COOPERATION OF ALL LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS ASKED IN THE PROMOTION OF FALL FESTIVAL

Plans for the Plymouth Fall Festival to be held Oct. 11th and 12th on the Plymouth Square are being formulated with a view toward uniting all community enterprises and organizations in an effort to promote a festival which will credit to the progressive spirit of the community.

To be enlisted in this drive are the Plymouth merchants, the Plymouth churches, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, American Legion, the Grange and all other organizations and societies in the town and surrounding territory, who care to participate. Exhibits are to be prepared and entered in competition in the fields of fancy work, produce, hobbies, pets and school work.

Mr. Bailey, superintendent, will be in charge of a school display, which will exhibit various phases of the school activities. Mr. Ratcliffe of the Plymouth Elevator Co. will be in charge of produce displays, which will represent outstanding products in the farm produce program in the surrounding country. The support of the Plymouth Grange will be enlisted to forward the success of this phase of the program.

The Ladies' Aid Societies of the respective churches will be solicited to get together a display of quilts and other fancy work from the town and country around. All ladies of the town and country around are asked to delve into their closets and baskets and bring out things which they have made and kept to themselves all this time.

The Boy Scouts of Plymouth will be counted on to put a hobby show which should bring out stores of arrowheads, stamps, match boxes and all other things which boys and girls as well as the older folks are fond of. These displays will be open to young and old. To the Girl Scouts will fall the job of presenting a pet show for which a prize will be offered for the most outstanding, unique, and well-cared for pet.

Mr. Dunham, high school coach will be chairman of a committee which will supervise races and games in which the young folks will participate and for which prizes will be offered. During the ensuing weeks other contests and displays will be planned as the program gets under way.

Change Of Residence

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hatch have moved from rooms in the Tourist Inn to an apartment at 284 West Main St. Mrs. Hatch is a science teacher in the Shelby schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hendricks have rented rooms at the home of Mrs. Ruth Davis on Porter street. They formerly resided at the home of Mrs. Josie Bachrach.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Muehse have moved their household goods to the home of Mrs. Muehse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Downend on West Broadway, where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Crawford have rented the Walter Downend property on Park Avenue and expect to move from the Cheesman apartment next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pump and children, who have been residing in the property of the late Mrs. Cora Miller on Plymouth street, are moving this week to the Luthersman parsonage.

LET'S CALL THE PARK BY ITS RIGHT NAME

As a community we should be appreciative of the thoughtfulness of Mr. and Mrs. John Root, who donated the present park site to the village. In making the presentation there were no restrictions, but the thought in mind of the donors was only that the land may act as a memorial to Mrs. Root's mother, the late Mary Faye. It is needless to recall here that Mrs. Faye was one of Plymouth's beloved women. She was interested not only in people of Plymouth, but the community as a whole—its progress and advancement.

It has been especially noticed since the donation of the park site and its improvement, that many of our citizens refer to it as "Plymouth Park." It is significant that in doing this the proper name is being omitted—not intentionally, but thoughtlessly. It is just as easy to say "Mary Faye Park" as it is "Plymouth Park."

In every item we have edited in references to picnics and reunions, which are held at Shelby, the park is invariably referred to as "Seltzer Park" thus carrying the memory of Joe Seltzer into the hearts of hundreds.

So in the future when we refer to our park, of which we are just proud, let us call it "Mary Faye Park" and in the course of time it will become a habit with us, and thereby establishing the purpose for which it was originally intended—a memorial to Mrs. Mary Faye.

LONG ILLNESS ENDS IN DEATH

Mrs. Jennie Gray, 57, died Friday at her home on County Line road, after a lingering illness. She had made her home in Plymouth about two years and was a native of Richland county. Surviving are her husband, J. Woods Gray, a daughter, Mrs. Foster Keath, Plymouth, and two brothers, L. K. Shariff of Franklin township, and E. D. Shariff of Shelby.

