IN ELOPEMENT

Quite a stir was caused in the Fazio family circle when it became known that the young daughter, Mary Fazio, had eloped with Frank Baker, Plymouth youth. The pair left Plymouth Friday evening about six o'clock, and when it was learned that they were headed toward Akron, Marshal Burkett telephoned authorities at Girard, Ohio, asking that they be held.

Saturday morning Carl Fazio, father of the girl, swore out a warrant for the arrest of Frank Baker, charging him with kidnapping. In the meantime, authorities at Girard, informed the marshal here that the couple had been apprehended. Marshal Burkett left late Saturday evening, returning with them Sunday morning.

Satisfactory settlement was made Sunday afternoon at the hearing when Fazio stated that if Baker would pay the costs of the trip that he (Baker) could have his daughter and they'd be friends.

Fazio was unable to pay the costs and Fazio agreed to stand the bond, holding his own daughter as security. Fazio said he would pay the costs and Baker again claim his bride after relieving Fazio of his bond.

Miss Grace Trimmer, who has been a valuable teacher in the schools, resigned her position, stating that she wished to attend college, finishing her work in music and art.

The vacancies will probably be filled at the next meeting of the board. Other regular routine matters were attended to at the meeting Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Estep and her three children came to the Estep home Wednesday for a three-day visit.

Injures Hip
in Bad Fall

While visiting at the home of Miss Ida Cheesman last Friday J. C. Ward, former Plymouth resident, received severe bruises and partial paralysis in the left leg as a result of a fall he sustained when he started down the steps.

Mr. Ward, in company with Mrs. Ward, who are now residents of Mansfield, came over Thursday to spend a few days with Miss Cheesman and Mrs. West. On account of his age assistance was offered him when he started to descend the steps, but he refused the aid, confident that he could help himself. However, his foot caught on the step and he fell, sustaining a severe injury to his hip.

He was removed to his home in Mansfield, and Tuesday afternoon he was taken to the Mansfield hospital for treatment.

Mr. Ward is a former resident of this community and his many friends here regret very much to learn of his misfortune. No doubt the mishap will be very hard upon him as he is 75 years of age.

BLOOMING CACTUS

A party of about twenty-five gathered at the Rev. Mente home one night last week to watch the opening of a bud of their night-blooming cactus, one of the most beautiful members of the Cactus family. The flower unfolded about 10 p. m., was at its best about midnight and closed its petals at 3 a. m., to bloom again in one year hence. To this flowerer might be truthfully applied the Masters saying of long ago: SOLOMON in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

MRS. BEN WOOLET
DIED LAST FRIDAY

Mrs. Ben Wooleet died at the Shelby Memorial hospital last Friday afternoon at 1:20, death following an operation for cancer of the breast. She had been ill for the past few years, and her condition a few months ago, became serious. The remains were removed to the Satter family home in Shelby, and later to her home here. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30, at the home of Rev. A. M. Himes, pastor of the Lutheran church, officiating. Burial was made in the Shelby cemetery.

Emma, nee Wooleet, was born March 20, 1852, at Shelby, Ohio. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harrier. She is survived by her husband and the following sons and daughters: Mrs. Emanuel Steiger, Bucyrus, O.; Mrs. Heller, Bucyrus, O.; Mrs. Charles G. and Mrs. Charles Fayles of Marion, O.; and Mr. James Harrier, Bellevue, Ohio.

The beautiful floral offerings and the many friends who called at the bereaved home exemplified the high regard in which this beloved woman was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooleet have been in Plymouth for a number of years, where they have conducted a small restaurant, and it was largely through this contact with the community, that Mrs. Wooleet became so well known.

The passing of Mrs. Wooleet removes from our midst a noble character, a true friend, and one who was a friend to all.

New Money Is Being Distributed

Approximately $3,921,000,000 of the new small paper money has been shipped to Federal Reserve Banks through the country Tuesday for issuance, which began to replace the larger currency.

The amount that went into circulation Wednesday depended on the number of worn out bills received by the banks. Treasury officials estimated that $50,000,000 or more of that immediately issued will disappear to be replaced by the new currency.

