

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT HIGH SCHOOL FOR GRADUATION OF 25

In comparison to the slim audiences of twenty years ago, the high school auditorium was packed to capacity at the graduation exercises last Thursday night as twenty-four seniors received their diplomas, ending twelve years of school activities.

The program started promptly at eight o'clock with Julia Dawson and Janice Ramsey at twin pianos, playing the prelude, Pomp and Circumstance. The seniors began their march from the rear of the auditorium down the two aisles and in their dark blue caps and gowns they were accompanied by the juniors at first in colorful and glorifying formal and evening dress. Their march to the front of the auditorium gave the audience a rare close-up of the seniors and juniors which drew admiration from every corner.

Following the invocation by Rev. Bethel, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Agnes Roberts, president of the senior class, Edna Rhine, at the piano, rendered "Ave Marie"—Schubert, in perfect fashion. As valedictorian of the graduating class, Mary Ellen Thomas gave a short talk "At the Fork of the Road." She was followed by Margaret Kemp, salutatorian, who also gave a talk.

There was every evidence of hard work and constant training by Miss Joy Bethel when the boys' and girls' glee clubs sang "The American Dream." The rendition was in perfect time thru-out, and this number of the program was greatly enjoyed by all.

Sup. P. L. Van Brunt introduced the speaker, Dr. Robert White, Dean of Education, Kent State University, who took twenty-five seconds to get the audience into a highly interested mood as he opened his address—"The American Dream." He told the seniors exactly how they felt on their graduation night; leaving school and entering a new world—walking high on top. He wished them individual goals, but with the realization that the American idealism which would set them right again. Dr. White gave reference to the various eras in which our nation faced perplexing circumstances, but always came out of all problems by faith, perseverance and idealism. Dr. White pointed out that in speaking idealism, it was not a selfish state, but a desire within ourselves to do something or create, which would benefit our fellowman and the world. Idealism is that desire to enjoy a full and free life — to help others, and to perpetuate the things that our country stands for — truly, an American Dream!

In presenting the class, Supt. P. L. Van Brunt spoke briefly of the achievements by the students — the general progress of the local school. In accepting the class, George Herschler, president, represented the Board of Education in his well-chosen words of congratulations to the students as he presented them with their much-cherished diplomas.

Following the presentation of diplomas, Supt. Van Brunt made special awards to Mary Ellen Thomas, Ruth Ford, Margaret Kemp and Agnes Roberts. The four students participated in a cash award given by the Pioneer Rubber Co., Willard, while Miss Thomas received a scholarship from Capital University, Columbus, and a year's subscription to Reader's Digest.

In the closing part of the exercises Margaret Kemp sang a solo, with Rev. Haines pronouncing the benediction. Louis Root, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Root, played a piano solo for the occasion, while the graduates took their places in front of the stage where they were congratulated by family and friends.

It said in a statement that if improvement in sugar supplies continues, additional sugar above 25 pounds will be made available to consumers.

PLYMOUTH'S ANNUAL ALUMNI BANQUET SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW EVENING

Plymouth's annual alumni banquet, scheduled for tomorrow evening, Friday, May 26, at the high school auditorium, promises to be one of the biggest and most entertaining affairs in its history. The banquet will be prepared by the school's T.V.A. and will start at 8:30 o'clock. A tempting meal is promised, interspersed with short talks by returning alumni.

Raymond Page of Shelby, and a member of the class of 1923, whose members will be honored, will preside as toastmaster. Out of a class of fifteen, only three are present, as no doubt many memories will be recalled and suggestions made.

In the fifty-year class, two of its four living members will be present. Mrs. Ray Sykes and Mrs. Edna Crawford Anderson, both of whom attended the school, will be present. Mrs. Anderson, who attended at the time of the school's first year, will be in the audience. Mrs. Anderson will be in the audience.

