

EMPLOYMENT
DECLINE SLOW

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18.—Industrial employment in Ohio declined at a slower rate in September than in the three preceding months, according to the monthly report of the bureau of business research, Ohio State University.

Non-manufacturing employment, however, increased 4 per cent in September over August as against a five-year average gain of only 1 per cent.

Manufacturing and construction employment in the state, on the other hand, continued to fall off in September, according to the report. The former was due to declines in the metal products, paper and printing, and rubber products industries.

There were employment increases in September from August in the textile, chemicals, and food products groups. These gains ranged from 1 to 14 per cent. The lumber products, machinery, and stone, clay and glass products groups showed no change from August.

The bureau's report was compiled on the basis of returns from 100 Ohio concerns. Of these, 401 reported employment increases, 435 decreases, and 71 no change in employment from August.

The industrial employment decline of 1 per cent for September over August was in contrast with a five-year average gain for the month of 1 per cent. The report was prepared by Dr. Virva Booth, assistant editor of the bureau.

Celery Truck Hits
Pole; Boy Hurt

Sam Danhoff, Celeryville, had the misfortune of wrecking his large Dodge truck early Tuesday morning when it left the road and crashed into a telephone pole. The truck was loaded with celery and Danhoff and his son were on their way to Toledo. The road between Attica and Bellevue was very frosty, and in some manner the truck left the pavement and when the driver attempted to get back to the road the machine skidded, and went head on into a large pole, damaging the truck to the extent of $200 and scattering the cargo of celery for several yards around. Johnny Danhoff received severe cuts about the head and was rushed to the Willard hospital where he was given medical attention. Mr. Danhoff received no injuries. The truck was fully covered by insurance.

COUNTY FAIR BUILDINGS ARE ENDANGERED BY FIRE

One of the chicken barns located on the Richland County Fair grounds was burned down Sunday morning, and another partly damaged, the flames being fanned by a strong wind.

The fire is thought to have been caused by a lamp using kerosene being in the building. For a time the large buildings surrounding the barn were endangered, but Mansfield firemen worked over three hours until the fire was conquered.

Officials report that the loss is fully covered by insurance.

RESOLUTIONS

Accepting the duty of Robert Bulky, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, on the wet and dry issue, the Rural Ministerial Association of Huron county meeting in Norton, Fairfield adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas a distinct challenge is presented to the Christian people of Ohio in an effort to discredit and nullify the work so nobly undertaken, begun and carried on by them, namely: the problem of temperance;

Whereas certain candidates have openly challenged and attempted to silence ministers of the Gospel and Christian laymen in the present campaign, therefore,

Be it resolved: That we the members and wives of the Rural Ministerial Association of Huron County, representing 48 churches of 13 denominations, do hereby again declare our faith in the 18th Amendment and our hearty approval and intention to participate in Citizenship Sunday, Nov. 3, and call upon our people and all people who love Christ to strengthen their allegiance to the Christian cause, through the instrumentality of the ballot on November 3.

Continuously adopted by the Association on October 21, 1929, in session at Norton, Fairfield, Ohio.

BLAND CONFESSES TO
STONING B. & O. TRAIN
NEAR PLYMOUTH ROADS

According to the report of Lieut. Harry Wentz, officer for the B. & O. railroad, a signed confession was given by James Bland, of south of Plymouth, stating that he was implicated in stoning a passenger train on the night of October 5 at the cross-roads.

It is also stated that Bland has been bound over to the grand jury by Mayor Glenn Marriott of Shelby on a bond of $500. The discovery of the culprit was made by Wentz.

"We had no clue to start on except the cross-roads where the train was stoned. We made inquiries as to the reputation of the people in that vicinity."

"We took a hit and miss chance on Bland. He not only confessed but implicated two other men. We have not picked them up yet, but we know who they are."

No passengers were hit by the stones, but broken glass fell on one passenger, two windows being broken. The penalty for stoning a passenger train is from one to three years in the penitentiary.

Fish And Duck Are Features This Week

When Paul Everett cast his line far out into the old stone quarry here Wednesday afternoon little did he dream of snagging a beautiful 6 1/2 pounder of the big mouth black bass variety.

In describing the thrill Everett stated that he as he threw out his line felt a pull on his reel that almost completely turned him around, and it was then that he realized that he had a beautiful strike; winding and unwinding his reel, he played with the big fish until he got it to the point just short of the automobile and his light line would cover lift such weight, the nervous fisherman reached down and caught the bass under the gill with his hand. So excited was Everett over his luck that he lost his head, shortly after the automobile and even after he arrived in town he didn't know where to go.

For hours the fish was in the window at Brown and Miller's hardware, and for hours people stopped to gaze at what is believed to be the finest and biggest bass ever taken from the quarry. Several pictures were made, and the fish will be entered into a state contest.

