

Salt & Peanuts To Show Here

Plymouth is going to be favored with an evening of real entertainment, tomorrow night, Friday, Sept. 27, at the High School Auditorium, when Salt & Peanuts, from Station WTAM, Cleveland, will be here for a personal appearance performance.

Salt & Peanuts Revue will feature "Little Moses," the human loadstone... a 96-lb. man you cannot lift. There is also Lulu, the girl from the hills; Shorty, who will sing songs you love to hear; and Snookie, 300 pounds of fun and frolic.

This is a real chance to see and hear radio stars. You've heard them on the air from Station WTAM, and now you'll have the opportunity of seeing them.

One feature that should appeal to the young ladies of the community is the Hollywood Popularity Contest. The first prize winner will receive a prize and will also compete for an All-Expense trip to Hollywood. Contestants will be picked from the audience. So here's a chance for the local lassies to "dollar-up" and if you're lucky, you might get more than you expect.

Doors at the auditorium will open at 7:00 p. m., with the show starting exactly at 8:00. Admission is 80c for adults and 40c for children. Make it a date and go down Friday night for an evening's entertainment.

Boyd Hamman and his son, Lysle Hamman, have had much success in producing some mighty fine head boars and gilts. The fact that their sale attracts many buyers is proof that their hogs are tops among the pedigreed stock of the country. For the sale will be held inside the barn. The ladies of the M. E. C. R. Beaver Dies Suddenly Death came suddenly last Thursday morning to Charles R. Beaver, well-known Plymouth resident, while he was at work filling a silo on the Heister farm, west of town. Mr. Beaver was atop the silo, spreading out the ensilage, when he was stricken. He passed away at 8:15 a. m.

Mr. Beaver's death came unexpectedly, not only to his immediate family, but to his fellow-workers who were assisting him at the farm. He had worked all day Wednesday, and had not complained of feeling ill at any time, although when he came home Wednesday night, he did say he was rather tired.

For the past eleven years Mr. Beaver had been connected with Fred Heister of Centerton, in the sale of farm machinery and equipment, but due to the scarcity of machinery, Mr. Beaver had been acting somewhat in a supervisory capacity the past few years, and with the present help shortage on farms, he felt that he could be of some value in performing some of the manual tasks.

The deceased was born near Shelby, Ohio, April 12, 1873, and was a life-long resident of this vicinity. He was 73 years of age at the time of his death.

In 1898 he was married to Lenna France, who with one daughter survive. In 1900 Mr. Beaver moved to Plymouth where Mr. Beaver was associated with Dan Hoffman in the hardware business. A few years later, he was joined by his brother, Frank, and they took over the old Peoples Mercantile Co., which had been operated by the Root Bros. Under this partnership, the two brothers conducted their business for many years under the name of Beaver Bros.

Disposing of his business interests, Mr. Beaver purchased a farm near Shiloh, but still residing in Plymouth. In 1919 Mr. Beaver and his family moved to Crestline, where he was employed by the Burch Plow Corporation, and he remained with them until 1936 when he returned to Plymouth to make his home.

Since coming to Plymouth, Mr. Beaver has been active in church and civic affairs. As a member of the Lutheran Church he held various important posts of the church, and participated in its growth and spiritual welfare. As a resident of many years, he had numerous friends and acquaintances who were shocked to hear of his sudden death.

Surviving are the wife, Lenna; one daughter, Mrs. Glenn Schropp of Sandusky and one granddaughter, three brothers, H. H. Beaver of Salina, Calif.; F. L. Beaver of Norwalk, and W. W. Beaver of Long Beach, Calif., also survive.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the McQuate Funeral Home in Plymouth. Rev. M. P. Paetznick, officiating. Burial was made in Greenlawn cemetery.

Around the Square

(By Phineas Whittehead)

"RED" FOGLESON stopped in Wednesday morning to tell me that he's taking a day off this Saturday. So, if you have a dinner or dance date, and need that suit or dress down at Fogleson's, you'd better stop and pick it up by Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Fogleson are leaving town over the week-end, just to get a little rest from their strenuous work.

A LITTLE LATE, but as the old saying goes, "Better Late Than Never." Bob Root passed around a box of cigars last week, and for a minute I had to think, and then I realized that it was his WEDDING cigar.

BOB ROSS, who had a splendid record in the Navy during the war, doesn't believe in the Four Freedoms any more. He's going to say "I Do" to a Bucyrus Lassie some time in October, and from what I hear she's a real shipper. Bob will make a darn good mate on this forthcoming voyage, and best of luck to them.

