

Donna Evans Improving At Willard Hospital

Donna Evans is improving nicely at the Willard hospital, and although she will be a patient there for a number of weeks, everyone is happy to know that her progress is satisfactory.

Donna, who is 11 years old, was injured when hit by a car on Sandusky street, the night of the village Halloween celebration. Her left leg is yet in traction because of the thigh bone fracture, but at the end of six weeks or so, they expect that she will be put into a cast to aid further mending the bone. The lacerations on the inside of the mouth are healing, and Donna was fortunate to have only a minor cut on the outside on her face.

Although flat in bed, she is able to read and keep her hands active too, and we'll bet the visit of the mailman is one she looks forward to. Don't disappoint her, folks, but put a card in the mail right away.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Evans, of Plymouth route.

School Board Discusses Many Questions, Monday

The Plymouth Board of Education met Monday evening in regular session at the office of the superintendent of schools. Current operating bills totalling $1,044.52 were allowed by action of the board. The board of education has good possibilities of ending the financial year in the black. However any surplus would only be an accounting surplus since funds are not collected during the first two months of the year.

Mr. Conner summarized the expansion and growth of the music department during the past two years under the direction of Mr. Dubbert. The department has grown to the point where the music room is no longer adequate. Needs of a future expansion program were discussed and possible needs were mentioned. Some of the future needs as discussed were room space, more dressing room space, more auditorium seating, and shop expansion. It was also pointed out that although the elementary building will be filled next fall, one additional room will be available at the high school building.

The superintendent reported application for Federal assistance on current expenses and building costs have been filed with the state department of education. It is hoped that substantial aid will be received in the near future.

Satisfactory progress on the elementary building was reported with one room being ready to placing. It was also reported that a tutor is to be employed for Donna Evans' education. ONE OUTSTANDING DIFFERENCE

That the English family reads, almost as a unit, and that there are far more adults who read books than in this country is a fact that has been pointed out by Mr. Broome to the effects of TV and radio on the young mind of both English and American homes, were very clear but very fair. We again agree with our neighbor, but can see as he does, both sides of the situation.

English Librarian Speaks Interestingly At Mothers' Club

Christmas Plans Also Made

A nice attendance at the Mothers' Club, was recorded for the November meeting at the Elementary school. Mrs. F. Brinson, president, conducted the brief business meeting, with Mrs. W. Smith, secretary, giving the routine reports.

Some plans were made for the Christmas meeting of the club, but more will be announced later. The date for the meeting has been postponed until Tuesday, December 22, and will be held at the Elementary building in the afternoon after school.

The teachers are in charge of the Christmas meeting, with Mr. Robert Dubbert, music supervisor, as chairman. This promises to be a very exceptional program, and you and better get there on time if you want a comfortable seat. Mothers and friends of the pupils may bring their smaller children, who probably would enjoy the program too.

It was voted to assist the elementary teachers in the Christmas program, and the mothers will furnish 25 dozen cookies. Mrs. Donald Akers and Mrs. Royal Eckstein are in charge of soliciting for arrangements. The date will be given later, for this annual treat to which the children look forward.

Mrs. Waines, of the high school, Home Economics dept., arranged for baby sitters for the November meeting. The mothers appreciated this very much, and would like to have the plan continued.

A Silver Tea is planned for February, further plans to be announced after the holidays.

NOVEMBER SPEAKER COMPARES BOOKS, HOME LIFE

The program committee for November invited Mr. E. Maxfield Broome, of Reading County Library, Hebron, Bridge, Vermont, England, and now associated for a time with the Mansfield Library, to be present and speak to the Mothers' Club on the children's books and reading of his country.

We found Mr. Broome to be a very gracious and personable young man, and his talk a most interesting one. His comparison of the type and quality of the children's books in both subject matter and reading was a surprise to most of us. It is agreed that it would be both profitable and interesting to have more exchange of books, as far too many good books are limited by business reasons to their own particular nation. However, those established authors, well known in their field, are well known and read by youngsters on both sides of the Atlantic.

Mr. Broome's comments on the effects of TV and radio on the young mind of both English and American homes, were very clear but very fair. We again agree with our neighbor, but can see as he does, both sides of the situation.

First Grade Moves To Lutheran Church

One section of the first grade was moved over last week end into the Lutheran Sunday School room for temporary housing. The room is quite comfortable and adequate and the same type furniture is being used as was previously used at the elementary building. They have new fluorescent lights and there are individual rest rooms, so that in all, the board of education feels that it is a very satisfactory arrangement to meet the overcrowded condition at the elementary school.

