

Phase III of sewer system apt to obtain funding this year

Phase III of the village sewerage system may be installed this year.

Councilman Edward O. Ramsey said Tuesday night the village is now No. 2 in the FIA priority list. A meeting with Eugene Gerken, engineer for the system, is set for Apr. 15.

Ramsey made the statement after David Polachek, 289 West Broadway, asked what is the status of the installation. His house is serviced by a tile which runs across a field owned by Raymond L. Brooks. When it was plowed Sunday, several tiles were broken, causing his sewer to become plugged.

The council suggested he discuss the matter with Brooks to see what temporary arrangement can be made to remedy the problem.

Ramsey said that even though Plymouth has been waiting some time to obtain an FIA loan, the delay had its good points, since interest rates have fallen considerably. The opening of the Willard reservoir, which is fed by the Huron river, into which the village has been dumping untreated sewage, had a great deal to do with Plymouth receiving a higher priority for a loan, Ramsey said.

WHO WILL PAY WHOM for a water tap outside the corporation was broached when Kenneth Barnett and Lonnie Caudill appeared to have the problem solved.

Barnett will connect to the water line for which Caudill shared half the cost of installation with the village several years ago.

Because no terms were reduced to writing at the time, Caudill actually has no legal way to charge or share in the charge of additional taps. He paid $969.35 for his share of putting in the line. Later the Plymouth Drive in Thester connected to it for a sum of $80.

Caudill asked Barnett for $1 a foot to share in what the village would receive for the tap, which is $150 plus 50 per cent for being outside the corporation.

Councilman Robert A. McKown said he does not believe the village tapping fee set by ordinance should be shared.

Ramsey said that his theater, the Happy Hollow Trailer camp and property owned by D. S. Willard.

son in Springmill road are being annexed to the village.

Would he consider annexation, Caudill was asked. He said because the higher rate of taxation deters him.

Councilman Robert L. Bachrach said under the law the line belongs to the village once it is installed.

Although a motion was made by Councilman Wayne E. Strine to have Barnett pay the regular village tapping fee for a connection outside the corporation, it failed in a tie vote. Strine, Councilman Kenneth Echelberry and Mrs. A. L. Paddock, Jr., voted yes while McKown, Bachrach and Ramsey voted against it.

Solicitor Joseph F. Dush was asked to study the problem and give an opinion.

THREE BIDS WERE RECEIVED for blanket insurance coverage for all village properties and equipment.

Bachrach moved to accept the bid of State Agency, Shelby, at $4,184.29, which carried a two per cent deductible item on vandalism and miscellaneous mischief. This item took $370 off the agency's bid of $4,491.29.

David Insurance Agency's bid was $4,921.17, without the two per cent deductible item.

Nationwide Insurance, Nationwide Insurance, Willard, submitted a bid of $4,581.67, which did not include the floater coverage, which would add another $247 to it.

The low bid was accepted.

The council also moved to issue councilman's notes to borrow $17,500 from the cemetery trust and perpetual care funds, now invested in government bonds. A comparable interest will be paid. The money realized will be applied to the outstanding note to Peoples National Bank to finish paying off money borrowed to complete Phase I of the sewers.

Until Tuesday night, $40,000 plus interest was still owed. A total of $5,000 is being paid plus the interest on the note, and $35,000 now owing was renewed for a six month period.

THE CONTROVERSIAL punch boxes which Ramsey purchased for the police department will be installed and used on a trial basis.

Police chief Robert L. Meiser stoutly maintained they would endanger his men because the regularity of visit to them would create a likely target for any wrongdoer.

Bachrach said village employees "are getting good treatment and should go along with any committee suggestions which might help the village in any way."

He told Meiser "you're a good cop." He added, "the village was rotten before and soon as anyone comes along to upgrade it, the down-draft starts."

Meiser questioned who knew how to run a police department and Bachrach said it is only a matter of getting the "bugs" out.

Denon H. Steele receives his training course diploma from D. R. Brinkley, retail marketing manager, Sohigro Service Co. at Lima. Mrs. Steele beams her approval.

Cleaning of streets set Apr. 16, 17

Principal village streets will be cleaned the night of Apr. 16 and morning of Apr. 17.

Willard's street sweeper will begin work at 8 p. m. and finish early the next morning.

Drivers should park cars to avoid obstructing the work.

Scouts to deliver cookies here

Girl Scout cookies will be delivered beginning to be delivered beginning Monday.

Extra boxes are available on any Girl Scout or Brownie.

Mrs. Lonnie Hass, Mrs. Raymond Klemm and Mrs. Ronald F. Graham are the troop cookie chairman in Plymouth.

