We Anxiously Wait for the Fog to Lift

Observe Scout Week Feb. 8-15

Local Scouts and Scouters will join with other Scouts throughout the world in celebrating the 35th Anniversary of Scouting. This year, more than ever before, will the theme, "Scouts of the World-Brothers Together" have a real meaning. Many local Scouts and Scouters have had the pleasure of meeting and talking with Scouts of other lands and have sent home to Troop One, the promise from these liberated boys that Scouting will live once again in their native lands.

This year will make the 25th year of Scouting in the Johnny Appleseed Area of which Troop One is a part. Efforts are being made to raise enlistment to a goal of 2500 Scouts by Dec. 31. Plymouth will do its share in that project.

Local Scouts will celebrate Scout Week in a very somber manner this year. The opening night of Scout Week, Thursday, Feb. 8th, will find Troop One and Patrol Squadrons meeting at the Methodist church at 7:00 p. m. for a full evening of fun and Scouting. Events of the evening will be the Tenderfoot Investiture ceremony, at which time Charles Hannum will be sworn in. Patrol Squadrons will show a motion picture show on Aero-nautics and War Activities of the Scout organization.

Both Troop One and Patrol Squadrons will also be sworn in and the charter formally presented by the Methodist Laymen, the sponsors of both groups.

Formal recognition will be given to the Victory Patrol, a group of 46 former Scouts. Of this number, Ray Ford was killed in action on Leyte, and Willard Rose, Jr. has been listed as missing in action.

Scout Sunday, Feb. 11, will be observed at the Presbyterian church during the morning service.

Tuesday, Feb. 13, local Scouts will be guests of Ed Ramsey at the Plymouth theatre for the second show.

ANNOUNCE WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

The World Day of Prayer on Friday, Feb. 16, will be observed by the churches of Plymouth with appropriate services in the Presbyterian church that evening.

Dick Fackler has accepted a position at the Cities Service station on Plymouth street.

DIES IN SHELBY

Newton G. Carson, 76, died on Tuesday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Perman in Shelby, following several weeks illness. He was stricken the Friday before Christmas and has since been failing; death resulted Tuesday evening.

Born in Pennsylvania, he came to Ohio when a young child, and has resided in this community for years. A former resident of Plymouth, he left here fourteen years ago to make his home in Shelby.

Survivors include his wife, two daughters, Mrs. George Perman of Shelby; Mrs. Agnes Harbaugh, Akron; four grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Bagnall and Mrs. Minnie Benner of Baltimore, Md.

Happy Birthday, Dan!

February 2nd will be a sunny day for Dan Clark of West Broadway, whether the groundhog comes out to see the sun or not. It's his birthday and he's 80-some years young and can still shovel snow along with the best of them. In fact the neighbors are worried for fear he will be climbing out on the roof to chop the icicles from the eaves!

Daniel was born southwest of Plymouth, and has lived in this vicinity the greater part of his life. At one time he owned the furniture store, and still knows more about wood and furniture construction than we can ever hope to. The store he operated was in the buildings now known as the Clark block, where the library and the Black & Gold and other businesses are located. After selling his business he traveled for a number of years for a furniture company before retiring.

He and his wife, the late Mary Ellis Clark, planned and built the home on Broadway where Clark and his daughter, Mrs. Ruby Young, now reside.

He is a life member of the Masons in Plymouth.

Daniel thoroughly enjoys a good horse race—and if there's one thing he doesn't like, it's snow!

Clark is an ardent reader with a keen mind. He reads his Plain Dealer religiously, as well as many magazines, and is well informed on the news of the day.

Now, if you want to know about the weather quite a few years back—just ask Dan—he keeps a daily record. This is just a thumb-nail sketch of an interesting man, and a way of saying HAPPY BIRTHDAY, Dan!

Tells of Death of Lieut. Rhine

Any hope that Mrs. Edna Roberts Rhine held that the announcement of the death of her husband, First Lieutenant Charles W. Rhine, on Dec. 6, 1944, might be in error, was shattered this week with word received from his chaplain, William D. Lyons of the 134th Infantry Regiment.

Chaplain Lyons writes: As you have already received the War Department's telegram stating that your husband, First Lieutenant Charles W. Rhine, was killed in action Dec. 6th, I am sending you further information at this time. "I hope it will be of comfort to you to know that your husband was killed in Lorraine, France by enemy machine gun fire. He was leading his platoon into a partially enemy-held city, and was struck by an enemy bullet after he and his men had penetrated the outskirts of the city. He was given a Christian burial by a Protestant chaplain in a military cemetery in Lorraine, France. "There is little that words can do to lessen your grief, but I should like to extend my deepest compassion to you and hope that time will dull the pain. Your husband was a source of inspiration, courage, and honor to all who knew him, and his memory will be carried on forever as a fitting tribute to his great sacrifice."

Awarded Purple Heart and Bronze Star Posthumously In another communication Mrs. Rhine was informed that the Purple Heart has been awarded posthumously to her husband which will receive shortly, and also the Bronze Star Medal for heroic action. The citation accompanying the medal describes the heroic service which First Lieutenant Rhine performed to deserve its award.

The deepest sympathy is extended Mrs. Rhine. Lt. Rhine's parents and family, for in a very real sense, the loss suffered by any of us in this battle for our country, is a loss shared by all of us.