In line with the fish story come one from Georgia, and it is especially interesting to "yo ed," for it's his home town and the fisherman a life-long friend, who sent with such a yearning that the gentlemen referred to below is conscientious and that his varacity is beyond reproach, and so here's the story taken from Sunday's Cleveland Plain Dealer:

Fisherman Snags Duck While Casting

DUBLIN, Ga., Oct. 18.—This is not a fish story.

Bro Hightower, fishing in Turkey Creek with rod and reel, was about to let go a cast when he sighted three ducks flying past him. Swish went his cast and a big duck went a duck into the water, caught by a leg, according to Hightower, who brought home a live duck.

AGREEMENT REACHED IN PHILLIPS-MELLIK CASE

The decision given by Justice Dickson, of Tiro, which removed C. L. Deal from representing the plaintiff in the Phillips-Mellick case was given after the justice had read the statute stating that no one can represent himself as an attorney in any way in any court unless he is an attorney.

The hearing was A. J. Phillips of north of Plymouth versus Hiland Mellick, of Tiro, and was the outcome of an automobile collision at a road intersection just north of Tiro in August of last year.

Phillips successfully brought suit against Mellick and was represented by Deal. Of Shelby. At the outset of the hearing Attorney Louis of Columbus, representing Mellick and the Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company, confessed judgment of the amount of the repair bill, $20.15. The objection to Deal acting as attorney was made immediately after the decision was given.

Deal's lawyer, the court room, however, Phillips and Deal came to the agreement whereby the defendant would pay the bill and half the costs.

In the drama, go, a more serious accident might have occurred. Though the machine turned over, the occupants escaped with cuts and bruises, Clark suffering two broken ribs.

OFFICIALS ARE OPTIMISTIC OVER
OUTLOOK FOR COMING YEAR.
INVENTORY NEXT WEEK.

The employment situation for Plymouth looks unusually bright for this winter. Plymouth's industry, The Patent-Hoeth Co., manufacturers of gasoline locomotives and clay working machinery, reports that business is improving and that the outlook for the next few months is very satisfactory.

Officials of the company stated Tuesday that more orders were received last week than at any other week during the current year. Next week the factory will be closed part time in order to take inventory, but on resumption of activities stock of locomotives and clay working machinery will be replenished, and this line will give steady employment for the men in the shops. The company hopes to build a large number of locomotives this winter for the rush orders that come in during the spring months. The demand in the early part of the year is so great that orders cannot be filled promptly.

It is nothing unusual to ship as many as 500 of these locomotives in one month for spring business.

In an interview with John A. Root, president of the locomotive works, he states that business conditions are on the improvement list, and that he believes within a few months conditions in general will be on the upward trend and back to normalcy. He also pointed out that the buying public must put confidence into American commerce and methods, and that skepticism must be erased from the minds of those who are so apt to fear the "business depression."

Order prospects are plentiful and representatives of the world over who sell Plymouth locomotives report much optimism. Several large deals are pending and will likely be closed within a few weeks.

So with this announcement of more business for our local factory, the people of Plymouth should be overjoyed in receiving this news, especially with the holiday season so near at hand.

RECEPTION GIVEN PASTOR
WAS SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The reception given Rev. and Mrs. O. M. Peoples at the local Methodist church Thursday evening was a complete success, and said to have been one of the best planned for a number of years.

The Shiloh people of the M. E. church were present and cooperated with the Plymouth members to give a most hearty welcome to his new territory and work. Brief talks were given by Shiloh and Plymouth representatives of the various church divisions and organizations. Rev. Shiloh of the Lutheran church at Shiloh, and Rev. J. W. Miller, of the Presbyterian church, Plymouth, also presented short addresses of welcome.

Beautiful bouquets of snap dragons and other fall flowers were given to Mr. and Mrs. Peoples by members of the primary department. The little lad representing the Shiloh primary recited a short address of welcome as he presented his flowers.

After a short program of other members, the new pastor and his wife answered the welcome. It was revealed that Mrs. Peoples is a local preacher, and is enabled to fill the local pulpit as the occasion might demand.

Refreshments and waters were served to the large number present and Rev. and Mrs. Peoples were welcomed personally by their many new friends.

TIRO MEN ARRESTED
ON CHARGE OF CUTTING
DOWN TREE OF NEIGHBOR

Five men, residing in and near Tiro, whose identity has been concealed, were discovered in the act of cutting down a tree located on a neighbor's property. Arrest of three members of the group was made by Sheriff Stuckert of the county, two escaping but later discovered.

The raid was made apparently for the purpose of securing money. Whether the men were aware of the penalty of a sentence to a term in the penitentiary, or not, is not known, but the property owner was considerable enough to allow the offenders to pay the damages and drop the matter.

The farmer discovered the plot in time to call the sheriff and a deputy.