THERE IS NO DOUBT in my mind but what Bill Veeck, new president of the Cleveland Baseball Co., is building up a lot of goodwill for his Indians. Every ball fan around these parts is doing so badly the last half of the Mr. Veeck has taken over his tribe, and we are anticipating many great games next season. As a farewell to the fans in Northern Ohio before the Indians wind up the season, Mr. Veeck made the last home game FREE of charge, he has established ladies day, and reduced admission for children... he has given us fireworks and music and the Indians themselves haven't a vote at the fall election on season. So, in all, Plymouth ball fans have much to look forward to next season.

NUMEROUS COMPLAINTS have been received by The Advertiser and the village mayor the past two weeks concerning loudspeakers and juke boxes being played unduly loud. There's nothing we can do about it, but there is an ordinance prohibiting such, and especially the operation of juke boxes after midnight.

NOTE TO JAKE MYERS: This will let you know that we were forced to use a little gas during August, but this week's weather cannot be surpassed by Arizona's sunshine. The old harness shop still the same, and the old grange still likes to hang out there, including Hawkins BeVier. The old place is the same, although we miss you terribly. S. Do you ever see any cattle out West?

CO-OPS, AND CIO SET UP PLANS TO RUN INDUSTRY AND FARMS

Farmers in this vicinity will find the following article taken from a recent issue of The Columbus Dispatch, very interesting, as it describes the plans between the CIO and Co-ops of the nation. It is very evident that Murray D. Lincoln wants to communicate the American Farmer, and he makes known his plans very clearly. The story as written by Fred H. Posey of the Dispatch, follows:

A pattern of alliance between 1,500,000 members of co-operative societies, composed largely of American farmers, and the left-wing element in the American labor movement, particularly the CIO, which has as its goal the ownership and operation of the nation's industry and agriculture was announced Monday at the National Co-operative Congress convened its biennial convention in the Dealers Hotel, Wash. D. C.

The opening gun was fired by Murray D. Lincoln, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation in a speech reporting his activities as president of the congress. At the same time, delegates were handed copies of a report by the "labor-co-operative committee" of the congress which charts the future course of the American co-operative movement hand-in-hand with the CIO to bring a combined city-rural pressure to bear in achieving a "non-profit" system of enterprise in America.

His speech generally sprang from denunciations of the "profit motive" and "free enterprise" in American business while praising political and economic policies which came to be identified with the CIO. Mr. Lincoln urged co-operatives to be prepared to assume control and management of the nation's business and agriculture in the coming "revolution" as the only "acceptable alternative to chronic insecurity on one hand or statism on the other."

He declared the American public "today is at the mercy of a profit-minded business system which is determined to exact the greatest possible from the consumer."

Then he asserted: "As surely as we are moving into the most amazing period of employment and national income in the history of the world, just as surely we must realize that nothing is being done to check the inevitable bad ahead. That bad is going to be more than another depression. It's going to bring the world revolution smack into the middle of American economy and challenge the very form of democracy we live by."

Then he declared the co-operative movement must strengthen itself and "we must by that time be strong enough to offer the American people a practical alternative to either complete state-control or an even more fearful form of European totalitarianism. I see no other force in America today which can offer an acceptable alternative to either chronic insecurity on one hand or statism on the other."

Lincoln, whose organization of 22 regional co-operative associations last year did $177,000,000 in retail business, controls hundreds of livestock markets and grain marketing facilities throughout the nation, insurance and financing concerns, the very magnitude of which is in excess of a billion dollars, declared that in addition to building "more and better co-operatives" members must see that "the very freedom which makes co-operative participation possible is not taken away from us."

This, he said, does not involve role of political neutrality, but "departure from our traditional role of political neutrality" but declared that 5,000,000 co-operative members in the country must be educated so they will represent a "militant and well informed group of voters."

"Whether we like it or not, we live in a nation of pressure politics," he said. "Recent events in Washington demonstrate only too clearly the vast power and influence of pressure groups. Organized business is spending millions of dollars annually to plead its case. Whether we like it or not, it is the recent overhauling of OPA, one fact stands out clearly. The consumer, who had most to lose, was scarcely represented in the battle."

"It is true that organized labor did its utmost to fill the gap but it is time that broad consumer interests were truly represented in Washington. And that is a job for consumer co-operatives. Calling for 'courage and common sense' to build a strong national organization, Lincoln declared co-operatives could "thru the simple expedient of working together" challenge the very forces which are threatening democracy today, adding:

"The days of opportunity are numbered. The rides of revolution are ready to spring into the vacuum of American unrest. Is there within us the wisdom, the maturity and the courage to reach out and grasp such an opportunity?"

Turning to recent developments in the labor movement, Lincoln pointed out that "our co-operative development has been predominantly rural" but "we have seen clearly the need for strong development in the towns and cities of the nation. I am happy to report that labor is getting set for action."

