Willard Ross Killed At Shelby Crossing

Apparently confused by the approach of two New York Central trains at the West Main street crossing in Shelby Tuesday morning, a long-time Plymouth resident drove to his death on the crossing shortly after 9 a.m.

He was Willard C. Ross, Sr., 52, of Shelby, co-proprietor of a grocery there, who was struck by a northbound passenger train even as he was taking care not to be struck by a southbound one.

Eye-witnesses told Shelby police the flashing lights at the crossing were in operation and Mr. Ross had followed another vehicle across the tracks after noting that a southbound train was idling in the siding. Police surmise he did not imagine that a northbound train would be coming at that moment. The northbound train was 35 minutes late.

Although limited to only five hits by Tom McMillen, Plymouth High school's basketball player, Lucas at Ontario High school's diamond, 5 to 2.

John Fox, senior hurler, pitched effectively in the clutch and seven Cub errors allowed the Pilgrims to romp off with the victory.

The Pilgrim rightlander gave up eight hits, one of which was a lead-off homer by Red Haring, Lucas leftfielder, who got three bingles during the afternoon.

Burly Jim Jacobs, Plymouth backstop, led the Pilgrims at bat with two safe blows.

Weather permitting, the Pilgrims were to have met Lexington's Minutemen in the second round of the Richland county spring tournament yesterday on the Ontario field at 4:30 p.m.

Coach Fred Kreutzfeldt planned to start Fox on the hill, with Don Grabach in reserve.

A dinner will precede the inspection. Members of the lodge will meet at Cornell's at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. R. Earl McQuate and Mrs. Stanley Condon are in charge of the table decorations for the event.

The inspection will be held in the chapter rooms whose decoration will be done by Mrs. H. James Root, Mrs. Alfred Parkinson, and Mrs. R. C. McElroy.

Mrs. Lavina Bruce of Tiro is the worthy matron for this year, and George Ellis is worthy patron. Among those planning to attend the event will be Mrs. Hazel Caves of Carey, a grand representative.

Children Receive Salk Shots Today

One hundred sixty-six Plymouth school children will receive the first inoculation of Salk anti-polio vaccine beginning at 9 a. m. today. Postponed from a week ago because the vaccine had not been tested, a sufficient quantity is on hand from the first dose, Richland county health authorities say, and the second inoculation will be furnished from a supplemental supply to be delivered later.

Hey, kids! After the doctors have given you that painful shot, come down to The Advertiser and get one - free - that is completely and absolutely painless!

And get an ice cream cone to boot, courtesy of Weldon M. Cornell.

Starting at 1 p. m. today, all youngsters under 12 may have their photographs made free of charge in the rooms over The Advertiser. After Labor day, the photographs - proofs of which will be submitted to the parent or guardian for selection before publication - will be published in this newspaper in the advertising space of Cornell's restaurant.

Shiloh pupils who received true Salk vaccine injections last year will receive a "booster" injection free.

A "booster" injection is recommended for all children, but it will have to be paid for by the pupil if his parents and received from his family physician.

Pupils of Mrs. Elizabeth McGregor's third grade class visited The Advertiser Apr. 2 at 2 p.m., accompanied by their teacher. Promised a prize to the best essay written by a boy and a girl, the pupils turned in with a will. The following are the winners, but the race was close. The writers showed a keen interest in the paper. It cuts and folds four pages at a time.

Then we went upstairs. Mr. Padlock was real nice and treated us to ice cream bars. Then we went back to school and I wrote this story.

On April 20 Mrs. McGregor's third grade went to the Advertiser Mr. Padlock said to make a story so here it is by Girard Cashman.

Mrs. McGregor's third grade class went to The Advertiser. We saw the folding machine. When the papers were printed they put the papers into the machine and it would come out folded. Another thing we saw was type and all the letters would go in the drawer. All the common letters would go in big boxes and all the uncommon letters would go in little boxes.

We saw the name cutter. The cutter cuts names and addresses off a sheet of paper and puts paste on them and they are ready to be put on the papers.

There is something else that we were all pleased with. Mr. Padlock gave us an ice cream bar and we thanked him.

Mr. Padlock, if you are reading this story please choose mine and I will be grateful and if you don't it's all the same.

(Ed Note: The obvious fact that Girard had nothing to do with the choice of these essays as the best efforts. Originality, style and clarity of expression were the criteria used.)

Dr. Charles O. Butler will administer the vaccine in Shiloh and Drs. D. B. Faust and C. L. Hanum will give the vaccinations here.