Shiloh chairmen are Mrs. Doris Rhodes and Mrs. Margaret Hudson.

Track fund aid sought by sales

Ohio placements and crossed Easter rabbits are on sale to benefit the Ruth Ford Henry Memorial Track fund.

They may be inspected at the Frontier Inn.

An auction and rummage sale will be conducted June 12.

Donors of items may notify Mrs. Leo Russell, Tel. 896-3721, or Mrs. Hugh W. Washburn, Tel. 687-5701, who will arrange to have the items collected and stored.

The Voice of The Advertiser -- The equinox

The passing of the vernal equinox has always been marked by bizarre conduct. Legend has it that a change in the atmosphere prompts people to behave in a strange fashion.

This year was no exception.

A judge in Toledo allowed a woman convicted of operating a brothel and sentenced to a stiff prison term to be freed on the plea of her attorney that "she has a daughter about to go to college, and she is needed at home to provide counsel and guidance for the girl." To counsel and guide the girl into what, pray tell?

A 20-year-old Lorain Community college youth whose car struck a motorcycle driven by a 16-year-old Oberlin High school boy, resulting in the boy's death, was convicted of failure to yield the right-of-way. He had pleaded "no contest." He was fined $50. Is life so cheap?

After signing a University of Mississippi basketball star to a reported $2 million contract, the Memphis Pros were served with a writ of attachment demanding $5,056 for payment of uniforms and equipment.

Youth, 19, held on dope suspicion

A 19-year-old Worthington youth arrested here on a traffic charge Saturday night was held on suspicion of possession of hashish, a narcotic related to marijuana.

John Sierman was kept in the village jail until the substance found in his possession can be tested by Ohio laboratories at Fremont.

Egg roll set here Sunday in park

The fun begins Sunday at 1 p. m. in Mary State park when the annual Easter egg hunt is conducted.

Chamber of Commerce with the help of the Civitan Defense unit is sponsoring it.

Prizes will be awarded in four age groups to those finding the gold and silver eggs.

Persons wishing to donate colored eggs may leave them at The Frontier Inn, Millers Hardware and Appliances and Mack's Foodland by noon Saturday.

Kin of Sourwines wins with band

Weillington High school's band, directed by Dana Kimes, Plymouth, grandson of the Ross Sourwines, won a superior rating in the district contest and will vie at Clyde Apr. 28 in the state competition.

Lot 42 sold

Interest of E. Richard Coe in Lot 42, north side of East High street, Plymouth, Ohio, been conveyed to Virginia M. McPherson, Richland county recorder reports.

Donald Fidler, 56, stricken here, dies at Willard

A sudden attack was fatal early Friday in Willard Area hospital Donald F. Fidler, 56, 117 West High street, who died shortly after admission.

He was a machinist in the Fate-Roor-Heath Co. for many years and worked on Thursday.

Born in Huron county July 30, 1914, he was a well-known broker and competitor of coon hounds.

His wife, nee Miriam Blier, five sons, D. Eugene, Richard and Raymond, all of Plymouth; Dean, at home, and H. James, New Haven; two brothers, Anthony, Shiloh route 1, and W. Emery, Plymouth; two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Dick, Shelby rural, and Mrs. Rhea Cox, Shelby; and six grandchildren survive.

The Rev. Ronald F. Graham, First Evangelical Lutheran church, conducted services Sunday at 2 p. m. from McQuate Funeral home. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery, Cass township.

Garrett quits

William Garrett resigned, effective Thursday, as police dispatcher.

He is the son-in-law of Mrs. Roy Evans, Plymouth route 1.

OES to meet here Tuesday

Plymouth chapter, OES, will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the chapter rooms.

Members will practice for the annual chapter inspection Apr. 26.

PJVS to begin new structure

Pioneer Joint Vocational school will break ground Thursday at 9:30 a. m. for its 70,000 sq. ft., $1.5 million addition.

Along with additional regular classrooms, the addition will provide modern facilities for programs in service station operations, electro-mechanics, graphic arts, child-school health aide, skill crafts, and a new business education area.

It will also include facilities for clerical services, mechanical, and structural maintenance and a new storage area. Public is invited to attend.

Minstrel set by church group

"Ole Time Minstrel" will be presented in St. Bernard's parish hall, New Washington, Apr. 16, 17 and 18 at 8 p. m. by a cast directed by Mrs. Bernard Kaple with Robert Obinger and Russell Hepler as interlocutors.

A chorus of 42 will sing minstrel songs.

