

Portner St. Bid Awarded Marion Man

At a special meeting of council held Monday night to open bids for the Portner street improvement and the McLaughlin ditch proposition, it was found that G. K. Kobhager was the lowest and only bidder for Portner street, the bid being $9,175 for the concrete surface on this improvement.

Kobhager's bid was around $300 more than the engineer's estimate on the McLaughlin ditch job, and after all negotiations had failed to get the sum within the estimate it was decided to readvertise for bids.

Work for grading Portner street will probably start next week.

Colored Parson Gets Ugly Cut

When Howard McCowan, local colored minister, tried to prevent his friend, Walter Teasley, from being the victim of a pickpocket Saturday night at Willard, he received an ugly cut on the neck from the knife wielded by Walter Sanders, also colored. Rollie Mitchell, the alleged pickpocket, was in the act of going through Teasley's pockets, while Teasley was asleep in his car, which was parked on Willard's eastside.

When McCowan saw Mitchell's attempted crime, he jumped on the running board of the car. In his jump he dropped his keys and stooped to pick them up. Taking advantage of McCowan's position, Sanders slashed McCowan across the back of the neck inflicting a wound so serious that it was necessary to remove McCowan to Community Hospital here.

Sanders was bound over to the grand jury Monday morning under $1,000 bond on a charge of cutting and wounding. Rollie Mitchell, the attempted pickpocket, was fined $25 and costs for his part in the affair.

Paragraphs

The Norwalk High School band favored us with several selections Saturday evening. This organization will be one of the big features at the Huron County Fair, furnishing music afternoons and evenings.

The Public Square was again the center of attraction Saturday night, with several automobiles passing the safety light at the same time. Maybe with a corps of traffic cops and a couple of traffic lights we can get the motorists through the Square with safety. We doubt it though, as long as the driver depends on the other to look out for the safety of both cars.

Well, somebody said something about a new mayor and council for the coming election. Anyway there's a little political talk going about on the street, and we are wondering...

Perhaps some day the careless motorist will appreciate the "Stop" sign the State Highway Department has erected at all strategic points. Recent accidents in this vicinity show that the signs were not placed just for the fun of sticking a post in the ground, but for the convenience and safety of the autoist. Obey the signs and you can't go wrong.

See where the "wet" question is going to split the Democrats in the coming national election. Well, judging politics from the reaction of the past few years, you can never tell the outcome of any question or problem.

ATTENDS FERGUSON REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Ferguson were given a cordial welcome in this vicinity this week, when they arrived here from Decatur, Ind., to attend the Ferguson reunion which was held Sunday at the L. A. Chapman home, south of town. Mr. Ferguson was born a few miles south of Plymouth in 1850, and is well acquainted with many people here. He is now a successful farmer near Decatur, Ind.

What's the Use?

We do not know whether it was the fault of the printer or whether an oversight by council, but we do know that the maximum fine for speeding or careless driving should be more than ONE DOLLAR!

Our local traffic ordinance says the FIRST offense shall carry a fine of NOT MORE than $1.00! From the way our Public Square is being abused we think that this should be changed to a minimum of $10.00. And perhaps our marshal would be inspired to be on the lookout for the lawless driver. In our opinion, when a person is arrested for speeding or careless driving and is given a fine of $1 he gets the opinion that the whole town is a joke, and wants to know what he was stopped for!

Buick Car In Wreck

In some unexplainable manner the lives of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Frankensfield, their two children and the parents of Mrs. Frankensfield were spared Sunday morning when the big Buick car in which they were riding crashed into a tree near Delphi, the result of hitting a Ford car.

The Buick car was traveling east, and at the intersection of the South-land-Greenwich road, a Ford car, driven by Chester Craig of Boughtonville, appeared. Just how this mishap occurred no one knows. The Buick after plunging off the road struck a tree and caught fire. Residents at Delphi, with the aid of buckets, soon extinguished the flames and rescued the party to safety. Mrs. Frankensfield received severe cuts and wounds about the head, and she was rushed to the Shelby hospital. It was thought for a time that she was fatally injured.

The Frankensfields reside near Attica.

Our Schools

(By Supt. R. R. Miller)

Every now and then we hear someone speak rather slightly of schools and book learning and stoutly proclaim that experience is the best teacher. Quite true it is, that we all know, someone learned by personal experience. It is the business of our schools to enable our pupils to profit by that experience.

