Seeing the West By Automobile and Trailer

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a continuation of the story of seeing the West as written by Rita and Ruth Keith.

California

The first real thrill in California was Palm Springs where we saw large scale palm trees. We were all well and straight that last day's had been built and fastened the trees for the date gathered to climb to peak the dates. Palm Springs is also a beautiful city.

The orange trees loaded with oranges were an inviting sight, exactly like the pictures we have seen of them. We saw them far from Palm Springs to the town of Montebello where our relatives live. We would hardly stay in the car had we seen them when we saw our house number.

They were all set for a good visit and a grand assortment of food was at our disposal. We ate their own vegetables and their sweet corn was just ready to eat, so we feasted on it. They also have an apricot tree which was full of ripe apricots. "Eat all you want," we heard from every angle. Their plums were ripe too, but only a few were left. Yogurt berries were delicious, too.

We had reserved Sunday for church and this was also a special Sunday, as we had heard Dr. Fuller's program for years and wanted to see him in person. So we drove to Longbeach and saw their broadcast from the Municipal auditorium. After service Dr. Fuller asked folks to come up and get acquainted, so we got to talk to him and Mrs. Fuller, and shake hands with them.

We spent the greater part of the day in Long Beach, returning to Montebello for the evening meal.

"But Don't Go In The Water"

We wanted an ocean bath so on Tuesday we went back to Long Beach and donned our bathing suits and into the ocean we went. The water was fine and after 45 minutes we went back and changed clothes. The water was very salty. I'd heard about how salty it was but never thought it was that awful tasting.

We were warned about oil getting on our suits. You wouldn't do me pretty good not to get any on it, but when we dried our feet—there it was! We worked very hard trying to get it off, but finally we gave up. There are oil wells right out in the ocean and that causes oil to float in the water and get on the bathers. We called it a swimming pool, but in California they call it a plunge. So we went in the "plunge" too.

Walnuts and Fruit

We spent one day with our cousin in the country. The raisin English walnuts like folks here have peach or apple orchards. They gave us a feed sack full of walnuts but I don't consider it anything at all. We couldn't pack so many so we shelled some and brought them home in jars. They were last season's crop. This season's crop is green yet.

A very pleasant day was spent with these cousins. They have a little boy, and he showed us their ranch while his mother prepared dinner. His father works on a dairy ranch where they milk 125 cows.

Then back again and making preparations to go but not until we saw our other cousin and his wife and little girl. They have a beautiful home, too. While the grown-ups visited we girls enjoyed their television and their pup. Had a nice visit with them and had cream, pop and cake before we left.

We made plans then to see the redwoods but when we left our aunt loaded us with canned fruit, apricots and youngberry jam, also some orange blossom honey. She also gave us sweet corn and fresh eggs on our way home.

Then we took Route 101 which took us through Hollywood, down Sunset Blvd., and on to San Francisco. We crossed the Golden Gate Bridge and on to the Redwood National Forest.

Redwoods

The redwoods are certainly big. In the desert there are no trees but when you get to California they surely make up for it. The first thing we did was see the tree so big you could drive in it. Then after that we walked into a tree. "The Tree House," it is called. It is a curio shop. Imagine walking around inside a tree.

Then we saw the "Tree of Mystery." It is surely something to see. Paul Bunyon, a large statue with a load spears in it, greets us as we walked through a hollow log as the entrance and followed yellow arrows instead of a guide.

The trees are in many different shapes. You can't see the tops of some. The most touching sight of all was the Cathedral. There were several trees growing together making a half-circle of trees. The record plays "Trees" and you are to be very quiet. Many weddings are performed in front of it each year. These trees have been growing since before the time of Christ. We took a picture of Dad and I standing at night and at night as it stretched, yet we couldn't reach half way around a tree.

Idaho Falls

When we got to Idaho Falls we stopped for the night. We got a very good look at the Snake River. I will remember that place. The wind was blowing and Ruth had on a red ball cap. She was sitting on her hands and feet, the wind started to blow her dress, so she grabbed her skirts and the wind blew her cap off and down over her head. It was a little ways from the Falls. It was too risky to try to go down for it, so Ruth had to leave her cap at the hotel.

