COUNTY BUYS NEW CAR FOR SHERIFF

Sheriff Charles D. Trimmer of Huron County gets another brand new Buick sedan.

The county commissioners last week turned one over to his department to take the place of the new Buick wrecked on New Year's on W. Main street when the machine skidded and hit a shade tree. William Lotland of the Buick garage allowed the county $600 on the new car, which means that the damage caused by the wrecking of the other Buick was $1100.

It also was announced that Sheriff Trimmer has increased the salary of County Road Officer Dolcie Bogart from $125 a month to $150 a month.

One of the county commissioners had a heart-to-heart talk with Sheriff Trimmer regarding the county road officer situation. The sheriff was given to understand that the board of commissioners is not favorably impressed with the fact that the county road officer has been at the wheel when two county cars were wrecked and it was suggested that the sheriff get some one else to drive the county machines.

But Trimmer apparently saw things in a different light. "Bogart is the best man I ever had," said the sheriff. The commissioner, however, expressed a contrary opinion.

In accordance with long established custom, the commissioners did not insure the first Buick that was wrecked on Jan. 1. But the new Buick has been insured for its full value.

The plaintiff says her decedent took care of William Pansel 50 weeks. She asserts the services were worth $20 a week or $1,000. The administrator says she presented her claim on May 21 but it was rejected December 9.

She asks through her attorneys, Huston and Huston that she be allowed judgment in the sum of $1,000.

The court fixed the appeal bond, in case attorneys wish to appeal the case.

PLYMOUTH HI IN ATHLETICS 30 YEARS AGO

According to a story received this week Plymouth High at one time enjoyed a "real football team." Many of the old-time stars still reside here and will probably recall many of the events brought to light in the article below, which was contributed by a former Plymouth boy, but who is now one of the "big men" in his line. The name being withheld at his request—for a real sportsman is always a little shy—but the story is good—so read it:

In these days when athletics play such an important part in the life of every high school, we of Plymouth old timers look back thirty years to the days of the Plymouth H. S. wonder football team. Prof. Harry D. Clark of Ashland was the H. S. principal and football coach. For two years 1898 and 1899 the team did not lose a game. We remember a few of the scores: Plymouth HI 12—Shelby HI 6; Plymouth HI 40—Greenwich HI 6; Plymouth HI 11—Shelby Athletic Club 6; Plymouth HI 25—Greenwich HI 5; Plymouth HI 6—Gallion HI 6; Plymouth HI 11—Greenwich A. C. 6; Plymouth HI 6—Norwalk HI 6.

Large crowds attended the games both at Plymouth and in other towns. We remember one outstanding game. After Plymouth HI had defeated so many other High Schools, a challenge was sent by the Shelby Athletic club. We were to get our expenses. If we scored we were to get our expenses and supper. If we won we were to get our expenses, supper and $75.00. Plymouth HI won 11 to 6. We received our expenses, supper and I guess the $75.00, but I am sure we had a glorious party given to us by the H. S. girls when we arrived back in Plymouth.

Some of the boys playing on that team were: Carl, Bud Stewart, Bob Kirtland, Karl Wenner, Fred Fowler, Ira Paake, Bob Fenner, Court Miller, Frank Cuykendall, Fred Nimmons, Maurice Spear, Fred Hopkins, Jim Devoe, Frank Wenner, Sam Fenner, Wilton Ames and Chas. McDonough. H. H. Pate, Chas. Weber, Doc Gaskill and Fred Cuykendall were the financial backers of the team and Clarence Kirkpatrick was the manager. Of course our coach played with us. That was expected in those days. Bud Stewart was the star and scored about four-fifths of all Plymouth's points. During these thirty years we have followed foot ball closely but never saw a greater High School player.

Yes! It was some team. Signed P. H. S. '96

Gov. Donahey Issues Relief Proclamation For Children

We have contributed to the Near East Fund, the Red Cross, Salvation Army, the flood refugees, and many other good causes, but today a knock comes to our OWN door for food, shelter and clothing, and we cannot afford to turn a deaf ear to the plea of little children, whether they be foreigners or Americans, who are undergoing untold suffering in the mine area of eastern Ohio.

In order to bring relief to the now existing conditions Governor Donahey has issued the following APPEAL: PROCLAMATION FOR CHILDREN'S RELIEF

"Within the borders of the State of Ohio at the present time exists a condition of distress and suffering which must be called to the attention of the people of the commonwealth. More or less unemployment exists everywhere. In most communities the more fortunate are able to provide relief for those in need. In other communities, however, especially in the coal mining regions, the financial resources have become exhausted, with the result that many children are at the point of starvation for want of food and suffering from lack of clothing."

P. T. A. MEETING

The meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association on Thursday evening was well attended. The men were to furnish the program for the evening and decided on a debate, the subject being "Resolved that Plymouth Should Have a Surfing." Mr. Lindsay and Dr. G. J. Seale, Jr. affirmative and Mr. J. E. Nimmons and Mr. Chas. Seale negative. The judges were Mayor Derr, Stacy Brown and W. A. Doyle. The debate was of a humorous nature and very interesting. It was thoroughly enjoyed by all present even the participants. The judges agreed to disagree and let each person be his own judge as to which side had beaten. Beside the debaters remarks on the subject were made by Mr. Jenkins, Mr. Ralph Hoffman, Supt. Miller and Rev. Himes, all agreeing that Plymouth should raise a high community standard for its youth. That we want a curfew sentiment if not a curfew law.

The baked sale netted the association $39.10.