Personal experience is a thorough teacher, but the tuition paid to his school is too high. We have not learned by personal experience that it is not a good plan to see how much gasoline is left in the tank by holding a match over the opening. We learned that lesson by the unfortunate experience of one who has gone before. Of course we do live to profit by most of the lessons we have learned by personal experience, but how often do we hear this distressful wail, "If only I had been told." Personal experience is too expensive. That's why we have schools. That's why we have books filled with the personal experience of others.

Frank Tubbs, Pioneer, Celebrates 83d Birthday

Still possessing features much younger than his years would show, Frank Tubbs, pioneer, builder, contractor and lifelong resident of Plymouth, was again permitted by the great Architect to enjoy the pleasure of celebrating another birthday Sunday, his eighty-third.

In 1844 Mr. Tubbs first saw light of day in Huron county, and spent his boyhood days in this vicinity. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted and served three years, after which he returned to Plymouth. In 1870 Mr. Tubbs erected the home in which he now lives on Mills avenue, and in which he has continuously lived until the present time.

As a contractor, he built many houses here that will stand as a monument of his skill for years to come. Mr. Tubbs, in his younger days, was noted one of the best cabinet makers in this section, and his fine work can be found in various homes here.

Pete has been kind to Mr. Tubbs for he is the oldest of a family of nine children, and is the only one surviving. He is enjoying very good health, and when he is not being entertained by callers, or partaking of the fresh air, he may be found at home reading papers and magazines.

To our schools, however, is assigned a still harder task. It is the work of our schools not only to enable the pupils to profit by the experience of those who have gone before but the school of to-day faces the harder task of preparing the children of to-day for the life of to-morrow. In our changing manner of living, the life needs of to-day are quite different from those of yesterday.

It is quite likely that those of to-morrow will be still more different from those of today. So the teacher needs to be somewhat of a prophet, peering into the future and wrestling from it the secrets which he may pass on to the youth of to-day to prepare them for the life of to-morrow. This means that we must have a competent educational leadership, and it means that the patrons of the school must have confidence in their leaders.

O. Lybarger in Auto Accident

Orville Lybarger had a narrow escape from being killed or seriously injured Thursday night on the Plymouth, Shelby road just north of the George Verkerk residence.

Lybarger was on his way home from Shelby, and he states that just as he was rounding the curve that he met a truck and thought he was safe in passing, but the truck was pulling a trailer which sideswiped his front fenders, making him lose control of the Chevrolet sedan, and it crashed into a fence near the road.

Lybarger was thrown out of the car and was unconscious for a short time. When he came to he found his engine running and walked over to shut it off, after which he dropped back into a state of coma. He was later discovered in the middle of the road by Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Haan who were returning to Shelby, where they carried him to a physician's office. His injuries, which were slight, were given medical attention and he was returned to his home here.

Attention, Mothers!

Reports are coming to this office that young children are making it a habit to use the New Haven road for skating purposes. Of course the child does not take into consideration the extreme risk taken when they venture out on this highway with roller skates. And so it is up to the parents to inform and caution them of this dangerous practice.

It is said that a fatal accident almost occurred Saturday when a group of children were encountered by a motorist passing another car.

Let's don't wait until it's too late, but discuss the matter with your child tonight, about taking dangerous chances.

Horse Show at County Fair to Be Attraction

A big attraction for lovers of horses at the Huron County Fair will be the exhibit of A. K. Basore of Harrow Township.

Mr. Basore is making a special effort to please Huron County people during the Horse Show in the evening. All of his horses will be decorated and will provide an exhibit worth going many miles to see.

Fair patrons will also be able to see a White Champion cow owned by Lund and Barker. This cow has just completed a high production record which puts it at the head of its class in so far as milk production is concerned for Holstein cows of her age.

Ohio's champion dairy cow, White Beauty, owned by Martin Dunn of Wakeman, with a production record of 236,263 pounds of milk and 136,775 pounds of butter produced in one year, will also be on exhibition.

Expressed in terms of quarts, this record would supply forty-five families with one quart of milk per day for one year. Several offerings of this famous cow will also be shown. The cattle barn will be used exclusively for cattle this year and many other small entries are being received.

