

Over 150,000 miles.

Never turn your back on an angry dog, snarl him in the eye and say nothing to him.

For faster mail service, keep the affidavit accurate in every weather and in repair at all times.

Don't fight a biting wind; do as they do in China -- lay it out.

After 38 1/2 years of carrying the U. S. mails, during which he walked slightly more than 150,000 miles over the streets and sidewalks of the town where he grew up, Kenneth V. Myers offers these three pieces of advice based on experience and a will to get the job done.

And when I felt I couldn't do the job so well any more," he adds, "owing to ill health," "I turned in my suit and took my pension."

IN A GENERATION and a half of delivering mail here, Myers was bitten "two or three times" by angry dogs.

"None of the bites was serious, as I recall," he says, "and I suppose the dogs have their rights, too."

The veteran postal service employee joined the post office here when the late Claude Souwaine was postmaster. He served during the war period, but hardly anyone outside this village would think so. During most of his tenure he served side by side with a high school classmate, Don

W. Emsel, Jr., since retired. And since 1922, a third classmate, Raymond L. Brooks, has been postmaster. All were graduated here in 1931.

There were three years when Myers was carrying a different sort of mail. Or wearing a different uniform. He served overseas in World War II with the 2nd Infantry Division. During that period, Mrs. Floyd Sheely served in his stead, the only female carrier in history here. CHANGES IN MAIL SERVICE?

"Well, we used to deliver twice a day. My route measured 12 miles. When the postal service sent a truck here so that bundled mail could be delivered to storage boxes a hour town, that was a change for the better. Before that, we occassionally used a car, and sometimes the car would break down.

"They changed the uniform. They made it more different and maybe I looked better, but I don't know that it was any warmer when the wind blew.

"Of course, the new post office made things a lot more pleasant. Not that the old one was so bad, but it's always nicer to work in a new building.

"House numbering was changed a couple of times. It made more sense after the last change.

AND WHAT WAS UNCHANGING?

"The eagerness of the people to get their mail and the friendliness when I walked up on the porch. 'I'll never forget that.' 'I'll never forget that.'"

Now in retirement, Myers will pursue a favorite pastime, keeping track of the fortunes of the Detroit Tigers, who with a new manager, Billy Martin -- and half of a new infield will seek to improve their standing in the American League. He'd do it in front of the TV set in the comfortable home at Route 61 north of here that he occupies with his wife, Norma, clerk of Plymouth Local school district.

And from time to time he'll reflect on every day of those 150,000 miles, equal to 6 times around the earth at the equator.

Volume off during 1970, library says

Almost one-third of books circulated by Plymouth Branch Library in 1970 were read by kindergarten, first and second graders.

Mrs. J. Harold Cashman, librarian, announces a total of 17,052 volumes were borrowed in 1970.

The very young readers accounted for 5,198 who read the "Little Junior Reader."

Adult readers took out 2,617 fiction books and 2,303 of non-fiction. Circulation figures for Junior fiction were 5,241 and 5,963 for Junior non-fiction.

Mrs. Cashman said circulation was slightly down for 1970 compared for 1969, which was true in other Richland county libraries.

School board reelects Rook, raises pay to $72 a year

After five ballots, William Rook, Shiloh, was reelected president of Plymouth Board of Education Monday night.

Absence of Richard D. Fackler, recovering from hip surgery, resulted in the vote on the first Monday night. Rook was opposed on the first three by R. Harold Mack and on the fourth by Arthur Hamman. Each received two votes. On the fifth ballot, again opposed by Mack, Rook won a three to one victory.

Mack was elected vice-president without opposition. Pay of members was advanced 50 per cent to $6 a meeting to enable them to purchase privately group liability insurance made available by the Ohio School Boards association for $20 each a year. The insurance is not valid unless all members participate. Coverage is for $300,000 per member.

Regular meetings will convene in the elementary school on the second Monday monthly at 8 p. m.

save that when daylight savings time applies the meetings will be at 8:30 p. m. Rook appointed these committees:

Mack and Fackler, finance and personnel and policies; Hamman and John R. Swartz, transportation wishing to stage cake walks was adopted without dissent. It provides that money solicited will be sought as a donation, that donations will not be solicited while a spectator is seated before or during a school-sponsored event, that a prospective donor who refuses to contribute may not be abused verbally for that refusal, and that all arrangements for solicitation must be made in advance with the building principal.

William Flaherty, athletic director, was appointed head baseball coach, succeeding Lawrence J. Root, who will coach the golf team. Robert James was assigned to direct the high school intramural basketball program at $100. Ronald Hostler and James Haney will direct elementary boys' basketball for $50 each.

