'What, no salt for watermelon!'

Grocer A. W. Koser is slightly miffed this week.

He stored some watermelons, perhaps 50 of them, on the sidewalk in front of his market on the Public Square.

During the night, intruders took six, left a note: "Watermelons delicious. Next time please leave salt where we can find it."

Church incorporates as non-profit group

A not-for-profit corporation charter was issued today to the First Evangelical Lutheran church of Plymouth, listing its principal location as Plymouth, by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Listed as trustees, who are to serve for such terms as shall be designated by the members of this corporation at any meeting duly called and legally called for the purpose of electing trustees, were Edwin Beeching, 136 West Broadway, H. James Root, 320 Willow drive and Lacey Williamson, 371 West Broadway.

The incorporators were Beeching, Root, Williamson, Kenneth Burrer, Paul Stoodt, J. Harold Cashman, Royal W. Eckstein, Whitney J. Briggs and R. Harold Mack.

Attorney Hugh L. Troth, 1124 Church street, Ashland, assisted them by preparing their articles of incorporation.

Auto safety checks set here next week

"Complete the circle of safety, check your car, check your driving, check accidents," Police Chief Robert L. Meiser urged local motorists yesterday.

Plymouth's voluntary safety check is set for June 30 to July 5 inclusive.

"This voluntary vehicle safety check gives every driver a chance to do his part in making the community a safer place to live," he said. "Our best drivers are a poor risk if they are driving cars with worn out tires, bad brakes or other neglected items."

Meiser attached equal importance to the challenge to all drivers to check their conduct behind the wheel.

MAYOR THURMAN FORD issued a proclamation declaring the week of June 30-July 5 as car safety week locally and announced check lanes will be set up at all five Plymouth service stations. Safety lanes will be open at these sites from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. throughout the week. Ten vehicle safety checks are performed in each lane.

"One in every five cars that are checked usually needs immediate attention to one or more of the 10 items," Mayor Ford said. As a garageman of over 35 years experience, he knows whereof he speaks.

KLEERS BUY HOME

The John Kleers have bought the Grabach property in West Broadway and will occupy it in July.

Vacation plans: Tiro pastor to bat for Hall in July

The Rev. Robert F. Hall, pastor of First Evangelical Lutheran church, will be on annual leave during the first three Sundays of July.

The Rev. Howard G. Hauter, pastor of Crouse Memorial Lutheran church at Tiro, will fill the pulpit.

Persons having need of ministerial services in an emergency are asked to telephone Mrs. Whitney J. Briggs or Edwin Beeching.

Cub Scouts to picnic, see Jets play Miami July 5th

Plymouth Cub Scouts will stage their summer pack meeting Saturday, July 5, with a picnic at the Olenianguy caverns and a baseball game at Jet stadium, Columbus.

Manager Kirby Farrell, who served at Cleveland last season, will bring the Miami Marlins to Columbus to face the Jets for this International league game.

The Marlins announced Tuesday that Satchel Paige, the celebrated Negro right-hander, has been restored to the active list and will be available to pitch in the Jet series.

CUBS WILL LEAVE PLYMOUTH at 10:30 a. m. by private car.

The 10 items are brakes, front and rear lights, steering tires, exhaust system, glass, windshield wipers, rear view mirror and horn.

Mayor Ford said a "safety-checked" windshield sticker will be issued to each vehicle which is passed through the safety lanes in good order. "You will also receive a wallet-sized card which is called the 'Circle of Safety' club. It has handy fill-in space on the reverse side where you can put down the car engine number, key and license number, model and year, tire size and pressures and servicing data. It's handy and a fine thing to have, especially out of town."

Lay pistol down, the man seeks Japanese beetle!

Don't shoot that man with the funny thungumboli!

He's a representative of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, U. S. Department of Agriculture, who's placing metal insect traps to catch Japanese beetles.

This pest, long known with disfavor east of the Alleghenies, where it denudes grape vines, strips rose bushes, attacks elm and linden trees, corn and soy beans, has shown its unwanted presence in Ohio.