Shiloh Family in Auto Wreck

SHILOH, O.—The Firestone family escaped a serious accident by a close margin Sunday forenoon in Cleveland, where they had gone to spend the day with Mr. Firestone's sister and family.

As they were driving up grade onto Superior, a taxi with a careless driver coming down, struck the Firestone sedan squarely and with such force as to cause the taxi to turn almost around striking the machine again on the side. Mr. and Mrs. Firestone, daughter and son, were rushed to Lakeside hospital where it was ascertained that Mrs. Firestone and son Wallace were hurt the worst. Mr. Firestone and daughter Miss Jeanette having escaped with minor bruises. Mrs. Firestone received a rash on her forehead which required a few stitches, and Wallace also suffered from injuries on the head.

They were all able to return to Shiloh Sunday night by rail, as their car was badly damaged and was left in Cleveland.

Morfoot Finds New Relation at New London

Years ago it seems that a number of Morfoots were connected in Plymouth with a large tannery and pottery. The war came on and the families became separated, with only three or four remaining in and around Plymouth.

A few days ago a woman from New London appeared in the office of Dr. Hitchhick and during the conversation it was found that she was a Miss Morfoot before she married. Upon this information, Dr. Hitchhick, red to Mr. Lawrence Morfoot, manager of the A. & P. Store. Mrs. Hitchhick inquired of Mr. Morfoot if he had any relatives in New London. He stated that he had, and that they were related. Mrs. Hitchhick, ignorant of the burial place of her parents and other relatives, also discovered their graves in Greenwald cemetery here.

A reunion was held last Sunday at the Morfoot home, at which the family tree was traced and discussed.

When President Coolidge said: "I do not choose to run for President in 1928," it caused Our Country to consider what would happen if our present sound industrial structure and returning farm industry was tampered with, under a change national policy.

It makes no difference with what political party we are affiliated, we still must earn our bread and butter through regular and steady employment. It may be good sport for politicians or political parties to attack each other with criticism. But when a public official of whatever party who has guided his country through a troubled period in the world's history with increasing prosperity and reduced taxes, decides voluntarily to turn the reins of government over to a successor, he shifts the responsibility for continuation of sound government onto the shoulders of every citizen they must express their opinion.

Some persons thought it profitable to criticize President Coolidge for showing a favorable attitude toward business development. Others saw humor in commenting on his New England thrift. The political windbag felt he was strengthening his own position by poking fun at the President's reticent manner. Incoherent statements and disclamatory talk except when required to do so.

But that is all passed. It is now up to the critics and the admirers of President Coolidge in both parties, to see if they can match his record for sound administration of the great corporation in the world, namely the United States Government. The stockholders of this corporation, the citizens of the United States, today know more about business, more about investments and more about conditions which are necessary to assure steady employment than they ever did before. Most of the campaign blunder and political hocus pocus which was supposed to appeal to the voters in the past, will no longer fill the bill.

The voters of this country are like the baby that has grown out of the celluloid rattle rubber doll stage. They want more solid meat. Making faces and acting the fool before them on the theory that it will please and amuse them is at times sometimes does the small infant, will no longer appeal. The ten short words uttered by President Coolidge gives this nation a year to realize and consider what would happen as the result of any radical break away from a constructive, yet conservative national policy. Banker, factory executive, laboring man, public utility president, railroad manager, clerk and housewife have an equal opportunity to think over the situation and their own positions in the picture.

Republican or Democratic leaders face the responsibility of choosing a qualified executive head for this nation. If the public officials chosen by either party are incompetent, the nation will be the one to suffer.

At The Churches

M. E. Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson returned Tuesday from visiting in Southern Ohio with their grandchildren at Blue Rock Muskingum Co. and Barnesville, where Mr. Gibson spoke at the Home Coming of Barnesville Circuit.

The reports meeting many whom he had not seen for a quarter century, who had come from great distance to attend this celebration. It was delightful to mingle again with the friends of long ago. Mrs. Gibson remained with the grand children while Mr. attended the reunion. Two ministers who had gone out from this charge were present, and some others sent greetings, with regrets that it was impossible to attend. Mr. Gibson spoke at the morning service, four others in afternoon, with an old fashioned county picnic dinner enjoyed at the noon hour. Baskets of all the delicacies provided by the farmer wives, majoring in fried chicken and all kinds of cakes, was unlimited except by the capacity of attendees. The day services was in the Park, and evening service was held in the Main St. Church with the Rev. S. B. Salmon D. D. Supt. of Cleveland Dist. preaching the sermon.

