WILLARD HAS $20,000 FIRE

Two Buildings Razed Beyond Repair As Blaze Sweeps Town on Tuesday.

A bonfire in the rear of the Hunter building was the origin of a fire Tuesday that raged in the business district of Willard and brought damage to total $20,000 or more.

Two frame buildings in the heart of the town, owned by L. M. Hunter, were completely damaged, so that repair is practically out of the question. For a time the entire business district was threatened and excitement ran high. Sparks, caught up and carried by the breeze set the buildings on fire. The first definite alarm was given by the Oyster House, a restaurant located about three stores away. The wind, rising, fanned the blaze into high tongue, and the situation began to look serious even to the Willard firemen. When the firemen seemed to be fighting without a chance of success, the fire department from Mantua was called and arrived in 27 minutes. The blaze was nearly under control by the time the second department arrived.

The buildings burned front on Myrtle Ave. two stores on Maple street, and the section endangered reaches the alley on Myrtle street. The buildings destroyed were labeled as fire traps and were about the oldest buildings in the downtown section. The Jump Smart Shop, the Ashley Boot Shop, and the Koepple pressing shop were endangered. The garage in the back of the buildings used as a garage by the Hunter business burned quickly because of the oil soaked rags and wood.

Water was turned on the nearby buildings to prevent the spread of fire, when it was seen that the wooden structure could not be saved. The destruction of stores in the business district makes the shortage of business houses more acute. Hunter has not yet decided what he will do about building.

The telephone operators at the Willard exchange were commended for remaining at their posts of duty though smoke and cinders made the rooms almost unbearable. One person is known to have been injured, Frank Britton, of Willard, a spectator, who was cut by flying glass, as firemen broke windows.

POISONING OF ANIMALS CALLS MANY COMPLAINTS

People, who have no regard for human or other life, may find themselves in the stern arm of the law if they do not cease their present activities.

In Norwalk, Attica, and a number of other towns around in this district, dog hunters have been placed under residence and public places for the purpose of killing dogs and cats. Not only should this practice be abolished, for city authorities will rid the town of any pest, but human life is endangered. A child could quite innocently pick up some of the poisonous food, eat it, or give it to a play-fellow. The result can easily be imagined.

Poisoned meat or biscuit should not be left around. A number of innocent pets have already been killed, including pedigree animals, and authorities are looking for offenders.

FALL OVER FORTY-FT. EMBANKMENT NOT FATAL

After falling with his truck over a forty-foot embankment, the condition of Mrs. Welch, Milan resident, is reported as not serious. Serious injury was escaped miraculously.

Welch was driving a truck while engaged in road work, on the highway leading from Milan to Huron. While pulling to one side to give him another truck to go to the earth away beneath the truck, rolling the machine and driver into the steep ditch. The injured man was taken to the Norwalk Memorial hospital.

ATTEND ANNUAL ROLL CALL AT MARION, O.

Miss M. M. Lerch and Mrs. Bertha Dros of Mansfield motored to Marion last Monday where they attended the annual roll call of Veterans' held in that city.

The three department officers, Mrs. Dros of Mansfield, Miss Lerch of Plymouth and Mrs. Call Montgomery, Patriotic Instructor, were present.

COUNTY ELECTION BOARD REORGANIZES FOR TERM

The Huron county board of deputy state supervisors of elections have chosen the following officers for the term of two years: Chief Deputy—J. C. Miller; Clerk—O. Frederick. Members of the board, to serve a term of four years, are J. G. White, of Wakeman; Carl Hildebrand, Bellevue; Mrs. Anna Eaker, Norwalk; Fred J. Truxell, of Willard.

Frederick was reappointed clerk of the board.

LAST RITES HELD FOR CLAYTON E. BURR

The last rites were held Saturday for Clayton E. Burr, resident of Plymouth, who passed away from life on Thursday morning of last week. The deceased leaves behind him in a little home of tragedy his widow and three children, Cecily, Bernadine, and Dorothy Irene.