Yellowstone National Park

A very interesting part of the trip was when we got to Yellowstone. We waited for 45 minutes for Old Faithful to erupt. It was surely a worth while wait. We saw the Fountain Park which reminds you of plaster boiling. We also saw many geysers and hot springs. We saw them bubbling and wondered how it felt coming out of the earth. We walked by a hot spring, on the board walk, where the wind blew across the steam was very hot. We saw many different kinds of animals as elk, deer, moose, prairie dogs and a lot of bears. The elk beg for something to eat, especially sweet things. We had lots of fun feeding them.

Was It Snow in Summer?

Then the day along we had been seeing something that looked like snow. We thought that it was just some kind of a rock formation. But soon we saw water coming down over rocks just below some of this white stuff and knew it was really snow. Soon we found a place to pull off and park and we took pictures of us in our white coats on, and holding snow. The morning we left we thought it was sort of chilly and there on the top of our mountain trailer was ice, real honest to goodness ice. Boy, what a surprise to see in the middle of summer.

Our sight seeing trip through the park covered a distance of 214 miles. We left by the way of Cody, where the Buffalo Bill monument is.

In the Big Horn forest we crossed the Big Horn mountains. They are really big and steep. We would look straight down and see seven roads with about 1000 feet between each road. There are really hairpin curves on those mountains. You wouldn't do me pretty good not to get any on it, but when we dried our feet—there it was! We worked very hard trying to get it off, but finally we gave up. There are oil wells right out in the ocean and that causes oil to float in the water and get on the bathers.

We called it a swimming pool, but in California they call it a plunge. So we went in the "plunge" too.

Wall Drug Store

From the time we reached the South Dakota line we saw signs advertising Wall Drug Store. The advertisements of a Cowboy Orchestra attracted our attention. The people that we contacted along the way didn't say any definite thing and neither did the signs. We wondered how they could have an orchestra playing at any time. They called it "Ted Husted's Cowboy Orchestra."

When we got to Wall we saw that it was a small town, about the size of Plymouth. The town was full of cars that it looked like one of the large cities we'd come through. The Drug Store itself was large and they sold sodas and sandwiches, souvenirs and drugs; a regular Curio Shop. We found it how Cowboys could play at any time. They were and had musical instruments to play. A record played the songs.

There were other musical instruments being played through loops in their lassos and as they sang a dog kept by scratching its mouth. In back of the store was a mounted bear, buffalo, and bucking bronco with which you could have your picture taken. We heard many people say, "It surely pays to stop here. We watched the orchestra from bleachers provided for the travelers. Surely got a kick out of the whole thing."

Badlands

After we saw Wall Drug Store we went to see the Badlands. We drove through them. It was a colorful drive too. The formations of earth were like the BAD LANDS. They had a red, yellow, green and other colors. The formations looked like cities and temples and castles and all sorts of things. We thought at first it was rock but when we touched it, it was soil. About the only inhabitants in the Badlands are a few chipmunks, eagles, coyotes and prairie dogs. The way the color got there was from iron oxide which made the earth a rust and the white clay gave it yellow. People that live in the Bad Lands take the colored earth and make paint to paint rock and cement houses with, because it is a natural color and won't fade.

Troudfans

When we reached the Wisconsin line we were all anxious to see J. William Trautman family. We had heard of them at night and in the country it seemed an endless search to find their home.

When we reached downtown Tomahawk we saw an Information Bureau, but they couldn't direct us, but a garage man did. We pulled up in their yard and slept in the trailer that night. Then in the morning we were anxious to see all of them, especially the children. What a good time we had helping Edward take care of his Guernsey calf that he was getting to take to the Fair. Betty Lou has a black calf, too. We had fun sending the calves around the yard to give them exercise. They had a jeep and in the morning Doris drove it and took us to see the schools and towns. Then at night William took us to see the farm.

On their farm we saw two deer. Mam and Doris had fun talking, and we couldn't figure out where they were talking about, naturally, as it was in German! We were surprised not to see tomatoes and potatoes in their garden, and they said the season was too short for them. There are no fruit trees, so fruit is expensive there. They wanted us to stay longer, and we wanted to, but after all we had to keep going.

Home Again

After we left Trautmans' we went on to our Aunt Verna and Uncle Paul's home in Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

We went to a tent meeting with them on Saturday night. Jack Schuller was the speaker. Then we went to see our Grandpa and Grandma, and then home. It was about 9 p. m. when we reached our home. Surely was a nice trip, but it is good to be back in Plymouth again.

