(Four-Year Term) — Republican Primary May 3

VOTE FOR ROY B. (MUD) GARDNER

A candidate with the background and experience to give you truly sound representation

ARE YOU A BUSINESSMAN? "Mud" Gardner knows your problems and how to help solve them.

Here's why: Fifty years ago, he went into business in Mansfield, operating a bicycle shop. Two years ago, he returned as the owner of one of Ohio's most successful and profitable automobile agencies. He is now a successful real estate dealer. He had the executive ability to keep his business operating while away from it for one year as Ohio Legion Commander and four years as an Air Force Officer in World War II. "Mud" Gardner knows business and business problems.

ARE YOU A VETERAN? Then you will certainly be well represented by "Mud" Gardner.

Here's why: His service record began in 1917, as a private in the Air Corps. It ended with his retirement from the Air Force as a Colonel in 1952, with an unlimited pilot's license. In veteran's activities the record is: 1924-25, Commander, McVey Post, Mansfield, American Legion; 1934-38, Commander, Fifth District, American Legion; 1939, Vice Commander, American Legion, Department of Ohio; 1940, Commander, Department of Ohio; for 20 years a member of the Legion's National Security Commission; 1946, chairman of the Aeronautics Committee, National Security Commission.

"Mud" Gardner knows and is actively interested in veterans and their problems.

ARE YOU A FARMER? You can look to "Mud" Gardner for real understanding and help.

Here's why: "Mud" Gardner has been a successful farmer since 1933 and now operates a large farm in Richland County. In the last six months, his Dairy herd has set production records and he currently markets 50,000 pounds of milk a month.

"Mud" Gardner knows farming and farm problems.

DO YOU WANT AN EXPERIENCED LEGISLATOR AS YOUR OHIO SENATOR? Of course you do — and "Mud" Gardner has the experience and background you want.

Here's Why: He is now serving his fourth term as councilman-at-large in Mansfield. In three of four elections, he led both party slates in votes received — proof of his recognized ability as a legislator. He is currently chairman of Mansfield City Council's Finance Committee, and has held other important committee posts. He is also President protem of council.

"Mud" Gardner knows legislation, finances, taxation.

ROY B. (MUD) GARDNER

Successful business man... Colonel, U.S. Air Force (ret.)... active Legionnaire and former State Commander... successful farmer with record-setting dairy herd... four-time councilman-at-large in Mansfield... active supporter of community welfare activities (sponsored Christmas "Tide of Toys" for needy children for many years, gave use of camp site for youth groups, provided headquarters facilities for Girl Scouts, etc.) Native of Richland County.

Brings this rich background of successful achievement to his candidacy for nomination for Ohio Senate (four-year term) in the Republican Primary, May 3.

Hook Motors deals in Dodge, pioneer car with modern look

For so young and completely modern an industry, the automotive field has long been known for its conservative reluctance to incorporate major changes in its products. Consider the tremendous production costs involved, and it's understandable. But it's not conducive to progress and providing the public with the ultimate advantages attainable in body style, mechanical operation or economy of performance.

New companies dedicated to this purpose were organized, but failed and faded from view. Others have been underwritten and operated at a loss.

The most successful approach so far has been the combining of time-tested, performance proved products such as the old reliable Dodge, with a typical car of tomorrow to meet the demand of the current market in an economy car, such as the "Dart."

Power, luxury, durability and breathtaking beauty are symbolic of the full line of Dodge models, and the "Dart" stands alongside it as the perfect example of Dodge achievement in economy, but still a full size typical family car.

Established over twenty-five years ago, known as Harsch Motors, then Boyle & Hook until 1951, Hook Motor Sales, Inc., is well known as the firm "Where Quality Becomes A Habit." When you buy from Hook you are assured of complete one-stop service and maintenance for the life of your car. Sales department is directed by W. R. Coburn, sales manager. Service is personally supervised by Harold W. Bognor, service manager, with more than 15 years' experience in his field, and a five-man staff to back him up.

Equipped with the most modern facilities, Hook Motor Sales, Inc. provides complete engine, front and alignment, and all types of general repairs by factory trained mechanics, using factory parts.

John Deere means 'best'

There's no more honored name in agricultural equipment than John Deere. JD equipment always has met demands of the times. Usually it manages to keep just a little ahead of competitors.

Featuring the full line of John Deere equipment and industrial equipment of every type, the firm of Sheerer & Stoldt, Inc., South Main street, Attica, Tel. Garfield 6-3744, serves a wide variety of needs in this area.

Farm and industrial equipment must be durable, designed and engineered for simplicity of operation, adaptability, economy and practicality. Costs must be kept in line, and repairs and replacement parts must be speedy and permanent available.

If you are not getting the low-cost efficiency of performance your farm and industrial equipment should give you, if you lose too much time on costly repair bills, you should investigate the possibilities for improvement offered by "John Deere" products.