The services were held in Norwalk at the funeral parlors of Laible and Brady in the afternoon. The Rev. Mr. Bradick officiated. Burial was made at Woodlawn cemetery.

Burr had been ill for about two months, and had been unable to work. Death ended a period of severe suffering. The home which has been broken, is located on Plymouth street.

The family moved to Plymouth about four years ago and have been operating a gas station up until the time that Burr was taken seriously ill. Before moving to this community, the deceased was a citizen of West Hartford, where most of his life had been spent.

Although death is ever present, the sympathy of the entire community is always aroused more strongly when a family of children are left fatherless.

EAST AND WEST ROAD TO BE WIDENED

The road from Willard toward Newman's Corners, east, will probably be widened this summer if latest reports are correct. At present there is a ten-foot concrete road, and a new addition will connect the wide pavement north, south, and east, at the corners.

A strip about 10-feet wide will be put down along the other construction from the corner just to the east of the Pioneer Rubber Company to the asphalt section about a mile west of Newman's Corners. To keep the unpaved section of the road in good repair has been impossible, and the amount of traffic going over the road makes the widening a practical improvement.

It is expected that the job will be up for bids the last of this month at Columbus. County Surveyor C. T. Williams investigated the situation the first part of last week, and announced that plans and specifications had been sent to the state.

NORTH FAIRFIELD PASTOR TO LEAVE FOR MICHIGAN

Rev. R. J. Striffler, pastor of the First Congregational church in North Fairfield, has read his resignation and will accept a call to the First Congregational church of Dearborn, Michigan.

The Rev. Mr. Striffler has served as pastor in North Fairfield since 1926, and will be missed by his congregation. He has been in the ministry for 25 years, carrying on work in connection with studies in the Oberlin College. Rev. Striffler was enabled to earn the degrees B.D. and S.T.M.

The Dearborn church is a relocation of the old Ford St. Congregational church, and the public in general will accept a call to the First Congregational church of Dearborn, Michigan.

THREE ATTEMPTS AT SUICIDE PREVENTED

A man who claims to have been employed with a Big Four working gang, was unsuccessful in three attempts to take his own life last week in the Shelby jail. The name was John Bates, and the age 34.

Bates was arrested after being seen prowling around several residences on West Smiley avenue road. After police left the cell, the man attempted to slash his throat with a broken milk bottle, but was discovered. He then cut his throat with a hand mirror, and in a final attempt, hung himself with his belt, but was given medical treatment which revived him. It was decided to turn him over to the sheriff in Mansfield.

LOOK HERE, DIOGENES!

When Dan E. Clark approached one man about his property, he received a very unusual, but truthful answer. Clark is the local tax commissioner of the village, and in his rounds, asked this resident if he had a radio, the reply was "My, no, I have no need of one—I have ten children!" One honest man, eh?

PLYMOUTH CHAPTER HAS GRADE OF EXCELLENCE

PLYMOUTH.—The inspection of the Plymouth chapter of the O. E. S. was held Wednesday evening. Presiding the meeting a delicious chicken dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock in the Lutheran church parlors. The deputy Grand Matron of this district, Mrs. Olive Povenmire of Ada, gave the chapter the grade of excellence in her report. The lodge room was beautifully decorated with flowers and lamps. Two candidates were initiated, Mrs. Willard Ross and Miss Margarette Boardman. Visitors from out of town included: Miss Florence Povenmire, Mrs. and Mr. R. D. McLane and Mr. and Mrs. Mixer, of Milan, where Mrs. McLane is worthy Matron and Mr. Mixer is Worthy Patron; Mrs. Bruce Boutall, past matron of Lincoln chapter, Cleveland; Mrs. Rol Boardman and Arthur Scott of Cleveland; Mrs. Emma Shocker and Mrs. Bertha Dros of Mansfield; Mrs. Short and Mrs. Rotheary of Willard; Mrs. Black of Ada and Mrs. Jason Merlin of Holloway, O.

