Bachrach Property Sold To Steeles; Reams Sell

Sale of the property of his late sister to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Steele was announced this week by Maurice Bachrach, principal heir of the estate of the late Miss Jennie Bachrach.

The house, at 79 Plymouth street, and land had been transferred to Mr. Bachrach, without recording of the deed, some time ago. Sale of the premises to the Steeles provided for immediate occupancy.

Personal effects of the late Miss Bachrach will be sold privately by her brother from his home at 105 Mulberry street.

In other real estate transactions, Byron E. Ream sold his property at 17 West High street to Daniel Grubich, who bought from Grubich a new home in Plymouth East road. Mr. Grubich, it is understood, plans to remodel the West High street property into a duplex.

Queenie Ream has rented the house belonging to Mrs. F. B. Stewart at 97 West Broadway and will occupy it with his family effective June 1. The Reams have been living in the Sourin house building.

Charles Hockenberry, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Luther R. Fetters, opened an electric motor shop in the Cornell hotel building in Sandusky street this week.

He will continue his employment with Westinghouse at Mansfield and will maintain regular daylight hours at the shop, which will deal with spare parts and repairs, with an electric motor of all types, including rewinding of armatures and starters. The Hockenberrys live at 37 Bell street. She is the former Dorothy Fetters. The couple has four children, Daniel, Stephen, Gloria and Mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore have moved the south half of the Clyde Lasch residence, at 57 Sandusky street.

Four Keys to Success, Graduates Told Here By Raymond Hatch

There are four keys to success, Dr. Raymond N. Hatch told 22 Plymouth High school graduates in commencement exercises Friday before an audience of 600.

The first is self-respect. He cautioned the group never to lose faith in itself. The second is respect from others. This, Dr. Hatch pointed out, is the result of getting along in business and home life. He brought out the fact that jobs are lost more because the individual does not lack skills, but merely cannot get along with others.

The third key is planning ahead. He said that it is the only way to obtain one's goals and know what one is striving toward. The final key is the overcoming of fear of failure. His advice to the graduates was to not be afraid of failure, but to know they would succeed.

With these four keys, he concluded, anyone can look forward to a happy, satisfied life.

Awards were presented to five graduates by Frederick Kruetzfeld, high school principal. C. Otis Port, class valedictorian, was given a $100 scholarship by the fifth class, and a four year scholarship to Baldwin-Wallace college by the National Methodist Foundation. A year's subscription to the Reader's Digest was given by the magazine in recognition of his scholastic standing. M. Pearl Lucas, salutatorian, was given a $50 scholarship to the DAK award for citizenship.

Mr. Kruetzfeld presented the annual athletic award to John Fox. Nancy Barbour was given the activities award, and the citizenship award was presented to Larry Vansdale.

J. Harold Cashman, president of the Board of Education and John Helbig, president of the Student Body, presented the diplomas to the graduates. The ceremonies closed with the singing of the alma mater by the graduates and benediction by the Rev. T. M. Sheesley.

Leo Swank files suit against Shiloh, Asks Injunction on Sewage

A $10,000 charge suit and request for an injunction stopping the dumping of raw sewage upon farm land in Cass township has been laid against the Village of Shiloh in Richland county common pleas court.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Swank, who live in the village of Shiloh, allege that 7 1/2 acres of land owned by them and on which they are engaged in farming and the commercial extraction of peat moss are damaged by the dumping of raw sewage from the village.

The petition filed by the Swanks says the village has a tile running under the land which has been used to drain raw sewage from the village and that an open sewer ditch also drains into the property.

The Swanks claim their suit against the village is based on the result the land is materially damaged. They seek an injunction preventing further dumping of raw sewage and $10,000 monetary damages.

The action is the first ever laid in Richland or Huron counties against a corporate village for violation of simple sanitary laws and customs. Plymouth, Greenich and officials of other villages are expected to be named in the suit.

Kreutzfeld Resigns For Ottawa Hills Post As Teacher-Coach

High school principal and athletic coach for the past two years, Frederick Kreutzfeld has resigned his position to accept another as biology teacher and assistant football and basketball mentor at Ottawa Hills High school near Toledo.