(By Rita and Ruth Keith)
P. S. A typical western cowboy informed me, (Ruth Keith) of a mistake we made in writing up our article. We forgot we had crossed the State line and "W. Rogers" monument is in Claremont, Oklahoma and not Missouri.

Plowing Meet Held On Monday

The Veterans Agricultural class of Shiloh, under the instruction of Byron R. Bricker, sponsored a field day for plowmen Monday on the B. D. Hoffmann farm south of Plymouth on Route 61.

Well attended by local farmers, the meet was designed for the demonstration of new tractors and plows best suited to the nearby farmlands.

Nine different types of tractors, equipped with plows, demonstrated various methods of plowing which have been found successful in this district.

The third annual Ram Day will be held at the Greenview Lamb Pool Yards Friday, August 25th at 1:30 p. m.

Some thirty head of purebred rams selected for excellence in types as sires of market topping lambs will be available. Rams will be divided into three or four pens, according to grade. All rams in the same grade will sell for the same price. Buyers will decide from which pen they wish to buy and will receive by lot a ram from that pen, C. N. McGrew, county agricultural agent announced.

The program starting at 1:30 p. m. will include remarks from Larry Kaufman and Don Bell, noted sheep specialists of Ohio State University and the Agricultural Experiment Station. The drawing will be held after the remarks.

If you are interested in the future of the sheep industry and if you need a good purebred ram you should plan to attend this event.

The first Lamb Pool of the season will also be held at the yards on the same date Friday, August 25th starting at 9:00 a. m.

Your Home

By Francis Alsworth

I've just heard some news that's too good to keep! I stopped in at our local department store to look for a new fall coat and Ann Johnson, the coat buyer—a good friend of mine—said "Fran, I've got just the coat you've been looking for!"

And she certainly had—a coat that's warm as toast but not bulky, because it's lined with the completely new Milium—a fabric that utilizes our body heat and does away with heavy interlinings. The coat I selected was a casual brown and white check—what I've always wanted but felt I couldn't wear because the heavy interlinings have added so much apparent weight I seemed to gain pounds when I tried on a check.

The secret of Milium's warmth is the application of a retrained metal-sprayed finish to one side of the cloth. As Ann explained it to me, the metal particles, like small mirrors, reflect back to the body much of the heat it radiates. She told me that any metal that flakes could be employed, but that aluminum, because of its high reflectivity, has proven ideal, so that's what Deering, Milliken and company—the developers of this exciting new idea—have used.

Ann showed me several coats with this new lining... and said that later, the same idea might be applied to bedding and drapery. And, too, that military authorities were considering using the product for sleeping bags, and for Arctic and high altitude garments.

I think that most of you will find this news really exciting—at last a way to be warm and look slender at the same time. Even more remarkable, in hot weather the heat of the sun is reflected outward and Milium-lined coats have a thermobottle effect. Thus women will enjoy the same advantage which has caused the farmer to install aluminum roofs to protect poultry and livestock from summer heat.

Jim Root Wins Medal Tourney

Jim Root, of Plymouth, won the annual medalist tournament Sunday at the Shelby Country Club with a low 36-hole total of 147, three over par. As low medalist he won a berth on the Shelby tourneys that plays in the third Invitational at the Shelby club on September 10th.

The four posting low scores in the annual medalist tourney make up the team that matches strokes with eight visiting foursomes in the Invitational. The three other players who qualified Sunday for the local team were Jack Tiffany, 76-73, for a 149 total; Harry Smith, 74-76, for a 150 total, and Gerald Lewis, with a 76-76, for a 152 total.

Root's scores were 74-73 for his 147.

Lewis is the only member of this year's team who has qualified all three years. Tiffany was a member last year and thus repeats. Though veterans of many golf tournaments, Root and Smith will represent Shelby for the first time in the Invitational.

Other scores in Sunday's medal tourneys were Paul Schadek,

Small Fry Baseball Boys Win Final Game

The youngsters boys who have been meeting at the high school every Wednesday afternoon to play baseball, wound up their summer's activities with a win over New Washington. The teams had met on two previous occasions, Plymouth losing both games by one run.

Last Wednesday the boys were determined to turn the tricks. Donald Grabach took over the mound duties. He, with the help of his team-mates, allowed only three scattered hits. He struck out five batters. Four times his team-mates crossed while he was issuing three free passes to first, which were put together to add up to three runs for New Washington.