CALLED TO TOLEDO

Harold J. Lippus was called Tuesday morning to Toledo on account of the serious illness of his father, M. N. Lippus, who makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. Mowry.

FILES FOR DIVORCE

Lt. Paul Root, stationed in New York City has filed suit in Mansfield court for divorce from Betty Root on charge of gross neglect of duty. Attorney James V. Will represents the plaintiff.

Ask Cut In Use Of Electricity

Plymouth will join tonight with the rest of the state and a major portion of the nation in the "dim-out" of all public lighting, in an effort to conserve thousands of tons of much-needed coal. The coal situation, which has become acute, is still considered serious, especially in many northern states. With an ever-increasing demand for coal, stock-piles have become almost exhausted, and while 1945 requirements are estimated at 620 million tons, only 520 million tons can be produced.

It is with this situation confronting the war effort that the War Production Board has issued an order prohibiting outdoor advertising lighting, display and decorative illumination, window and marquee lighting, and a curtailment in street and home uses of electricity.

The local Board of Public Affairs requests that all patrons take notice of the situation, and cooperate in saving electricity. The WPB order specifically points out certain types of outdoor lighting, and this will affect local filling stations and the theatre marquees. Display window lighting will also be curtailed. The Board has under advisement a new schedule of lighting for the white way around the Square and the street lights throughout the village.

The Board also points out that a material saving can be had by burning fewer lights in the home, and as a patriotic citizen your cooperation is expected.

GOES TO ARIZONA

Arthur Myers left Sunday afternoon for Tucson, Arizona, where he will visit his wife for several weeks. During his absence, the harness shop will be under the supervision of K. I. Wilson. Mrs. Myers is in the western state for her health.

The March of Dimes Campaign Continues

The campaign against Polio-Infantile Paralysis—is not a matter of two weeks out of every January, but every day in the year. No one can tell when polio will strike in 1945. It may be in your neighborhood. Prepare to keep America Strong—Join the March of Dimes.

The attractive little containers have been placed throughout Plymouth in business houses, banks and post office, and will remain until Saturday, Feb. 10, before they are collected at Mrs. Mabel McCadden, chairman.

A little late in arriving, some organizations collected their dimes at their January meetings. The funds were turned over to Mrs. McCadden. Before the campaign arrived, they knew the need for funds and didn't wait until the campaign became organized, so if all of you who have not contributed to this fund, please come, we will just drop your dimes into the containers it will be of great help.

Half of the funds are forwarded to the national foundation and the other half remains in the county. Just last week a case of infantile paralysis was reported in Norwalk when Miss Betty Lou Garner, 17, a sophomore in the high school, was stricken. All care—both medical and hospitalization, has been taken care of by the county funds in these cases, so a knowledge of the great benefits from this fund in cases so near to home should inspire generosity on the part of all.

Community Club To Meet Tuesday Night

The next meeting of the Plymouth Community Club, which was organized the first part of this year, will definitely be held next Tuesday night.

Due to the coal situation and other war time problems, definitely the first supper and meeting had not been completed at press time.

Cards announcing the time and place of the supper and meeting will be mailed to you in care you do not receive one, and are interested in attending either the supper or meeting, please see James Root, P. W. Thomas, Ed Ramsey or Harlan Smith. They are possible for information and reservations. The Committee.

FIVE WAR JOBS

THERE are five ways in which citizens in general can help most in the war program right now, according to the office of war information. They are:

1. Don't burn any unnecessary lights in areas where power depends on burning coal.
2. Keep home temperatures at a maximum of 68—if you heat your home with oil or coal.
3. Turn in more kitchen fats.
4. See if you can fill one of the many essential jobs in a shipyard where manpower is needed most.
5. Don't do any pleasure traveling.

Except for the shipyard job, those are all things which are very easy for anyone to do. And those who do have training that would be valuable in a shipyard would be foolish not to look into that possibility both from a patriotic and a remunerative standpoint.

HOME-FRONT CASUALTIES

TWO tragic statistical reports were recently released. One told of the deaths by accident in this country during the calendar year 1944—a total of approximately 94,000. The other gave the total number of deaths by war in all of our armies since the beginning of the war—a total of 111,306.

Since the army figure gave the total since the beginning of the war, it is safe to say that 18,000 of those deaths were previous to 1944, and that the 1944 total for deaths in war was again less than the total deaths by accident.

When we hear of the terrific battles being waged for the sole purpose of killing, it is hard to imagine that accidents in our own country can cause even greater loss of life. But statistics have shown this to be the case, and during the total length of World War I the yearly accidental death figures were always higher than the war deaths.

We sincerely hope, when this war is over, that there will never again be such a thing as a war casualty list. But we also hope that the people in our country will find some way to at least cut down the giant casualty lists of those wounded and killed by accidents at home.

PUT OFF LIVING TOO LONG

THE other night I heard a speech by W. D. Mitchell, Brooklyn, N. Y., that was so good that I asked permission to use it. Here it is:

"I first met Dodson in the year 1919. He was then head of the technical division of an engineering firm, a position which paid him a comfortable salary."

"I became acquainted with his private life, and to my astonishment found that he lived in a cheap rooming-house, ate his meals at hole-in-the-wall restaurants and squeezed a dime so hard that he left fingerprints. His eyesight was bad but he refused to spend money on optometrists. He had to resort to a magnifying glass for close work."