Heavy Damage to
Celery by Frosts

Crop damages, the worst in years, was recorded in Celeryville this week when the heavy frost and freeze wrought havoc with the celery crop to the extent of between $20,000 and $30,000. The growers were taken by surprise in the rapid change of temperature, thus losing their crop just as the heavy selling season began to open for the holidays.

The first frost appeared Friday night followed by one Saturday night, and Sunday's frost brought the damage to the crop. The celery could have been banked last week, but the weather was too warm, and this would have caused rot. Most of the celery in the fields would have been stored for winter use, but since the frosts have come it is a complete loss.

FARM BUREAUS
MEET AT MARION

Future of Agriculture Discussed
By Speakers Monday As Eight
Counties Convene Together.

MARION, O., Oct. 23.—The future of agriculture in all its aspects—business, production, governmental, social—was discussed by speakers at the Farm Bureau week meeting held here Monday. Farm people from eight counties attended the meeting, and heard agricultural and business leaders of the state speak. The importance of cooperation between farmers, between rural and urban folk, and between agricultural and industry was stressed.

The Ohio Farm Bureau, an organization of Ohio farmers working to promote a better standard of living for the farmer and an income to maintain it, has various departments which provide opportunity for the farmer to purchase his supplies and dispose of his products cooperatively. The entire organization with all its business branches is owned by the membership.

The speakers on the program were: M. D. Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and General Manager of the Ohio Farm Bureau Corporation; Verma Elsing, organization director of the Federation; A. F. Moon, vice-president of the Federation; and Frank McMillin, president of the Ohio C. C. C. The day when the farmers may own, finance and operate their own service agencies of all types—electricity, farm commodities, and so on—was forecast by Mr. Lincoln before the meeting.

Mr. Moon stressed "the extreme importance of voting to adopt House Joint Resolution No. 20" during the coming November election. This measure, he said, will permit revenues from inheritance tax and from the proposed income tax, a replacement measure, to go to school districts to add those that are seriously in need of funds.

"In the drafting of the new tax law for Ohio under the new Constitutional provisions, agriculture and business again meet on common ground, working for the best interests of both. Both are vitally concerned in a basic reform of county government and a reduction of unnecessary county expenditures. Ohio has approximately 1,400 townships whose functions might be more economically and efficiently performed by a centralized unit."

"We must give serious consideration then to the type of organization which will fulfill the needs of this new day. If it does not function satisfactorily, it must be altered to meet changing conditions, or it will give way to something better. If new conditions arise, we must be alert and ready to make whatever adjustments may be necessary to meet the situation. If we do this, we may look ahead with confidence."

GIRL SCOUTS MOVE INTO NEW MEETING ROOMS

On Thursday of last week the members of the Goldenrod Troop of the Girl Scouts met in the new rooms above Hatch's Shoe Store, and in place of holding the regular formation and business meeting spent the time in "housecleaning." Every cast was present, and two prospective members were also present.

The scout furniture moved in from the old scout room above the Advertiser office. The second room was cleaned Saturday afternoon by volunteer workers. Walls were cleaned, woodwork, furniture, and floors scrubbed, windows washed. As the scouts prepared for the move it seemed that all the dirt had been transferred from the floors, etc., to knees, hands and faces.

Now that the furniture is in, the pictures on the wall, and curtains at the windows, the scout rooms will soon be open for the completion of the girls are quite proud of them. Meeting will be held today at 6:30 o'clock.

SCARLET FEVER CASES IN HURON COUNTY

In the little village of Huron, Ohio, a number of cases of scarlet fever have been reported and it has been rumored that if three more cases are found, it is likely the schools will be closed. The scarlet fever epidemic has spread widely through the failure of parents and children to remain under quarantine according to a statement issued by the Health Commissioner.

A number of families have been quarantined and every precaution is being used to prevent its spread.

MAN FINDS USE OF BAD LANGUAGE IS EXPENSIVE

An explosion of profanity may relieve the emotions, but it is also expensive. Constable Arnold Meyer, of Harbor Beach, Michigan, was forced to arrest Harry Kinsert on the charge of using indecent and immoral language in the presence of women and children. The man attempted to enter a private dance hall, and when refused admittance, gave vent to his feelings. The result was a night spent in the jail, a fine of $100, with $745 in costs added, or 90 days in jail. Kinsert paid the fine, and then moved his family and furniture to Midland, Michigan.

TIRO SCHOOL HOUSE IS ENTERED, NOTHING TAKEN

Tiro authorities discovered that someone had turned on a light in the rear of the school building about 2 o'clock one night of last week. As the school had been dark a short time before, an investigation was made. The door was found open, but a search revealed nothing missing.

Shift Your LAYERS into "HIGH!"

EVERY fast Eggogger hen has been bred to lay—that's High Gear Production!