The new post offers "a wonderful opportunity that I can't afford to turn down." Coach Kreutzfeld said "they're engaged in a new building program of nearly three quarters of a million dollars and the biology lab and biology is my field, so I will be the best equipped in the state when they're finished."

Mr. Kreutzfeld, who is vacating quarters at 40 1/2 Trux street, is a graduate of Port Huron High school and of Ohio State university, Class of 1930. He served two years as a Navy bombardier.

His first teaching post was at Butler district, where he had signal success in establishing interscholastic 11-man football.

His record here was not so impressive, but the material was less so. The football team last fall was the most successful Plymouth had fielded since the sport was started, with two victories, a tie, and four losses. The basketball team dropped 19 regular season games without a win, and went on to drop two more in the Richland county tournament.

He succeeded Mrs. Mabel Lantz as principal late in 1954, after she had applied for, and received, a year's leave of absence.

Robert L. Dubbert, music supervisor at the school, was responsible last night to have resigned his post to accept another at Lancaster High school.

"THAT LITTLE GAME" Inter-national Cartoon Co., N.Y.—By B. Link

Around the Square

— By Phineas Whittleseed —

It is natural for the people to grumble, said William Jennings Bryan, and who was a greater grumbler than he?

Which is by way of reminding one and all that nominating petition blanks can now be obtained from the clerk of the board of elections at Norwalk, Paul C. Tucker.

The petitions must be drawn in favor of a bona fide elector of the village and signed by no less than 25 persons who are bona fide electors. They must be filed in Mr. Tucker's office, Huron County Court House, by 4 p. m. on Aug. 10.

This year, all six council posts, the mayor's job, the clerk's, and the treasurer's, and all three posts on the Board of Public Affairs will be offered for election. Doubtless, some of the incumbents will wish to continue in their jobs. Some others will wish to retire. Two posts on the Board of Education—those of John Melting and David Cook—also expire.

If an elector doesn't like what the council or the Board of Public Affairs has done, he can repair to either the Methodist or Lutheran church on election day and express his dislike and lack of confidence. If he likes what has been done, he owes it to the candidate to express a vote of confidence.

We are a little tired of howlers about this and that who are not themselves willing to run for office or to express their dislike of candidates by voting against them.

There are big issues to decide in this village this year. Shall we vote a three mill school levy (see elsewhere in this newspaper today where experienced teachers are quitting because we don't pay them enough?) to finance our schools? Shall the Board of Public Affairs be endorsed in its plan to obtain water from the farm of Henry Chapman in New Haven? Shall the council organize an agency to induce new industry to establish here?

Yes, it's natural to grumble, and not very natural, we suppose, to do anything about it. But the time has come for us to stop acting like little boys and girls and to start acting like solid citizens.

For our part, we propose to give full news coverage to the candidates, and to the issues, to solicit the view of each candidate on those issues and to publish them, and further, to induce as many individuals as possible to run for office.

What could be fairer, more democratic, than that?

Clarence Mack, our neighbor in Plymouth street, has suffered two losses lately, only one of them intentional. He gave a metronome, one of those fancy dinguses that audibly marks the time of music, to the high school music department, for Net Loss No. 1. Then some motorist (we hear tell, Clarence, he was elderly fellow in a beatup truck) ran down his dachshound, who had to be destroyed. Tough luck, pal.

A landmark hereabouts will bite the dust when the New Haven school board sells the long white bar-racklike building on June 3. It'll be disposed of at auction, and if you're interested, get over there at 5 P. m. next Friday. And its replacement, which we're very keen to see is the first Maxim Lite school to be built in Ohio.

The claims made for this type of construction are a bit on the lively side, and while we don't doubt them in the slightest, we're anxious to see the results. For seeing is believing, and if a suitable school can be built for a lot less than what the cost has been in the past, we're all for it.

When we make a boner, it's a real boo-boo. After we'd finished running 2,000 copies of last week's commencement special, H. S. T. called us to let us know that the photo of this young lady had been inserted next to the copy for this young fellow.

We're awful sorry, it was one of those things, and we publish the photos here to get it straight. The top one is Carol Jo Cunningham. The bottom one is Billy Ellis.

