

Tire Rationing Board Is Set Up; 4 Tires For Jan.

Under the tire rationing plan Plymouth motorists who come under the preferred ratings will be able to secure approximately four new tires during a month of January. The committee includes passenger car and truck tires.

Chairman of the Tire Rationing Committee for Plymouth and New Haven township stated that the set-up for Huron County has been completed and that by the end of the week the organization of the Richland County group will have been completed.

Mayor Derr was in Mansfield Sunday where he and members of the consumer committee met with the Richland County commissioners. Derr also attended a similar meeting in Norwalk Monday morning.

Local Rationing Board
Mayor Derr has appointed three members to the local tire rationing board, to cooperate with the Plymouth Council of Home Defense. Chairman of the committee is Harry Vandervort, and the other two members are W. M. Johns and Joe E. Hodges. Under the rationing tire plan, applications for the purchase of new tires and tubes can be secured from the local post office, gas stations and local tire dealers. The applications will come under the committee of three who will act in accordance with rules and regulations set up by the federal government for the purchase of new tires and tubes.

S. C. Brown whose home on North Street was awarded the first prize of $5.00 for the Christmas lighting and decoration, announces this week that the money was turned over to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Mabel McFadden is chairman for Plymouth and reports a number of voluntary contributions for the second Red Cross Drive now in effect. While Plymouth exceeded all expectations in the November drive, the county was called on to raise an additional $30,000 for their share of the national goal. To date no house-to-house canvass has been made locally, but all contributions will be turned into proper headquarters by Mrs. McFadden.

ALIENS TURN IN CAMERAS GUNS

MONDAY WAS DEADLINE TO TURN IN PROPERTY: PLYMOUTH COMPLIES.

Six cameras, several guns and two short wave sets were turned in by aliens in Plymouth to the police department in accordance with orders issued from the national government.

Monday night at 11 o'clock was the deadline for surrendering of guns, ammunition, cameras and short-wave receivers. The order was issued by the Federal Government and provides that a national having and not surrendering the items requested is subject to be interned during the duration of the war.

A receipt was given for each article and will be stored either locally or at the county seat for the duration of the war.

The short-wave apparatus on the radios were disconnected, making them unsuitable for short wave reception. Short-wave sets were described as those which receive or transmit on a frequency of less than 540 or more than 1750 kilocycles.

Joe W. Jellott, Sheriff of Huron County was in Plymouth Saturday making a general check-up. Only four families are reported included in the class of unnaturalized Germans, Italians and Japanese and while they have not as yet taken out their papers are regarded locally as good, honest citizens and not sympathetic to the enemy.

Postoffice Told of New Ruling For Armed Force Mail

Plymouthites may now send air mail letters to friends and relatives in the armed forces stationed outside the continental United States at the rate of six cents per half ounce, in accordance with an amendment to the postal laws and regulations.

Postmaster Claude Sourwine said that the new rate applies only to air mail sent to and by the personnel of the armed forces.

"It does not apply to the mail of civilians stationed at these points outside of the continental United States. In order that mail sent to and from these men in these outposts may be recognized as entitled to the new rate it must show in the address or in the return card the rank of the sender or the recipient, as the case may be," he said.

Sourwine pointed out however that the amendment did not modify or effect postage rates applicable to any point, including Alaska, where air mail rates are now six cents per ounce.

PILGRIMS EDGE OUT FAIRFIELD

OVERCOME SMALL FLOOR HANDICAP TO WIN FIFTH STRAIGHT.

Playing on an extremely small floor, the Pilgrims won their fifth straight basketball game Tuesday night. The Pilgrims gained revenge for their earlier season beating at the hands of the Indians, and also continued their Reserve winning streak to seven straight. The Reserve score was 17-15. Moore of Plymouth and Nelson of North Fairfield were tied high scorers each, having twelve. North Fairfield led 5-2 at the end of the first quarter and Plymouth led 13-10 at the half, after a slight disagreement over a shot hit the low ceiling.

The score at the end of the third quarter was 16-16 and it was tied 26-26 at the end of the regulation period. At the start of the overtime period Sikora of North Fairfield caged a side shot to put the Indians two points ahead. Near the end of the overtime period, Reed of Plymouth sank a long shot from the side and tied up the score. Thomas was fouled with thirteen seconds left to play, and scored the free throw, putting Plymouth one point ahead just before the final whistle. Plymouth winning, 29-28.