Dr. Woods, Supt. of the Barnesville District says, "it is remarkable the way his District is coming up with reports of salaries all paid, and Benedicences will be in advance of last year, and thru this region, where the churches are largely dependant on the coal mining industry, where have been the strike, and hundreds of men out of work, where the women have kept the homes together, shows the real spirit of loyalty and devotion.

Sunday at Plymouth was not lost at all. The good people of Plymouth Methodist church, who are in their special offering to World Service at the Sunday School hour. This will help our report quite a good deal, for which we thank the Supt. John, and all others for their hearty co-operation.

Service for Sunday morning will be, S. S. at New Haven and Plymouth at their usual hour. Preaching at Plymouth at 11. Sept. 4, at New Haven and Plymouth will be the last preaching service of the Conference year. MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Honoring Mrs. James DeVeny, a recent bride, a miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Norris, Mulberry street, last Thursday evening.

Guests to the number of about thirty-five were present, and Mrs. DeVeny was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts.

The packages were tied to the under side of an enormous umbrella, loaned by Maurice Bachman and were presented to the bride in this way, to carry out the idea of a "shower."

The last package opened, a gift from Mr. Norris, would indicate either a shortage of potatoes or that Kroger prices were in advance of all others, for inside the wrapper marked "perishable" and "do not crush" reposed a box of nicely washed spuds. Refreshments were served and the guests departed after wishing Mrs. DeVeny much happiness in her new home.

Our Weekly Sermonette

(By Dr. G. R. Mente)

LORD INCREASE OUR FAITH

Genesis 28:15

Looking about us all, revealing in the beauties of nature, the question naturally arises, "Where can I find the power behind these mysteries?" Hence, I affirm that a belief in the existence of a supreme being, I call this being "God" more effectual for our happiness than all the beauties of nature around us, and a desire is born within the soul, to become a co-laborer with God and spreader of the great truth that there is a mighty spirit and all mankind should be aroused to this fact.

This is not a missionary sermon, but a plea that all of us, conscious of moral freedom, and possessed of the knowledge that we are not mere machines to be moved at will, but reasoning beings endowed with a personality all our own, to join us in spreading abroad the knowledge of our belief in God. Of course there will be many difficulties in the way, many discouragements to be overcome, many high places to be filled, many streams to be crossed and many systems to be encountered, should we endeavor for a life of daily duty give evidence of our moral freedom and of our belief in God and his power to save even to the uttermost.

One of the ancients said, standing in the presence of the oracle at Delphi: "Two things fill me with awe, the stary firmament, and the responsibility of man." How saw when we see so many of God's children, trifle away their precious time with those things that have no bearing upon the welfare of the race. Science is daily bringing forth new proofs that the words of holy writ are true, and that God is the origin of all life, for he made us in his image. It may be that a feeling of our helplessness and utter loneliness steals over us at times, but this is only the feeling of our dependence upon the ruler of the universe, and when we awaken like Jacob, from a dream, and admit that this world is indeed the house of God that the lord is in this place, though we knew it not, we look up and pray: Lord increase our faith.

But there is a greater hindrance to our faith in God, our sense of sin and unrighteousness, wilfulness and selfishness. Here again comes to us a lesson from the life of the patriarch Jacob, God did not refuse to be with Jacob, though he had sinned, but he assured the patriarch that God's presence in his future life would preserve him from future sin. And while his old transgression was always before him, it would not overcome him, as long as he kept his faith in Jehovah. And while sin may give us suffering, heartache and trouble, it can not rob us of the knowledge that God is ready to uphold us with his right hand and lead us beside the still waters. Thus we are once more convinced of the fact, that the fear of past wrong doing ought not rob us of the hope that we may in some way give our life as evidence of the presence or existence of the one true God. Are you declaring this God unto others? If not, why not?

SCHOOL NOTES

Opening date of school Tuesday September 6, 1927.

The gift of the class of 1927 is on display in Shafers window. Be sure to see it.

Any pupils who have not registered for this year or those who wish to make a change in the selection of subjects can do so. Supt. Ford will be in his office Monday and Tuesday afternoon Aug. 22 and 24th from 1 to 4. New pupils should make an effort to select their course of study before school opens.

