledged to be very cold at times, proved that ordinary straight 40 per cent dynamite made under a low freezing formula was practically unaffected by a temperature of 35 degrees below zero. Other severe tests of the new explosive conducted in Northern part of Wisconsin were equally interesting. The dynamite was loaded through eight inches of snow in about one-half inch of ice in the wet soil, the temperature of which was 35 degrees Fahrenheit at the point of the load. The dynamite used had been exposed in storage to freezing temperatures for several weeks. The night before a ditch was shot, the explosives had been subjected to a temperature of 10 degrees below zero. The ditch was shot by the propagated method in which the detonation of one cartridge sets off the others down the line, and the results were absolutely perfect in every respect.

More than 300,000,000 pounds of dynamite are used annually in the United States for mining, quarrying, tunneling, road building, land clearing, drainage, and many other kinds of industrial work, and through the perfection of non-freezing dynamite, all of this work is carried on without interruption during the entire year.

So great has this accomplishment been considered, that last year the low freezing straight dynamite manufactured by one company was selected to be represented by the Court of Chemical Achievement. The perfection of a formula for non-freezing dynamite was adjudged by a committee of interested scientists as marking one of the most notable advances achieved by American industries in that branch of chemical manufacture.

Thinner Bricks

The United States Bureau of Public Roads is investigating propositions for the manufacture of thinner bricks. The experiments being carried on are for the purpose of determining how thin a brick can be used as road pavement and still give satisfactory service. Any reduction in the thickness of bricks, the Government engineers point out, will mean less cost in production, less freight charges per square yard of brick pavement, and less hauling charges to the job. If it is found out that it is no longer necessary to make bricks of three or more inches in thickness then we may expect Herbert Hoover and other authorities who are railing against expensive production to issue long statements against the continued waste of clay in making bricks.

Cost of Lumber

The man who bought a small board and paid a dollar or more for it will be interested in the statement made by the United States Forest Service that the average price of every 1000 feet of lumber used during 1924 was $12. But the Government statement shows that the gross freight bill on lumber during the year amounted to about $108,000,000. In consequence of lumber to the consumer.

Still Puffing Away

Nearly 8,000,000,000 cigarettes were produced in the United States in July according to figures made public by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. During the same period the production of large cigars was in excess of 565,000,000. Cigarettes are being produced at this time in larger numbers than they were a year ago, while there is a corresponding decrease in the number of cigars that are manufactured.

Protecting the Suckers

The Post Office Department has issued a fraud order against McNicKie and Company, of Spring Hill, West Virginia, who have made claims for a medicinal preparation known as "Pysocouphene." The manufacturers and distributors of this high-sounding stuff claim that by putting a "pinch" of the powder in each shoe of the patient each morning for 72 days a "cure" would be effective for various diseases.

The Post Office Department is issuing fraud orders every month to protect the public against ruthless schemers.

"FIG LEAVES" IS STORY OF TRIALS OF MODERN EVE

Prehistoric monsters and modern beauty, to say nothing of some marvelous Technicolor sequence of the Garden of Eden, are combined in "Fig Leaves," a Howard Hawks production for Fox Films, which opens for a two days run at the Opera House next Monday and Tuesday, 7:00 and 8:30. Olive Borden and George O'Brien, are ideally cast in the leading romantic roles.

This is the story of the trials and mishaps of a modern Eve, who, like her sister of the long ago, is tempted when the serpent whispers sinister suggestions. In the case of the modern Eve Miss Borden, as the wife of a plumber, is baited with fine clothes by Andre, a fashionable designer, who dictates the fashions for women. How the beautiful Eve outwits the designer and brings happiness to her household forms the basis for a remarkably well-knit story.

In addition to these popular players the cast includes Andre de Beranger, Eulalie Jensen, Phyllis Haver, Dorothy Dunbar, William Austin, Charles Cushman and scores of beautiful models. The screen version was adapted by Hope Loring and Louis D. Lighton from an original story by Howard Hawks.

Zane Grey Makes Golden West Breathe Once More

As a writer of outdoor yarns particularly those of the great West, he knows so well, Zane Grey is firmly established in the minds and hearts of million of readers.

In "Born to the West," which comes to the Opera House for an engagement of one day, Saturday 7:00 and 8:30. Those qualified to judge feel that he has evolved on of the most entertaining and true-to-life stories thus far written.

Paramount has brought it to the screen with marvelous fidelity. The rather lengthy cast is filled with names that stand high in the cinema world—all well known and popular for their former achievements.