John Fox was the leading Plymouth hitter. In his three trips to the plate he collected two singles and a double. Bud Garrett was not too far behind with a single, a double and a walk. Don helped his game along with a single and a double.

All the local small fry in the line-up collected hits except Marty Hampton, who walked three times, and Ted Fox, who walked once. Lee Steele, John Fox, and Don Grabach each scored two runs. Jimmy Jacobs and Don Grabach each were able to steal a base.

All boys who participated in the summer league were present at all games, giving those who played their support.

Cost of National Defense Shown In Terms of Family Taxes Paid

WASHINGTON (Special) — Figures showing what the $481.4 billion spent for the Military Establishment during the last four years means in terms of Federal taxes to various income groups were released today by the Council of State Chancellors of Commerce. These show over the four years that:

A family of three with an income of $2,000 paid $645.59

A family of four with an income of $5,000 paid $1,190.08

A family of four with an income of $7,500 paid $1,796.92

In addition, these family groups paid out Federal taxes for other purposes connected with defense.

These totaled a little less than $4 billion and included such activities as arms to friendly nations, stockpiling of raw materials and atomic energy projects. But they meant $49.55 in Federal taxes to the $3,000 family group, $57.28 to the $5,000 group and $138.50 to the $7,500 group.

Waste To Be Cut
The Council's study revealed that $6.75 out of every $10 spent for the Military Establishment went for pay of all personnel, and for food, clothing and supplies for the soldiers, sailors and marines. Less than $2 of each $10 spent for defense was used to buy guns, ships and planes.

The study declared that "Undoubtedly much housekeeping waste in the Military Establishment diminished the value of the $481.4 billion as an investment in preparedness, but efforts begun by Defense Secretary Forrestal and continued by Secretary Johnson to modernize the Establishment and cut out waste have now tended to strengthen that investment."

It added, "In view of the expanded program brought on by the Korean situation, it is all the more necessary that we obtain the maximum return for every dollar that we are investing in our national defense."

the week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hubbell and daughter, Linn Louise, at Decaturville, O.

Local Folks Return From 4000 Mile Trip

Mrs. Doris Gooding and son Lanny, and Mrs. C. O. Cramer, returned last week-end from a trip to Denver, Colo., where they were guests at the home of Mrs. Lois Lentz and daughters Yvonne and Sandra.

They covered about 4000 miles on their trip and saw many beautiful sights and interesting places. One of the sights was the thousands of acres of corn through Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska. At Lincoln, Neb., they stayed at the "Cornhusker Motel," and ate at the "Country Gentleman." They also noted that Cornish, Neb., is called "The Buckle on the Corn Belt." After driving across Iowa, Lanny doesn't care to ride any more roller coasters, as across the state it is a continual coaster.

They visited many interesting places in "Colorful Colorado," including Colorado Springs, Pikes Peak, Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun on Cheyenne Mt., with its Westminster chimneys peeling out each quarter hour, and can be heard for 25 miles through the valleys. Broadmoor Hotel, the most prominent people, Cheyenne Zoo, Garden of the Gods, and Red Rocks Amphitheatre. Seven Falls, a series of waterfalls, and the grave of Helen Hunt Jackson, Estes Park, Roosevelt National Park, Rocky Mountain National Park, Thompson Canyon, Trail Ridge to a height of 14,200 ft., Deer Creek Canyon and Indians, Grand Lake the highest Lake and Yocum club in America, Idaho Springs, Berthoud Pass on the Continental Divide, Sky lift to Russell Mountain, Evergreen park and in Denver the Museum, Zoo, Little's and the many city parks. The Capital, where Mrs. Lentz is secretary to the secretary of State, and many other beautiful places of interest in the city.

They were also entertained in the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Workman. They returned home on Friday evening, having spent three weeks of the very finest vacation.

What Do You Know? A Minute Sermon by Rev. L. E. Smith

Once more we were made aware of the truth of the scriptures. In 1 Cor. 15:58 we read, "Therefore your labor is not in vain in the Lord." On a recent Sunday it was our privilege to occupy the pulpit (a brand new white oak one by the way) of a former charge. It was indeed a refreshing experience to meet old friends and amongst them dozens whom we had received into the fellowship of the church, either by baptism and confession of faith, or by church letter, and to find them active in the church in various ways, attesting the genuineness of their Christian faith. Two of them, Bruce and Roger, are in the Christian ministry, just finishing their seminary work in Boston School of Theology and Union Theological Seminary respectively. They are young men of personality high intelligence, talented (both are good singers and instrument players), and consecrated. Both have been serving churches while getting their education and we are confident that they will be entirely successful in the ministry. It is indeed gratifying to know that we had a part in their confession of faith in Christ and their answer to the call of the ministry.