ARCHITECT FILES SUIT FOR WORK ON SKY CLUB RESTAURANT

Mansfield-The Harrington Air Services Inc., was named defendant in a suit for $3,525. Harry J. Brumenshenkel, Mansfield architect, said the amount was due for professional services in construction of the airport's Sky Club restaurant.

Brumenshenkel charged in a petition in common pleas court that he made an oral agreement in October 1944, to draw up plans for the Sky Club.

At prevailing rates for architects in Richland county, Brumenshenkel contended he should have received $5,000 for his labor, computed on a percentage of the restaurant cost which he estimated at $100,000. But the action firm paid only $1,475, Brumenshenkel charges.

WORKING IN SHELBY

Mrs. Ray Bright has accepted a position with the Shelby Sales Book Co., and began Monday on her new work.

That Piece of Paper

The cause of economy and retrenchment seems to be in a bad way. It is true that, at the instigation of the President, the budget bureau has done some minor paring in expenditures. It is also true that no really important cut has been made anywhere.

It isn't enough to shave pennies off the Federal budget. We've got to shave dollars—and billions of them. The very magnitude of Federal spending is in itself one of the strongest inflationary influences. And it is the influence which can be most quickly curbed by decisive action.

Congress, working on the cynical doctrine that this is an election year and spending gets votes, did practically nothing in the interest of government economy. And it is evident to anyone that little will be done until public pressure forces it. So long as the "free spender" continues to be able to get his money, waste will be the watchword.

The interest in this to you, as worker and taxpayer, is obvious. Take a look at one of those green pieces of paper called a dollar. The future of that piece of paper in terms of commodities and labor, is the issue at stake. Other pieces of paper, called francs and marks and kroner and yen, have become worthless because of government excesses. Will it happen here?

The Fruits of Socialism

Socialism—despite all the vociferous claims of its advocates—produces nothing of itself. England today is a good example of that truism.

The Labor government came to power on a platform pledging eventual socialization of all basic resources. As its first step, it promptly socialized the coal industry, which had long been a trouble spot in the British economy. But, to the enormous disappointment of the true believers no miracle occurred. Coal production has not been increased to the contrary, it has tended to decline. The workers are no happier than before—in fact, they are even more disgruntled. Their lot has not been improved in any way, and there is no prospect of bettering it in the foreseeable future.

And they can't do anything about it—because the British coal industry is now the same thing as the British government. Here in the United States we have temporarily socialized our coal industry. The mines, which were seized by Presidential proclamation during the strike, have not been returned to their owners. These owners are the forgotten men when it comes to negotiations. Mr. Lewis' union and the government make all the decisions. One wonders what thoughtful workers think of this. Have they forgotten that socialism, in various forms, has destroyed the freedom of labor in Germany, Italy and Russia?

Workers can force industry to negotiate. But no one can force government to negotiate if it doesn't want to—unless we are to have absolute anarchy. Labor can if it desires do much to destroy free enterprise—but it should realize that it will destroy free labor with it.

The Future of American Freedom

The rising tide of inflation is sending ominous chills tingling along the spines of the American people. It is not pleasant to see the value of savings and pay checks dwindle as the price indexes climb. Two thousand dollar autos and fifteen thousand dollar homes were not in the postwar plans of most people. They indicate hardship, not prosperity, in the future, and not so far in the future at that. In fact hardship, real hardship, is already here for the great number of "unorganized" workers and those who live on fixed incomes.

The feeling is inescapable that only now is the homefront beginning to come face to face with the consequences of the "total" war. With inflation developing, the question arises of how strong are our ideals of free enterprise and self government. Repeatedly, supposed realists express fear that should depression sweep the country, it would inevitably shake the foundations of basic American institutions. They point to other lands where desperate, hungry people turned to despotic government for direction.

The people at home, for the first time in over a century, have a chance to demonstrate their faith in the general idea of individual initiative and opportunity. If the realists are right in the theory that economic troubles will lead to the kicking out of private industry and destruction of principles of government that have lifted the individual in this country, Mr. Lindsay, JUNIOR—Pres. Joy Lee Bradford; Vice Pres. Edward Gamble; Sec'y, Kayrol McGinty; Treas. Lois Suttle. Sponsor, Mrs. Anderson. SENIORS—Pres. Allen Kirkpatrick; Vice Pres. Pete Ruckman; Sec'y, Marilyn Steele; Treas. John Turson. Sponsor, Mrs. Lanius.

Five Cent Air Mail Postage Effective Oct. 1

Five-cent air mail rates of postage are coming back, Postmaster Claude Sourvinger announces. Effective October 1st, the present rate of eight cents per ounce for domestic air mail will be reduced to five cents per ounce or a fraction thereof, he stated. The new rate, returning after many years, is applicable as follows:

Within the continental United States, including Alaska, and to Canada; to or from the continental United States, including Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Virgin Island, Canal Zone, Guam, and any other place where the United States mail service is in operation, and within or between any of these places.

