THE PLYMOUTH ADVERTISER

Anybody who has any doubts about there being water in the well drilled by the village on the Henry Chapman property near New Haven can just forget 'em. Here's Carl Fife, Greenwich, proving there is water, and lots of it.

Festival Plans Laid; Committees Ask Aid

The fourth annual spring festival will be given jointly by the P.T.A. and Mothers' club Apr. 23. Supper will be served in the new elementary school cafeteria. The committee has planned a menu of four kinds of sandwiches, several salads, cake, pie, ice cream, coffee, and milk. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m.

At 6:30 p.m., the concessions will open. They will also be held at the elementary school. The committee, which is headed by Mrs. Donald Akers, Mothers' club, and Mrs. Madison Fitch, P.T.A., plans to make this year's concessions better than before. It will be aided by Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fetters, Mrs. Judson Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fortney, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shaver. There will be surprise prizes.

Dancing to Wayne String orchestra will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Round and square dancing will fill the evening, and several cake walks are planned. A door prize, which is also a committee secret will be given to the winning dance ticket

Mrs. Iola Slessman Dies; Dr. Babcock Succumbs

For 36 years a resident of New Haven, Mrs. Iola Slessman, 75, died Thursday in Willard Municipal hospital after a long illness.

She was the mother of Neil Slessman and Mrs. Henry Chapman of New Haven and of Mrs. Melvin Buckingham and Harold Slessman, Willard, and Carl Slessman, Greenwich.

Her husband, Herbert, to whom she was married Mar. 23, 1904, died in December, 1953.

Last rites were said in her church at New Haven by its pastor, the Rev. James Magaw, Saturday at 4 p.m. Interment in New Haven cemetery followed.

Mrs. Slessman was born Iola Mae Hamilton at Africa Oct. 24, 1880. Her mother still lives there. After she was married, she took up housekeeping at Africa. In 1919 the couple moved to a farm west of New Haven and lived on it until 1946, when the late Mr. Slessman retired from farming and took a house south of New Haven.

A strong church worker, Mrs. Slessman was a Methodist all her life. She belonged to the Sunday School and church in New Haven and was a member of the Women's Society for Christian Service and of the Farm Women's Sunshine club.

In addition to her mother, Mrs. Eva Hamilton, living in Attica, and the children listed, she is survived by three brothers, Don and Forrest Hamilton, both of Attica, and Ray Hamilton, Miami, Fla., and three sisters, Mrs. Will Fisher, La Porte, Mich., Gladys Link, Attica, and Mrs. Enid Lehnright, Los Angeles, Cal.

There are 13 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Ex-Yank Named To Talk Here To PHS Athletes

Henry (Hank) Majeski, reserve infielder of the Cleveland Indians, will address the annual high school athletic banquet in the elementary school Thursday at 6:30 p.m. High School Principal Frederick Kreutzfeld announces.

The cafeteria staff will prepare the meal for the tickets will be $2, and junior and senior girls will serve.

Majeski broke into baseball as a freshman sophomore and played with its Newark affiliate in the International league before the war. He played third base. He later played with the Chicago White Sox.

Monograms will be awarded to freshmen, sophomores and juniors who have competed on varsity and junior varsity squads the required period of time, and senior awards will be handed out to members of the class of 1955 who have earned time in basketball and football.

The appearance of Miss Edna Rhodes at the regular meeting of the Bethany and Friendship churches Tuesday has been a popular feature. Mrs. T. M. Rhodes, wife of the Rev. T. M. Rhodes, will be the guest speaker.

Contracts Given Eligible Teachers

Contracts for 1955-56 will be offered to all eligible teachers presently engaged, the Board of Education decide Tuesday night.

Those whose contracts expire at the end of the present school year will be tendered new contracts, the Board said, as soon as possible. Those whose teaching contracts depend upon the completion of additional summer work will receive contracts at the end of the summer.

Robert Whittaker, Mansfield, who was engaged to fill out the contract of Jack Whiteman, resigned, was officially approved as a teacher by the Board.

A payment of $871.25 was voted the Shiloh Local School district, representing settlement in full for tax revenues collected on lands transferred from the

Shiloh Takes Life With Service Pistol

Son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W. Kester of Shiloh, Ora D. Fair, 60-year-old retired steel draftsman of the Mansfield police force, died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound yesterday at 4:20 a.m. at the corner of D. and Lavender roads.