Pupils should be careful in buying second hand books, to be sure the books are in good shape, that they are written by the same author and that the book is a recent edition. No changes in text books will be made this year.

Joy, Elmer Morgan, editor of the Journal of the N. E. A. of America, declares in a recent issue: "Our children are the future of the nation. And when youth goes wrong we generally find the cause in the home or in the school."

This is a well established fact and the new age calls for intelligent, devoted parents and for professionally trained, morally clean teachers. A leper in the school room may infect the moral make up of the class, hence if youth is to keep pace with the demands of our time, a careful selection of the teaching force should be made. In the home, the parent, in the school, the teacher. Upon these, after all, the scholar depends for leadership.

The elements which make for a perfect life, consist in a perfect parent and a perfect workman. This being true, stress must be placed upon these essentials in the building of character.

Our citizens certainly are fortunate to be able to hold Professor Ford another year to direct the destiny of our schools. Standing before the show window of the Shafer Grocery Company the other day, we were deeply impressed with the thought what proper leadership can accomplish. In years gone by, it was the custom to divide the funds of the graduating class among the individual members. Prof. Ford changed this and implanted into the minds of the scholars a desire to abolish every selfish thought; and encourage the spirit of service. Thus in leaving as an heirloom to the coming generations these fine works of art, on exhibition, as their gift, the graduates sow seeds for helpfulness and service. For as the future scholars look upon these works of art, which will grace the walls of the school, not only the slumbering passions for the beautiful will be awakened, but the unselfish spirit of the givers will arouse the desire to go and do likewise, and this in its reaction upon individual life, must bring about the bettering of existing conditions.

Given but five minutes to live, alone with the man who has been commissioned to kill her, a beautifully gowned Russian aristocrat looks wildly around a gorgeous room, decorated by plundering revolutionists.

This is one of the great central situations of Cecil De Mille's production, "The Volga Boatman," as adapted by Lenore J. Coffee from Konrad Bercovici's great story of Russia in travail, which will be the feature at the Shelby Castamba, Wednesday.

William Boyd is the crude Volga Boatman, servant turned master, leader of revolutionists, Elinor Fair, De Mille's newest "find" is the girl. What transpires in that room, how the unusual situation is built to a climax, provides the high spot of the strongly virile love story De Mille has constructed against the most gripping dramatic background of current history.

Yet just a little while ago knees were clasped as prayer bones instead of scenery.

Editorial and News Comment On National Happenings

Whether it is a wild hoax or the earnest plan of a prominent broadcast station to broadcast a trip thru an insane asylum, including "the weird, uncanny sounds of the inmates," is too repellent to be carried out if the station has a regard for public amenities and public opinion. It would be surprising if the management of any institution that cares for the unfortunate should assist in such a novelty. There are enough interesting phases of life to depict by wireless without exploiting misery for the sake of pandering morbid curiosity. Broadcasting stations have undefined obligations of decency to observe in the subject matter of their programs. Their own good sense should keep them from oversteering the line. There must be a touch of midsummer madness in a station itself to suggest that an excursion among lunatics, either real or fictitious, is a suitable kind of instruction or entertainment to broadcast.

Chairman Smoot of the Senate committee says that tax reduction at the coming session of Congress would be governed by such appropriations as might be made for Mississippi flood control. That will be taken seriously by those affected with tax reduction only if there is really some action in the direction of flood control, but usually such appropriations are effected with so much red tape that they dwindle to almost nothing before they reach their destination.

More horrors for the sensationalists! There may be a reconciliation of the Chaplins and none of the domestic disturbance aired in court.

One of the weakest arguments—if it is an argument at all—used by opponents of capital punishment is that the executioner's task is so unpleasant, revolting or degrading that no man would undertake it willingly, or should be required or permitted to perform it. Some countries have professional executioners, quite ready to earn substantial pay without much work. In our country the trap is sprung or the switch turned usually by an official accepting the responsibility as a disagreeable duty of his office. A highly useful service to society, fully authorized and required by its laws the job is no more than a conscientious public employee can do with a clear conscience.

