BANK OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

The annual election of Directors of The Peoples National Bank was held in their banking rooms on Tuesday, January 8th and the following named directors were elected for the ensuing year: St. H. Minnions, Jno. I. Beelman, J. E. Minnions, C. M. Lofland, C. M. Housh, J. W. Minnions, Emerson Dickson, F. M. Minnions and O. S. Hoffman. Mr. Hoffman was elected to succeed Mr. Jno. A. Root whose resignation had been accepted by the board previous to the election date. Mr. Root had served the board for many years and with regret that his resignation was accepted but he felt that his business interests were such that he could not do justice to the affairs of the bank and was willing to give way to some one else.

Mr. Hoffman has been a stockholder of the bank for a long time and in view of this fact and also that he has always been a strong booster for the institution it was felt that he was the logical man to fill the vacancy.

Immediately after the election the board organized as follows:

President—Mr. R. H. Minnions
Vice President—Mr. Jno. I. Beelman
Cashier—Mr. J. E. Minnions
Asst. Cashier—Mr. C. M. Lofland
Bookkeeper—Miss Beulah K. Rhine
Of the Directors and Officers that were affiliated with the bank twenty-five years ago when it opened for business three still remain, Mr. R. H. Minnions, Mr. Jno. I. Beelman and Mr. J. E. Minnions.

BASKETBALL

Perryville Girls—Shelby boys Friday night Perryville, Ohio, the town in adjacent County will be in Plymouth to tangle with the Plymouth High Girls. Last year each team won on its home floor. This year promises to be a real fight.

Shelby High is also sending a team over to face Plymouth. Both teams have played since Plymouth and Shelby have met. We are hoping to reestablish athletic relations with them.

Come out to see two real games. You will not be disappointed.

DAUGHTER OF A FORMER PASTOR IS BURIED HERE

On last Saturday afternoon the funeral services for Mrs. Marian (Place) Doty, daughter of the Rev. H. S. Place formerly pastor of the Plymouth M. E. church were conducted by the Rev. R. H. McBroome in the Plymouth M. E. church. The body was carried by the side of the deceased father in the Plymouth cemetery.

Marian B. Place, daughter of the Rev. H. S. Place, and wife, Rhoda Rosalita Place, was born at Grand Rapids, Mich., September 2, 1888, died January 3, 1929, being 40 years of age, she was the eldest of four children.

In early childhood she moved with her parents to Bellevue, Ohio. Shortly after coming to Ohio her father entered the ministry of the M. E. church and served the following parishes, Berlin Heights, East Toward, Greenville, Plymouth, Shelby, and Gordon Ave., Cleveland, all in the Old North Ohio Conference. She was well known in this vicinity.

She was married to James Doty after the death of her parents and for a time they made their home near New London, Ohio. Later they moved to Hollister, Cal. where they lived until the death of her husband.

Since his death she has made her home for the most part with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Gurney, of Cleveland, Ohio.

In addition to the above mentioned sister she is survived by one brother, Bert E. Place, of Galion, O. Another brother, Horace Lester, died many years ago.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. Gurney.

WILLARD ROSS IS CHOSEN MEMBER OF SCHOOL BOARD

Willard Ross, best known Kroger store manager, was chosen as a member of the Plymouth School Board at the monthly meeting of the board Tuesday night, to fill the vacancy caused by J. L. Johnson. Mr. Ross is an industrious young man of sterling ability and is capable of the honor bestowed upon him. Mr. Johnson's continued illness has forced him to leave his position as principal of the school and he has been unable to attend the board meetings.

VOTAW CHOSEN BOARD CLERK

The appointment of H. J. Votaw to succeed J. L. Judson as clerk of the Board of Public Affairs was made at the meeting of the board Monday night when members of the board, including C. M. Lofland, John Fleming, J. E. Minnions, Mr. Votaw, their endorsement. Mr. Judson, who has served as clerk for a number of years, was forced to give up his place on account of illness as a result of a fall the first of October.

The clerk's office will remain in the same location, and light and water users will make payments as usual.

Regular routine business was transacted by the board, approving bills for payments, etc. The light and water funds are in good shape for the beginning of the new year and the board's finances throughout are in splendid condition.