Mr. Fair had moved to Shiloh Jan. 15 after retirement from the Mansfield police department with 22 years of service. Later engaged as a salesman for the Huff Realty agency, Mansfield, he left home in apparent good spirits Tuesday morning and was found at 12:25 p.m. slumped over in his car.

Mr. Fair was removed to Mansfield General hospital, where surgery was unsuccessful.

Funeral arrangements in the hands of Wapner Funeral home, Mansfield, are incomplete. His wife, Marguerite, two daughters, Mrs. Robert Kiefer and Mrs. Marshall Woodridge, Mansfield, three brothers, Clarence, Harry, and Fred, and a sister, Mrs. Howard Kime, Wellington, survive. There are four grandchildren.

Knaus to Address Beef Feeder Group

The annual banquet of the Beef Cattle Feeders association of Huron county will be held Thursday, at the Masonic hall, North Fairfield, beginning at 7 p.m.

Burr Knaus, chairman of the association, will report briefly on the state association activities and the progress of the Corn Belt association.

John J. Milton, from the American Meat Institute in Chicago, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Milton has spent 30 years in the meat packing industry and is known nationally as an entertaining and humorous speaker on advertising and merchandising of food.

The banquet committee, James Skinn and Roy Schild, report that tickets are available from members of the county association.

Photos of Children To Be Taken Free

The Plymouth Advertiser and Cornell's restaurant will sponsor free photographs for children through 12 years of age to be taken Apr. 28 upstairs over the newspaper, it was announced yesterday.

A picture of each child will be published in the newspaper commencing after Labor day in advertisement of the restaurant. Weldon Cornell stated, Entertainers biographical sketches of the children will be published together with the photographs.

There is no financial obligation by the parent or child, the newspaper's publisher emphasizes. Nor is there any obligation or request to subscribe to the newspaper.

Publication of the child's photograph in the newspaper is at no charge to the parent or child. The photographs will be taken by Bauer Photographers, Findlay, who will submit proofs through the newspaper for selection by the parent. Should parents or friends

Dale Kinney, Richland county school superintendent, attended the meeting, which occupied considerable time in discussion of finances and efforts to raise teacher salaries.

That salaries should be raised promptly was the consensus of the Board, but it was agreed that unless supplemental funds are voted, the salaries cannot be increased. The Board is about decided to ask for a three mill school levy on the November ballot.

It was pointed out that Plymouth schools will need to engage one new teacher next to heart addition to maintaining the present staff at the current working level.

The sums necessary to effect this move as well as to raise present teacher salaries are not on hand, Clerk Earl C. Cashman told the Board, and unless additional funds are voted by the patrons of the district, salaries cannot be raised.

R. J. Marshall, Father Of Mrs. Slessman, Dies of Heart Attack

Father of Mrs. Duane Slessman of this village, Raymond J. Marshall, 43, succumbed to heart disease in Willard Municipal hospital Apr. 5 at 2:20 p.m.

A Venice township farmer, Mr. Marshall had been stricken at his home south of Attica shortly after noon. He was removed by ambulance to the hospital, where his condition was not thought to be serious. A second attack snuffed out his life.

He was born Feb. 12, 1912, child of Albert and Elizabeth Hartschuh Marshall, and passed his entire life in the vicinity of Attica.

On June 24, 1931, he was married to Miss Vera Smith of Attica. She survives, in addition to his daughter here and another daughter, Sharon, at home. There are three grandchildren. His parents, a son and two daughters preceded him in death.

Last rites were conducted by the Rev. W. W. Porter, the Bethlehem Lutheran church Saturday at 2 p.m. Interment was in the Attica-Venice cemetery.

Oats In, Allers Turn to Posies

The oats are in on John Allers' 90-acre farm in the Shiloh-Norwalk road, and he's doing his plowing this week. Then he can get to work on the apple of his eye: his gladiolus collection.

John Allers is a gladiolus fancier and he sells cut flowers on the local market during August and September. He also grows chrysanthemums, which he sells come the fall of the year in pots.