"One day he surprised me by showing me a statement from his broker indicating that he had assets of $68,000. In great glee he told me that he was going to stop work when he had acquired $100,000, return to the country where he was born, and live like a country squire. He said he was going to buy an estate, pay cash, get it at a bargain, and then dress for dinner every evening and enjoy life to the fullest."

"This was peculiarly startling coming from a man who was living a pauper's existence. Meanwhile he was slaving to deprive himself the comforts of everyday life because the day was coming when he would have luxuries."

"I asked him why he didn't buy an estate in Connecticut and live out his life there. He said it would be more fun to wait until he got back to the land where he was born and do it in a bigger, grander way. Meanwhile he was slaving toward his goal, taking hardly any pleasure."

"Come 1929. The crash. He lost nearly two-thirds of his fortune. The result: his failing eyesight became much worse, his health broke."

"He took what money he had left and went back to his native country, as he had so long planned. But what a homecoming! He was almost blind; he could not distinguish the colors of flowers, and, instead of having all the fine foods he had dreamed of for years, he suffered from diabetes. He could eat few things."

"Dodson made a very common mistake: he put off living until it was too late. The only time you can ever live is now. Yesterday is gone forever; tomorrow never comes. Seize today and live it with gusto and enthusiasm."

Marcus Aurelius, 1800 years ago, handed down to us these words of wisdom: "Don't act as if you were going to live forever." One of my favorite quotations. Don't poison 1945 with worry and regrets for past mistakes. Eliminate the poisons, envy, hate and greed. Don't waste precious moments thinking about your enemies. Live cheerfully. Get the most out of every day of 1945. It may be your last year. Who knows?

To Open Regional Office In Mansfield

A regional office of the Cleveland Ordnance District has been opened in Mansfield to speed the procurement of vitally-needed war material. Col. E. A. Lynn, district chief, announced today. Capt. James H. Holan has been named as the regional representative, according to the initial assignments made by Colonel Lynn. Also assigned to the office are Lt. H. K. Wilhelm, Lt. H. W. Makowski and several civilian employees.

The Mansfield office is one of eight established in the Cleveland Ordnance District which includes the 45 northern counties of Ohio and three in Pennsylvania. Captain Holan and his staff will be concerned with Wyandott, Crawford, Richland, Ashland, Union, Hardin, Marion, Knox, Delaware, Licking, Madison, Franklin and Fairfield counties.

The district chief explained that many questions and problems, which in the past required

GASOLINE . . . death

Several American soldiers were recently sentenced to death for deserting the army in France and engaging in a gasoline "racket." What they did was to steal gasoline from army supplies and sell it to the French black market. Other soldiers were sentenced to long prison terms, ranging up to 30 years of hard labor for stealing quantities of cigarettes and other supplies from the army and selling them at high prices in France.

There has been considerable discussion here as to whether these sentences were too severe. Personally I can feel no sympathy for soldiers who—in order to make a profit for themselves—were willing to keep vital supplies from the boys fighting and dying at the front.

As a result of these sentences, there will probably be very few soldiers from now on who will succumb to similar temptations—and fewer dying at the front because of shortages created by army-soldierable crimes.

But in reading the stories about the illegal sale of army supplies, I kept wondering what happened to the Frenchmen who were probably found by deserters to be in the black market? Were they too sentenced to death or life imprisonment—or did they get off with fines or a year or so in jail?

We hear these days about black markets in all of the countries at war. We seem to take for granted that such black markets are an unresolvable problem. But it would seem probable that if all black markets were dealt with as a black market for an American army, they could be wiped out.

CIVILIANS . . . sentences

In this country we seem to have developed one of the world's best-organized black markets. No matter where you live, there is probably some place within a few miles where you could go to operate the black market gasoline. And behind the hundreds of little retail black markets we all know there are wholesalers who are cleaning up a fortune from the gasoline shortage.

Gasoline is just one of dozens of products sold through black markets to men who are immediately close to mind when we hear about soldiers being sentenced to death or selling it in France. It seems no more right for civilians to get away with interrupting the flow of gasoline to the front than it does for soldiers to do so.

Yet in spite of the fact that any one of us, if we kept watching a few of the retail gasoline stations, could probably discover the source of supply, many of them are never caught on an interrupted. And when caught, the sentences usually are so light that we hear about it is worth the gamble to continue.

One way to put a crimp in these activities might be to provide heavy minimum penalties for those who deliberately engage in black market activities. Those who are grocer or butcher who may have difficulty in keeping track of OPA costs, but who are not deliberately going in for a black market "racket" as a money-making enterprise, should not be judged as was permitted to sentence him to less than 25 years at hard labor if found guilty of doing so twice before continuing in his occupation.

STRIKES . . . penalty

And while discussing interruptions in the flow of necessities to the front, it seems appropriate to include a few comments on the war production industries.

For there have been many strikes during the war when we have heard about shortages of supplies on European battlefields and have at the same time, read of strikes or threatened strikes in the factories which are producing these vitally needed supplies.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics gives quieting figures on the small percentage of strikes in war industries as compared with the men who stay on the job. The statistics would also show that the black market activities in supplies which have reached the front are insignificant in comparison with the supplies that get through. Yet when we think that a few deserters and soldiers make a few dollars out of a strike in a vital war industry here—it is apparent that severe penalties should be provided against anyone who encourages even a slight delay in the steady flow of war supplies.