For the first six weeks of school two sixth grades and one fifth grade room were vacated at the high school building. With the coming of colder weather and winter activities it was necessary to vacate the auditorium. That meant that one fifth grade and one sixth grade was homeless. The sixth grade has been moved into the music room since the music room was used only about half of the time. The band and other music classes will meet in the gymnasium.

Foster Keinath, Agt. Says Business Good For Insurance Co.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 2 — The largest dividend increase in the 103-year-old history of National Life Insurance Company of Vermont was announced today by Deane C. Davis, company president.

Total dividends apportioned for 1954 will exceed the 1953 total by 28 percent, he said.

"Although National Life is known already for the low cost of life insurance to its policyholders, this new dividend scale which has been adopted for 1954 will definitely enhance the place of the company among the foremost life insurance companies in the country in the field of low net cost," Mr. Davis said.

"The new scale reflects continued improvement in the trend of mortality savings and gains from interest, together with a reallocation of expenses in the light of current conditions", he added.

The company's sales of new life insurance from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30 totalled $112,841,000, an increase of 13.4% compared to the corresponding period last year. Insurance in force on October 1 spiraled to $1,379,006,000, a gain of 7.4 per cent compared to a year ago.

Foster Keinath, of Plymouth, the district agent for the company in this area, tells us he is pleased but not surprised over this report.

GEORGE PICKENS IMPROVES
Plymouth residents are mighty happy to hear that their former neighbor, George Pickens, is improving at the Findlay hospital, after having been taken there for care and treatment following a heart attack. Attendants are pleased with his progress, and "Pick" is showing a lot of interest when meal time rolls around, and that's a good sign.

MRS. G. J. SEARLE, SR. CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Last Friday, November 6th, was the 83rd birthday of Mrs. George J. Searle. She gave a luncheon for fifty friends in the private dining room of Zinn's fabulous restaurant in Sarasota, Florida.

The table was covered with brilliantly colored fall leaves, gourds, miniature squash, grown by her grandson, Cornelius Searle Whitney, buckeyes, acorns and flowers, all in yellow, gold and rust tones. The flowers spilled out of wicker basket cornucopias. Her daughter, Mrs. Cornelius V. Whitney, had these flown down from New York to add to the beauty of the party. Many of the fabulous chrysanthemums were prize winning blooms that had been shown and shown by Mrs. Whitney in the recent flower show. There were many baskets containing rare and exotic type blooms.

Mrs. Henry Ferguson and Mrs. Alice Edsell, whose birthdays were Thursday and Saturday, were the honored guests. During the luncheon Mrs. Zinn was at the console of the organ adding beautiful music to the festivities. As a complete surprise, Mrs. Searle's daughter, Mrs. Whitney, flew to Florida to be present at the luncheon. She was prevailed upon to sing several songs for the guests, with Mrs. Zinn accompanying her, and later all of the guests joined in singing many old, beautiful songs.

Mrs. Searle was attired in a navy blue taffeta gown and wore an aquamarine colored velvet hat made in a shell design. She wore two beautiful orchids, one pure white with a deep purple throat and one purple with a deeper shaded purple throat.

On the table were yellow nut cups filled with candies and macadamian nuts from Honolulu and Mexican pumpkin seeds. The place cards were nosegays of a yellow rose and at each guest's place was a birthday snapper, including a fortune and a little favor and a paper hat. The entire luncheon menu was in keeping with the fall color scheme.

And then came the beautiful birthday cake! Made by Paul of Bradenton, it was a three-tiered cake in yellow covered with large leaves and flowers made of yellow, gold and orange icing saying "Happy Birthday." The round cake was mounted on a mirrored base 30 inches square and around the edge were the 83 candles placed in sugar flower holders. The 20-inch high cake was topped with one large candle "to grow on." The cake was set on a cart and rolled through the dining room past the guests, who were all singing "Happy Birthday." Using a knife which had several chrysanthemums fastened to it, Mrs. Searle cut three pieces of cake for the birthday ladies.