The P. T. A. has over 150 members and the solicitors are not quite through.

The association voted to purchase the Stereopticon Picture machine which has been in use for some time. Mesdames Ralph Hoffman, Chas. Seale and Mr. E. E. Stuck were appointed program committees for February.

Next meeting Thursday evening, February 18.

SPLENDID PROGRAM AT W. C. T. U. MEET

In spite of the blizzard which was sweeping over Huron County Friday evening, thirty-seven members and guests of the Willard and Plymouth W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Georgia Boardman of West Broad street.

Mrs. A. M. Himes had charge of the devotional period which she conducted in an impressive manner.

Mrs. Folda of Willard, Huron County President, told of the plans for the coming year and also of the work of the Loyal Temperance Legion which is being carried on in the schools of Huron County. There are more than 500 members in Huron County at present.

Recitations were given by two L. T. L. members of Willard. Frances Jennings gave "Points of View" and Mathilde McNeal "The Fight to the Finish." The white ribbon women always enjoy the children's work.

Mrs. W. C. T. U. read an article concerning the woman preacher of England and the wonder was expressed as to why any one in the United States had to import a woman preacher, a user of cigarettes at that, when there were so many SPLENDID women preachers in our own country.

Mrs. A. E. Willett read an article which gave the report of an authority on labor statistics concerning the decrease in the use of alcoholic drinks as a beverage.

The "White Ribbon" quartette, consisting of Mesdames L. Z. Davis, Ed. Phillips, Emma Rank, and J. L. Price gave two numbers which were much enjoyed.

No business was transacted excepting that the Plymouth Union voted to send old clothing to the families of miners in Belmont County, Ohio, where Mrs. Baltzell has a friend who is doing mission work.

Mrs. Boardman, with her assistants, Mrs. Thurman Ford, Mrs. L. Z. Davis, and Mrs. Dan Clark, served delicious refreshments and a social hour followed the program.

Editorial-News And Comment On National Happenings

Capital punishment is not a pleasant thought, at best. Some states refuse to resort to it, no matter what the increase in capital crime, and all the states would be happy to abandon it entirely, if human life could be made safe without it. But since abundant crime and everyday murder indicate that we need more capital punishment, rather than less, there may be comfort for the conscientious in the thought that the death penalty is administered in the most seemly, quick and humane manner invention has been able to devise. Certainly the electric chair is more in keeping with modern ideas than the gallows, guillotine, garrote, axe, stake and other instruments of penal death in use in other countries or times. Any capital punishment surely costs less in the end. It is here and now. Suppose the male and female murderers figuring in a familiar case recently, instead of being mercifully put out of their self-pitying misery with a sudden electric shock, were to be sluggish with saws, thrust through with pictures wire and ultimately chloroformed to make sure they were dead. Condemning murderers to be beaten, choked, shot, stabbed or put to death by whatever means they used in putting their victims to death might be highly practical justice, as well as poetic.

The hope of this country lies in business men and women. It is the business man—the economist—who constructs houses, builds railroads, and irrigates the waste lands. And the farmer of today is a business man, no longer a peasant. If all men, he is an economist. You can get along without the soldiers, but the farmer is a necessity. We all lean on the farmer—and sometimes heavily.

If automobile price-cutting keeps up, it will soon be cheaper to give your automobile to the traffic officer than go before a traffic judge.

Human flight has qualities which transcend imagination. It is swift beyond any other form of motion achieved by man. It is extremely spectacular, always out in the open. It turns men's eyes upward into immense spaces, and their thoughts follow. Its triumphs are won by great daring and it is highly individual. The personal element is so strong that its heroes stand out in striking relief. No crowd thrills to the conquest of them. For all of these reasons and because it has the charm of novelty, flying easily blinds many eyes to its limitations. Men forget how long it is since the first successful airplane was built and tested in public. They do not check up the slow progress of aviation by comparing it with the slow progress of the automobile into vast popularity, or even with the way the steam railroad won its conquests through the civilized world when it was newer than the airplane is now.

On the shore of most any lake, you can find an allegory of human life. Farthest back from the line where the great opposing forces meet, is the sand. Tossed there because it is light. Sitting happily in the bleachers of the baseball grounds on a pleasant afternoon in June, 1925, a young man in St. Louis had no premonition of misfortune to himself, whatever might occur to the home team. When Mr. Bottomley, first base tender of that team, went to bat at a crucial moment, the young man may even have wished him success. Mr. Bottomley, evidently it's that. The ball shot from his bat to the distant, sleek-

ALICE JOYCE IN NEW "SORRELL" FILM

Alice Joyce, for years one of the most popular actresses in motion pictures, plays the role of Fanny Garland in Herbert Brenon's production of "Sorrell and Son" at the Temple theatre. Miss Joyce's sympathetic portrayal is declared by director Brenon to be the finest of her screen career.

Alice Joyce was born and educated in Kansas City, Missouri, and started to make her living as a telephone operator. Her beauty and personality attracted the attention of motion picture executives and she was offered a chance to act with the old Vitaphone company. Although still in her early teens, she soon became a star and an outstanding favorite with fans in several countries.

Since the Vitaphone days, Miss Joyce has starred and played opposite leading masculine stars in scores of pictures. She has been free lancing during the most of her career in recent years.