WORD RECEIVED OF LCLAL BOY

RAYMOND BABCOCK, WHO LEFT HOME LAST AUGUST, HAS BEEN IN FLORIDA.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Babcock were made happy Tuesday morning when they were advised by Chief Coffey of Shelby that word had been received from Raymond Babcock, their son, who left home last August.

It was revealed by Chief Coffey that Raymond had been making his home in Orlando, Fla., with a middle-aged couple, Mrs. J. G. Gelsinger. He told the couple that his parents were killed two years ago in a train wreck, and that he had no living relatives. Inquiring as to his former home, the woman finally requested the name of young Babcock's father, and his residence. Raymond gave her the name of J. R. Babcock, and Shelby as his former home.

Upon getting this information from the boy, the couple wrote to Chief of Police at Shelby, asking for information. Upon getting the letter from Orlando, Chief Coffey wired that the boy be held until further notice. It was Raymond's youthful appearance that gave him away. He tried to pass as being 18 years old, but his manner of the house suspected him as being younger, and thought that he should be in school. It was in her mind to adopt the boy and lead her to make further inquiry.

Raymond left home the last day of August, 1941 after wrecking his father's car, and no word as to his whereabouts had been received by the family.

SALE IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chronister received word that their son Eugene was in the naval hospital at San Diego, Calif., with a broken ear drum. He states he made a trip to Pearl Harbor as cook on a ship that took a division over. He was gone twenty-seven days and was back before the boys in the 7th. He is with the U. S. Marines being in the service seven months.

New Idea In Christmas Greeting

A number of new and novel ideas were introduced during the holiday season with Christmas greetings but the one received by Mrs. Mabel McFadden from Miss Betty Brown of Cleveland, was perhaps the only one of its kind received in Plymouth.

Using a large sheet of wrapping paper the words "Merry Christmas" were spelled out with Sales Stamps of various denominations. In the corners were small Christmas trees on the same idea with the exclamation point at the end made up of 3¢ and 5¢ stamps.

Betty's mother, the late Mrs. S. C. Brown was quite active in the missionary work and now that the society is collecting stamps as one of its projects, the stamps served a double duty—as a greeting and helped to support the missionary work. The stamps were available in the stamp collection.

featured spots in this roller skating extravaganza which is produced by Franchon and Marco and staged by Gae Foster as the first musical revue on rollers. Launching of the Roller Follies of 1942 as the first professional road show of its kind in the history of the show business, brings more than sixty of the nation's top figure roller skaters into one great musical revue lavishly costumed and spectacularly staged with seven big production numbers such as northern Ohio is accustomed to see only in the popular ice shows which also play at the Arena.

Dolly Durkin, who rose to national fame as an amateur figure skating champion, was first an ice skater in her spare moments away from her regular job as secretary in a New York insurance office. One night, when a hockey game was scheduled at her favorite ice rink, she stopped at a roller rink and soon discovered that an expert could do anything on rollers that could be done on ice skates.

This fact was fully demonstrated in Cleveland last spring when the National Championships at the roller skating stars of the nation to this city. Based on Cleveland's acceptance of this beautiful sport, the idea of a Roller Follies musical revue was born and Cleveland is to see the World Premier of the Roller Follies of 1942 at the Arena, January 18 through 23, with popular prices in effect and tickets available through Bond's, the Arena, and all roller rinks in this area.

COLD IN CLEVELAND

Monday, January 5th Cleveland had its coldest day in 71 years with two above zero. It was better (or worse) than that in Plymouth with varying reports of 2 to 4 below zero. But we can't complain, the sun was out, and while the wind certainly blew, there wasn't much snow to speak of. And think of all the bugs that will be killed or should be, that we would have been pestered with next summer—oats bugs excluded.

"A DUTY FOR ME TO RECOMMEND TON JON ASSERTS DANVILLE LADY

DECLARES IT BELIEVED KIDNEY WEAKNESS SO AMAZINGLY SHE FEELS BOUND TO TELL ALL OTHERS WHO SUFFERS AS SHE DID.