The body was removed to the McQuate funeral home, Shiloh, where funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was made in the Mansfield cemetery.

COMMUNISTS HAD NO SIGNERS ON PETITION IN HURON COUNTY

The Huron county board of elections has been patiently awaiting arrival of a petition of local signers for the Communist party—but none has arrived and official report from Columbus says no Communist petition was circulated in Huron county.

Which indicates there are no Communists here—at least none willing to sign their names to that effect.

The Communist petitions embraced only two counties in the 13th district—Sandusky county with 30 signers and Seneca county with 15. Cuyahoga county had 14,589 signers. Of the 34,000 names signed, most come from metropolitan areas, counties showing 1000 or more names being Cuyahoga, Franklin, Hamilton, Lucas, Mahoning, Stark and Summit.

A Socialist petition was filed from Huron county, however. It

Going west on the highway enroute to Winchester, Ind., their auto and one driven by W. M. Purdy of Greenwich, collided as the latter came out of North Kaiffen street. Gordon lost control and his car careened into a tree in front of the Ed Cross residence.

DRIVERS' LICENSE GO ON SALE: MOVE SLOW

Although the 1941 drivers' license went on sale Monday, Sept. 9th, applicants seem to think there is plenty of time and but few were sold. Plymouth, lying in two counties, two deputies are necessary, inasmuch as the applicant must purchase his license in the county in which he resides.

Ervin is the deputy registrar and announces that beginning Monday, Sept. 16, they will be on sale every afternoon and evening at the Hatch & West store on the southeast side of the square. Thereafter, they may be obtained any time during the day. The remainder of this week persons may make application for the licenses at the Ervin residence.

Arthur Lewis Stein, aged 47 years, passed away at the family home on Trux street, Sunday afternoon at 4:45 following a cerebral hemorrhage. TO ENTER DENISON

Among Plymouth young people who are going away to college this fall is Thomas Root, 17 Plymouth street, who will enroll as a first year student at Denison university, Granville, where Dr. Kenneth Brown is the incoming new president. Denison, which has a limited enrollment of 850, begins its 110th year on September 16, with the incoming freshman class numbering 300 students.

LOCAL TEACHERS PREACHERS AND MERCHANTS EAT HEARTILY IN ANTICIPATION OF FALL FAIR

And a good time was had by all! From all sides and the far corners of the Plymouth Square came flocking the business and professional men of Plymouth to the door of Wayne's Restaurant when they heard that a fat turkey was in the pan. The success of this effort to bring up the attendance at the Plymouth Fall Festival, was so outstanding that plans are being made to provide substantial "eats" at every meeting hereafter.

A first experience in appealing to the provincial tastes of the appetite was made last month at Tracy's Restaurant where thirty or so of Plymouth's leading glamour boys turned out to do justice to their figures. There was a marked absence of any dietary discipline whatsoever among those present, which no doubt accounts for the healthy aspect of these august gentlemen in contemplating a Fall Festival, the "likes" of which has never been seen in these parts.

Wayne's Restaurant was filled to capacity last Monday night when the Men's association got together to consider the future prospects in regard to community activities, and incidentally—to eat.

VISITS IN PLYMOUTH

Mr. J. B. Linkman returned on Monday to his home in Evanston, Ill., after several days' visit with his daughter, Mrs. J. Ratcliffe and husband, operators of the Plymouth Elevator company.

News Brevities

FELLOWS WHO DRIVE WITH ONE HAND are usually headed for the aisle of a church. Some of them will walk down it and some will be carried.

TWO HEAD OF CATTLE from the vicinity of Bellevue are dead from prussic-acid poisoning and seven others are reported as improving after treatment for the poisoning, according to Dr. A. A. Miske, Bellevue veterinarian.

Prussic-acid poisoning is produced by the ingestion of certain canes and grasses and at this season is more prevalent than at any other because some farmers pass their herds in fields of corn from which the ears have been removed. After the corn has been bruised by wagons and tramping, the poisonous acid sets in the corn stalks and poisoning results.