I know plenty of men who work in war factories who are eager to produce all the war necessities needed at the front. But every one of them has stories to tell of active aimed at slowing down production.

And so, in addition to a severe minimum penalty for those who engage in black market activities, it also seems to be the interest of our country to have equally severe penalties provided for those who encourage production slowdowns in order to bring some small benefit to themselves.

lengthy trips to Cleveland from the scattered points, may be answered or solved in the regional office, eliminating delays in production.

U. S. To Eat Weeding 1945, WFA Predicts

Consumers to Find Balanced Supply During First Quarter

With larger supplies of milk, eggs, cheese and citrus fruits offsetting smaller amounts of meats, chicken, fats and oil, butter, canned fruits and vegetables, potatoes, sugar and dried beans, civilians should continue to eat as well through the first three months of 1945 as during the last quarter of 1944, the War Food Administration declared.

At the same time, the WFA said that although total civilian food supplies for 1945 will not be as great as 1944, they still will be above the 1933-1939 average.

The WFA's statement came as the government asked farmers to increase their record-breaking production of 1944 and operators anxiously awaited draft developments in what way the mighty coil the 1945 output picture.

Reflecting prospects for a longer European war than anticipated earlier, the WFA asked farmers to produce more meat, dry beans, potatoes, seed, flaxseed, clover seed and tobacco.

Meantime, Selective Service of civilians asked that they draft boards would abide to the strict letter of the Tydings amendment in the consideration of acceptable help in coming through the 18 to 26 age group.

In sliding up the food situation for the first three months of 1945, the WFA said that civilians would receive about 10 percent less meat than in the last quarter of 1944, with veal, pork and mutton also accounting for the decrease. Pork supplies will show a small drop, WFA said, but beef will remain about the same.

With the military purchasing agencies buying at a heavier normal rate to replenish reserves, civilians will receive about three-quarters of the supply of chickens. Although the services' procurement are expected to taper during the succeeding nine months, a decline in chicken slaughter is looked for, bringing total consumption of 11 pounds per person compared per person in 1945 compared with 22.7 pounds last year.

Continuing a downward trend since the war, butter supplies for the first three months of 1945 will be about the same as in the last quarter of 1944, WFA said, with consumption for the year declining to less than 11 pounds per person compared with 12 pounds last year and more than 16½ pounds in peacetime. Approximately 16,000 pounds are to be exported through the first quarter of the year.

With the exception of lard, margarine, shortening and other edible oils adding up to over one billion pounds, the supply of fats and oils through the first three months of 1945 will be as large as those of the preceding quarter.

Because of increased allotments, well over one pound of chicken per person will be available during the first three months of 1945, with about twice as much chicken as all other.

Sugar allocations for the first three months of 1945 would compare favorably with those for the last quarter of 1944, but about 600 less tons of the commodity will be available throughout the whole year than in the preceding 12 months, it was said.

By dipping into reserves, dealers will supply more pepper through the first three months of 1945 than was available from October to December in 1944, WFA said.

Because of the war, the war and the war has cut down shipments, the increased withdrawal of the commodity from storage for their reduced inventories.

Supplies of evaporated milk will be about the same as in the first three months of 1945 as compared with the last three months of 1944, WFA said, with this milk being less expensive.

Completing the overall picture, WFA said there would be more plentiful fluid milk and citrus fruits in supply.

Thus the American diet should continue highly nutritious throughout the first three months of 1945 as well as the whole year. Because of the relative abundance of agricultural products, it should largely offset short supplies of imported foodstuffs, and still provide a healthful as well as appetizing meal.

Doings in Congress

By CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM LEMKE

THE FOURTH TERM inaugural was a lame affair. The ever mounting casualty lists, the heavy responsibilities of our nation, and the uncertainty of the future cast a dark shadow over the whole thing. The president, understandably, like many others, made use of false slogans. The slogan, "We cannot live alone" is a false issue.

AS A NATION we never have lived alone. We have always been aggressive. This is the second time that we are engaged in a world war not of our making. We have always accepted our full responsibility in the community of nations. If the President, however, means that we are going to be a perpetual Santa Claus, then he is in for a rude awakening. We are not going to be permanently fooled by false slogans or false issues.

SOME OF THE bureaucrats now admit that we have already brought off more than we can chew—that we are not only outgrowing our natural resources but our manpower. Some of these even suggest that the time has come that the nation's war production industries are fighting, take a more active part, and make greater sacrifices. They also suggest that we make it clear that their nations are going to be rebuilt via lend-lease at the expense of our taxpayers — that "God still helps those who help themselves."

THIS IS BROUGHT forcibly to our attention by the scarcity of children's apparel and men's working garments. It is brought to our attention by the scarcity of the nation's war supply due to the War Department's blun-

MARLIN HURT'S A MAID IN 'FIBBER' HOUSEHOLD

Washington, D. C. (WVNS)—Despite opposition by labor union leaders, by farm group leaders, and by the National Association of Manufacturers, the expected work-right bill will soon be passed by congress. For to offset the unpopularity of the President Roosevelt for immediate enactment of such legislation along with the urgent message from General Marshall and Admiral King.

Observers here, who say that public opinion polls indicate public approval of such legislation, point out the uniqueness of a situation, in which spokesmen for practically all organized groups of citizens are on one side and the people themselves on the other. They point out that the power of lobbyists may be considerably weakened in congress if the congressmen find out that their attitudes do not truly reflect the views of those they purport to represent.

