

Warriors 16-point underdogs in opener vs. Gibsonburg

Strine returning to squad but Ben Root leaves

Underdogs by two touchdowns, Plymouth's green gridiron eleven makes Gibsonburg's Oilers in Mary Kate park in the formal season opener here tomorrow.

A bonfire and pep rally tonight will start the season. Plymouth High school band will march from the Public Square to the high school, in the rear of which a huge bonfire will be laid.

William Flaherty, assistant coach, will speak to students and supporters in the presence of the squad.

THE 1958 CHEERLEADERS, directed for the first time by an adviser, Frank Garber, will conduct a cheering session.

Senior cheerleaders are Karen Webber, Nora Dorion and Beatrice Burma.

Sophomore yell leaders are Lynn Bachrach, Florence Dorion and Cheryl Faust.

The Warriors lost a man and picked up another this week.

Ben Root, burly tackle, enrolled in Howe Military academy,

Howe, Ind., Monday. He will no longer play with the squad.

BUT BILLY STRINE, doughty quarterback who quit the squad earlier in the season because he couldn't stand the pain of contact on a seriously injured abdomen, found the pain of slipshod defeat more than he bargained for.

So he told Coach Lew Pett Tuesday he will report. He can be used. The Warrior offense was a sorry exhibition Friday night. Only big Duane Utiss could gain any yardage, but there was hardly time to tell whether anybody else could: the Warriors put the ball in play only five times and fumbled once.

If the defense holds up, Pett yardage on the offense.

Admittedly, it misfired Friday. "But I'm confident we'll get better as we go along, and while we'd like to win 'em all, it won't be any shame to us if we get beat by Gibsonburg, which has a seasoned team of some size and speed."

Cheerleaders and advisers: Cheryl Faust, Flo and Nora Dorion, Bea Burma, Karen Webber, Lynn Bachrach, Frank Garber. They'll be on tap at pep rally tonight.

Cub Scouts solve den mother lack — it's all in one now!

Solution to the shortage of den mothers for the Cub Scouting program was foreseen Monday by a professionally trained leader agreed to assume responsibilities in the local pack.

Institutional representative H. James Root announced the three existing dens will be united to operate as one tactical unit, will meet Monday afternoons at 3:40 in the all-purpose room of the elementary school, and will be led by Mrs. A. L. Paddock, Jr., as den mother.

Mrs. Paddock will be assisted by Mrs. Root, Mrs. M. E. Mellott and Mrs. John Kleer.

The three dens will be joined and led under one program in one room," Mr. Root said. "When we have ironed out the problems in student to this sort of change, we plan to invite every boy in Plymouth who may be eligible to join the Cub pack, fully confident we will be able to give him the adult guidance and leadership he requires and deserves."

Mrs. Paddock is a graduate of the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis, Minn., where she majored in education and recreational and Scouting leadership. She was for many years active in the Girl Scouting program in Minnesota.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS of Plymouth Community chest, Mrs. Donald E. Akers and J. Benjamin Smith, check advance plans laid by drive director, Fred L. Buzard.

Chest goal only $3,050

Seeking 90 per cent of last year's goal, Plymouth Community chest will launch its 1958 drive for $3,050 Oct. 1.

Nine agencies will participate in the drive. Plymouth Branch library has been added and the cancer society dropped. Sources in both Richland and Huron counties state the American Cancer society will no longer take part in local drives.

Last year's goal was set at $3,300, but a total of $3,580 was contributed. Mary Kate park and the donation to the Heart Fund were increased.

This year's drive will be similar to last year's. Residents in the village, Plymouth route 1, and New Haven boxholders will receive letters requesting contributions in the mail Oct. 1. Contributions should be returned to the Plymouth Community chest by Oct. 18.

John T. Dick, president of the board of directors, and Fred Buzard, 1958 drive chairman, are organizing special committees to call on business and organizations in the community.

Agencies which will receive funds this year are:

Plymouth Branch library	$150
Girl Scouts	150
Plymouth Midget League	250
Boy Scouts	400
Cub Scouts	100
Plymouth High school band	400
American Red Cross	500
Salvation Army	500
Mary Kate park	100
Junior Chamber of Commerce	100

Salvation Army man to talk here

Maj. Paul Hoffman of the Salvation Army will address an open meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in the elementary school Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Major Hoffman is service director of the Army's headquarters in Cleveland. "Major Hoffman has a message for everyone," Chamber officials said Monday. "We hope everyone will take advantage of this opportunity to hear Major Hoffman, for we rarely have the opportunity of hearing an exceptional speaker here."

After the talk, there will be a short business meeting for the membership.