The story starts with a fight between two boys over a girl. Both emerge from the fray with marks they carry from school through life, marks which seem ever to remind them of the enmity that must exist to the end.

Their trail in after years crosses many times and in many places but neither gives nor takes quarter. The net result is a picture that teems with action every inch of the way.

Jack Holt, the screen's most representative portrayal of a man-made western roles, is seen as "Colorado," a cowpuncher. Bruce Gordon in his sworn enemy and Margaret Morris, the girl. Two great character roles are portrayed by Raymond Hatton and Tom Kennedy of "Behind the Front" memory. Other notables in the cast include George Siegman, Edith Yorke and William Carroll.

The picture, which was produced under the personal supervision of Hector Turnbull, Associate Producer for Paramount, was directed by John Waters, newly appointed a Paramount director. The screen play is by Lucien Hubbard.

MANY COUNTRIES REPRESENTED IN NEW FOX PICTURE

Many countries are represented in the cast of principal players appearing in "The Silver Treasure," produced by William Fox from the Joseph Conrad story, "Nostromo," and now showing at the Castamba Wednesday, 7:00 and 8:30. Spain, Russia, France, Holland, Italy, England, Australia, Denmark, Japan, South America and America all are represented by distinguished artists of the screen. George O'Brien, who is cast in the leading role, was born in California of Irish parentage. Lou Tellegen, one of the foremost stars of the stage and screen, is a native of Holland. Helena d'Algy, is one of the leading feminine roles, claims sunny Spain as her birthplace. Daniel Makarenko, in one of the strong character roles, was born in Russia. Guido Trento, recognized as one of the premier stars of Europe, comes from Italy. Stewart Rome, recently arrived in Hollywood, is a native of England and ranks with the foremost screen actors of that country. Otto Matieson, who cast as the unfortunate Decead, was born in Denmark, and George Kuwa, who plays a comedy role, is from Japan. Director Rowland V. Lee's forebears, for generations back, were all born in the United States.

BREAD UPON THE WATERS RETURNS TO J. McDONALD

J. Farrell MacDonald says the best bargain he ever made was a blind investment. It has just returned him the greatest possible interest. "One cold night I was standing on a railroad platform at Rouse's Point, on the border between the United States and Canada," MacDonald told Virginia Valli, between sequences of "The Family Upstairs," Fox Film's version of Harry Dell's comedy, now at the Opera House, Sunday 7:30 and 8:00.

"I was on my way to Montreal and I noticed a shabby fellow sitting me up. Finally, just before my train pulled in, he came over and said, 'I'm broke, cold and hungry. What'll I do?'"

"I gave him one of those Canadian two-dollar bills and told him to eat first and think about the rest later. He made me come close to the light, took a sharp look at me, and then demanded my name. I told him 'Joe MacDonald, ham actor.' Then I left him."

"I skipped all over the world and finally landed in pictures. When 'The Iron Horse' was shown in Australia this individual saw my name on the billing and recognized my name. He visited the Fox Exchange in Sydney and got my address."

"Last month I received a certified check from him. It was for a hundred dollars but there was no return address. All he said was this: 'I am sending you the two dollars with interest. Maybe you don't remember Rouse's Point, New York, but I do.'"

Helpful Hints

TEST OF CREAM

High testing milk yields cream of a higher test than does low testing milk when run through a cream separator operated under the same conditions.

DON'T MAKE BEES WASTE HEAT

Comb honey that is left on the hives after the honeyflow is over becomes soiled and discolored. It should be removed as soon as possible. When the honeyflow is over, all empty supers should be removed, so that the bees will not have empty space to keep warm during the winter.

MONEY IN TREES

"A stand of merchantable timber is a liquid asset and a stand of young timber increases in value each year," says E. H. Thompson, president of the Federal Land Bank of Springfield, Mass.

"Farms with good woodlands sell readily, but after the merchantable growth is completely removed, their value will apparently be depreciated considerably more than the actual stumpage value of the timber removed. A well timbered farm that will sell for $3,000 would not bring over $1,000 if completely stripped of timber that has a present stumpage value of $1,000."

KEEP BEES BETTER

Even if a colony of bees is strong at this time, it cannot be expected to go through the winter well in the North unless it now has a good young queen, so that plenty of young bees will be reared to live through the winter. All old bees which have worked through the summer will soon die. Any colony which does not have at least 30 pounds of honey and the hive full of young bees when cool weather comes should be united with some other colony of the same kind, or with a stronger one. Most winter loss is caused by poor fall management.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

Sauce naturelle is made by thickening the water in which a vegetable was cooked. It may be made in connection with many kinds of vegetables and will also provide the basis for a good vegetable soup, creamer or otherwise.