Although the National Service act was changed to meet the needs of the government, it is expected to keep the provision by which the government shall be empowered to force all men under the age of 45 into the armed services or into economic work.

Considerable attention has been given to spokesmen for farmers, who say that passage of this legislation could create alarming market conditions for the farm.

Marvin Jones, head of the War Food Administration, took just the opposite attitude. He said that he knew as the May-Balley bill, would be of aid to farmers since it would help to clear markets for farmers in taking essential farm workers for the armed forces and especially its last attempt to denude our farms entirely of essential workers. The latter was either the result of complete ignorance of farm conditions or a desire to destroy and regiment agriculture a la Russia.

THE TIME has arrived for sober thinking not only for ourselves but for our unborn generations. We must not further be misled by false slogans and issues. We must never forget that our first duty is to our own people. We must ever be on guard against national luxury—"the abundant life by security." The American farmer and laborer will not continue to feed and clothe via charity an idiot world.

WALLACE, the giant that cut off the flow of six million milk pigs—the fallen hero—will not be able to furnish a quart of milk to all foreigners. ALL THE OTHER Presidents spent only ninety billion in 150 years. With that they paid for the Revolutionary War, won the War of 1812 and 1848. They paid for the Civil War and the war with Spain. They paid for World War I. The nation's billion indebtedness in 1933 was largely the result of loaning billions to foreign nations with practically no interest. Later these nations repaid. Marvin Jones, head of the War Food Administration, took just the opposite attitude. He said that he knew as the May-Balley bill, would be of aid to farmers since it would help to clear markets for farmers in taking essential farm workers for the armed forces and especially its last attempt to denude our farms entirely of essential workers. The latter was either the result of complete ignorance of farm conditions or a desire to destroy and regiment agriculture a la Russia.

THE TIME has arrived for sober thinking not only for ourselves but for our unborn generations. We must not further be misled by false slogans and issues. We must never forget that our first duty is to our own people. We must ever be on guard against national luxury—"the abundant life by security." SHILOH NEWS

A. B. Crawford Passes Away In Springfield

Arthur B. Crawford, a resident of Columbus, died Sunday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Grant Melvin of Springfield. He was born in Shiloh, Sept. 3, 1875 and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Crawford. He attended school here and at the age of 19, on Decoration Day, left Shiloh to accept his first position and make his way in the business world. He was with a telephone company for ten years, but the last forty years he has been with the Stromberg-Carlson company, occupying a position of trust.

During the war years he has been in the government sales department of the company. He had the full confidence of his officers and co-workers, and his long years of service proved his efficiency. His genial, happy disposition made and retained for him many friendships.

He visited his mother at this place when ever he had a vacation, and never lost connection with Shiloh people. He was a member of the Elks Lodge.

The body was brought by way of the Big Four Railroad to the McQuate funeral home Monday afternoon.

Mr. Crawford had been in the hospital at Rochester, N. Y., for several months and was removed to his daughter's home only a few weeks ago. During his illness there the Red Cross secured an emergency furlough for his son overseas, who made the trip home by plane in six days, and his visit was a benefit for both. The son left for service Tuesday before his father's death.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the funeral home. Rev. Henry E. Boehm of the Lutheran church officiated.

Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Ann; two daughters, the one at whose home he died, and Mrs. J. P. Costello of Columbus; two sons, Robert C. Crawford of Columbus, and Arthur B. Crawford, Jr., with the Navy in the Philippines; one granddaughter, his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Crawford, who will be 93 years old on Thursday of this week, and one sister, Miss Maude Crawford, the faithful companion of her mother in their home in Shiloh; and one half brother, Wilmer D. Crawford of Tiffin.

Admitted to Conservative Club of the Plain Dealer

Leland D. Wolfersberger, one of the directors of the Shiloh Savings Bank Co., reaches a new mark.

There is an exclusive organization of the Cleveland Plain Dealer which is known as the Old Timers Club. They held their 21st annual luncheon at the Holland Hotel last Wednesday. Of these occasions members of the staff who have been with the Plain Dealer for 20 years, are initiated into this group. Among the fourteen new members taking the oath of allegiance, was our own townsman.

Among the speakers were three members of the staff that had been on staff overseas on war assignments, and all were well known writers and commentators, Walter S. Buel, Roelf Loveland and William McDermott. All reports contained news of war assignments, and service and their officers, and so to the impressive inauguration service in Washington.

Larry Hawkins, who was a member of the crew of a gasoline tanker last Fall, related incidents illustrating the secrecy surrounding ship movements. The initiation was an innovation by Ed Kuekes, their cartoonist, amateur dramatist, orchid grower and bell ringer.

Each new member was given neophytes bells, which they were required to ring as he jumped from one another as he touched their heads and the result was a rendition of "My Wild Irish Rose."

A large number of other notables in the literary field were also present as well as a number of musicians that contributed to the program.

We congratulate Mr. Wolfersberger for his achievement and success with one of the outstanding newspapers of Ohio.

MUSIC TEACHER TO ENTER NAVY

PAUL ELEY, FORMER SHILOH TEACHER, RESIGNS AT MT. GILEAD

From the Mt. Gilead Union Register we quote an article which will interest this community.