MILLIONS IN DAIRY PRODUCTS SHIPPED FROM NORTHWEST

Fifty million dollars worth of dairy products were shipped from the four Northwestern states by boat in 1928, the Northern Sales and Storage Co. announced today. Butter, frozen cream, milk powders and eggs made up this total. It weighed 58,000 tons, and represented the progress of fourteen years in shipping dairy products by water. A greater volume of this type of cargo is expected by shipping interests because of the constantly increasing demand of Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and industrial regions as far east as New York city and Boston for more dairy stuffs than can be bought in their respective milk sheds.

J. J. Prindle, of Cleveland, in his first statement after reflection to the presidency of the Ohio Farmers Cooperative Milk Association, that was inaugurated in shipping is all that keeps the dairy production of the dairy heart of the country from flowing down into the Ruhr of America—the valley of coal and iron extending from Cleveland to Pittsburgh.

Wisconsin shipped milk here during the fall when Cleveland's milk shed went half dry. Two glass-lined thermos cars a week go from Wisconsin to Boston on express trains today, he said.

Our new offer appeared on the plate of the association for 1929. F. O. Reynolds of Mentor, O. succeeded C. B. Hamlin of Garrettsville, as vice president. Ralph W. Strong was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the body. Strong and Prindle have served six years.

Another matter that should draw the attention of the council is the fact that water mains should be laid to the corporation line. When fire broke out recently at the Plymouth Dairy Products Co. on the Plymouth-Shelby road, it was found that the fire department could only use chemicals on the blaze, as there was no main close by, and sufficient hose was not available to hook onto a water plug.

Citizens are invited to attend the next meeting of the council which is scheduled for Tuesday, February 6th.

WESTERN BUTTER SHIPPED TO OHIO

Huron county dairy farmers with the aid of their faithful cows have the opportunity, not only to increase their incomes, but to help remove from the state as a whole the charge that it is unable to produce enough butter to meet the demands of its citizens.

With competition as keen as it is today, and every concern fighting for business, it appears that the dairy farmers of Ohio are in the unique position of facing a greater demand for the output of their dairies than they can fill.

Figures just compiled by the Ohio Dairy Products Association for submission to its annual convention to be held in Oungstown January 29 and 30, show that the people of Ohio last year ate 59,000 tons of butter.

Consumption of butter is steadily increasing in Ohio, the per capita consumption last year being 20 pounds compared with 16 ten years ago.

Because Ohio butter consumers are discriminating in their tastes, Ohio butter manufacturers, at this convention will give consideration to purchasing cream for churning purposes on the grade basis. According to latest figures available, Huron county ranks thirty-second in the amount of butter shipped in the country.

IN THE CONGRESSIONAL NURSERY

FIRE TRUCK TO BE CONSIDERED

The village council held its regular monthly meeting New Year's night, January 1st and regular routine business received attention. The laying of additional sewers on Sandusky street has been drawing attention of the council for the past few meetings and it is probable that necessary procedure will be given approval by the council at its next meeting for a bond issue the funds of which is to be used in constructing the sewer.

The drainage of Sandusky street has been a serious problem especially in the spring when the heavy rains would flood the cellars of several residents, and the new sewer is designed to take care of the surplus water. It will probably be tapped on near the North street intersection and will run eastward into Huron river. The lower end of the present sewer will remain in service. The cost of the improvement will be around $10,000.

The village fathers are also considering a new fire apparatus for the village and this matter will probably come before the body at its next meeting. Small towns are fast realizing fire hazards and many of them are buying small fire trucks with necessary equipment and chemical tanks.

New London has set an example for ample fire equipment. This neighboring town had the misfortune of having a $100,000 blaze which no doubt could have been checked had the village a first class fire department.

The cost of the new fire truck is estimated around $3,500 and many of the business men are heartily in favor of the movement. And with this additional equipment it is very likely to lower insurance rates in this town.

Another matter that should draw the attention of the council is the fact that water mains should be laid to the corporation line. When fire broke out recently at the Plymouth Dairy Products Co. on the Plymouth-Shelby road, it was found that the fire department could only use chemicals on the blaze, as there was no main close by, and sufficient hose was not available to hook onto a water plug.

