The telephone lineman who braves blizzards, tornadoes or hall storms to keep the lines open doesn't consider himself a very special person. Neither does the operator who sticks at her swirchboard in times of emergency. But workers like these are "special" people. It takes unsual people to have their courtesy and sense of duty and responsibility. We're proud of folks like these, a vital part of the team that has enabled telephone service to reach its present high level.