A school calendar for 1971-72 was adopted. Only two of the four holidays-on-Mondays -- Memorial day and Labor day -- will be observed. Supt. John Fazzini said if the school observe a holiday for certified personnel, non-certified personnel must be paid for the holiday.

The schedule calls for classes to open Sept. 1, with Sept. 6 as a holiday in observance of Labor day. North Central Ohio Teachers' association will meet in October and school will recess. Thanksgiving holidays are Nov. 25 and 26. Christmas recess is from Dec. 18 to Jan. 2. An in-service training day for teachers will result in the holiday during January. Easter recess is from Mar. 30 to Apr. 4.

May 29 will be observed as Memorial day and classes will conclude on June 6. Fazzini was named official purchasing agent by the board.

A RESOLUTION accepting the amounts and rates of taxation set by the county budget commission was adopted. It calls for a school tax of $4.50, of which $4.40 is inside the 10-mill limitation.

A total of 11 mills is to be levied on the bond. This produces $136,166.44 annually. The remainder of 33.4 mills is for operating purposes. This produces $402,309.04. Clerk was authorized to request a tax advance of $10,000 from the Huron county auditor.

Temporary appropriations of $133,300 were approved. Bills for construction were authorized to Studer-Ohringer, Inc., for $34,800, and to Richland Electric, for $2,823.

Fire pact set with Greenwich

Mayor Hugh M. Washburn presided over his first regular session of village council in 1971 in the village hall Jan. 5. A three-year mutual fire protection agreement was approved with the Village of Greenwich, Greenwich township and Ripley township. A special meeting will probably be called before the next regular meeting, Washburn said, to prepare appropriations for 1971, which could not be done Tuesday because the forms had not come from the Richland county auditor's office.

Clerk J. Phillips Moore reported 22 graves were sold in Greenlawn cemetery during 1970 and there were 49 burials. The cemetery board has purchased a new mower, all equipment has been repaired and painted. Members of the police committee reported influenza has hit the department, it is running short hand, Police Chief Robert L. Melsler has been confined to his home because of illness. Patrolmen have had to double up on the shifts.

Sheriff to sell Miller property on Feb. 5

A sheriff's sale will be conducted Feb. 5 at 10 a. m. in his office in the Richland county courthouse of premises owned by Gerald F. Miller at 25 West High street, appraised at $21,100. Plaintiff is the mortgagee, Shelby Building & Loan Co. The lot measures 69 by 120 feet.

Blood call sounds anew

ARC Bloodmobile will call at Father Nardocchio hall, St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic church, Willard, Wednesday from noon to 6 p. m., seeking 125 cc. points of whole blood. J. Harris Postema will arrange a specific appointment for any blood donor between the ages of 18 and 60.

Annual meeting of the Presbytery church will be conducted after the 10:45 a. m. service Sunday. Candelabra given in memory of Mrs. George Roberts by members of her family will be dedicated. Circle I, Women's association, will meet Tuesday at 9 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Francis A. Miller. Bible study will be conducted by Mrs. James D. Cunningham.

Tax boost irks owners here

Not since the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima has so much noise been made over increased real estate taxes in Huron county.

Some taxpayers report "enormous increases." Plymouth Midget league's real estate tax on Weber field went from $9 a half to $66.

The increased tax bills derive from two factors: one is the higher tax rate approved by voters in the general election for Plymouth Local School District, Pioneer Joint Vocational School District and the other is the revaluation of taxable property. Revaluation was carried out in 1968-70, completed June 10, and is based on current land values and 1962 building costs.

Session to meet

Circle I, Women's association, will meet Tuesday at 9 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Francis A. Miller. Bible study will be conducted by Mrs. James D. Cunningham.

Cutright shoots right to trounce Ontario

Big Jim Carright's hot hand and a tight defense led Plymouth to a sensational come-from-behind victory over Ontario in a Johnny Applesse conference game here Friday night.

The Big Red tied it all 32 with 1:34 remaining in the third period and took a lead of 56 to 54 with one second left on Larry Taylor's shot. Thereafter it was all downhill. Ontario never threatened and Plymouth walked away with a 75 to 65 victory.

To do it, the Big Red needed an outstanding performance by its bench. Bill Van Wagner was in foul trouble early and sat out most of the last three quarters. Ted Rook was ill with tonsillitis and did not play at all.

CUTRIGHT BEGAN TO hit early in the third period. He scored 10 in that quarter and eight in the final one. His night's total was 26 to lead all scorers.

It was remarkable how Plymouth came from deep in the ruck to tie it in the waning moments of the third quarter.

When the Warriors in a 12-point lead at 50 to 38, John Conley bagged a jumper. Roger Ash re-rattled and Plymouth was no closer. Then Don Foreman scored from the side, Cutright got three quick baskets, left Fazio banged a jumper home and it remained for Taylor to score with his garbage shot to tie it with 1:14 left.

