Broome, 70, retiring as county sheriff; two seek cush post

Highest paying job in Huron county is up for grabs.

And, at latest count, there are two grabbing for it.

The political plum at stake is the post of sheriff, now held by Harry Broome, who's just announced he won't run for reelection.

Two of his deputies, Herbert Shaffer and John Borgia, are in the running to succeed their chief, although Borgia hasn't made any official announcement.

Top paying job in the county is the common pleas judgeship held by Robert J. Vetter, who draws $8,500. But in real income, the sheriff's job is at least 50 per cent better than Vetter's post.

The sheriff's salary is $4,500. But he draws free (and comfortable) lodging, free clothing free heat and light for his quarters, has the use of an automobile. He pays income tax on salary only. And, usually, his wife gets paid to cook for the prisoners of the county jail. The sheriff is paid to ration the prisoners. Whatever he makes on the deal is his. Incumbent Broome has been in ill favor in some quarters, but never on the count that he cheated his prisoners of a square meal. Hotel Broome, as many jailbirds call it, has a well-deserved reputation for healthy cuisine.

Shaffer and Borgia are Republicans, the latter one who has worked his way up through the Young GOP organization.

Draft-y, anyone? Sign up at school

Plymouth School District boys of 18 years who previously were required to go to Mansfield, Norwalk or Bucyrus to register for Selective Service will register in the office of the principal on their 18th birthday or within five days thereafter.

During the summer months they will be required to register at the county seat. Eighteen-year-old boys not attending high school are still required to register at the county selective service board office, Supt. M. J. Coon says.

Zoning a bad word apparently! Action?

What's happened to zoning in Plymouth?

This was the question some readers of The Advertiser were asking last week when they saw a report that:

1. Village of Greenwich appropriated $4,200 to hire experts to prepare a zoning ordinance.

2. Village of Bellville has appropriated $1,200 for the same purpose.

$600 is net profit of Mothers' club

Profit of about $600 was reported Monday as Plymouth Elementary Mothers' club began to settle bills for its seventh annual turkey dinner.

"We served 635 persons," Mrs. Loe Williamson, secretary, reports. "Gross receipts were about $930 but we have some bills to pay that will reduce the net profit by about $330."

Tickets selling prizes went to Susan Root, who sold 33; Milton McDougal, who sold 25; and Bonnie Brooks, who sold 23.

JOHN M. ASHBROOK

Ashbrook to seek GOP nomination for job in Congress

Rep. John Ashbrook, Licking county Republican, said today he will seek the 17th district Congressional nomination.

Representative Ashbrook says he will try "to return the 17th district to conservative representation." The son of the late William A. Ashbrook, who represented the 17th district for almost 20 years, he served as chairman of the Young Republican National federation from 1957 until June, 1959. A second term legislator, Ashbrook has been prominent in Republican circles for the past 10 years and is currently the chairman of the Licking County Republican Central committee.

Last summer he served as Chairman of the American Delegation to the Atlantic Youth conference of NATO in Paris. He also gained recognition in 1958 by conducting one of the most successful write-in campaigns for nomination ever recorded in Ohio when he received a 64 per cent write-in vote and by being acclaimed as "one of the 15 outstanding young men in politics in this country by a national magazine, Esquire."

Ashbrook is currently circulating petitions in the seven counties of the 17th district including Knox, Licking, Delaware, Richland, Ashland, Coshocton and Holmes counties. Publisher of the Johndown Independent, a weekly newspaper, since 1953 he is also an attorney. Married, he is the father of three daughters.

Dates for the annual adult basketball tournament have been set for Dec. 21, 23, 26, 28, and 30 in the high school gymnasium.

Three projects were discussed: organization of a junior high school football team, blacktopping of the old tennis courts at the high school for tennis and basketball and the installation of an electric scoreboard at the football field.

Next meeting will be Dec. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Shiloh building.

Palmer boys to get awards for injuries

Injuries received by the sons of the Glenn M. Palmers, Jr., near Tiffin three years ago are the subject of action in Huron county juvenile court.

Mr. Palmer has been appointed guardian under bond of $8,000 of Eugene Palmer and a settlement of the boy's personal injury claim has been ordered.

Richard Palmer, a minor, was authorized to settle his claim without appointment of a guardian.