They do not anticipate any currency stringency, however, because only the small denomination currency, $20 to $50 will be included in the first issue.

The new bills, much smaller than the currency that has been in use since the Civil War, are 5-16 inches long and 2-1/2 inches wide.

The first issue of the new currency will include United States notes, silver certificates, gold certificates, and Federal Reserve notes. National bank notes will not be put into circulation until next week.

The treasury stated that 75 percent of the amount of similar denominations now in circulation had been turned in to Federal Reserve banks and that all $50,000,000 pieces of the new currency were in the hands of the banks.

The bills which appeared Wednesday at the Peoples Bank were:

Back
Washington Ornate One
Jefferson Lincoln Memorial
Hamilton U. S. Treasury
Jackson White House
Grant Capitol

Serial numbers will indicate the kind of currency as these numbers will be printed in blue on the left side, yellow for gold certificates and green for Federal Reserve notes.

ITALIAN LAD THINKS

MARSHAL A KIDNAPPER

Peddling bills for a Mansfield firm, an Italian lad, was accosted by Marshal Burkett Monday afternoon in the vicinity of Plymouth Street and Mills Avenue. When the marshal halted the boy, the youth broke into a run going at a rapid pace over some open territory and then into Andy Dowd's eye patch. Seeing Mr. Dowd's foot runabout in the yard, the lad climbed into it and then called to Mr. Dowd: "Please take me to town, Mister, there's a man trying to kidnap me." Later, however, Marshal Burkett informed the youth that it was necessary to have a license to peddle bills. And the youth, all excited, exclaimed, "Never again."

LOCAL HORSE
COMES IN 2ND

"Judd Jones," Plymouth's famous race horse owned jointly by a number of our enterprising citizens "strutted his stuff" on the Fourth when he came in second at the races held at Crotton, O.

Judd Jones has been in training extensively during the past winter, eating hay and clover to his heart's content. We weren't told just how big the prize was, but we have our doubts whether he earned his board or not. Anyhow, his owners are proud of him and all want to see him perform. Monday afternoon, Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Davis, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Rule, Mr. and Mrs. Berri Tullis and children, Miss Lucy Rule, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McFadden and Mrs. Nellie Voigt were present. Mr. E. Patterson and Mrs. Martha Brown accompanied the party to Mr. Vernon to spend the day with relatives.

Harry Hills
Bound over

Harry Hills, 40-year old Plymouth man, who drove his automobile Sunday into the car of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tullis and children, in which Mrs. Tullis severely now faces a serious charge as an aftermath to the accident which occurred in this village Sunday.

Hills was arraigned in Mayor J. B. Shiloh's court Monday afternoon on the charge of driving a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol.

After pleading guilty to the charge, and was bound over to the common pleas court at Mansfield, his bond being set at $10,000, which the injured woman was to receive.

Roy Tullis, the injured woman's husband, filed the charges against Hills, claiming that Hills was driving carelessly and recklessly when he drove his car into the Tullis machine Sunday.

The driving while drunk charge may be altered to a manslaughter charge, it was intimated when the case of the injured woman was reviewed.

Mrs. Tullis is at present in the Shelby Memorial hospital on a critical condition as the result of the accident at Plymouth.

According to Tullis, Hills came out of an intersection in Plymouth Sunday at a high rate of speed and crashed into the car of the injured woman, machine and injuring his wife who struck her head on the side of the car and had her chest crushed under the steering wheel.

Upon complaint to the sheriff's office, Deputies Ray Brady and Art Deal were sent to Plymouth Tuesday afternoon to investigate the accident.

Hills, it is claimed, was driving toward the Public Square, on Trux road, when he struck the car of Mrs. Tullis, which was coming from the west.

Word from the hospital Wednesday afternoon indicated that the condition of Mrs. Tullis was somewhat improved.

Two other candidates besides Weaver were given the consideration of the board for the position last vacant by the resignation of H. L. Ford, who resigned recently to accept the position as superintendent of Mt. Gilead public schools.

Weaver was present at the meeting of the board and after announcement of the board, Mr. Weaver's acceptance was signed a contract for the position for a term of one year.