CARL JACOBS, LOCAL PAINTER, who is giving Plymouth's White Way a new coat of white paint, may be able to apply as assistant in a garage after the season is over. He was observed Tuesday afternoon diligently wiping off paint spots from a parked car, evidently at the request of the owner (a woman).

J. S. STAMBAUGH, WHO HAS out more than 300 acres of potatoes on the marsh, west of here, has begun the potato harvest. He will have a force of men and machinery at work digging, cleaning and sacking the potatoes until the first of November. For the past several years a caravan of trucks have been coming in from West Virginia, where a large portion of the crop is being sold.

HOWARD STREET OF MONROE will have a new sign, a contract to paint the name "Monroeville" on the roof of The Schneider Lumber Co., in that village. The letters will be five feet high and three feet wide. This action will conform to the state aerological regulations. Plymouth's sign is on top of the locomotive assembly building at The Fate-Root-Heath plant, and was repainted recently.

ADAY BY DAY TRIP TO THE WEST COAST AS SEEN BY J. C. MURLIN

(By J. C. Murlin)

FRIDAY, AUG. 16—

We followed U. S. Route 99 from Tulare to Fresno, Calif., and then U. S. 405 to Los Angeles, Calif. We drove 430 miles. Most of this was quite monotonous as it was desert from Bakersfield to Los Angeles. Oil fields are located near Bakersfield. In March 1938, the deepest well drilled at the time was the one drilled by the Continental Oil Co., near Wasco, 15,004 feet. In the region near Delano, Calif., we saw many vineyards and in the cities and villages were large wineries. After engaging our cabin for the night on the route to Boulder Dam, we drove to the dam and took the tour. This was the second visit for some of us but the first time it was a new picture. The government controls this project up to the point of delivery at the transformer. Two years ago we were told it would pay for itself in fifty years. Now, they tell us that at the rate power is being sold it will pay for itself in thirty-five years. Los Angeles gets the bulk of the power at present. It takes three years to install one of the huge generators. The power plant has pits for four or five more generators which will be added as the demand for more power increases. We ate in Boulder City which is seven miles from the dam. This is a very clean and beautiful city. It was built in 15 months to house the builders of the dam. The Chamber of Commerce of Las Vegas has been having its difficulties in trying to prevent the popular notion that tourists cannot visit the dam since the "fifth column" investigations began.

SATURDAY, AUG. 17—

Today we followed U. S. 91 and Utah 17 and 15 to U. S. 89, south to the north rim of the Grand Canyon. Our mileage was 330. Much of this drive was void of vegetation except in the irrigated regions. At St. George, Utah, we saw the Great White Temple, the first Mormon Temple to be completed. This city is the heart of Utah's "Dixie," so named because of its almost tropical fertility and because the region grew practically all of the cotton used in Utah before the days of transportation. In this valley of the Virgin River are produced the vegetables and fruits of semi-tropical America. The chief sensation of Zion National Park is the overwhelming colors. The formations are huge. We followed Zion-Mount Carmel highway from the valley floor of the park up a zigzag slope in Pine Creek Canyon and through a tunnel 5,607 feet long. We stopped at one of the six openings in the tunnel that gave us a marvelous view. We turned southward at Zion Park Junction and drove through miles of desert. There are no trees here. We entered the Kaibab National Forest, and drove nearly fifty miles thru this forest of pines, spruce, fir, and aspen. After we entered the Grand Canyon National Park, we took a side trip to Imperial Point. This is 8,801 feet — the highest point on either rim. As we approached the camp grounds at Bright Angel Point we saw a deer family—buck, doe and fawn. Our mileage was 330 miles. After eating we went to a fireside chat conducted by a "ranger." He took the eye of one of the members of our party because of his height. However, his talk was very instructive and interesting. Life at either rim varies from desert life on the floor to northern U. S. life at the rim.