In addition to "Sorrell and Son," in which she is cast with H. B. Warner, Anna Q. Nilson, Nils Asther, Carmel Myers, Norman Trevor, Mary Nolan, Louis Wolheim, Lionel Belmore, Mickey McBan and other noted players, some of Miss Joyce's best known pictures include "Stella Dallas," "The Little French Girl," "Man-aqua," "Dancing Mothers," and "Beau Geste."

She is a devotee of out-of-door sports, a lover of good books and a student of flower culture. She is five feet, seven inches in height and weighs 120 pounds. Miss Joyce has brown hair and hazel eyes.

"BEAU GESTE" BIGGER THAN "THE TEN COMMANDMENTS"

The French Foreign Legion, the endless, gorgeous, giant sand dunes of the Sahara, a famous rhyolite, hundreds of desert warriors sweeping on horseback to attack a lonely fort manned by 40 men, practically all in mutiny—there you have a glimpse of romance and thrills contained in "Beau Geste" which comes to the Shelby Opera House Sunday.

No greater effort was ever put into the making of a motion picture. This romantic, thrilling screen mystery story, adapted from one of the most popular novels in years, represents a larger undertaking than even "The Ten Commandments," which was also produced by Paramount.

Ronald Colman, Alice Joyce, Noah Beery, Mary Brian, Nell Hamilton, William Powell, Norman Trevor, Victor McLaglen and Ralph Forbes are featured, but there are scores of other stars as prominent.

"Beau Geste" is a mystery story of the Foreign Legion on the deserts of Africa that will tighten your very skin with excitement. It tells of three young Englishmen who disappear from home after a famous sapphire, "The Blue Water," belonging to their aunt, is stolen. All this leads to a remote fort on the Sahara and the ever feared attack of an Arab host.

In the morning the fort remains uncaptured. Every man is at his post—dead! The commanding officer with a French bayonet through his heart, and an amazing confession concerning the theft of "The Blue Water" clutched in the hand of a dead soldier, both lie on the roof!

Herbert Brenon, who directed the picture, and the 2,000 men who appear in it, lived on the sun-scorched Arizona Desert for three months making exterior scenes.

"ALIAS THE DEACON" HERSCHELT IS STAR

What gives promise of being one of the most unusual and appealing film productions of the year will be shown at the Shelby Opera House, Wednesday, starring Jean Herschelt. The story proved a tremendous success in its long stage presentation in almost every city in America, and with Jean Herschelt, one of the most celebrated actors on the screen, in the role of the gambler who covers his real occupation under the benign exterior of a deacon, a very worthwhile picture should be the result.

DOG STAR SHOWING

IN ANOTHER FILM

"Thunder," who through one picture achieved an enviable place for himself in the canine screen world, sets another record in "Wolf Fangs," the Fox Films production which will be shown at the Shelby Opera House, Friday.

Thunder through his almost human, intelligent reactions helped majority to place "Wings of the Storm," his first starring picture at the top of the list of pictures selected by the American Federation of Women's Clubs last year. According to advance reports, "Wolf Fangs" will add another success to his credit.

"BUCK" JONES HAS SCARE FOR RAIDERS

While on location the Buck Jones company, shooting opening scenes of "The Branded Sombro," a Fox Films production, to be shown at the Shelby Opera House, Saturday were often beset by a number of marauding tramps, who raided the chuck wagon when their fancy suited them.

Resolved to end their plundering habits, Buck organized his company and waited patiently for a return visit. One evening the tramps returned, and, as Buck's signal, every member of the company let loose with both guns—loaded with blanks. Then, they loosed an Indian yell and scared the midnight visitors stiff. The tramps never returned.

A program committee consisting of Mrs. Nellie Smith, Mrs. Myrtle Dawson and Mrs. Mildred Harvey was then appointed to make out a program for the next meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Pettit.

Girl Scout News

Troop No. 1 is rather quiet at present, but busy. Ten are passing their Tenderfoot Tests, and the Tenderfoot Scouts are preparing to take their 2nd. class tests. The second class Scouts are beginning to think of taking up word for their first class tests, and several of the ambitious Scouts are working for merit badges.

A private Scout library is in progress of making, with books loaned or donated by the members. A bank setting on the Treasurer's desk is to receive all stray pennies, the girls expect to have this filled by Mothers Day, when they are planning to entertain their mothers.

The Patrols are taking turns in leading the meetings, and are planning and carrying out very interesting programs.

All members are interested, and active, and while the attendance is not quite 100%, it is very close to it. The troops will welcome new members and any Scout will be glad to give information regarding enrollment.

Trade Schools for Refugees Aided By Catholic Near East Welfare Association Help Many

THERE is no "spreading chestnut tree" for these village smithies, but there is a home, and food and clothing—things to which they have been little accustomed before.

Nomad ragmuffins, the children of Syrian refugees, these boys were picked up in the streets of Beilheem by the Catholic Near East Welfare Association, and they are now learning to become useful members of society.

Helping the destitute to help themselves is the business of the Association, which supports orphanages and trade schools similar to the Bethlehem home throughout the stricken countries of the Near East. The Bethlehem orphanage, which is pictured at the right, conducts schools in bookbinding, tailoring, shoemaking, joining and blacksmithing. For boys who are best fitted for the fields it teaches agriculture.

Yet this is but one phase of the Catholic Association's activities. During the last year it has housed and cared for thousands of wandering refugees in Palestine, Syria and Greece, apart from relief extended to sufferers as the result of disasters in Armenia and Smyrna. Its work also extends to Russia and Central Europe.