MACK'S SUPER MARKET

Open Mon., Wed., Fri. & Sat. Nights

Not that it will do us much good—come Tuesday morning we expect to read that upwards of 700 persons have been killed on the highways over the Decoration day weekend—but we want to add our small voice to the thousands of others urging you, and you, and you to be careful this weekend.

Decoration day is our traditional holiday to pay tribute to those who gave their lives in defense of the republic. In later years, it has also become the one time of the year when we can place floral tributes and other remembrances on the graves of other loved ones, whether or not soldiers, sailors, marines or air-men. It is a custom we have learned from our British cousins, who celebrate their sovereign's birthday in June, when the weather is likely to be good, regardless of when he or she was actually born. (Queen Elizabeth II has a November birth date.)

To be sure that you're around next year to participate in this custom in fact rather than memory, we suggest that you follow these rules this weekend:

1. Stay home.
2. Wash and sweep out the family car but leave it in the garage, unless absolute necessity dictates otherwise.
3. Enjoy the scenery, keep 'er down below 45, and get home before dark, if go out you must.

In short, honor the dead by staying alive.

It will be a great shock to us if tomorrow's news is that the Conservative party has been turned out by the British voter. We Americans were poorly prepared for the defeat of Winston Churchill and the Conservatives in 1945, after that distinguished statesman had led the allies through the war. Of course, every GI who was serving in England then could see the handwriting on the wall, and was not surprised that Clement Attlee and the Labor party were victorious.

But when the Tories returned, they showed a more responsible concern for the common man and since their reaccession they have materially improved the British situation.

The free world is on the threshold of what could very well be the most momentous days of our times. East-West talks are planned for San Francisco within a month on the 10th anniversary of the United Nations and the heads of state of Soviet Russia, France, the United States and the United Kingdom are soon to conduct talks "at the summit" in an all-out effort to relieve the tension.

We are not so naive as to think that what is black will be turned to white as a result of these talks, but we sincerely feel that the chances of "graying up" the situation—making the black less black—is better if Sir Anthony Eden is the British delegate.

The elections are today, and we hope Sir Anthony is returned to power. We need him.

Alumni to Banquet, Dance Saturday

The annual alumni banquet will be held at Shiloh High school Saturday at 7 p.m., honoring the class of 1955 and the classes of 25 and 50 years ago.

A dance will follow the banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Garrett and James Garrett visited Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Cassell and family in Columbus.

The Rev. R. L. Lubold, pastor of Mt. Hope Lutheran church and Explorer scouts adviser, addressed the Boy Scouts at their regular meeting in the school Monday night. He spoke on Explorer scouts.

On May 21 the Scouts canvassed the village, selling poppies for the American Legion Auxiliary.

A Conservation Good Turn banner was awarded the troop for building of a fireplace at the American Legion park. This banner was for the 1954 Conservation Good Turn. A letter of appreciation was sent the Scouts by their field Scout executive, Palmer Vance.

Last Sunday they attended the Lutheran church services in a group and again Memorial Sunday they will attend Memorial services at the Methodist church, along with the American Legion and Auxiliary.

Plans are being made to attend camp at Camp Avery Hand in Ontario this summer, and the troop is training to march in the parade here Memorial Day.

Eugene Mitchell and Harold Bruce Winters, both Shiloh route 2, were inducted into the Army Friday.

They were among nine inductees who left Mansfield for Ft. Hayes, Columbus.

The Mothers' Study club will meet this Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Jesse Wayne Hamman in the Noble road.

Mr. and Mrs. Haydn Crowl of Pettit street left last Saturday morning for Indian River, Mich., where they intend to spend a two week's vacation.

The Get-to-Gether club was entertained May 19 in the home of Mrs. Ruth Brinson in County Line road east of Plymouth.

Busheys Raising Crop of Boys

Robert and Marie Arnold Bushey live on a farm that was acquired by his grandfather, Henry, in 1900 and built upon 11 years later. What with one acquisition and another, it grew to 96 acres of fertile and useful farm land in Cass township, but the Busheys are a different kind of farmer. They're raising boys.

There are three Bushey youngsters, Robert David, who's 11, Philip, seven and little Kent, a merry, mischievous toddler of two. The land is farmed on a share basis by Paul Krantz and his boys and Robert Bushey works on the night shift at the Shelby Salesbook Co. in the press room.

