

Milan comes here for doormat game; Plymouth favored

Milan's Indians come here tomorrow for what shapes up as the battle of North Central conference doormats.

Allowing for a 25 per cent improvement of the visitors since the start of the season, Phil the Filbert stuck by his guns and predicted Tuesday a two-touchdown win for the Big Red.

"But I'm not guaranteeing it," he said, "and I wouldn't want you to bet your life on it."

WITH A NEW COACH AND a new system, Milan is completing its second full year of 11-man football. The Indians began interscholastic football at the end of the 1957 season with an 11-man contest with Berlin Heights. Milan has never won an interscholastic football game and the word from the Erie county school this week was "we'd like to have this one to break that string."

Milan was defeated by Black River, 28 to 0, last week. It was the third straight shutout for the Indians.

The Big Red, meanwhile, has been having family problems. Its coach and some of his players were reported to have had harsh words at Lodi and there has been some investigation of alleged violations of training.

ONE LONG-TIME PRACTICE hanger-on said, however, "In my opinion there's nothing wrong with this team that a little hitching up of the socks and a little less bullheadedness by all concerned wouldn't cure. Sure, our defense isn't so hot, but it can play a lot better than it has. I look for our team to improve; certainly it can't get any worse."

If encouragement there be in what he says, so be it. Game time, as usual, is 8 p. m. Concessionaires aren't laying plans for record-breaker crowd.

Officials for tomorrow's game: Charles Klopstein, referee; Robert Bogans, umpire; Trent Shavely, head linesman; John Pike, field judge.

Shiloh cafeteria to get collapsible tables

Seven collapsible tables costing $205 each, totalling $1,435, for the Shiloh building were authorized for purchase by Plymouth Board of Education Oct. 14.

The tables will be used in the gymnasium during the lunch hours and can easily be folded and pushed aside when the room is in use for classes. This will help to alleviate part of the overcrowding that exists in the building at the lunch periods.

The request for a raise by cafeteria workers, which had been tabled at the September meeting, was turned down by the board. Board member Haldon Cheesman thought it better to tell the truth, "and not pass the buck. We can't afford it now". Figures presented by Clerk Evan LaFollette show the cafeteria still running deeply in the red for the month of September. He said he thought "it would pull itself out considerably as several months pass." Both cafeterias stocked up on foods for the beginning of the school year, and their bills from now on should not be so large. Salaries from cafeteria monies amount to $1,200 a month.

A new policy was adopted for custodians' vacations. They may now take them any time during the year, subject to rules of convenience, rather than just during the summer months. Full time employees are entitled to two weeks and those with 15 years of service get three weeks.

A request from the Willard school system for the release of four children whose parents teach there was turned down. The policy adopted in 1952 concerning the release of pupils to other districts was still held to be desirable. (Ed. Note: The state foundation program provides certain funds for each pupil in the school district attending the school. If the pupil does not attend that school the district cannot collect. If the pupil attends a school outside his own district, that school may not collect the foundation money unless there is an official release.) The reason for rejecting the request is the Plymouth schools have pupils belonging in other districts who pay their own tuition here. To release the four could upset the system.

Supt. M. J. Coon reported the school buses are transporting approximately 558 pupils each day, driving 440.2 miles. A total of 106 pupils must ride on two separate buses each day to get from home to school. In the transportation report which he had prepared to send to Columbus this week, Coon pointed out there are 810 pupils eligible to ride the buses but for various reasons do not do so. The state is reimbursing the district for 633 bus riding pupils. The figure is determined by the mileage, not the pupils.

He hopes when the report is reviewed the district will be able to qualify for a new bus. Bus money is determined, he said, by three factors: number of miles, number of children and condition of roads. In the latter there are three classifications, A, B and C. This district falls in the B classification.

The clerk's report was the bright spot of the evening. Mr. LaFollette said he anticipates having about $1,400 left in the general fund at the end of the year, barring unforeseen circumstances. This will be the first year in several that the board will not have a loan hanging over its head by Dec. 31.

Approval was given by the board to support campaigning for the $552,000 bond issue to be voted Nov. 3. Contributions toward the campaign have been received from several organizations and individuals.

Legal snag forces postponing of firehouse site purchase

A legal technicality, discovered halfway through approval of emergency legislation to provide financing for a new firehouse, forced the village council to rescind Tuesday night and postpone action until Nov. 3.

