

Commencement—the beginning of a new and broader view of life and the climaxing of twelve years of public school education, will be held in Plymouth High School, 1000 Washington street, on Wednesday evening, May 29, at 8:00 o'clock.

This is the first time that commencement exercises were ever held in the new school building, but the guest speaker, Hon. Dusty Miller of Wilmington, O., had only one open date and the Board of Education had to make the turn out regardless of the night.

It has been a mighty wet season and despite the fact that Mr. Miller is a native of this city, his address will be anything but dry. In fact, Dusty Miller has spoken before more than 5000 audiences in his career and he is returning and invariably he is invited for return engagements. Out of a total of 222 speeches in 1944, all but 43 were return engagements.

Your "C" Card is Dusty's subject and if all reports are true, there will be many a surprise store on this subject.

There will be a program, and there will be a vocal solo by Robert Ross piano solo, Arline Ford, representation of the class by Superintendent E. J. Johnson, and by Thomas by Roy J. Johnson, president of the Board of Education.

The following members make up the faculty which has been smaller than the past several years: Charles D. Amick, Herbert S. Beeching, Mary Ann BeVier, William C. Bickel, William J. Bette Briggs, Dorothy Dowden, Betty Eichelberger, Margaret Colman Edison, William C. Farnham, Mrs. E. J. Farnham, Carolyn Farnham, Adriana Jane Francis, William Reed, Robert R. Ross, Ann Mae Steele and Margaret Turner.

SHILOH SCHOOL NEWS

CLASS POEM OF 1943

Our high school days are ending
And each one will go a different way;
But our minds will always wander,
Back to those good old days.
Once we were just green freshmen,
Trying to brave the rough sea;
We did not know what was coming next,
Or what our next job would be.
Then we held the rank of Sophomores,
Trying to pass all tests;
We were almost through the first two years,
And we hoped to pass the rest.
Next we advanced to Juniors,
Our fun had just begun;
But we settled down to hard work,
For our race was nearly won.
We finally came to our Senior year,
As Seniors we had much fun
together:
But everything soon comes to an end,
Even the best things can't last forever.
Although our crew was rather small,
It turned out to be a successful
one;
We tried to get our lessons right,
But we never missed our share of fun.
Our chain is made of 14 links,
Which can never be untied;
And when we start on life's long walk,
The Golden Rule shall be our guide.
When we receive our diplomas,
And go through the high school
door;
Our lives will be in the hands of God,
And what ever Fate has in store.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '43

As we draw to the close of our high school days, it is fitting that we look back on those eventful years. We feel that they have been history making as well as joyful.

On a fine September morning in 1939, two green freshmen boarded an airship-eager to be off into high school, determined to make the most of it.

We chose the following crew:
Paul Clark, pilot or president;
Eleanor Garrett, co-pilot or vice-president; Junior James, navigator or secretary-treasurer; Mary Brook, radioman or historian; Mr.
Richards, commander or advisor.

The list of passengers included
the following: Helen Guthrie, Janice Moser, Miriam McBride,
Mary Brook, Dorothy Delbert,
Flossie Jewell, Velma Lybarger,
Blanche Smith, Dorothy Dinninger,
Joyce Witches, Dolores Zeigler,
Ralph Willett, Bob Allen, Junior
Brown, Paul Clark, Junior James,
Bob Pennell, Dean Arnold, Paul
Phillips, John Reivelt and Dorothy Weber.

During the year we took on several new passengers as well as losing some. New members were Robert Pierceson, Spencer Heath, Helen Carrick, and Mary Ruth Price. The members lost were Robert Pierceson, Paul Phillips, John Reivelt, Velma Lybarger and Spencer Heath.

We enjoyed a few parties while studying vigorously. All in all it was smooth flying. But the end soon came and we bid farewell until we would convene again in three months.

The next September we convened eager to continue on our voyage. With a change in the crew we were ready to go. The crew was as follows: Junior James, Pilot; Janice Moser, Co-pilot; Helen Guthrie, navigator; Eleanor Garrett, radioman; Mr.
Spirk, commander.

We had a pretty fair flying weather, stopping to leave off
Helen Carrick, Flossie Jewell, Bob Allen, Miriam McBride and Dorothy Weber and taking on one new passenger, Bill Kepple.

We flew through the year without much trouble and disbanded for a 3-month furlough.

On September 2, 1941, we convened as veteran fliers but knowing the hardest part of our journey was yet to come. We chose the following as crew: Janice Moser, pilot; Paul Clark, co-pilot;
Helen Guthrie, navigator; Mary Brook, radioman; and Mr. Spirk, commander.