To support these activities the Association, of which Prof. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., Vice-President of Georgetown University, is president, has launched its second annual appeal for members and renewal memberships. The Association has the approval of the American hierarchy and the active support of Pope Pius XI, who recently lauded its work in from one dollar and upward. The Association is a merger of all American Catholic societies which formerly operated in Russia and the Near East, a consolidation effected at the request of the Vatican in the interest of economy and efficiency, so that there is no duplication of work abroad.

Directors of the Association, which has its headquarters at 480 Lexington Avenue, New York City, include Cardinal O'Connell, Dougherty and Hayes.

TEMPERANCE PROGRAM IN P. H. S.

Friday afternoon the Clioan Literary Society had charge of a Temperance program. The program was sent out by the state and was read all over Ohio as an anniversary of the 18th Amendment.

The main event of the program was the inspiring speech by Mrs. Baltzell. The following is the speech she gave:

The liquor traffic is 4000 years old. It is rooted deep in all the world, yet some people think we should put it from our midst completely in eight years.

The first law in the United States against slavery was passed in 1787, the Civil war was fought in 1861-65, 74 years later, and slavery still is going on, though Thank God! not with the sanction of the U. S. Government.

Too many thought the job was finished when the 18th amendment was written into the constitution; but you cannot change men's appetites overnight, nor cure a flourishing traffic for the slimsy dollar no matter how they get it. Men had billions of dollars invested in the liquor business. Never was there anything, not even slavery, that so fastened itself on the political body. Practically every politician in the land was after a share in the liquor traffic. With these conditions existing many think we should have had perfection long ere this. So many are comparing things as they are today with perfection instead of as they were ten years ago.

Before Prohibition there were 1247 breweries, all doing a flourishing business, using every high pressure method known to modern business to get their beer down the throats of the American people at the rate of 50 gallons per capita a year. Do you suppose that all the home brew stills in the country are producing that amount of 50 gallons per capita for 110 millions of people? And this does not include the distilleries, moonshiners and blind tigers. And yet we hear people say there is more drinking today than before prohibition.

Then the friends of booze try to tell us that the Government needs the money which the tax on booze would bring in and that the cost of enforcing the law is too heavy for the people. A thrill came about when our greatest American statistician, Professor Irving Fisher of the University appeared before the Congressional Committee to show how, since the advent of prohibition, our country has already gained five billion dollars a year on account of improved national efficiency.

Then the liquorites claim the laboring man wants and needs his drink. Do you suppose for one instant that we could have secured prohibition without the vote of the laboring man? Just because a few leaders of the Labor Union are wet they try to, and do so far as the uninformed public is concerned, put the entire operation of Labor on record as being against prohibition. A few years ago when Sam Gompers was the leader of the American Federation, the W. C. T. U. investigated and found that in balloting on this question in their National Convention that one man had the power to cast three thousand votes.

Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, and re-elected at the National Convention at Cleveland in December, in his opening address said, "There never has been any change in the sentiment of the farmer as regards the saloon. We must tear off the mask of those who talk Modification. It is either Prohibition or the open Saloon. Sixty-one years ago the Grange declared for Temperance and more than fifty years ago it declared against the open saloon. This convention was attended by approximately 15,000 farmers from 28 states. But maybe the liquor trader doesn't consider the farmer a laboring man!

Then the Boote interests are so worried because they say that "prohibition is making drunkards and law breakers of our youth." That's a lie I like to hit between the eyes every time I get a chance. And when did the Boote business ever do anything to help to save our youth from the curse of drink? They know their business is dead forever if they can't gain recruits rapidly from the boys and girls of our Nation, therefore they are using every means they can think of to induce, tempt and encourage drinking among the youth of America. And yet there is really so little of it that when a case does occasionally come to their attention it is such good news for the wet paper that it is given the headlines and very likely put on the first page. One instance showing the stand young people are taking is shown when a recent election of one of the major political parties was held in Denver, Colorado. They passed a resolution favoring the modification of the Volstead Act and Judge White, who supported the resolution, in his campaign attacked the young people and claimed that they are being ruined by prohibition. The youth of Denver answered him saying, "We the youth of Denver, as represented by 2570 members of the Christian Endeavors, B. Y. P. U.'s and Epworth Leagues of this city, do hereby protest and heartily deplore the recent action taken by said convention favoring modification of the 18th amendment."

"We challenge the statement of Mr. White that prohibition is making drinkers of the youth of America and we attest the sober votes of 2570 of Denver's young people. We call up on him now to assert that he is violating the belief of the thinking youth of Denver in making such a statement."

And another argument of the wets is that we need booze for medicine and a great many people are sincere in the belief that it is a cure when you know that twenty-two states forbid the use of liquor for medicine, it doesn't seem so necessary after all. Some newspapers tried to make us believe that a few distilleries would have to begin work to manufacture liquor for medicine because of the great demand, but Dr. Doran, National Prohibition Commissioner says, "Withdrawals of liquor from warehouses have decreased and at the present rate of demand there is sufficient whiskey on hand for legitimate purposes to last at least five years." Thirty years later Prohibition, in the medical wards of Mercy Hospital, Chicago, no alcohol was given to any patient. The death rate in this hospital for pneumonia cases for these thirty years was only twelve per cent, while in other large hospitals where liquor was used freely, the death rate in the same disease varied from 18 to 25 per cent. Then in great Bellevue hospital in New York experiment in pneumonia, with and without alcoholic liquors, the result being that the use of alcohol in this disease was abandoned. And many other such instances are available.