DECORATION DAY

On a cold December morning
In Nineteen Forty-one
The bugles shrilled assembly,
Our World War Two'd begun.
From North and South and East and West
Our boys leaped to the fray,
On sea, in air, lands everywhere
They, smashing, made their way
And won for us a victory
That plainly proved their worth . . .
That the soldiers of the U. S. A.
Are the finest ones on earth.

Let's pause today to honor them
And shed a tear or two
For comrades that we knew and loved
Who sleep beneath the dew
Of foreign lands, in foreign soils
On isles where palm trees sway,
Whose sacrifices made possible
The Peace we know today.

THE LEGIONNAIRES

PLYMOUTH WILL OBSERVE DAY WITH PARADE

LT. Col. S. H. Raymond, commanding officer of the 831st A. F. specialized Depot at Shelby, will observe it with a war dead in a befitting ceremony. If it rains (as usual) the exercises will be held in the high school auditorium. In any event, appropriate services have been planned by the American Legion to commemorate our fallen heroes.

Since starting the observance of honoring the soldier dead at the close of the Civil War, with a Memorial Day, both the Blue and the Gray have dwindled away, but we still have with us many of World War I veterans, as well as those who served in World War II who will continue to perpetuate the memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice in all wars.

Commandant Lyle Biddinger of the American Legion requests that all members of the Legion assemble at the Legion Hall at 10 a. m. Friday, and that members of the American Legion Auxiliary and ex-service men also be present to participate in the Memorial Day parade. Boy and Girl Scouts are also asked to join, as well as other patriotic and civic groups. The parade will start at 10 a. m. at the Public Square, and headed by the Ganges band, the march will be made to Greenlawn cemetery, where Rev. M. P. Peatrnick, pastor of the Lutheran church, will deliver a message of tribute.

Memorial Day in Plymouth has always been observed as something of a homecoming day, and if fair weather prevails for the week-end it is expected that scores of visitors will be in town, not only for the attendance of the exercises, but to visit friends and relatives. The bank, postoffice and majority of the business places will be closed Friday.

Memorial Day is a day of double holiday for employees of the Fate-Root-Heath company, giving them Friday and Saturday for the week-end. Local stores will open for business as usual on Saturday morning.

Montgomery of Lakeland, Fla., and Robert Kirkland of Washington, D. C., are expected to be in town for the week-end.

Dr. Harold U. Sykes, class of 1908, of Lakewood, and Harry B. Kirkland, class of 1895, prominent Toledo physicians, have also sent in their reservations. More than two hundred reservations have been received up to Wednesday, which indicates a record attendance.

Following the banquet and the short talks, a well known band from Shelby, with Art Shreffler as leader, will provide music for dancing. Those who do not wish to dance, other entertainments will be available. The speakers will be the president, and her committee, have worked hard throughout the year making arrangements for this banquet. The speaker's committee will be in the audience. The first time and unusual decorations in the auditorium will be in evidence.

Workman Rites Held Today

Bert Workman, 59 of New Haven, died Monday at the Willard Municipal hospital. He had been employed at the Fate-Root-Heath Company at Plymouth as a cupola tender.

Mr. Workman is survived by his wife, Selma; three sons, John, Ralph and Harry; and three daughters, Mrs. Ralph Vaughn of Shelby and Mrs. David Williams of Plymouth; five grandchildren; two brothers and three sisters.

Funeral services will be at the Christian Reformed Church at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Rev. John Scholten will officiate and burial will be in New Haven cemetery. Friends may call at the home, 1000 W. 10th St., until 10 o'clock.

DEATH COMES TO D. E. CLARK

FUNERAL RITES THIS AFTERNOON FOR D. E. CLARK; BURIAL IN GREENLAWN.

Although with a wish to live to reach 90 years and more, Daniel E. Clark bowed in resignation to higher plans, and death came to him at the age of 89 years and four months at his family home on West Broadway, Monday afternoon, May 26, 1947.