Then we were happy to greet Mr. H., an insurance man, and his family, all of whom we received by letter from church in Springfield, O., where their membership had lain dormant for fifteen years. A year or so later, at a Lion's Club Dinner, Mr. H. took occasion to thank us very warmly for getting them re-activated in the church.

As then to hear Kathleen sing once more. She will be a senior at Muskingum College this year and the indications are that she will sooner or later be a United Presbyterian minister's wife. According to her testimony it was something we said in a sermon preached one Sunday during Kathleen's early High School years that brought her to definitely give herself to Christ in saving faith. And Kathleen is decidedly at her best when she sings sacred music. Just another verification of the text, "... forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

North Fairfield Cow Gets Approved Rating

An Ayrshire cow, Whipitouny Helene owned by Roy F. Palm, North Fairfield, has been given the high rating of approved, according to the Ayrshire Breeders' Association Executive, Secretary C. T. Conklin, Brandon, Vt.

The Ayrshire approved rating has been given to Helene in recognition of the producing ability of at least two or more of her daughters. The Palm cow qualified on three tested daughters that average 10,551 pounds 3.86 per cent milk and 408 pounds of milkfat on a twice-a-day milking mature equivalent basis.

The approved Ayrshire dam plan, that was adopted by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association in 1942, has aided in the identification of the most successful "brood" four miles west of New Haven on the Bullhead Road, Saturday, September 2nd. A picnic dinner will be served at 1 p. m. followed by a program.

Huron County Fair To Feature Many New Attractions

NORWALK, O., Aug. 24—Anticipating the largest attendance in its history, the 28th annual Huron County Fair, which opens for five days beginning Sept. 12, has provided free parking, for more than 1,500 cars on the fair grounds and on a lot directly across from the main gate.

Special features of this year's fair will be the North Central Ohio Guernsey Show and the District Holstein Show, the latter representing Lorain, Ashland and Huron counties. Nationally known judges will be on hand for both events at which nearly 200 thoroughbred dairy animals will be entered.

Among the new buildings at this year's fair will be a spacious restaurant kitchen, which will be operated by the management of the Mill Hotel. A large open-air tent will serve as the dining hall. Premiums to be awarded in both senior and junior fairs will total nearly $9,000, with $5,500 offered in the trotting program which will run for three afternoons beginning Sept. 13th.

The fair's formal program gets underway Tuesday evening, Sept. 12, with a horse show. Entries already in give indications that it will be the largest horse show in the area this summer. Grandstand attractions, on successive evenings, will include the WCAR Race Riders, the Circus Varieties, Cal and Ruth Thompson's circus horse revue, with Joe Chiswood's noted auto daredevil, stuntmen and clowns the top billing on Saturday afternoon and evening, the final day of the fair.

WHITNEY FARMS TO EXHIBIT AT OHIO STATE FAIR

The C. V. Whitney Farms, owners of the leading Aberdeen-Angus herds, will again be represented at the Ohio State Fair this year. They will be showing 15 head of Angus bulls and females ranging from 3 yrs. to baby calves 7 months of age. These cattle will be shown in all classes and age groups, i. e., 3 yr. olds, Senior yearlings, Junior calves and Junior calves. The Angus cattle are to be judged on August 31st by Mr. Kenneth Linton of Round Hill, Virginia.

At the 1949 Ohio State Fair the C. V. Whitney Farms won three prizes: the 2 yr. old bull class with Whitney Bandoler 13th; the Summer yearling bull class with Whitney Eris 12th; and the Pair of Calves class. They were second six times, the 5 bull group class, the 3 bull class, the 2 bull class, Junior heifer class, Pair yearling class, and Junior yearling bull. As a result of this fine showing the C. V. Whitney Farms won more prizes than any other herd except the J. Garrett Tolan Farms of Pleasant Plains, Illinois.