To and from members of the armed forces of the United States stationed outside the continental United States whose address includes an army postoffice number or a fleet office designation; also to and from civilian personnel authorized to receive mail through such army or navy postoffices. Sourvine pointed out that at the present time only letters of ordinary form, and weighing not more than two ounces are acceptable for transmission by air mail to overseas APOs and NPOs except an APO in care of postmaster, New Orleans, La., or Seattle, Wash.

WHAT AND WHERE IS HEAVEN?

Part IV
By Dalton F. McDougall

In Part III of September 12th we found in Matt. 5:5, these words "Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth." Also in Matt. 5:14, 1-11, we will find that the meek will be called to inherit the earth when the wicked are cut off, and the earth shall be made new. The prayer that Jesus taught his disciples to pray will then be answered "Thy kingdom come. They will be done in earth, as it is in heaven."

Matthew 6:10. This new earth will constitute the everlasting kingdom of Christ. This will be the time when Jesus will rule forever on the throne of David from Jerusalem. (Luk. 1:31-33; Isa. 9:7; Matt. 19:28) This will be the time when the saints will reign on the earth. (Rev. 5:10) The earth will be the real promised land of Abraham and his seed. (Gen. 13:14; 15: 10; 4:13) In the new earth will come the time when the wolf and the lamb, the bull and the lion, will live side by side in peace. (Isa. 11:6-9; 65:25)

The lion will live on grass like the cow. The knowledge of God will cover all the earth as the waters cover the sea. (Isa. 2:14) How will the earth then appear? "For the Lord shall comfort Zion: He will comfort all her waste places; and He will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the Lord; joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody." Isa. 51:3.

The new earth will be perfect and grand as this earth. It will have been in sin had never entered. It will be restored to its Edenic beauty. The curse will be removed. (Gen. 22:3) Sin will never come in the second time. It will be the new earth. (Nahum 1:9) In this new earth the first dominion which was lost through sin will be restored. (Micah 4:8) This new earth will be divided among all the saved as the typical promised land of Canaan was divided among ancient Israel. Each of the redeemed will have an Eden garden of his own.

What will the Saints do in the new earth? The answer is given in Isa. 65:17. "For, behold I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind." And in the 21-23 verse of this 65th chapter of Isaiah tells what the redeemed will do in the earth. "They shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. They shall not build and inhabit another man's house; neither shall they build another man's wall, and another man's tower; for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands. They shall not labor in vain, nor bring forth trouble; for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their offspring with them."

Who will be everybody in the new earth being on the Sabbath day? Isaiah again gives the answer "And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one Sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the Lord." Isa. 66:23. What two attributes will be possessed by the who inherit that better land?

"If ye will be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it." Isa. 1:19. Each of us has a choice to make. We can choose to obey Jesus Christ now and live forever happy in that new and better world. Or we can ignore His claims, and perish forever with this sinful world. Which will it be in your case? We must take one course or the other. There is no third road. In conclusion the first two chapters of the book of Genesis opening with a new earth—Gen. 1:1. Everything perfect—Gen. 1:31.

Sugar Price Up
2c On a Pound

WASHINGTON—OPA recently raised an estimated 200 million dollars additional on consumers' annual food bills by boosting sugar prices two cents a pound and prepared to raise substantially the prices of Ford automobiles.

An OPA spokesman said a plan was under study to limit the amount of meat restaurants may serve. He warned that prices of canned fruits, now free of OPA controls, probably would rise to reflect the sugar increase. He said OPA expected no change in candy or soft drink prices but thought frozen fruit, cake and ice cream prices might rise.

Going Fishing? Here's How!

To hear Willie Wells and Basil Strube arguing about trout fishing, you'd think it was more important than the atom bomb.

Willie favors dry flies, Basil pooh-poos anything but wet flies. Willie swears by a Royal Wulff, Basil won't hear of anything but a Silver Doctor. And by the time it comes to steel rods versus bamboo rods... IX&X!!!

But on Saturday, each got back from Seward's creek with a catch that couldn't be defeated by more than several ounces.

Each had used his favorite kind of fly, his favorite rod and his favorite place to cast. So over a friendly glass of beer, they allowed as how maybe they were both right... which is how so many arguments should end.

Where I sit, if I were a respected one another's different opinions—whether about trout flies, or drinking beer, or voting, life would be a whole lot pleasanter.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gold suit with brown accessories and carried a white Bible with white streamers and covered with a dozen yellow rose buds. Her only jewelry was a three strand pearl necklace a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Christine Kleier of Mansfield was maid of honor and wore a brown suit and a pink rose corsage. Best man was Mr. Gilbert Heuberger, and ushers were Mr. LeRoy Burns of Plymouth and Mr. Chick Springer of New Washington.