Increase your egg production—get every cent of profit possible from your feed dollars—shift your layers into high gear with Larro Egg Mash and Larro Scratch Grain.

"High" with Larro Egg Mash was developed for "High Gear" performance, yet it is decidedly not a forcing ration. It has proved in eight years of continuous testing at Larro Research Farm against all known egg ration, that it brings more eggs and more profits without sacrifice of health or vitality to the hen. It has brought out laying capacities in flocks that owners never thought existed—it has changed border flocks to profit producers.

If your laying flock is not on Larro Egg Mash, it's not in "High."

SEND HIM BACK

U. S. Senator
Roscoe C. McCulloch

Senator McCulloch has proved himself to be an unusually capable and fearless public servant. His qualifications as a statesman are of the highest type.

Nothing could be more harmful to our standards of living than the position taken by the internationalists to reduce wage scales, let down the bars of immigration, destroy the benefits of the tariff and, thru the separation of America's dollars, lower our own standards.

Senator McCulloch is supported in his stand by Secretary of Labor, James J. Davis, who says "The protective tariff and the limited immigration acts go hand in hand. The average man in America is for the protected American investor here, rather than for the investor abroad. He is for a high standard of living in America."

Calvin Coolidge says: "We need more faith in ourselves. Our conditions are good enough so that it has been necessary to build a high exclusion law of tariff and immigration restrictions to prevent all the world from rushing in to possess them."

President Hoover says: "Our economic system is but an instrument of the social advancement of the American people. It is the foundation upon which can be built the finer things of the spirit. Immigrants in enrichment must be the essence of the nation not destroy it. A vote for Senator McCulloch is a vote for the American home."

Miss Edna Wesselman Becomes Bride Of Walter Donnemwirth In Beautiful Ceremony

At 4:30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon in the Evangelical Lutheran church of Cincinnati, Miss Edna Wesselman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wesselman of Howell avenue, became the bride of Mr. Walter H. Donnemwirth, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Donnemwirth, of Plymouth.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Miesler, of the church, at the altar banked with ferns and palms. Candelabra were also used, and greatly beautified the dimly lighted church. As the first organ strains were heard, the bride approached the altar and was given in marriage by her father. The bridal gown was fashioned of pale pink net, in period style, almost touching the floor; the bridal hat, shoes, and other accessories were of very pale green tulle and roses, color-of-dawn, were carried. The maid of honor, Miss Alma Wesselman, twin sister of the bride, wore light blue chiffon, with shoes and hat in corresponding shade, and carried two roses. The best man was the bride's brother, Mr. Edwin Wesselman. Miss Miriam Donnemwirth, of Plymouth, in a creation of pale green satin, also period style, with green hat and shoes, carrying two roses, made a most charming bridesmaid.

William Boyce sang two selections at the ceremony, "Untill," and "Because." Following the wedding a dinner was given by the bride's parents at the Kemper Lane Hotel, where a huge bridal cake adorned the center of the table. Mr. and Mrs. Donnemwirth, after a motor trip, will be at home at 2739 Vine street, Cincinnati.

Mrs. Donnemwirth is a graduate of a Cincinnati high school, and has been employed in secretarial work in that city. Mr. Donnemwirth is a graduate of the Plymouth high school, and attended Ohio State University, being employed at the present time as personnel manager of the Western Union branch in Cincinnati. Attending the wedding from Plymouth were Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Donnemwirth, Miss Miriam Donnemwirth, and Mrs. Ivan Bowman.

Luncheon

Mrs. Weltha McNamara of Steuben entertained at a luncheon-bridge Thursday afternoon at Hill Top Inn.

Following the tempting menu, two tables of bridge were enjoyed with high score prize going to Mrs. Chas. Miller and consolation to Mrs. Alex Bachrach.

Guests present included Mesdames M. F. Dick, John Root, P. H. Root, Howard Smith, Chas. Miller, Alex Bachrach, Mrs. Josephine Rogers, Mrs. Maud McCormick of North Fairfield, and the hostess.

Early October Wedding

On Thursday afternoon, Miss Irene Hickok of Fitchville, and Mr. Nelson Parker of Glena were quietly married at the M. E. parsonage at North Fairfield.

They were attended by Ida Hickok, the bride's sister, and Paul Knight, cousin of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for a trip to Niagara Falls, Canada. Best wishes of many friends go with them.

WEEK END GUESTS

The Friendship class enjoyed its regular meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Leon Davis, assisting hostesses were Mrs. Price, Mrs. Dawson and Mrs. Paine. The house was appropriately decorated for Halloween. Mrs. Thurman Ford had charge of a short devotional service after which the regular routine of business was attended to. Instead of giving the usual supper and bazaar this fall it was decided to accept the proposition presented by Mr. Satterly and take the agency for fresh oysters and deep sea fish. A large order was given by those present. Members of the class will solicit orders for these fresh products, send them in each Monday evening, and deliver them fresh from the ice on Thursday. The class voted to assume a large share in the financial responsibilities of the church.