Shotgun antics end in jailing

An inebriated husband who threatened his family with a loaded shotgun was arrested by Police Chief Robert L. Meiser in Henry road Saturday night.

Ray Carey, 38, was charged with resisting arrest by Meiser after he received a call from Mrs. Carey alleging her husband was shooting at her and her children. Meiser said Carey had put away the gun when he arrived. Carey was said to be hiding in a bean field when the policeman went after him with a sawed-off shotgun. He is said to have made verbal threats to the officer.

Huron county fair opens with racing, rodeo, tricks

Today is Willard day, tomorrow school children's day at the Huron county fair.

Pleasant, if cool, weather prevailed most of this week to encourage fair-goers to attend.

Availability for the first time of state funds to supplement harness racing purses has drawn a record number of 63 trotters and pacers to the track.

Racing will conclude tomorrow.

A rodeo will be staged tonight.

State official aims to solve WPCB's boo-boo by letter

A way out of the sewer financing muddle was suggested last week by officials of the Water Pollution Control board at Columbus.

Emphasizing that under federal regulations a grant in aid for the project cannot be assured unless Plymouth completes its financing program, which specifically includes passage of a bond issue, the officials suggested that the bond issue could be approved without actual expenditure and therefore no cost to voters.

"If Plymouth voters approve the bond issue, there still would not be an actual issuing of bonds unless the project went forward. And at the present time it looks as though it cannot be completely financed without aid of the federal grant. . . . It appears, therefore, there would be no actual expenditure and therefore no cost to the voters even if they approve the bonds unless and until a grant is approved making the whole project feasible. . . . the voter (would be) protected pretty well. Since Plymouth does stand in a good position to get a grant, if the bond issue does pass, the whole project can go forward in good time."

One source, upon reading the letter, said "those officials just don't understand the local political situation."

Mr. Bixby loses father at Oberlin

Father of Charles Bixby, 96-year-old George V. Bixby died in an Oberlin rest home Sunday.

He had been a patient there several months.

A funeral service was conducted yesterday at 1 p.m. from the Garland mortuary, Amherst, by the Rev. Paul Brown.

A native of Norwalk, Mr. Bixby operated a farm in Route 250 near Olenia for more than 60 years. He moved to Elyria 14 years ago.

Sons Harry, Norwalk, Arthur, Elyria, and John, Geneva, also survive.

Interment was in Woodlawn cemetery, Norwalk.

Mrs. Pifher dies in Willard; sister of Mr. Forquer

Sister of William Forquer, Miss Frances L. Pifher, 81, of near New Washington, died in Willard Municipal hospital Sunday.

A solemn high requiem mass was sung Tuesday morning in Our Mother of Sorrows Roman Catholic church at North Auburn, of which she was a communicant. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Pifher is also survived by three sons, Grover and Clarence, near Tiro, and Leo, New Washington.

Clarence Pifher was prevented from attending his mother's funeral by a bizarre accident. The door of a car crib fell upon his head, gashing his eye and apparently causing a concussion.

He was admitted to Willard Municipal hospital, where doctors maintained a guarded opinion of condition.

Joseph D. Hunter dies on 35th birthday of Hodgkin's disease

Courageous to the end, Joseph David Hunter died in University hospital, Columbus, Sunday — his 35th birthday — of Hodgkin's disease.

Stricken about a year ago, he was admitted to and released from a hospital a half a dozen times before his final admittance two weeks ago.

(Ed. Note: Hodgkin's disease is an affliction of the adrenal glands. Sufferers debilitate increasingly, generally experiencing little pain. Large lymph nodes accumulate in the neck, groin and under-arm regions. Blood transfusions are eventually necessary to sustain the patient. No origin cure has been found so far.)

Born in Shelby Sept. 7, 1923, he was the son of Martin A. and Grace Hunter, Plymouth route 1. They survive, as do two sisters, Mrs. Chester Ramsey, Mansfield, and Mrs. Leonard Wilson, Plymouth route 1, and five brothers Robert E., David C., Claude A., Gordon M. and Richard L., all of Plymouth. A sister, Betty J., died at the age of two.

A GRADUATE OF PLYMOUTH High school with the Class of 1941, Mr. Hunter served in the Navy in World War II. He matriculated at Tri-State College, Angola, Ind., to major in mechanical engineering and was graduated in 1948. For the past 10 years he had been employed by Fate-Rook-Heath Co. as a mechanical engineer.

A member of Ehret-Parsel Post 447, American Legion, and of Richland Lodge 201, F. & A. M. Mr. Hunter was also a member of the Methodist church. His pastor, the Rev. Thomas S. Taylor, conducted a funeral service Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the McQuate Funeral home. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery. Pall bearers were William Buzard, Thomas Rhine, Albert Marvin, Lawrence Predieri, Jack High and Kirby Nebitt.