Both boys have been members of Plymouth High school athletic teams in the past two years.

Initiative petition to go to ballot as councilmen berate Carl Ellis

The controversial initiative petition calling for purchase of the Charles Hubach property at 27 Sandusky street for a firehouse site will be moved to the ballot.

Richland County Board of Elections Clerk Thomas Ziegler admitted he misinterpreted the law and erred in refusing certification of the petition with 142 names.

He had said a resolution of council would be necessary to forward the petition.

He directed Clerk Carl V. Ellis to resubmit the petition at once and said he would move it to the ballot.

This signal victory for opponents of the village council's plan to buy the Ramsey theatre property for $18,000 was colored by a decision by the village solicitor, Joseph F. Dush, that a certificate filed by the petition's originator is insufficient.

Under Ohio law, originator of an initiative petition must within five days of submitting it aduce a certificate stating the names, addresses and conditions of employment of every person to whom salaries or fees were paid or promises made, the extent or size of those promises, the cost of circulating the petition, and other pertinent details.

Robert L. McIntire filed the certificate on Nov. 6 within five days of submitting the petition, but Dush has now held it to be insufficient.

"It is my opinion," Dush said, "the certificate filed by Mr. McIntire will have to be amended, but I do not think it will alter the effect of the petition."

MEANWHILE IT WAS field day for critics of Clerk Carl V. Ellis, who denied he should have been criticized.

No sooner had Councilman Elmer E. Markley been told in a restaurant Friday morning that, contrary to his statement, the petition had been accepted than he made for the clerk's office and berated Ellis at length. He said Ellis had neither right nor propriety on his side in taking the petition a second time to the board of elections.

Ellis protested he had an

Red cagers improving, need work, Daup says

On the Sidelines

By THE OLD TIMER

He is sometimes the most successful football coach, amateur or pro, in the country. He is always the general manager of the best professional football team in Cleveland, if not the nation.

And Sunday night he proved he is, until a worse one comes along, the world's champion alibi artist.

Paul Brown generally has something bad to say about the officials, the opposing team, the fans, the weather or what-have-you when the Cleveland entry takes a beating.

When Brown says, as he was quoted in a morning paper, "take Layne away from the Steelers and they've got nothing," he's morally obligated to add, "and take Jimmy Brown and Bob Mitchell away from the Browns and they've got nothing."

Memory traces to a number of Brown squawks. Only a week or so ago, after the Washington club protested (and right-fully, too, as it developed, because the league owners voted unanimously to ban the aluminum-tipped cleats the Browns wore) about a violation by the Browns, the coach bitterly laid it to unfair play.

And the infamous snowball throwing incident — remember it?

The Browns are a good football team, much as it disturbs a Giant rooter of over 30 years standing to say it. They are good enough to win the divisional championship slightly more than half the time.

They don't really need the "cry baby" tactics of their preceptor and it's high time he stopped it. Because it's bush.

BRUCE BURNHAM, sometime halfback, sometime end of the Berlin Heights Tigers, has been awarded the most valuable player trophy by vote of players, coaches and press.

It could hardly go to anyone else. And young Burnham's talents extend to basketball and track, in which latter sport he is district hurdles champion.

Major-General
Irvin McDowell

The first large-scale test of arms in the Civil War, along a little creek called Bull Run, about twenty-five miles from Washington, took place July 21, 1861, and involved many Ohio soldiers who only weeks before had been civilians.

The leader of the Union forces was from Columbus, Ohio, General Irvin McDowell, a graduate of West Point and a veteran of the Mexican War.

The great misfortune of his career was that he was made the scapegoat of this first major defeat for the raw Union army.

Whitehead Reid from near Xenia, one of the most quoted war correspondents of his day and author of the book "Ohio in the War", had this to say about General McDowell at Bull Run:

"His plan was excellent, and though there were innumerable faults of execution, they arose more because of the materials with which he had to work than from his own inexperience or lack of judgment. After all the display of ability which the War called out, we would be puzzled today if called upon to name any officer who, if put in McDowell's place, would have done any better. We may doubt, indeed, if there are any who would have done as well."

Today many thousands of American motorists visit the battlefield of Bull Run each year where one of the most prominent landmarks is the "Stone House" on the Warrenton Pike which withstood the fury of both the First and the Second Battle of Bull Run.