A delightful social time was enjoyed with delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. The class was delighted to welcome the new pastor's wife, Mrs. O. M. Peoples, and to have as guests Mrs. Paine of Adario, and Mrs. Wiedman of Wellington.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

SPOILING THE SCENERY

The automobile touring season of 1930 is just about over; and if you asked the average tourist for his chief impression of the scenery along his vacation drive the chances are that he would mention the great national excrement of advertising signs along the highways.

Looking back over a summer spent largely on the highways, one recalls these signboards in a dizzy, ever-multiplying panorama. They make the approaches to our cities hideous, and they mar one's enjoyment of quiet country roads; they intrude upon pleasant vistas of inland lakes, they dot the white-fringed seashore and they plant themselves at the feet of lofty, snow-tipped mountains; and the long-suffering American continues to endure them without a protest.

A recent issue of the Roadside Bulletin, a little magazine published by the American Nature association, contains a series of pictures of roadside advertising signs, and the series is enough to make the reader doubt the collective sanity of the American public.

With a magnificent continent criss-crossed by excellent roads, and with the entire population on wheels ready to go out and enjoy these roads, we permit commercial interests to mar the scenery, desecrate the open country and inflict monotonous ugliness on us from one seacoast to the other.

A number of states have tried to remedy matters by law; but the law, in this case, is rather ineffective. You can prohibit the erection of signs on the highway itself, and you can keep them from being placed in the vicinity of railroad grade crossings—but that is about all. You cannot keep a needy farmer from renting a vacant lot to some over-zealous advertiser. You cannot keep a man from smearing an ugly sign across the side of his barn. You cannot keep the owner of some dilapidated eye-sore of an abandoned grain elevator or rundown factory from plastering it with screaming posters.

Why do we put up with it anyway? Is there something radically wrong with our aesthetic sense, that we permit these signboards to litter our countryside in such profusion? No country on earth offers its motorists such a lovely variety of tours to choose from; and no country permits its tours to be spoiled as we permit the billboard, the hot-dog stand and the filling station to spoil ours.

The remedy, of course, lies not in law but in an aroused public opinion. The problem really could be disposed of quite easily. If Americans generally would vow not to buy of advertisers who deface the landscape with billboards, the nuisance would die overnight. At any rate, it might be worth a try. You can start it for yourself.

"ONE DAY AT A TIME"

There are two days in the week upon which and about which I never worry. Two carefree days, kept sacredly free from fear and apprehension.

One of these days is Yesterday. Yesterday with all its pains and aches, all its faults, its mistakes and blunders, has passed beyond beyond the reach of my recall. I cannot undo an act I wrought. I cannot unsay a word I said yesterday. Save for the beautiful memories, sweet and tender, which linger like the perfume of roses in the heart of the day that is done, I have nothing to do with yesterday.

And the other day I do not worry about is Tomorrow. Tomorrow with all its possible adversities, its burdens, its perils, its large promise and poor performance, its failures and mistakes, is as far beyond the reach of mastery as its dead sister, Yesterday.

There is left for myself but one day of the week—Today. Any man can fight the battles of Today. Any woman can fight the battles of Today. Any woman can carry the burdens of just one day. Any man can resist the temptations of Today. It is only when, to the burdens and cares of Today, we willfully add the burdens of Yesterday and Tomorrow—that we break down. It isn't the experience of Today that drives men mad. It is the regret for something that happened Yesterday, and dread of what Tomorrow may disclose.

Therefore, I think, and I do, and I journey, but one day at a time. That is the easy day. That is the man's day.

WHERE DEPRESSION HURTS

The failure of prosperity may be worrying the government of this country, but the problem at Washington is as nothing compared with the problem faced in certain governments south of the Isthmus of Panama. In the United States a business depression is apt to bring an unfavorable result at the polls, but in South America it is apt to bring a revolution.

It is hardly too much to say that practically all of the current South American revolts originated in trade depressions. Citizens of any country get restive when business is bad, but in Latin America they get down-right violent.

It is foolish, of course, for any country to blame hard times on the government in power. But at least the situation here isn't as bad as it might be. Just suppose that our disillusioned voters were rushing to the armories instead of to the ballot box!

A NEW SOURCE OF DANGER

It is not especially reassuring to learn that Adolf Hitler promises, if he ever comes to power in Germany, that he will do everything he can to evade fulfillment by Germany of international treaties.

Since Hitler's Fascist party made such a spectacular gain in the last election, and since there are so many strong rumors of an impending "putsch," or forcible seizure of power, by this party, the chances of Hitler's coming to power are not quite as remote as one might wish; and if he ever does come to power resolved to carry out the program he has outlined, you may rest assured that Europe will have plenty of trouble.