Sheerer & Stoldt, Inc., are specialists in farm and industrial equipment adapted to the specific needs of this area. They have on display an endless variety of machinery and equipment including everything from a plow to the New John Deere Hi-Lo Combines with all those grain-saving features such as selective ground speed, hydraulically raised and lowered platform, positive auger and steel conveyor feeding, famous John Deere threshing units and extra-large, extra-efficient separating and cleaning units.

During the past eight years he has served Richland County, as County Commissioner, diligently and conscientiously. He has neither refused, nor neglected, any reasonable request. He has been a dedicated advocate for improvements, and for constructive measures intended to better the welfare and living standards of all county residents.

The future needs of our county . . . adequate sewerage facilities, road improvements, etc., demand the attention of a man who is not only experienced, but completely familiar with the problems that lie ahead.

DON'T TAKE A MAN AWAY FROM A JOB THAT HE HAS DONE SO WELL, AND THAT NEEDS HIS GUIDANCE AND WISDOM TO BE COMPLETED SUCCESSFULLY . . .

JOHN FRIDAY COUNTY COMMISSIONER

patently the Hatch building — where it remained until 1939, when it moved to the Ruckman building, 1,367 feet east of the station.

Van Horton was succeeded by these postmasters: Robert McDonough, Apr. 6, 1836; James Drennan, July 28, 1849; Hezekiah L. Kirtland, May 6, 1853; Alfred H. Balsley, Mar. 12, 1861; Myron Webber, Mar. 13, 1865;

Also, Edmond Case, June 29, 1880; Franklin P. Smith, June 25, 1885; George H. Hofman, May 7, 1889; Daniel Kirkpatrick, Dec. 12, 1893; Mr. Hofman again, Nov. 9, 1897;

Also, Samuel E. Nimmons, Mar. 1, 1902; O. S. Earnest, May 10, 1913; William M. Johns, Apr. 25, 1923; Claude E. Sourwine, May 7, 1936.

IN 10 YEARS, POST OFFICE revenue here has increased from $19,578 to $56,149 annually.

There are nine employees (senior is Don W. Einsel, Jr., principal clerk) who service 544 village drops and 369 rural families spread over 72 miles. Two village carriers collect mail from 11 boxes. Ten years ago, the post office sold only 245,460 stamps; today the figure is 763,000 annually.

The building was erected and is owned by William Biebesheimer & Sons, Toledo, on a site acquired by him at 20 Plymouth street from William C. and Doris Enderby.

The federal government leases the building and has an option to renew the 10-year pact for two five-year periods.

Democratic Candidate

FOR

State Representative

Actively engaged in general law practice and serving second term as the Mansfield City Solicitor; served 3 1/4 years in U. S. Navy. Attended Madison Township grade and high schools and graduated from Ohio State University BA and LLB, 1951; married, one child.

Platform of Action:

- Revise the Ohio Public Utility Rate Law; only Ohio still has the one-sided RCN formula which permits Public Utilities in Ohio to obtain higher net profits than elsewhere in the nation and prevents effective opposition to unreasonably high charges for electric, phone and gas service.
- Eliminate inequities in the tax structure.
- Emphasize a balanced road program. In building the Interstate Highway system, we must not overlook the need for good county and township roads with elimination of road hazards such as the Trimble Rd-30 by-pass intersection.
- Represent YOU by holding public meetings in all cities, villages and townships in Richland county prior to the next session of the General Assembly and then, during the session, to advise YOU by press and radio of the important legislative proposals under consideration and to request YOUR opinions concerning them.

Strine batted freely as Ontario wins

Prevented by wet grounds from playing at home, Plymouth Big Red nine went to Ontario Apr. 20 and absorbed a sound 10 to 5 thrashing. The Warriors collected 15 solid blows from the slants of Billy Strine, four of them by his hill opponent.

The Big Red had a 3 to 0 lead when Ontario scored twice in the second but Plymouth was not able to dent the plate again until the seventh.

Whites fanned a dozen and passed five.

Just How Cold Was March, this year?

Look at the record ...

It was an unusually cold March this year.

But HOW COLD?

Gas Company weather records show that March, 1960, was 33 per cent colder than March, 1959.

March, 1960, was the coldest on record since 1878.

This year, March was much colder than February, which is normally the coldest month of the year.

No doubt you used much more gas to heat your home during March, 1960, than you did a year ago — or for any March you may remember.

To meet such demands, your Gas Company has developed a precisely engineered delivery system of pipelines, compressor stations, and underground storage areas, where gas is stored in summer for use in winter.

All the natural gas you wanted was available this winter, and almost half of it came from underground storage, one of the big reasons why so many people in Ohio can have gas heat for their homes — no matter when the cold weather comes.

THE OHIO FUEL GAS COMPANY

For the Ohio Senate

When Ohio doesn't choose a U. S. Senator or a governor local interest in an election tends to diminish.

But there's much at stake this year, and every citizen ought to be told about it.