Among the cattle to be shown this year are two young bulls, 7 mos. old who are sired by Whitney Bandoler 13th who had a very successful show record, he never stood lower than second at 17 shows in 1947, 1948 and 1949. He is also the sire of Whitney Bandoler 1300th who was Reserve Champion Bull at the 1949 Eastern National Show and who was recently sold in our cattle auction held at the farm in Old Westbury New York last March. He was purchased by Glenagran Farm of Bel Air, Maryland which is owned by Larry MacPhail and managed by George Christie. 9 Bulls and 53 females, all 'Whitney Bred' were sold at this auction for an average of $1275.00.

The Whitney Show herd can be seen at many of the leading fairs in the country this year including the West Virginia State Fair, Ohio State Fair, Maryland State Fair, Kentucky State Fair, Tennessee State Fair, Mid-South Fair at Memphis, South-Eastern States Fair, The Eastern National and the INTERNATIONAL.

BUILDING PERMIT DENIED IN SHELBY

Common Pleas Judge C. E. Kalfleisch last Thursday ruled out a petition for mandamus action filed by Arthur Cornell, a Shelby merchant, for action against Mayor William R. Morris and James Haun, building official, who had refused to grant Cornell a building permit.

Cornell asked the court to order city officials to grant a permit to build a drive-in ice cream stand in the residential section of Shelby's Mansfield Ave.

Cornell, however, failed to secure approval of 51 per cent of the property owners in the area as demanded by a city ordinance if a business structure is to be built in a defined residential area.

Judge Kalfleisch declared the ordinance valid as it sets up boundaries of business and residential areas.

LABOR DAY IN NEW LONDON TO BE BIG EVENT

NEW LONDON—"Bigger than ever." That's the phrase that describes this year's Labor Day weekend at New London, beginning with Sunday's afternoon and evening bill and continuing all day on Monday.

The horse show that opens on Sunday's bill, promises to be a fine attraction. The show is an All-Western affair, and from present indications there will be a great many entries.

The early evening will see contests, greased pig and balloon racing, as well as a free drawing. A unique method for ticket distribution will be used this year, with a plane flying over surrounding areas, dropping leaflets, which when properly deposited in the container at the Fairgrounds, entitles the holder to a chance on Sunday's $10 prize, or Monday's $20 award. $5 prizes will be awarded winners of Sunday's contests. At 8 p. m., the finals of the City Softball League Tournament will be held beneath the lights.

Monday's bill begins at 10 a. m., with two selected teams of softballers from the city "Knobhole" cage in action. Nearing its conclusion, the pulling contests will get going. Nothing more is slated until after lunch, when the pony races get under way, and from 1-3 p. m. more softball, to entertain, with two teams from Wellington, a boys and girls teams meeting simultaneously in the winner being "Homecoming with a baseball game, Norwalk fair New London nine. In the Queen." Prizes of $10 and $5 VFW vs. the Shelby Blues.

early evening, a Beauty Contest, will be awarded. Immediately following the Labor Day drawing will be made and open to all in this age limit, with the formal program will conclude and many other attractions.

How to take the Work out of Housework

Wash heater and bowl of your electric mixer immediately after use. Never hang the beater against the bowl to detach particles. Dry thoroughly. Wipe off motor. Cover when not in use.

(Mixer is handy. You can run yours an hour for a cent's worth of electricity.)

Electric bulbs give better light when clean. Regularly wipe off the bulbs with a damp cloth. You'll be surprised at the light-robbing grime they collect. Fluorescent tubes should be cleaned once a month.

(You can light a 100-watt fluorescent lamp for almost 3 hours for a single penny!)

Want to make a patchwork lamp shade last longer, stay cleaner and look better? Wax it. Simply polish with a soft cloth and a colorless furniture wax. Makes easier to dust, too.

(Did you know a penny of electricity will light a 40-watt lamp bulb for 7 hours!)

Sprinkle clothes with hot water. It speeds through fibers quicker and more evenly. Make a sprinkler out of a ketchup bottle and a spray cork. Wrap colored clothes separately in wax paper, and they won't run.

(It's true you can iron 20 handkerchiefs for a cent's worth of electricity!)

Before washing dishes that have held raw eggs, rinse in cold water. Hot water cooks the eggs on the dish, makes washing harder. Lucky you, if you have an electric washer. Simply put your dishes in and forget them!

(An electric dishwasher will wash and dry 6 loads of dishes for a penny! Less leakage, too!)

Be kind to your washing machine. Never overload. Empty machine while sudsy are hot. Break cylinders under the water that runs out. Let cylinder dry thoroughly before replacing.

(Two cents will apply the electricity to do an average family wash for a whole week!)