The bride's mother appeared at the wedding wearing a wine velvet dress and the bridegroom's mother wore a black dress. Both wore corsages of Tallman roses.

Reception
Following the wedding, a reception was held at the bride's home with large baskets of dahlias used as decorations. A three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom centered the table with Miss Pauline Wilson, a friend of the bride and Miss Mary Belle Heuberger, the bride's sister, presiding.

The bride graduated from Plymouth high school and the bridegroom attended Willard high school and is a patrolman of the Shelby police force.

Following a wedding trip to New York and Canada, the couple will reside at 31 West End Boulevard, Shelby.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from Mansfield, Willard, New Washington, Norwalk, Fostoria and Plymouth.

McDougal-Dininger Nuptials

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Dininger, daughter of Mrs. Carl Dininger, Shelby R. D. 3, and Kenneth McDougal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi McDougal of Plymouth Rt. 1, was solemnized Saturday morning, September 21st at 10 o'clock at the home of the bride. The simplicity of the decorations of gladioli and other autumn flowers made a pretty setting for the ceremony performed by Rev. H. L. Bethel, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

The bride's gown was a green length dress of blue, trimmed in black and she wore a corsage of red roses.

Miss Lila Dininger, the bride's sister, the maid of honor, wore a blue suit, and her corsage was pink roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Wayne McDougal.

A wedding luncheon was served at a prettily appointed table, centered with the wedding cake, to the immediate relatives. The bridal couple then left for a wedding trip and are now at home in their newly furnished apartment at 28 Sandusky Street, Plymouth.

Mr. McDougal is employed at the Fate-Root-Heath Company.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—Elliot Roosevelt's new book, now running serially in a national magazine, has set off Washington, particularly the state department, back on its heels.

The younger Roosevelt who accompanied his father, the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt to Yalta, Tehran, and his other important conferences during the war, presents a new picture of possibly his Russian policy in the peace conference and in the councils of United Nations. He quotes the late president, having said to him at Casablanca:

"I'm talking about another war, Elliot. I'm talking about what will happen to our world if after this war we allow millions of people to slide back into semicivilization. Don't think for a minute that America's war is dying in the Pacific tonight if it hadn't been for the short-sighted greed of the French and the British and the Dutch. This time I've tried to make it clear to Winston (Churchill) that we're there to stay, and that we must never get the idea we're in this war just to help them hang on to medieval empire ideas. I hope they realize, after the war, that we're not going to sit by and watch their system atrophy and grow into a new empire in Asia and half of Europe."

And it makes Washington wonder if this conception of our foreign policy held by the late president, is our present foreign policy.

President Truman has decided definitely there will not be a special session of Congress. He says that members of the congress deserve time for their election campaign and moreover there is no need to face the nation now for a special session. So the president apparently believes that inflationary tendencies are not dangerous to the nation's economy that new OPA price control legislation is sufficient for the time being; that the recent losses in the stock market in Wall Street do not present any nation-wide crisis; that the housing situation does not constitute an emergency, and that the country can weather whatever comes between now and time for the new congress to convene next January.

Claude R. Wickard, rural electricity administrator and former Secretary of Agriculture, who, by the way has moved his office lock, stock and barrel back to Washington from St. Louis, declared that the need for electricity on farms is greater than in city homes and that failure to realize this fact is one of the reasons why private electric utilities have failed or refused to serve rural communities.

"The farm is a factory and needs electricity for efficient production of the goods of a modern city factory," Wickard says. Wickard also declared that no REA cooperative should be established without a distribution system, which will support anything less than every potential consumer in the area it plans to serve. In other words, that it should build power plants and be satisfied that electricity from private utility lines.

Ellis Tribune was recently paid to High H. Bennett, chief of the soil conservation service, recognized today as dean of the world's soil conservationists. And this recognition recalls the 30-year struggle Dr. Bennett has made to gain national action on the soil erosion problems of the nation. He started back in 1905 in Louisa county, Va., and during the next quarter of a century he built up convincing evidence in surveys throughout the country of the damage to the nation's soil by erosion and by loss of minerals and water through farming. In 1929 he presented evidence to congress which resulted in establishment of 10 erosion control experiment stations and in 1935 he was selected to head the country's first soil conservation service. Made a permanent agency of government that year. During that time farmers and ranchers have organized upwards of 1,000 soil conservation districts covering about 900 million acres and 4 million farms, or two-thirds of all the farms in the country. These districts are directed by their own farmer boards. But we are still losing about a half billion acres of land a year, and this damage has been costing us about 4 billion dollars annually, and nearly a billion acres of farm and ranch land need complete, planned conservation treatment.