The census now being carried out will show Ohio's population to be so large that the state is entitled to another member of the House of Representatives.

And when the governor is so informed by the secretary of the interior, the Ohio legislature will proceed to re-district the state so that new congressional districts obtain.

It follows that if Republicans control the legislature, they'll do their damndest to insure that boundaries are laid to give advantage to Republican candidates for Congress. The same holds true for Democrats.

The Republicans will certainly organize the lower house. With some luck in the November polling, the party could win control of the Ohio Senate, or at least hold an 18-to-18 stalemate.

So it's extremely important how you vote for candidates for the Ohio Senate in the May 5 primaries.

The voter must choose not only a flag bearer for his party but one who will stand a good chance of downing his opponent in the fall.

This district will elect two senators. None of the candidates, whether for the four-year or the two-year term, is of the stature of Charles A. Mosher, who's running for Congress. But nevertheless one of them must be chosen.

John W. Brown of Medina county, who served 11 days as governor, is unopposed on the GOP ticket for the two-year term.

John J. Pappas, Lorain; Alfred J. P. O'Donnell, Jr., Elyria; Roy B. (Mud) Gardner, Mansfield, and Harold E. Gibson, Mansfield, are the GOP candidates for the four-year term.

Because we believe it's time the lesser populated areas of the district deserve representation, and because we respect "Mud" Gardner's integrity and character, we believe he is entitled to wide support.

It wouldn't be fair for an editor who's a registered Republican to interfere in a Democratic primary (although he won't hesitate to cross party lines when the secret ballot allows) and so we won't recommend a Democrat candidate.

But we do think it's important that Ohio's legislature be organized by Republicans next year, and for this reason we think a strong candidate who can appeal to his whole district ought to be chosen. "Mud" Gardner is that man.

You can buy a Rolls Royce in Kutztown, Pa., and Walnut Creek, Cal. Pop says they are small towns. The Almanac shows Kutztown has 3,110 and Walnut Creek isn't even listed, so it must be less than 2,500.

The next thing you know somebody will open an agency in New Haven, and they will have to put "Ohio" after it because some stoop is apt to think it's New Haven, Connecticut.

Pop and Mom say they make their living on advertising. Advertising, they say, is a form of telling news. They work hard to make the advertising in the paper as newsy as possible.

I don't know but what they think some day I will want to run their papers for them.

Maybe some day I will. But advertising is going to have to change a lot.

You take Sunday, for instance. I was sitting in bed with my cat and reading a magazine.

There was a nifty colored ad for Rolls Royce cars. I never saw a Rolls Royce, but Pop says he wishes he had a barn full of them. I think they must be peachy cars.

Anyway, their advertising insults me.

Opposite their nifty colored ad is a list of the cities where you can buy a Rolls Royce.

It says: San Antonio but doesn't say where San Antonio is. Then it says St. Paul, Minn., and San Diego, Calif. If a person knows where San Antonio is, shouldn't he know where St. Paul and San Diego are, especially since each of them is bigger than San Antonio?

The state is listed after Glendale and Fresno and Corpus Christi, but not after Louisville, Columbus or New Orleans. And it says Wilkes-Barre is in Pennsylvania. Is there another Wilkes-Barre? A name like that is as distinctive as Rolls Royce.

QUALIFIED

To Serve You

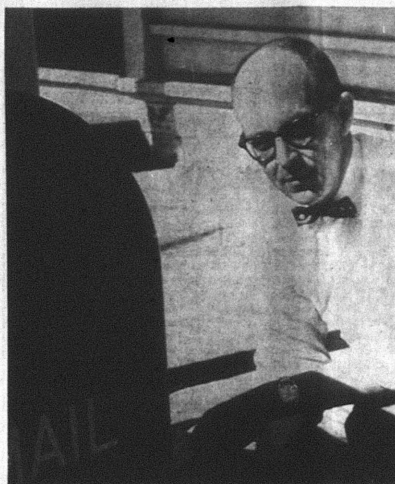

My years of experience as Clerk of the Mansfield City Council and Clerk of the Richland County Board of Commissioners has given me a thorough knowledge of all the procedures of the Commissioner's office—both from an administrative and legislative viewpoint—as well as the laws governing the operation of the office.

My residence in the center of the County will permit me to enter upon the duties of the office without being obligated to any one section of the County; will allow me to consider problems in all portions of the county in an unbiased manner and without being unduly influenced by any particular group, giving me the opportunity to consider all matters coming before the Board in an impartial frame of mind.

I pledge, that if elected, I will endeavor to bring about a closer working relationship between the COUNTY and the City of Mansfield and the City of Shelby, as well as all the Villages and the Townships; I will strive to do something about the sewage problem which is becoming increasingly greater in all areas which have housing development; I will do everything within my power to eliminate any and all wasteful spending programs which come under the jurisdiction of the Board of Commissioners; and last, but not least, to give careful and thorough consideration to all problems brought to my attention by using a COMMON SENSE approach.