SUNDAY, AUG. 18—

This morning we had a splendid view of the canyon city and walking about a mile from the camp to Bright Angel Point. The canyon slopes and precipices have more vegetation than those of the south rim as the elevation here is a thousand feet higher. From here we could see the San Francisco peaks, 175 miles away at Flagstaff, Ariz. As we left the park this morning we saw the same deer family that we had seen last night. Today we followed U. S. 89 north to Bryce Canyon and on to Richfield, Utah. Our mileage was 308. The first sensation at Bryce was the color and shape of the innumerable grotesque, fanciful and beautiful forms, which are caused mainly by rain-drop erosion. We arrived in time at the administrative building to take the ranger-conducted auto tour of thirty-five miles through this spectacular park. The ranger in telling of some of the formations and giving names to some of the animal and human-like forms, related an incident quite amusing. A lady, one day came to him after he had talked about a certain formation and asked him if it was a C. C. C. or a P. W. A. project. Another lady, after listening to him speak about the quaking aspen, said: "I always wondered where they obtained aspen." The ranger stood so close to the edge of the cliffs in giving his talks that some of the ladies in the caravan would go back to their cars. The Chipmunks and Humming birds were common on this trail. Some of the points of interest on the tour were Sunset Point, Inspiration Point, Bryce Point, Park View, Natural Bridge and Rainbow Bridge. We are staying at Richfield tonight. It is located in the Sevier river valley, where agriculture, mining and stock and poultry raising are the chief occupations. The homes are not very beautiful and the houses are very crude. The alfalfa is grown. The Mormons make up nearly 98 per cent of the populace in the small villages and countryside.

MONDAY, AUG. 19—

Today we followed U. S. 89 to Salt Lake City. On leaving the city we followed U. S. 40 to Heber, where we stayed at the Y-

Camp. The country looked much like that about Richfield. At Salt Lake City we visited the famous Mormon Square. We heard Wade N. Stephens in a thirty-five minute organ recital on the famous organ. The organ is located in the tabernacle. It has over six thousand pipes. The roof of the tabernacle is composed of over a million feet of lumber and held together with wooden pins. The beams were lifted with oxen teams.

The acoustics in this building are so good that a pin can be heard to drop 250 feet away. This was demonstrated to us. The demonstrator could be heard in a whisper the same distance, either facing or with his back to us. The Mormon church was the first in America to adopt the Boy Scout program. The museum was very interesting. It contains paintings of some of the early Mormons and relics of the early days of the state of Utah and the church. The proper name of the church is "Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints." All missionary work is done by volunteers. Members of a family and friends support the missionary who gives three to five years of his life to the work. After lunch we drove 15 miles west of the city to Sunset Beach. Here we went in bathing. The Salt Lake is about twenty feet deep in the deepest place and is about fifty miles wide and seventy-five miles long. The water is 22 per cent salt. After one wades to the depth of his arms, he has no longer wades, but floats. Here is a place for a person to swim with his face out of water. Large chunks of salt crystals can be found in the beach sand. Our mileage today was 260.

TUESDAY, AUG. 20—

We followed U. S. 40 to Grand, Colo., where we followed U. S. 34 to Grand Lake. We drove 400 miles through desert and mountainous country. We were told that the temperature in the winter goes to 40 and 50 below zero here, but the dry air makes it less uncomfortable than our 10 and 15 below. At Grand Lodge in Rocky Mountain National Park they wanted $40 per day per cabin with meals furnished. Since this seemed a "little too expensive" we went to Grand Lake Village, where they had nicely furnished apartments for $6. Since we were only overnight guests at the village, we seemed to be much of a curiosity as most of the guests stay by the week. It is a great resort for all kinds of mountain sports.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 21—