Weaver is a graduate of Heidelberg college, where he received his A. B. degree. He recently completed the work and was given an M. A. degree at Ohio State university. Weaver has been superintendent of schools at Lyons for two years.

Of the 30 applicants for the superintendency of the Cass-Shiloh schools, the school board narrowed the choice to three, eliminating all but four of the school men, then decided unanimously on the Fulton county man.

Mr. E. W. Heath, sales manager, returned last Saturday evening from the west coast, where he has been spending a few weeks, and he states that he finds everyone enthusiastic over the outlook for business, and especially the industrial field.

He states that contracts running into millions of dollars will be let within the next few months, and this will greatly improve conditions in the west.

And so again, the name of Plymouth is being heard in the industrial world each year.

Local Engines
to Help Build
Largest Bridge

World's Longest Concrete Bridge Will Require Six Locomotives to Aid in Construction Program.

Plymouth Locomotives again come into the limelight from the industrial world for this type of transportation and this particular make of engine has been selected by a large Dayton construction Company to be used in the construction of the longest concrete bridge in the world.

The Wiley-Maxon Construction Co. of Dayton, Ohio, selected the Plymouth engines for this particular job as they were the most adaptable engine on the market for a haulage problem of this kind. In order that our readers may get some insight of the immense problem of building this bridge the following description is reprinted from The Pittsburgh Press:

"Temporary work will require 3,000,000 feet of lumber and 1,000 tons of steel."

"The bridge will be a new link in the Lincoln Highway, replacing an old bridge which was destroyed by a fire. It will be the longest concrete bridge in the world, reaching a mile and a half across the Allegheny river between Columbia, Lanark county and Wrightsville, York county."

"The bridge including approaches, will be 5,332 feet long, and will consist of 28 spans. The top of each arch will be 100 feet above the water level of the river. Four automobiles will be able to pass on the roadway."

Eternal vigilance is the price, not only of liberty, but of potatoes. What ever may be the attitude of the buyers on the potato market, bugs and insects are always ready and willing to bid for the potato crop. Early, frequent, and persistent spraying is about the best answer to them, according to Dr. A. L. Fleischer, extension plant pathologist for the Ohio State University here.

"The first spray should be applied as soon as the potatoes are up or as soon as insects are found on them," says Dr. Fleischer. "As much pressure as can be applied, up to 400 pounds, is desirable. Bordeaux mixture is the proper material, with two pounds of arsenate of lead for each 500 gallons of spray material."

"Growers should spray their potatoes at least every 10 days during the early part of the season, and every week during the latter part of the season, and in August. Late potatoes need from eight to 10 applications. Some growers find it profitable to spray as many as 12."

Small holes in potato leaves are caused by black but caterpillars, the beetle, which lives and feeds on the under side of the leaves. To reach the flea beetle, the spray it is necessary to adjust the nozzle to throw spray from the side and below the top of the plant.

HARVESTING SECOND TIMBER CROP NOW

For the second time in less than three decades, a profitable crop of timber is being harvested from the Sunfish Hills in Pike County, southeastern Ohio. One of the largest logging operations in Ohio for many years, has been established at Latham, where the Breece Lumber Company has installed a sawmill and producing 100,000 board feet of lumber each week, for use in rotary veneer work.

About 26 years ago the last big lot of oak, poplar, and chestnut was cut out of this region, reports F. W. Dean, extension forester for the Ohio State University. At that time it was assumed that the lumber business in that section of the state was finished. But a crop of young oak, chestnut, Hickory, and tulip poplar was left when the first crop was harvested. Walnut and trucks by the acre are now delivering the logs from this second cutting, to the mill from good lots within a range of 15 to 20 miles.

"These logs are small, averaging 12 to 16 inches in diameter, but they have market value and their harvesting is affording employment to people who are dependent upon the woodlands," says Dean. "The logs are coming from territory which was not burned over after the original cutting of trees had been harvested. This plant is a fine demonstration of the value of protecting young growth of timber from forest fire, and thinking of it as a growing crop."