One of the strangest stories associated with this battleground is that of Wilmer McLean. He was a farmer across whose land two great battles were fought and his house was used as the headquarters of Confederate General Beauregard in the first battle. To get away from it all, McLean moved to the remote village of Appomattox Court House where it was his fate that his living room was the meeting place for General Lee and General Grant for the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia.

this week I am loaded.

I have some tickets to a wonderful movie at Shelby, which my friend Mr. Shreffler gave me, and anybody who wants one can have it by stopping in at the office.

The movie is called "Day of Triumph" and it is about the life of Jesus Christ.

It has many fine scenes in it—the preaching of St. John the Baptist, the calling of the Apostles, the Sermon on the Mount, the driving of the money-changers from the temple, the raising of Lazarus from the dead, the conversion of Mary Magdalene.

For parents and for children, it ought to be a good movie. These tickets will allow you to go in for less than the regular price.

Anybody can have one.

The movie will be shown at the Castamba Nov. 29 through Dec. 1.

Now, thanks to medical research we have powerful drugs which have drastically reduced the death rate among lung patients. Effective medications are important to your health. When you're ill, they can mean the difference between pain and comfort . . . between life and death. So, don't rely on home remedies. Let your physician decide what medications will be best for you. Mrs. Davis marks '59 with red-letter: Tribe finished 2nd

Nineteen hundred fifty-eight will be a red number year for a Plymouth resident who's nearing retirement from federal service after 18 years.

For one thing, Mrs. Ruth Davis, who lives in North street, is a Cleveland Indian fan, and this was the year for the Tribe's resurgence. For another, she likes her boss, "Uncle Sam, the best boss in the world". And for a third, she's sweating out being a great-grandmother.

Mrs. Davis is the subject of a profile in the Wilkins Rambler, official newspaper of Wilkins Air Force station, Shelby, where she's been employed since August of 1945.

When World War II broke out, Mrs. Davis — she's a native of Elyria and once served as a deputy sheriff in Cuyahoga county — was working in the supply division of the Corps of Engineers in Washington, D.C. In 1945 she was transferred to statistical control division of the Air Force's vast Shelby establishment. Two years later, she joined purchase division and saw it grow from seven to nearly 70 employees.

When it was reorganized and re-named the procurement division, Mrs. Davis became the only person in the history of Shelby depot who both bought and sold for the government.

When the depot began to "phase out", Mrs. Davis was transferred to redistribution and marketing division, where she still deals with surplus.

Mrs. Davis' son is a musician in West Palm Beach, Fla. His son, now married, lives in Los Angeles, Cal.

Huron county asks bids of depository

Huron county commissioners will open bids Dec. 17 for contracts on depositories of public funds for the two-year period beginning Jan. 1.

Amount subjected to bids will be $250,000 for inactive depository, which will bear interest. Active funds also be subject to bid must be retained in the banks at Norwalk.

Inactive funds do not represent surplus funds of a sub-division but rather the overlapping of receipts and expenditures, says treasurer H. B. Collier. One type of income, for example, comes into the treasury and then distributed later to the sub-divisions of the County. In the meantime, other various funds and fees are accumulated to be distributed later, thus creating the overlapping, or rotary, condition.

A political sub-division may not, according to law, assets or accumulate more than is necessary for operation.

Commissioners anticipate a rate of interest comparable to that paid by banks for other deposits of individuals or corporations. A number of years ago banking regulations did not permit the same rate to be paid for public funds as for individual deposits.

Joanne M. Briggs becomes bride here of Raymond E. Kleman

Miss Joanne Marie Briggs became the bride of Raymond E. Kleman in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. William Conces in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Mission church at 10 a.m. Nov. 14.

The bride is the younger daughter of the Leland Briggs, gases, Plymouth route 1. The bridegroom is the second son of the Peter Klemans, Shelby route 3.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ball-erina length gown of Italian lace and tulle, fashioned with Italian neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists.

A veil of net trimmed with Italian lace fell from a crown of pearls and rosebuds.

Miss Briggs carried a cascade arrangement of white roses about a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Lenore Stein, was matron of honor. She wore beige brocaded taffeta with dark brown accessories and carried a cascade arrangement of white and yellow pompons clustered about an orchid.

