New London Man to Operate
New Dry Goods Store In Cheesman Building.

Plymouth will soon boast another dry goods store. This news was recently made public by a much gratified location when reports that a new man store room, formerly occupied by the Taylor dry goods store, was ready for occupancy.

Mr. H. J. Lippus, of New London, who has had a number of years experience along this line, intends to open his new store as the best store of its kind in this part of the state. Mr. Lippus will be assisted by his wife, who has been connected with some of the larger stores of northern Ohio.

The store is now being remodeled and restored, and will soon be ready for the placing of merchandise. A formal opening within the next few weeks, announcement of which will be made in this paper.

Lillian Gish Has Found Ideal Role in 'Boheme'

Many people say so, after having seen her Mimi in "La Boheme." Never before did role fit artist, and artist fit role, so ideally as Lillian Gish and the character of the little, wistful waitress of the Latin Quarter, in the quaint romance playing at the Deisler theatre on Feb. 3 and 10.

"La Boheme" is known and loved by millions. Lillian Gish is famous wherever the motion picture is shown. Her roles have been many and varied; she was a Southern rose in "The Birth of a Nation," a quaint Yankee blossom in "Limbo," a little French heroine in "Orphans of the Storm," an ethereal nun in "The White Sister," and an aristocratic medieval maid in "Romola"—she has played practically every type of womanhood.

But the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production portrays her in a role that she seems literally to live and breathe; she does not act Mimi—she is Mimi! Her delicate romance; her glorious faith and her wonderful love for her poet, her wistful sigh—she is veritably the embodiment of the soul woman.

Keep Eliminative System Active

Good Health Requires Good Elimination

ONE can't feel well when there is a retention of poisonous waste in the blood. This is called a toxic condition, and is apt to make one tired, dull and languid. Other symptoms are sometimes toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people have learned the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, when the kidneys seem functionally inactive. Everywhere one finds enthusiastic Doan's users. Ask your neighbor!

Hilarity the Rule in Every Scene of "Nervous Wreck"

Hilarity distinguishes "The Nervous Wreck." Al Christie's latest laugh special featuring Harrison Ford, Phyllis Haver, Chester Conklin, Mack Swain and Hobart Bosworth, which will be on view at the Opera House, Shelby, on Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Ford, well known romantic leading man, proved himself a fine comedian by his performances in "Up in Mabel's Room." This was one of Ford's first opportunities at comedy, and it is said it offered him only a small part of the comedy possibilities contained in the title role of "The Nervous Wreck."

Phyllis Haver, a graduate from the Sennett comedy school, is one of the brightest feminine lights in the feature comedy field, and the names of Chester Conklin and Mack Swain are synonymous with laughter.

Scott Sidney, director of "The Nervous Wreck," has directed practically all of the Christie feature hits, including "Charley's Aunt," and the scenario for "The Nervous Wreck," F. McGraw Willis, has likewise written the scripts for such Christie features as "Up in Mabel's Room" and "Charley's Aunt."

The screen rights of "The Nervous Wreck" were purchased at heavy expense and against high pressure bidding. The picture conforms closely to the celebrated Owen Davis play, but presents the story on a far grander vast open plains, Arizona cattle ranch and boundless desert, met with in staging the play, was nothing to the Christie forces who actually produced the western farce just as it was described in the original best, by E. J. Rath.

We have been contemplating the organization of a whiskey court in Ripley. The more we think of it the more we are inclined to its necessity as being apparent in spite of its harassing annoyances. From reports that are going the rounds of drunkenness, debauchery, molesting respectable homes, frightening women and driving little children into screams by the drunk prowling debauches wanting in. This becomes a disgrace and travesty upon this fair land of the five lands where the Pioneers were spoken of as "A Noble Minded Generous people" bold and brave in the defense of right and upright in their dealings and livings. When they arrived on the Western Reserve they felt that they had reached the theater upon which duty as well as interest commanded them to devote their labors as well as their lives. Buy your shoes at Hatch's Big Clearance Sale, Plymouth, Ohio.

Your Service
At 7:30 p.m. we will have the first of a series of new services for Shiloh. What it will be like and how much good it will be depends on how much you put into it. This is not a distinctly Lutheran service, nor for the benefit of the Lutheran Church, but for the benefit of every one in the community and we want to make it of benefit to you.

PRIZES WON
The children from Bricker School who received prizes for making posters for Farmer's Institute held at Shelby were: Alvin Smith first, three dollars; Maratha Bricker second, two dollars; Elizabeth Wareham third, one dollar; Helen Boyer fifth cents. MAKING THE LAND PAY

The largest possible production per acre must be obtained in Europe in order to make the land pay, and as a result the United Kingdom consumes about 175 pounds of fertilizer to the acre for all land in cultivation; in Germany it is 200 pounds, although it was 230 pounds before the World War. In Belgium the consumption is 512 pounds per acre; in Holland 674 lbs. The argument for fertilizers has been likened to—and stated as being the same as the argument for high-bred dairy cows, since up to a certain yield of butter fat a dairy cow is simply a "boarder" who does not pay her keep; above that yield she is a money maker. Moreover, even cows of the highest breeding will not produce good yields without proper and ample feeding. So with an acre of land under crop the labor of planning and cultivating is not necessarily greater where the soil contains an abundance of plant food than where it does not; if elements of plant nutrition are deficient the returns may hardly pay for the labor expended, while if these are abandoned the returns may be ample.

"Of all the factors that have contributed to the defeat of the boll weevil and the restoration of confidence and prosperity to a pest-stricken Cotton Belt," says Mr. B. L. Moss, one of the leading farmers of the south, "I place the use of nitrate of soda first. It has restored confidence where confidence had been lost; it has brought confidence where it did not exist. It has taken the hazards out of boll weevil cotton farming, and made cotton production as safe and certain a business as it was before the weevil came. Personally, it has been indispensable to me, and I never expect to try to raise cotton without it. And what it has done for me, I am sure it will do for every other cotton farmer similarly situated. It is the best cotton crop insurance I have ever known or heard of."