With a zest for life and a sincere interest in the future of scientific and political advancement, until his last few days, it is easy to understand how his life would be a pattern for younger people to follow.

As a neighbor and friend, Mr. Clark was ever cheerful and helpful. He possessed a good sense of humor. He enjoyed the companionship of friends, and among his chief interests in the last few years was the care of his fine yard and gardens. He was an ardent reader and read his morning Plain Dealer until the last few days of his illness. He thoroughly enjoyed attending horse races at the county fairs, and followed the news of the Kentucky Derby and other big races this Spring by paper and radio, with an interest that surpassed that of many a younger man. He also followed closely the progress of the Major base ball season.

His parents were Nancy Kirkpatrick Clark and John Clark. There were four brothers and one sister, all of whom preceded him in death except one, sister, Mrs. Nora Hindley of Newark. The brothers were William, Clinton and Clair, twins, and infant brother John. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Ruby Clark Young, of Plymouth, and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

He attended the Plymouth school, and then as a young man worked with his cousins, the Dicksons, in Mansfield, in business, and later went west to Denver, Colorado.

On December 18, 1888 he married Mary Jane Ellis, of his home at the falls farm west of town, which later he purchased. Although the Clark rebuilt the farm home, they planned to move to town, and built the present residence on West Broadway in 1909, where the deceased has always since lived.

Mr. Clark was at one time associated in the furniture business with his son, later he conducted the business by himself. He also traveled several years for furniture companies. His wife predeceased him, dying in June, 1941, and since that time his daughter has made her home with him. He was affiliated with the Presbyterian Church in his youth, and was a member for five years, his family having been associated with the local Lutheran church. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge, disbanded, and also a member of Richmond Lodge F. & A. M. No. 201.

Death followed a severe case of influenza, causing weakness and several falls. Immediate cause of his death was heart failure. The McQuate Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements and the Rev. M. P. Peatrnick, of the Lutheran church will preach the funeral sermon at the home today Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Interment will be made in the Greenlawn cemetery. The large glacial stone marker on the family lot in Greenlawn, is a unique work. Clark was a prominent man in the Huron River near Monroeville, and later took to the farm west of town. The Clark's then set this stone as a centerpiece in their front yard on West Broadway, and later decided to use it for a memorial marker in Greenlawn.

His place as a friend, neighbor and father, can never be filled, and he is mourned sincerely by many. His friendliness and patience, especially with children, have endeared him to many, and his daily walks and shopping downtown in Plymouth, has made many new friends in his later years. The fact that so many of his friends and younger days have kept in constant touch with him throughout the years proves that he was in turn a good friend to them.

Miss Joy Bethel is spending the week in Ashabula County visiting friends.

SENIORS LEAVE SUNDAY FOR CAPITAL

When the B. & O. "Ambassador" arrives Sunday evening in Willard at 9:04, a group of twenty-one excited and enthusiastic seniors will climb aboard en route to Washington, D. C.

For the most of them, it will be their first trip by rail and first experience in the capital city. Mrs. John Lanius, sponsor of the seniors class and her husband will be the chaperones.

The train arrives at 8:30 Monday morning and from that time on until they return Thursday morning, every hour has been planned. There will be a grand double tour, seeing Arlington, Alexandria, Mt. Vernon and home and tomb of Gen. George Washington. Another point of interest will be seen in Annapolis, home of the United States Naval Academy and capital of Maryland.

Monday evening, the group will be guests at the National Theatre of Mrs. Eleanor Seale Whitney and again on Wednesday morning she has planned for them.

The trip was made possible by many projects put on by the seniors and assisted by the general community in cooperating with them. Their White Elephant Sale, Bake Sale, plays, etc. Latest donation was $200.00 by E. B. Curpen of the Curpen Jewelry Co. of Toledo. The group will spend the week over the top. The seniors and Mrs. Lanius wish to thank Mr. Curpen and all others who assisted in making their trip possible.