Today we drove through Rocky Mountain National Park and over the Trail Ridge road and then took S. R. 7 to Boulder, Colo. Here we joined with U. S. 87 and followed it to Colorado Springs. In the park we climbed to over 12,000 feet above sea level. We stopped at the Post Office and Museum, which are located near Iceberg Lake. The post office is the smallest and highest in America. The park area is about 405 square miles, containing 65 peaks 10,000 feet in altitude. Long's Peak is the tallest, towering at 14,225 feet above sea level. We arrived in Boulder about noon. We went to the University and called on Miss Alice Harner, commercial teacher in the Fairfield school. She ate with us downtown and then drove to Limon, Colo., on U. S. 24. Our mileage was 147 today. On our climb we got eleven miles to a gallon of gas. FRIDAY TO SUNDAY— AUG. 23 TO 25: From Limon, Colo., we followed U. S. 40 and found it a level and straight road. On Friday we drove 555 miles to Kansas City. The countryside was large, grazing ranches with plenty of small cacti. There seemed to be lots of jackrabbits, but the only ones we saw were dead ones that the cars had hit during the night. Two members of the party saw one live one. Saturday's drive was a slow one across Missouri and Illinois. The roads are full of curves and hills. About every 15 miles we had one way traffic. We stayed at Taber's Cabins near Terre Haute, Sunday morning we followed U. S. 40 and arrived at Springfield, Ohio, at noon. We then followed several state routes to miss Columbus traffic. We stopped at Miss Gilliland's home a few minutes and then took Miss Paxson and Miss Van Cleft to Ellyria. We arrived in Plymouth about 10 o'clock.

Not realizing that we were climbing at first I drove in high too long and at the end of the first mile the water was boiling. We stopped at the watering station and filled up. I then put it in second and the motor began to cool off. The water didn't boil so much at a little past the halfway, Glen Cove, we stopped and put in fresh water. The next seven miles were slow ones. We had steep slopes and hairpin curves and we drove in low. The motor stayed at about 160 degrees all of the way up. At the top we were in an iron storm and it stayed in cloudy all of the time we were there. We wrote cards and sent telegrams to our friends 14,000 feet above sea level. It took one hour and forty minutes to climb and one hour and ten minutes to descend. Low gear is just as essential in descending as it was in

STATE PARKS INDIAN LAKE STATE PARK

One of Ohio's most attractive recreation spots is the State-owned Indian Lake, near Bellefontaine. Indian Lake is unique in that it has every possible facility for vacation enjoyment. There are, for instance, two camping and picnic sites, one on Fox Island near Russell's Point and the other on Black Hawk Island, just off State Route 99. At the latter place there is also a trailer camp area. In addition, there is fishing, hunting and trapping in the area, swimming, boating of all types, hiking, a golf course, and ample opportunities for nature study. Indian Lake consists of approximately nine square miles of water and one square mile of State-owned islands and upland State park area. The Indian Lake is particularly attractive and dot the lake along its eastern and southern shores. The lake, itself, was originally a natural body of water but greatly enlarged many decades ago so that it might serve as a source for water for a portion of Ohio's extensive canal system. One of the places well worth visiting at Indian Lake is the State fish hatchery, in which the Conservation Department, which has control of the entire area, propagates some of the millions of fish which are annually released in Ohio's inland waters for the pleasure and benefit of the State's fishermen. This resort, with its many cottages and hotels, and its facilities for camping and picnicking, offers rare opportunities for either a season-long stay or a shorter vacation. Because of the attractions at Indian Lake it has proven one of the most popular resorts in the

MISS RUTH ST. CLAIR UNITED IN MARRIAGE TO HARRY V. DYE

In a simple but impressive ceremony, Miss Ruth Pauline St. Clair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James St. Clair, became the bride of Mr. Harry V. Dye, son of Mrs. L. R. Brubaker of Willard, on the afternoon of August 31st. The marriage lines were read by Rev. John Taylor in the parlor of the Methodist parsonage, at Napoleon, Ohio, and the single ring ceremony was used.