After a policy decision to pay for the new building over a 15-year period, at a cost of about $8,400 in interest, the council moved to approve legislation that would call for:

1. Payment of $18,000 to Edward O. Ramsey for land and buildings at East Main and Portner streets.
2. Construction of a one-story, fireproof building, 44x38 feet in size, at a cost of $19,000; remodeling of the old theatre building to cost $1,000, and site preparation to cost $1,000.
3. Issuance of councilmanic bonds, to be settled in 10 years, committing the general credit of the village to their payment, and requiring no public vote. Principal and interest due on the bonds would be paid for from taxation within the 10-mill limitation and withheld at the county treasurer's office. The first year payment would be $3,000 plus interest; thereafter annual payments would be $4,000 plus interest. But the legal question arose and postponement of approval was decided upon.

There was no sign the council was deliberately putting off action until after the election. Approval of the several measures had been unanimous until the blocus was discovered.

An indignant resident of Maple street, Charles F. Beeler, complained of a lack of cooperation by public officials

— he specifically cited the high school principal — in preventing harassment by high school boys to himself, his family and his property. He cited a long list of offenses, verified for the most part by the police chief, and demanded some action.

The council agreed he has been impertinent and discussed steps to prevent further offenses. A plan to trap the boys involved was laid and will be executed as soon as possible, grounds.

Mrs. Stock marks 87th anniversary

A former Plymouth resident who keeps close touch with happenings here observed her 87th birthday Oct. 12 at the home of a daughter in East Warsaw, Ind.

Mrs. Lotta Stock, born Lotta LaDow, daughter of Amasa and Mary J. LaDow, is the widow of Burton O. Stock. Now, in the twilight of a rich and fruitful life, she resides with one of two daughters, Mrs. C. J. Pugh, a minister's wife.

East Warsaw is hard by Winona Lake, Ind., world's largest Bible conference

Over the past five years, Mrs. Stock has made 14 quilts for use by missionaries, but "my quilting days are about over. My eyesight is fair and I still enjoy mending. And knitting." She was and remains a talented rug braider. Mrs. Pugh reports her mother to be active in household chores. She cooks, cans and does housework. Her leisure hours are consumed in the reading of her most valued possession, the Bible.

"I look forward to the arrival of The Plymouth Advertiser every week," Mrs. Stock says.

Another daughter, Mrs. Eldon Hanson, Glenview, Ill., a Chicago suburb, came to East Warsaw to join in the celebration.

P-TA's endorse four HVSD issues

Unqualified endorsement of four school issues before Huron Valley district voters was expressed by three parent-teacher organizations this week.

Richmond, Greenfield and New Haven P-TA's said they support the one mill $125,500 bond issue to build an addition to the Greenfield school, the 9.5 mill renewal for operating expense, an additional 2.5 mill for the same purpose and a territory transfer of 115 acres to Crawford county jurisdiction.

The Greenfield addition would consist of two classrooms and a multi-purpose room to serve as auditorium, cafeteria, kitchen and gymnasium.

Mrs. Stock also has four grandchildren, two great-granddaughters and several nieces and nephews.

Seniors choose Mike Todd comedy for annual play

A Broadway hit comedy staged by Ezra Stone and produced by the late Mike Todd is the vehicle chosen by the Class of 1960 for the annual senior class play.

It's "January Thaw", in three acts, set for the Sandusky street boards Nov. 19 and 20 with curtain at 8 p.m. Guy Flora, English instructor, will direct.

Plot of the situation comedy centers about the experiences of the situation oss strHe t of a young couple which buys an old house, believing an elderly pair who were guaranteed by contract the right to live in the house for the rest of their days to have disappeared. After the house is remodelled, the elderly folks appear.

Craig Harnly is the principal male protagonist, in the role of Herbert Gage. Judith Broderick plays Barbara Gage. Other roles are assigned Dixie Fortney, Frieda; Nancy Miller, Sarah Gage; Charlotte Dyer, Paula Gage; Susan Wolfersberger, Marge Gage; Duane Baker, George Husted; Richard Bookwalter, Jonathan Rockwood; Judith Amstutz, Mathilda Rockwood; Charles E. Ramsey, Mr. Loomis; Edwin Kranz, Uncle Walter; William Strine, Matt Rockwood, and Richard Prater, Carson.