"When a medicine helps a person as much as TON JON helped me, they feel it a duty to tell others about it," says Mrs. Cloyce Hess of RR No. 2, Danville, Ohio, member of the Presbyterian church.

"For five years I've suffered with kidney trouble and bladder weakness getting no relief night or day. I was called out by bed four or five times every night and never got the rest and sleep I needed, so much. And as a result I felt worn out and tired from morning till night. Frequent headaches bothered me too.

"I had tried various medicines for this trouble but none did any good. I had read about TON JON and what it had done for others and thought it might help me. I know now that if I had taken TON JON long ago that I would have had less suffering, for it brought wonderful relief in just a few weeks. And now I am no longer troubled with headaches, getting up nights or loss of sleep. I certainly want to recommend TON JON to anyone suffering from kidney trouble, it will surely help them as it has helped me. I can't express in words my happiness with the results I received from TON JON."

Happy is the man or woman who enjoys good health. This is possible with TON JON, which is not just one medicine but many. 1-2-3. THE TON JON Health Representative is willing and ready at all times to tell you more. See him at the K-E-G Cut Rite Drug Store, Normal, Ohio. On Sale at Webster's Drug Store

FARM ACCOUNT

SCHOOLS JAN. 13
Nearly one hundred farmers of Huron County are keeping the standard Farm Account Record in cooperation with the Rural Economics Department of Ohio State University. The records will be summarized at a meeting Tuesday, January 13, in the Court House, Norwalk.

Farmers who are interested in keeping the standard farm account records are invited to attend the Beginners School Wednesday, January 14, at 1 o'clock at the Court House, Norwalk. These records afford an opportunity to obtain information on the labor income from the farm and point out some changes which may be necessary in order to increase farm incomes.

Mr. Guy W. Miller, Extension Economist in Farm Management at Ohio State University, will assist the County Agricultural Agent with these meetings.

Introducing Some of Your Favorite Radio Personalities

Some of the new stars of the radio are featured in this special section. The man pictured here is a favorite of newspaper and magazine writers. On and around the Broadway theatrical scene for thirty years, the showman has a fund of anecdotes that never runs low.

Beverly, pictured here, is heard with her "Boy Friends" Thursday nights over the NBC-Red network on the Frank Fay show. In addition to her singing, Beverly is also a composer, being the author of the current swing tune "B-I-B-I."

Herbert Marshall, who has his own comedy-variety show Mondays over the NBC-Blue Network, had no idea of becoming an actor upon graduation from college. He expected to become an accountant, but after two London accounting firms had fired him because he couldn't calculate he turned to the theatre.

Most active master of ceremonies in radio is Johnny the Call Boy, featured on the Tuesday night "Johnny Presents" program over NBC and the Friday "Playhouse" and Sunday night "Crime Doctor" programs, both heard over CBS. He is 43 inches tall and has a life-time contract with his sponsor.

Songstress Mary Martin, pictured here, became a member of Bing Crosby's Thursday night Music Hall Jan. 1 over the NBC-Red network for an engagement of seven weeks. Mary Martin is well known for her talent as a well who left the show to make personal appearances in the East.

Bess Johnson, pictured here, is perhaps the only actress in radio who stars in a show bearing her own name. It is "The Story of Bess Johnson," heard Tuesday mornings on NBC. Her sponsor considered her name as such a potent draw for advertisers that he decided to use it in the title of the series.

Sudden outbreak of the war changed Raymond Gram Sc�n's vacation plans. "This is no time for a journalist to take a holiday," he said in announcing indefinite postponement of his vacation. Sc�n's sponsored news analyses are aired Monday and Thursday nights over Mutual.

Perhaps the most colorful gown worn by any radio artist are those which Carmen Claxton, heard on Xavier Cugat's "Rumba" program over NBC, wears when she broadcasts. They are all South American imports.

Advertiser Adds New Subscribers Weekly

Seldom does a week pass that new subscribers aren't added to the ever-growing family of the Advertiser. During the holiday season, a number solved their gift problem by sending the home town paper. A number of boys now in the service are deriving great satisfaction from hearing weekly about the home folks. Isn't there someone you know who moved who would enjoy a subscription?