Mrs. Carol Schriener, Willard, the bride's aunt, and Miss

Claudia Bapts, Highland, Ind., the bride's cousin, were bridesmaids, attired in green brocaded taffeta with dark brown accessories and carrying flower-sprays similar to those of the matron of honor.

John J. Kleman, Shelby, the bridegroom's elder brother, was his best man. His younger brother, James, and the bride's brother, Francis, ushered.

Mrs. Briggs watched from the bridal pew in a knitted suit of beige tweed, set off with brown accessories. She wore an orchid.

Mrs. Kleman, on the other side of the church, wore a knitted suit of turquoise with black accessories and an orchid.

A graduate of Plymouth High school, the bride attended Carnegie Institute, Detroit, Mich., to study as a medical assistant.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Plymouth High school and of Andrew Toledo Barber college. He is employed in Lash Barber shop here.

A breakfast in Plymouth Grange hall followed the ceremony. Twenty-four sat at the bride's table. A reception for 200 followed. The bride cut from a four-tiered cake decorated in white and green. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. John J.

Kleman, took over the serving duties. Mrs. James Schlottner registered guests in the bride's book.

The Klemans are living at 66 Woodland avenue.

War II widows set for better benefits under newest law

Widows of World War II and Korean conflict veterans can qualify for pensions on the same basis as widows of World War I veterans starting July 1, 1960.

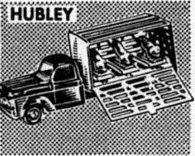

Previously a widow of World War II or Korean conflict could only establish eligibility for a pension if her husband had some degree of service-connected disability at death.

After July 1, 1960, a widow need only show that the veteran was in active wartime service for 90 days or more and was discharged under other than dishonorable conditions.

The new law allows a graduated monthly payment of $60, $45 or $25, depending on whether the widow's outside annual income is $600, $1,200 or $1,800. Above $1,800 no pension is allowed.

Widows with children are permitted higher pension and income limitations. For a widow with one child the monthly benefit is $75, $60 or $40, depending on income limitations of $1,000, $2,000 or $3,000. For each additional child another $15 a month is allowed.

Part of course of instruction in business administration department at BG-SU involves the transcribing of dictation in secretarial practice. Sandra Snyder shows how it's done.

Girls outnumbered in bus. ad. course

A blue-eyed, brown-haired Plymouth lass, is outnumbered five to one by her male counterparts in the college of business administration at Bowling Green State university.

Miss Sandra Sue Snyder, a junior majoring in general business, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vance W. Snyder, 312 East Main Street.

She is one of 193 women students majoring in business administration. Men student: number 1,050.

Unlike most students who wait until their senior year in high school before deciding on a college, Sandra said, "I made up my mind while I was a freshman at Plymouth High school that BG-SU was the best. I steel feel the same way."

She originally entered BG-SU as a major in the four-year secretarial course. She has now switched to general business because it will provide her with a broader business background.

This year Sandra is taking courses in business law, management and marketing as well as economics, mathematics and principles of speech. Her secretarial courses—typing and shorthand—were completed last year.

Miss Snyder lives in Alice Prout Residence hall, one of the newer campus residences for women (it was completed in 1955), with two other girls.

A solid Falcon football team fan, she also enjoys attending campus theater productions, concerts, and meetings of the university's Secretarial club.

A 1957 graduate of Plymouth High school, she was a member of the high school band and chorus.

Mr. Snyder is production manager for the Fate-Root-Heath Co.

ORDINANCE NO. 21-59

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS OF THE VILLAGE OF PLYMOUTH, OHIO, FOR THE PURPOSE OF ACQUIRING LAND AND THE EXISTING BUILDING THEREON FOR USE AS A MUNICIPAL BUILDING, REMODELING SAID BUILDING CONSTRUCTING A FIRE-PROOF ADDITION THEREON, AND MAKING SITE IMPROVEMENTS, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, the Clerk as fiscal officer of this Village, has heretofore certified the estimated life of the improvement and maximum maturity of the bonds proposed to be issued, which estimated life is at least five (5) years and which maximum maturity may not exceed twenty (20) years;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT

ORDAINED BY the Council of the Village of Plymouth, State of Ohio:

Section 1. That it is necessary to issue the bonds of the Village of Plymouth in the principal amount of $39,000 for the purpose of acquiring land and the existing building thereon for use as a Municipal Building, remodeling said building, constructing a fire-proof addition thereto, and making site improvements; and that such bonds shall be issued in one lot, and notes shall not be issued in denominations thereof.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, numbered from 1 to 39, both inclusive, shall be dated the first day of November, 1959, shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum (4%) per annum, payable June 1, 1960 and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of June and the first day of December of each year until the principal sum is paid; provided, however, that if said bonds are sold bearing a different rate of interest than hereinbefore specified, such bonds shall bear such rate of interest as may be provided in the resolution of Council approving the award thereof.