Gregory has made a good record. The total fines and costs collected from arrests made by this department during his last term amounted to as high as $100,000 a year and the business administration of the office was carried out with thoroughness and the patch.

INAUGURATION TO BE ELABORATE

Columbus began to take on a festive appearance this week as the city made ready to extend a welcoming hand to thousands of visitors who are expected here next Monday, January 14, for the inauguration of Myers V. Cooper as Ohio's 47th governor.

The Chamber of Commerce Inaugural Committee, made up of leading business and professional men, headed by Federal Judge Benson W. Hough, has been at work for weeks on the many details of the inaugural. The committee's work began taking form today in the decoration of the city, the erection of floats on wheels, the stands and the calling out of thousands of invitations to the various functions.

Large truck loads of pine trees from Hocking county hills, hundreds of yards of laurel festooning from Alabama were received to be used in decorating the inaugural floats on wheels, the stands and the calling out of thousands of invitations to the various functions.

Carpenters are at work constructing the platform upon which A. V. Donahoe, lieutenant governor, will present his Republican successor, Myers V. Cooper, his commission as Ohio's 47th governor. It was six years ago that Mr. Donahoe received this commission from Harry L. Davis of Cleveland and he has held it continuously since.

At the first inaugural of Governor Swisher there have been an inauguration of many great prophecies. The Cooper inaugural promises to eclipse in many respects the Davis Inauguration of 1921.

Reports received indicate an attendance of 100,000 persons of business and pleasure, and the program of events—state to Ohio's capital to witness the inaugural ceremonies and to participate in parades and other festivities. Hotels report many reservations, Cleveland and Cincinnati delegates to the program, the program of hotel space, restaurants and other eating places are making special preparations to feed the crowds.

The Cooper inaugural is to have everything in the way of an oldtime inauguration, except the inaugural parade. The program includes the inaugural proper, the taking of the oath, the inaugural address and the firing of the governor's salute at noon. This is followed by an inaugural parade, the federal and state troops and most Ohio State University cadets beside many political marshaling clubs.

There is to be a reception for the general public at 3:30 P. M. in the rotunda of the state house. Here governor Cooper will greet the public. While the governor is greeting the public, women's organizations will give a reception to Mrs. Cooper in the Deshler Hotel Ballroom at 4 P. M.

The Senate Chamber reception at 7:30 in the evening following tradition will be the outstanding social event of the inaugural. Admission is by card.

No inaugural is complete without a press smoker and the press smoker of the Cooper inaugural bids fair to go down in history as one long to be remembered. The affair will be staged in the large hall room of the Neil House accommodating 1000 invited guests. It is the last event on the day's program, starting at 10 o'clock and winding up at midnight with a luncheon in the Neil House Grill.

SHILOH NEWS

FORMER RESIDENT
PASSES AWAY

The sudden death of J. W. Page at his home in Plymouth Friday evening was a shock to his many friends in town and community, where Mr. Page had made his home for fifty-one years, having come to Shiloh with his parents from New Bloomfield, Pa., when only fourteen years of age. Mr. Page married Miss Priscilla Clara Schreffler and they were the parents of six children, the youngest having died when about seven years old. The widow and five children are left to mourn his departure.

While living here Mr. Page was an honored citizen, enjoying the respect and confidence of his fellowmen. He was postmaster for a number of years, held several official positions in town, and was superintendent of Mt. Hope church school many years.

He called on his Shiloh friends frequently, and his genial smile and hearty hand clasp will be greatly missed. The many friends of this estimable family extend their sympathy in this time of sorrow.

A peculiar Providential favor in this family is the fact that there have been, only three deaths in three generations.

Among those from Shiloh attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. George Shaffer, Mr. Oscar Stout, Mrs. Alex Cockburn, J. H. Dawson, Otis Dowd, Bert McLaughlin and Miss Emma McLaughlin.

BASKETBALL

On Friday night, January 4th, Shiloh basketball teams journeyed to Lucas for the first games of the new year. The girls played a splendid game and came out victorious with score 3-15. The game was well played and the pass-work was exceedingly good, however, the basket shooting was not accurate as the passing.