THE TRAPS WILL BE left in residential areas about six weeks. Purpose of the trapping: to forecast spread of the pest in this region.

Finally, asks John W. Baringer, chief of the department's division of plant industry, don't ask the inspector who places the traps for information about other plant pests: they don't know any.

Harold L. Porter, specialist in charge, section of insect and plant disease control, Ohio Department of Agriculture Laboratories, Reynoldsburg, will respond to such requests, when made in writing.

Parents willing to provide transportation are requested to notify den mothers not later than Saturday at noon.

Service stars will be distributed to boys who have earned them at a brief pack meeting at the caverns, south of Delaware off route 315, before the party leaves for Columbus.

Den mothers are requested to poll Cubs assigned to their dens to ascertain their availability for the picnic and game.

The number of boys who will attend should be turned in to the Cubmaster not later than Monday at 5 p. m.

Application for $110,000 federal grant filed by village; cost $37 a family a year

Application for federal assistance in construction of a sanitary sewer system for Plymouth was laid before the Ohio Water Pollution Control board this week by Alden E. Stilson Associates, Ltd., consultants to the village.

Outcome of the application will determine, councilmen indicated informally Monday night, whether a bond issue in the amount of $125,000 will appear on the November ballot.

THE STILSON FIRM TOLD the village council last week that administrative difficulties would prevent its preparation of revised estimates of the cost of the proposed system before July 1.

Roger Loveless, executive of the Stilson firm, told the council to go ahead with the old estimates, roughly $450,000.

Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Cleveland bonding attorneys, have been retained to represent the village in the matter. Opinion of the firm is required to certify the bonds for sale. If the financing scheme worked out by the council is satisfactory, and within the ability of the system to pay, Squire, Sanders & Dempsey will prepare necessary documents to submit to the Richland county board of elections before Aug. 6, deadline for submittal of a bond issue.

Four months ago representatives of the Water Pollution Control board told the council the village's priority for federal funds will be high.

They promised that positive word as to whether a federal grant will be available to the village would be given before Aug. 6.

THE COUNCIL MADE clear that without a federal grant, it would not place the issue on the ballot.

"We feel the citizens of Plymouth will not approve a bond issue unless federal funds are granted," the council said, in effect, "and there isn't much sense in going to the expense and embarrassment of another beating at the polls."

Provided the Congress, now hastening to close its session to allow members to go home to politics, approves another appropriation — and the signs are that it will, on voice — Plymouth's application would be dealt with early in July.

The Water Pollution Control board delegation, in substance, said this:

Cost of the proposed sanitary sewer installation, at $450,000, amounts to about $280 per capita, which is high for Ohio.

Plymouth's ability to pay is low. Average income in Plymouth is lower than in most communities its size where there is an order to desist dumping raw sewage into navigable streams.

These factors would, almost surely, place Plymouth's priority high on the list. Since the sum of $1 million is anticipated to be allocated from Washington, the $10,000 grant is almost equally certain.

The enabling legislation provides that 30 per cent of the cost of the interceptor sewer system and the treatment plant can be contributed by the government. This figures out roughly at slightly over $110,000.

Plymouth would be required to show that it can finance the remaining 70 per cent.

One plan worked out would require: $125,000 in general obligation bonds

$110,000 in federal grant
$125,000 in mortgage revenue bonds
$75,000 in special assessment bonds

Some advantageous adjustments seem almost certain. For one thing, construction work is currently being bid in by contractors at substantially less than engineers' estimates. For example, public school buildings which cost $17.25 a square foot six months ago are being bid now at under $13.

For another, the bond market for municipalities has improved. Interest rates on municipal bonds, both general obligation and mortgage revenue, are descending.

WHAT WOULD IT ALL

Harry Beck dies of brief illness

Harry B. Beck, 79, West Ash-tabula street, North Fairfield, died Saturday morning at Fisher-Titus Memorial hospital, Norwalk, of an illness of three months.

A lifelong resident of this vicinity, he was a retired self-employed painter.