The bride chose as her wedding ensemble a navy blue sheen, trimmed in white, and her accessories were blue and white. Her bridal bouquet was beautiful with white gladioli and small white pom-pom, and for the "something borrowed" she carried a lovely blue and white handkerchief belonging to the groom's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Saum, of Willard.

The groom wore a conventional business suit of dark green. The couple was unattended. Mrs. Taylor being the witness of the marriage ceremony.

For a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Dye motored to Garret, Ind., where they were guests at the home of an uncle, Mr. Sherman Brubaker, and wife. Mrs. Brubaker had a beautiful wedding cake for the young couple and honored them with a dinner. A few days of their wedding trip was also spent at Lake Wawasee, Ind. They returned to Plymouth last Thursday afternoon, and made their marriage known to friends here.

Mrs. Dye is a graduate of Plymouth High school, '33, and has been employed at the Pioneer Rubber Co., of Willard. Mr. Dye graduated from Willard high school in 1933, and is employed at the Galion North Electric Co. They will make their home in Galion in the near future.

On Thursday evening of this week, Mrs. Dye will be honored by a wedding shower given by Miss Helen Gled of West Broadway, and on Saturday evening relatives of the young couple will gather at the home of Mrs. Brubaker in Willard to honor them with nuptial gifts and best wishes.

The Plymouth Garden Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wechter Friday evening, Sept. 6 with a good attendance. A report of the picnic which was held at the home of Mrs. Perry, June 26, was given and also of the corn roast, which was held at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Chaffield, Aug. 16. Mrs. George Searle had charge of the program and in a very interesting manner, explained why leaves turn red and yellow in the autumn. This is a beauty of nature which the whole world does not enjoy as it is peculiar to the temperate zone.

The roll call brought out several autumn verses. One, a poem given by Mrs. Eva Keeler, which was found in her scrapbook, was much enjoyed. It was an original poem printed some years ago, which described the old cider mill.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Thurman Ford on Friday, September 20.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED FOR THE PLANNING PLYMOUTH'S FALL FAIR

At a meeting of the Plymouth Men's Club at Wayne's Restaurant last Monday evening, it was decided that plans would be considered for a Fall Festival to take place on the Public Square on October 11th and 12th. Thirty members of the association were present at the meeting which took place after a turkey dinner was served.

In the absence of Earl McQuate, president of the organization, Richard Hendricks, vice president, presided while the business meeting was in session. The report of the committee on the Fall Festival was heard, and a comprehensive program was agreed upon which would solicit the participation of every organization and business in Plymouth and the surrounding community.

The program as outlined will include produce displays and contests, fancy work displays, a pet show and a hobby show. A showing of various types of school activity was proposed and accepted with Mr. Bailey as supervisor of this part of the program.

Displays and concessions will be arranged in booths around the Square, and two evenings of entertainment will be provided by local business men and churches, who are all contributing to support the fair. Committees were appointed to supervise the completion of the program as outlined, and all pledged complete cooperation in attempting to make the affair a success.

Earl McQuate, president of the organization, will serve as head of the advisory committee, which includes Mr. J. W. McIntire, Mr. J. E. Nimmons, Mr. C. Weber, and Mr. P. W. Thomas.

RATTLESNAKES ARE A NEW CROP ON WILLARD MARSH

John Cok of the Celeryville market gardening center, has added rattlesnakes as a profitable sideline.

Workers in the celery fields are requested not to kill the rattlesnakes, but to bring them back alive, to be offered for sale to museums and zoos. Last year, the Cleveland Museum bought 14 Willard marsh rattlers and had them mounted.

The snakes are of the Massagua species and are usually only about 20 to 25 inches in length. They have fangs about as large as a cat's longest teeth and are too small to cause death often. Physicians successfully treat rattlesnake bites with serum.