The boys were not so successful. They lost by a score of 20-36. The game was a fast one, and the score was close until the last quarter when the Lucas boys gained headway by excellent basket shooting.

Next Friday we play Adario at Shiloh. Saturday night we go to Tiro to play a return game.

FAMOUS COUGH

PRESCRIPTION

Contains No Chloroform or Other Harmful Drugs

The use of medicines containing chloroform or dope to relieve coughing is dangerous and unnecessary. Now anyone can get quick relief with this famous prescription called Thoxine, which contains no chloroform or other harmful drugs and is safe and pleasant to take.

Thoxine is thoroughly efficient because it has a double action—soothe the irritation—goes direct to the terminal cause, and stops the cough at once. Far superior to cough syrups and other patent medicines, Thoxine is the only cough medicine that is safe and pleasant to take.

A splinter of Plymouth, who was fitted in her young days to thinking of joining The Canadian Mounted Police, whose motto is—"Get Your Man."

Why is aradio program like a fat lady? Because it is broadcast.

Judge (to negro phonetic): "You are charged with welding a razor with harmful results. What have you to say for yourself?"

Prisoner: "Well, you see Judge, I just cuttin' up—jest cuttin' up."

Women make good musicians when they get to Heaven as they're always harping here below.

Teacher: "Jimmie, how many brothers have you?"
Jimmie: "Three and a half."
Teacher: "Why, how can that be?"
Jimmie: "Well John, Will and Henry are my three brothers and George is my half brother."

Says Sam: Raising good crops is no longer the only job of the farmer. These days he must figure also on making some money on what he has raised.

W. C. Durant of General Motors closed last year with a check for $25,000 to May Mills for the best letter advising how the Eighteenth Amendment could be more effective. . . . Now comes William R. Hearst with an offer of $25,000 for a method that will repeal the Eighteenth Amendment. Mr. Hearst is not an advocate of prohibition for many years but he says the Eighteenth Amendment cannot and never will be enforced. Mr. Mills' letter hit at the source of industrial alcohol which he claims is loosely controlled and looks out to bootleggers. Mr. Mills was formerly prohibition commissioner of New York and it seems rather strange that he did not practice his method while in that capacity. However, about the only effect these two $25,000 offers will have on government machinery will be to increase the postage income to the extent of several thousand letters.

Our government conducts its tax collecting so carelessly or arbitrarily or illegally that hundreds, thousands or even millions of dollars more than the law allows are demanded of many individuals, estates or companies. This government lawbreaker is being admitted in the most convincing manner actual payment to be made of large amounts wrongfully collected as income taxes or other taxes in the last decade.

A New York policeman strolling along his beat noticed a suspicious looking truck at a cellar door and when he accosted the men unloading the mysterious packages, he was offered $4,000 to "take a walk around the block." That $4,000 was probably more than his year's salary, but he refused it and went ahead with his investigation, found the truck loaded with whiskey and arrested the men involved.

Following is a brief review of the year 1928 months:

JANUARY — Government report showed country was prosperous, only eight million men unemployed. . . . Lo-comotives being built larger so that grade crossing motorists cannot miss them. . . . Beginning to look like a presidential year.

FEBRUARY — Cigarette coughs diminished, 8 coughs per carload. . . . Movie actress denies she would divorce her husband and marry the Prince of Wales. . . . Getting closer for the time of Congress to recess and give the country a rest.

MARCH — St. Patrick's Day to be celebrated everywhere except in the invisible Empire. . . . Bootleggers shine up their speed boats for a busy season on Lake Erie. . . . Eighteenth Amendment declared a failure for the ninth time.

APRIL — Rainproof Easter Hats invented. . . . Racoon coats go back to the installment house. . . . Some one suggested that Al Smith would like to become president of the United States.

MAY — A corner lot was discovered without a hot dog stand. . . . Murder in Chicago. . . . June brides on shopping tour blockade department stores.

JUNE — Hoover nominated for president and Al Smith started on the way to a private citizen. . . . Soap companies plaster the bill boards with ads telling the people they perspire.

