

New school tax defeated again, 582 to 398

For the second time in five weeks, electors of Plymouth Local School district rejected Tuesday the leadership of their board of education by overwhelming defeat of a new five-mill operating levy.

The score was 398 votes for the levy, 582 against, only slightly less emphatic than the outcome of the Nov. 7 balloting, when the issue polled 353 votes, with 547 opposed. The difference in result this time was a fraction of a per cent more favorable.

This time the issue carried two precincts — Shiloh and New Haven township, the former by two votes, the other by three ballots.

The turnout — 995 voters — was the largest in the history of the district for a special election, if for no other reason than that no special election has ever been conducted in it before. About 58 per cent of the eligible voters turned out in generally nasty weather.

By precincts the unofficial vote was:

New Haven township	11	8
Cass township	47	94
Shiloh	76	74
Bloomington township	31	63

Plymouth A	99	156
Plymouth B	98	124
Plymouth township	36	63

Only 39.4 per cent of the valid votes cast favored the issue, which if approved would have raised the tax rate here to $45.50 for each $1,000 valuation, probably the chief reason why it was turned down. A 55 per cent majority was required for passage.

The board of education met last night in the high school to consider what and where to cut. Non-curricular activities at the junior high level seem likely prospects for abbreviation or termination.

What to do?

The results of Tuesday's special election are not surprising.

That electors of the school district chose not to support the board of education's request for five mills of additional operating money was, we feel, a foregone conclusion.

What are the reasons for it?

These have been previously postulated and it will do no good to cite them again.

What to do about it? Legislators in the Ohio General Assembly ought to take note this is another expression of sentiment in favor of a drastic alteration in the method of supporting public schools. Electors of Richland county have their own financial worries and they don't cotton much to footing the bills in, say, Vinton or Noble counties, to mention but two of the nearly 30 Ohio counties that don't pay their own way.

The school foundation program was ingeniously devised. The principle of establishing a unit of 29 pupils and one teacher was well taken. But the state's support of such units is simply insufficient. Whether local sources can carry the remainder of the load is a moot point. What is important is they obviously think they cannot and won't vote otherwise.

Cutbacks at the local level are obviously necessary. It is proper that boards of education should determine what they will be. It would not be proper for any board of education to make cuts along lines that will penalize the better pupils. We can do without athletics, we can do without music, we can do (and are doing) without driver education, we can do without some extra-curricular activities such as dramatics, yearbooks and such. We cannot do without physics, foreign languages, mathematics, English and social sciences.

There must be no tampering with the amount and quality of these subjects unless the adjustment be upward.

And if worse comes to worse, we insist we can do without specialized job training. It's nice to be able to offer training with tools. But it's expensive, as the board's proposed budget for next year illustrates. It's much more valuable to train minds, more than hands, and so far as we can see, much less expensive.

If the proponents of expanded courses in vocational training at the high school level see this as a vote against them, we're sorry. But the shoe must be cut to fit the last pending a day when we can afford a new last.

School musicians to observe Yule in special program

Annual Christmas programs by pupils of Plymouth High and Elementary schools and of Shiloh Junior High and Elementary schools have been planned by the music department.

Harold R. Davenport, Jr., instrumental music teacher, will direct the 50-piece high school band and John Arndt, the vocal music instructor, will conduct the 40-voice chorus in the high school auditorium Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The chorus will sing traditional Christmas music. A boys' quartet — James Markley, lead; James Fetters, tenor; Everett Eckstein, baritone; and Billy Young, bass — will sing. So will a girls' trio of Darlene Koser, Karen Huston and Anetta Dawson. Deanna Amstutz, a soprano, will sing a solo.

A BRASS ENSEMBLE — Gregory and Girard Cashman, Robert Hook, Timothy Redden, Beverly Hawk, Gail Aumend, Edwin Renz and Dan Swartz — will play several numbers.

Each grade at Shiloh will participate in the program to be staged there Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Barbara Wagner, Janet Owens, Cindy Wagner and Roxanne Spring, sopranos, will sing solos. A girls' quartet — Janet Lewis, Susan Mack, Leslie Henry and Sheryl McQuown — and a girls' trio — Candace Owens, Ginger Pry and Connie Balitich — will perform.

Program in Plymouth Elementary school will be Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Marlene Strine and Terry McKenzie will sing solos. Montelle Faust will do a tap dance. Ellen Condon will twirl a baton, and a clarinet trio — Diane Haver, Linda Hollenbaugh and Kim Barnes — and a vocal trio — Susan Root, Montelle Faust and Roberta Meiser — will perform.

Mack Webber, 76, dies at Oberlin

Brother-in-law of Mrs. Karl F. Webber and uncle by marriage of Mrs. Miles Christian, Mack Webber, 76, died at his home in Oberlin Thursday.