The great problem confronting us today is not ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS, but OBEDIENCE TO LAW and that is where the young people of Plymouth High School can help. Home, church, school, shop and sport life are all founded on obedience. It is the fundamental thing. You do not respect the boy or girl who is constantly violating the rules of the school or sports team. Why should we have any high regard for the youth or adult who willfully refuses to obey the laws of our country? The command to obey law is older than our Constitution, for in Romans 13:1 we are told "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers (Meaning magistrates). For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God." And if ever a law had the sanction of God it is the 18th Amendment to our Constitution, and it is up to the boys and girls like you to say whether it shall be weakened or strengthened.

You have been given a wonderful inheritance, a country which has outlived the liquor traffic, one of the greatest adventures of all history. Dr. Clifford Gordon, of Australia, who came to America and made a survey of conditions after Prohibition, said before the Indiana W. C. T. U. Convention this fall, "There is no hope for Prohibition in Australia or other parts of the world until the question is settled here. Should you fall down or modify the law in any way in the United States you will let the entire world down. The responsibility of a Dry World rests upon the shoulders of the American people."

Will you be like Esau of Old Testament days who sold his inheritance for a "mess of pottage" that he might satisfy his appetite for the present moment, or will you "hold high the torch" and help to light the way for other nations of the world who are looking to the United States for help and encouragement in putting the same evil out from their midst? It is great to be out where the light is strong. To be where the heaviest troops belong. And to fight there for man and God. Oh, it seems the face and it fires the brain. It strains the arm till one's friend is pained. In the light for man and God. But it's great to be out where the light is strong. To be where the heaviest troops belong. And to fight for man and God.

MANSFIELD DEFEATS PLYMOUTH JUNIOR HIGH

Junior High of Mansfield defeated Plymouth Junior High for the second time this season Friday night at Hamillon Hall. The score was 44 to 11. Mansfield's men were larger and more experienced than our own and completely outclassed them. Plymouth was never in the lead. Muma and Myers were stars for Plymouth while Marshall and Bosco starred for the winners.

P. H. S. BOYS STOP NEW HAVEN

Plymouth defeated New Haven Saturday night 35 to 26. In the first quarter Plymouth got away to a fast start and held a 10 to 4 lead at the end of the period. In third quarter the team continued playing in the same manner and at the quarter were tied with their opponents, each team having twenty-three points. In the last period Plymouth rallied and added 15 points to their total and at the same time held New Haven to one field goal and one free throw, giving them a lead at the end of 12 points. PLYMOUTH GIRLS LOSE FAST ONE TO WILLARD

P. H. S. girls lost a fast and furious game to Willard girls Friday evening by a 29 to 28 score. Spectators left the hall with the satisfied feeling that they had received their money's worth, for the game furnished plenty of thrills and excitement.

The girls started right in at the first to make things interesting and they continued to do so throughout the game. At the end of the first quarter the score stood 5 to 4 in favor of Willard. At the half, however, our girls held the large end of a 13-11 score and at the end of the third quarter P. H. S. was in the lead with a 20 to 19 score. But Old Lady Luck frowned upon our girls and allowed the Willard girls to boost their score a little just a few seconds before the whistle blew. The final score was Willard 29 and Plymouth 28.

We are proud of our girls' team and the splendid game which they played last Friday night. If any team ever deserved to win a game our girls surely deserved to win this one; but, by a queer twist of fate they came out on the short end. However, they should not be disheartened for they should take defeats as well as victories with a smile.

This is only the third game that they have lost this year—a fact which should serve to urge them on to more victories. And we know that they can and will.

Let us analyze this team and see what it is made up of. Many people do not know what girls play on this team.

First, we have Fate, a classy forward and how! Without her the team would be at a great disadvantage. It is a well known fact that when she gets under the basket with the ball she usually sinks it and gets the hand of the audience long and often. Then there is Sheeley who is noted for her exceptionally fast floor work and accurate shooting. She has proved that she knows her basket ball without a doubt.

Then Himes has shown us that she can play when she wants to. Then the guards, Steele, Hale and Straub, who fit around the floor hither and yon with unusual agility in getting the ball away from their opponents.

Besides these we have two Sophomores Becker, a forward and Anderson, a guard. We want it to be known that the forward that Anderson guarded Friday night, made but one basket. These two Sophomores have become very handy in the two years that they have been playing. Few girls have been able to raise themselves to the standing that "Tommy" has, especially in basket ball. Then there are two Freshmen—Moore and Anderson, who have done exceptionally well in the games that they have played in.

All in all, we have a real team and we will back them to the limit.

Dear Folks:

Relief! To the public because they really wish to ally their curiosity concerning the coming event.

What Children Should Know

If you ever tried digging even the tiniest hole and found how much time and effort it took, you probably realized that digging a long wide ditch with just a pair of hands and a pick and shovel is a pretty difficult task.

Perhaps you had better leave the task to grown-ups, because men can use things that are dangerous that little children should not touch. Men, by working very hard, can dig a very fair-looking ditch if they take a long, long time and get very tired out doing it, but there is something that can dig the longest kind of a ditch faster than you can say "Jack Robinson." The most capable ditch-digger in all the world is dynamite! All the labor there is to it is planting of dynamite along the line that marks the path that the ditch is to follow. When it is time for the ditch to be dug, a man just presses a little electric button and boom!—a mighty noise, a cloud of smoke, a shower of falling tree stumps and dirt and brush and,—behold,—the ditch is dug!