Youngsters put up $50 to back issue

Citizens over 21 years of age are not the only Plymouth residents concerned over the $552,000 school bond issue.

Teen-Time Rendezvous, an organization of high school pupils which stages its record dances weekly in the high school, until it's able to have a building of its own, not only has endorsed the proposal but has contributed $50 toward the fund to put it over.

"We've got members from all over the school district," an officer of the organization said Monday, "and there's nobody in the outfit who's against this bond issue. We think we need it and we voted to spend our money to develop for it."

How many children do you have? Primary children TODAY won't have classroom space for their junior high schooling UNLESS YOU VOTE YES NOW! Without the $552,000 building program, there will be NO ROOM for junior high by 1964-65.

Children in Junior High School? We cannot house them satisfactorily. THE ONLY WAY to correct this situation: YOUR SUPPORT of the bond issue.

Children in high school? Not enough classroom space. High school pupils must be taken to the grade school and to Shiloh for special classes. Classes meet on the stage, in furnace rooms, balconies and halls. YOUR YES VOTE for the school bond issue WILL AMEND this situation.

Children out of school? Grandchildren in school? They are entitled to at least as good, if not better, educational opportunities than you had. In 1959 we're trying to accommodate over 50% more pupils than were housed in the same space 20 years ago. ONLY YOU CAN CORRECT THIS.

Taxes are high? Schools must be provided. The Constitution says so. What we put off today will cost more later. Three years ago bonds sold for 3 1/2%. Last spring the rate of interest was 4 1/2%. Now it's at least 5%. The longer we wait, the more it will cost. SUPPORT THE BOND ISSUE NOW.

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS

TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman—even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

SPITTING ON A STONE?

Ever try spitting on a stone to ease pain? Sounds foolish, nowadays. But a long time ago folks actually used this "remedy." We're lucky to be living in this age of modern medicine. Medical science has given us many wonderful pain relievers and other reliable, effective drugs. However, it's still not wise to use any medication indiscriminately. When you don't feel up to par, ask your physician's advice first. Then, if he prescribes medication, come to us. We'll fill his prescription promptly and carefully.

THE VOICE OF THE ADVERTISER

'to lead and guide'

It is fitting that during National Newspaper week, which ended yesterday, The Advertiser should undertake to discharge its most sacred duty to the community it has served for nearly 106 years.

That duty is to lead and guide the community toward civic betterment which will redound to the benefit of every citizen.

The election on Nov. 3 affords us just that opportunity.

After careful consideration, we favor, and will support, votes of YES for :

1. The sewer bond issue
2. The fire department levy
3. The cemetery levy
4. The school bond issue

It is our hope that the old adage of "third time is a charm" will prove true in the case of the sewer bond issue.

We have devoted considerable space and time to the elements of this proposal for the past five years. They have not changed since the last election.

To deny that it is essential to believe that the world is flat, not round. What will it cost? An average of $15.61 per household in general taxes each year, plus an additional $31.40 to settle special assessment and mortgage revenue bonds, a grand total of $47.01 annually for a period of 25 years.

The fire department is in dire need of a new fire engine. The one mill levy for a period of two years is essential to maintain minimum standard fire protection. The tax levy should be supported.

We have at other times expressed our personal dislike for the system of taxing non-believers in burial of the dead to support a public cemetery. We regard it as a violation of the freedom of religion. But we acknowledge that the cemetery is here, that it serves the needs and yearnings of a vast majority of the population and that it must be maintained. Which is why we support the renewal and will vote for it.

Two weeks ago, we set forth here the cogent arguments in favor of supporting the school bond issue. Although one or two dissenters have flayed us, both personally and behind our backs, for this position, we have yet to hear, in all honesty, any equally cogent arguments why it should not be supported.

Until those arguments are submitted, and tested, we shall continue to urge the approval of the bond issue.

It may be noted we do not endorse the park levy. It should not be concluded that we would wish the park to be closed, not to be without funds.

But it's our belief that a sounder fiscal policy by the council, some economies in the general fund, and the resumption of the principle that non-residents of the village should be required to contribute more strongly to its expense would enable us to finance the park in future as now.

"Your ideas appeal to me, Editor, but you're darned expensive!" one elderly citizen remarked to us the other day. We plead guilty to the soft impeachment. And in rebuttal, we reply, "If it had been done when it was necessary, it wouldn't be hurting now." Because it's absolutely true that if representative government fails to serve the people, they have no one to blame but themselves.