Surviving are his wife, Mary; three daughters, Mrs. Edith Eberly, Mrs. Helen Wagner and Miss Ethel Beck, all of Cleveland, one son, Frank, Watsonville, Cal., and six grandchildren. He was the last survivor of the Beck family.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the Kubach-Smith Funeral home in North Fairfield by the Rev. James Magaw, pastor of the North Fairfield Methodist church. Interment followed in the village cemetery.

cost the householder? Best answer, without revised cost estimates, but taking the foregoing factors into consideration, is $37 a family a year for 22 years.

This breaks down as follows: $12 per family of four annually in taxes to support the general obligation bond issue $25 per family of four annually in sewer service tax to support mortgage revenue bonds and cost of operation

This would develop $22,000 annually, which would pay for $15,000 in debt service and $7,000 for management of the sewer plant.

DETAILS OF THE FINANCING have not been worked out. The council will need to come to grips with them soon.

Each household would, of course, be required to pay a certain charge in front-foot assessment to retire the special assessment bonds and, additionally, to pay for connection between sewer lateral and the sewer outlet in the house.

Wheat quota deal explained by Nolan

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain in 1956, 1957 and 1958 and for which a 1958 wheat acreage allotment was not established may apply for a 1959 wheat acreage allotment.

So says Patrick J. Nolan, Jr., chairman of the Huron Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County committee.

The owner or operator of such farm must apply in writing to his ASC county committee by July 1. Otherwise, a 1959 wheat acreage allotment will not be established for the farm.

Mr. Nolan further explains that 1958 wheat acreage on a farm which did not have a 1958 wheat acreage allotment does not qualify as wheat history acreage for the purpose of establishing acreage allotments. A 1959 old farm wheat acreage allotment will not be established for a farm without wheat history in 1956 and 1957, and on which wheat was planted for grain in 1958 without a 1958 wheat acreage allotment unless an application is filed by July 1. Blank application forms are available at the ASC county office for use in filing requests for allotments.

Miss Briggs marries Sandusky teacher

Candelabra made by the bride's grandfather lighted the altar of Ganges United Church of Christ Saturday when Miss Carolyn Briggs became the bride of Thomas G. Scheufler of Sandusky.

The candelabra, handiwork of John Briggs, were set off with ferns. Roses lay upon the altar. The Rev. Maynard G. Oesterle, read the double ring service at 7:30 p.m.

MISS BRIGGS IS THE daughter of the Dwight Briggses, Shiloh route 2. Her bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Martha Scheufler, 1105 Fifth street, Sandusky.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of embroidered organza, fashioned in the empire style with sweetheart front neckline and flared skirt. Soft pleats in the center sections of the back fell into a small train.

The long sleeved jacket was cut with stand-up collar and the sleeves were fastened with tiny buttons at the lower edge.

She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds with violets, tied with lover's knots on the long ribbon streamers.

MRS. ROBERT KENNEDY of this place, the bride's sister, was matron of honor in a lavender organza gown styled after the bridal gown. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies.

Bridesmaid was the bridegroom's sister, Martha J. Scheufler, Sandusky, attired similarly as the matron of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisies.

Miss Maureen Kennedy, the bride's niece, was flower girl, in a dress of lavender and white organza.

WALTER NUTTER, college chum of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were two more college chums, John Kunkle, Clinton, and Earl Miller, Dover.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. The bride cut a five-tiered wedding cake made by her aunt, Mrs. Fred Mellick, which was served after the first cut by Mrs. R. Tucker and Mrs. B. Gardner. Miss Joan Beck registered guests in the bridal book and Mrs. Richard Kelley served punch.

The young couple will live at 1125 Marlboro street, Sandusky. She will teach elementary pupils in Perkins school there. He will teach junior high school pupils.

The bride is a June graduate of Heidelberg college, where she majored in Innary education. She was a member of the Eglousian society there. The bridegroom, a college classmate, belonged to the Heidelberg literary society.

The village has an obligation, which ought to be respected

The decision of the Board of Public Affairs to undertake a water distribution study is long overdue. It is to be hoped that the results will furnish the village with a sound plan for development of the water services of Plymouth, which have in the past been coped with — if that is an accurate phrase — on an ad hoc basis.