"This was the old Madison farm," explains the balding owner. "My father was a school-teacher, taught at Shiloh for 22 years, and he always wanted me to come out here, so I did when three years ago. It's only about half a mile from the railroad tracks in Shiloh, and the boys could walk to school if need be."

Living close to the village has certain advantages with no apparent disadvantages. The Busheys have piped in village water and they are close enough to receive their mail in the Shiloh post office. And they have the attraction of living atop a small hill with a splendid view and two of the finest shade trees in the county.

A disadvantage is that Shiloh's sewage spills into the east portion of the Busheys' farm, and nearly 12 acres are affected by it. Last year, four acres of beans were spoiled because of the sewage which dumped into the land.

The major part of Shiloh's wastes is carried south and east to the Mohican river. That part which affects the Busheys goes toward the Huron river, is the smaller part of the village's sewage, but still causes something of a problem.

"So far as I understand," Robert Bushey explains, "there has never been any assessment against property holders for sewage disposal in Shiloh. It's always been paid for by the village, and I am told the village only gets $1,400 a year to repair its streets, tiles, and such."

The Busheys hope one of their boys will develop an attachment for the soil so that he may wish to farm the family homestead. Until the boys are big enough for interscholastic competition, they are envious - and proud - of their illustrious cousin, Larry Huston, the Savannah High school basketball star who was a first team choice of just about every expert in Ohio's schoolboy ranks this past season.

Larry apparently has been sold on Ohio State, where he will study pharmacy, and the Busheys will keep an eye on him until their own crop of boys needs that eye.

FIX-UP TIPS For the Home

Pre-Cleaning Time

NOW is the time to cart baskets of flammable trash out of attics, basements and utility rooms, fire safety officials report. They point out that homes will be safer and spring cleaning easier if this chore is taken care of before the busy days of warm weather.

For people who don't have baskets or who refuse to use the wooden kind in which fruit is shipped, there are galvanized steel baskets. These are light in weight, durable and have convenient carrying handles. And, of course, there is no danger of getting splinters in the hands. Trash is difficult to handle when it has to be wrapped or put in a bag. It is no problem when placed in a basket. Simply carry it to a bonfire or place it in a covered metal garbage can. Then it can't add fuel to a destructive home fire or detract from the appearance of the home.

Mrs. Cora Miller, Mrs. Leona Wink, Vernon Smith of Boughtonville, and Mrs. Charles Cope were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Feichtner last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Barkes and the Rev. Ralph M. Felix and Mrs. Felix were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Thomas May 12. Warren Wirth of Waverly spent May 14-15 with his father, W. W. Wirth.

Donald Smith visited with his grandmother, Mrs. Jacob Holtz, over May 14-15.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Root returned May 16 from a visit with their daughters, Mrs. Rexford Baxter and Mrs. C. H. Wheaton, in Elmira, N. Y.

A 'Make-Do' Bookcase
NEWLYWEDS on restricted budgets sometimes have to "make do" when it comes to their home furnishings. An item they need is a bookcase. Here's one that's functional, yet attractive. As shown in the illustration, the bookcase framework is a series of 1 by 2-inch pieces of lumber, with sides, backs and shelf surfaces of Masonite 3/16" Tempered Presdwood, a smooth, splinter-free material that may be painted or tinted.

The shelves merely are laid in place without fasteners, or they may be nailed down for a permanent installation. They may be painted or left in their natural color, a rich brown. The doors are Masonite "Peg-Board" panels. Note that the hinges are fastened through some of the numerous holes in this popular panel. Note the triangular pieces of Tempered Presdwood at the corners, where they serve to brace the unit.

For a copy of a similar plan, useful in building storage shelves, write to Home Service Bureau, Suite 207, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting Plan No. AE-276.