There are other issues in this election, issues which we shall deal with next week. Every eligible voter should report to the polls Nov. 3 to express his opinion.

Suzie sez

I see by the Sunday papers that Ohio might get an official dog. My advice to the men in Columbus is: don't.

Because they are bound to step on somebody's toes. Look at what happened in Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania legislature voted for the Great Dane as the official dog of that state after the members had voted against the beagle.

Somebody has suggested that Ohio choose the Russian wolfhound, to prove to Mr. Khrushchev and the Russians that we don't have any bad feelings toward them. Another man said we should choose the Mexican chihuahua, to prove to the Latin Americans that we believe in good relations.

And somebody else says it should be the French poodle, because the French nation is having a hard time of it these days with all the fighting in Africa. If every Ohioan would buy a French poodle, it would help the French people make money and then they could win the fighting.

Only there is one catch to it: most French poodles never saw France and never will. So buying a French poodle wouldn't help the French nation.

I THINK THE OHIO LEGISLATORS would be silly to even talk about what kind of a dog to choose as the official state dog.

They are sure to rub somebody's fur the wrong way. Even the dogs' fur.

Pop says he thinks they would be better off if they would choose a state doghouse and make it a law that some politicians would have to live in it sometimes.

Like in the colonial days, they put people in stocks to show the public that they were bad.

A dog's life must be kind of hard these days: there aren't cats to chase and now they're making it so a dog is being chased by a senator and representative.

MULTIPLE DWELLING CHARGES SET —

Sewer charges to total $7,000

Billings for sewer service in Shiloh will henceforth approximate $7,000 annually, village council made certain Oct. 14.

An emergency ordinance calling for a $10 a quarter assessment against single households in a multiple building was approved without dissent. By its terms, a double house having only one sewer tap will be required to pay $80 instead of $40 annually for sewer service.

The new rate will be applied to the billing to be mailed next week.

A new proposal by Ohio Fuel Gas Co. was submitted for the council's consideration. With a fuel rate clause included, the new offer would call for 22.5 cents per 100 cu. ft. for the first 2,000 cu. ft. consumed, 6.7 cents per 100 cu. ft. for the next 73,000 cu. ft. and 6.5 cents per 100 cu. ft. for consumption in excess of 75,000 cu. ft. monthly.

Effect of the new proposal: smaller users would pay somewhat less and larger users somewhat more than the previous offer.

Of 227 subscribers to natural gas service in Shiloh, 192 are private home occupants and 35 commercial buildings.

The fuel clause provides that rates can fluctuate a half cent, per 1,000 cu. ft. each quarter, varying the price of gas at the well head. Maximum variation in a year: two cents.

What's happened to the price of gasoline?

IT HAS CHANGED ELEVEN TIMES SINCE OCTOBER, 1955
AND IS NOW THE SAME AS IT WAS THEN, ALTHOUGH GASOLINE TAX INCREASES MAY MAKE IT APPEAR HIGHER TO YOU

Here's how Sohio gasoline prices have responded competitively to changes in supply and demand

Since the end of 1955, the retail price* of Sohio gasoline, exclusive of tax, has changed eleven times — five times upward and six times downward. In amount, these changes have been one cent, half a cent, or four-tenths of a cent. These ups and downs are the result of competition for your gasoline business. The prices simply reflect the amount of gasoline available compared with the amount you buy. In other words, they are a classic example of the workings of the old law of supply and demand.

As can be seen in the graph, the increases in price have been offset by decreases in price. As a result, the price for Sohio's regular-grade gasoline is the same today as it was in October, 1955! During this same four-year period, the average prices that consumers pay for all commodities and services have increased almost 9%.

*The price of Sohio regular-grade gasoline at most of its company-operated stations.

The gasoline tax has increased 57% since 1955, and now represents more than a 50% sales tax

In 1955, gasoline taxes, both state and federal, totaled 7¢ a gallon. Since then, there have been three increases in taxes, and the total tax is now 11¢ a gallon. The reason why it costs you more to "fill 'er up" today than it did in 1955 is not because the gasoline itself is higher priced. It's because the taxes are 4¢ a gallon higher.

Sohio brings you these facts on gasoline prices because we believe they are of interest to you. If you would like a copy of a special pamphlet on gasoline prices, "Price Competition in the Oil Industry," send your request to Tom Holiday, Sohio, Midland Bldg., Cleveland, Ohio. For your convenience, free, pre-addressed, stamped post cards are available at all Sohio stations.