That is, the Board wrestled with a particular problem after it arose, and coped with it as best it could. It would have been infinitely better to have wrestled with the problems on a long-range planning basis, to anticipate the problems as they were bound to arise, and to have worked out a plan for dealing with them.

The study will cost $600. It will, we hope, be worth every penny of it. But it should not put off the installation of larger water mains in those areas where better water service should be made available.

Engineers for Floyd G. Browne Associates of Marion told the village council and the board that it is usual for expansions of existing water services to be financed from system earnings or surpluses.

It is also usual that businesses should pay for the mistakes which they inherit. It was manifestly wrong for preceding Boards and preceding councils to accept additions to the corporation without the assurance that utilities as installed would be sufficient to withstand the test of growing needs.

But once the additions were accepted, for whatever reason — whether to accommodate someone who wanted his children to attend school here rather than in New Haven, or another, it became the water system's responsibility to improve that service as demand rose.

Thus it seems clear to us that the water system should pay, if it is able to pay, for expansion of the service wherever it is needed.

The survey may indicate needs of such magnitude that surplus funds now accumulated need to be earmarked for other improvements, such as another 50,000 gallon standpipe.

We trust it is not the intention of the Board at this late date, under pressure of the village council, which is itself under the pressure of tax-paying citizens, to rely upon the survey to develop long-range needs not yet planned for to avoid the obligation to expand the water service in West Broadway.

Neither should the Board, we think, argue that petition has been resorted to for the purpose of improving fire protection, whereupon it should be rejected because fire protection cannot be improved by increasing the size of the main.

The fact is that a subscriber to a municipal water service also has the right to adequate domestic water supply, which certainly is not now being furnished in that area.

Eventually, as Mr. Cheesman so wisely said, there must come a time when the village stops paying and the subscriber starts paying.

That policy is certainly sound as regards new services.

But you don't lock the barn after the horse is stolen.

It is the village's duty to stand by its obligations to subscribers to the water service.

A friend of ours reported to his golf links the other week day only to find the number of golfers so great he had to wait nearly an hour before he could tee off.

"Migosh," he exclaimed to us the day after, "I knew business was bad, but I didn't think it was THAT bad!"

His clever joke didn't go unnoticed by us. But the point beneath it all is that more folks are before, and when they're not working regularly or at considerable overtime, they have more time to give to leisure activities.

But if you don't happen to like to fish, or to fish in Lake Erie, there isn't much hereabouts.

Still, this region is not without some activities that are worth while.

One of them is certainly the excellent program offered by Huron Valley Bowmen. Roger or Bill Miller will be glad to explain it in detail. The sport is a participation activity; it isn't really much opportunity for spectator sport.

ANOTHER IS THE SUMMER PROGRAM at the Huron High school staged by Bowling Green State university. The summer theatre this year offers such as "Abie's Irish Rose", which ran longer on Broadway than almost any other production in history, and a repertory of other dramatic plays which are well worth the price of admission.

And those who feel the urge can arrive a little early to see what we have always considered to be remarkable in Ohio: a citizenry that was sufficiently advanced to plan its school expansion before, not after, the need existed. The Huron plant is certainly the equivalent of what you'll find in any city in the state. And it's a pure delight to see one town where leadership took hold early and got a program going BEFORE the need arrived.

Ashtand college offers a smaller summer theatre program. So does Antioch college at Yellow Springs, a bit farther away but nevertheless entirely worth while. And while you're there the mayor of that charming community, Leo Hughes, would be happy to know that a Plymouthite is in town. He's married to Jane Bachrach, daughter of Mrs. Sam Bachrach.

Objection to most of the offerings for leisure activity in this area is that many of the good ones are set away, through dense traffic. The Cleveland Indians, the Musicians at Warrenton, the race courses at ThistleDown and Randall Park (for flat racing) and Northfield Downs (for harness racing) are difficult to reach promptly, in part because they operate on fast time.

Yet the track at Hilliards is only 90 minutes bycar, for the devotee of harness racing. And Beulah Park can be reached in a little more time, for flat racing fans.