Mrs. Allers likes the flowers as much as he does. In fact, it is she who "cooks" the dirt to make it ready for seeding and who watches the seedlings germinate before they are transplanted.

"Yes, we steam the earth so that it will be warm enough to start prompt germination and also to kill bugs," says Mrs. Allers.

Anthony Fidler, the veteran farmer who lives perhaps 300 yards up the road, farms the place for the Allers, since Mr. Allers is employed in town. He's a good farmer and an accommodating chap, say the Allers, and they couldn't be more pleased.

Mrs. Allers has some geese that she's raised from eggs. She got the first geese from a neighbor lady and mated it with a borrowed gander, and now the flock is a noisy but proud group that struts across the barnyard all day and stuffs itself with corn.

"We killed, dressed and sold some of them for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays," say the Allers. "They're hard to handle. Use warm but not hot water to soak clear through the down before you put them in scalding water."

For livestock, the Allers' farm boasts only some feeder cattle nowadays. They had sheep and hogs a short while ago, but sold them out.

"We've been here four years now," smiles Mrs. Allers, "and we like it very much. The ground is better, not so wet, than our other farm on the other side of Shiloh."

Mrs. Allers has of late tried her hand at painting. So far, she's done several of those paint-numbered-areas and has a definite eye for color. "Better I get to this kitchen," she says, "which could stand some paint."

Like so many kitchens, it's done in two colors. And for the benefit of young housewives perhaps just starting out, Mrs. Allers plumps for a red-and-white kitchen. "I've found it always looks cleaner, no matter the condition of the paint."

Happiness on the farm, the Allers believe, derives in part from doing what comes naturally, and doing what you like to do. Between gardening and watching the oats and wheat and corn go, the Allers keep pretty busy doing just that.

BURIED HERE

Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Aurilia Schringer of 13 E. Jefferson avenue, Shelby. Mrs. Schringer died Sunday in Shelby Memorial hospital following an illness of 10 days. She was 85 years of age.

FROM OUR FILES

Five Years Ago

Stacy Brown and E. Beryl Miller, partners in a hardware store, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their partnership.

Mrs. Edna Grace Ford, 50, died on Good Friday.

Raymond Hatch completed examinations leading to the degree of doctor of philosophy in education at Oregon State college, Corvallis, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lofland, Shiloh, were robbed of $2,000 when their sedan was broken into at Corbin, Ky.

Mrs. Thomas Webber, injured in a Cleveland auto accident, was released from her home here. Miss Gwen Webber returned to New York to resume her instruction in the field of the dance.

Mrs. Burr Knaus was inadvertently locked in her hen house by her young son, Kent, who didn't know she was in there. She was released in due time, but too late to prepare supper.

Glen Graig Scott, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Scott, was baptised by the Rev. Leonard E. Smith in Plymouth Methodist church.

Ross Augustus Van Buskirk, 50, died in his Sandusky street home.

Bertha Lybarger, Plymouth, and Ross Adams, Shelby route 1, filed suit in Richland county common pleas court to contest the will of Orville C. Adams, Shelby. His estate was valued at $17,848.

Mrs. Ed Trauger, Plymouth route 1, was released from Shelby Memorial hospital.

The estate of the late W. S. Tuttle, Plymouth, was inventoried at $8,790.

A son, Michael Glenn, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hampton in Shelby Memorial hospital. The child was named for his youngest uncle.

Earl Anderson, Park avenue, received a diamond pin in recognition of 30 years of service with the Akron, Canton & Youngstown railroad.

Elma Pittenger sold lot 119, Shiloh, to Emma Lutz.

Ten Years Ago

Marshall (Red) Burns and Dominic Dorion reported having seen a deer at the point on the Moffatt farm south of the village.

Bette D. Root, Chicago, Ill., was sworn into the Waves.

P. C. Willard Root, Jr., reported missing after the fighting at Battogone, was reported to be safe. L. F. N. McQuown was reported to be a prisoner of war.

Mr. Michael Penner was released from Shelby Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wyandt of New Haven were the parents of a daughter, Bonnie Jean, born at Willard Municipal hospital.

Technician 5th Grade Lyle Biddinger was on furlough from his assignment at Ft. Story, Va.

Miss May Page arose at her regular hour to attend church, dined at the breakfast table, and set out for services only to discover she was in time for the postlude.