But a recent incident suggests a way out of any difficulty. A murderer condemned to die for his crime, committed suicide with a strip of his cell blanket, instead of carefully preventing suicide, as is done in most states, we might provide condemned persons with reasonable facilities for it, preferably not including guns. Then if, some time before the fatal day, a murderer felt driven by remorse to take poison or cut his throat or hang himself, no survivor need feel personally responsible. And society could feel as unconcerned as it does when any harmless person is driven to suicide by poverty, hunger or despair.

Some railroad crossings and other dangerous places along highways in Ohio are beginning to assume the appearance of the American cemeteries in France, but the planting of white crosses where fatal accidents have occurred does not seem to have the desired effect on motorists. The state has been planting these white crosses in hope that the mournful reminders would incite more care in driving. Obviously the hope is vain. Intelligent, observant and careful drivers and passengers see the groups of little crosses and are needlessly saddened in their quests for pleasure. Drivers of the frenzy for speed. State officials should have known this from the start, but it seems that planting more and more of the much-criticized crosses is easier than eliminating grade crossings.

Statistical reports just made public show that 67,721 immigrants entered the United States from Mexico during the last fiscal year. In the same year there were 25,654 immigrant from the Irish Free State and 24,160 from Great Britain, including northern Ireland. Italy sent 17,257 and 3,211 came from Poland. It seems manifestly wrong to let in more Mexicans than the Irish, Italians, Poles and Swedes all taken together. There is no wisdom admitting nearly three times as many Mexicans as the legal quota from Great Britain. We shall have to establish a quota basis for Mexican immigrants, even though it will break the rule that quotas shall not apply to countries in this hemisphere, and then vigorous measures will have to be taken to enforce the legal limit and prevent the constant inflow of Mexican drift who drift informally and contrary to law, across a long and lonely frontier.

Canada has decided to permit American tourists to remain there 90 days instead of 60. If a man can't get enough in 60 days, he'd better stay at home.

A new Monte Carlo, which will surpass in magnificence its old world prototype, is being planned by New York and Havana capital and will be located in a suburb of Havana. It is said the amount of money involved in the new gambling enterprise will reach $12,000,000. Evidently the up-and-down status of the New York Stock Exchange does not satisfy the gambling instincts of New Yorkers.

A man may have a private car and $10,000,000 in the bank and still be a beggar if he isn't putting into life more than he is taking out.

No matter what you think about him, you are forced to admit that Henry Ford has the courage of his convictions. He started out to make low-priced automobiles when most business men regarded it as little less than financial suicide. He chartered a peace ship and allowed himself to be victimized by a lot of highbrow moonies in the face of a war-torn world. He raised wages when every body said it couldn't be done. He is not always right, but he is always doing something and nine times out of ten it is something that nobody else thought of. And now giant corporations are sitting on an anxious seat awaiting the announcement of his next product.

Chicago's alimony insurers should experience little difficulty in mustering support elsewhere, among citizens with or without alimony experience for their announced national campaign to get an end to alimony. It is not denying it is necessary to provide for minor children or proper to divide property acquired during marriage, most people are aware that the divorce court is made party to acts of greed or revenge on innocent persons, that divorce evil itself. Fortunately, new laws will scarcely be needed to bring about more reputable practices. Our elective judges may be trusted to do their part by ordering alimony paid only in proper instances and amounts, if agitation succeeds in creating a deep sentiment against lending the law's support to get-rich-quick scheme based on marriage.

"This isn't a one-man country" is a slogan that could be fittingly applied to those political admirers of Coolidge when they say he will be drafted into nomination. That would no doubt reflect the portrait of a president that seems to know his own mind.

Frank Brillhart Loses Barn and Contents

"NORTH FAIRFIELD.—Fire which swept a basement barn on the Frank Brillhart farm, one and one-half miles north of this place last Tuesday evening destroyed the barn's entire contents, but was prevented from spreading to another barn and the farm house.

Origin of the blaze is unknown as yet. The flames were discovered shortly after 7:30 o'clock when the barn roof suddenly became a mass of flames.

A quantity of hay, some tools, two wagons and a moving machine were lost. Livestock was not in the barn. It is understood that some insurance was carried on the property.

The Brillharts have resided on the farm for nearly a year, having come here from Carphother.

BIG MARINE TRAGEDY
Point Conception, the grave of six United States Navy destroyers which crashed into its menacing rocks several years ago, was selected by Rupert Julian as his principal location for the filming of sea scenes of "The Yankee Clipper," his latest production for Cecil B. De Mille, which will be shown at the Shelby Castamba, Thursday and Friday.