"What can I do about this pain?"

Customers often ask questions like this. And every year we sell perhaps a ton of pain relievers. Relievers. That's the point. We can sell simple analgesics, but we can't prescribe drugs to eliminate the cause of pain. Diagnosing and prescribing are in your physician's province. We, as professional pharmacists, work with doctors, providing the drugs they order. So, if you have any kind of a persistent pain, see your physician. We shall be pleased to provide any medication which may be prescribed.

Warriors fatter, fumble, fail in preview test with Westfield

Write it down in your little black book that Phil the Filbert had it right on the button: the power in the North Central conference this season is in Lodi, Westfield and Seville, with Townsend-Wakeman a dark horse and Berlin Heights a sleeper.

The East convincingly thumped the West in the third annual conference pre-view at Mary Kate park, Plymouth, Friday night.

The aggregate score was 34 to 0. Individual scores were:

Westfield 8, Plymouth 0
Seville 18, Milan 0
Black River 0, Berlin Heights 0
Lodi 8, Townsend-Wakeman 0

THE SUPERIORITY OF SEVILLE over its less experienced opponent was the more apparent because of a lack of size in the teepee. The Indians had no boy over five-ten and seemingly none over 150 pounds.

Plymouth kicked off to the Purple Raiders and found itself on the short end of the bargain in prompt order.

Westfield ripped off three first

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

The football season — high school, collegiate and professional — now in full swing, it behooves the fan to be hep to the jargon of the game.

The Old Timer plucked these gridiron terms from some of the magnificent prose sent out by the wire services last season.

No copyright on these, so if you have some others, we'd be happy to have 'em.

For the record, we'll go along with Horrible State and Barely Normal to cop the bacon this season as undefeated, untied, unscored upon and un-invited — anywhere, by anybody.

Triple Threat—Good eater, poor student, popular with the gals.

Charging Tackle—Charges everything and owes everybody in town.

Blocking Back—Has mental block when trying to learn signals.

Sophomore Sensation—Player who may be eligible for three years if he gets a little tutoring.

Gridiron—Playpen for giants who enjoy chasing a ball around on a Saturday afternoon.

Passing Star — Player who's a real artist when it comes to passing bad checks.

Pigskin—Bag of air that causes all the trouble.

Suiting Up—Filling the inside card in a straight flush.

Quarterback—A giant among men. He can remember the plays.

Dummy Drill—Any practice session any afternoon.

Defensive Standout—Always standing when the opposition scores.

Pass Defense—A good solid slap across the chops, gals.

Head Coach—The one who passes out the weekly paychecks.

Scholarship—Unemployment insurance.

Secondary—That bit of land temporarily held by the home team.

Second Stringer—Incompetents who help build up the egos of the first stringers in scrimmages.

Monday Morning Quarterback—Know-it-all alumnus who was dropped from the team 25 years ago.

Quick Opener—Quarterback hurriedly gets rid of ball to avoid being clobbered by 260-pound tackle.

* Hand Off—Passing the buck, football style.

Contact Work—Trying to put the bite on wealthy students.

Single Wing—Condition of player who broke his arm falling over water bucket.

End Run—What the ball carrier does when there's no place else to go.

Kicker—The guy who gripes because the pay isn't high enough.

Officials—The boys in the striped shirts who blow the whistles that signal the starting and stopping of play.

downs, largely through the efforts of Mike Ferrell, to the Warrior 24. Ferrell turned his left end to the three and Dave Ponting bucked in for the score. Noel Davis went through tackle for the two-point score after touchdown.

Plymouth put the ball in play only five times and seemed to do poorly. Duane Utiss could get minor yardage when ball-handling in the backfield was up to snuff.

He carried four times in the next series after the score and missed a first down by a whisker. Westfield pounded from 1-50 on downs. The Raiders made 1-5 yards in 18 plays, with 10 coming on an aerial and 25 on a fake punt.

It was plain from this exhibition that Plymouth fans are in for a cold autumn.

THE WARRIORS RETIRED with the ball on the nine. Bob Oberli, Seville's plunging back, ripped off a score against Milan on the first try. Bob Simpson ture into the end zone for the conversion.

Milan's inability to move cost the Indians a safety in the next down series. Fox was trapped in the end zone by a bad pass and the whole right side of the Seville line was upon him before he could recover a faulty pass from center.