It being election night the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Harry Griffith, Vice-president, Mrs. Pickens, Secretary, Treasurer, Mrs. Nimmons. WOOLET BUYS PALACE

Ber Woolet has purchased the Palace restaurant. The deal was closed Wednesday night. Mr. Woolet, who up until a short time ago, has successfully operated a grocery store here, but naturally being a "restaurant man" it was very hard for "Ber" to get used to clipping lettuce leaves, and grinding coffee, and other minor details that go along with the grocery line. So Ben has gone back to his old calling—operating a restaurant—to the delight of his many friends—and they are many.

Mr. Lou Buckley, who is retiring as owner of the Palace, has enjoyed a good patronage, and has many friends who regret to see him leave. It is not known yet just what Mr. Buckley will devote his time to.

The purchase of the Palace has been under consideration by Mr. Woolet for some time, and many reports have been spread to the effect that Woolet had taken it over, but it was not until late Wednesday night that the deal was completed. There will no doubt be several changes in the kitchen and dining room, and from what Ben says Plymouth will have a restaurant with many new features.

THE WISE FRIEND

Once upon a time—and not very long ago—there was a brother and sister who had a friend. A very special friend he was, who told them stories about men who flew through the skies over far-flung spaces of the earth; of boys and girls who had thrilling and mysterious adventures; of others who had most unusual situations confront them, yet managed to come through their tests with steadfast and courageous hearts; of wild animals in deep jungles—how they lived, hunted, and died. Such a host of things did their good friend tell them of, and how interestingly he told them!

Came the time when their friend moved away to another town. Brother and sister were saddened by his going, for they knew they would miss his cheery smile and the wonderful stories and amusing anecdotes he was so fond of telling them. Then one day the postman brought them a letter from their old friend, in which he told them he was sending them The Youth's Companion so that they would not forget him, and in it they would find just the sort of stories they had so much enjoyed hearing him tell.

And sure enough, a day or two later the magazine arrived, and brother and sister found that it truly did have just such wonderful stories of adventure and sport and mystery, and just a bit of fun as they loved so well. And every time that a new number of The Youth's Companion arrived, they wrote a note to their friend and told him how much pleasure the magazine gave them.

You, too, may have just that same pleasure or give that pleasure by sending a subscription to The Youth's Companion. Subscribers will receive:

2. Two extra numbers to new subscribers ordering within 30 days. All for only $2.

OVERWORK, rich foods and stimulating drinks put extra burdens on our kidneys. When the kidneys slow up, impurities remain in the blood and are apt to make one languid, tired and achy, with dull headaches, dizziness and often nagging backache. A common warning is scanty or burning secretion.

STATE POLITICAL POT BEGINS BOILING

Columbus, Ohio, Jan.—Ohio's "Political Pot" which has been slimmering for several weeks is finally coming to a boil and it is being predicted that before the idea of March or over it may be bubbling over.

Already the Presidential question is attracting the attention of those politically minded. Senator Frank B. Willis is an out and out candidate and is asking the support for President of the Ohio delegation to the National Convention. Rumors of every kind are flying about as to whether or not Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover and other Presidential possibilities will enter the Ohio Presidential Primary against Senator Willis in April contesting with him for the votes of the Ohio delegation. The Democratic side of the fence harmony seems to prevail with a state carrying former Senator Allee Pomeroy as the first choice of Ohio and former Congressman Geo. White of Marietta as second choice.

Political leaders from all over Ohio have been dropping in to whether or not to discuss both the presidential situation and the gubernatorial prospects. Already three Republicans have flung their hats into the political ring asking for the endorsement of their party at the August Primary. They are Attorney General Edward C. Bricker, Congressman James T. Begg of the 15th District, and former Lieutenant Governor Chas. H. Lewis. This list is expected to be enlarged within the next few days by the entrance of Myers T. Cooper of Cincinnati, the Republican standard bearer in 1924. It is also reported that former Congressman Roscoe C. McCullough, of Canton, is contemplating weighing in to the gubernatorial fight. Many political seers believe that Colonel Samuel Thompson of Cleveland has eliminated himself from the battle for the governorship by accepting the management of the Willis presidential campaign in Ohio. There is however some who believe that when the Presidential Primary is over in April, Colonel Thompson will again take to the furthering of his ambitions to become Governor.

On the Democratic side of the fence Lieutenant Governor Earl D. Bloom of Bowling Green, is practically an avowed candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. Congressman Martin L. Davey of Kent, is expected to be the other senior contender for the empty shoes left by "Governor Vic." Within the past few days a Democratic "dark horse" has been trotted out to view in the person of former Congressman George white of Marietta and should he enter the race, he will also become a serious contender. Senator Fess is a candidate for re-nomination as United States Senator, although in some quarters it is understood an endeavor is being made to give him opposition in the Primary. Director of Commerce, Cyrus Locher, of Cleveland, will be one of the Democratic candidates for the senatorial nomination. The other candidate is expected to be Chas. V. Truax, Director of Agriculture. Gossip has it that Mr. Locher will have the support of most of his administration friends, as well as the backing of business interests. Truax will appeal more to the rural element in Ohio and to various Democratic political organizations that have always supported him.

So now that the "pot" is bubbling the next nine months promise to be most interesting ones to those who enjoy the great American game of politics. There will be many pretty fights and when the battle is over the field will undoubtedly be strewn with dead and dying political ambitions.

O. S. LIVESTOCK IS GETTING DOLED UP

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 26, 1928. Some of the finest livestock in the state of Ohio is being all polished up for company at the Ohio State University here. The flocks, herds, and individual animals which are the property of the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture, are being groomed for the inspection of the visitors to the campus during Farmers' Week, January 26 to February 2.