This week Harry L. Shupe, a native of Shiloh and still interested in the community writes back his impressions of the Shiloh Homecoming and adds his name to our new list. The letter gives a new slant on life in the city and we publish it for those of us who never left for the City. It relieves that "bored" feeling we so often get with small town life.

Jan. 5, 1942
Mr. Peyton W. Thomas,
Plymouth, Ohio.

My Dear Mr. Thomas:—
This is a mighty slow letter of thanks for your kindness in sending me the copies of the "Advertiser" covering the Shiloh homecoming. I read every word of it, and I pronounce it a fine job.

You used one expression that I used (and thought I had coined) when you referred to having roots in a small town. Lucky is the person who has! Imagine Cleveland trying to have a homecoming.

That is an event that only little towns can enjoy. And speaking of little towns, what have we here that Shiloh hasn't got? And Shiloh and all the little towns all over the country have plenty that we in our sophisticated so-called cultural centers lack,—neighborliness, sane living, community of interest.

Now I do not mean to say that city friendships are not fine and enduring, for they are, as are real friendships any place, but in a big town with its hurry and hustle it is hard and almost impossible to get the most out of them,—that is distances and diversity in work prevent the development of these friendships to a fuller degree.

In the words of Andy, "Ise reguaged" with folks who poke fun at small town people and life.

Isn't it strange how our youngsters all "high tail" for the city, and then when they get old and arthritic and wheezy long for the Old Home Town?

I imagine you have by this time come to the conclusion that I am a Small Town Man. Well I am, and proud of it, and willing and able to prove that Shiloh is the best town in the State but I will cheerfully concede you your right to say the same for Plymouth.

One of your Plymouth "boys" who has made good in our city is Bob Nixon. I suppose he is on your mailing list.

I am naturally curious to find out how you heard of the "welcome" I received at George Page's. I got a great kick out of it. George's store was the first place I headed for.

I am enclosing a Dollar for six month's subscription, which I know I will enjoy.

Again thanking you, and with best wishes for the new year, I remain sincerely,

Harry L. Shupe

Over two tons of paper were collected last Saturday by local Scouts. At the present time our troop is far ahead of any other Johnny Appleseed area troop for the same number of months.

KEEP 'EM PILING.

According to information given by Area Executive Floyd Dent, swimming tests for first class will be held January 15th for all Scouts in this area.

If you have an old heating stove in useable condition that you would like to dispose of the Scouts would appreciate your contacting Troop Committeeman, Luther Fettes. Our stove we have been using gave out at Monday nites meeting.

Scouters of the local troop attended the Scoutmasters Training Course held in Shelby last nite.

Members of Troop One would like to thank Mr. Fred Nogle for the coal he donated to the troop.

A large 5x7 American flag has been hung in our troop room.

Monday evening at the John W. Lanus home on Plymouth Street a group of men from Willard, Celeryville, Delphi and Plymouth interested in organizing a chorus met for their first practice.

It was decided that Monday evening is to be set aside for practice. Sacred and secular numbers were practiced. It is hoped that many more will take hold of this opportunity and meet next Monday at 8 p. m. for good fellowship and the joy of singing the old songs as well as the new and help put Plymouth on the map in musical circle. The practices are being held at the home of John W. Lanus, 39 Plymouth Street.

Reopen State Route After Span Repairs

Traffic on Route -61 south of Norwalk is now open, it was announced by the local state highway department. The bridge which was wrecked by a heavily loaded truck ten weeks ago, has been completely overhauled and strengthened. A long wait on materials, especially two 70-foot steel eye-beams, delayed the repair of the bridge considerable.

RELIGIOUS CENSUS TO START SOON

The religious census mentioned a couple of weeks ago in this paper, is scheduled to start soon. The Pastors of Plymouth are anxious to have information which will help the churches to serve the community better and are undertaking this task of securing a few facts about the church affiliation and interests of each resident of Plymouth. It will save their time if you will cooperate in the giving of information relative to your church relationships when they call. Each Pastor will take a section of town and when the work is completed they will get together and sort out the cards to the respective churches.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING

With all due respect for those who were awarded first and second prize for Christmas home decorations, a number of citizens of Plymouth were quite shocked that the John W. Lanus Funeral Home was not given First Prize, or at least Second Prize, instead of being put in a class of decorations that could not possibly compare with theirs.