TWO ESCAPEES APPREHENDED

In a police net which was thrown over northern Indiana Tuesday two of the Mansfield reformatory inmates who escaped Monday afternoon have been captured. The arrests were made Wednesday at Connersville, Ind., when William Lucas, 36, of Cincinnati, was apprehended in a farm house near Connersville. Lucas, 20, of Hamilton, was arrested in that city late on Tuesday when he walked into a street patrol in the business section of Connersville.

The two men were kidnapped early Tuesday and one of them was forced to drive two of the fugitives to Indianapolis as part of a series of hold-ups and hold-ups at Connersville. As the net tightens in Indiana, it is believed that the fugitives will be apprehended within a few more hours.

A siege of excitement struck Plymouth shortly after four o'clock Monday afternoon when state patrolmen and reformatory officers and Shelby police swarmed into the Public Square. At the arrival of the "law," few citizens knew of the escape of six inmates of the Mansfield reformatory, and naturally the populace was in doubt as to whether murder had been committed, or a simple carjacking.

The guard which was thrown in Plymouth was part of a net which was formed by state police shortly after the break at the reformatory, but an hour or so, the patrolmen shifted their positions to other localities.

From the route taken by the fugitives, they evidently used the back roads, working their way north, through the town of New Washington, Atwood, and into the vicinity of Tiffin, and at Grand Rapids, Ohio, near Toledo. The truck which they were using, used, was abandoned. The fugitives then stole a car near a Maumee River cottage.

The inmate, had been working in the reformatory and about the middle of the afternoon they kidnapped their instructor, David Robinson, 25, of Shelby, whom they forced to drive the truck to Toledo for approval of the truck to pass through the gate. Robinson was held hostage in the truck until it was abandoned by the inmates. He returned to Mansfield Tuesday, and suffered no harm from his experience.

CALL ON MRS. PAULINE MOORE

Mrs. Amanda Moore and William Moore were in Avery Monday evening where they called on Mrs. Pauline Moore, who was released Monday afternoon from Good Samaritan Hospital in Sandusky. Mrs. Moore is getting along nicely.

Around the Square

(By Phineas Whittehead)

THERE ARE two out-of-town persons who are very modest in what they do and say, and we're going to be modest of what we're about to say. The occasion on which they expressed their feelings toward Plymouth and its citizens is one that can't go by without publicly thanking them. Frank Landefeld of Willard remembered the Girl Scouts in their recent campaign with a check for $50. He didn't want anything said about it, but everybody in these parts know that they don't make them any finer than Frank when it comes to a civic movement. And following up this splendid contribution, it was our pleasure Wednesday morning to find in the mail a check from Eleanor Seale Whitney for $50. "I like Mrs. Whitney states that 'although the drive is over, and I'm thrilled to know the girls got their hut, I am enclosing a check for $50 which possibly can be used in furnishing the new quarters.' Thanks a million, Frank and Eleanor, also to the Girl Scouts for the consideration shown those thirty-two girls who went to be Scouts."

OUR LOCAL DOCTOR, DR. I. E. LABarre, is about ten years old in spirit today. The reason he's that way is that he expects to leave today for a trip to Chicago. He will be taking a car, the crack B. & O. train in Willard, and will travel in the Diesel engine to and from the Windy city. He received a special permission to make the trip for $50 in the cab, and it is fulfilling one of his highest ambitions. Doc may make a trip to Milwaukee while in Chicago on one of the Northwestern's 400. There is a probability of a Railroad Club being formed in Plymouth, and besides Doc LaBarre, Doc Butner of Shiloh would doubtless be a charter member, as he already has a car and wheels.

DEATH CAME to Frank Zwemer 50, Tuesday of last week at his home in Cleveland following a long illness. Mr. Zwemer made annual trips to Plymouth during the past twenty-seven years, to audit the books of the Fate-Root-Heath Co., and during these visits he made numerous friends who will regret to learn of his death. A few years ago Mr. Zwemer entered into a newly-organized group of certified public accountants known as the American Institute of Accountants under the name of Zwemer-Epps & Co., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Root and Fred T. Buzard attended the funeral last Friday.