All first and second grade pupils will receive two injections. The second will follow the first by three weeks. Those third grade pupils who received true Salk vaccine injections last year will receive a "booster" injection free.

Also, Karen S. Port, Betty J. Shepherd, Shari L. Einsel, Nina M. Fitch, Sandra N. Huzovick, Denise A. Kootz, Roger A. McQuown, Helen M. Ramey and Ralph E. Thauvette.

Shiloh pupils who will receive free "boosters" are Linda K. Wagers, Thomas W. Todd, Blanche E. Arnold, Doris M. Baker, Linda K. Kennard, Jean A. Reynolds, Michael B. Ruckman, Jeanne L. Sloan, Ann E. Wiles, Robert Forsythe, Terry Hamman, Delwin A. Herz, Charles E. Kaylor.

Also, Paula D. Kessler, Janis Porter, Wesley Steele, Gary Stoops, Roger Youngblood, Richard D. Hamman, James D. Hamman, Shirley A. Hall, Robert David Guthrie, Joe Koker, Linda C. Benson, Beverly A. Dillinger, James L. Crouse and Allen W. Arnold.

Eight women accompanied the Rev. T. M. Sheesley, pastor of the Methodist church, to the Vacation School Institute in Tiffin Tuesday. They were Mrs. Harold Sloan, Mrs. Robert MacMichael, Mrs. Edwin Beeching, and Mrs. Sam Smith, representing the First Evangelical Lutheran church; Mrs. E. Coon, representing the Methodist church; and Mrs. Raymond Willett, and Mrs. Charles Vancleave of the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Milton Wales represented the Methodist church of Shiloh.

The all-day meeting was held at the Lutheran church there. Instruction was given on how to use the material designed for the Vacation Bible schools which most communities will carry on after the public schools are dismissed. Registration was held Saturday in the Plymouth churches, but children may still register for the classes. It is planned to begin the classes May 31.

Thirteen seniors and 12 juniors of New Haven High school will leave from Willard May 30 for a week's conducted tour of Washington and environs.

The classes will visit Washington, Arlington National cemetery, Mr. Vernon Alexandria, Williamsburg, Norfolk, Old Point Comfort and Hampton Roads, Va.

They will sail down the Potomac river and through Chesapeake bay to Norfolk and will see Jamestown, Yorktown and Annapolis and the U. S. Naval Academy.

Cost of the trip is $71 each, most of which the students have raised. Chaperones are Mrs. Milton Schantz and R. L. Davies.

Winners of an essay contest in Mrs. Elizabeth McGregor's third grade class are Elizabeth Archer and Girard Cashman, from whom the photographer was unable to keep a secret.

In a rare case of "turn about is fair play," Dr. D. B. Faust — who'll be on the business end of the needle today — submits to a bit of fancy needlework by Randy Davis, son of the James Davises. Didn't hurt much, did it, Doctor? Now see the nurse about a lollypop.

Mrs. Livingston Elected by Class

Mrs. George Livingston was elected president of the Young Adults class of the Methodist church Sunday when the group met at the church.

Mrs. Charles Pugh was chosen vice president, Mrs. William Miller, secretary, and Mrs. Leland Pugh, treasurer.

A dessert supper was served to members. At the business meeting it was decided to sponsor a new bulletin board to be erected outside the church.

Mrs. McGregor's third grade class went to The Advertiser. We saw many things. One was the folding machine. It is like a typewriter. Mr. Padlock showed us a brayer. It catches the mistakes. Then Mrs. Padlock reads each column and if one word is wrong, it has to be done over again. We saw a gadget that's for the left hand and it has a little paste on it and it cuts the names that get the paper.

Then Pam Caudill and Richy Moore rode on the elevator and while they went down we went down the stairs. Downstairs there was a machine that cut and folded the paper. It cuts and folds four pages at a time.

REMINDER
The coming of Ray Hatch to his old home town to speak to the graduating class is the best news we have had in a long time. He has done very well, and there are few in the whole country better qualified to talk to young people about their futures than this chap who is himself a professor of futures.

It could - we think it should - start a fine precedent: get some alumnus (or alumnae, to be democratic about it) to come back each May to speak to the class about life and how to live it (or how easy) to make one's way in it. It doesn't matter how polished the speaker - the fact that he came from here and got ahead will mean ever so much more to young people who, if they are anything like the thousands of high school seniors on commencement plat forms in our experience, will have half their minds closed to anything that is said anyway. If the sayer is a local person, perhaps listenability will increase.

Surely over the past 25 or 30 years there have been enough of our graduates who have made a mark in life who would be willing to do so for money, to come back to speak. And a mark in life means a success as the head of a family, in the business world, in the teaching profession, or the ministry, or whatever. Nor fame. Not fortune. Just success.