ARRIVE IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Orson Hoffman received a telegram July 4th announcing the arrival of their daughter Mrs. W. R. Daniels and family in San Diego, Calif. They made the trip in fourteen days going via U. S. route No. 40 from Columbus, Ohio, to Denver, Colo., then south through Colorado Springs, LaJolla, Trinidad, Santa Fe, Albuquerque on to Phoenix, then to San Diego. The word received from them in route spoke of the wonderful wheat fields in Kansas and beautiful mountain scenery and of the fine roads most all the way, and a tire or car trouble. In a letter just received from San Diego they say they were stopped at the Arizona and California line, that every piece of baggage was removed from their car, and opened up nothing was overlooked, perhaps by dry agents.

CURIOUS HUMAN NATURE

Charles Crum was a much surprised man Friday when he found a fine car in his drive at his home south of Greenwich Center with a note on the steering wheel saying that the occupants were out of gas and cash and to whom the car belonged. Mr. Crum notified the mayor who ordered the arrest of the arrest and they were captured at Pritchville and brought to Greenwich to the lock-up. The owner of the two a mere lad of twenty had come from his home at Toledo to Cleveland and presented himself to this agency as a prospective buyer. After a demonstration he had given some excuse for a drive in company with a bottle of liquor had kept on driving till he awoke two days later in a Wooster hotel under the influence of liquor and he telegraphed his family at Toledo for cash and they sent him a check. After the details instead. After paying the large hotel bill the second man found himself also strapped and proceeded as far as the gas held out. The cousin was released at once and the younger man let out on bond Saturday. The matter is in the hands of the Cleveland police. The owners of the car reclaimed their property Sunday.

The latter met the man at five point and forced them into the jail. The white man was thought dead when taken from the car but later evidence showed him to be dead drunk. The Joy of Being the Editor

Getting out this paper is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly.

If we don't they say we are too serious. If we stick close to the job all day.

We ought to be out hunting up news. If we go out and try to hustle.

We ought to be on the job in the office. If we don't print contributions.

We don't appreciate genius. And if we do print them, the paper is filled with stupidities.

If we make a change in the other feel like a write-up, we are too critical. If we don't we are asleep.

If we clip things from other papers we are too lazy to write them our selves.

If we don't, we are stuck on our own stuff.

Now like as not some guy will say We swiped this from some magazine. We did.

$5000 IN OILS FOR 'OLEO LOST AS VAT BURSTS

MECHANIC ERECTED THIS MODEL AT COST OF TWO YEARS' LEISURE

NORTH FAIRFIELD—This model locomotive has brought more satisfaction to a local mechanic than he has ever found in a toy engine when he was a boy.

It cost Ernest J. Bond, of North Fairfield, his leisure for almost two years to construct this model, but once it was finished, he believed it was worth the time.

For this is a locomotive that runs, not by winding, but with coal or gasoline, though it is only 30 inches long and seven inches high. Together with fuel and water, the locomotive and tender weigh 22 pounds. It is made of steel.

Mr. Bond has built a real track and once the locomotive is fired, its wheels spin around and around, like the big engines. Mr. Bond has two children, but it is said that they play with the model no more than their father.

STARTING THE GOOD WORK

Obsolete and unenforced laws are fruitful causes operating against observance of our respect for many laws the need for which is unquestioned and the execution of which is essential to the public welfare.

But when plain and explicit mandates of the federal constitution are flouted for years—instances of which are numerous and flagrant—and even by those whose sworn official duty is the framing of legislation and the providing of means for enforcement of the same, it is little wonder that the nation and the states are confronted not only by non-observance, lack of respect and gross violation of laws, but by the apparent necessity of an investigation of the failure, or the lack of proper enforcement of our laws, through the research of a special commission.

Beginning near at home and at the very base of the whole matter the commission, in its inquiry into "the dominant issue now before the American people," which is what President Hoover terms law enforcement, might well report as to why congress ignored and defied the express and unqualified dictum of Article I of the constitution in reference to reapportionment of congressmen until two presidents and four congresses have been elected on a wholly unconstitutional basis, at least twenty seats in congress have been wrongfully allotted and thirty millions of people have been partially disfranchised by the failure of congress to take action that should have been taken following the census of 1920.

