FRIENDS were glad to see Mr. and Mrs. Park Mosier, who moved up from Leesburg, Fla., arriving here Saturday morning. They were called to Plymouth due to their mother's illness. They left Plymouth Wednesday morning for Leesburg, Fla., and returned to their home in Leesburg, Park Mosier, who is a physician, stopped in to say: "Hello," and after a few minutes conversation, he said he was going to go back to his home in Leesburg, Fla., and leave his wife in the care of the Florida Highway department. He said he is in wonderful "trim." He asked how he stood the recent storm. He said, "Fine," and that at his section the wind got up to fifty miles an hour followed by a deluge of water. Crops suffered from the storm, and there still remains some evidence of the havoc wrought. We were doubly glad to see Park for he remembered us with a box of "pickled, tree-ripened fruit."

HE OUTLOOK for a happy Christmas is somewhat dark for the Jerry Caywoods. Wednesday night of last week, Jerry came home after closing hours at the Plymouth Cash Market. He was greeted by a sign on the door that read "Fever" (Max's catch), his six-year old son, had come down with the fever, and the family is in quarantine. If their youngest son, Jimmy, does not show up with it the Caywoods might have the family to look for the holiday, but if he does . . . Well, anyway, Mrs. Caywood is doing a little Christmas shopping by remote control through her mother-in-law, Mrs. Earl Caywood. Jerry is staying with his parents while his home is closed.

REFRIGERATED CANDY case has been added to the modern group of selling aids at Gebber's Rexall Store. Thomas Gebber has been busy this week hanging banners, displaying new merchandise, and the general appearance is that of one of the "Marshall Drug" stores. Tommy is really proud of his cosmetics counter, and all the popular brands of everything for women can be found here. It's going to be difficult to pass up the candy case . . . I'll say.

NE HOUR BY PLANE from Mansfield to Pittsburgh, but

By Johnson, locomotive sales engineer of the Plymouth Locomotive Works, is convinced he can build an engine, lay the track, and get to Pittsburgh quicker than the route he took last Wednesday. He and Mrs. Johnson left home with the intention of making a quick haul.

However, they wound up by having to go to Columbus for the take-off, instead of Mansfield, due to bad weather. On the return trip home, the plane had to pass up Mansfield again, and go to Columbus, and they had to go

Columbus, and they had to go back to Mansfield to get their car. A lot of traveling by motor and rail for an hour's flight by plane which is the time required to make the trip. They arrived in Plymouth Friday night. Nothing was said about the scenery, or a low ceiling obscured every-

MISS VIRGINIA SHEPHERD WED AT RITES HELD IN SHELBY

The Evangelical United Brethren Church in Shelby, Ohio, was the scene of the very pretty winter wedding of Miss Virginia Dawn Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Shepherd of Shiloh and Mrs. G. M. Scott of Shelby at seven thirty, Saturday evening, December 6th. Open church was observed.

Mrs. John Searis, Jr., presiding at the organ played the processional and recessional wedding marches, also "Indian Love Call," "Always," and "O, Promise Me," and Miss Cherry Moser, classmate of the bride sang, "I Love You Truly," and "Through the Years."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was lovely in a street length, crepe dress of teal blue with gold trim. Her small hat also of blue was draped with a gold veil. She wore a gold locket, a gift of the

I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old, familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet
The words repeat
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

And thought how, as the day had come,
The bell of all Christendom
Had rolled along
The unbroken song
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

Till, ringing, singing on its way,
The world revolved from night to day,
A voice, a chime,
A chant sublime
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

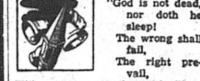

Then from each black, accursed mouth
The cannon thundered in the South,
And with the sound
The carols drowned
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

It was as if an earthquake rent
The hearthstones of a continent,
And made forlorn
The households born
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

And in despair I bowed my head;
"There is no peace on earth," I said,
"For hate is strong,
And mocks the song
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!"

Then pealed the bells more loud and deep:
"God is not dead,
Nor doth he sleep!
The wrong shall fall,
The right prevail,
With peace on earth, good-will to men!"

RURAL LIFE CENTER SITE ACQUIRED

A meeting place for rural residents of Richland county was nearer reality this week as the board of directors of the Richland Rural Life Center announced purchase of an 80-acre site in Weller township.

The site was purchased from Floyd Reding. The property is one-half mile east of the Oakland Church.