SHILOH LAD MAY RECOVER EYESIGHT IS LATE REPORT

Albert Seaman, of Shelby, may recover the sight of his left eye which was struck by a golf club last week, according to reports from the Mansfield General Hospital.

An improvement has been noted by physicians, and hope is held for complete recovery. Seaman was the victim of an accident as a number of Shiloh youths were practicing with clubs before an east end restaurant, and was hit by Frank Patterson. Skull fracture and the loss of eyesight was feared.

ALUMNI BANQUET HELD FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 23

The Alumni banquet, which has become an annual social affair in Plymouth, will be held this year on the evening of May 23, Friday, in the auditorium of the new high school. Dinner will be served at 5:30 o'clock.

As this is the first Alumni affair that has been held in the new building, a large attendance should be expected. The dinner is to be served by the ladies of the Lutheran church.

The chairman of the dinner and decorations committee appointed by the president, Willard Ross, is Mrs. George Eastman. Miss Mary Sheeley is in charge of the program committee.

Following the program and the roll call the floor of the auditorium will be cleared for entertainment and dancing. A fine orchestra has been secured, so that all may enjoy either the music or the dance.

Those making reservations before May 19, should see or write Mrs. Jean Seyville, Plymouth.

CHILD MEETS DEATH UNDER TRACTOR WHEELS

Walking between a tractor and a disc harrow, driven by her sixteen year old brother, Richard, little Helen King, two year old daughter of Vernon King, met instant death at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon on her father's farm, three miles south of Attica.

The boy, Richard, and his father, were just starting out to work and were near the house. Richard had stopped the tractor to talk with his father. The little girl, unobserved by her elders, and not realizing her danger, walked between the tractor and the harrow it was pulling, just after her brother had started again.

The little girl was hit in the back of the head, knocked down and dragged several feet before the tractor could be stopped. The father picked her up and started with her to the house, but a few minutes later she died.

Besides her parents, she is survived by six brothers and sisters. Burial was made in Bloomville cemetery.

TENTATIVE PLANS FOR SCHOOL YEAR

Plans for Plymouth's Schools For 1930-31 Completed; All of Teaching Staff Remains

The population of the Plymouth high school should be increased considerably next school year as there are but eleven students graduating on May 22, and between 35 and 40 are expected to enroll for 1929-30.

Plans have already been completed for a number of projects, and an interesting year is expected by both instructors and pupils. A few highlights on the next season have been submitted.

All instructors, for both grades and high school, will be retained for 1930-31, with the exception of Mrs. A. Harsela, who has definitely resigned. Mrs. Harsela, for the past several years, has taught the course in Home Economics under the Smith-Hughes plan. Miss Edna Lann, supervisor of home economics, will make recommendations to the board for teachers who can qualify under the Smith-Hughes plan. The course has rather stiff qualifications connected with it, and every home economics teacher cannot handle the study.

Superintendent R. R. Miller states that he has found all instructors of sufficient worth and satisfactory. All will probably be retained. At present the list stands as follows: High school—six year: Supt. Miller, general history; T. S. Jenkins, English, social science; history: John Rod, science; Helen Pearson, English, Latin; Wolfe, manual training and mathematics; J. R. Dorr, commercial courses.

Grade school: Miss Stella Nye, first; Miss Maxine Hartzell, second; Miss Mary Sheeley, third; Miss Florence Danner, fourth; Mrs. Harriet Farrar, fifth; Miss Ruth McGowan, sixth.

Advanced courses in home economics, bookkeeping and secretarial work will be given if demanded. The large class for 1930-31 will probably be in general history, as about 40 are scheduled for class work.

HAROLD MAURER ELECTED PRINCIPAL OF B. FRANKLIN SCHOOL AT UNIONTOWN, PA.

Harold E. Maurer, a former Plymouth resident, has accepted a splendid position as principal of the Benjamin Franklin high school in Uniontown, Pennsylvania.

Maurer has been working during the past school term at Ohio State University on post graduate courses. He returned from the position as principal at the Willard High school last year in order to take extra credit courses that would further him along the line of his career. He is a graduate of Plymouth schools, and until his college days spent his life in this community.