Plymouth outscored the visitors badly in the last half. Indeed, it had to do so to survive, because the Warriors led by eight at 40 minutes.

If this Big Red team goes anywhere this season, it will do so in part because its bench is fairly competent.

Red rips Mounties, 86 to 69

Steve Ringler, hardly big enough to scare a sleeping chicken, showed Plymouth's Big Red how basketball ought to be played on the Mapleton court Saturday night as the Mounties fell to Plymouth, 86 to 69.

Ringler scored 45 points to set a new school record -- the old one of 40 was held by Loren Lacy -- and in the process bagged 20 of 35 attempts for field goal and five of 14 for free throw.

He racked up 16 of the total in the last period, eight of them successively in the waning moments of a contest that was already lost.

Ringler was the only Mapleton player in double figures.

PLYMOUTH STARTED slowly and by half time had a lead of 39 to 31. Where the Big Red broke it open was in the third period. Only once in 16 seasons has a Plymouth team scored better than during this quarter. Plymouth racked up 28 points, on 25 advances, an 83.3 percent shooting PPA of 11.2, not quite enough to sustain a trip to the state semi-finals but nevertheless better than the average in these parts.

The winners shot well enough but would have been in some trouble against a stronger opponent. Plymouth took down 62 rebounds, Mapleton only 41, but Randy Roas had 20. Jim Cutright sat out part of the second half, otherwise he would have led all rebounders. He had 13 in the first half alone.

Nine Red players broke into the scoring act as Coach Ron Hoelzer used every one who suited up for the contest. John Conley bagged 20, Larry Taylor 17 and Brad Ream 13 to lead the winners.

Can Red win JAC title?

With one game short of half the season in the records, Plymouth's basketball team sees our here tomorrow after the Johnny Applesse conference championship with a tough row to hoe.

Lexington is undefeated in league play. Plymouth has lost two conference games. To win, Plymouth will need to defeat the Minutemen here on Jan. 30 and obtain help from at least one other league team.

It will be a monumental, perhaps an impossible, task. For in addition to another meeting with Lexington, Plymouth must defeat Loudonville, the only other league team to win over the Big Red.

With a 5-and-3 record so far, Plymouth has shown some weaknesses that don't baring help good prospects for the future.

Two of these are that, so far, there is no consistent floor leader and that Plymouth has an excruciating free throw shooting record.

Of 306 attempts, the Big Red has converted only 102, for just under 50 percent.

No team has won the JAC title since the league was organized with that kind of free throw shooting record.

When John Conley is consistent, Plymouth scores well enough. Its game average is an even 66, in league play and overall, oddly enough. Defensively, Plymouth averages 66 points, in league play 69 plus.

The defense must improve. There must be better and more consistent floor leadership. And the free throw shooting must improve.

This week's opponents, Crestview and Fredericktown, should prove troublesome but not unbeatable.

Gas Company Drills to Record Depths in Appalachian Area

MARBLE CLIFF, OHIO (CGS)—Drilling for gas is like planning military strategy; all you have to go on is a calculated guess.

But Columbia Gas System geologists have a better-than-average calculated guess of where vast, rich gas deposits are located. They've zeroed-in on the Appalachian Basin area—a prime source of natural gas and the second largest geological basin in the United States.

New drilling equipment and mature drilling experience in this area justify Columbia's efforts.

Improved rotary drilling methods, cut into the earth three times faster than before. And improved drill bits are now tougher than ever. Rotary drills also go deeper than the familiar cable rigs.

Geological findings also play an important part in pinning down an exact location. The results of geophysical surveys, using seismic shock waves, earth's gravity and magnetic intensity, help to describe the underground structure of the earth.

Despite all the technological advances, exploration for natural gas remains a high-risk business. For example, the chances of hitting a successful wildcat well are one out of nine. The other eight wells are either dry holes or not commercially productive. Presently, Columbia Gas is activating several deep-drilling operations in the Appalachian area. These test wells will contribute to our geological knowledge of the basin, which presently accounts for 12% of Columbia's supply.

Look out below!

Untapped pockets of clean natural gas lie miles beneath the surface of the earth. And we mean to reach them. We listen to the earth's heartbeat deep underground in the Appalachian area and our sophisticated prospecting instruments guide us to potential deposits of natural gas. So we're tooling up to drill further down than we've ever gone before.

Wildcat exploration is expensive and the chances of finding gas in commercial quantities are one out of nine. But the rewards in more clean, modern natural gas for heating and cooling, cooking, clothes drying, water heating and industrial uses will be well worth it. Drilling deeper in America's original natural gas land is just one of the ways we will meet your ever-increasing need for valuable natural gas. Gas is right there.