Meanwhile, incorporation papers were issued in Columbus to the new organization which will operate the center. The group was incorporated as a non-profit organization for promoting educational, and character-building activities.

Incorporators were listed as T. H. Sheppard, Rev. Floyd Eckert, Richard McFarland, Beatrice Boals, Mrs. Florence Franks and Richard Wolford.

Estimated cost of the project has been set at $40,000. Canvassers have been asking contributions from rural residents in the county during the past two months.

The rural life center, to be used as an all-year meeting site for rural organizations and as a camp, will be operated by a board of directors — two elected from each township.

READERS' FORUM

ACTION TAKEN BY THE LOCAL

M. E. CHURCH

It seems to be necessary to set forth the position that the local Methodist Church and its Pastor have taken recently in the matter of liquor permit for the sale of hard liquors in the American Legion Hall which is within 500 feet of the church. Because some have been making false statements, saying that the pastor and the Methodist Church are against the American Legion as an organization, this statement becomes necessary.

Our Shiloh and Plymouth Methodist Churches had about one hundred twenty young men in the service and did all they could for them during the war and they still are willing to aid them in any way. No, the Methodist Church and also its pastor are not against the American Legion.

Our Plymouth Methodist Church voted unanimously against the sale of hard liquors within 500 feet of it. The law was written to protect schools, libraries and churches from the liquor business. The church and its pastor are against liquor and not any individual or organization. From the bishops to the most insignificant minister there always has been opposition to the liquor business and the fight shall continue. The Official Board voted to continue the opposition by referring the matter to the Temperance Committee, looking forward to the time when a local option vote will be taken to see if the people want the liquor business to remain in this community. Most of Ohio has already voted dry in local option elections and this matter shall soon be brought before every community.

Up for Re-Election

As the names begin to appear on the political horizon, comes the name of Harold B. Collier, who appears as a candidate for re-election.

When interviewed this week the treasurer states he has taken out petitions, and will within a few days circulate them. He bases his candidacy and qualifications on his record of having reduced to a virtual minimum all delinquencies such as Real Estate, special assessments, Personal Property, etc.

Collier, was, in October, elected President of the State Association of County Treasurers. He has been active in past years on the Legislative Committee of the Association and a member of the State Local Government Committee.

FORMER PLYMOUTH WOMAN HOLDS OFFICE IN LODGE

The North Fairfield O. E. S. No. 40 recently elected the following officers for the new year: Worthy Matron, Eleanor Lewis; Worthy Patron, Ryerson Rose; Associate Matron, Kathryn Woodworth; Associate Patron, Warren McIntire; Secretary, Isabell Knight; Chaplain, Annis Wade; Treasurer, Marie Lippert; Trustee, Mary Beelman; Trustees, Annis Wade.

Installation services will be held on December 23rd.

WELL—IT IS SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT—Hollywood—Charles Korvin, who recently returned from a movie-making junket in Europe quite worried over world affairs, has a typically Korvinish idea for maintaining peace.

"Let's exempt from all future drafts, all over the world, any man under 45," Korvin suggests, "and instead put in uniform every man over 45, regardless of his position in politics or industry."

"There should be no exceptions. With the Viskinsky and some of the others in uniform, our wars wouldn't last very long. 'The people who cry loudest for wars now would shut up. Even if we were declared, men over 45 wouldn't have the stamina to continue them more than a few months.'"

Recalling the high percentage of rejections due to physical disability during World War II, Korvin added:

"And just think what a wonderful percentage of physical rejections there would be if only men over 45 were eligible. There practically wouldn't be anybody left to fight."

MORE 4-F's? NEVER AGAIN

No man ever again will be rejected from military service because of a defect that is non-hampering in civilian life. Read about the Army's new plan for making greater use of manpower in future mobilizations, as told in The American Weekly with this Sunday's (December 14) issue of The Detroit Sunday Times.

Morris and Julia Williams of Chaffield were Sunday afternoon callers at the Walter Dawson home.

The family is well known in this community, Mr. Smith being a native of Willard and Mrs. Smith's family home in Shelby.

SHELBY ADVERTISING MAN CO-HOLDER OF AUTO CARD PATENT

NEWTON, MASS.—On November 18, 1947 the United States Patent Office granted patent number 2,431,108 on a "Bumper Card Holder" to Wayne M. Carleton, Shelby advertising agent, and Frank A. Post, New London, Ohio.

This invention pertained to a device for supporting a card for display purposes in a vertical position above an automobile bumper.