The best way to capture snakes is to place a forked stick over their heads. But many marsh workers grab them back of the neck without ceremony. One of the easiest ways to find marsh rattlesnakes is to carefully pull over a shock of oats. The snakes infest the oats field to catch mice.

CARD OF THANKS

It is impossible to thank all of my friends personally, who have remembered me in so many kindly ways with fruit, cards, and gifts as well as my numerous calls, during my convalescence, but each and every kind deed was greatly appreciated. I shall spend many happy hours in reminiscing in my new home in Florida. Mrs. Mary Chappell.

SCHOOL CLOSED

ONE ROOM BUILDING TO BE ABANDONED AT GANGES

A one-room school at Ganges was closed Friday night by the Richland county board of education which transferred most of the Ganges district to Shelby.

About 20 parents from the district, still stunned by the school bus accident which injured nine pupils in their community, attended a hearing at the courthouse in Mansfield preceding the county board meeting.

A number protested against the transfer. A petition bearing 47 signatures, favoring the transfer, had already been submitted to the county board.

Boyd Robinson, county superintendent, said the Ganges school would be closed Monday. Approximately 16 pupils are affected by the transfer, with all but six of them going to Shelby. The others will be taken to the Pleasant Grove school in the Union district.

Huron County Court Notes

The county commissioners, O. K. Austin, C. H. McMann, Eben Lawrence, are made defendants in two separate personal injury suits, filed by Louise T. McGraw and Ella Bowes, both of Cleveland. The petition states that a motor car driven by Mrs. Bowes, and in which the other plaintiff was riding, ran off the Kniffron road, near Greenwich, down a six-foot embankment into a creek near the approach to a county bridge last October. The plaintiffs aver there were no guard rails. They are represented by Fushnell, Burgess and Fulton, Cleveland attorneys. Bowes sued for $5,500 and Mrs. McGraw for $5,000.

What Democracy Should Mean In Our Schools

On Monday, Sept. 9, Plymouth schools will open for another school year along with thousands of other like institutions in the state. This school business is just "routine" with the average student, and school life on the whole, isn't taken seriously anymore.

Under our economic conditions which have existed for the past ten or fifteen years, it is hardly the fault of the student if interest should be lost in securing a higher education, but forgetting everything else if the schools did not teach but one principle and one thought—it would be worth all the dollars that are expended for education—and that is, to love and respect America, and its democracy.

The other day I read a letter written by a little 13-year-old girl, who lives in the vicinity of London. She told, not in a grumpy manner, how German bombs were falling in the neighborhood in which she resided, and how one night three times they were sent scurrying down to the air raid shelters—and how she saw neighbor's homes laid to a huge mass of debris. But, the little girl seemed quite enthusiastic over the fact that their school was to resume early in September. The hours had been changed to meet air raid conditions and the other hardships brought about because of the war.

There is no criticism to be made by our present educational system, but I do believe now is the time to instill in the hearts and minds of our youth a new patriotism—what it really means to be an American. I do not mean by that to go back over history and point with pride to what Washington and other leaders of the American Revolution accomplished, or to the heroes of the Civil War. But I do mean that every school, youngster should know the real meaning of democracy—to be able to recite or sing "The Star Spangled Banner," "America," and other well-known patriotic songs. And, too, to know what the Stars and Stripes really stand for. There is a lot of good American history that would be well-worth reviewing, and coupled with present-day conditions, it would have a two-fold significance.

There will be no air raid warnings for you as you return to

$72,000,000.00 Tax Reduction Under Governor Martin L. Davey

Did Governor Bricker give you any tax reductions? Not one dollar. Instead of this, he forced heavy new burdens on the local taxpayers throughout Ohio.

BUT Governor Martin L. Davey did give you many tax reductions. He conducted the affairs of Ohio's State government without one dollar of new taxes of any kind. In fact, "No new taxes" was his slogan.