The appointment was secured through the assistance of Dr. Anderson, chief of the appointment bureau of the College of Education in Columbus. Anderson inspected the Willard school some time ago, and his recommendation was based partly on the satisfactory work done at that school by Maurer. There were about 25 applicants for the position including graduates of Columbus, Pittsburgh and Penn State.

Maurer made excellent grades at State, averaging "A" in all courses, and won esteem among the heads of the departments. While in Uniontown his work will be under Milton D. Proctor, Ph.D., an authority on junior high work, and a member of the staff of the University of Uniontown has a population of about 25,000 and has an enrollment of 750 students at the high school where Maurer will be.

HURON COUNTY TO HAVE EGG DAY ON SATURDAY

Huron county will have its second annual "Egg Day" on Saturday, May 17. The purpose of Egg Day is to raise money for the equipment of the 4-H club which will hold each summer at Camp Conger on the Huron river in Greenfield twp.

The plan is the same that was followed last year. Each person interested in the movement is asked to sell one dozen eggs and donate six cents to the club. All proceeds should be sent to the secretary, Mabel G. Fernald, Home Demonstration Agent. The proceeds last year were used for kitchen equipment.

WILLARD HOSPITAL HAS MONTHLY INCOME OF $1333

The income of the Willard Municipal Hospital for the first month was, according to the first report made, $1332.02. The amount collected in was $970.24.

The report was read at the Willard council meeting held last week. The report listed expenses at $2,652.07. Nurses salaries totaled $651.53. The deficit of $749.05 was the large part due to the necessary purchases of initial supplies and equipment. The initial investment in the hospital is given at $77,826.98.

This week is clean-up week in Willard.

MOTHER OF MRS. MCBRIDE IS DEAD

Mrs. Anna Longley, wife of Conrad Longley, died at the family home in Shelby, Saturday afternoon at 5:30, following an illness of one week.

At the time of her death she was aged 75 years, six months and 10 days and had been a resident of Shelby for the past 42 years.

She is survived by her husband and two daughters, William Shaffer at home, and Mrs. Roland McBride of Shiloh, one sister, Mrs. James Elmerick of Cleveland and four grandchildren.

Services were held Tuesday at 8:30 a. m. at the Most Pure Heart of Mary church with Rev. Fr. A. A. Pate officiating. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery.

He is survived by one daughter and four sons. His wife preceded him in death eight years ago. Eight grandchildren also survive.

Landefeld was born in Germany, 71 years ago. He had worked in Willard 47 years, but was pensioned three years back. A member of the Trinity Lutheran church, the deceased was a well known and respected citizen. A brother also survives him, and three sisters, living in Germany.

PLYMOUTH ROUNDS UP OFFENDERS OF THE LAW

Ave. Millsbridge, middle-aged railroad man from Willard, paid a fine of $100 besides costs Tuesday of this week after delaying payment for over a week.

Three weeks ago, Saturday evening, April 26, Millsbridge, and a companion, A. A. Gallantree, also of Willard, were arrested near Plymouth by authorities and charged with driving while intoxicated. When brought to trial, Millsbridge pleaded not guilty, but was fined. The fine was not paid on the 10th rules. Hartman cut corners in violation of the law, and to his chagrin, the marshal was on the square. He pleaded guilty, paid $5 and costs and was released. The offender was with two other parties in a Dodge roadster.

On Wednesday afternoon, Loral Hartman, giving his address as Mansfield, was charged by Marshall Burgess with non-observance of the traffic rules. Hartman cut corners in violation of the law, and to his chagrin, the marshal was on the square. He pleaded guilty, paid $5 and costs and was released. The offender was with two other parties in a Dodge roadster.

LEGALITY OF SCHOOL BONDS APPROVED BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

In a letter received from the office of the Attorney General of Ohio, located in Columbus, it states that "Attorney General Gilbert Betman has approved the legality of bonds of the Plymouth Village School District, Richmond and Huron counties, in the amount of $75,000.00.