While the barns and lots of the department will be open to the visitors at all times during the week, the forebred animals will be more or less formally "at home" on the morning of Monday, the first day of Farmers' Week, when there will be personally conducted tours through the quarters of the department under the chaperonage of the teaching and managing staff of the college.

Many animals in the college herds have won honors at state, national, and international livestock shows, and it is anticipated that they will not be the least interesting feature of the week for many Ohio farmers with livestock on their own farms.

SOUNDS SIMPLE, BUT

IT ISN'T REALLY SO

Just "feeding the chickens" sounds much simpler than the task really is. If the chickens are to be well fed, the purpose for which the stock is being kept has a great deal to do with the matter. Rations for fattening, maintenance, growth, and egg production are all different, and will also be varied according to the age of the chickens.

Twenty-one kinds of chicken feeds, all of them different in their result, and all of them suited to different purposes, are exhaustively analyzed and discussed in a new bulletin by Prof. A. R. Winter of the Poultry Husbandry Department of the Ohio State University. The bulletin, No. 63, entitled "Poultry Feeding Stuffs and Rations," has been published by the Agricultural Extension Service of the university.

In addition to the definitions and discussions of the various feeds, there are given six formulae for rations. Two of them are "starting and growing" rations and the other four are for laying hens. Along with the formulae for the rations there are directions for making simple and efficient feeding equipment for the poultry yard.

Two special fattening rations are suggested, one for hens and the other for young birds. For hens, a ration of corn meal, 40 parts by weight, mixed with 60 parts by weight, of liquid milk, is suggested. For the younger birds a greater variety of grains is recommended. The formula calls for a mash consisting of 59 parts of ground corn, 25 parts of wheat four middlings, 10 parts of finely ground oats, 5 parts of meat scrap, and 1 part of salt. This mash should be mixed with enough liquid milk to make a batter that will pour fairly easily.

GRAIN INCOME MOST ERRATIC IN EIGHT YEARS

Has Highest Peaks and Lowest Dips in Commodities Which Are Ohio Income Sources.

In the past eight years gross income from the sale of grain from Ohio farms has shown the highest peaks and the most extreme depressions in four of the five important groups of income-producing commodities, according to estimates made by V. R. Wertz, of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, attached to the Department of Rural Economics of the Ohio State University.

On an index figure of 100, representing the average gross cash income for 1921, 1925, and 1926, the gross cash income from grains in 1926 was 168, and dropped in 1921 to 78. It followed this with another drop in 1922, registering 72, the lowest index reached by any group of commodities during the past eight years.

Recovery started in 1923, along with other commodity group income figures, going to 87 and continuing to 96 in 1924. There was another slump in 1925, this time to 95. Grains joined practically all other sources of income in a peak movement in 1926 which took it to 169 points, and then slumped in 1927 to 92.

Despite its erratic tendencies, the average for the eight years on grain has been 106 points, as compared with 105 points for the total gross cash income. This sale of grain accounts for practically 30 per cent of the total gross cash income of the Ohio farmer.

SHILOH SCHOOL NEWS

Edited by Members of Freshman Class

On Friday night January 20 (v) Shiloh boys motored to Shelby where they met defeat, the score being 20-22. Our boys had the lead at 4:17 but times but were unable to keep it. When the time was nearly up the score was a tie 20-20. Just as Shiloh made a basket the gun shot. Leaving Shiloh two points behind.

We all have to say a good word for Bob Ruckman for the good game he played at guard. Hamman was high scorer, scoring 10 points. Our players were: Bob Ruckman, Dick Ruckman, Paul Ruckman, George Dick, Bob Brumback, Hershall Hamman and Charles King.

We play Wellers here Friday, January 27. This will be a good game because the other game we played with them we were beaten. This time we hope to do better.

CHESTER TROXELL

Last Friday night we played Shelby at Shelby. The girls won by the score of 13 to 11. This game was one of the best of the season. The girls didn't get started until the second quarter. The score at the end of the half was 6-7 in favor of Shelby. After the first half the girls played a very fast game. Shelby called time in the last quarter and they had one minute and five seconds to play and Shelby was one point ahead. As soon as the game proceeded our faithful forward Moser made a scoring shot which won the game. Those who played Friday night were: First—Moser, Dick, Clinker, Griffith, Swartz, and Townsend.

Next Friday night we play Wellers here which will be a good game and we expect the same results as last Friday night.

MORNELVA PATTERSON

Rev. McCorm conducted chapel services Monday morning. He brought to a climax his series of talks on Truth. He told us of the necessity of facing the dark truths of life. One of the truths stressed was the fact that we must make a sacrifice for all the benefits we receive. He illustrated this truth by the Bible story of the man who saw a pearl of great beauty and desiring to own it sacrificed all his property in order to buy it.

His truth, he said, applies to our own lives for we must constantly make sacrifices in attaining success in this world. He illustrated this saying we must sacrifice some of the time spent on athletics and play in order to become educated and better fitted for our life work.

MARGUERITE SHAFER

Friday afternoon January 20th, the Allian Literary Society gave their program. This turned out to be a good one. One of the main numbers on the program was, "The Two Black Crows." This was a play given by Harry Downend and Charles King. Harry Downend surely has the ability to be a Negro. John Swartz gave a singing. It showed us that not all clean-faced boys become great men.

This last semester we adopted a new method of judging the societies. Instead of judging them entirely by a final contest each program given by the two societies is judged and will count along with the final contest.