Davey brought about the repeal of the sales tax law which saved the people of Ohio $12,000,000.00 a year from November 11, 1936, on forever.

With the help of the Legislature, he reduced automobile license fees $2,000,000.00 per year, and farmers' truck fees $1,000,000.00 per year. In addition to this, he gave free use of automobile tags for three months from January 1, to April 1, when the law was first amended.

The admissions tax (on theater tickets, etc) was reduced from ten per cent to three per cent. The intangibles tax was reduced from six per cent to five per cent. There were several other tax reductions and exemptions.

The net result was a reduction in your taxes, under the Davey administration, of $40,000,000.00 from 1935 to 1938, inclusive. Davey left $40,000,000.00 in your pockets.

Better still, these tax reductions still continue. Davey's tax reductions left in your pockets more than $16,000,000.00 in 1939, and will leave another $16,000,000.00 in your pockets in 1940. From 1935 to the end of 1940, Davey's tax reductions will amount to over $72,000,000.00. This is more than one dollar apiece for every man, woman and child in Ohio.

Governor Davey vetoed over $15,000,000.00 in unnecessary appropriations. This is two and one-half times as much as the net vetoes of all the other governors of Ohio combined. He saved you over $15,000,000.00 through wise and determined use of the veto act.

Nevertheless, Davey did not neglect any of the legal or moral obligations of the State. He provided tens of millions of dollars for relief, tens of millions more for old age pensions, many tens of millions for schools, and millions more for social security, rehabilitation of State institutions, and many other new and necessary requirements.

He handled State finances as a business man, made an intimate study of State finances, carried out a program of no new taxes, balanced his budget every year, met all the State financial obligations, and still brought about tax reductions of such huge amounts that it challenges comparison with every other state in the Union, while he was Governor.

As far as can be found from the records, Martin L. Davey is the only Governor in the History of Ohio who brought about tax reductions.

HATFIELD-M'COY FEUD ENDED

"I'm a fighter" man from a fight in clan, but from now on I'll do my battlin' in the U. S. Army," said Tannis S. Hatfield, Jr., when he enlisted this week at Charleston, W. Va.

This 19-year-old grandson of the late "Devil Anse" Hatfield, leader of West Virginia's famous feuding clan of the "way back there in the days of long barbed rifles and careless killings," is now a soldier enroute to service in Panama.

Young Hatfield stated that he is not interested in the old feud between members of his family and the McCoy's. "I just want to do my part now that this country needs men to build its national defense. The Army is great and I recommend it to any boy who is looking for a good job at good pay," he said.

SANTA ROSA

EACH year on August 30th the image of Santa Rosa is carried through the streets of Lima—in the celebration honoring the first person to the New World ever to be canonized. The woman thus honored was Isabel de Olivia, born in Lima in 1586, and affectionately called "Rosa" or "Rosita" by her friends. This beautiful girl devoted her life to the care of the sick and unfortunate, was looked upon as a saint even while she lived, and more than a half century after her death was canonized.

The Fiesta de Santa Rosa always attracts much interest among travelers visiting Lima on the fortnightly cruises from New York. During the fiesta this silver statue of Santa Rosa is taken from her shrine in the Church of Santo Domingo and carried in state through the streets of Lima to the Cathedral. The statue and other relics of the saint are borne on a bier that is a veritable garden of roses—at the head of a procession of several hundred worshippers—priests intoning prayers, white-robed children singing hymns, men and women in purple robes carrying lighted candles. All traffic is suspended along the route. Along the sidewalks people kneel in prayer and from overhanging balconies descends a shower of rose petals.

Here, as in all South American fiestas, the saints are feasted in the most literal sense of the word. On every side stalls along the route are set up selling native delicacies cooked on little tin can stoves. "Chicha," an ancient and very powerful native drink made from Indian corn, flows freely down throats parched with fasting. And at night-time in the back streets of Lima natives dance the "Meringue," most exotic and primeval of all the native dances.