The prelude, Reason: she failed to set her clock an hour ahead. Plymouth had gone on "fast" time.

A son was born at Shelby Memorial hospital to Mrs. Donald Bettae, whose lieutenant husband was overseas.

Shiloh High school junior class profited by $70 on its annual class play.

A daughter, Diana Jeanne, was born to Corporal and Mrs. R. Richard Howard in St. Ann's hospital, Columbus.

Sergt. and Mrs. Donald Fox, Shelby, became the parents of a daughter at Shelby Memorial hospital. The mother is the former Fanna Simpson of Plymouth and the father was stationed at Madison, Wis.

P. S. Thomas was promoted to private first class with the Ninth Army in Germany.

Robert Meiser, Madison Fitch and Robert Cole were inducted into the Army.

Charles (Gus) Dick returned to duty with the U. S. Merchant Marine at New York after visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dick, for two weeks.

Chir Tanner sold out his farm in the Corny Line road because he could not get help to operate it.

15 Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis moved from their home in Sandusky street to the Shingler property in West Broadway.

Miss Bonnie Root, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Halse F. Root, became the bride of Robert Greenwood in the First Evangelical Lutheran church.

JUST KIDS—A Ten Year Old Uncle.

By Ad Carter

The betrothal of Miss Helen Catherine Einsel to James Bergen of Marietta was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Linsell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaffer, Mrs. C. C. Darling, Mrs. Florence Mittenbuhler, Mrs. Marguerite St. Clair, Mrs. W. L. Fortney, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Culler and Gerald Culler were received into membership in First Evangelical Lutheran church.

Deryl Daugherty was appointed assistant scoutmaster, Plymouth troop 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burrer moved from West Broadway to the Guaynino property.

Wilson Day and Miss Marian E. Pope were wed by the Rev. R. C. Wolf, pastor of First Evangelical Lutheran church, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fortney in North street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fackler leased the furnished home of Mr. and Mrs. Halse F. Root, known as the Gleason property in Maple avenue. The Roots returned to Vermillion-on-the-Lake.

Charles Rowe succeeded Joe Hunter at the Plymouth theatre. Mr. Hunter took employment in Jerry's market.

Glen Hisey, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hisey, Trux street, died of influenza at the age of 34.

Mrs. Edward O. Ramsey was elected president of the Tourist club.

E. W. Phillips retired as superintendent of light and water in the village after 20 years of service. He was succeeded by Clyde Crawford.

Keith Dawson was accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Army and assigned to Ft. Bragg, N. C.

Pupils in the public school system vacated the grade school building in West Broadway and moved to the high school building. It was the last time the old building was to be used to house pupils.

Duane Edward Utiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Utiss, was baptised in the First Evangelical Lutheran church.

Postmaster D. E. Bushey commenced his duties in the Shiloh Postoffice.

Mrs. William Root underwent surgery at Shelby Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Caywood took an apartment in the Sourwine hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Snyder of Salem, Ore., were visiting relatives in Plymouth.

"The Ghost Parade" was given by New Haven seniors.

Around the Square

— By Phineas Whittleseed —

A young admirer of this column sends us this yarn, which he says actually happened in a grocery store of our acquaintance. Appears that a woman rushed into the market at a late hour, Saturday and asked for a chicken. The young butcher had only one left, a scrawny thing, which he weighed and computed the price for. She thumped it and remarked about how thin it was, and said she didn't want it. So he put it under the counter and said, "I have just one more."

Whereupon he picked up the same bird, put it on the scales, and set a price about 19 cents more than the first time. The lady looked it over carefully and said, "All right, I'll take it and the other one too."

Don't ask us what the young butcher did then, but if you'll come in, we'll tell you his name so you can ask him.

Jim Alexander, the capable editor of the Lodi Review, quotes 10 rules NOT to follow when trying to get a long with a newspaperman, which we cite for the benefit of those that need them:

(1) Lie to him: (2) Try to conceal facts which are certain to come out anyhow. (3) Tell him what to print. (4) Tell him what not to print. (5) Call the publisher and complain about what has been printed. (6) Be a turn-coat. Say this-and-so, and then after your responsible statement appears in print, issue a denial. (7) Shoo the reporter away from visiting highbrows when the reporter is trying to interview them. (8) Go directly to the publisher with an advance tip on a story which the reporter would normally pick up on the run. (9) Be a "smart aleck." Take the attitude, "Newspapers never get anything right, or a story straight, anyhow." (10) Try to cram your bulletin board announcement or routine publicity release into the paper at deadline, or when a half-dozen big stories break."