WITH DECORATION Day being observed here Friday, Plymouth stores will remain open, with the exception of the grocery stores. Local stores will not be open Thursday NIGHT, other than confectioneries, restaurants, and places of amusement.

Along with the Friday closing, the merchants suggest early morning shopping Thursday, when they will have complete stock of goods for the day sale. Groceries and meat shops will have special stocks on hand, and if you need shoes, clothing, picnic supplies, or other commodities, you will find them in Plymouth stores offer them all.

HOLIDAY is always an excuse for getting things done, and that's why the Black & Gold will be closed all day Friday. Weldon Cornell says some of his equipment will be replaced, and that Friday will be a good day to get the job done.

LEO BARNES has three sheep this week when dogs got into the pasture, killing three and injuring two. This is the first sheep-running incident reported here. The dogs were used to keep the dogs tied up so that they will not molest sheep as well as being a nuisance on the Square.

IF YOU WANT to buy a house, better read the want ads this Friday. Many homes, local banker and realtor, have a very good offering, even though it's at New Haven. . . turn to the want ads. . . it pays to read them.

WE DIDN'T know until this week that "Red" Fogelson, local dog cleaner, was of the "nerd" type. "I don't know how to trouble dogs to sleep, and so some times it's in the wee hours of the morning before he goes in Dreamland. Fogelson said he will be cleaning his dog for a formula for sleep."

OUTDOOR SHOW STARTS ON WED.

Edward Ramsey, proprietor of the Plymouth Theatre, announces that beginning next week his Outdoor Movie Trucks will be given their summer schedule. Mr. Ramsey has greatly improved his movie lot in the rear of the Theatre this past spring removing tons of rocks, grading and seeding it, as well as repairing seats and having the screen in good condition.

The continuous rains of the past month has retarded getting the grounds in condition but the sun showed signs of coming out Tuesday morning and possibly by next Wednesday, June 4th it will be dry and firm for the first show of the season.

The movies are sponsored each summer by the local merchants who have also planned to present their best in merchandise to those who come here to trade. The benches have been placed on the Square and Plymouth showed plenty of parking space.

These movie friends of the younger days have kept in constant touch with him throughout the years proves that he was in turn a good friend to them.

FAVORITE THREE—What makes a better threesome for a Spring day than a capably tailored suit, a perky derby hat and a jaunty cane umbrella? Eleanor Steber, on NBC's "Voice of Firestone," has chosen the suit in black with a pencil stripe of green and a quivering black derby. The umbrella, which she has swung over her shoulder, is in contrasting yellow suede.

Fashions in Hollywood

by LEE HOGAN

A REVOLUTIONARY design in travel clothes is modeled by NBC's JEAN BATES as she climbs aboard a Lockheed Constellation in Hollywood for a trip East. The smartly tailored gingham dress, fastened with chrome buttons, has a divided skirt for a maximum of comfort. Color is added to the costume by a gaily striped faille cap by Kenneth Hopkins, and Brody's voluminous shoulder bag in stiched patent is ideal for travelers.

JEAN BATES

PRETTIEST PARTY FROCK of the season is a tiered chambray, chosen by FRIGY ANN GARNER for spring and summer events feting Hollywood's younger set. Featuring a skirt in three swishing tiers, the yellow chambray has a demure neckline, scalloped collar and petal cap sleeves finished with scallopes. Teen-ager LOUISE ERICKSON, star of "A Date With Judy," says the college girls are taking over the slightly longer skirts before their career girl sisters. Favorite of blonde Louise is a very full pastel plaid wool worn with a neat silk skirt for her Occidental College classes. . . . Dark-haired DIANA LYNN looked her youngest and smartest lunching at the Brown Derby in a navy blue dress of spun rayon worn with waist length jacket of white wool. The dress buttoned all the way up the side with big pearl discs and Diana wore a white felt bowler bustled with navy taffeta bows. . . . Actress JAN PORD, who will soon be splitting time between Hollywood's Radio City, Eagle-Lion Studio and UCLA, is a very fashion conscious 17-year-old who loves color in her casual clothes. Jan's versatile spring suit of turquoise gingham is made with a short box jacket, trim pleated skirt and matching slacks.