Why the fourteen and the fifteenth amendments to the constitution are permitted to be violated continuously as they have been for years, is another matter concerning which report and recommendation may well be made by the commission on law enforcement.

In a sensible and reasonable article under the caption, "The Dead Hand of the Law," the current issue of World's Work makes these observations: "Dead laws clutter the statute books of every community in the United States."

"New York was a law forbidding automobiles to turn a corner at a speed above a horse's trot. Kansas has a law about the destruction of grasshoppers. Norfolk, Va., has 165 statutes regulating people when they wish to cross the street."

Los Angeles has, or had until recently, an ordinance forbidding street car conductors to shoot jack rabbits from the platform of a moving car. Why? Because shooting jack rabbits from a moving car was once a problem in a primitive community.

"Out of the deliberations of city councils, state legislatures and the federal congress in Washington comes an avalanche of forty thousand laws a year. Inevitably some of them grow old and out-of-date. Some of them are tacitly ignored."

"To President Hoover's commission on law enforcement we suggest that one of the major causes of lawlessness in the United States is what Charles Evans Hughes has called the prolixity, uncertainty, and confusion of our legislative methods. We have piled up 2,400,000 laws without bothering to consider whether any of them are out of date. And this vast mass of undigested legislation in itself breeds lawlessness by encouraging people to set themselves above the law because they know that many laws are obsolete, and by deflecting the police from the business of preventing crime to the pursuit of technicalities."

"There are two moves which the president's new commission can make to clear up this situation. Let it appeal to congress and the state legislatures that henceforth, in adopting new legislation, they put a reasonable time limit on each law, so that it automatically stands repealed at the end of twenty years, unless it has been re-enacted before that time expires."

"It would be easy enough to keep good laws in force if this system were adopted. The useless laws, the foolish laws, laws enacted in some momentary burst of feeling that soon spent itself, could be allowed to go into oblivion."

"I like to work," said a man, "particularly when I have a feeling that I am accomplishing something."

It is important that we have the sense of getting somewhere. The tragedy is that many are doing excellent work, but nobody whose opinion really carries weight takes the trouble to say so.

Why do we hesitate to express appreciation, approval, interest? Why do we assume that someone else is saying the kind word that we continually neglect to speak?

Men who for years have given outstanding service to their communities and to their industries often quietly confess that their deepest and most disturbing wonder is whether or not they enjoy the good opinion of those they are striving to help. The temptation is to become cynical and quit, but their spirit is supported by a philosophical understanding of human nature, and so they go on.

The world loses much by indifference. Communities lose, industries lose, employers lose.

Some people can't stand appreciation, but they do not amount to anything anyway. A little petting soon eliminates them. The majority are vastly stimulated by recognition.

If "opportunity" knocked less often of us we might catch up with our work.

Many a good thing has been pulled off on Friday, the 13th—by fellows who forgot the date.

Nothing is quite so pathetic as an old man trying to make up for the virtues of his youth.

A pretty girl likes to be told she's intelligent, and an intelligent girl likes to be told she's pretty.

If the profits are big enough the directors can usually iron out their differences without much trouble.

No woman minds having her soups criticized, but she won't stand for any remarks about her salads.

If the dramatic critics paid money out of their own pockets to see shows, and if literary critics dipped into their tobacco money for books, the public would get the lowdown on a lot of stuff.

Men should be made to take vacations—so they won't get the idea that they're indispensable.

ORGANIZED FARM YOUTH

One of the most impressive and far reaching developments in agricultural circles in late years is the growth of organized farm youth. Recognition of this is found in the inauguration of this year of a Junior State Fair to be held in conjunction with the Ohio State Fair, August 2-23. The Junior Fair has issued a separate premium list and has a governing body of young people from various points in the state under the leadership of C. E. Ashbrook, Ashley, Ohio, newspaper man, who has been made Junior Fair manager by Perry L. Green, Director of Agriculture. It may be of general interest to all something like the four outstanding elements of Buckeye State Youth, represented by young people in every county in the State:

The Juvenile Grange
First of the juvenile agricultural organizations, and organized in Texas in 1888. A ritual for Juvenile Granges of all states was adopted at the 24th session of the National Grange at Atlanta, Georgia, in 1890. Approximately 5000 boys and girls are members of the Juvenile Granges in Ohio. Hardin County with 400 members is the leading county in the Juvenile Grange association. Juvenile Granges have never been exhibited at the Ohio State Fair.