These bonds were purchased by the Retirement Board of the State Teachers Retirement System, and were issued for the purpose of constructing a fireproof school building."

BEGG TO SPEAK AT GRADUATION

Baccalaureate Services Held Sunday, May 18, At Local Presbyterian Church

For eleven young people who have made Plymouth High school their alma mater, the last year of preliminary education is drawing to a close.

What are their ambitions, what their ideals? Would it not be interesting to follow such a group to the end of their work? Baccalaureate services are scheduled for Sunday evening, May 18. Rev. A. M. Himes, local Lutheran minister, will present the address of the evening at the Presbyterian church on Plymouth street. The invocation will be given by Rev. J. W. Miller. Two or more selections will be given by the High school glee club, probably before and after the principal talk.

Commencement, the climax of twelve years of training, will be on Thursday night, May 22 at the high school auditorium, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. Seats may be reserved at Webber's drug store.

The Hon. James T. Begg will deliver the commencement address, and the fact that Plymouth has been able to secure the services of this ex-congressman should be appreciated by a capacity house. Begg is famed for his ability as an orator. His home is in Sandusky. Many citizens were disappointed last winter when the plans for Mr. Begg to speak at a Lutheran men's supper, failed to materialize. This is an opportunity for all to hear this gifted speaker.

Graduation, though the climax of youth, is but the beginning for the following students. It is like guiding a ship from the river, where both banks can be seen, into a great expanse of boundless sea, where only the compass of preparedness dictates the course.

We Recommend SEMESAN BEL for Seed Potatoes

TREAT your seed potatoes with Semesan Bel, the instantaneous dip. Harmless to seed. Simply mix with cold water, dip and plant.

Semesan Bel treatment cleanses the seed of harmful disease organisms which cause scab, Rhizoctonia and black leg. Improves the stand and vigor of the plants and results in increased yields of higher quality.

One pound of Semesan Bel dip makes 10 quarts of dip which treats from 15 to 25 bushels of seed. One man alone can treat from 200 to 400 bushels daily. Four ounces, 50c one pound, $1.75; five pounds, $8.00.

Use Care: For seed grades and cuttings Semesan Bel should be used in a separate dip from other seed and fertilizer.

DISTRICT TRACK MEET

Next Saturday, May 17, the District meet will be held at Mansfield. The schools are divided into classes A and B. Plymouth, having a team that has won three out of four meets this season, should place in practically every event. This, being the last opportunity to see spring track, should be well attended by all Plymouth fans.

SENIOR PLAY

Did you see the "Yellow Shadow" caputed at the school house Friday night? No? Well you missed a treat. We have a clever "detectative" here in this school, Sheriff Macklin (Alias Jim Shepard), and if anybody wants to know anything about Gillyeob birds see Jed Travis (Alias June Bachrach). As for Vance Snyder, why if you didn't know it, you would think he was a licensed attorney at law. Then there were his helpers, up! Wong Song, the chink, or in other words Walter Grimmer. Did you ever hear anybody talk in a monotone? Mrs. Travis, or Tommy Becker, is a professional at that kind of talk. And as for frightened girls you should have witnessed Harriet Cornell and Ruth Penner when they saw the yellow shadow, why they very nearly keeled over, but as for One Anderson she was calm and composed. Did you know we had a dead mouse? Well there was one, Reginald Ervin, nevertheless, and he was shot through the head. And I almost forgot our coroner, Miss Teale, or Mable Preston; also our very much supplied brother of Mildred, Herbert Marvin. Well that completes the list and I sure feel sorry for you people that missed this play.