SUGGESTION OF THE MONTH from MARY LOU HARRINGTON, who is heard as Joan on "One Man's Family," is a bright idea for the high-school and college crowd. Mary Lou collects chalked auto-graphics of school mates on chiffon and wool scarves—outlines the ones on chiffon in sequins for glamour occasions and embroiders the wool ones in all colors for wear with sweaters and raincoats.

B-SQUARE CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY PROGRAM ON MOTHERS

The B-Square Club held its May meeting at the home of Mrs. Ira Pittenger on Wednesday, the 21st. In spite of the inclement weather, fourteen members and seven children were present to enjoy the day.

After the delicious cooked fish dinner, an exceptionally interesting program on "Mothers" was presented with Ruth Forsythe in charge. The program was as follows:

"The Ohio Mother"..... Edith Huston
"They Spoke of Mother"..... Beatrice Koehender
"Mothers"—The Mother's Day Daryl Hertz, Larry Koehender, Nancy Ballitch, and Kay Forsythe
"To Mother, A Toast"..... Grace Howard
"Message of the Chimes"..... Ruth Forsythe
Vocal Duet—"Faith of Our Mothers"..... Grace Howard and Beatrice Koehender
Song—"Jesus Loves Me"..... Children

Children's Favorite Songs..... Group
Mrs. Ava Arnold had been fortunate enough to hear our nationally known poetess, Mrs. Eva Sparks Taylor of Mt. Vernon, present a group of her poems before an audience in Mansfield. Mrs. Arnold was so interested in her writing that she shared with the club the following poems which she previously had obtained from Mrs. Taylor:

Hidden Halo
Many a Christian Mother,
Whose halo is unseen,
Is washing, ironing, mending,
To keep a household clean;

Healing with gentle fingers
All of her loved ones' hurts,
Sweeping their hearts with counsel
That clears away the dirt.

Patiently she serves to,
Gracious is her giving,
Yet often we are forgetful
She makes our lives worth living.

Many a saintly mother
Is earning a heavenly place
While cleaning hearts and household,
Or washing a little face.

Bedtime Priority
Two shaggy dogs and a calico horse
And the teddy bear in bed,
Now to find room for two fat legs
Round little stomach, brown lit.

the head.
Two squirming arms, two pudgy hands,
And a drink of water or two
We have the animals all tucked in.
But where can I put you?
(Published Columbus Dispatch)

(Lots of people share a little girl's
Playing time and fun—
But for sharing a little girl's hurt,
There is only one.....

A Mother's Max
She listened to stories, sat on my lap,
Curled up like a kitten, to take her nap.
She pushed me her dollies, one by one,
When interrupting our frolic and fun.
She fell and scratched a chubby knee—
And I learned how inadequate I could be.
She pushed me aside with a look of disdain.
(Aunts are for pleasure, and not for pain.)
Crying for "Mom-mee" until she came.
For "kissing it well" is a Mother's game.....

This is the moment the childless note
With ache in the heart and lump in the throat
Aunts are sufficient for stories and dolls
But Mother must come when a little girl falls.

Industry Looks at Our Town

Maybe you read how a group of industrial experts have decided that the small town is the place for industry—not big cities. Reasons they give are better housing, pleasant living, and more opportunity for wholesome recreation.