We found that we had lost 3
of our passengers, Bob Pennell, Ralph Willett, and Mary Ruth

Price.

Since it is the job of the juniors to give the Seniors a banquet we stopped off a couple of montas to put on a class play. The play was a three-act comedy "Hen-pecked Hero" directed by Mr.
Spirk. It was a success and was enjoyed by all.

We took another stop to conduct a stationery sale. The profit from this added to our bank account. Other activities included a class dance, class parties and during the year we sold candy at the noon hour.

At last came the great night of the junior-senior banquet which was held on May 8th in the high school auditorium. The auditorium was decorated as a Hawaiian garden. After this soon came the end of the year and we bid farewell with a little sadness knowing that the next year we would be seniors and the last year of our journey together.

It is September in the year 1942 and we find 14 dignified seniors assembled to take off on the last part of their voyage. They are:
Dean Arnold, Mary Brook, Paul
Clark, Dorothy Delbert, Dorothy Dinninger, Eleanor Garrett, Helen Guthrie, Blaine Haverfield, Junior
James, Janice Moser, Blanche
Smith, Jane Stiving, Joyce Witchelie, Dolores Zeigler.

We found that two of our members, Junior Brown and Bill Kepple had decided not to finish the voyage with us.

Since we were brought through last year without mishap we elected the same crew:

Janice Moser—Pilot.
Paul Clark—Co-pilot.
Helen Guthrie—Navigator.
Mary Brook—Radioman.
Mr. Spirk—Commander.

We had a disappointment soon after we started. Mr. Spirk had to leave us in November to join Uncle Sam's air force. We were commanded during the remainder of the year by Mr. Joseph.

We again tried our hand at sailing stationery and then later sold magazines. We presented the school with ten basketball suits.
We took time out now and then to have a party which we enjoyed to the utmost.

In April we took time out to give the class play, a comedy-drama, "The Little Cloadhopper," directed by Mr. Joseph and some aid from Miss West.

On May 8th we were entertained royally by the Junior in the annual Junior-Senior banquet.

On May 12th we enjoyed a dinner and theatre party at the Mansfield-Leland hotel and the Ohio theatre.

We now come to the end of our journey through high school and are about to leave the halls of old Shiloh Hill to go out into the world.
Although we will go in our own way we will be bound together as we recall the memories of these four years together.

beloved and heroic dead; we must also do generous honor to all the men and women who are serving our nation in military service at this critical time." It is requested that "the entire community share in a more than ordinary significant Memorial Day Program."

The cemeteries of the community will be decorated on Sunday morning, starting at 10 o'clock. The memorial service, however, will not be held until 8:00 P. M. in the high school auditorium.

CHILDREN WILL CALL AT YOUR HOMES

The group is composed of Char. Wolfersberger, David Witche, Robert Porter, Jean Moser, Beverly Young, Betty Ann Kaylor and Carol Ann Witche.

BREAKING GLASS IN BUILDINGS

It's almost a tragedy in the lives of young boys when they defy the law and officials, and proceed to destroy property of neighbors. Accidents, when playthings are excusable, but the law must deal with deliberate destructiveness.

Sometimes an appeal to the chivalry in youth, by placing them on their honor, and the sensible attitude of parents is all that is necessary to correct the evil. The latter method was used the past week in a case of this kind.

Charles Seaman had replaced sixteen new panes of glass in the carpenter shop on his lot on Friday forenoon. During the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Seaman went to their farm, and when they returned, seven of the new panes of glass were broken out, and on Saturday forenoon three more—but this time they were caught in the act.

The seriousness of the act was carefully explained to them and it is hoped this advice will be all that is required, and the little boys will have a desire to help protect their neighbor's property.

LIGHTNING STRIKES DURING STORM

During the storm on Thursday night, lightning struck the carpenter shop on the Charles Seaman property, doing considerable damage to the building, and followed the wires to the house, destroying the fuse box, spoiled the radio and other damage. All electrical appliances in the home required adjustments.

MARKET NEXT SATURDAY

Don't forget the market on Saturday, May 29, at the township room. Every kind of baked goods and food for your Decoration Day dinner. Sponsored by the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church.

ACCEPTS POSITION

Miss Helen Dick has accepted an office position in the Sanit-All Products, Inc., at Greenwich, and commenced work on Monday of this week. She was one of the graduates this year of the Greenwich school.