ON CHOOSING A SUBJECT FOR AN ESSAY

When, out of a clear sky, the announcement is made that you must write an essay, what an immense burden falls upon your shoulders. Of course at first, it may not seem to one to be so gigantic a task, but when a little thought is applied to the duty, one sees that it is not so small a task after all, for although the writing itself, or even the research necessary for the essay is not a strenuous undertaking, the tremendous task of choosing a subject for it is almost overwhelming. The one who imparted the news concerning the essay, merely in the course of instructions tells you that it must be an essay on any subject. It is very obvious that an essay cannot be written on any topic, as so many subjects are impossible, others are so broad that years would need be spent in research and writing. For an example, the subject of women, besides being so large that no one essay could possibly do it justice, is so changeable that by the time one set of statistics could be set down, a new set would have been compiled and it would be necessary to substitute the new for the old.

"Oh, well!" you say, "I have two weeks," and you release it from your mind for a few days, when suddenly you remember that you are dated to write an essay and that no suitable subject has penetrated your thoughts as you had hoped there would. Then follows an hour of deep, concentrated thought, or maybe two hours, according to one's mood and to the number of other matters to which you must attend. At the end of that time, when other matters call your attention, you are again willing to give fate a chance to bring a good subject to your conclusion. You feel that you have done your best for that time; you have considered everything in the line of science; chemistry, physics, and unheard-of branches, you have considered the new inventions in mechanics, the field of which is so extensive that even by choosing only one model, you feel that you could never exhaust your information—that it would eventually exhaust you, which is undoubtedly true, the question being only "how soon." You have weighed in the balance a deep problem in sociology against a simple subject such as appreciation of arts, and have rejected both. In short you have literally "thought of everything you can think of."

A week later your tormentor suddenly appears with the question "Do you have your essay ready?" Easy! you say. You have forgotten it completely, and the program is the next day instead of the day after, as you thought.

And then—what a relief, when the announcement comes that the subject for your essay is to be on Trees in keeping with Arbor Day.

—Robert Baltzell '30.

JOKES

The late William Rockefeller used to tell with delight a story illustrative of the financial genius of famous brother John.

When John was a little fellow, he would begin, a so-called Indian doctor visited our town with a cure-all. The doctor, to get trade started, took out a bright new silver dollar and said he would auction it off.

"How much am I bid," he said, "For this bright silver dollar?"

"But the crowd was cautious, silent, suspicious. No bids were heard.

"How much am I bid," shouted the Indian doctor again. "Come, come, gentlemen! A nickel a dime?"

"I'll bid a nickel," piped John D. Rockefeller at last.

"The dollar is yours, boy," said the doctor, "hand up your nickel."

"Take it out of the dollar, piped little John D., "and gimme ninety five cents change."

Mrs. Flora Ward of Mansfield spent last week with Mrs. Clara Wakeman. Mrs. Ella Blackmore and Mrs. F. C. Young spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Mitchell.

G. E. Young sang a solo at the quarterly meeting held in New Haven Sunday. Mrs. Young accompanied him on the piano.

Mrs. Dr. Hess sang a beautiful classical solo. She was accompanied by her daughter on the piano, and son with the violin. The renditions by the soloists and New Haven choir were most impressive and comforting. Our own opinion was that the singers were among the best in the county.

The exercises given by the children commanded the direct attention of the large audience.

We want to call your attention to the joint meeting of the Greenwich and Ripley Twp. Farm Bureau to be held in the Ripley centralized school auditorium, May 20th at 8 o'clock p. m.

Mr. A. F. Potter of Cleveland, will be the speaker of the evening and will talk on Co-operative Marketing. Mr. Potter is manager of the Producers Co-operative Commission Association. SON OF GREENWICH MAYOR
KILLED IN W. VIRGINIA

Receiving word that their son Russell was killed while working as signal man on the Norfolk and Western. Mayor and Mrs. Roy Dove, of Greenwich, left last week for West Virginia. They arrived home with the body on Friday.

The young man was the victim of an accident which occurred while he was on duty. He had been employed by the railroad in West Virginia for about four years. Besides the parents, a widow, two children, two brothers and a sister, survive the deceased.