Easter even

At the beginning of the Easter Even ceremony, during the procession, an acolyte lifts the candle representing the "Light of Christ." The Rev. Ronald F. Graham directs attention to it by chanting "The Light of Christ!"

Lutherans set third Easter even rite

Third annual observance of the rites of Easter even will take place Saturday at 11 p. m. in First Evangelical Lutheran church.

The rites of Easter even are of great antiquity, reaching back to the days of the Apostles.

Beginning at sundown on Saturday, the ancient liturgy began with the lighting of lamps and proceeded to a long vigil service of scripture lessons, canticles and prayers, lasting most of the night. Before dawn the candidates prepared during Lent were baptized and confirmed, and at daybreak the whole rite concluded with the Easter eucharist.

The office to be used Saturday is an adaptation and simplification of these ancient ceremonies. It will open with the lighting of the new fire and the Paschal candle, a reminder of the old lamp-lighting ceremony. When the liturgy begins, the church is in darkness, to suggest the darkness in which, Christians believe without Jesus, man would be buried. At the back of the church a fire is kindled, from which a single great candle is lighted, representing the Lord. The column of wax with its burning wick is then carried down the aisle of the church and all the worshippers observe it. It is brought to the chancel, where it is used to light the Paschal candle. Then the acolytes light a candle progressively throughout the church. After a quiet period, all sit down to listen to the scripture readings, which alternate with chant and prayer. This is the genuine vigil style.

No instrumental music will be used. The entire service is chanted. In the Easter context, this office has gathered about itself a rich symbolism, recalling the fiery pillar by which God led the people of Israel out of bondage in Egypt into the promised land of Canaan.

Then follows the chanting of the litany, a form of liturgical prayer, consisting of a series of invocations and supplications with alternate responses in which the pastor and congregation join. The congregation will then observe a renewal of baptismal vows. Then will follow the first communion of Easter day, beginning at midnight.

Participants in the service, in addition to the pastor, the Rev. Ronald F. Graham, are Charles Willford, crucifer, Michael Redden, lighter of the new fire; Joseph Lasch, book bearer; James Cashman and Sidney Ream, lecturers; John Gullett and Daniel Baker, acolytes with candles; Gregory Ryan and Brad Buzard, acolytes with tapers; John Fidler and Todd Root, acolytes for communion.

Five (or six) before Oct. 1 - Pre-school clinic set Apr. 29 for children

A pre-school clinic will be conducted Apr. 29 in Plymouth Elementary school.

Parents of children who will enter kindergarten in September are invited to register them with the principal of the school where they reside.

These children must be five years old before Oct. 1.

Prospective first graders must be six years old before Oct. 1.

Those whose birthday anniversary falls before Jan. 1, 1972, may be admitted on approval of the Richland county school psychologist, who will administer a test upon application by the parent or guardian.

All children entering the public school must be vaccinated against poliomyelitis, diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, smallpox and measles and must submit to a tuberculin skin test.

A birth certificate or other proof of date of birth must be submitted when the child is registered. Children now enrolled in kindergarten need not be registered to attend first grade.

Gas bill to go up 15 cents

Average bill of gas company customers in Plymouth will be increased about 15 cents a month beginning Apr. 16, it is announced.

The adjustment in the gas rate -- 98 one-hundredths of a cent per 1,000 cubic feet -- is caused by increases in the cost of gas to Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., from suppliers, which are passed on to customers through provisions of the gas contract with the gas company.

The change will apply in 269 Ohio communities.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sir:
During a recent visit with my parents, I noticed the police check-in clocks' controversy . . . that is, whether the village citizens shouldn't somehow be assured of the nightly protection of their stores from armed robbery as for the satisfaction of knowing the Plymouth police staff is doing the job it is paid to do. Police Chief Meisler rejected the idea, saying "police would be sitting ducks for anyone wanting to take a shot at them, knowing they would be at a certain location, out of the cruiser."

Although I have as much respect for policemen as do any of my colleagues, I find this a very interesting excuse. I don't know how many gun shots have been directed at our police staff while on night duty in the past 10 years, nor do I know how many armed robberies there have been, but I do know the nature of this village. Surely there is a more logical reason for the police to reject this idea. Diane Ruckman graduate student, University of Florida

Pitcher puts voodoo on ball, not Haitians!

By ALUNT LIZ
Here we go again, baseball is here. Mostly on television, which makes for many happy households.

It is a great indoor sport! And gets more popular every year, according to sales figures of H. Harwood & Sons Co., which is the world's oldest manufacturer of baseballs. They have been making them 113 years.