JULY — Presidential election started by the Literary Digest creating great demand for baled straw. . . . President Coolidge caught two fish on the same line thereby making the front page of the dailies. . . . Burle, Wis., became famous.

AUGUST — Hoover and Smith both coming out parties. . . . Brown derbies in demand and hatmakers of Danbury demand more pay. . . . Chemists invent new drink from spoiled cabbage.

SEPTEMBER — Joy created for poor people who could not afford electric refrigerators when weather prophet announces a very cold winter. . . . Texas man commences fattening turkey for the White House Thanksgiving dinner.

OCTOBER — Smith arrived in Baltimore which is the nearest he came to the White House. . . . Gene Tunney knocked out in the matrimonial ring. . . . Com. Byrd starts on a business trip to the South Pole.

NOVEMBER — New Yorkers never knew before that there were so many people west of New York State. . . . "Pineapple" business killed two in Chicago. Mathematicians hold convention to determine how many more shopping days before Christmas.

DECEMBER — Henry Ford tells young men not to save their money. . . . Storms on Lake Erie prevent holiday cheer from arriving from Canada. . . . New York prohibition officer refused bribe. . . . Another millionaire policeman discovered in Philadelphia.

President Coolidge migrated to an island in the Atlantic to avoid deluge of Christmas neckties.

If my work is to be some kind of work along spiritual lines, then my spiritual nature must serve an apprenticeship. As the moral nature of man cannot be neglected without having a top-sighted personality, should not the soul be trained? "HEARTS OUT OF TUNE" will be the theme for next Sunday, 11 a. m.

The Parson's Column

On a certain occasion I heard a missionary tell about a certain tribe of people who never would make camp until they found a certain kind of tree around which to pitch their tents. One day he asked them why this was and could get no answer which was any better than that much repeated answer of the feminine sex "Just because," and he decided that it was just one of the many meaningless superstitions of unenlightened people. After some time however he found an old man, who told him a wonderful story of the religious fervor of his youth, as the people gathered around this same species of tree to worship. The reason for choosing this tree was that one of their tribe in days long gone by had received while asleep under such a tree the spiritual vision whereon their worship was founded.

The years had come and gone and the tribe had changed entirely its religious practices, but when it came time to camp they still sought out a tree of this species although the vast majority of them did not know why.

Such a tale sounds foolish in our ears and yet time and again the writer has heard men, who never went inside a church for months and in some cases for years at a time, say "I would not want to live in a community where there was no church." One might just as well say I wouldn't live in a community where there were no schools and never send my children to the school, or where there was no doctor and never call a doctor when he was ill.

Of course there is another angle to it. It is true that the community with in which churches are functioning is usually better than one in which there is no church from the standpoint of morals, social life and business enterprise, but really I hate to think that any man is small enough to want to reap all of these results of the work of the church and never take the slightest part in bringing them about. However perhaps there are people that little, one never can tell.

AID HOSPITAL

Give $17,000 Gift to Norwalk Institution.

NORWALK—Announcement was made that Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Paul have given $17,000 for the construction of a maternity department of Memorial Hospital.

Plans have been drawn up. The new addition to the hospital will fill a long felt and much needed want. While Memorial hospital has contributed a vast amount of service to the community, the institution has been handicapped by lack of room.

SERVICE UNEXCELLED

Monday afternoon our typesetting machine developed trouble that required the replacement of a certain part. At 4:50 p. m. a telegram was telephoned to the local telegraph office to the Merchants Linotype Co. at Chicago, asking that the part be rushed by parcel post. At 6:30 Tuesday morning, the part was received in Plymouth and at 8:30 the repair was made on the machine and we "sat down to the keyboard and merrily set type throughout the day."

A letter from the Linotype Co. states they received our message and that the package containing the repair parts was delivered to the post office at 4:40 p. m. showing that the mail service between Plymouth and Chicago is speedy and accurate.

The Linotype Co. boasts a 24-hour service and no matter whether a newspaper sends in for a small spring or an order for twenty type-setting machines the company is prepared at all times to render this excellent service.

In our dealings with the Linotype Company the writer has in the past few years had the pleasure of ordering several thousand parts and supplies and in every instance from the order sheet to the invoice, never has a mistake occurred, a record for accuracy which we believe is hard to surpass.