MANSFIELD MAN ESCAPES
TWO FINES IN ONE DAY

Whether John C. Ford is a lawyer or not, is not known, but the fact remains that he should be. Arrested twice in Marion, this Mansfield man talked the chief of police out of two fines. However, the affair is not so complex as would be supposed. After driving through a traffic light, Ford told the chief that he was not used to lights on the corners of buildings, but in the street. When arrested for parking in the wrong place, Ford bet the police $5 that there was no "No Parking" sign in sight. There wasn't. So Ford didn't pay his fine.

Mrs. J. Baltzell, and Miss Glendon Baltzell were in Shiloh Sunday morning. Mrs. Baltzell presented a short talk on the "Privileges and Responsibilities of Motherhood," to the Sunday school at the M. E. church.

SHILOH NEWS

In memory of Harry William Down, graduate of class of '29 Shiloh High School. Died Jan 29, 1930, aged 7 years.

Authority of one we hold in mind, being faithful, good, and kind, who seemed to cheer life's dreary way, and make for us a cheerful day.

It may be gone but in our heart, true memories now will never part. Then we enter into eternity, once to face with him we'll be.

We don't say dead, but merely gone. To land we all should look upon. To hold in cadence dear, the memories of yesterday.

Some day we all will meet our fate, and all will cling to the golden gate. I want death that took Harry's love, 'twas just a newer home above.

A Classmate,
Ethel Willett.

HELD JOINT MEETING

The Plymouth Library Board, and the Willard Book Group met at the Willard Hotel one evening last week for dinner and then covered the island with several feet of cinders. Today on hillside scattered several feet apart are pits. The natives dig down a fathom or more until they reach the clay subsoil. The pits are 2 feet across and in each pit a grapevine is planted. Sometimes around the pit's mouth on the windward side they have built windbreaks of blocks of lava.

Last Meeting of Tourist Club

The last meeting of the Tourists for the calendar year 1929-30 was very enjoyable one. Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Karl Webber.

After a delicious dinner at 6:30 p. m. the meeting was called to order by the retiring president, Mrs. Percy Root.

After routine business the leadership for the evening was turned over to Mrs. C. S. Walker who had chosen a very interesting article from The National Geographic by Wilhelm Tobien "Where streets are carpeted with flowers." This custom prevails in the Canary Islands where great quantities of flower petals, stones and seeds are used to form carpets on the streets over which in the evening the Corpus Christi procession passes. Beautiful designs are carried out by artists who take great pride in these masterpieces.

Then followed an account of the Allison V. Armour expedition of which David Fairchild and Dr. Wm. M. Wheeler of Harvard were members. The former interested in plants, etc. the latter in ants.

To a botanist the Jardin de Acclimation at Grotto, Canary Islands, is fascinating. Plants have been brought from all parts of the world by famous botanists and others to be acclimated here and then transplanted to other parts of the world. Many have been brought to America.

Today in great rock terraces built with back-breaking hand labor are growing Chinese dwarf bananas at a profit. Centuries ago, a volcanic eruption covered this island with several feet of cinders. Today on hillside scattered several feet apart are pits. The natives dig down a fathom or more until they reach the clay subsoil. The pits are 2 feet across and in each pit a grapevine is planted. Sometimes around the pit's mouth on the windward side they have built windbreaks of blocks of lava.

Grain and legume growers of Lanarote spread stable manure over their fields and then cover them 6 inches deep with cinders, planting their maize, beans or barley below this much of cinders. The plants depend upon the moisture stored in the ground and the mists from the clouds. It has been two years since the last rainfall. Corn grown in pits as described, grows about 18 inches or two feet high with one ear to the stalk. The ear touches the cinders as it hangs on the dwarf plants.

Land values are surprising, $150.00 an acre for Chinese banana culture and it brings a net profit of 7 or 8 per cent. Climate does it. Another surprise is that canary birds have grown plumage. The yellow birds come from Germany.

Each tourist was requested to bring a fern or wild flower and name it. This under the leadership of Mrs. Walker, was very interesting. After roll call we adjourned until fall or at the call of the incoming president, Miss Pearl Elder.