This patent has been assigned to the Fair Publishing Co., New London, Ohio.

The entire proceeds will be placed in the building fund to add new room to the church as soon as possible. The ladies still have useful and pretty articles on hand which will make fine Christmas presents, and which can be seen at the homes of Hazel Anderson, Mary Lewis and Jessie Cole.

Miss Wilma Ely of Savannah enjoyed Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Donald Ford and family. Ed Silliman of the North Street Road is quite ill at his home.

ATTENDS T-B MEET FRIDAY

Mr. Wayne Alleshouse, representative director of the Huron County Tuberculosis and Health Association, will attend the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association Friday, December 12th at the Neil House, in Columbus.

The Ohio Tuberculosis and Health Association is the headquarters for all voluntary tuberculosis work in the state. Each of the eighty-eight county tuberculosis associations is affiliated with the state organization. The groups carry out a coordinated program of tuberculosis control, education, health legislation and one financial drive, the Christmas

Seal Campaign, which supports all of their tuberculosis work.

The Christmas Seal campaign in Huron County which is entering its third week is counted highly successful, according to Mr. J. V. Molsen, Chairman. Returns total approximately $2700. Anyone desiring seals may receive them by addressing a card of request to Huron Co. TB Association, P. O. Drawer 148, Norwalk, Ohio.

The sending of a representative director to the state meeting to assist in planning the state-wide program entitles the Huron County Tuberculosis and Health Association to an additional sum of money from the annual seal of Christmas Seals. Normally, 80% of the funds raised are spent locally. Under the representation system of participation the county tuberculosis association will spend approximately 85% of the Christmas Seal fund on control measures in the county.

The remaining 15% is used on a state and national basis, for research, education, legislation and other forms of tuberculosis control and public health promotion.

BOARD SETS FAIR FOR SEPT 17-18

The Richland County Agricultural society Saturday afternoon tentatively set the 1948 fair for Sept. 17th and 18th, a Friday and Saturday.

The dates are subject to approval of the county board of education. Society members met at the Court House.

Three women were appointed to the fair board, marking the first time women have been given fair posts in Mansfield. Named were Mrs. Jane Williams, Mansfield; Mrs. Elmer Snavely, Lexington; and Mrs. Victor Stein, of Shelby.

Dwight McCullough was named as a representative of the Chamber of Commerce.

Re-elected to three-year terms on the board of directors at the meeting in the court house were H. H. Wolf, Franklin township, Floyd Mowery, Jefferson township, and Arthur Mellick, Bloomington township.

Two other directors, Forrest Ellis of Shelby and Glenn Guthrie of Mansfield, failed to submit petitions and their posts were declared vacant.

The board named L. L. Rinehart, Sandusky township, president of the society, and Earl Huston, Shiloh, as delegates to the annual Ohio fair convention in Columbus Jan. 14 and 15. Selected as alternates were Clarence Tugend, Perryville, and Charles Oberlin, Greenwich.

Board members to fill the vacated directors' posts will be named at the next meeting, Jan. 3rd at 1:30 p. m. in the court house. At the same time, the president, vice president, secretary, and the treasurer will be elected for 1948.

WHERE'S DADDY?

By DANIEL F. LINDSAY

KALLY O'NEIL walked slowly up the front steps. Her mother watched her from behind the curtain. Being five years old and having a problem had her near tears. She reached up on tip toes and opened the living room door.

"Kally, honey. Come in here a minute." Kally pushed the hood of her snow suit back and went into the living room.

"What do you want, Mommie?" She shook her blonde curls free.

"Oh, nothing much," her mother smiled. "I just want to know why my little girl looks so sad."

"Well, Mommie," she slipped her coat off. "It's that girl down the street."

"Yes, dear, what about her?" Kally could stand it no longer. She burst into tears and running over laid her head on her mother's lap.

"That girl says," she sobbed, "that there isn't any Santa Claus."

"Well, now," her mother leaned down and gently bit the tip of her ear, "who'd ever believe a tale like that?"

"You don't believe her?"

"Of course not," she smiled down into the worried blue eyes. "We know there's a Santa Claus."

"But she said Daddy was him."

"Oh, pooh. Sit down there on the floor and I'll help you get your snow pants off."

"We could ask Daddy," Kally suggested.

"Yes, we could," she had an inspiration. "Better still we can wait until tomorrow night and see for ourselves."

"We can?" she sat up in surprise.

"Sure. You go to bed just like always, then when he comes I'll wake you up."