He was once a partner in the BeVier stores in Wellington, Oberlin, Willard and Shelby. Born here, he was a brother of the late Karl Fenner Webber. He was once employed by Spear's Clothing Store. He went to Cleveland, where he retained membership in Windermere Lodge, F. & A. M., East Cleveland, but left there in 1924.

Later he lived in Willard and Oberlin as manager of the BeVier stores there.

A funeral service was conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. in Greenlawn cemetery here Monday.

His wife, the former Harriet Fate; a daughter, Mrs. Sterling W. Clements, Cleveland, and a son, T. Lawton, Bellbrook, survive.

The Webbers celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Sept. 4, 1960.

Plymouth Girl Scout Troops 196 and 377 spent Sunday afternoon at the Richland County home, where they decorated its Christmas tree and sang carols for the residents. They also brought small Christmas favors which they made during troop meetings.

The Scouts were accompanied by Mrs. Roy Carter, Mrs. Daniel Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. William Ross, Mrs. Kenneth Echelberry, Mrs. James P. Moore and Mrs. P. E. Haver.

Rutan to quit Feb. 1 for Mingo Junction

The Rev. Moss Rutan, pastor of First Presbyterian church since 1937, announced Sunday he will quit his charge here on Jan. 31 to become minister of the Mingo Junction Presbyterian church.

Mingo Junction lies between Steubenville and Martins Ferry in Jefferson county.

The Rev. Mr. Rutan, a native of Washington, Pa., is a graduate of Waynesburg college and Western Theological seminary at Pittsburgh, Pa. This was his first charge.

He and Mrs. Rutan are the parents of two sons.

Judge Marriott, 72, laught at Shiloh

Once a Shiloh school teacher, Glenn W. Marriott, 72, municipal court judge at Mansfield, died of a heart attack at his Mansfield home Dec. 6.

He was judge 12 years, an appointee of Frank J. Lausche in 1950.

Born June 29, 1889, in Mansfield, he served in the AEF in World War I. He was graduated from Ohio Northern university, Ada, in 1913. Prior thereto, he taught school at Shiloh.

He was elected mayor of Shelby in 1926 and again in 1928. He was Shelby's law director from 1930 through 1931 and in 1932 was appointed mayor to succeed one who died in office.

From 1935 to 1940 Judge Marriott was prosecutor of Richland county, then returned to private practice with Charles Freacher. He ran unsuccessfully for mayor of Mansfield in 1943 and 1945.

His wife, Rhea E.; a son, Howard A., Chatham, N. J., and a sister, Mrs. Arthur BeVier, Shelby, survive.

William Laser under oxygen; Garden club makes greens

William Laser, who lives west of Shiloh, became seriously ill and was taken to Shelby Memorial hospital, where he was placed under oxygen Thursday night. He has improved somewhat since then.

Shiloh Town & Country Garden club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Forsythe for its annual Christmas meeting and dinner.

Twelve were present. Under the leadership of Mrs. John Gundrum, "Christmas Decorations" were discussed.

The club voted to give a cash donation to the Rural Life center and made plans to put a decorated tree in the lobby of the post office.

Members of the club spent two previous evenings making wreaths for street decoration.

White Hall club met Dec. 6 with Mrs. Jay Earhart.

Ten members were present. Secret sisters were revealed and a Christmas exchange conducted.

The club is planning a Christmas party and potluck supper for families at 6:30 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fulk. The season's greetings were extended to all members who were unable to attend recent meetings.

The club will meet with Mrs. Hord in January.

Mrs. William Crall and daughter, Nancy, New London, spent Sunday afternoon with the former's mother, Mrs. Grace Barnard.

Mrs. Mary Koerber is a patient in Geauga Community hospital at Chardon. Mrs. Koerber spent her early life in this community and was graduated from Shiloh High school. She is the daughter of the late John White, who lived southwest of here.

Mrs. Fred Cairns, who formerly occupied and now owns the property west of the Lutheran church, moved last week to 196 North Benton street, Mansfield.

The 55th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lannert was quietly observed at their home Tuesday.

They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. Dollie Rosen, Mansfield, and Helen, deceased.

They also have four grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Norris Jay Baker, Jr., and Susan Pamela Snay were quietly married Saturday, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bridegroom grew up here and was graduated from Plymouth High school. He is a member of the U. S. Marine Corps stationed at Norfolk, Va.

A gift exchange is planned for the next meeting of the Shiloh Community Grange which will be Wednesday evening.

Elsie Dill, Mrs. Thomas Nuhfer, Mary Smith and Rosemary Bricker will conduct the Christmas program.

The refreshment committee consists of Mr. and Mrs. George Dick and Mr. and Mrs. John Heitner.