Wanted: votes for a song.

Mrs. James Rhine, whose efforts with music and lyrics have previously been recognized, has done it again. A thing she has done is "Sometimes I Wonder", has been chosen by the Radio Audience Testing bureau for transmission on the air waves in Ohio in the near future.

The deal is the songs'll be played, and audience reaction in the form of a written postal card or letter to the station indicating preference will determine which songs will be published.

The song competes against other compositions done in the state, and the 48 winners compete against each other. Give Mrs. Rhine on the telephone and she'll give you more about when it'll be played. And keep Sourwine & Co. busy with the post cards and letters showing your preference for "Sometimes I Wonder."

Mrs. H. S. T. cards from Cally-form-ya, saying she's having a dandy time and will be in a couple of weeks. Funny, 'twas just a year ago today we saw her for the first time.

"I read in your column," the lady said, "that you like cookies, so I got up at dawn today and baked some." Whereupon she laid a sack of the delicious things on the table and fled into the daylight.

Thanks to Mrs. Gleason, our friend to the east, for thinking of us. Anytime she needs a recommendation for a job as pastry cook, all she need do is call on us. It'll be a blue-ribbon one.

Rajah Miller tore himself away from his garden fork, Sunday to let us know about a thing that would've made a dandy piece if we'd have been ready. Seems a youngster was standing on the Square with a fish yay-long. Rajah said it hung from his neck to his knees, and he'd caught it in the stream behind the park.

Hey, sonny, let us know who you are and give us some details about your fish.

Our demon photographer snapped a wonderfully poignant shot of a lady of some age making her way to church Easter morning. It's magnificently clear, and it's the kind of a shot that some such would gobble up, because it has a world of feeling in it.

Trouble is, we don't recognize the lady. So if you're over, say, 50, with white hair and a black coat, kindly drop around for a peep at the snap, and we'll give you a complimentary copy.

If Mrs. Gerald Miller, who apparently owns - or owned - a 14-year-old male dog, short haired, yellow in color, bearing Huron county license No. 5165, will call at Phil's sanctum sanctorum, he'll be glad to deliver the collar with license attached that said doggie has apparently lost.

We got two rises from the facetious crack made in last week's Advertiser with respect (or, rather, lack of it) to our spouse. The line said, "Mrs. Francis Burrer shows the pies to some woman or other." One guy wanted to know where the other woman was, and a lady said we shouldn't be so disrespectful of our frau.

Madam, we are so disrespectful because if we weren't she'd get the idea she's valuable around here (which she is) and she's apt to think she's important (which she is) and that would hurt our pride.

The man who thinks that the newspaper editor makes the should properly chastised this week. No less than seven deaths in the paper. S'pose we made 'em all die?

Lookit, bud, the folks who pay the bills have a right to know, and know it all, and they have the right to see the whole, big picture, with the bitter and the sweet, all at one and the same time.

Some fellers we admire immensely got where they are by following that rule, and we propose to stick to it.

Two-Hour Parking

The vote of the village council to endorse two-hour parking in the Public Square and what is generally referred to as the business district is, we think, a sound move that has long been necessary.

In fact, we ourselves are one of the worst culprits. We drive the little red doodle-bug into a parking stall in front of the building and leave it there for hours on end, probably denying some legitimate shopper a parking spot and making him mad.

We hope the police department enforces the ordinance right down to the last period and comma, and if we are guilty, we will pay our fine like the next fellow.

There is no reason why we should not have parking available to all. Merchants of the village have on other occasions expressed themselves forcibly against parking meters. Although Willard has demonstrated that the parking meters are a wise and sound investment, we frankly confess we do not know if they would be wise here.

At any rate, one sure way to avoid their necessity is to insure plenty of parking space in the business district. The only way to do that is to enforce a parking ordinance.