"Paul Eley, music teacher in the Mt. Gilead schools for the past one and a half years, tendered his resignation to the Mt. Gilead Board of Education on Friday, Jan. 23. He left on Tuesday with 35 Morrow county men for induction into the armed forces.

"Eley passed the Eddy test for radio training and on induction was assigned to the Navy, with a rating of seaman first class. He was registered with a Lima draft board.

He is a graduate of Ohio Northern university, and has been teaching music for the past several years. He was also director of the First Presbyterian Church choir.

Paul is the fifth son of Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Eley of Waynesfield, to enter the service. A sixth son is under 18 years of age. Lt. Claron Eley with the air corps at Chanute Field, Ill., RV-3c Robert Eley, with the Navy, is now stationed at Chicago. Rolland recently returned from overseas and is attending officers candidate school, and Sgt. Bernard Eley is in the Southwest Pacific.

"In recognition of Paul's services the Mt. Gilead High school band and choir presented him with a traveling kit at an assembly program held Wednesday afternoon. Both organizations presented several numbers. The speaker for the occasion was Harold J. Bowers, head of the department of music in the State Department of Education. He spoke on the subject, "Fitting the Educational Program Into the Post War World."

Mr. Eley was an outstanding music instructor in the Shiloh schools.

For the Sunday afternoon concert given by his pupils at this place, the auditorium was filled to capacity. One of the reasons for his success while here was his honest desire to have parents attend, so they could see the advancement made by pupils. He always had a plan of action, and printed in the home paper previous to a concert and that stimulated interest.

Mrs. Eley and two children will remain in their home in Mt. Gilead for the present. Mrs. Eley will be remembered as Doris Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dawson of Shiloh.

HURON RATION BOARD NEWS

The Food Panel is in the midst of checking sugar allotments of Huron county retail stores. This is being done so that all merchants will be able to have an adequate but fair amount of sugar on hand, within the limits of the small amount there is now in the nation's stockpile. This will not guarantee that they will have as much as they want but will help to make the distribution on a "fair share basis."

The Gasoline Panel wishes to call to the attention of supplemental gasoline users the supplemental B or C rations are issued for a specific occupational or other transportation use and are to be returned to this office when such a need ends or there is any change of occupation. This means that if you have been issued gasoline for an occupation and you change occupations you must surrender the remaining rations and apply for new rations on the basis of your new occupation.

The Price Panel is at the present time checking the restaurant prices and postings, also several other articles sold at retail. This is done to help the merchants establish the correct ceiling prices and to make sure that the people of Huron county receive the benefits from the ceiling price rationing.

Two hundred acres of the tract which is adjacent to and just south of State Route 97, would be preserved as a sanctuary, while the remainder shall be devoted to timber production and for research in forestry, soil, water and wildlife and for demonstration in good forestry management.

The tract would be open at all times to the public, and "shall be appropriately marked" as a memorial forest. It shall be an everlasting memorial to the men and women of World War II."

TOURIST CLUB GUESTS OF MISS FENNER

The Tourist club met Monday evening at the home of Miss Virginia Fenner on West Broadway. At 6:30 a delicious oyster supper was served the twelve members present.

The president, Mrs. Lura Weber, conducted the business meeting, which was followed by the lesson study, conducted by Mrs. Ed Curpen. The article chosen was from the November Geographic, entitled "Mindanao, on the Road to Tokyo." This told of the Japanese domination of this virtually unexplored island which so resembles our California of ninety years ago with its mines, forests and cattle ranches. The Jap has introduced scientific farming, built roads, sawmills and canneries, yet has been an oppressor, with his importation of Japanese books and teachers to spread his tongue history, and literature in order to stamp out all Americanism. All transportation has been seized with the result that famine on the island is imminent.

After the members responded to roll call with current events of varying interest they adjourned, to meet in two weeks with Mrs. Curpen as hostess.

MRS. MABEL MCFADDEN SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mabel McFadden knew she had a birthday last Thursday but it was not until the close of the day that she realized just how many other people knew it also. By way of the grapevine, Mrs. E. A. Brown, who resides in the McFadden home, notified friends and neighbors that open house would be observed from 1:30 until 5:00 o'clock Thursday, in observance of Mrs. McFadden's birthday.

Another Surprise

BOOK REVIEW

"Brave Men" by Ernie Pyle
This is a new book by America's best-loved war correspondent.

Brave Men begins with the author's experience aboard a headquarters ship in convoy from Sicily to Sicily. It ranges from Sicily, Italy, the grim days of the Anzio beachhead, thru the pre-invasion weeks in Britain and finally the smashing drive into France.

Ernie Pyle writes of the American soldiers in action, what they eat, where they sleep, their medical care and how they react to fatigue, dirt and danger of the fighting front.

This is an intensely interesting book—well worth reading and available at the Plymouth library.

Released From Hospital After Six Months

In renewing her subscription to the Advertiser, Mrs. Lottie Trugo of Pavilion, Wyoming, states she is now back at her own home in Pavilion after six months confinement at the Riverton, Wyoming, hospital.

At a year ago on Jan. 24 she fell on the icy street, receiving injuries which confined her to the hospital for six months. She is now up and around the home doing some of her own housework.

She states they are having a rather mild winter and not very much snow, also that she wishes to be remembered to all her former acquaintances.