The Ohio Historical society has invested in some antique sites that are worth visiting. The Zor community, known to many, so does the Indian monument at Millfin, the Harding Memorial at Marion, the Indian blockhouse at Upper Sandusky, the R. B. Hayes memorial at Fremont.

None of these is so far that you can't get there in an hour or so of comfortable driving over sparsely travelled highways.

FOR THOSE WITH CHILDREN WHO need to be amused, the Toledo zoo and the Columbus zoo, the latter with a baby gorilla already thriving and another momentarily expected, are the equals of what you'll find in larger cities.

Driving time to either: 90 minutes, with not much traffic.

Our regional resources are not very rich, but what there are should certainly be seen, and used.

The Luther R. Fettes entertained Mrs. Milton Williams of Toledo at luncheon Thursday. Mrs. Jenny Hills will celebrate her 90th birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Pugh, 15 West Jefferson, Shelby.

The Fred Lewises are entertaining her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Forden, San Diego, Cal., and her brother and sister-in-law, the Paul Fordens, also in San Diego. They will leave for home Monday.

Parents of J. Edward Kiess, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kiess, Bucyrus route 2, observed their golden wedding anniversary June 15 with an open house at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ott Green, New Washington, The Kiesses were married June 17, 1908.

Peoples Federal set to pay 3 per cent

Peoples Federal Savings will make a semi-annual distribution of earnings to savings account customers for the first half of 1958 at the rate of three per cent on July 1.

John G. Routzon, vice president and sales manager, made the announcement.

Total amount to be paid for the six months' period will be over $500,000 and will exceed $1 million for the current year.

Past 12 months have been another banner year for the long history of Peoples Federal that dates back over 66 years.

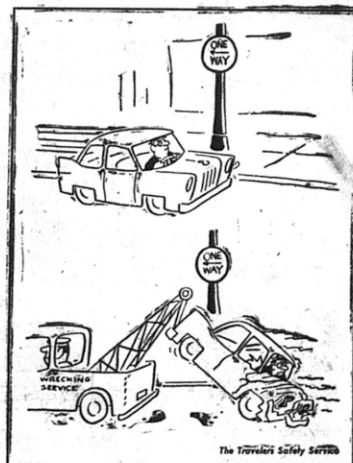

Originally established in 1892, the institution converted to a federal charter July 1, 1944, to get insurance of savings accounts to $10,000 by a U. S. agency.

During the past 14 years as a federal savings and loan, and now the 11th largest in Ohio, 31,775 new savings accounts have been opened. $107,350,000 has been received from customers as deposits to savings accounts, a total of 12,612 mortgage loans amounting to $75.5 million has been granted to home owners to date.

In addition, 17,809 small loans totalling $13.1 million have been made to repair, improve and modernize existing homes.

So far, summer vacation is only a few weeks old, and there is quite a bit to chalk up for it. To date, we have had a baby owl who lost its home and family when a tree was cut down. It (I never did inquire if it was boy or girl) lived with us only a night, but we learned a great deal about owls during that period. The only bird expert we know was called immediately so as to ascertain the proper owl diet. They love hardboiled eggs and the better grade of hamburger, which is served raw.

Somehow a cage was set on top of the garage as a temporary home. Then, after we had a supply of eggs cooked on hand and the meat bought, the owl vanished. It had help, no doubt, because it was too small to take off by itself. After that two baby sparrows appeared on the scene. They will gobble up small pieces of bread which are dropped into their opened mouths, which seem to remain constantly open and waiting.

And like any other family who has a cat or two, we have had one up a tree. Way up. Now that she is safely back to earth, it is very apparent that it was a soul shaking experience for her. It was Fanny, one of our Siamese. She still looks afraid and very embarrassed about the whole incident, and more or less seems to shake her cat head in agreement that she was a bad, bad cat.

NOW THAT WE HAVE taken our doggy friends. Of all the beautiful things in this world and there are so many, alpine the best is the little character who wags his tail like mad and can't quite keep up with the little boys he is tagging after.