Which means he (or she) is a respected member of his community, pays his bills, and is a regular citizen, and has learned enough about life to speak in a sane, sane way about it.

Around the Square

— By Phineas Whittleseed —

Theft has been a crime ever since the beginning of time. Open the Bible and the first story worth remembering is that of Adam and Eve stealing the apple. When we broke into the newspaper business on a Gannett paper years ago, the stock story on the city desk was that about the meanest thief of all. In these days, it was the man or men who pinched a boy's bike. Especially if that boy needed it to deliver the paper.

Nowadays, the meanest thief is the guy who robs your fishing gear. This is why a special sense of sympathy to Willie and Rajah Miller on the loss of their gear. We saw the broken window - the guy had to have a very small hand to get in.

The appearance of Hank Majeski of the Cleveland Indians at the annual athletic banquet was a great tonic. He made a splendid presentation, and if Hank Greenberg does not find a place in the Indian organization for Majeski when his legs finally give out, the front office is missing a good bet.

Carefully prefacing his remarks with the statement that his views were his own and not those of the ball club, of organized baseball, or of his manager, Majeski said he thought the Indians would win the pennant and that Ralph Kiner would be the big reason. Score is a real score, Hank said, and a sensational pitcher. Narielski's arm is slightly sore. Ros'n has slipped a bit and his finger will never be any better. Consequently, there are some plays he'll not be able to make.

Doby has leg trouble, attributed to an all-out effort every time he runs, and the Cleveland outfield is soft. Smith will establish himself as a cc-efficient hitter. Philley doesn't like to fly because once he "ran out of buckets" after a flight from Cleveland to Ottawa. That was when Dave was an outfielder for the Philadelphia club.

Hooper was let go because Narielski has a bigger future. Hoop has bursts in his right shoulder and needs very hot weather to be effective. This he should find in Cincinnati, Majeski said.

Willie Mays is not only the outstanding ballplayer of the National league, but rapidly becoming the biggest box office attraction in the game. He may have tired himself out somewhat by playing in Puerto Rico during the winter, but he is such a great one he will probably overcome it, Majeski allowed.

Yogi Berra of the hated Yankees is the most dangerous batter in the league, and Doby is a better center gardener than Mickey Mantle. The Detroit club is young and improving and "likely to break our backs this year" - in a couple of years a sure contender.

Young Fate Christian posed the question that put Majeski on the spot: "Do you think Rudy Regalado is a very good ball player?" Hank sidestepped a bit, told of Regalado's mistakes and those of the ball club, and predicted he will be back next year to play regularly; at either third or second.

Joe Santiago was pigheaded and may now have learned the lesson of failing to cooperate with the front office.

Young Jake Striker of Sulphur Springs is a fine prospect and may overcome a sore arm to be a real star.

The Kansas City ball park leaves much to be desired when the wind favors the hitters too many banjo homers. And the infield is like plate glass, it's that hard.

The Kansas City management doesn't know which way to go, Majeski said, because of the business the club is doing and the popularity of a last place club with a town hungry to get into the major leagues.

Casey Stengel is the wisest man in the league and ball players are usually the butts of his jokes, except occasionally umpires. Majeski told a doozie about Ump Larry Napp and Casey.

Nor was Hank the only comedian on the card. Coach Krenzfeld pulled off one or two fine cracks and paid tribute to his boys for their stick-to-it-iveness and courage under fire. He got all tied up when the Varsity club presented its gifts, the most outlandish collection of ties you ever saw.

The meal was pleasantly cooked and served and we probably violated a law by lighting up a stogie. Publi-esse, Messers. Board of Education, clarify the smoking situation at all public functions in the school by lighting a lamp of some kind, or tying a rat tassel on the toastmaster's lapel, or some such. Just so we won't feel guilty.

The coming of Ray Hatch to his old home town to speak to the graduating class is the best news we have had in a long time. He has done very well, and there are few in the whole country better qualified to talk to young people about their futures than this chap who is himself a professor of futures.

Which means he (or she) is a respected member of his community, pays his bills, and is a regular citizen, and has learned enough about life to speak in a sane, sane way about it.

For a newspaper, it is always a pleasure to note that some suggestion or other meets with approval somewhere. And we think it highly fitting to cite the notice that has been taken of an informal suggestion we made some time ago, to the effect that our school could very well organize a league comprised of other schools of similar size, for athletic competition.