"Santa was just coming out."

She got up from the floor all excited. "You mean we can peek?"

"That's just what we'll do."

"Great!" she turned to her husband that evening after Kally had been put to bed, "our daughter has quite a problem."

"Women always have problems," he smiled over his newspaper.

"What is it this time?"

"She knows about Santa."

"That's too bad," he pursed his lips, "but what can we do?"

"Get someone to put her toys under the tree while she watches."

"Sure," he laid the paper down, "why couldn't I do it?"

"She heard that you are Santa."

He chuckled. "She isn't the only woman in the family thinks that."

"How about Bob Perkins?" She ignored his attempt at humor. "He's the right build."

"Okay," he agreed, "I'll arrange it in the morning."

"Kally," her mother shook her gently, "Santa is downstairs."

"He is?" she sat up rubbing her eyes. "HE IS!"

"Okay," she slipped out of bed and into her slippers. In the early morning light she looked like a tiny blond elf.

"Put on your robe."

SHE got it and took her mother's hand. They crept down the stairs. Mommie held her back while she made sure Santa wasn't smoking a cigar. He was placing gifts around the tree. She motioned her to look. Kally peeked around the corner with big eyes. Then her head darted back.

"Where's daddy?" she asked in a stage whisper.

They heard footsteps on the stairs. Daddy crept down. Kally peeked around the corner again. Santa was just coming out with an army barracks bag over his shoulder. The three of them ran and hid behind the staircase. As soon as the front door slammed Kally was up the steps like a shot.

"Hey, Sweetheart," Daddy called after her, "he left the toys in the living room." He stopped as he heard his wife's laughter.

"What's the matter with her?" he glared at her suspiciously. "Don't she like the trick?"

"I'm afraid, dear, that you'll never understand the feminine mind."

"What do you mean . . . where's she going?"

"To get her coat."

"Her coat . . . why?"

"She's going down the street to tell the little girl that she's all wet, because she has just seen Santa in her front room."

Whatever Name, Santa Is There

SANTA CLAUS is not always the merry, jovial, fat-clad saint behind a team of reindeer. He is almost as many versions of Santa as there are nationalities—Father Christmas, Kris Kringle, St. Nicholas or even Babouska. But, whatever his name, he is loved and welcomed by all children.

In America on Christmas Eve there is a merry tinkling of sleigh bells as Santa Claus drives up in a sleigh drawn by eight reindeer.

Before, who sails through the air on a broom stick. She leaves her presents for the children behind the hearth.

Papa Noel, who is very similar to Santa Claus, reigns in Brazil. Like Santa, he wears a red suit and travels custom to England from Germany.

In Finland Santa has elves who pass out gifts for him. This generous group is known as Walenmoen and Akko.

Babouska, a young and beautiful girl, brings the gifts in Russia. Grandfather Frost accompanies Babouska in a sleigh as she makes her rounds on Christmas Eve.

Italy has no Santa Claus, but in his place is a beneficent old witch, Befana, who sails through the air on a broom stick. She leaves her presents for the children behind the hearth.

Papa Noel, who is very similar to Santa Claus, reigns in Brazil. Like Santa, he wears a red suit and travels adorned with tinsel, gay ornaments and lighted candles, or electrical lights now in vogue.

It's not always Santa who brings gifts to children in other lands. The Dutch children anxiously await the arrival of St. Nicholas. He was the bishop of Myra, so he is dressed in the traditional bishop's robes of black, wears a mitre and carries the crozier. He rides a white horse named "Sleipner" and is accompanied by Black Peter, his page boy.

Instead of hanging up their stockings, Dutch children place their wooden shoes in the chimney corner before going to bed. On the window sills they leave a bunch of hay for "Sleipner." It is customary for St. Nicholas to overturn chairs and leave the room in general confusion for Christmas morning.

THE English children look for a Santa Claus who closely resembles their own. They also find gifts tied to a green Christmas tree but this custom has been in effect only since Queen Victoria was a young bride. Her husband, Albert, a German prince, introduced this Christmas custom.

AN ANGEL, who descends on a golden cord to accompany Santa, leaves the gifts in Czechoslovakia.

Dwarfs bring the gifts to Scandinavian children, who in turn leave bowls of porridge on the doorstep for their benefactors. The gifts are distributed at the supper hour. In Sweden, every family places a sheaf of grain on a pole or on fence posts for the birds' Christmas dinner.