FOR THE THING-WE-NOW know which we did not know before department: Cincinnati "fathered" the first salaried baseball club in history. That was back in 1869. The name is really wonderful. They were called the Cincinnati Red Stockings. Another first also was the product of Cincinnati, and there just might be a connection between the two. A little further back, in 1820 to be exact, a pioneering soul by the name of Nicholas Longworth made the first bottle of native champagne from the juice of the Catawba grape.

Then someone came along much later and used the empty wine casks to build cabins, which may now be seen at Vermillion. The builders no doubt had their eye on the king of the shingle oak trees in the United States. It is located in Tuscarawas county, and I would guess that someone would not let someone else cut it down. It must be a grand sight to see, 207 years old now and 60 feet tall with a circumference of 12 feet.

AMONG OTHER interesting tidbits we have read this week is a recipe for Southern Strawberry Shortcake. Maybe it isn't unusual and you make it this way all the time, but to us it was different, and it is good.

First, you make a rich pie crust with flour, eggs, and butter (do not fudge on this, it makes or breaks it), a little sugar, and a pinch of soda. The measurements can be worked out for the amount you want. Roll it thinly, and make in a pie tin. Beat the whites of seven eggs until they are stiff, slowly add the following mixture to eggs: 1 lb. sugar, 1/4 lb. finely chopped almonds, and at least one pint or little more of whole strawberries of a uniform, medium size.

Pop always says the same grace I wish he would change it. Here is a little "Greasy Grace."

A minister asked guests at a dinner meeting to join hands around the table as he returned thanks before eating.

Halfway through the prayer he had the uneasy feeling that the hand on his left — that of his 16-month-old son — was greasier than it should have been before the meal started. Out of the corner of his eye, the minister saw that what should have been his son's hand was a pork chop.

DOG TRAVEL BY PLANE AND TRAIN

By Bob Bartos
Prominent Dog Authority

There'll be many a dog traveling by plane and train this summer. Whether he accompanies his owner or solos, it's well to know in advance some of the regulations pertaining to dog travel.

Most railroads let your pet travel with you at no extra cost provided you have a compartment or bedroom. With any other accommodations, he'll travel in the baggage car as excess baggage or be checked through on your ticket. Don't feel too sorry for your four-legged baggage. You can visit him as often as you like and take him for walks at stops. Find out from the conductor ahead of time which are the longest stops and plan your walks accordingly.

Most airlines let your dog travel with you as excess baggage in a special crate rented from the airlines.

You can ship your dog by air freight at less cost. However you'll have to make a reservation ahead of time and often ship him well in advance of your own flight to make sure he's there when you arrive. You may have to supply your own crate, although many airlines now have shipping crates available for rent. Railway Express is another less expensive means of shipping your dog. But if the train trip takes more than 24 hours, shipping by air may suit you better.

Feeding Tips: You must supply your pet's food when he is traveling alone by plane or train. It will be easier for whoever is responsible for his feeding if it's a prepared dog food such as Friskies in either the canned or dry form.

Here...
you'll find a Faith
to live by...

It's quiet inside. Quiet with the peace of centuries, for this is God's House.

Within these walls, the worries which loomed so large outside become less fearsome... for the first time perhaps you see them in their true perspective. If this alone were the reward of Faith, it would be enough. But there is more.

Faith is a source of strength, a reservoir of power that helps you meet the needs of every day. By worshipping with your family each week at your church or synagogue, you're giving them a measure of security no amount of money could buy. The Faith to hope... to grow... to live by.

Give them a Faith to live by Worship with them this week

Cubs clinch first half pennant, Reds have best shot at second

Fate-Root-Heath Co. undefeated Cubs have the first half of Plymouth Midget league play locked up.

And the POOM Giants, after an initial victory over the Reds on Memorial day, haven't won another and are definitely out of contention for second place.

The Reds and the Braves will battle for the second spot.

If the Braves can win two this week, they can cop second spot.

But a split by the Braves assures the Reds of second place, who must split to give the Braves a look-in.

What's happened to the POOM Giants last week shouldn't complain the Giant manager, Tug Mellott, happen to a dog.