Well, looking around our town I'd say that was about right. Most of us own our homes, and keep them looking nice; we enjoy each other's company; and our recreations are mostly simple outdoor sports, and in the evening a mellow glass of beer with pleasant company.

As Doc Walters says, that sort of life just naturally sets you up for work the next day... whether it's in office, mill, or field. And Doc should know. He works fourteen hours, but never misses his morning "constitutional" or his evening glass of beer with friends.

From where I sit, any industry could profit from being in a town where wholesome living, temperance, and friendship are the rule.

American Legion Junior Baseball

The Plymouth American Legion Post is sponsoring a baseball team this year, in the Junior Legion League. This is for all boys who are 16 years or under and is promoted on a nation wide basis. Last year there were 800,000 boys in our country who played in this league. This year the goal is to have 1,000,000 boys participate.

The Ford Motor Company has backed this Legion baseball by publicity and contribution of money to create greater interest.

The local team is coming along slowly, as bad weather has hampered practice.

The first game is on Sunday afternoon, June 1st, at the High School field. The Loudonville Legion team will come here at that time.

We urge the support of Plymouth to this team. Junior baseball is the answer that the Legion has given to the challenge of what to do with the youth. The support of the town will be a big boost to the interest and moral of the boys.

Let us support our Legion team.

COMPLETES TWO WEEK
NAVAL RESERVE TRAINING

Joseph Fazio, 22, coxswain, USNR, son of Mrs. Rose Fazio of 23 Nicholas Ave., Plymouth, Ohio has completed a two-week Naval Reserve training cruise in the Caribbean area aboard the battleship USS Wisconsin.

On these training cruises, gunnery drills, battle problems, and lectures are held to refresh the reservists' previous training and acquaint them with the latest developments in Naval equipment.

Launched two years after the Pearl Harbor attack, the Wisconsin made up for lost time by participating in every major campaign from 1944 to the surrender of the Japanese. "Wiskey," as she is known throughout the fleet, harassed the enemy at Leyte and Luzon in the Philippines, Iwo Jima, Okinawa, and finally in the Japanese home waters.

Three Soon

Right now it's the two-piano team of Morley and Gearheart who are heard week nights at 10:30 p.m. EST, over WLW-NBC on the "Fred Waring Show." But from the looks of things it will probably be a three-piano team before long, for here Papa Livingston Gearheart shows his young son Paul an exercise in fingering, while Mama Virginia Morley looks on.

Small World

"Small World", isn't it?

And this trio agree. Participants in a recent WLW broadcast were British teacher Pamela Holbrow and high school student Roger Cole, both of Fostoria, Ohio. The program, titled "Small World", presented through cooperation with the British Broadcasting Corporation, a trans-oceanic discussion between the British teacher and Miss Helen Mettler of Fostoria, who has exchanged teaching posts with Miss Holbrow for one year.

Monica's Magical Too

This lovely lady sings as well as the looks, which is almost a magical attribute. She's Monica Lewis, who offers song on the "Jan Angust and His Piano Magic" show over WLW from MBS Saturdays at 8:45 p.m., EST.

Monica's parents were a conductor and an opera singer and her husband is president of a recording firm — which establishes her even more solidly in the music profession.

Look what Grandma got for a penny when she was a little girl — a trained dog act! Tower grips the coin in his from jaws, leaps merrily through the clown's hoop, and deposits the little red cent neatly in the little red barrel.

Quite a show for a penny! But nothing to the show your present-day electrical penny puts on for you. That penny does a lot. It will:

Tell you the correct time for 4 d'ys, or vacuum-clean 6 large room-size rugs,
or bring you an evening's radio entertainment,
or run your sewing machine for 8 hours, or wash 3 heaping tubfuls of clothes for you!

Grandma's gay little bank may be a collector's item today, but electricity puts on a bigger and better show as it takes more and more work out of your housework.

It costs so little — and it does so much! Dollar values for penny prices — that's the record of the friendly folks in this company, under sound business management.