4-H CLUB WORK
The 4-H Club Work is the largest of the juvenile organizations and is a part of the national agricultural extension system, and promoted by State agricultural colleges. The term "4-H" signifies the trained head, heart and health, and the symbol is the four-leaf clover containing an "H" on each leaflet. This work is carried on through county agricultural agents home demonstration agents and club leaders, and is financed through the Smith-Lever Act of 1914. Members of this organization exhibit their products, made or raised, at a fair or local show.

Future Farmers of America
The Future Farmers of America is a national organization, of Vocational Agricultural students, and is not of a secret nature, but based purely on basis of merit and achievement. It

METAL DYES CHANGE FINISH

The accidental discovery of a metal dye which revolutionized the painting of metal finishes such as those on automobile bodies, was revealed to delegates to the National Association of Foremen in convention at Indianapolis by W. R. Dougan of the Metal Protection Corporation.

The discovery was made accidentally, he said, while experimenting with chromium plating on aluminum in the company's plant there. He said it makes possible the dyeing of metals with brilliant colors in such a fashion that the surface of the metal must be worn away before the dye is penetrated. The discovery is so recent, Mr. Dougan said, that the firm has not yet been able to adapt it to any particular purpose.

Karl Kathlin, former chemist for the Ford Motor Co., predicted that present day lacquers would be obsolete in automobile finishing within two years.

He forecast a synthetic resin would take the place of nitro cellulose, the principal ingredient of lacquer, which he said, breaks down under ultra violet rays of the sun.

ALL NINE LIVES OF CAT AT SEA ARE SAVED AT ONCE

There are cats and cats, but to the woolly plebeian Olaf, mascot of the liner Sud Americano, belongs the distinction of having had all nine of his lives saved at once, so to speak.

The Sud Americano on its maiden voyage, was 500 miles out from New York and plowing her way through a high sea one morning when the lookout yelled:

"Cat overboard!" "It's Olaf," yowled the captain. He was right. Although the ship was making 17 knots, he ordered her to stop. A lifeboat was lowered away with Chief Officer S. Anderson and six crewmen aboard. Through high waves they cruised about until Olaf, swimming for dear life was hauled aboard.

Something For Nothing

In these days of reckless advertising, when the public is led to believe by some advertisers that they can secure SOMETHING FOR NOTHING it is important that every statement of this character be weighed carefully as to its reasonableness.

Most people, or YOU perhaps, have learned through experience not to accept something for nothing. Quality merchandise can not be purchased at the price of inferior or poorly made merchandise.

FORD FINANCE PLAN MAKES IT EASIER TO PURCHASE A CAR
One of the developments of the past year which created national interest in both automotive and financial circles was the organization of Universal Credit Company for the purpose of financing exclusively the time sales of Ford products throughout the country. Ultimately service of a similar nature will be provided in all countries where Ford products are sold.

Universal Credit Company is a specialized financial institution authorized to provide uniform and authorized time payment plans at low cost for the purchase of Ford products on an installment basis. The company in the first year of business just closed has made sound and gratifying progress. The reception accorded the authorized Ford finance dealers in the large cities where branch offices have been established is indeed impressive.

Today UCC has purchased installment contracts in excess of $750,000 which establishes a new record in installment financing for an institution which has only been in operation for one year. It is anticipated that the volume of business handled will exceed $25,000,000 monthly for the year. In the short space of a year, the UCC organization has grown from an organization of ten people to one employing almost a thousand.

The purpose is to reduce the cost of credit to the individual who on time, commensurate with sound business policies. This reduction in the cost of credit is made possible by the economies that arise from the operation of an authorized volume dealer dealing exclusively with the Ford dealer organization.