On Saturday, the 7th, another birthday luncheon was given, honoring Mrs. Searle and the two other birthday celebrants at Polly Pringle's restaurant in Palmetto, Florida. Immediately after this luncheon Mrs. Whitney took the plane and flew back to her home in New York.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Searle are enjoying the beautiful Florida climate in their winter home in Bradenton. The doctor is able to go out every day and visit his friends and enjoy the view of the Manatee River, which flows just in front of their home. For all of their Ohio Buckeye friends Dr. and Mrs. Searle have a warm welcome awaiting them and trust that many will include a stop to see them in Bradenton on their trips to Florida.

Mrs. C. L. Hannum as leader had chosen Mt. McKinley conquered by New Route, as our topic. The expedition was three fold: climbing the rugged western buttes, (never before accomplished); to study the geology of this tremendous mass of rock and to do essential survey work for a new large scale map of the area immediately around Mt. McKinley. The expedition was sponsored by the University of Denver, University of Alaska and Boston Museum of Science. Artie equipment and foods were tested and new and higher altitude airplane landings made. It was proved to be an ideal venue of approach for future scientific work atop the roof of North America.

Mrs. C. L. Hannum will entertain the club for the next meeting.

Instead, he took them to the Plymouth Grange where a group of sixty relatives had gathered in their honor as a surprise for a covered dish dinner. They came from Mansfield, Shelby, Lima, New Haven, Nova and Plymouth for the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were married in Mansfield and have lived in this area all their married life, where Mr. Wilson not only farms but is also employed at the Wilkins Depot. GIVING

"If I could find a dollar,"
Said little Tommy Gill,
"As I walk in a pig's track,
Or rollin' up a hill,
I'd send it to the heathen
As fast as it could go.
For they are needing money—
My teacher told me so."

"I can give a penny now,"
Said little Willie Pool,
"An that will buy a paper
To start a Sunday school.
I'd better give a penny.
And give it right away.
Than wait to find a dollar
To give another day."

So Willie gave his penny.
A wish gave Tommy Gill;
Now which saw his dollar first
Go rolling up the hill?

Night Courses Available At Mansfield High

Courses at night school in machine shop practices, auto mechanics, blue print reading, mechanical drawing, mathematics, welding, and woodworking are available to any adult living within driving distance of Mansfield, V. H. Oberlander, industrial arts coordinator at the Mansfield Senior High School stated today. The courses are offered as a means of trade advancement or as hobby courses, which ever the student in the night classes needs.

In machine shop work, taught in the Mansfield Senior high school shops, the night classes offer training in lathe work, shapers, planers, milling machines and bench work.

The auto shop teaches the night school student how to make minor repairs to his car. Some may even learn to make major repairs in our well-equipped shop," Mr. Oberlander stated.

In the drawing classes mechanical and architectural drawing will be taught while the wood shop will teach woodworking as a hobby, home repair projects, or for future occupational skills. The welding shop is equipped to teach either electric or acetylene welding.

The courses are offered at $10 per course beginning November 2. Machine shop classes began October 26 and the auto mechanics courses started October 27, but adults may still enroll in these classes. For further information, interested persons may call V. H. Oberlander at 4657-6 in Mansfield or in person at the Vocational Department at the Senior High School between 8:30 a. m. and 3:00 p. m. each week day.

HUNTING AND FISHING

LICENSES ISSUED

The Key to Better Hunting

Here are a few maxims that might be called the Ten Commandments of Country Courtesy. It's just as easy to obey them as it is to violate them. They'll please the farmer mightily and after a while they'll become a natural, effortless part of your conduct afield. They contain the "Open, Sesame" to the farmer's field and converts . . . and to his open-handed hospitality. Here they are:

1—Always drive in to the farmer's yard and ASK PERMISSION TO HUNT.

2—Hunt only in the areas he designates. Never go on ground he wishes to keep inviolate. Stay away from his stock.

3—Respect his fences. If necessary to climb them, climb over by a post. Use gates if possible, closing them behind you. Always replace lowered bars.

4—Never shoot near houses, barns, livestock.

5—Leave his fruit and other crops alone. If you want some, buy it from him.

6—Go around fields where people are working, or pastures where livestock is grazing. Do not walk on seeded ground. Don't walk through standing grain.

7—Shoot crows and predators that do damage to his crops and livestock.

8—SHARE YOUR GAME WITH HIM.

9—On your next trip, bring his wife or children some little gift or token of friendship.

10—After you've become well acquainted, suggest a planting program to better game habitat, offering to finance it or help him with it, thereby showing genuine interest in his affairs.

These are simple little rules of common courtesy that any sportsman can practice to the benefit and pleasure of all concerned. They are really keys to the key to better hunting.