When Milan kicked off, the Raiders went to lathering the Indians again. A short kick from the Milan 20 gave Seville possession on the Milan 40. Simpson and Oberli collaborated on off-tackle runs to the Milan 18, whereupon the former raced in on an option pitch-out for the touchdown. Simpson produced the extra point, off tackle.

THE BERLIN HEIGHTS-Black River contest was the interesting one. Snag Sanders' winged-T produced yardage but the Tigers couldn't sustain their drive.

Black River, on the other hand showed a convincing ground game, led by Tom Davenport at quarter and Nagy and Haswell at half and fullback.

The Pirates knocked off four first downs before the final whistle and were clearly the aggressor. The Tigers had possession in nine plays, counting the kickoff. The Pirates, punting the ball in play 21 times, netted 80 yards.

BLACK RIVER RETIRED with possession on the Tiger 22. When Lodi took over, the Tigers

Echelberry head of new Boosters

To promote adult interest in high school athletics and to encourage boys to turn out for Plymouth High school athletic teams, a Boosters club was organized Thursday in the high school building.

Kenneth Echelberry was elected president. Milton E. Melott, vice-president. Mrs. D. E. Akers secretary and James C. Davis treasurer. A. L. Paddock, Jr., was appointed publicity officer.

CONTROL OF GUN SHYNESS

The control of gun shyness is best handled by preventing it. This is done by the following steps: (1) The selection of a good hunting dog with an instinct and desire to hunt; (2) disease control, including internal parasites and general infectious diseases; (3) proper feeding and managing of the dog to keep him in good physical condition; (4) selecting the proper age and circumstances under which the training program should progress; (5) developing a proper dog-master relationship of understanding and co-operation; (6) familiarizing the dog with his new home, hunting and training environment. In the beginning, make a game of hunting and training program in order to increase the natural, inherited desire to hunt.

lost no time in punching in for the score.

Jim Nicholas did the job, on a seven-yard drive off his own left tackle. He produced the extra point on a two-yard thrust through guard.

The Rough Riders didn't lay down. But they weren't able to dent the Tiger defenses inside the 20, despite a commendable ability to rip off long gains between them.

Upshot of the evening: attendance fair, weather good, football spotty, advice to small betters: put your dough on Lodi, Westfield and Seville.

PML to elect officers for 1959

Plymouth Midget league will organize for 1959 at 7:30 p.m. today in American Legion hall.

President Fred L. Buzard, who must relinquish his duties, according to by-laws, this year, says he's a candidate for manager.

Seven members of the board of directors have already resigned, because they no longer have children in the league.

"Anybody who has a boy in the league and anybody who is interested in this organized recreation for boys is entitled to come and speak his piece, to nominate or to second nominations, or to be elected to office," the president said Monday.

IDENTIFICATION OF FARM rightnext door was lead pipe cinch for Eldon L. Newmyer. He can have a quart of ice cream by calling on R. H. Mack, grocer.

For every good there's a bad, says John Predieri of farming

Take it from John Predieri, who lives on the Ike Costin farm in Mills road, New Haven township. "For every good there's got to be a bad."

Consider the prospective harvest this year, for example. "We're going to get a good corn crop this year, and we've got a good bean crop," John Predieri admits. "But the darned weeds came so fast in the three weeks that the beans are full of 'em. That's what I mean about there having to be a bad with a good. It wouldn't be farming if it didn't happen that way."

THE PREDIERIS HAVE Plymouth roots, although he's been employed by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Willard as a carpenter for 19 years. Mrs. Predieri is one of the several daughters of the D. Karl McGintys of place.

Right now, Mr. Predieri is laid off from the B&O. He is next on the recall list, and the signs are that he'll get that welcome ring of the telephone in a reasonably short time.

Meanwhile, there are chores to do on the 80-acre place.

In fact, it's been one chore after another. "We had to build this place up," he says, not boastfully. "We pumped fertilizer and lime to the ground in big quantity and now it's a good farm and would sell easily."

THE REFERENCE IS TO the fact it was on the market for three or four years with no takers, because the land was run down.

The Predieris have a minimum small farm livestock population. There're 28 or 29 head of sheep and the usual chickens and fowl.

One big asset of this place is that it abounds in sweet water that flows to the surface without "driving."

John Predieri can count five springs in the 80-acre scope of

PART OF THE LAND IS non-arable. The woods term, however, with wild life, notably raccoon. Time was when John Predieri hunted 'coon, on this farm and others.

"But my old hound has become enfeebled," he explains. "He's 16 and so deaf he can't even hear thunder."

But the old boy struts proudly at the end of his chain and sends the age-old hunting call into the freshening autumn air these days.

Come school, come fall, John Predieri says, come also better business for all concerned. — he hopes!