FASHION for today

BY PATRICIA DOW

Thursday evening, May 20, the Juniors of the Plymouth high school entertained the Seniors and faculty at the high school auditorium. The room was beautifully decorated by a light blue canopy bedecked with silver stars and fleecy clouds. Streamers of blue and white, colors of the senior class, hung in semi-circle fashion from the edge of the canopy to the walls of the auditorium. The exquisite decorations, the soft mellow lights, and the friendly atmosphere gave one that feeling of relaxation and serenity that can only be experienced on such festive occasions.

A tempting three-course dinner was served by the ladies of the Plymouth Methodist church, consisting of baked chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, and a host of other delicious foods, which only ladies of such organizations can prepare.

At the conclusion of the dinner James Rhine, as the toastmaster, conducted the following program:

Welcome to the Seniors—Junior Marvin.

Response—Herbert Beeching.

Accordian Solo—Clarence Mills.

Faculty Appreciation—Mrs. Anderson.

Class Will and Prophecy—Jas. Rhine.

French lilacs were discussed and wonderful specimens were displayed from Mrs. Scott's garden. Bouquets of other flowers were enjoyed, too.

HONOR ROLL OF LOCAL BOYS ERECTED

Members of the American Legion placed the Honor Roll to the boys in service last Monday morning on the side of the Peoples National Bank building.

The board, 4 feet high and 8 feet long, has sufficient space for approximately 250 names. Those who reside in Plymouth and who lived on Plymouth Rural Route 1 at the time of enlisting, are eligible to be on the roll. At present there are 127 names on the list, and about 30 more to be added before Decoration Day.

The lettering is one and one-half inches high, printed in blue ink on a white cardboard, surrounded by a red border. The letters are neat and readable, and being enclosed under glass from the elements, they will last for a long time.

The honor roll was sponsored by the American Legion, and if there are any citizens who wish to contribute to the honor roll fund, they may do so by contacting Frank Weck or J. E. Nimmons.

A complete list and picture of the board will be printed at a later date.

WRITE THE BOYS A LETTER ADDRESS YOUR SOW EVERY SATURDAY PLYMOUTH THEATRE 11:30 P. M.

Letter Received From Stan Shaver In Africa

It was mighty good news Wednesday morning when we received a letter from Stan Shaver, who is serving with the U. S. Forces in Africa. The letter, a V-Mail, was dated May 13, containing no reference to young Shaver being wounded as reported in the last issue of the Advertiser. However, you will observe in the opening paragraph of Stan's letter, he states: "Up to now I could never find that much time over here..." which may imply that he is laid up for a little while.

Stanley also writes that he has tried vainly to contact Ben Smith and states that he saw Richard Major, but didn't have the opportunity of talking to him. The letter, in full, follows:

Somewhere in Africa Dear Tommy:

After reading the Advertiser I receive each week my intentions have been to write you a few lines. Up till now I could never find that much time. Over here, if you aren't fighting the "Kraut Eaters" you're trying to sleep, and if you aren't sleeping, you're doing your best to dispose of some good "hash" — fresh from the bright and shining tin can. Right now I'll trade all the hash in Africa for a good old hamburger with a large slice of onion, ketchup, relish and mustard both, with a can of beer to wash it down. It's a great country over here (to be out of). I have done my best to find my pal, Ben Smith, but as yet I have had no luck. Saw Dick Major, but he didn't see me at that time, so I didn't get to talk to him.

I could tell you several interesting tales (Bob Ripley's type) but I'll wait and tell you call me a liar to my face. Laying all jokes aside, some things that you see over here are unbelievable. Well, Tommy, tell everybody I said "hello" and that if they keep up the good work there at home, we'll do the same over here. Results — an early victory for the Allies.

Yours sincerely,
Stan Shaver.

Knoop Transferred To F. S. A. At Norwalk

Russell H. Knoop of Milan, O., was transferred last week from the Regional Office of the Farm Security Administration at Indianapolis, Indiana, to the Huron-Erie counties FSA office at Norwalk in the post office building.

This transfer places him in an acting capacity until his official appointment clears. He is filling the position vacated by the resignation of William B. Murray of Wellington. There are 170 farm borrowers in these two counties.

The two counties served by the Norwalk office are familiar territory to Mr. Knoop. He developed a rather wide acquaintance with the agriculture as well as many of the families and farm leaders, and the various farm agencies in this section a few years ago while field representative for a dairy farmers cooperative sales association serving the Cleveland milk production area.

Local Gunner Graduate Receives Silver Wings

HARLINGEN ARMY AIR FIELD, Texas, May 27—In this week's large graduating class of Aerial Gunners at the Harlingen Army Air Field the Minute Men of the Army Forces "round-the-clock" offensive is Eldon W. Grafmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grafmiller.