I don't boil string beans a long time with ham or pork merely to flavor them. The vitamins will be destroyed and most of the other valuable ingredients extracted. Instead, add bacon fat or crisp diced bacon at serving time.

Add a tablespoon of horseradish to sweet-sour sauce for beans.

Try potatoes cooked in tomato juice instead of water. Slice or dice them for quick cooking.

Finely chopped raw celery improves many dishes, such as creamed beef, fish, crabmeat, oysters, potatoes, cabbage, or hard-boiled eggs. Try it in cream sauce for serving on croquettes; with creamed corned peas and lima beans, stewed tomatoes and other vegetables. Add just a few minutes before serving time.

STICKING BUTTER

To keep butter from sticking to paddles and other wooden utensils, these should be thoroughly rinsed immediately before using. First with hot water, then with cold water. This fills the pores of the wood with water and prevents the butter from sticking to it. Wooden utensils should be cleaned immediately after using so that the fat will not have an opportunity to get into the pores of the wood.

SMOTHER FIRE WITH SAWDUST

Sawdust is a good extinguisher of oil fires especially if the oil is in a deep container. Sawdust poured on burning oil floats and smothers the fire by shutting off the oxygen. Care must be taken that the sawdust does not become oil soaked and as hazardous as the oil itself. Two or three pounds of common soda mixed with a bucketful of sawdust renders it almost entirely incombustible. When this mixture is used on a very hot fire the soda gives off a gas which aids in smothering the flames. Coarse sawdust should be used and care needs to be taken that the dust does not form a cloud as fine sawdust or wood flour suspended in the air may explode if ignited.

KEEP DIRT FROM MILK—

Better Than Removing it
While some of the dirt in milk comes from the air, the hands and clothing of the milker, and unclean strainers, pails, cans, and other utensils, the greater part comes from the body of the cow during milking. Straining removes the coarse particles of dirt but eliminates neither the fine dirt or bacteria. The process improves the appearance of the milk but may give a false impression of the real cleanliness of the milk if the results are used as the sole guide. Cheese cloth and wire strainers, because of their coarse meshes, are unsatisfactory for straining milk. Absorbent cotton and filter cloth, which can be bought from drug stores or dairy supply houses at comparatively moderate cost, remove most of the sediment from milk. Since the body of the cow is the chief source of dirt in milk she should be groomed frequently. In addition the flanks, under, and adjacent belly should be cleaned with a moist cloth just before milking. These parts if kept clipped are much easier to clean. The use of a hooded or small-top milking pail also aids materially in preventing dirt from falling into the milk.

SCHOOL LUNCH SURPRISES

Think back to your own school days, and recall how delighted you were when you opened up your lunch basket and found a "surprise" there. You will immediately want to pull your "thinking cap" on a little more firmly and see what you can do to relieve the monotony of the same old sandwiches in Johnnie's or Mary's box. The United States Department of Agriculture has a few suggestions to make that may help you.

To begin with, you can't do entirely without sandwiches, for they are the most convenient method of combining several substantial foods in a small space, and they are easy for the children to handle without tableware. But you can make sandwiches of different kinds of bread—graham, rye, raisin, nut, date, prune, or fig bread, and breads made from cooked cereals with combinations of dried fruit and nuts. Then there the quick breads—rolls, biscuits, corn, bread, muffins—which are not necessarily served hot, although we are apt to prefer them that way. Once in a while use one of these different breads, either for sandwiches, or without filling so they don't seem like the same old thing. Save all the little jars that have tight lids—peanut butter and salad dressing jars, and jelly glasses. Fill these jars with such favorite foods as honey or preserves, apple sauce, stewed fruits, cottage cheese, or anything that cannot be spread in the ordinary way.

BUSINESS OF OHIO BANKS INCREASING
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 1.—Eighty seven banks in the eight largest cities in Ohio showed greater business during the fiscal year ending last June 30, than in any time in the past. H. E. Scott, state superintendent banks, reports.

Banks in seven of the cities showing increased resources and deposits, Canton being the only city showing slight decreases, while all showed increased loans in force. The banks in these cities had combined resources of $1,577,120,440, as compared with $1,495,206, 045 at the close of the previous year. Combined deposits of $1,376,119,192, compared with $1,303,459,903 for June 30, 1925, and loans of $1,000,463,333, compared with $944,878,156 for June 30, 1925.

As a motor, man is helplessly outclassed. A good husky man can develop only about one-tenth of a horse power. With horse power at 10 cents an hour, that makes the man worth a cent an hour as a motor.