Section 3. Said bonds shall mature as follows: $4,000 on December 1st each of the years from 1961 to 1970, inclusive, except that $3,000 shall mature on December 1, 1961, which maturities are hereby determined to be in substantially equal annual installments.

Section 4. Said bonds shall be executed by the Mayor and Clerk and shall bear the corporate seal of the Village. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall bear the facsimile signature of the Clerk printed or lithographed thereon. They shall be designated "Municipal Building Bonds" and shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the legal depository of the Village, presently The Peoples National Bank of Plymouth, Plymouth, Ohio.

Section 5. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of bonds, promptly when and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said serial bonds at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all the taxable property in said Village of Plymouth, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually during the period said bonds are to run in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said bonds and when the same falls due and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said serial bonds at maturity, which tax shall not be less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11 of Article XII of the Constitution.

Section 6. Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and assessed upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officer, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified, extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other taxes and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which, together with all interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and principal of said bonds when and as the same fall due.

Section 7. Said bonds shall be first offered at par and accrued interest to the offer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund in his official capacity, and if said officer refuses to take any or all of said bonds, then said bonds not so taken shall be advertised for public sale and sold in the manner provided by law. The proceeds from the sale of said bonds, except the premium, accrued interest thereon and capitalized interest shall be used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose and to be allocated to the purpose herein described. The premium, accrued interest and capitalized interest received from such sale shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied to the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds in the manner provided by law.

Section 8. It is hereby determined that all acts, conditions and things necessary to be done precedent to and in the issuing of these bonds in order to make them legal, valid and binding obligations of said Village have been done, happened and performed in regular and due form as required by law; that the faith, credit and revenue of said Village are hereby irrevocably pledged for the prompt payment of the principal and interest thereof at maturity; and that no limitation of indebtedness or tax, either statutory or constitutional, has been exceeded in issuing these bonds.

Section 9. The Clerk is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor of Richland County.

Section 10. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, safety and welfare of said Village and its inhabitants, and for the further reason that immediate acquisition of the premises to be financed by the issuance of these bonds is urgently required to afford necessary facilities for the proper conduct of the affairs of the Village and the inhabitants thereof; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage.

OHIO in the CIVIL WAR

The Great Locomotive Chase

The "Great Train Theft" of Civil War fame, that was the subject of a popular movie, had a strong Ohio angle, even though the action took place in Georgia in 1862.
Major General Ormsby M. Mitchell of Cincinnati, as commander of a Union division of Maj. General Don Carlos Buell (another Ohio General) in middle Tennessee, launched the expedition made up of 30 volunteers from three Ohio regiments, the 2nd, 31st and 33rd.
The objective was to capture a train deep in Confederate territory and to burn bridges on the Georgia State Railroad and the East Tennessee Railroad, the lifelines of the Confederacy in the West, to isolate Chattanooga. The expedition, headed by James J. Andrews, assembled at Marietta, Ga. April 1862, captured a train under the nose of a Confederate encampment and speeded northward. Quick and persistent pursuit defeated the purpose but the chase extended to within eighteen miles of Chattanooga.
All but two of the raiders were captured, seven were executed as spies but the others survived. Six of these Ohio soldiers, after being released from a Confederate prison, were presented with the Congressional Medal of Honor by fellow Ohioans, Secretary of War, Edwin M. Stanton, March 25, 1863. These six were the first ever to receive this nation's highest award.
General Mitchell spent his boyhood in Lebanon, Ohio. He walked a large part of the way from there to West Point to enter the U.S. Military Academy as the youngest in his class, arriving there with 32c in his pocket. After four years of military service, he practiced law in Cincinnati and was a professor at the College of Cincinnati up to the start of the Civil War.