It is quite possible, of course, to argue plausibly that many of the international treaties under which Germany now labors are unjust and should be revised; but sudden, forcible revision such as Hitler advocates would only mean war. This Austrian politician seems to rank now as the leading source of danger in all Europe.

MORE DIVORCES, FEWER WEDDINGS IN RICHLAND

A decrease in marriages and an increase in divorces is the record of Richland county for the year 1929, according to statistics compiled by the federal department of commerce and furnished the Probate court officials.

There were 516 marriages in this county in 1928, the tables show, and but 491 in 1929, a decrease of 25. Divorce statistics for the same year show that 144 couples were legally separated by the Probate and Common Pleas courts of the county in 1928 and 170 last year, an increase of 26. With less than 500 marriages and 170 divorces the ratio was one to three, excessively high when compared to state and national averages.

In Ohio there was an increase of 10.7 per cent in marriages in 1929 over the previous year and the divorce increase percentage was 4.9.

Judge Fiesinger favors a protective tariff to maintain American standards of living and high wages, but not so high as to drive out industries and work a hardship on consumers.

He pledges his best efforts in behalf of war veterans, and all interests of the district. He demands relief for farmers, firm and enforcement of laws, and the administration of banking laws in the interest of all the people.

BOYS' SPORTS

Saturday, October the twenty-fifth, the Plymouth Harriers will journey to Norwalk for a meet with Norwalk High. The meet is to be run between halves of the football game being played there that day.

Boys, do you realize that it is only a few more weeks before the state meet? Let's not go down to Columbus and not make a showing. Our school is just as good if not better than a lot of others. So let's go, what say? Eh, what?

FREE COURSE IN RADIO AND TELEVISION

A complete course in radio and television, free to all who will study, is the unusual offer of Organized Labor's only broadcast station—WCP, Chicago. This unique good-will project, launched in a small way last fall, has attained widespread popularity. Nearly 100,000 applications for the course have been received, and arrangements are being made to care for a quarter of a million applications during the present radio season.

High schools were quick to appreciate labor's free radio and television course as splendid supplementary text for physics classes and, in response to numerous requests, the course was made available to the schools. More than 400 used it last year. The offer is being repeated this year, much to the delight of the high schools.

Labor's free course in radio and television is equally attractive to older students. The enrollment of men and women over 15 years old being especially heavy. Many of these are professional people who, evidently, appreciate the course as a quick and reliable means of gaining an understanding of the theory of radio and television.

The course opens with an interesting explanation of how programs and pictures are transmitted through the ether and quickly launches into the construction of a modern radio receiver. One lesson explains in detail how to locate and remedy radio troubles. Television, shortwave radio and all-electric receivers are treated in the latter part of the course. Written reports are required on all the lessons.

A card addressed to Labor's only radio station—WCP, 623 South Wabash avenue, Chicago, Ill. (Dep. RT.) will insure the first lesson. The entire course is furnished free as a good-will project.

HOME ECONOMICS

Home Economics class and the seventh grade girls have been working on McCall Magazine campaign with the aim of securing the finances with which to purchase table linen for the dining room. This campaign ended Friday and in a few weeks they will be preparing breakfast in Home Economics I. and dinner in Home Economics II. and they will no longer need to serve on the board table. They can use their new table linen, which the girls worked hard to earn.

Betty Brown proved to be the hardest worker, selling $14.00 worth of subscriptions, and as a result will receive a prize from the McCall Company.

MISS LUCILLE FENNER

A song and a smile won her fame
A smile that lights the face,
A smile that discloses her disposition,
Her love and fine mannered grace.

In school she's just a teacher.
That all of us obey,
She makes us work, some times she scolds,
But friends she's sure okay.

She is loyal to her every friend,
To her church she is true,
She will try her very best,
Her duties all to do.

Class Play

What, you have never heard of "Blundering Billy"? Why, I thought everybody in town knew about that. It's the senior class play which is going to be given the seventh of November.

Just a little explanation. We are not trying to see if we can outdo the other schools around, because we haven't that idea in mind at all. The main fact is our little town is minus a picture show, (we have the building but no manager) and we all know we want some amusement. Why not drive down to the new school building and attend a real home talent play rather than drive ten or twenty miles to see a movie. Everyone is interested in the young people of today. So just show them really how interested you are by all coming Nov. 7th. Don't forget the date.

VALUE OF GOOD BOOKS

The value of good books cannot be expressed in words. Only he who reads and understands good books can appreciate their value. Books provide for us amusement, education, and they help us to be satisfied with our own life. Books are treasure houses of great thought from which even the poorest may draw great riches.

RADIUM

Radium is a remarkable chemical element discovered in 1898 by M. and Mme. Curie of Paris. Whether free or combined, it is continually breaking down into other elements of smaller atomic weight, and giving off three distinct kinds of rays which move at enormous speed.