Mel Riebe, sports writer for the Lodi Review, in his column, writes that he approves of the plan to unite Plymouth, Lodi, Townsend-Wakeman, Butler, Seville and LeRoy into a league for football, at least, and perhaps other sports. Lodi authorities, he says, are for it too.

These schools are just about our size, and it would be a good thing if the league could materialize. Riebe points out that this next season is too soon, because the schools involved have contracts with others that must be honored. But 1956 would be great for a starting point.

We bring this matter up because we were gratified to see a goodly turnout of folks at the annual athletic dinner. Oh, sure, they were the same folks, more or less, who are in the front line of every community enterprise, and they are darned few. The Harris Postemas, Ralph Hunt, the Jim Jacobses, the Bus Goldsmiths, the Kenny Myrseas, and a few of that unselfish stripe. But they and some others were there, and our point is that the logical conclusion to schoolboy athletics of an interscholastic character is to organize a suitable league in which our boys and girls will be fairly matched.

The schools involved seem to take a healthy attitude toward the proposal, and when we remember they have a lot farther to go than we do - some have lighted parks, some don't, one even has a baseball backstop in the end zone - we should be at least willing to do two things:

1. Provide the leasrship for establishment of such a league by inviting the powers that be here for dinner and discussion leading toward it.
2. "Sell" the plan in the other towns.

This newspaper will be glad to foot the bill for the dinner. It will be glad to assist in getting the project started. All it asks is that some intelligent, well-meaning, right-intentioned folks who believe in schoolboy athletics for the sake of sportsmanship and character development rather than win-in-spite-of-the Devil, quietly notify the editor they're willing to take hold, to help out, to do a little toward getting it going.

We are too shocked to do more than express to his loved ones our sorrow at the death of Willard C. Ross, Sr. He was our kind of citizen: completely sold on the need for education in the modern world, and willing to put himself out so that his kids and everybody's kids would get the opportunity to profit by it. May God bless him.

New Tiles Drain Coleman Farm

One of four farms surrounding Plymouth which are important to its stocker-feeder cattle business, the Coleman spread of 110 acres has long been a show piece in Route 61 north of the village.

It belongs to Bachrach Co., who this year trenched and tiled the whole farm. It was an expensive proposition, and Robert Bachrach remarks that "it's a shame that airplane didn't come along just after we had trenched, so we'd have a map of where the darn tile are."

Together with the Carnahan place, the Parsel spread and the Hills farm, the old Coleman establishment affords the company with a place to store receipts of live cattle, which arrive both by train and by truck, until buyers who call regularly are able to close deals for their purchase.

The farm is equipped with stalls and feed racks and plenty of standing space, as well as loading ramps. This is so that buyers can get a fair look at what they're buying promptly and without delay.

For many years, the north field of the Coleman farm was wont to hold water. After heavy downpours, a veritable lake gathered in the extreme northerly portions of the land.

In part, drainage was affected by the Baltimore & Ohio right-of-way which transverses the property. Land falls lightly to the south and a good bit to the west. The installation of drainage tile will keep surface water flowing rapidly to the west and thus retain cultivable ground in the farm.

Of late, the Coleman farm has been a symbol of conditions in the beef cattle industry. The 110-acre place is the oldest establishment in the firm's operation, and helps makes the Bachrach Co. the largest independent beef cattle feeder and stocker business in Ohio.

May and June purchases are apt to be high, the firm states. Grassland conditions in the far west affect market prices, and the firm advises some buyers to hold off until later.

Richard Myers, brother-in-law of Robert Bachrach, lives in the smaller house in the north portion of the property. He is associated with the firm as salesman. Married, he has a daughter.

Henry Chapman, veteran New Haven farmer, assists from time to time in farming the Coleman place.

46 Years Away, He Asks What Befell Bandstand

After 46 years, a former Plymouth boy returned last week to old haunts and asked two questions:

What happened to the pavilion in the Square?

"Do you still have a ball team?"

Carl Lundeen, whose late father, Albert, operated the stone quarry where John F. Stambaugh now lives, visited the village for the first time since August, 1909, when he moved away with his parents to Iowa. Mr. Lundeen now lives in Marion, near Cedar Rapids, in the Hawkeye state.

Old family acquaintances will recall his sisters, he said. They are Mrs. Ruth Chatzle, living in Central City, Ia., and Mrs. Sadie Bates, now located at Chilo, Cal.

Mr. Lundeen's son-in-law is sports director of a Toledo radio station and he was in this region on a family visit. He retired last year and since has been "getting the feel of the country."

The Lundeens lived in a house in what he thinks is now Light street, but "I'd have to look around a bit to get my bearings before I could be sure."

AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNCIL OF THE VILLAGE OF PLYMOUTH, OHIO, DECLARING THE NECESSITY TO IMPOSE AND COLLECT A SEWER SERVICE CHARGE, AND ESTABLISHING THE RATES THEREOF.

Whereas, the Village of Plymouth has sewers in place and in operation in the Village, and along with other drainage from the Village, collect and discharge raw sewage into the Huron River, and

Whereas, the Director of Health, Department of Health, State of Ohio and the Water Pollution Control Board of the State of Ohio have notified the Village of Plymouth that it must take positive steps to enlarge its sewerage system and construct a plant for the treatment of sewage, and that the pollution of the Huron River may be brought under control, and

Whereas, the Council of the Village of Plymouth, Ohio finds that the making of surveys, construction of additions, extensions and enlargements of the sewerage system, including sewers and sewerage treatment plant and works are necessary to protect, promote and preserve public health and safety and are necessary in order to comply with the orders of the Director of Health, State of Ohio, and

Whereas, Council finds that rates and charges should be established and collected in sufficient amount to provide substantial funds for necessary surveys and construction of such additions and enlargements;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE VILLAGE OF PLYMOUTH, OHIO, THAT:

Section 1. It is hereby determined and declared to be necessary to the protection of the public health, safety, welfare, and convenience of the Village of Plymouth, Ohio, to establish and collect charges upon all lots, lands and premises served by, having connections with, or which otherwise discharge sewage, industrial wastes, water, or other liquids, either directly or indirectly, into the village sewers or into the Huron River.

Section 2. The funds received from the collection of the rates and charges provided for in this Ordinance shall be deposited with the Village Treasurer, who shall keep the same in a separate fund designated "Sewer Revenue Fund". Subject to the provisions of any ordinance or indenture of mortgage authorizing and securing the issue and said mortgage revenue bonds for improvement and extensions of said sewerage system, moneys in said fund shall be used for the payment of the costs and expense of the operation, maintenance, repair and enlargements of the sewerage system, and for the payment of debt charges on bonds issued for extensions and improvements of said sewerage system, and any surplus in said fund over and above the requirements before mentioned may be used for the enlargement and replacement of the sewerage system and parts thereof, but shall not be used for the extension of the system to serve unserved areas or for any other purpose whatsoever.

Section 3. That for the purposes provided in Section 2 hereof, there is hereby levied and charged upon each lot, parcel of land, or premises served by, having connections with, or which otherwise discharges sewage, industrial wastes, water or other liquids, either directly or indirectly, into the Village sewers or into the Huron River, sewer charges payable as herein provided and in the amount determinable as follows:

- (1) Per residence unit, Three Dollars ($3.00) per quarter year.
- (2) Per church or lodge, Three Dollars ($3.00) per quarter year.
- (3) Per business house, Three Dollars ($3.00) per quarter year.
- (4) Per gasoline service station, garage, restaurant, cafe, dairy, or stockyard, Six Dollars ($6.00) per quarter year.
- (5) Industrial and manufacturing concerns, Ten Dollars ($10.00) per quarter year per One Hundred (100) employees based upon the annual average employment, with a minimum charge of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per quarter year.

(16) Village Schools, Village of Plymouth, Ohio, Twenty Five ($25.00) Dollars per quarter year, per building.

Section 4. Over and above the charges established by Section 3 hereof, there may be established in special instances and upon special agreement between the village and the owner of any lot, parcel of land or premises which falls under those described in Section 3 hereof, such additional charges for industrial wastes or other liquids, or composition which are accepted by the village for treatment as may be determined to be fair and equitable. Each such special agreement and charges established shall not become effective until ratified by ordinance duly passed by the Council of the village.

Section 5. The rates and charges established by Section 3 shall take effect on June 1, 1955, and thereafter shall be billed and become payable as provided in Section 6. Section 6. The sewer charges provided in Section 3 shall be payable quarterly at the office of the Clerk of the Village of Plymouth. Sewer charges shall be included in and be payable with the village water bills and shall become payable at the same times as water bills become payable.

Section 7. That each sewer charge levied pursuant to this Ordinance is hereby made a lien upon the premises charged there with and the same is not paid within ninety days after it shall be due and payable, it shall be certified to the Auditor of the County in which said premises are situated, who shall place the same on the tax duplicate, with the interest and penalties allowed by law, and be collected as other municipal taxes are collected. The Village shall have the right, in the event of non-payment as aforesaid, to discontinue service to such premises of water supplied by the Village's waterworks system until such unpaid sewer charges have been fully paid.