Willard Canteen Needs Help; Asks Local Aid

The canteen in Willard is badly in need of help from folks who wish to serve the service men coming through on trains. Mrs. J. C. Rettig, 710 Dale ave., Willard, is canteen chairman and any interested organization may write to her for details and dates.

She is looking for groups to take a date for each month and serve once a month on that date. They do not serve nearly as many from there as at Crestline, and the way the train schedules are arranged, it is very convenient to have two shifts work each date. At present they are not serving any night trains.

Mrs. May K. Brown, temporary chairman of the Blue Star Mothers of America hopes to make the canteen service one of the projects of that group.

Many folks handicapped in getting to Crestline for this service should be glad to know of Willard and if necessary go over on the bus. The schedules fit together nicely with the train schedules.

The Blue Star Mothers of America held their first meeting at the V.F.W. club rooms in Willard, Wednesday evening, Jan. 24. Due to a business engagement in Columbus, Mrs. Constance, the organizer, could not attend. Mrs. May K. Brown of Plymouth went over to help and reports they have a very enthusiastic group and elected Mrs. W. F. Fackler temporary chairman.

Attending Annual Ohio Pastors' Convention

Rev. H. L. Bethel, pastor of the Presbyterian church and Rev. E. R. Haines of the Methodist church were in Columbus the first of the week attending the Ohio Pastors' convention which opened Monday at Memorial Hall. Sessions continued until today, Feb. 1.

The theme of the convention was "Rebuilding the World With Christ." Dr. Charles L. Seasholes was chairman and one of the speakers. Dr. B. F. Lamb, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, directed arrangements of the convention.

A number of noted churchmen addressed the convention and several special events took place, including the finals in the Prince of Peace declamation contest Wednesday morning with six contestants taking part.

There were also several fellowship suppers on Tuesday evening and another Wednesday evening. At the Tuesday evening affair, Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Lt. Gov. George D. Nye, and other state officials, directed arrangements of the convention.

An original life-size painting of Christ as The Prince of Peace by America's beloved artist, Howard Chandler Christy, a native of Ohio, was also on display. The painting made a year ago for the Methodist Crusade for a New World Order, has been proclaimed a masterpiece of religious art.

It is done in oil on a canvas about five by nine feet. A towering figure of Christ, clothed in white with a false of infinite tenderness and unflinching resolve, looks down on the world at war.

His right hand is held in firm gesture at His side, the left aloft in blessing, beckoning men to a better way.

Mrs. E. R. Haines and daughter Phyllis accompanied the group.

Local Boy In Air Attacks Over Manila

United States Third Fleet (Delayed)—Richard L. Burdge, Aviation Machinist's Mate, Second Class, U. S. N., of Plymouth, O., flew as a gunner aboard a carrier-based torpedo plane in recent strikes against the Philippines by Admiral William F. Halsey's hard-hitting Third Fleet.

Burdge's squadron flew General Motors-built "AVENGERS," which can attack with bombs, rockets or 50 calibre machine guns as well as torpedoes.

The squadron attacked enemy ships and swept in over Jap airfields, knocking out parked planes and buildings, and pounded shore installations. Many of the strikes were pressed home at low level despite heavy anti-aircraft fire.

In one attack on Manila Harbor, planes of the Third Fleet sank eight Jap cargo ships. On another occasion, they intercepted a convoy attempting to reinforce the Jap ground forces, and sent six destroyers and four transports to the bottom. This blow also cost the enemy thirteen planes and most of the 8000 troops aboard the transports.

LIBRARY NEWS

Reviewing the past year's work of the Plymouth Library, the board members are very well satisfied with the progress made. The group met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Frank Pitzen with its newly-elected officers in charge.

Miss Jessie Trauger, librarian, announced that the average monthly circulation is 800 volumes a month and that nearly all of the new best sellers are to be found on the bookshelves. Special attention has been given to the juvenile department, the teenage and many new books for the grades.

These extra advantages of the library are made possible because of the generosity of Mrs. Eleanor Searle Whitney, who again repeated her last year's gift of $500 and which will help to make the Plymouth Public Library outstanding. Besides the new books two very nice tables have been added and a display table ordered.

Patrons are urged to take advantage of the library hours which are every evening from 7 until 9, except Thursdays. On Thursday the hours are from 12 to 2:30 with the hours between 12 and 1:00 especially for the country school children and an increasing number are taking advantage of this opportunity. On Saturday mornings the library is open from 10 to 12 in the a. m., in addition to the evening hours.

Miss Trauger, librarian, is assisted at various times by Mrs. P. H. Root, Mrs. Harold Shaffer, Mrs. Harry Trauger, board members, and by Mrs. Ruth Wedwood. During the librarian's absence, the office will be in charge of one of the above.

A few of the new books recently received are: Green Years, Cronin; Young 'Un Best; Westward to Chungking, Helen Kuo; Cluny Brown, Sharp; Bollinvar, Baylis; Borrowed Night, Ray; Night Unto Night, Wylie; Ship to Shore, McFee; Rome Hanks, Pennell; Canary Row, Steinbeck; Yankee from Olympus; Eisenhower; Inside the F. B. I.; I Never Left Home, Bob Hope; Fire-side Book of Dog stories and Ernie Pyle's books.

There are also many new juvenile books and a book for mothers to read to their inquiring children—growing up.