Spanish children also place grain on the window sills so that the Magi may feed their horses when they bring the gifts. Older people fill an Urn of Fate from which the gifts are drawn on Christmas Day.

Lapland's benefactor is the Christmas Goat, or Old Man Christmas. He wears a strange garb, a hooded fur coat, long whiskers and a false nose.

A radiant angel, who rides in a sleigh drawn by six reindeer, brings the gifts to children of Switzerland.

THE new change was made per orders from Fort Hayes, Ohio, headquarters for recruiting in Ohio. Portman went on to say this change also affects Erie County, which will come under the command of Captain Pine also.

The Captain is a veteran of seven years Air Force service and also service as a navigator on B-17 and 29's in both the European and South Pacific Theater. He is married and owns his own home in Lorain and his parents reside in New York City.

One hundred and seventy-five or more lamb producers in Huron and surrounding Counties, attended the Open House meeting at the Greenhich Lamb Pool on Thursday, December 4th. By HELEYN CONNELLY

BETTY JANE threw her purse at a chair and sat down heavily on the bed. She wore her father's shirt and her brother's blue jeans, a costume she adopted a year before with Woody Anderson's permission. "What's the matter, dear?" She jumped as the words cut the silence, but she didn't turn. She didn't want her mother to know anything was amiss—not yet, anyway. And then suddenly the tears came, like angry flood waters bursting through a barrier, unable to be restrained any longer.

Mrs. Miller was careful to keep a straight face as she wiped her 16-year-old daughter's face with her handkerchief. "Why, dear? Did Lance upset you?"

Betty Jane shook her head vehemently. Why did mother always think her brother was to blame for her tears? Grown women never cried over their brothers! It's what Lance saw, not what he did. Betty said in a burst of confidence. As her mother waited she continued wretchedly. "He saw Woody buying a bottle of cologne. Cologne, mother, imagine! He was so glib when he told me I looked cute in jeans and now he's two-timing me with some fluffy female who actually uses cologne! Oh, how can men be so beastly!"

"Gosh, you look wonderful like this!"

"Darling, how do you know the cologne isn't for you? Maybe Woody thinks you're outgrown your jeans." "He knows what I think of these pink and white girls who use that horrible concoction! He wouldn't dare get me any. And besides, I already told him I wanted roller skates for Christmas. . . I have to be ready for the new rink that's opening next month, don't I? I thought Woody and I would be going together, but now that's all over. She threw her arms around her mother and cried tragically. "Oh, mother, I'll never smile again! I definitely won't!"

This time Mrs. Miller smiled over her daughter's head. She well recognized the stage Betty Jane was going through and decided she must take a hand. "You're sure the cologne wouldn't be for a sister or a cousin?" "He isn't a female in the family, and his mother never uses it, so who else could it possibly be for? I'll bet it's for Estelle Bryan. All the other fellows like her but Woody used to say she was too fragile. Oh, mother, how he deceived me!"

HER mother arose. "Well, dry your eyes, Betty, dear. It's Christmas Eve and you want to be happy today. Woody will probably come over with your roller skates to-night and we'll surprise him. If he likes fragile girls, he'll get one."

Betty Jane sat up straight. "Mother, no! Not that horrible blue dress you bought me!" "You wash up and put that dress on, Betty."

"We'll wait for you downstairs." With that, Mrs. Miller closed the door on her tomboy daughter and hurried downstairs. As she reached the bottom step the doorbell rang and she admitted Woody Anderson, a lanky boy with unruly red hair and freckles marching in perfect formation over the bridge of his nose. He was clutching a box, obviously containing the roller skates requested by Betty Jane.

"She'll be right down," Mrs. Miller informed him, then left him alone for the surprise.

It came a half-hour later when Betty Jane made her appearance. The blue dress looked even better than she had hoped it would.

"Gosh, Betty Jane!" Woody contributed to the conversation. The smile broadened. "For me, Woody?" she asked, nodding toward the box. "Is it cologne? Lance saw you buying some." So casual, so indifferent.

"Uh—gosh, no, Betty Jane. Gee, you asked for skates and I got them for you. I bought cologne for Miss Lindsay, the English teacher that helped me with my essay for that contest."

"How sweet of you." She stepped down into the living room and accepted the box from Woody. "Thank you," she said gravely. "You're under the tree."

"Gee, I didn't think I'd ever like you dressed up as a girl, Betty," he gulped. "Estelle looked so awful and I was proud to have you run around with me in blue jeans, but gosh, you look wonderful like this!"