UCC is operating at this time 21 complete offices. The following cities: Atlanta, Boston, Buffalo, Charlotte, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dallas, Detroit, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Memphis, Minneapolis, New York, Norfolk, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Washington and Mobile City.

CONSERVATION
Interest of sportsmen and conservationists is now centered in the conservation movement about to be launched in the State. In accord with the bill passed by the last Legislature which will become effective July 25, Governor Cooper is selecting eight members of the Department of the Interior, acting with the newly named chief of the Division and Perry L. Green, Director of the Department of Agriculture, will develop a program for the new setup. Under this arrangement the activities and properties of the present Fish and Game Division and the inland lakes bureau will be combined within the Department of Agriculture. Leaders in sports circles expect a far-reaching conservation program in Ohio, of benefit of the general public as well as to the outdoor men and women usually known as sportsmen. John W. Thompson of Lima, the present chief, is to head the new organization, it is generally believed.

Nelson McQuown is spending the week with the sister Mrs. Clarence Clinger of Williamstown, Ohio.

Miss Mary Louisa Felchner attended a shower on Mr. and Mrs. George Swartzwelder Monday night at Shelby. Mrs. Albert Felchner and family spent the 4th at Akron.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functional and healthy at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organs of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or cramps."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and it works so easily. Every woman should have a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remedy in his cabinet. Get the genuine.

Greenwich Men Tell How to Live Long Lives

GREENWICH, O.—"Live temperately, work hard and never worry" are three factors which Dr. Amos Ewing, 58-year old Greenwich resident, recommends to the youth of today for happiness, prosperity and old age. Dr. Ewing with Charles Hopkins are believed to be the oldest persons in Greenwich and vicinity. Both are aged 84; their birth dates are separated by a matter of only two months. Dr. Ewing was born in January, 1835, and Mr. Hopkins was born in March of the same year.

Dr. Ewing, who in spite of his advanced years is mentally and physically alert, was graduated from Western Reserve college and for 40 years was a practicing physician and surgeon in Greenwich and vicinity. He was a surgeon in the Civil war. The now retired doctor well remembers pioneer days when he administered to the sick, either riding from his office to the home on horseback or by horse and buggy. Many times it was 10 below zero or colder when Dr. Ewing traveled miles to attend the sick. He always answered a call regardless of circumstances, a record of which he is quite proud.

Born in Packerstown, N. J., Mr. Hopkins came to Ohio with 17 other persons in three covered wagons at the age of five years. The wagon caravan crossed the Allegheny mountains and later a settlement was made in the section where Greenwich now stands, but which then was comprised of only a few log cabins.

He owed logs for railroad ties when the Big Four railroad first placed a line through the Greenwich section. When he was 20 years old, Mr. Hopkins started work in the post-office at Greenwich. The postoffice was built where the Woolley hotel now stands. Herbert Russen was the first postmaster. Mr. Hopkins later served at postmaster at Carson which is now called Ripley.

Starting with Buchanan and Lincoln Mr. Hopkins has voted for 17 presidents. At one time Mr. Hopkins was engaged in peddling apples and butter and for several years sold this produce to the late Myron T. Herrick, who then lived in Elyria.

Mr. Hopkins lives with relatives in Greenwich, and like Dr. Ewing is mentally alert, despite his advanced age. Mr. Hopkins' recipe for a ripe old age is similar to the advice of Dr. Ewing, temperance in all things and being stressed by the venerable man.

State to Aid

COLUMBUS, O.—Will T. Hahn, director of industrial relations, is expected to make an effort to supply every demand of Ohio farmers for help during their busy season. The state already in thirteen cities free employment agencies, which in the past have been used to any great extent in rural communities, where during the harvest season extra help is required. Many college students, who are working during the summer vacation, have registered with the free employment bureau, and are ready to accept work in the harvest season, even helping to plow corn and do other farm work. There is absolutely no charge for the service for the employer or the employee and with proper co-operation hundreds of men should be placed in good jobs during the busy season of the farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Curtis and Mrs. Wilbur Shields and Miss Madeline McQuown spent the Fourth at New Washington.

The Ohio State Junior Fair, instituted this year, is the first wide junior fair in the United States.