He is one of the men who will handle the deadly machine guns aboard the Army's big bombers. And already the Aerial Gunners can be credited for such headlines as these: "Fortresses Bag 121 Nazis", "Allies Clear African Skies of Axis Planes", and "U. S. Airmen Shoot Down More Jap Zeros in Pacific".

At brief exercises here he received a diploma and silver gunner's wings. Completion of the course and another technical course automatically entitles him to sergeant's chevrons. Unless retained as an instructor then, he will be sent immediately to a combat team.

While at Harlingen, he spent three weeks on such phases of instruction as remedying the malfunction of guns, aircraft identification, the trick of "leading" targets and manipulation of power turrets. Two more weeks were spent on the ground range where he fired caliber .30 and .50 guns at stationary and moving targets. The final week was devoted to air-to-air firing from training planes and medium bombers.

PROMOTED

Glenn L. Frakes has been promoted to first class petty officer. He is stationed at the Municipal Airport at Miami, Fla.

PUBLIC FORUM

Mrs. Anna L. Onstott of Mansfield, Ohio, who is compiling a history of "Johnny Appleseed" recently made inquiry of E. K. Trauger, Plymouth attorney, for data that he may have on hand. Mr. Trauger painstakingly looked up his information and was so much as it is of interest to local people, we are printing his reply as follows:

Dear Madam: I have your letter of recent date relative to "Johnny Appleseed." I know very little about him other than what has already been written in the History of Richland County and the History of Huron and Erie Counties.

However, I will give you such information as may be of use to you in your work giving a history of the peculiar man and his hobby.

He was a real benefactor to the pioneers of this part of Ohio.

As nearly as I can give a date it was about the year 1820 that he came to this vicinity, with his sack of apples gathered at a cider press in Pennsylvania. He selected a spot about two and one-half miles from this town, on a farm known as the Ellis farm from a long time, near the "muck" also called "the prairie." Here he planted a small nursery. At this time there was a family named Ruckman, natives of Virginia—father a part of West Virginia—who owned a farm about two miles from Johnny's nursery.

They secured enough trees to plant about three or four acres, considered a big orchard at that time.

In the course of time or about the year of 1850 or 1851 this farm was purchased by my grandfather, the orchard just coming into full bearing. The trees were vigorous as the soil was "new." The trees were all seedlings, of course, but some of them were producers of very nice fruit.

Ciders were of no value except for cider and cider was worth having, too. In the year 1860 my father became the owner of this farm, which farm is now mine by inheritance. My father was quite a "fruit man."

Some of the trees had already been grafted by others, but there were still plenty of ungrafted trees. Father undertook and succeeded in grafting many of the ungrafted trees. Of course, time removes most trees, but as this orchard passed tree by tree, there is one tree still standing. It has just passed but not yet cut (a photo now would be of no value as I see it). As to this particular tree my father told me that it was the most worthless tree in the orchard when he took possession of the farm—fruit is not much better than a wild crab, but of pretty fair size. He secured grafting wood of Ladies Sweet from a friend in eastern Pennsylvania, grafted the tree, and when the grafts came into bearing it was the most valuable tree in the orchard.

Mr. D. W. Ellis thinks he can locate the place of Johnny's nursery (he is the only person who is likely to know). One of the trees of Johnny's nursery was peculiar in that it bore apples that were red from skin to seed. There is still in existence one or more trees of this variety (most likely a graft of the original tree).

Mr. Ellis says that the cider was excellent from the fruit, since the color of the cider made the consumer think it was wine. By the way, red flesh apple trees may be obtained from the New York

State Experiment Station plantations. I remain, Yours truly, E. K. Trauger.

Significance of Tunisia

The significance of the Allied victory in Tunisia grows with analysis. It will without question have a very important bearing upon the uncertain Spanish situation. Just what this attitude was, no one on our side of the fence at least—seems to have had any positive knowledge. But its uncertainty, apparently made desirable the presence of a great many Allied troops along the Spanish-Moroccan frontier while we were fighting next door in Tunisia. The Spanish government supposedly—regardless of any Axis favoritism—intended to remain neutral. But nothing is certain in times like these, and if Spain had gone over actively to the Axis side it would have been a severe blow to our cause. Our victory in North Africa should have a deterring effect upon those in Spain who may have been anxious to take up arms in the Axis cause. It is too bad it could not have the same effect upon a number of our articulate citizens who have been screaming for a declaration of war against both Vichy France and Spain. In North Africa we feel we haven't enough opposition yet.