WILD STEER LIVES

IN WILD SECTION OF MUCK NEAR WILLARD

WILLARD—The wild section of the muck harbors many wild animals including deer and foxes. Several years ago a badger was killed in that vicinity and since last fall a wild western steer has been hiding in the fastness of the several hundred acres of brush, briars and marsh.

The steer escaped after fire destroyed the barns on the Fred Heister farms in south west Richland township.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

"Terrible, Terrible, Terrible!"

Ben Ryder is back! After twenty years in Capital City, Ben has retired and come to enjoy life in the family house on Maple Street.

First thing Ben does is write us complaining how Our Town has changed. "Why, there's no mud in the streets to sink up to your ankles in!" he says. "No pistol feuding in the town square! No moonshine liquor or Saturday night brawls! Nothing to do but settle for a temperate glass of beer in a law-abiding tavern!"

"Terrible, terrible, terrible," Ben says, "how a town can get run down in twenty years! And then Ben takes his tongue out of his cheek and tells us how proud he is of the orderly, law-abiding atmosphere he finds here."

And from where I sit, you can point to that growing preference for a moderate, wholesome glass of beer as one reason folks in Our Town are so temperate, and neighborly and well-behaved.

XMAS SEALS NOW ON SALE

The forty-first annual Christmas Seal Sale opens over the nation on November 24th and continues until Christmas Day. On Monday 1194 letters containing sheets of Christmas Seals or Bonds were delivered to residents of Huron County. This is the greatest number of people ever to receive Christmas Seals in this county.

The huge quantity of seals needed in the U. S. were lithographed by four different lithographing companies. The tiny initial of the Lithographing Co. printing Huron County's seals may be discovered marked on one seal in the sixth row from the left and the sixth row down. Nearly a million and a half seals arrived in Huron County during the summer months. They were folded and tied ready for placing in envelopes by members of the Rainbow Class of the Presbyterian Church, Norwalk. The actual work of stuffing the thousands of envelopes was done by members of Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Of the money raised by the sale of Christmas seals, 85% remains in the County while 15% goes to the Ohio TB & Health Association and 5% goes to National TB Association.

Christmas Seal dollars do educational and diagnostic work. They have paid for large X-rays of many Huron County residents during the last twelve months. More and more people are availing themselves of this service, due no doubt to the mass X-ray service programs being sponsored by the Huron County TB & Health Association and the Huron County Department of Health.

Reports from the last mass X-ray held at the Huron County Fair in a mobile unit owned and operated by the Ohio State Dept. of Health, and his public health nurses have been working diligently on the follow-up of twenty-six cases read as suspected tuberculosis, out of 1672 people filmed. The discovery of actual cases of tuberculosis, which is based upon intricate tests many times as now, requires months.

Anyone desiring seals and not receiving them through the mail may have them by mailing a card of request to Huron County TB Association, P. O. Drawer 148, Norwalk.

You demand It Industry depends on It The Nation must have It

What is IT?

adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation"

FROM THE OFFICIAL REPORT of the Interstate Commerce Commission on awarding a temporary freight rate increase of 10%, we quote:

"The law requires us to give due consideration, among other factors, to the need of revenue sufficient to enable the carriers under honest, economic, and efficient management to provide adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation..."

A moment's thought should convince any fair-minded person that keeping the American railroads healthy is to everybody's advantage.

Every family, every businessman, even the Nation itself is in danger when this vital artery of American life is weakened.

And that threat is real, and it is now. For with increases in the cost of railroad operation piling up one atop another, how can the railroads' multimillion dollar program for desperately needed new equipment be continued? How can improvements in roadbeds, yards, stations, rolling stock, which took a merciless beating in the war years of peak traffic, be carried through?

They can't... UNLESS—

Unless the railroads are granted freight rates adequate to meet the wage and materials cost increases, and at the same time keep hundreds of American industries busy with new machinery and equipment orders.

Government requires that the railroads maintain a high standard of efficiency because You demand it, Industry depends on it, and the Nation must have it.

We are asking a permanent freight rate increase of the absolute minimum to meet our need—which is in every sense your need.

Our request should be granted.

COST INCREASES VS. RATE INCREASES
Class I Railroads, U. S. (Since 1946)
Operating Expenses, Excluding Depreciation	$5,029,000,000
Operating Expenses, Including Depreciation	$7,771,000,000

These figures do not include demands of train service organizations for changed id working rules nor for wage increases not already granted.