And we promise to publish the names of the culprits, too, in hopes those who dislike to see their names in print in connection with a violation of law will take heed, and abstain from unlawful practices.

Baseball and TV

The baseball season is on. The experts think the Cleveland Indians will win again in the American league, and seem divided in their selections in the National circuit between Milwaukee and New York.

While personally we are supporters of the Yankees and the Redlegs, we do not much care who wins so long as the competition is fair and honest, and reasonably close.

Baseball is our national game, and we are slowly squeezing it to death by cheapening its appeal. Televising the big league games knocks the props from underneath the minor leagues, and we must remember that without the minors the majors cease to be major.

The appeal of baseball is the stronger when a fan has to bestir himself to see it. And while to the true fan seeing it on TV is hardly satisfactory by comparison with seeing it at the stadium, too many folks were staying away from the park to watch it at home.

Baseball will survive, we are sure. But it will survive easier, and be stronger, if it is not abused by indiscriminate telecasting.

Gardeners Responding to Call of Spring

"In the spring, if a man is young," claims The Old Timer, "his thoughts turn to love. And if he's not young - which is to say, if he's married - his thoughts turn to the garden. And if they don't, the Missus will see to it that they do."

Warm sunshine and some rain this week brought gardeners out in full swing in the Plymouth area. Despite the serious wind storm and the subsequent snowfall, gardens are reported to be workable and ready for spading, and the sale of arnica is on the upturn.

Only a few rely on the tried-and-true spade and fork. Nowadays, it's a power outfit. And it makes the care of a small garden easy, the care of a larger one economic, and the tackling of anything bigger than two acres impossible.

Which just about suits every husband imaginable. James Cunningham has turned over the ground in his garden. His colleague, Don W. Einsel, Jr., who had the biggest garden in Plymouth last year, is ready to do the same. Even the lame and halt are at

it. Robert Cornell, despite the handicap of crutches made necessary because he broke his ankle, is hard at work on his own garden. There was a "ringer" mowing the yard Tuesday evening, but as soon as his ankle is well, he promises to do it himself.

Farmers were satisfied with the turn of the weather so far. Many have sown oats, and ground is being turned for wheat and corn. Reports of serious crop damage in other regions have been taken for what they are: some assurance the 1955 crop glut will not be so big as it was in 1944. And for Plymouth area farmers, hoping they can eventually turn the tables on Secretary Benson and the wheat and corn acreage allotment system, that was good news indeed.

BE PREPARED

It's much better to look ahead and prepare than it is to look back and regret.

PTA to Hold Drive For Rags Saturday

Shiloh Parent-Teachers association will conduct a rag collection Saturday.

Residents of the school district who may have rags to donate are asked to communicate by telephone with the section collectors, who are:

Shiloh village, Mrs. Proctor Steele, tel. 2744.
Shiloh rural, Mrs. Mrs. Roscoe Hamman, tel. 2125.
Shiloh rural Mr. and Mrs. Robert Heyde, tel. 2864.
Shiloh rural, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kirkendall, tel. 2-2174.

All packages on the school bus routes will be picked up Saturday morning.

Any container is suitable, the committee reports.

Mrs. Cihla Buys Backensto House

The Ira Backensto property in Prospect street has been purchased by Mrs. Reva Cihla, according to her statement, and is already in process of remodeling.

Mrs. Backensto, former occupant, is now living with a daughter, Mrs. Jane Fellows, near Tiro. Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Frisbee and family have sold their farm, known as the Clint Keinhart farm, off State route 603, to Kelly Blankenship of Ganges.

Mrs. and Mrs. Frisbee and family moved to Mansfield, where he is employed, Apr. 2.

Mrs. and Mrs. Blankenship moved on to the vacation property shortly thereafter.

Mrs. Reva Cihla of Prospect street and her father-in-law, Arthur Cihla of Cleveland, left Monday for a week's visit in Washington, D. C.

The American Legion Auxiliary unit of Garrett-Riest post 503 will have two guest speakers at its next regular meeting in the Legion hall Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. D. A. McCullough, fifth district president, will speak on "Community Service," and Mrs. C. C. Minard, child welfare director of Earl McVey Post 16, Mansfield, will deliver an address on "Child Welfare."