With his club going badly, all but demoralized, Mellott has been bitten by the injury bug.

Gary Courtright was sent to catch against the Reds. He stopped a fou tip with the end of his finger and tore the nail loose. Bleeding copiously, he was removed for medical treatment and returned to the game, but didn't play. (Midget league rules permit a player to be inserted into the game after he has been substituted for).

Chip Paddock was brought from first base, where he'd never played before, to replace Courtright.

NEXT GAME, SENT THERE again, he misjudged a warm-up toss by Dick Lahmon, pint-sized Giant righthander, and got it squarely between the eyes. He bled heavily, too, and with Mellott's first aid was permitted to continue. The youngster struck an understanding with Umpire Bob Swartz: "Swartzie," he begged, "If I stag, to leak under my mask, let me run and get the towel, huh?"

Finally at Saturday's practice session, Jimmy Clark got a fast throw in the mouth. Result: bad gashes, but he's hanging in there! "We don't have any way to go but up," says the portly Mellott of his green-stocking nine, which copped all the marbles last season and which hasn't won but a single contest this year. We'll be better in the second half. Don't forget we had the Cubs on

Paul Kale placed third in the men's bowman class.

Six members of the local group participated in the Mohican Bowmen's shoot at Mansfield but won no trophies.

Huron Valley members will enter the Golden Arrow invitational shoot Sunday at Wooster. Registration will close at 9 a.m. If 12 members of the local club attend, a golden arrow will be presented to the club.

the ropes and flubbed it."

BESIDES, HE ADDS, "We're building. When the Cubs lose Gary Brumback, Roger Van Loo and John Wilcox, they won't be so hot."

To this Manager Don Grabach doesn't say much. He was in Florida for a spell and turned over the managerial reins to Lew Pett, no green hand at Little League management. He was co-boss of the Ashland team which went to the national regionals in Little League play two years ago.

BILL (JIL BILL) STRINE is keeping his hand in with American Legion baseball at Willard. He pitches and catches for the Railroaders.

The Willard nine won the Huron county title and will draw for place in the district tourney Friday at Galion. Ted Fox plays in the Railroaders' infield.

There's Gas—at 8,700 Feet!

Deep-well drilling for natural gas by companies of the Columbia Gas System is expected to provide new supplies of this "wonder fuel" within our operating area.

Natural gas was discovered and first put to work here in the Appalachian area. And here, too, more people are using more of this fuel than in any other comparable region in the United States. To meet this ever-increasing demand, much of the gas you use now comes to you from the Southwest. Our deep-well drilling program aims to develop hitherto unexplored gas-bearing formations closer to home.

This constant search for additional reserves is your assurance that sufficient quantities of modern, efficient natural gas will be available to meet increasing demands in the future.

Low pay driving county teachers out of system

Exodus of teachers from the Huron county system is the worst in nine years, reports County Supt. Ralph W. Brown, who called a meeting of school board members and administrators at Fitchville Tuesday to discuss the situation.

The salary schedule in the county is the cause for the departure of so many teachers, Brown said.

Before salaries can be revised upward, Brown said, more operating funds must be obtained by the several districts.

Latest local departures: Mrs. Dora Troxel, teacher in Greenwich elementary schools last year, for New London; William Garman, Greenwich High school English teacher, for Berea; Richard Imhoff, Greenwich High school athletic instructor, for Paulding.

Ringling circus coming to Columbus

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus brings its 1958 edition to Jits stadium, Columbus, for a three-day stay July 8-9-10. There will be five performances during its Columbus stay. One show is planned for Tuesday, July 8, at 8:30 p.m. and two shows daily, at 2:30 and 8:30 p.m., on Wednesday, July 9, and Thursday July 10. This is the second year the circus has played in arenas and outdoor stadiums. Circus President John Ringling North points with pride to the record-breaking engagement this year at Madison Square Garden.

Even though the tent is gone none of the magic quality of the circus has disappeared. In fact, the show is much better. Seats are much more comfortable and the show is completely streamlined from the mechanical standpoint. At Jits stadium there will be performances rain or shine and all seats are under cover.