The waters of this promontory are said to be the roughest on the Pacific Coast. As a result the most realistic storm scenes ever brought to the screen are seen in the picture.

The clipper ships "Indiana" and "Bohemia," among the last of their type, were thoroughly reconditioned for the picture under the supervision of Leigh Smith, who was responsible in large measure for the success of "Down to the Sea in Ships." Both are as seaworthy as the day they were launched at Bath, Maine, more than fifty years ago.

"The Yankee Clipper," which features William Boyd, Ethel Fair, Walter Long and Junior Coplan, deals with an historic race between two clipper ships, one American and the other British, from Foo Chow, China, to Boston Harbor. The production was supervised by C. Gardner Sullivan. The supporting cast is noteworthy.

Hatch. The weather being delightful, tables were laid on the beautiful shady and spacious lawn. The younger people enjoyed many games in the old orchard. Invitations to the number of seventy were seated at the table at one o'clock where they were served with abundant dinner, prepared by the matrons of the family. A business session was called by the President, L. Harry Hatch. Very interesting talks were given by V. I. Hatch, G. W. Hatch and D. W. Danner.

Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Walter Hatch, Vice President, S. Harry Hatch, Secretary, Hazel Cramer, Treasurer, Harry Briggs. The date and place of the reunion of '28 was chosen, as at the home of Walter Hatch on the third Sunday of August in 1928. An interesting program followed. SCENES OF BASEBALL STORY FILMED AT YANKEE STADIUM

Dorothy Sebastian, musical comedy star and charmer of the screen, plays a role different from anything in her career in "Slide, Kelly, Slide," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new baseball picture coming to the Shelby Castamba Monday and Tuesday. She is "Marie Redmond"—typical of the feminine baseball fans of America. She is the sum total of all the feminine fans, in the character she plays in the new picture.

William Haines and Sally O'Neill head the cast in this picture, a story of baseball life told from the "inside" of a major league club. The cast is a notable one, including famous players of the screen and equally famous baseball players who appear in the training camp and baseball diamond scenes. Harry Carey, famous Western star, plays the catcher and Karl Dane the pitcher of the "team" with Bob Meusel, "Irish" Meusel and Tony Lazzeri, of World Series fame, as players. Mike Donlin, former manager of the New York Giants, and other notable players make up the rest of the club.

Baird Hicks to Enter Marathon

Baird W. Hicks, former Plymouth boy left Fostoria recently for Toronto, Canada, where he will take part as a contestant in the Second Wrigley International Water Marathon. The winner of the event will be acclaimed world champion long distance swimmer and will receive an award of $5,000.

Hicks has been training faithfully during the past three months. He was at Cedar Point several weeks, took part in the Maumee water carnival at Toledo and has been acting as life guard at the Fostoria Municipal Swimming Quarters for some time. He is in fine physical condition and expects to be in the first division at least.

Just before leaving Fostoria, Hicks cooperated with the Fostoria Alma Club in staging a water carnival which proved a great success and will probably become an annual event. The Alma Club is sponsoring Hicks during his stay in Canada. The big event is scheduled for August 31, which gives him two weeks in which to complete his training in the waters in which the event will be held.

The OFFICE CAT

BY JUNIUS

In a wrestling match between love and pride, love is always thrown.

Every time he sends his girl a telegram, a certain traveling salesman puts it down in his expense book as "chicken wire."

A clerk who has been on a buying trip in New York wrote to the store bookkeeper back home: "Since I have been away I have seen many strange sights and hope to see you on Monday."

BUT HOW WOULD THAT HELP? Item in Michigan paper—"Mr. and Mrs. Paul Loring are the proud parents of a baby boy born to them yesterday morning. You may be next. Why don't you buy some fire insurance?"

MYSTERY
I've tried, but never could
Quite figure out
What weeping willows had
To cry about.

He—"My ideal of a wife is one who can make good bread."
She—"My ideal of a husband is one who can raise the dough in the hour of need."

Note to erring evangelists: "If the blind lead the blind, both will fall into the ditch."

"How many times do you imagine he's kissed you?"
"So far I haven't had to imagine he's kissed me at all."

Ed Phillips says Heaven to a small boy is a place where he can make all the noise he wants to.