Now that we have won the war for other nations, we feel that they should join us in establishing a United States of Europe. The larger European nations should be divided into States, and these, together with the smaller nations, should constitute a United States of Europe. Unless this is done, national boundaries and religious and racial hatreds in Europe will continue and produce other world wars.

We will help to clear away the wreckage and build the world anew, but we will not forget that "charity begins at home." We will not sell our domestic market in order to bring good neighbors. We will not mingle our standard of living with the poverty of other nations. But we will assist them in bringing their standard up to ours.

Doings in Congress

By CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM LEMKE

Wallace has gone astray. In his eagerness to become the PAC-CIO candidate for President, he is sabotaging Truman's peace efforts. He talks about Russian sphere of influence. Does he mean Russian liquidation of other nations' people? Does he sanction the theft of other nations' property and territory?

We have known for some time that the Truman-Lemke, Wallace feud has but one object, and that is to make Wallace the Democratic Presidential candidate, thus Russianizing and liquidating not only one-third, but all of the world. The communists are using these ambitious individuals for their own purposes to get out of our Government. Their all the rest of us are just plain American citizens. Our first duty, and our sworn duty is to our own country.

Our first duty, and our sworn duty is to uphold the Constitution and the laws made pursuant thereto. With a packed Supreme Court—a political partisan court—that is no longer possible. There are hundreds of thousands of one man-made laws. In violation of our Constitution our political circles have held the barefaced rules and regulations as valid as if they had been laws enacted by Congress.

Recently the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, with a foreign ambassador, watched the President sign a bill making a gift of billions to another nation. Surely this Chief Justice cannot be trusted to pass the constitutionality of the British loan or any other loan to a foreign country.

The President must clean house. He must get as Cabinet members, men of intelligence and international integrity, who will not go back with liquidation, theft, slavery or aggression. The President's Cabinet must not blot out and hold. Either Mr. Byrnes or Mr. Wallace represents the President's views.

We know that the President has confidence in Mr. Byrnes. But why permit Mr. Wallace, as a hanger-on member of his Cabinet, to throw a Russian monkey wrench into the peace treaty making machinery. Let Mr. Wallace resign, and answer Poland, Finland, Lithuania, Estonia, Latvia and other small nations why he approves and advocates their liquidation and enslavement by Russia.

There are vital national and international issues that we must face in the coming general election. There must be no camouflage or dodging. The voters have a right to know the position of their Congressional candidates on these issues. Members of Congress have a duty to perform. They must help crystallize and become leaders of public opinion. They must not become blind followers of individuals or cliques who are more interested in a foreign nation than in their own.

I am appealing to true Americans—to the one hundred and forty million who prefer their own country—who will not sell it short. I am appealing to the hyphenated, hybrid American colony in our midst—who would establish a mongrel flag for the Stars and Stripes. When challenged by this foreign element we proudly proclaim "We are for America—who are you for?"

Our program is to build, ever, a greater and stronger nation, to raise, not lower, our standard of living. We will not consent to bring our standard of living down to the level of the Latin American peon or the Oriental coolie. We believe in cooperation and collaboration for a just peace. We disapprove of the vengeance and hatred which are being written into peace treaties.

We do not approve of the exploitation and liquidation of other nations' people—we do not approve of the theft of other nations' territory or property—by communists, imperialists, Russia, or capitalist, imperialist Britain. We are at all times opposed to aggression and oppression.

Now that we have won the war for other nations, we feel that they should join us in establishing a United States of Europe. The larger European nations should be divided into States, and these, together with the smaller nations, should constitute a United States of Europe. Unless this is done, national boundaries and religious and racial hatreds in Europe will continue and produce other world wars.

We will help to clear away the wreckage and build the world anew, but we will not forget that "charity begins at home." We will not sell our domestic market in order to bring good neighbors. We will not mingle our standard of living with the poverty of other nations. But we will assist them in bringing their standard up to ours.

RESOLUTION No. 123

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING ENGINEERS TO MAKE APPLICATION FOR FEDERAL GRANT FOR PLANNING A SEWER AND SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT PROJECT:

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE Council of the Village of Plymouth, Ohio, that Alden E. Stillson & Associates, Ltd., consulting engineers of Columbus, Ohio, be and they are hereby authorized to submit an application on behalf of the Village of Plymouth, Ohio, for planning funds of the Federal Works Agency, Bureau

Dale Carnegie

Author of

"HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

MRS. GLADYS MECHLING works in the small motor division of the Westinghouse company, Lima, Ohio. When her son became a navy flier, she decided to get a job for herself, and that is what she did.