The picture show that was given in the auditorium Saturday night proved to be a success. There was a large crowd attended and everyone enjoyed the show. It was Raymond Hutton and Wallace Berry in, "We're in the Navy Now." February 4th, we are planning to have another show. It is Mary Pickford in, "Sparrows." It is the next to last picture that she made. The money made from these shows will be used to purchase a machine of our own.

Sixty out of every 10,000 Americans are in college, compared with 13 Frenchmen and 15 Britons. And how.

PLATFORM OF SENATOR WILLIS OF OHIO

Stand by the record of the Coolidge administration. Continue the policy of sound economy.

Continue tax reduction, but don't jeopardize the program by making greater reductions than the condition of the Treasury will stand.

Make tax reduction harmonize with reduction of the public debt.

Maintain an adequate Army and Navy.

Forget the League of Nations, as far as American membership is concerned. Don't revive the World Court as an issue, so long as the attitude of foreign nations toward America's safeguarding reservations prove how imperative such reservations were needed.

Continue refusal to recognize Soviet government and realize that America's attitude in declining to recognize a government which seeks to destroy other governments is a bright spot in the administration's foreign policy which Great Britain and France would have done well to follow.

Uphold the Constitution against its enemies, in no matter what guise they come.

Enforce the law.

OBITUARY

CHARLES O. HEADINGTON

Charles O. son of Rebecca Davis and Oliver Headington, was born in Illinois, March 27, 1867. Most of his life has been spent in this city.

He was united in marriage with Lizzie Ayers of Collet, July 15, 1888, and to this union was born one child, Lola, who died August 29, 1910, at the age of 19 years.

"C. O." as he was familiarly known was a member of the Vol. Fire Dept. for nearly thirty years, heading in his resignation just a few days ago.

He was once president of the Northern Indiana Volunteer Fireman's Association and had also served on its executive board.

He was a member of the West Walnut street church and of the Men's class No. 9 in all of which he was very active to the last.

He was also a member of the K. of P. and the M. W. A.

Besides the widow, to whom he was still a gallant lover, he is survived by one half-brother, William McKee of Plymouth, Ohio.

His last illness was the first of any consequence of his whole life.

He died at his home on South Pleasant street, December 23, 1927, at the age of 60 years, 8 months and 25 days.

His droll wit and his fitting sense of humor all thru life have been a great factor in his life and have served to appease many an embarrassing situation. He could always see the best in things and minimize the awkward situations which so often embarrass. He will be sorely missed in his home, church, among fraternity brethren, and on the street.

What greater reward could right living ask? He gave himself generously to others and they do not withhold their services now.

W. McKee, of this city attended the funeral.

Sunset and evening star.

And one clear call for me,

And may there be no moaning at the bar

When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,

Too full for sound and foam.

When that which drew from out the boundless deep

Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,

And after that the dark.

And may there be no sadness and farewell

When I embark.

For 'tho' from out our bourne of time and place,

The flood may bear me far,

I hope to see my Pilot face to face.

When I have crossed the bar.

ers, we are informed, and hit the young man right on the nose, crushing that feature somewhat. Subsequently bringing suit against the batsman or the management of the Cardiff team, the injured adherent obtained judgment of $1,500 for his suffering or disfigurement. But, as a judgment so often does, it meant nothing much. A new trial has now resulted in a finding that the young man has nothing whatever coming to him in consequence of the injury.

The point of interest, if any, is that this decision apparently resulted from the fact that Mr. Bottomley did not deliberately "go to do it;" in fact, had no intention whatever of making the ball hit the young man on the nose or elsewhere. At least, the batter's disposition to that effect is mentioned as material and relevant to the verdict. So we may assume the court to have recognized the "caveat-emptor" principle as applying at ticket windows and the status of free agent as attaching to batted balls, whether fair or foul. Evidently those attending ball games, when the privilege is again available, will do well to catch all balls batted within reach, or at least adhere to the established custom of moving the countenance out of the ball's path rather than into it.

Every town has a Bradstreet in the gossip that goes on. Gossip is viciously denounced, mainly by those who are victims of it, but it isn't so bad. It is merely community bookkeeping. Old Siliarius, the Roman, once remarked the accuracy of gossip, "I was never wrongly accused by it but once," he said, "and that owing to the people getting the name of the wrong woman into it."

splendid organization, well offered, competent and equipped to render peace time service as well as to preserve the peace and dignity of the State in times of threatened disorder. Officers of the Guard have been stationed in the mining fields for some months. They have helped to maintain order; they are familiar with conditions.

"The forms and methods of relief will vary to meet the needs of particular situations and vicinities. In some instances we anticipate the necessity of establishing restaurants where children may receive at least one good meal a day. The Department of Health of Ohio is ready to conduct clinics and furnish nursing service where such is imperative.

"People wishing to donate commodities—food or clothing, or both—may send them to the nearest armory in the Ohio National Guard. Those not living within easy reach of an armory may send their donations to the State Arsenal at Columbus. Persons desiring to contribute money may make their checks, drafts and money order payable to the "Adjutant General of Ohio, Custodian of Children's Relief Fund."

"All moneys received will be deposited with and disbursed by the State Treasurer. All receipts and disbursements will be audited by the Auditor of State and a full accounting and report made by him.

"The expenses of administration will be paid entirely by the State of Ohio. Every dollar received will be directly to the relief of needy children in the mining fields and where ever children are found to be suffering from the necessities of life."