Teacher—"Who can give me a sentence using the word 'avaunt'?"
Little Boy—"Avaunt what avaut when avaut it."

Uncle Oscar Nibblesfield while visiting in our midst last week was heard to remark that he was just simply flabbergasted.

Dulcie—"My husband swore last night that he's have his own way or bust."

Dora—"What happened."

Dulcie—"I busted him one."

Mother—"Were you good at the party?"

Six-Year-Old—"Yes."

Mother—"You didn't ask twice for anything at the table?"

Six Year Old—"No, I didn't. I ask once, and they didn't hear me, so I helped myself."

About the only feminine mystery left is why she doesn't spend the afternoon at home occasionally.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. E. M. Rinlinger of Seattle, Wash., arrived here last week for an extended visit with her mother Mrs. C. J. Powers, and other relatives and friends. Following is an item copied from one of the Seattle papers, which will be of interest to many of our readers, as Miss Rinlinger was born in Plymouth, in 1909 and is a daughter of the late Dr. Edmund Marbury Rinlinger.

"Mrs. Edmund Marbury Rinlinger announces the marriage of her daughter, Helen Dorothy, to Mr. Elmer Giorius, on Saturday evening, August 6, at Beaux Arts, on Lake Washington. The Rev. Paul James read the service in the presence of a small group of relatives and intimate friends."

"The bride was most charming in ivory satin and a veil of tulle caught to a Russian coronet of Point Venise lace. Her bouquet was of white lilies, white sweet peas and lilies of the valley."

"Miss Rinlinger is a graduate of the University of Washington, affiliated with Pi Beta Phi, and also a graduate of the Prince School of Store Service Education at Simmons College, Boston, with Bachelor of Science degree."

"Mr. Giorius, who was formerly of St. Louis, attended Westminster College at Fulton, Mo., and is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity."

"Mr. and Mrs. Giorius will be at home in Seattle after September 1."

INTERESTING VISITORS

Plymouth has had two interesting visitors from Scotland the past two weeks. They are Miss Louie Nicolson and Mr. Nicol Nicolson, who have been spending sometime with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dowd on Plymouth street.

Asked what he thought of prohibition in this country, Mr. Nicolson stated: "It's the law, and we should obey it." He also states that the street cleaner gets higher pay than the engineers or other skill labor in Scotland. Ford cars run about $850 but the high tax on them makes it impossible for a great number to be used. However, he states that the road program this year in Scotland will total 450 million dollars.

Mr. Nicolson was very much impressed with the traffic lights in our cities. He pointed out that it takes thousands of officers in Glasgow and London as well as other large cities, to handle the traffic, but he says that it will not be long before they will be using the traffic light similar to the ones in this country.

Living conditions are somewhat lower in Scotland than here. For instance Mr. Nicolson was wearing a suit which would cost approximately $45 or $50. He states that he paid $18.

Both Mr. and Miss Nicolson think America is a great country, and their trip has been very educational to them, but they maintain that Scotland has wonderful natural scenery, and they are also proud of their country.

This is their first visit to America and they left Monday for St. Louis, Mo., where they will visit other relatives before returning to New York where they will take a boat home.

Mr. Dowd is a cousin to the Nicols, so he having come from a town in Ireland, a short distance from their home in Gourock.

AT AKRON

Messrs. Ray, Carl, and Merle Dinger, and Arthur Myers were in Akron yesterday where they enjoyed a banquet given by the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co., and also a sight-seeing tour through the factory.

ROBBERS MADE BIG HAUL IN NORWALK

Sometime Thursday night or early Friday morning some bold and experienced robbers broke into the Spangler store on West Main street and took approximately $2,000 worth of merchandise all of which was new fall stock.

As to the time the robbery occurred no one knows, for it was not until Mr. Spangler came to the store Friday morning that it was discovered.

The officers of law quickly admitted to the store by knocking the lock off the front door and completely destroying it. Evidently the merchandise was removed to trucks awaiting at the front of the store. Such robberies seem almost impossible for they must be accurately timed to get by the police and the passers-by who in this day and age are numerous. Other such robberies have occurred in Norwalk in the past few years, and there seems to be only one way to stop them—Norwalk needs a larger police force.

That the thieves were experienced is evidenced by the fact that they knew exactly where to find the new merchandise.