First six grades of the elementary school here will furnish a musical program for the P-T-A. meeting Monday evening in the new building.

Refreshments and a gift exchange will follow. Secret sisters were revealed when Mrs. Elma Stevenson entertained her card club recently.

Mrs. Dawn Dick won high score, Mrs. Wood Arnold was low and Mrs. Alvin Garrett received the traveling prize.

The new bank building at the corner of Main and Church streets, is nearing completion and officers of the Shiloh branch of the First National Bank of Mansfield are hoping to move in about Jan. 15.

Those officers are Dean Wolford, manager; Larry Koehse, assistant manager; and James Barnhart, bookkeeper.

A luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. when the Get-together meets at the home of Mrs. W. L. Chatfield Thursday.

Mrs. Mary Brook will conduct the Christmas program. Members are asked to notify Mrs. Chatfield by Saturday, whether they plan to be present.

Rolland McBride was dismissed from Shelby Memorial hospital last week and removed to his home, where he is able to be around.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Seymour were in Columbus Saturday.

Always shop at home first!!

where Mr. Seymour attended a meeting of the Sheep Improvement association.

Mrs. Winona Kerr of Crestline visited her sister, Mrs. Frank Patte-son, over the weekend.

Loyal Daughters will meet tomorrow night with Mrs. Waiver Porter. Mrs. W. W. Pittenger will lead discussion of the lesson. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Yost were Columbus visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Duffy, Bloomville, were Sunday guests Sunday in the home of their son, Floyd Duffy.

Lawrence Rolston, Waynesfield, spent the weekend at the home of his sister, Mrs. Kirby Nesbitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kendig, who recently moved to Columbus, were Shiloh callers Saturday.

Granges plan parties

Hazel Grove Grange will stage its Christmas party Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Grange hall.

Turkey will be furnished. Each member is to bring a covered dish.

Younger members of the grange will have a special Christmas program and cake walk afterwards.

Auburn Grange, which is celebrating its 68th year this month, will have its Christmas program for juveniles tomorrow night. Charles Vansdale and Verne Cole are in charge. All members are asked to bring popcorn or candy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir:

I am sure I speak for all our townspeople when I say we should be extremely proud of the way our Square is decorated for Christmas this year. In visiting other communities in the surrounding area, some much larger than ours, I have not been nearly so impressed by what I saw as when I drove back through our home town. The people who did the job are to be congratulated.

As we look at the beautiful and brightly lighted trees and lamp posts we cannot help but catch the gay holiday spirit. I hope, however, in this hectic season of gift giving and getting, we let the loveliness of the Square inspire in us the true meaning of the Christmas season. Let the brightly colored lights remind us just what it is we are celebrating: The coming of the light of the world! That first Christmas day so many years ago, man was given the greatest gift of all. In a far away place, Mary's boy child was born, and with Him was born the promise and hope for all mankind. For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in Him shall not perish, but shall have everlasting life. No man will ever give or receive a greater gift than this.

Let each one of us this Christmas season give thanks unto our Lord for the many blessings He has given us and most of all for His great gift of love, the Holy Babe of Bethlehem.

Merry Christmas!

Red no slouch when it comes to size of town it picks to lick

When Coach Ron Hostler's Big Red outfit chooses to play basketball, it doesn't pick on a small burg nobody ever heard of.

Plymouth went to Bucyrus, a community of almost 15,000 souls boasting a Class AA high school, Saturday night and showed the Indians how basketball ought to be played. The Big Red took an early lead and hung on to it throughout for a two-point win, 53 to 51.

PLYMOUTH LED, 11 to 10, after eight minutes and 29 to 21 after 16. By the close of the third period, the Big Red had earned a nine-point lead at 42 to 33. Bucyrus came on strongly in the final period and reversed the second-period performance, when Plymouth scored 18 and Bucyrus 11. But it wasn't enough and the Big Red won its first of the season after three losses.

Phil Fletcher had 13 and Jim Hamman 10 for Plymouth. Larry Henson racked up 21 for the losers. Plymouth shot 15 of 40 penalty shots, Bucyrus 11 of 21.

Coach Bill Flaherty's green reserves took another trouncing, 47 to 35.

Frosh show varsity how to win, rally in last six seconds

It took a last-ditch rally by Coach Bill Ramseyer's frosh squad to produce the first basketball victory of the season for Plymouth High teams.

The yearlings did it at New Washington Thursday, when Chip Paddock dumped a field goal with two seconds left to produce the winning points.

With six seconds remaining, behind 31 to 30, Plymouth called time. Coach Ramseyer set up a throw-in play. Paddock passed to Eric Akers, who flipped it back and screened the Buckeye defender while Chip pumped it up there. It dropped through without touching the rim.

Plymouth was behind most of the way. Paddock had 13 points to lead both teams in scoring.