ICE FISHING PROFITABLE

Down state fishermen may not know that fishing through the ice on Lake Erie can pay handsomely, says T. H. Langlois, chief of the Fish Management section of the division of conservation, as well as afford a lot of sport. His records reveal that on January 16, 1945 John Nisson, fishing near Starve Island for 10 hours caught 231 pounds of No. 2 pickerel. It has been a good year for ice fishing and it will go on until the ice breaks up.

HURON COUNTY RATION NOTES

"The Office of Price Administration is getting a lot of criticism it doesn't deserve. If any one agency is to blame for the rise of the situation which required the canceling of 'back' stamps it is the War Food Administration rather than the OPA."

"With the war still going on, it was impossible to build up stocks. There wasn't enough sugar, for example, to cover the stamps people held. With the war demanding more ships instead of fewer, no large shipments could be brought in. You can't ration what you haven't got. So the only way was to cancel the 'back' stamps and start over again, rationing the stocks actually on hand."

"This was the only way to make the stocks cover the outstanding stamps. In other words, it was the only way to make sure that every one would get his share of what food there was, even though it was a smaller share than before. Without this step, all the rationed foods would get into the same situation as sugar and butter; the housewife would have a stamp calling for a certain food, but would find none in the store."

Instructions regarding Farm Slaughtering of Beef, Veal, Lamb and Pork by farmers and livestock producers, are on file in the Huron County War Price and Ration Board offices and the County Agent's office. These are available for anyone desiring information on the subjects of rationing, general livestock situation, grading, subsidy and price.

CHICAGO — Warner Sallman, whose portrait of Christ has sold 4,500,000 copies, depicts here the support of millions of Christians to the determination of their Leader that there be no more war. Methodists are among those who are working for liberty and justice for all men, through their four-year, five-fold Crusade for Christ. Posters of the Sallman painting, now appearing in more than 41,000 Methodist churches across the nation, appeal for sacrificial contributions to the $25,000,000 Crusade relief and reconstruction fund, more than half of which will go for food, clothing and other aid for peoples of war devastated and occupied countries. Other phases of the Crusade for Christ call for support of co-operation among nations in the post-war world, renewed evangelism efforts, education for Christian stewardship and improvement of Sunday School attendance.

PLYMOUTH LOSES TO MADISON FIVE

The local basketball five gave the highly touted Madison Rams a real scare last Friday night when they lost a close game of 41 to 31 on the local floor. Madison is "Class A" school this year and thus is not eligible to play in the county tournament, but has been allowed to play in the county league. Madison came to Plymouth with only a single defeat chalked against them, and this was administered by the high-scoring undefeated Butler team. Plymouth, at least for three of the four quarters, played its best defensive game for the season. Offensive it was not so good. Madison shot for shot as the first half ended with the local five on the short end of the score, 22-17.

At the start of the third quarter Scott sank a one-handed shot and shortly after Seasholtz swished in a long shot making the score 22-21. For the rest of the quarter there was a lid on the basket as far as Plymouth was concerned, for they didn't score another point while their visitors were dropping in six field goals and five free throws. Thus the score stood 39-21, as the quarter ended.

The last quarter was almost a reverse of the third as the local lads held the Rams to two foul shots while adding 10 points to their own score. Thus the game ended with the visitors out in front 41-31.

Plymouth Reserves had a case of stage fright the first half when they met the Madison Reserves and thus were held to six points. In the second half they came to life and managed to play on even terms with the Rams, but it was too late. Madison had piled up too much of a lead in the first half. The final score was 26-17.

Friday night the Pilgrim's journey to Lexington where both of the teams will tangle with the strong "Minute Men."

Next Wednesday night Plymouth goes to New Haven and then Friday night tangle with the strong Butler Bulldogs, current leaders of the county league.

Miss Nellie Loveland Passes Away In Marion; Services Held Monday

Miss Nellie Loveland, a former resident and teacher in New Haven school, passed away Friday, Jan. 26th at her home in Marion, Ohio, after a few weeks' illness.

She was the daughter of Oscar and Hattie Mallory Loveland and was born Feb. 10, 1890 in New Haven township, Huron County, O., and spent her early life on a farm northeast of that village.

After graduating from the Plymouth school she taught school in New Haven township for several years and then went to Marion in 1918 and took up teaching in the schools in that city until 1928 when her health failed. She left Marion for some time but returned again in 1932. At that time she was unable to resume her school teaching.

Nellie was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Marion, a Sunday school teacher, a member of the missionary society, of the Catherine Woods Auxiliary, and of the Circle of Services of the Kings Daughters. She was formerly a member of the New Haven Methodist church.

She leaves to mourn her death a few relatives and a large circle of friends who will remember her as one of outstanding character and one who was particularly interested in the young people of the communities in which she lived. Her father, mother and sister preceded her in death several years ago.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church in Marion, and the service was held Monday afternoon at her former church in New Haven with Rev. Wm. Stewart officiating. Interment was in the family burial ground at Guinea Corners cemetery.

Those from Plymouth attending the rites were Mrs. Thor Woodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Woodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hole, Mrs. John Bradford and Miss Jessie Cole.

TO MOVE TO SHELBY

Mr. and Mrs. Warren DeVier of Tiro have sold their farm where they have lived for 33 years to Mr. and Mrs. Elgie Smith of Sutfeld, near Akron and plan to retire from farming and move to Shelby about the first of March. Mr. Smith plans to operate a dairy farm. Mr. Smith is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ulmer of New Washington.