The "alpha" rays are particles of the element helium; the "beta" rays are negatively charged particles called electrons; the "gamma" rays are similar to very powerful X-rays. In this process of "radio-activity" the element emits sufficient heat to raise its own weight of water from freezing to the boiling point in one hour.

Carnotite ore, the most important source of radium, is found chiefly in Colorado and Utah. The element is generally prepared as the chloride of radium. In 1921 the state of New York paid $225,000 for 2.4 grams of radium to be used in research work on the treatment of cancer and other diseases. This price, about $20,000 per carat, is more than double that ($3,500 per carat) asked for a red diamond, the most costly of precious stones.

7TH GRADE GEOGRAPHY

We have geography class the last thing in the afternoon. Mr. Murlin is our teacher. He appoints certain pupils to be teacher for each day. Sometimes the teacher appoints different people to give reports on things we are studying, which is very interesting. Sometimes he shows us some experiments which we like. At this time we are studying the map of Europe.

THE CHIPMUNK

The chipmunk or American ground squirrel is a small animal about six inches long with a slender furled tail nearly as long as its body, and a coat of reddish brown or gray fur striped with black and white on the back. The eastern species has two stripes on its back and the western species which is exceedingly common all over the rocky mountain region, bears four stripes. The ground color also is extremely variable according to habitat.

This common and pleasantly familiar little creature is often found frisking along stone walls, fences, hedge rows and on stumps, stopping now and again to sit erect and cast sharp glances at moving objects. It is generally shy in the presence of men and escapes with great rapidity when near, into some hiding place.

Its home is a burrow in some woodland place wherein it remains until spring, frequently appearing however, on warmer days. This burrow is a tunnel, like structure sometimes fully 20 ft. long and always deep enough to be below the frost line. It is enlarged into chambers at intervals. One of these chambers is supplied with dried leaves, grass and like material, and is the sleeping apartment. The other chambers are store houses which the chipmunk stores his supplies of small nuts and acorns especially the sweet beech nuts. These he carries home, often several at a time, in his distensible cheek pouches. These nuts are his chief food, but he will also eat buds, mushrooms and insects.

The breeding season is in May and the young are usually four to six in number.

The chief enemies of the chipmunk are the fox and the weasel. The former is dangerous only in the open as he is too large to disturb the chipmunk at home. But the weasel can attack him in his burrow and to escape him the chipmunk makes an opening for possible escape at the far end of his burrow.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

1. Q.—Why does a paper banner put the paste on the paper instead of putting it on the wall? It would be much easier to put it on the wall. A.—

If the paste were put on the wall it would soak in too fast and the paper would not stick. The paper would not be smooth if it were put on the wall.

2. Q.—What makes a plane stay in the air? A.—On an airplane the wings are curved and the wind crowds under the wing. The propeller pushes the wind over the wing as it is constructed in that manner and creates a vacuum above the wing. The force from the air pushing up on the under part of the wing causes it to rise. The commercial plane has a more curved wing than that on a passenger plane as it holds a greater weight.

3. Q.—What is the average life of a grasshopper? A.—The average life of a grasshopper is from four to six months, depending greatly on the climate.

SCHOOL LAWN

Perhaps some of you are sighing and saying, "at last they are planting grass on the school lawn." But wait a minute, it isn't grass it is only rye. Don't get discouraged. We are not going to start farming on the lawn but rather we have the best plan to carry out. If grass would be planted this fall, what would happen to it by next spring? You would all be ashamed of its appearance. Now think this over. Rye is being planted this fall and it will keep the soil smooth and get it in good condition for next spring. Then folks, grass will be planted and if we don't have the nicest lawn of grass—well, it won't be our fault.

CHAPEL

Mr. Murlin was the chapel speaker this week. He gave a very interesting description of New York City and told about a few of his experiences in New York when he attended Columbia University during the summer. Following the announcements by Supt. Miller, the students sang "In the Gloaming."

SHERIFF'S SALE IN PARTITION

The State of Ohio, Huron County, Common Pleas Court.

Pearl A. West, Plaintiff, vs. Jennie West, et al. Defendants. Case No. 13701.

Notice is hereby given, that on Wednesday, the 26th day of November A. D. 1936, at the hour of 10 o'clock, A. M., I will offer for sale at public auction on the premises in Greenfield Township, Ohio, the following real estate, situate in the County of Huron and State of Ohio, and in the Township of Greenfield, to-wit:

FIRST PARCEL

Situate in the County of Huron and State of Ohio and more fully described as follows: Being sixty acres off of the South side of lot number Forty-two in Section No. 1 of Greenfield Township, Bounded on the East and South by the Township line, on the West by the lot line along the center of the Highway on the North by lands now owned by Nellie Conger.