What could be more fitting for the Christmas Season than a lighted Church window from which came forth beautiful and well-known Christmas Carols? That alone did much to bring the Christmas Spirit to a lot of folks. Surely the Church window effect would come under the heading of Originality and Artistic.

A pleasure drive on Christmas Eve through the City of Shelby did not disclose anything that would equal the decorations displayed at the Lanus Funeral Home.

The writer does not have any personal interest in the Lanus Funeral Home, any more so than the average person, nor the amount of the prize money, but somehow there are a lot of folks in Plymouth that are unable to see why the Lanus Funeral Home should not have been given First or Second Prize.

Male Chorus Begins Practice Monday Evening

Monday evening at the John W. Lanus home on Plymouth Street a group of men from Willard, Celeryville, Delphi and Plymouth interested in organizing a chorus met for their first practice.

It was decided that Monday evening is to be set aside for practice. Sacred and secular numbers were practiced. It is hoped that many more will take hold of this opportunity and meet next Monday at 8 p. m. for good fellowship and the joy of singing the old songs as well as the new and help put Plymouth on the map in musical circle. The practices are being held at the home of John W. Lanus, 39 Plymouth Street.

LET'S OPEN UP!

Today, tomorrow and for many months to come, your government and mine will need help. Not only manpower and planes, warships and tanks, but help which the boys at the front can't give—it's money we're going to need . . . and a lot of it.

Plymouth is peacefully located thousands of miles away from any danger of actual combat . . . it's hard for us to get a clear and emphatic picture of what war really is . . . we've got boys in the service . . . we read their brief letters they send home . . . but even then we can't visualize the gigantic magnitude of the struggle of the conflict in which the whole Allied Powers look to us for leadership.

The best and surest way to do your part is to buy Defense Stamps and Bonds. There are thousands of dollars laying idle which can be put to work . . . it's only fair that you back your government with your money, for after all the government backs your money. If your government fails your money is worthless . . . and, too, as an investment Defense Bonds are a SAFE investment. Stop in at the local post office today, or at The Peoples National Bank . . . you will receive all the information and advice necessary to convince you that United States Bonds are a gilt-edge security and that as a patriotic American Citizen you will be doing your duty when you buy them.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF AMERICAN INDUSTRY

— by John Craddock —

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 — CON- TRAST—Turn of the year spotlights the terrific contrast between the start and the finish of 1941; a contrast in the prevailing economic conditions no less than in the national state of mind. A year ago, a terrific industrial expansion was being carried over from the end of the previous year. Payrolls were rising, living costs were holding a fairly even keel, free spending was the rule. At that time the war program, then called "defense program" was adding greatly to the volume of general production. It hadn't yet started to curtail output of consumer goods. By 1941's end the springover, while by no means complete, had nevertheless turned the picture almost upside down—war production completely dominated the scene, while dozens of civilian wars had been knocked down (some of them "out") by priorities, allocations and, now, rationing.

Overall industrial indexes undoubtedly will continue to rise, but all resemblance to a bona fide "boom" will fade, if it hasn't already, in realization of the fact that production of war material, no matter how vast, does not represent a real, usable gain in economic goods. One salient statistic highlights this: The authoritative trade magazine, Iron Age, states that no less than 70 per cent of all the country's December steel production was destined for war uses; and says the trade believes that within another 60 days that proportion will rise to 80 per cent. It would be almost impossible for such a high ratio to continue indefinitely—but the fact that it's even expected to reach that figure is significant.

CONVERSION COMPLETED—One of the greatest industrial readjustments in history is now taking place in the automobile industry. It's a change-over believed to be second only to the Russians' wholesale transfer of machinery from Moscow deeper into the interior. American assembly lines which last year produced an all-time record of more than 5,000,000 motor vehicles are now being completely turned over to the war effort. Detroit and other motor industrial centers are feverishly moving ahead with the massive job of complete conversion—a job which involves the relocation of thousands of men and tools. One auto concern, Willys-Overland Motors of Toledo, last week announced that it has virtually completed its change-over from partial peacetime operation to complete wartime production. Volume output of "jeeps" has reached a peak level and production of artillery shells and gun parts is going ahead full swing. The stage was set for complete conversion several months ago, according to Joseph W. Pratt, president of the company, who explained that every inch of its 2,500,000 square feet of factory space will soon be occupied with war production.