THIRTY the Love? Deadline!

Charles G. Shaw was born in New York City in May, 1882, and received his early education at the Polytechnic University, later entered the Sheffield Scientific school of Yale university, from which he was graduated in 1914. The following year he spent at the School of Agriculture at Columbia and in 1916-17 wrote articles for various magazines. During World war he trained at Kelly field, Texas and served overseas as lieutenant with the Third Cavalry and Third Infantry units overseas. After F. returning home shortly after the Armistice, he has been writing steadily since 1918. He has composed over five hundred stories on the subject of love and written about seven full length romances. Mr. Shaw lives in New York and is still a bachelor.

By CHARLES G. SHAW

According to the able and distinguished Dr. Will Durant, love is a hopeless business for him who has ultimately arrived at the great age of thirty. "To which asseveration, I make no bold as to object, I object, and more, for the following crystallized and, I believe, pertinent reasons:

1. Love, among several hundreds of other things, means understanding, sympathy, consideration. None of these qualities is in the least peculiar to youth.

2. During adolescent love, just in case, all too frequently, play uphappy but important roles. Neither of the twins involved is at all sure of the other; indeed it is rare that either is even sure of (or her) self. Doubt and suspicion are the double-headed issue, a destructive offspring and corrosive to romance. Free from these painful misgivings, the fellow of middle-age will necessarily view matters in a more humane and tolerant light. Forgiveness is begot with age.

3. Love means appreciation. The appreciation of youth is never equal to that of middle-age.

4. To a man over thirty, love at once becomes a far more serious undertaking, and though admittedly a condition less frequently experienced than in the case of a man under thirty, when experienced, cuts deeper into the heart. The younger fellow half the time will enjoy himself that he for the other. He knows it.

5. The assumption that a man over thirty is incapable of love is the assumption that love is a mere flash in the pan, an emotional come. But love is not a question of a few years. Nor, for that matter, of a few years. Love is the study of a lifetime.

6. Love leans upon beauty. And rare is he who is able to behold in his twenties the beauties that exist for him in subsequent years.

7. The estimable Doctor Durand declares that "a man above thirty may go wild over a blond 'chorine,'" and adds: "That is not love." To the latter statement I agree. As for the former, the phrase: "go wild" is for youth, not for middle-age.

8. The doctor is of the belief, too, that one should marry at the "optimal" age—in other words, the "youth" age. Yet would it not seem there are already enough divorces due to "silly" age marriages?

9. Love, for a woman, includes a touch of importance in the man. Importance comes to few of us before the first thirty years.

10. For the man over thirty, love assumes a soberer and more stable mien. He has tramped further along the road of experience and, hence, all other things being equal, will fall succumb with the same degree of ease as his younger brother. Moreover, his falling in love is more exciting. He is the subtle still, the art, the tenderness of amour, which art, incidentally, must be learned as all other art, for while one's ground work, garnered in the flush of youth, is undeniably necessary, it is the technique acquired in ripper years that lends the essential quality to the prime product. Behind the "day" ephemeral period (Doctor Durand's "natural" age), when the first come blither with a shingle-headed Rapture, our hero to bewail his wad of chewing gum, clutch his coat just below the handkerchief pocket, and rush headlong to the nearest jeweler.

11. It is a different type of love, true enough, that comes to a man after thirty. But surely it is a stouter, sinner, and stancher type—love, in love, that has the solidness of an ever-enduring devotion.

12. In conclusion, I would note the names of a few men over thirty, who I would expect have turned certain thirty-nine; Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, at thirty-eight; Blaise Pascal at thirty-one; Jean Jacques Rousseau at thirty-three; Napoleon I. at forty-one; Goya y Lapandosa, at forty-four; Julius Caesar, at fifty-two; Louis XIV, at forty-two; Wilhelm Richard Wagner, at fifty-seven; Edgall Poe, at seventy-four; Thomas Paine, at eighty.

But why continue! History, the arts, science, government, literature, lie in all the phases of life with such examples as the late 1882 to the Bell System, 1883.