The job that came into her hand to do was to bend a thin strip of copper for the armature of a generator cut-out. This, when completed, went into a war plane to guard its electrical system. The bending of the strip of copper was slow work; it was accomplished by taking hold of the strip of copper by hand and bending it around a rod fixed on the workbench.

One day Mrs. Mechling asked a supervisor if there wasn't some quicker and easier way to do this. He said, "Oh no! It has always been done that way."

When she did not seem convinced, he said, "Hundreds of people have worked at this job. If the job could be done in a better way, some of them would have thought of it."

Mrs. Mechling decided to try, anyway. So she "put a handle on a bobby pin." That is the way the others in the factory expressed it. She took two small metal prongs, shaped like the ends of a bobby pin, and fastened them in a screwdriver handle. Then with a single twist of the wrist, the sheet of copper could be bent into the correct shape. By the use of this simple device, she could do in three and one-half hours the work that formerly had taken five hours.

The company was so impressed by the effectiveness of this simple device that the company gave her a cash award of $111, and a $25 war bond.

The important thing here is that Mrs. Mechling, a housewife, worked out something that none of the learned engineers around the plant had thought of.

Charles R. Riker of this plant made a significant statement. He is the coordinator of suggestions for the company, and has examined 17,000 ideas. Of this number he says that 5,380 were accepted and put to work. He says: "In going over these ideas and in studying them, I am more and more impressed with this truth: good ideas are just common sense."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED

that upon approval of said application for planning funds, the Village of Plymouth, Ohio, by Mayor J. A. Lasch, is authorized to enter into a formal written contract on behalf of the said Village of Plymouth, Ohio, with Alden E. Stillson & Associates, Ltd., authorizing them to proceed with the plans and specifications for a sewer system and sewage treatment plant, said contract to provide for compensation to said engineers for their services, payable as follows:

(a) 2% of the estimated cost of the project shall be paid to the engineers at the time the general studies, surveys, outline plans approximate to which to base the approximate estimate of costs and review by appropriate governmental authorities have been completed.

(b) 2% of the estimated costs of the project shall be paid to the engineers at the time the final working drawings, detail plans, specifications, contract forms, together with final engineering estimate and approval by proper governmental authorities are turned over to the Council of the Village of Plymouth, Ohio.

(c) 2% or 3% of the contract price of the project in accordance with schedule of fees of Ohio Society of Professional Engineers shall be paid to the engineers when the Village of Plymouth, Ohio, proceeds with the construction of the project as per the plans, specifications and documents prepared under (a) and (b) above. This amount will be payable in six equal monthly payments. The first payment is to be made thirty days after the contract is awarded. For this sum, the engineers will receive and tabulate proposals, assist in awarding of contract for construction; furnish general supervision including line and grade surveys; assist in correct interpretation of plans and specifications; safeguard the Village of Plymouth, Ohio, against defects and deficiencies; prepare necessary documents for any additional permits; or other work customary to the owner-engineer relationship.

The House That Jack Built

This is the house that Jack built.

This is the wife that keeps house in the house that Jack built.

This is the washer that does the wash that helps the wife keep house in the house that Jack built.

This is the iron that irons the wash the washer washed, that helps the wife keep house in the house that Jack built.

This is the wire that carries the power that heats the iron, and turns the washer that does the wash, that helps the wife keep house in the house that Jack built.

This is the story of better living—of electric living—in Jack's house. The tale could go on endlessly. For electricity is a servant of many talents, and washing and ironing are but two.

The electric power that helps Jack's wife is always ready, dependable, available in any quantity at any time. And Jack doesn't need much Jack to pay the bill.

This is the company that strings the wires and makes the power that gives the Jacks—and ours—families like them—all the comforts and conveniences of electric living.

Mosiers Write From Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Park Mosier who recently left Plymouth for Florida write back that they had a splendid trip down and have been enjoying themselves since their arrival at Leesburg, Fla. However, the housing situation is acute, and unless reservations are made in advance, there is little possibility of obtaining either rooms, hotel accommodations or apartments. Mr. and Mrs. Mosier were very fortunate, and will soon occupy a new five room bungalow. Mr. Mosier has also obtained work, working for a former boss.

The citrus fruit crop is expected to reach the 100,000,000 bushel mark but living costs are very high; corn is ten cents an ear, butter 75 cents a pound and soap is very scarce. Both Mr. and Mrs. Mosier are feeling fine, send their regards to former friends and are hoping the change in climate will greatly aid Mr. Mosier.

Sister Kenny's Love Story. Countless thousands know She has devoted years to serving mankind. That is her life. But she had another life known to few. Warren Hall tells about that other, romantic side of this remarkable woman in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next week's CHICAGO SUNDAY HERALD AMERICAN.