BILL VEECK HAD FORETHOUGHT
IN SIGNING UP JOE GORDON, WHO IS FAST REGAINING HIS "SPIRIT"

Baseball men were inclined to feel that Bill Veeck labeled himself as a pretty shrewd trader when he picked up Joe Gordon from the Yankees last winter in a swap for pitcher Allie Reynolds. Now they're beginning to label it the "deal of the decade."

Perhaps that appellation is a too vociferous and premature but certainly, on the record thus far, it gives every promise of being an understatement. It could even bring a pennant to Cleveland for the first time since 1920.

But no matter what happens in the long weeks between now and September, Joseph "Flash" Gordon is the greatest second baseman in baseball at this writing and there is little reason to believe he won't be accorded the same billing four months from now.

Five years ago Joe was chosen the most valuable player in the American League after a brilliant season in which he hit .322 and drove in 193 runs. Then, as in all seven of his previous major league summers, Gordon was a Yankee. He became used to winning and had no patience with a loser.

In fact, Joe was key man in a New York machine that won the title five out of six times before he entered the Army. But in the years he was gone something happened to the proud Yankees. When he returned things were different and Joe wasn't happy. His batting fell off and he didn't seem to cover as much ground as he had previously.

Various theories were advanced for his slump. His service years had slowed him up. An early season injury prevented him from ever getting in peak condition. Frequent managerial changes and front office operations were destroying harmony. And there were others, too. Everyone took their choice including Bill Veeck. But he seems to have sized the situation up better than most for his judgment is now paying huge dividends.

"The only thing wrong with Joe was that he was unhappy with the way things had changed," said Bill, "so he wound up with a bad year—for him. But he was still physically sound and, in new surroundings, figured to bounce back to his pre-war form."

The accuracy of this appraisal is evident any afternoon the Indians are playing. Time after time, Gordon has come up with sensational stops but, more often, he has made the chances look commonplace by his matchless ability to figure where the batters will hit. He shifts with every pitch, always playing the law of averages.

He has already stolen hits from dozens of batters by his cat-like agility and quick throws—a combination which has registered eleven double plays and accounted for eighty chances with but a single error.

However, brilliant as this record may be, he has eclipsed it by his outstanding performance at the plate. As this piece was written he was leading the American League in home runs and runs-batted-in. He had already slammed out more than half as many circuit clouts as he had in all of 1946, and driven in a third as many runs.

Twice he had registered two homers in a game, once on successive times at bat. One came with the bases loaded.

In addition he had chipped in with three doubles and scored more runs than any of his teammates although batting in the sixth spot.

From the moment he reported for spring training he has been an inspiration to the entire Cleveland club with his drive and constant efforts to improve his play.

He has shared his knowledge freely and worked overtime to assist others. All in all it looks very much as if it could be this great second baseman's greatest year.

busy this week washing the front porch at home, getting it ready for Decoration Day. He was up at 6:00 Tuesday, and later in the day he was complaining about "dish-pan" hands, and this gave him a chance to try out some of the hand lotions he's been telling the housewives about. At any rate, Thomas, either you or Mrs. Webber is to be congratulated . . . on YOUR porch-washing job.

IN THE EVENT you want ice cream Friday, and there is no place around the Square open, you'll probably appreciate knowing that Bob Lofland is keeping his dairy department open all day Friday. Ice cream, butter, cottage cheese, milk and cream may be purchased here.

PTZ PASTURE MIX for pasture worm control

PTZ keeps control roundworms during the grazing season. It slips the worms "in the bud" before they have a chance to develop in the pasture and recontaminate the flock. Pasture Mix is put in a self-feeder where the flock can get it on their own hook. That does away with that infernal once-a-month dosing for worms. PTZ Pasture Mix also keeps the flock with salt and minerals.
One of the most practical products you can buy for sheep today is PTZ Pasture Mix, $4.50 per 50-lb. bag, and less in quantity.