Simplicity of cooling system is a feature of the new Ford

A COMPLETE water plant is a part of every automobile as it is a part of every modern city.

The purpose of this water plant is to keep the engine cooled to a temperature that will make it efficient in operation. If it were not for this the cylinder walls would become overheated and the pistons refuse to operate.

The cooling system of the new Ford is particularly interesting because it is so simple and reliable.

When the radiator is full of water, the engine of the new Ford will not overheat under the hardest driving. Yet the water is so regulated that it will not impair engine operation by running too cold in winter.

The cooling surface of the Ford radiator is large, with four rows of tubes set in staggered position so that each receives the full benefit of the incoming air. The fan is of the airplane propeller type and draws air through the radiator at the rapid rate of 850 cubic feet per minute at 1000 revolutions per minute of the motor.

The hot water around the cylinder head is drawn to the radiator to be cooled by a centrifugal water pump of new design.

The entire cooling system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little attention.

The radiator should be kept full, of course, and drained once each month so that sediment will not collect and retard the free passage of water. In cold weather, a reliable anti-freeze solution should be added.

As owner and manager of this important water plant you should also see that the water pump and fan shaft are properly lubricated and the packing around the pump shaft kept in adjustment.

These connections may also need replacement after long service. For those little adjustments, it pays to call on the Ford dealer.

He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to do a thorough, competent job at a fair price.

P. H. S. LOSES TO GREENWICH IN "ROUGH-TUMBLE" GAME
In a combination football, basketball and boxing match Plymouth lost to Greenwich by the score of 25-19. This game uncovered one new sport for P. H. S. namely boxing. It was a rough and tumble game, the roughest rough and tumble game so far this year. The game started off with Plymouth accumulating five points right off the bat. Then Greenwich started working the five man defense and the Plymouth fire could not penetrate it. Barber, captain of this year's squad, went out on personal fouls the first quarter. This was a great surprise to everyone including himself as it is very, very seldom that he gets put out of the game or fouls. Then before the half ended, Lebold, Plymouth's center, but playing forward Tuesday night, was out on personal fouls. This threw the team off balance. With but two regulars in the game, since Mumse, Plymouth's other guard was out because of injuries received in practice, the boys played a losing game. Even then they put up a real fight and up till the middle of the last quarter it was anybody's game. But never mind boys, what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, and better luck next time. Now let's take our spits out on Shelby Friday night and show them how a real team plays basketball.

GIRLS DEFEAT NEWWASHINGTON AND GREENWICH

Cosch LeFevre's aggression, keeping up their winning streak of the past two weeks, showed their New Washington opponents under 36-3, Friday night January 4th. From the starting whistle to the final gunshot the New Washington team was completely outplayed. The Plymouth six played the game in bang-up fashion and deserved their victory.

Tuesday night, January 8th Plymouth girls took a little stroll over Greenwich way and subdued those lasses thoroughly. The girls romped over the floor in great style and looped 'em thru at their leisure. The result of this one-sided affair was 36-3. Plymouth's team work was superb and it was a great sight to see them in action.

Thursday, January 10th the Debate team of LaRue High School will present the negative side of the question, "Resolved that the U. S. should cease to protect by force of arms, capital invested in foreign countries except after formal declaration of war." Our local team will take the affirmative side of the question. This will be our second encounter with the LaRue team which was victorious the first time. We now hope to divide the honors and uphold the standard of Plymouth Hi.

The debate will be held at school house at 7:30.

NOTICE TO AMBITIOUS STUDENTS
Now is the time for all toppers to dig up those moth eaten New Year resolutions of fifty years ago. Swear off drinking, cut out smoking and stop loafing on the street.

Now is also the time for all "lazy learners" of P. H. S. to resolve to bring all grades up from F to D or better. Stop talking between classes. Never talk without permission. Always walk up and down stairs. Never say walk and start observing all laws in general.

Now I resolve not to believe any of you if you make these resolutions but you might at least try them out on yourself just to get the habit.

RED AND WHITE WARRIORS

DEFEAT NEW WASHINGTON

Friday night, Jan. 4, the P. H. S. quintette ably to New Washington and defeated the New Washington Hi chagers. The final score was 32-14.