Lodi massacres Red, 80-0

By C. B. CALDWELL
Lodi's Tigers slaughtered demoralized, disorganized Plymouth, 80 to 0, in a North Central conference engagement Friday night.
It was the highest score ever run up against an NCC team.
Plymouth never was a factor in the 48-minute contest and the marvel is that the defeated never sued for surrender before the final whistle.

Coach Ben Spechalke was about to send out for seventh graders when the fourth quarter happily ended.

LODI'S SUPERIOR LINE
and swift backs simply tore Plymouth to shreds and before the game was two minutes old its outcome was evident to all who wanted to see.
Jim Nicholas took Billy Strine's opening kickoff and rode upfield 20 yards before being felled on the Lodi 40.
Nicholas ripped for 15, then dashed for 35. Bob Packard pitched out to Jim Allen, who carried to the one, whereupon Bernie Baker went in for the score. Nicholas rushed for the PAT.

Plymouth fumbled in the next series but held the hosts, regained possession and held it for a goodly part of the period.

But when Lodi resumed control on the Big Red 30, it was a matter of four plays for another TD, this one by Allen from the 18. Nicholas again converted.

Bernie Baker dove upon a Plymouth fumble early in the second canto and the Tigers were off again.

Packard and Allen lugged it in to the 10, whence Nicholas drove for the score. Packard converted.

WHEN LODI KICKED OFF,
Plymouth grounded the ball in the end zone for a touch-back. Three bucks and an incomplete pass — and the wonder was why Plymouth didn't punt at this stage — gave Lodi possession on the visitors' 24.
Nicholas, Allen and Baker were the combination for the touchdown. Packard converted.

Toward the end of the period, Nicholas raced 63 yards through Plymouth eleven that seemed as demoralized as the Italians before Bizerze, raising the score to 38. The try for PAT was not good.

At no point during the third quarter was Plymouth able to advance inside the Lodi 38-yard line. Strine hit Kenny Van Loo for two passes of 18 and 33 yards for the best offensive showing of the night by Plymouth, but here the Big Red attack bogged down and Lodi took over.

Three plays later Nicholas was in the end zone after a 35-yard dash. Packard rushed for the PAT.

Anderson kicked off and Plymouth launched another aerial assault. Packard kicked off one of Strine's heaves and ran it back 30 yards to the visitors' three. Here Hef-felfinger went in for the TD.
Packard's pass for the points was knocked down.

HEFFELFINGER COUN-TED again in the period with a 24-yard sprint, after which Gary Armstrong made the points.

Down 60 to 0, Plymouth wasn't able to rise from its coddums in the final period and came apart badly.

Heffelfinger scored a third time after Lodi fell on a free ball after the kickoff on the Plymouth five. Larry DeVoe was quarterbacking the Tigers in this series. He pitched out to the doughty Heffelfinger for a four-yard score.
Armstrong converted.

This young prospect scored again a short time later. Popovic booted deep into Plymouth territory and Armstrong got loose for 24 yards into pay dirt in the next series. The try for PAT was not good.

Little Jimmy Hamman went into the air for the visitors but fared poorly. Popovic intercepted one of his tosses and ripped off 55 yards into the end zone for the ultimate Lodi score.

The try for PAT again failed.

It was plain the Plymouth team could not have beaten Lodi with a club. There were some who said the visitors were beating themselves. Dissension among some players was reported from the Plymouth bench and it was evident the Plymouth coach and some players weren't hitting it off so well.

No effort was made to keep track of all of the players who saw action. Starting lineups were:

Plymouth: ends: McQuate,
Carter; tackles: Bookwalter, J.
Baker; guards: Ramey, Myers; center: Slone; backs: Strine, Reed, D. Baker, Christian.
Lodi: ends: Phillips, Anderson;
tackles: Underwood, Esterle;
guards: Drotleff, Peterson; center: Bryson; backs: Packard, B. Baker, Allen R. Packard.

Score by periods:
Lodi 16 22 22 20—80
Plymouth 0 0 0 0—0
Touchdowns: B. Baker, 2; Nicholas, 3; Heffelfinger, 3; Armstrong, Popovic PAT's Nicholas, 4; Packard, 6; Armstrong, 4.