All members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. David Rish and family Kaster road were Easter Sunday guests in the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Rish, in Crestline.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adkins, Mr. and Mrs. James Dodd and Mr. Harold Cooper of Shelby were Easter day guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Adkins and family in the Kaster road.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hatch of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson and three children of Willard and John Hatch of New Haven were Sunday afternoon callers of Mrs. Fannie Caldwell in Delaware street.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reynolds of Lorain visited Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Reynolds and other relatives here Saturday.

Auditor Returns Findings of $411 Against Shiloh

The village of Shiloh should recover $411 from persons to whom official funds were erroneously paid, the office of State Auditor James A. Rhodes says.

A finding of $121.25 was reported against Kenneth P. Shaffer, a consulting engineer of Mansfield, who charged the village 10 per cent of $14,685 as his fee for advice on the construction of a water softener plant.

The auditor's office found the actual cost to be $13,473.48 and consequently a fee of only $1,347.35 should have been paid.

A finding of $241 and a second finding of $67.50 against Clyde E. Myers, then village marshal, was reported by the auditor's office. The $241 finding is for reimbursement to the village of wages paid to Myers while employed in other capacities than marshal. The auditor's office held that one employment in the village is the limit authorized by law.

The smaller finding applies to fees due the village from collection made by the marshal.

A finding of $23.11 is against the First National Bank of Mansfield as successors of the Shiloh Savings Bank, which the auditor's office holds to be due on account of unpaid interest on $16,000 worth of bonds issued to construct the water softener plant.

Keith Gibson, Gallion rural, was the state examiner of record.

The Get-To-Gether Club will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Roy Lofland in North street road near Plymouth Thursday. Mrs. Mildred Lofland will be co-hostess and Mrs. Lucy Downd will have the program.

Mrs. James Culler of High street was taken to the Shelby Memorial hospital in McQuate's ambulance Friday.

Taylor Guthrie was removed from his home in High street early Tuesday morning and taken to Shelby Memorial hospital in McQuate's ambulance.

George Cihla of Cleveland was a weekend guest in the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cihla, in Prospect street.

Smelt Time Forecast

Haydn Crowl of Pettit street is eagerly awaiting word from Michigan announcing that the annual spring smelt run is on. He thinks the word will come around Apr. 25.

Last year he and Alvin Garrett made a 400-mile dash when the word came through, and returned a couple days later with 700 pounds of the tasty little fish, which are dipped out of the streams where they spawn with buckets, nets, shovels — anything handy.

Spring Is in the Air

They've brought their fishin' tackle out And put it on display. 01' Spring is surely here, by gum; It ain't just "on the way" When George and Rex and Dutch took off Two weeks ago today With thought to wet a line or two Up in Sandusky Bay, They wrought a most momentous thing For which we all can shout; They wakened up the Hardware Gang And brought their tackle out. Some herald Spring when robins show, Some when a bird appears. Some go by calendars and such, And have down through the years, But when the Hardware Gang wakes up And puts out on display Their fishin' tackle you can bank That Spring is here to stay.

What One Pound Will Do
One pound of fresh pod vegetables, such as peas and lima beans, makes two to three servings.

One pound of snap beans, carrots or beets will serve 4 to 5 people.

Good nutrition calls for green leaf and yellow vegetables every day.

One pound of spinach makes 3 to 4 small servings of cooked vegetable.

Freshen Old Furniture
MUCH old furniture still is useful, but its appearance is against it. Yet, it's too good to give away and not old enough to be considered antique. What can be done? A bit of ingenuity and effort will transform an old dresser into a thing of modern beauty — and at small cost. Note the "before and after" sketches of the same dresser. There's quite a change!

In general, removal of the gingerbread from the dresser is the first step in the renovation. A recessed wood base, instead of legs, does much to modernize the piece. Most likely, the top has been scarred. Easiest cure is the addition of a panel of Masonite. The "before and after" is thick. This then may be primed and painted. Alternates might be black Preswood, or Leatherwood, a textured hardboard. One of the gay plastic-surfaced hardboards would be suitable, too, as they are resistant to stains and cigarette burns. Various colors and patterns in Marlite are available.

Matching material, if needed, may be used to re-cover dingy looking drawer fronts. Standard "X" Preswood is excellent for replacing cracked drawer bottoms and dresser backs.