The game was a walk-away. The boys had to play hard and steady through the whole game to maintain their lead. Despite the absence of two regular players the boys played a sweet game of basketball.

The boys have won all the games they have played this year (meaning 1919). All the games being two—Ontario and New Washington, but that's starting the New Year out right. Boys, let's go through 1929 without a defeat. You can do it if anybody can. Let's celebrate our last year in Old P. H. S. with a real for sure winning basketball team. Don't just stop at winning pre-tournament games, but win the tournament and get a new cup to put in the new office of the new school.

And rotters, you came out and do your bit towards helping the boys have a successful year.

In "The Sins of the Fathers," Jannings plays the role of Wilhelm Spengler, a German-American waiter and saloon keeper, who becomes fabulously wealthy bootlegger only to his life crash around his shoulders, bringing him in the end back to his original status.

In the leading female role is Ruth Chatterton, the famous star of the legitimate stage, who makes her screen debut in this picture. Her role is thoroughly an unsympathetic one but one which will serve to introduce her to American screen audiences under the best of auspices.

Also featured in support to Jannings is young Barry Norton, who gained fame in "What Price Glory," as the baby-faced soldier. His role is that of Jannings' son. Others in the cast who help to elevate the picture to a high dramatic level throughout are Zsazs Pitts, Mathew Betz, Jack Liden, Harry Cording, Arthur Housman and Frank Reicher.

MORE PHONES NOW

FOUND ON FARMS

Forty-four farms out of every hundred in the United States now have telephone service, according to a recent federal census. In this part of Ohio this number is very materially in excess of fifty per cent.

There are now approximately 2,800,000 farm telephone stations, as against 2,438,493 in 1926. While the number of telephones has increased 5.3 per cent, the number of farms has materially decreased, 76,000, to be exact, says the Ohio Committee on Public Utility Information.

There are more farm telephones in the United States than there are total telephones in France, Germany and Russia combined.

Even the grave and dignified Civil Service Commissioners could not resist being amused at an answer given at a recent examination. The question was:

"Give for any one year, the number of bales of cotton exported from the United States."

The applicant wrote: "1491; None." Pipp's Magazine.

I give Maya bed time pill and she is some better. I give Johnny and Willie a menu of soap and water with a syringe and they have stopped puking. I thout it might be humane poisoning or maybe just something caught in there gizzards. Send medicine in haste.

MORE INTEREST IS SHOWN IN BROILERS

COLUMBUS—More interest is being shown in the production of early broilers for the Easter and later spring market this year by Ohio poultrymen than ever before, reports G. S. Vickers, field manager of the Ohio Poultry Improvement Association. This was apparent, says Mr. Vickers as he made his first inspection trip to some of the accredited hatcheries and from reports from other accredited hatcheries coming in.

One Wayne county poultryman is buying 14,000 baby chicks this spring for this purpose. He will sell the cockerels when they reach the right weight and keep the pullets for egg production. He bought $300 of these last week, will get another 5,000 next week and buy the rest at intervals.

Another Wayne county man has been raising broilers for the Easter market since 1925 with good success, according to Mr. Vickers. He is buying 10,000 chicks this year. Last year he sold part of the broilers for around 15 cents a pound.

A Findlay man, reports a Hancock county hatchery, began raising broilers four years ago for sale locally in Findlay. He began with 500 chicks and has increased until this year he is buying 2400 chicks to turn out as broilers. He dresses and delivers broilers on order, getting five cents a pound above the market and make a service charge in addition for dressing.

The demand for chicks for broiler purpose is better this year," reports G. W. C. C., a area hatcheryman of the South Kenton Poultry Farm. "We used to open our hatchery in February. Now we have to open January first in order to supply chicks to meet this early demand."

For the production of broilers a good many poultry farmers prefer chicks from one of the American breeds such as Barred Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds or White Wyandottes, says Mr. Vickers. Others, who wish broilers for laying, buy chicks of that breed, sell the surplus cockerels to broilers and keep the pullets. A broiler will mature into a two-pound broiler somewhat more quickly than a heavy broiler, chick also and at that weight the market does not discriminate against a leghorn as it does against one that is mature.