Pep Up Menus With Orange Bread

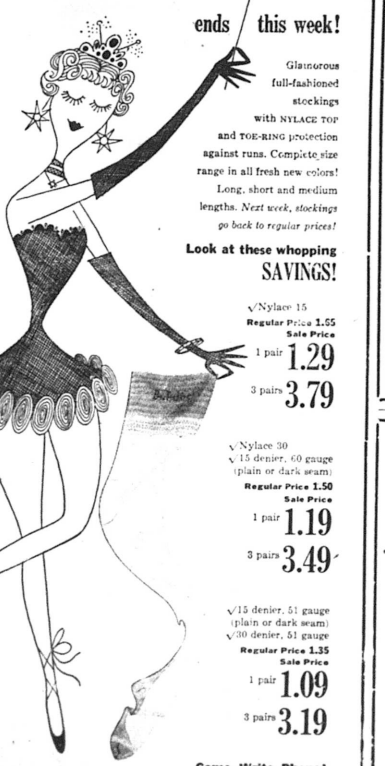

You drink your orange juice in the morning—now eat it in the afternoon and evening in tangey orange bread the way Floridians do. Fresh orange juice is the liquid for the golden loaf (keeps it fresh and moist) so squeeze your way to success with the juicy Valencias now in season.

Florida Orange Bread
1/2 cup Florida orange rind (3 oranges)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup Florida orange juice
1 egg, well-beaten
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Wash oranges; dry. Remove the thin orange rind with a sharp knife, cutting around the orange; cut rind into very thin shivers with scissors. Combine sugar and water; add the rind; stir constantly over heat until the sugar is melted; cook slowly about 5 minutes. (The peel and syrup should measure 1/2 cup.) Add butter; stir until melted; add orange juice and beaten egg. Sift together in mixing bowl, flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add orange mixture and mix just enough to moisten ingredients. (Batter should be lumpy.) Bake in greased loaf pan, 9 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 3 inches, in slow oven (325° F.) for 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until done. Turn out on rack to cool.

Only Four Defeats
Recorded in Year
In Shiloh Baseball

Shiloh's Lions finished their spring baseball season with 12 victories and only two defeats, making the fall and spring schedule a 20-won-and-four-lost season.

The Lions advanced to the district finals, where they were beaten by Sycamore, last year's runner-up in the state, 2 to 1.

During the season, Fred Rader pitched one no-hitter and one one-hitter, the only shutouts marked up by Shiloh pitching.

Rader led the club in hitting with a .427 average. Charles Hughes led the homer department with four, and Harmon Sloan, Larry Barend and George Poffenbaugh wound up with averages over .300, at .321, .304 and .313, respectively.

Defeated only by Mansfield Madison, a Class A school, and Sycamore in the spring, the Lions dropped contests to Ontario and Lucas in the fall.

The Lions took Ontario's Cubs, 7 to 3, to win the Richland County tourney.

Indicted by a Huron county grand jury on a count of forgery, Lincoln A. Sprowles, 35, deposed power and light superintendent, pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for 30 months.

that really goes to town!

MEETS THE GRUELING DEMAND OF TRACTOR ENGINES

AND PASSENGER CARS, TOO!

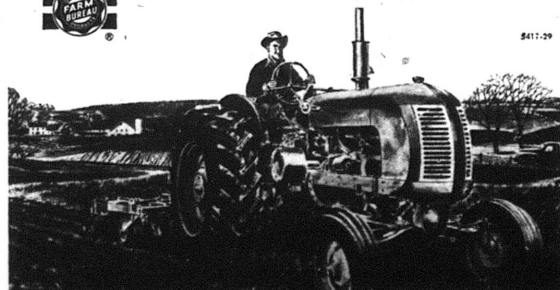

Now... for the first time, an all-new gasoline designed for farm use! FYR-ZON gives unmatched power, efficiency and economy in tractors... goes to town in your car, too!

With over 90% of all Farm Bureau gasoline being used by farmers, our engineers saw the need for a new plus-power fuel... to deliver top-notch performance in hard-working farm vehicles. The result: FYR-ZON, the wonder-fuel that cleans as it fires... removes carbon that chokes off the pulling power of your vehicles. Your tractor stays on the job, out of the shop!

FYR-ZON lubricates upper cylinder walls during starting... reduces engine wear, makes starting easier. FYR-ZON prevents rust and acid damage, adding to engine life. Acid-pitted valves, long a tractor bugaboo, let precious power go up in smoke... wasting gas and oil, reducing engine compression. FYR-ZON prevents pitting... frees valves to deliver full-time peak power!

Try all-new FYR-ZON gasoline in your farm vehicles and family car... get more mileage and premium power at regular gasoline price! Call your local Farm Bureau, today!