COOPER REMOVES BAN ON "THE BIG HOUSE"

Belatedly the State Board of Censors reverses itself and permits showing of "The Big House" in Ohio theatres. There never was a valid reason for barring the picture in the first instance. Already the picture has been shown in every state in the union. Governor Cooper wisely demitted of the Board of Censors that it remove an indefensible ban.

"The Big House" is a powerful moral preachment. It is a faithful delineation of prison life, which under no circumstances can be made a beautiful thing. Prisons are designed for the punishment of those who have defied the law and the canyons of social organization. Prisoners, as a general rule, are "hard-boiled," often with perverted or defective mentality. Many of them are vicious and all resent incarceration. Manifestly their control and regulation is not a mollycoddle job. Strong discipline, often stern, must be exerted at all times by prison managements. Showing of "The Big House" in Ohio should be productive of good results only. The youth of this and other states will not look upon this production of prison life without mental resolution to conduct their lives and affairs as to avoid the conditions and sinister conditions of prison life.

Said Sixty acres being in parallel form.

SECOND PARCEL

Also the following real estate, situated in the Township of New Haven, County of Huron, State of Ohio, being a portion of Lot No. 12 of Section No. 2 of said New Haven Township, bounded and described as follows: beginning at the Northeast corner of the Twenty-seven acres off of the West side of said lot, formerly owned by G. B. Sparks, at a stone set in the center of the highway; running thence South along the East side of said Twenty-seven acres to a stone set in the South line of said lot; thence West along the South line of said lot, Thirty Nine Rods and Twenty-four inches; thence North parallel with the first described line to the North line of said lot in the center of the highway; thence East along said center of the highway to the place of beginning, containing Thirty acres, more or less, subject to legal highways.

Both of the above described parcels being the same two parcels described in a certain deed of B. F. Beck and Hulda Beck to John West, dated April 2nd, 1906, Recorded in Vol. 76, Pages 77-78 of the records of deeds of Huron County, Ohio.

Said Premises Located on Township Line Road between New Haven and Greenfield Townships.

Appraised at $5400.00.

Said premises to be sold as the property of the parties to the above action, on an order of sale in Partition from the Common Pleas Court of Huron County, Ohio, and directed to me the undersigned Sheriff.

TERMS OF SALE: Cash. Given under my hand this 22nd day of October, 1936.

H. D. SMITH,

Sheriff of Huron County, O.

E. K. Trauger, Charles W. Chew, Jr.

Ray Craig, Attorneys.

Oct. 23-30-Nov. 6-13-36.

Fred Stone Feature Coming to Cleveland

It is almost a miracle that returns Fred Stone to us. Guaranteed to be found in him and impatiently eager to again appear before his many Cleveland friends, he has persuaded his producing manager, Charles Dillingham, to book him for appearances at the Ohio Theatre, for one week, beginning Monday night, October 27, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

"Two years now since the day of his aeroplane accident, and when he woke up in the hospital he didn't realize how badly he was hurt. The pain that followed was more in his heart than in his legs at that time, because he was forced to abandon 'Three Cheers.' It was the first time he was ever laid up in his life."

"Ripples," the new Fred Stone extravaganza, is a musical frolic of distinction, extravagantly mounted, brilliant in color, employing Midgeta, New York stage troopers in action, a mountain bear, beautiful girls at a Colonial ball, and a dazzling assemblage of ladies and gentlemen at a hunting party.

In this production Fred Stone brings a bagful of many new tricks; his entrance is a big surprise.

Dorothy Stone is co-starred with her dad, and in this production daughter number two, Paula Stone, makes her local debut.

"Ripples" was written by William Anthony McGuire. It is a modern story of Rip Van Winkle. The music and lyrics by Irving Caesar, Graham Johnson, Oscar Levant and Albert Sirmay. The beautiful scenery by Josef Urban sets the show in a magnificent jewel box never to be forgotten. Fred Stone says: "Best show we've ever had."

The supporting cast includes: Andrew Tomba, Billy Taylor, Hilda Spang, Charles Collins, Charles Mast, Peggy Bancroft, W. J. McCarthy, William Kerschell, Gertrude Clemens, Cynthia Foley, the Mary Reed Tiller dancing girls, and in the ensemble numbers a bevy of young and beautiful girls that only Charles Dillingham can provide.

A special mail order system is now in operation at the Ohio Theatre Box Office that will enable theatregoers of nearby cities to have their mail orders filled and as good a chance of seats assured as if personal application had been made. Applicants should enclose a self-addressed and stamped envelope with check or money order, to make delivery of seats certain. It is well to bear in mind that the earlier the application is made the better the choice obtainable. Prices at night are $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.55, $4.40. Wednesday matinee $1.50, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, Saturday matinee $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00. (These prices include war tax.)