CONVALESCING Mr. Frank Kenestrick is convalescing from an infected foot at the Willard Municipal Hospital where he has been a patient the past week.

ARMY LOADS SHIPS . . . The army took a hand in the shipping strike when soldiers replaced longshoremen in unloading the S. S. President Tyler, which arrived from Germany with war brides and families of servicemen.

SNAKE CULT . . . Freshman Gordon Miller, Ephraim, Ga., quoted "the word of God say 'ye shall take up serpents,' and thus began the most serious of the snake handling church, under a crude, old-time bark arbor on the side of a dusty road near Ephraim.

"Garden of Eat'n" At New Haven, One of Finest Dining Spots In This Section, Opened Up Last Week

The realization of a dream came true last week, when Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Points, of New Haven, announced the opening of their new restaurant, "The Garden of Eat'n". At the outbreak of the war, Mr. and Mrs. Points had completed a restaurant on U. S. Route 224, just east of New Haven, when gas rationing and a scarcity of food forced them to close for the duration. Mr. Points during the war, was employed at the Pears Supply Company of Shelby as engineer. During the years he kept in mind the operation of a restaurant at New Haven. The past year work was done intermittently on an old structure at the intersection of U. S. Route 224 and State Route 61, across from the New Haven schools. Since March work has been going on completing the interior of the new building, installing plumbing and electricity, and the purchasing of needed equipment. Under present conditions the work of finishing up was a long and hard task, requiring many weeks and hours. But on Monday last week, when the doors to the "Garden of Eat'n" were thrown open, for another pleasing personality joined the staff of congenial clerks that serve the community when Roy (Marshall) Burns joined the Brown and Miller Hardware this week.

Burns is a native son of the community, attending school at Shiloh, and graduating from Plymouth High in 1941. He served three years, one month, sixteen days and sixteen hours with the Army Air Force, being stationed mainly at Scott Field as radio instructor.

At his termination with the Army he went to the Pears Supply Dept., Shelby, where he was employed until the time he accepted his position with Brown & Miller.

Burns married Katherine Predmore on Enstler, 1942 and they now reside in Plymouth. He invites all his friends and acquaintances to call on him at Brown & Miller's.

MARRIED AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in St. Joseph's Church, Plymouth, Miss Rosemary Reber of Plymouth Route and Mr. George Miller of Shelby exchanged nuptial vows before a large group of relatives and friends. Rev. Fr. C. S. Wortman, officiated, using the single ring ceremony.

The bride was attired in a light blue suit with black accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. She was attended by Patricia Bettac and her brother Eugene Bettac was best man.

The new Mrs. Miller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Reber of Plymouth Route, attended Shiloh High School and before her marriage was employed at the Shelby Metal Products Company.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Rose Miller of Galion and resides on a farm northwest of Shelby where the young couple will make their home. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home for the bridal party.

communities can boast of a finer restaurant. The interior is finished in cream and light brown, with all woodwork being done in "natural". Maroon floors and tables harmonize with all of the fixtures, and all windows are draped in a harmonious fashion. A number of fluorescent lights give a "daylight" appearance to the restaurant at night.

The latest restaurant equipment has been installed, toasters, waffle-irons, grills, tables, and tables. Sandwiches and light foods are prepared in a neatly arranged counter service in the main dining room, while for the regular cooking, a large type restaurant stove, steam table, and other facilities, are in the spacious kitchen which adjoins the dining room. The arrangement of the dining room and kitchen are most desirable for serving food, and through the careful planning displayed by Mr. and Mrs. Points, much time and effort will be saved in the preparation and serving meals.

At present, the Garden of Eat'n will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 11:00 p. m. Sandwiches, short orders and regular meals will be featured, and especially "chicken-in-the-rough."

An invitation is extended to the people of Plymouth to stop in at The Garden of Eat'n, where Mr. and Mrs. Points will be glad to show them their new restaurant.

Assumes New Job J. H. Stimson, who recently resigned his position as assistant cashier with the Citizens Bank of Shelby, after 33 years of service, has accepted a position as secretary-treasurer with the newly organized Red Ball Manufacturing Company at Spokane, Wash. The company will manufacture pre-heaters for diesel motors and large trucks. Similar equipment was used in the construction of the Alcan Highway and is now in use by the army in Alaska.

Mr. Stimson will be associated in the new enterprise with his son-in-law, E. A. Sprue, one of several organizers of the company. Mr. and Mrs. Stimson will leave for the west as soon as they dispose of their property in Shelby.

In Columbus

H. H. Fackler was in Columbus Monday where he attended the law suit of the OPA against Ball Chambers of Grove City, Ohio, on sixteen charges of slaughtering. Twenty-six counties had delegates present.