CANS AND CLOTHES—Drastic hold-down on use of tin containers for many products is due. Tin, like manganese and rubber, is highly strategic material, which we're largely dependent on open sea lanes, safe sources in the far Pacific. Already OPM has "frozen" tin supplies. Essential food items probably won't be affected much by the movement, but things like beer, candy, tennis balls, cigarets, coffee, cocoa, dog food and fancy fruits will have to use non-metallic containers. Aluminum cans will reduce by 50 to 60 per cent the supplies that'll be available to manufacturers for production of civilian woolen goods. Textile experts say this won't necessarily cut down, right away, on the number of woolen garments to be produced, for the makers have large stocks of raw, waste wool and solid wool that can be cleaned and reworked, in combination with smaller percentage of new wool. Those smaller percentages of new wool, and more use of "reclaim" wool may bring some lowering in quality of garments, though. . . . Beginnings of a return to home craftsmanship are seen as the result of rises in clothing costs and silk hosiery scarcities. Shop windows are again featuring home-hosiery-mending machines; and pattern companies report rising sales as more housewives take up home sewing.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—A new kind of school "blackboard," perched on the front of the teacher's desk, which operates by an image-projection system to reproduce, on an illuminated screen, the message that the teacher writes on a cellophane sheet in the desk top (no need for "eyes in the back of the head" as is the case when teacher writes on the traditional blackboard). . . . A special perfume for use in blackouts, appropriately named "Lady in the Dark." . . . A campaign promoting the use of safety glass such as used in automobiles, for homes because of its shatter-resistance. . . . Several topical motion pictures upcoming: "Canal Zone," a tale of espionage with a Panama Canal background; a baseball epic dedicated to Brooklyn's National league champion, entitled "Dixie's Burning"; a historical movie depicting the history of the Boy Scouts of America; "Bambi" and then "Peter Pan" are next on the Disney schedule of animated epics.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Westinghouse has reduced its 1942 line of refrigerators from 15 models to six. . . . The Olds Motor Works at Lansing, Mich. is putting two men on "each man's job" in all war production, in order to train a second crew. . . . additional war orders will take up most of the "priorities" slack in the farm equipment industry.

than automobiles or trucks for the operation of which rubber tires, casings or tubes are essential.

Quota for Huron County At the meeting Monday morning in Norwalk of all committees, it was revealed that under the federal allocation plan of new tires, Huron county would receive a quota of tires and tubes as follows for the month of January: Passenger car tires, 33; tubes, 28; truck tires, 94; truck tire tubes, 79.

The tire purchasing centers for townships in Huron county are listed below. The figures opposite the townships denote motor vehicle registrations, while the second line indicates the place of purchase and the number of tires allotted.

No Restrictions on Used Or Recapped Tires

It was London, Ohio, by Chairman Vandervort that the restrictions listed on the sale of new tires do not apply to used or recapped tires. While the re-treading or recapping of old tires requires no rubber, it is thought that motorists will have the privilege of getting additional miles out of their old tires by having them retreaded.

It is urged that those having cars and who continue to use them practice economical methods in driving so that more mileage may be obtained from the present quota. Quick starting and stopping and high speed driving are the main elements in shortening the life of a tire. Manufacturers claim that a tire traveling at a speed of 40 miles an hour will last almost twice as long as a tire driven at sixty miles an hour. Unnecessary use of brakes and quick starting also cause a considerable amount of undue wear.

Just how the tire shortage will effect Plymouth in the months to come is not predicted. However, a number of men employed at the Fate-Roth-Heath Co., reside in nearby towns and they will have to meet a transportation problem sooner or later. There are several who make their homes in Mansfield, New London and Greenwich, and it is thought that by securing a bus, the men living in New London and Greenwich can commute as a group, and a similar plan can be worked out for the Mansfield area.

There is every reason to believe that the tire situation will remain acute for some months to come. With thousands of army trucks, tanks, planes and other defense equipment coming from production lines, every ounce of crude rubber will have to be used in the manufacture of tires for this equipment. Inasmuch as 80 per cent of the crude rubber produced in the Far East is imported into this country, the situation in that section will have to change materially before the country is assured of a supply of rubber tires.