France, the Yugoslav fighters, India, China, Italy, Burma and Japan: all are vitally affected. Prior to the Allied conquest of North Africa no one of the Mediterranean states knew whom they would eventually face on the scene. If it had been the Axis their lot would have appeared almost hopeless—practically surrounded as they would have been. Our help would have seemed very remote and very uncertain. No one could have blamed those who weakened. It is difficult to imagine the significance of this victory to them.

Italy now faces possible invasion and possible loss, for all time, of her North African possessions. Most Italians hate Germany. They

NO BELLVILLE STREET
FAIR PLANNED THIS YEAR
Directors of the Bellville Independent Agricultural Society voted not to hold a street fair and homecoming this year, due to the war. The directors felt that farmers and exhibitors generally would be too busy in war production to devote any time towards a fair.

In past years a great many from Plymouth would motor to Bellville for the fair and homecoming, but gas rationing would put an end to that.

Shoes Go Military
Women's shoe stylists are going military. Most of the 40,000 shoes on exhibit at the annual convention of the Middle Atlantic shoe retailers in Philadelphia showed a distinct military influence, and stylists say the trend will be around for a while. E. C. Johnson, representative of Be-lot (Wis.) manufacturer, declared that the predominance of tan colors with brass buckles and straps would be in effect for the next three years.

N. B. RULE DIES

Gilead; Mrs. Lou Meredith, New-ark; Mrs. Jennie Stahler, Zanesville; Mrs. Anna Hathaway of Fredericktown, and Mrs. Minnie Sowers of Johnsville. His only son, Bert, preceded him in death two years ago.

Stores To Close
During the funeral services Friday afternoon between the hours of 2:30 and 3:30, the store in Plymouth will be closed in honor of the late N. B. Rule.

A Token of Respect
There is little that can be said that would exemplify the memory of Newt Rule for those of us who knew him as a citizen and a business associate found him to possess every characteristic that is desired of one for friendship. However, it is possible that I can take you behind the counter and reveal to you some of the traits Newt possessed that you do not know about.

After eighteen years of continuous association, both as a friend and business neighbor, I found Newt Rule had an outlook on life that very few of us can boast of. I've known him when he was ill and suffering from pain; I've talked with him when the weather was "again" his trade—I went through the hey-days of '28 and '29 with Newt, and I crawled through the tough spots of the Dark Thirties with him—and in every instance, he was always able to smile and bear through any loss or gain.

I think because Newt Rule was the son of a doctor, and a country doctor at that, he had the opportunity and pleasure of gaining something in life that few of us even know about. He had an uncanny way of thinking under the most adverse conditions, that everything would come out all right. It's a little hard to say just what Newt Rule kept in his mind and spirit that made him always amiable and congenial.

Being brought up in a family of thirteen children, and the son of a country doctor, weren't the most pleasing environments for a youth to develop in—there were trips with dad... horses to be looked after... and many other chores. But Newt made the grade. He has often related his first business venture, and the many experiences he encountered.

Mr. Rule saw hardships in his life—as you and I, and yet he was blessed with himself ability to look after himself and his family—as a father, and husband, and citizen, he will be missed for many years to come. I didn't enter in what condition his physical body might be... Newt always greeted everyone with a smile, and nine times out of ten, by their first name.

So, with the store lights turned out, we sever a connection of friendship that saddens our heart to the quick, and as we recall the many verbal expressions Tuesday afternoon made by countless Plymouth citizens, it has proved to me definitely that Newton B. Rule was well thought of and highly admired by the citizenry as a citizen.

No word of the poet or psalmist can ease the throbs of the hearts of the bereaved ones, but there is great comfort in believing that Newt Rule will be richly rewarded for his many kind acts on this earth, and in due season Time will heal the wound... these are the words and thoughts of mine for the best friend I ever had—P. W. T.

MORE DATA ON SUGAR

On May 21, the Office of Price Administration announced that Stamps numbered 15 and 16 in War Ration Book No. 1, would each be good for five pounds of sugar for canning and making jams and jellies, from May 21 until June 1, 1943.

Recently the Huron County Board endeavored to meet local needs by preparing an application blank for distribution through all sugar merchants and advising people to send in this application together with War Book One to get canning sugar.

The announcement that Stamps are now available for this purpose creates the emergency need and because of other stamps are good on June 1, the Board is returning all books and applications this week, without issuing any canning sugar.

Those families that have need for more than ten pounds of sugar per person for canning, will be required to complete a new application form at a later date. This form will be distributed through the sugar merchants and will ask for information as to number of quarts canned since March 1st, amount of sugar purchased with stamps 15 and 16, amount used in jams and jellies and number of quarts still to be canned.

It is expected that the 10 pounds per person will be enough for