The main factory is in Mattick, Mass. There they roll tight balls of yarn. These are then sent to another factory in Port au Prince, Haiti, where some 200 employees cut and shape the leather covers, which in turn are hand sewn on each ball. They do about 7,200 each day. That is a lot of balls for kids to either bat through some window or lose. At this rate, there should not be a window left in the whole country. The company has estimated that it takes 20 minutes to put each ball together from start to finish.

WITH ALL THE BASEBALLS there are, one would think that is all people do, but another season is also upon us now: camping.

There was a time when only the Scouts went out in the woods and slept on the ground in isolated places. People aren't so much sleeping on the ground as they are in very comfortable and even luxurious campers. Some are even nicer than houses.

There is a very sad, disturbing note to it all, though. A Swedish motion picture company has just completed a film called "Urvandram" or, in English, "The Emigrants".

It is the story of a family which came to Wisconsin and Minnesota back in the 1850's. It is from the classic book written by Vilhelm Moberg, long a favorite with Swedish readers.

If you remember your history, you will know that James J. Hill, the great railroad builder, advertised for workers in the Swedish newspapers, promising them so much land if they would come to help build the Great Northern railroad.

When the movie was being made, the company came here for six weeks to film some of the scenes, but the very last one, which shows one of the main characters discovering a beautiful clear-blue lake on which to settle, had to be filmed in Sweden.

They could not find a blessed lake in Wisconsin or Minnesota, which was untouched by people. "This has happened in my lifetime, and I am really not that old, compared to the length of written history which we know. I can remember lakes without people in Northern Minnesota which were really not too far away from towns and cities. Since everyone has joined the Weight Watchers (and it is obvious that we have not paid our dues and are not members, but should be), this recipe can simply be tucked away for the future, but it is too good to pass by... simple, too.

Start with a package of Brownie mix, and two eggs and a fourth cup of water. Then add a half cup of chopped nuts. Bake in two round pans at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Cool layers, then place on cake racks. While they are cooling more thoroughly, whip one and a half cups of cream. Gradually add a third cup of brown sugar mixed with one tablespoon of instant coffee. Fill layers with it, frost top and sides. The top may be sprinkled with chocolate shavings or shaved pieces. Chill before cutting. It is not only tasty, but a beautiful dessert.

Cadet Roof wins speech contest

Another award for skill in declamation has fallen to Cadet Maj. Thomas F. Root, 118 Plymouth street, a senior in Howe Military school, Howe, Ind.

Participating in the district Soil Conservation-Farm Bureau sponsored contest at Warsaw, Ind., Mar. 12, he won first place among 11 contestants and won a savings bond and a plaque.

He is the son of the Thomas F. Roots.

LASSO®

Another CFS-Approved Herbicide.

Now there is one basic pre-emergent herbicide for both corn and soybeans... Lasso. One application controls most grasses and broadleaf weeds. Lasso, a selective herbicide, gets the job done with or without incorporation, without crop damage, without carry-over. Wet or hardy moist, Lasso cleans up corn and soybean fields in soil types from sand to clay and does it conveniently. CFS recommends Lasso in liquid or granular form. Also, liquid Lasso can be used in label-approved combinations with other herbicides. Lasso... takes the gamble out of weed control. Order Lasso today!

What if you lost your job tomorrow?

Things may be going pretty good now. But you never know what tomorrow will bring. Suppose it's unemployment. How will you live?

What will you use to raise the family over while you look for more?

Let's hope you never have to find out. But just in case, why not start saving now, while you have a job? Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's easy. You'll build a nest egg.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 3 years, 10 months of the first year. That extra 1/2% payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970, with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

With any luck at all your emergency fund may become a vacation, a college education, or a happy retirement.

"DO NOT BEND, FOLD OR MUTILATE ME!"

"I'm not a number. I'm not a hole in a punch card. Why should I get a recorded message when I dial a number?"

We all know that technology is making our lives easier. But sometimes . . . do you also get the feeling that people are losing touch with people?

Now ask yourself a tough question: "What am I doing to reduce this feeling of 'I don't care'?" Do you care about other people as much as you might? Not just old people . . . or lonely people . . . or underprivileged people. But all people.

Just as you don't want to be a number, nobody else does either. The truth is: people need people. That means you and me, and all of us.

But "Love your neighbor as yourself" is easier said than done.

That's the reason for our little booklet called "How One Town Put Its Faith to Work." It's free. Send for it. It tells what people of goodwill can do—and did do in one town—when they put their hearts—and their backs—into it.

People need people. This booklet shows how to turn words into deeds! All in a postage stamp well-spent.
