Council to fight order to cut pay raises to 5.5% limit

Plymouth has five days to comply with the wage freeze of the federal government.

Official notification was received Tuesday morning by Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock concerning the pay hikes given Village Administrator William A. Forquer and Mrs. Quentin R. Ream, assistant to the clerk, which amount to 17.6 per cent and 21.1 per cent, respectively.

The mayor met earlier in the week with Robert Weimerskirch, Mansfield IRS office.

He told her the village could appeal the ruling if so desired, but otherwise both Forquer and Mrs. Ream would have to repay the village the difference they have received over the 5.5 per cent allowed by law. The raise for Mrs. Ream was effective Nov. 16 and that for Forquer on Dec. 1.

Newly appointed councilman Frank R. Garber and James L. Jacobs, Sr., the four other councilmembers, Bachrach, Kenneth Eichelberry and Washburn, voted together to choose Robert McKown as solicitor for a two-year period.

The mayor asked council to offer the position to Joseph F. Dush, Willard attorney, who has been the village's solicitor for 22 years. She said

Mrs. Clyde Day succumbs at 83

Mrs. Martha A. Day, 83, 95 Trux street, died Saturday in Hillside Acres Nursing home, Willard, of a lengthy illness.

Born here, she always lived here. She was the widow of Clyde Day.

A daughter, Mrs. Doretha Weirick, Mansfield; three sons, William, New Haven, Wilson, Cleveland, and George, in Florida; a sister, Mrs. Florence Carrick, Mansfield; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren survive.

The Rev. Robert Belingham, minister of First United Presbyterian church, conducted services Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. from McQuate Funeral home. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery.

Chest needs only $94.09

Plymouth Community Chest needs just $94.09 to reach its goal of $4,500, Mrs. William R. Miller, treasurer, reports.

She will receive additional contributions until Jan. 31 in hopes the goal will be reached for the first time in several years.

The board of directors met Tuesday night to allocate funds, but she will not mail checks to participating agencies for several weeks.

Three unit apartment his wide experience in municipal affairs is valuable. The village is still involved, she said, in two law suits which have been continued. The Caudill case is especially important because of the fact that McKown is a defendant in it and she does not see how he could act as the village's lawyer in it.

She also said that McKown is still on the delinquent utility list, since he still owes half of his back sewer bill. Bachrach said that he would speak to him and suggest he pay it.

Garber said that Dush has not failed to meet any of his obligations as solicitor. Jacobs said changing solicitors now is the "most foolish thing the council could do".

The mayor added that since the installation of Phase III of the sewer system could possibly cost about $200,000, Dush's experience would be invaluable, since he was experienced in the required legal work. She reminded the council that Phase III would carry a legal fee of around five to six thousand dollars with it. The fee is set by the state as a percentage of the total construction.

Committee appointments were announced by the mayor.

They are: the first-named as chairman: Safety: Jacobs and Garber

Finance: Bachrach and Jacobs

Streets and Buildings and sewers: Washburn and Ramsey

Genealogy: Ramsey and Washburn

Parks: Eichelberry and Bachrach

Utilities: Garber and Jacobs

Eichelberry raised strong objections that he was not reappointed to the safety committee, which consists of the fire and police departments and now the ambulance service added to it.

The mayor said she wished to have more harmony and Jacobs reminded him that the mayor makes the appointments.

Ordinance 15A-70 was rescinded on Eichelberry's motion. It gave appeal to the employee's cost of living allowance as determined by the federal government's index.

At a special meeting Jan. 14, 1971, the council ruled that since other employees had received a pay increase in September of 1970, the police department would be paid the allowance, which amounted to 5.6 per cent for the year.

The mayor pointed out that by rescinding it, the police are placed one pay raise behind other employees. She said that if the ordinance were kept, the cost of living allowance might be paid along with the 5.5 per cent raise allowed if the appeal of the council's Stabilization Board fails, thus giving employees about an 11 per cent raise.

Mrs. Stapf wins renomination

Appointment of Mrs. Harlow Stapf, Willard, to another term on the Huron county board of elections was recommended by Huron county Democrats' executive committee Jan. 12.

Mrs. Stapf has served two full four-year terms and part of an unexpired term, to which she was appointed in March, 1962.

The board is composed of two Republicans and two Democrats, each of whom serves a four-year term.

Rep. Betts says he'll retire—and so does Treasurer Collier!

Although he would no longer be this county's representative in Congress after Jan. 31 if he were reelected, Jackson L. Betts will not seek the office of representative in the Congress in November.

After 21 years, Betts will retire.

His district was dismembered and combined with that of Rep. William M. McCullough, head of the state's GOP house delegation.

Betts said he has wished to return to private life for some time.

Both Huron and Richland counties, part of his district, have been placed in the 17th House district, of which John M. Ashbrook is the representative.

Dr. Robert W. Wolford, incumbent Republican coroner, will be opposed by Dr. Gordon F. Morkel, a Mansfield physician for 21 years, who was his opposition on the Democratic ticket four years ago. Morkel will run as an independent.

Veteran Huron County Treasurer Harold B. Collier, 63, years old, has filed his resignation for the GOP nomination for the Jan. 3 term.

Others in the race for commissioner so far are: For the Jan. 3, 1973 term: Nick Angle, John Vanderrilt, Freeman J. Swank, Daniel J. Reese, Jr., and Roy W. Walter, all Democrats; Nominees on the Republican and Democratic tickets run on a non-partisan ballot in the November general election. GOP incumbent Leland Rutherford, Mr. Vernon, is challenged by Ralph Johns, Richland county juvenile judge.

Judge Puglisi has been on the municipal bench over 14 years. During his tenure, he has established many innovative procedures. They include probation department, adoption of the uniform traffic ticket, modern waiver and bond schedule and a defensive driver's school for rehabilitation of traffic offenders. His court has pioneered in the area of work release and incentive penalization.

Judge Puglisi was graduated from Ashland High school, Ashland college with a bachelor of arts degree, and from Franklin law college at Capital university with a juris doctorate degree. He entered private law practice in 1949. Later he was associated with Howard S. Lutz under the firm name of Lutz and Puglisi. The association had been dissolved when Puglisi became Ashland municipal court judge.

He was employed by Railway Express Agency for 25 years and later worked in the grocery business.

His opponent is 18-year-old William Kennedy, employed by Fanny Farmer Candy Shop, Inc., Norwalk.

Locke enshrined in Hall of Fame

David Ross Locke, who as Petroleum V. Nasby achieved international renown for his letters in reverse logic from Wingate's Corners, a fictitious locale in Crawford county, during the Civil war, is enshrined in the Great Ohioans Hall of Fame to be dedicated tomorrow in the new Ohio Historical center at Columbus.

He came here in 1853 with a partner, James G. Robinson, to found The Advertiser. He married a widow, Martha Bodine, here and in 1855 went to Mansfield to engage in publishing.

Thereafter he went to Bucyrus, Bellefontaine and finally Findlay, where he published the Advertiser. He now that city's morning daily newspaper.

Locke died a wealthy man (he made his money in real estate) in Toledo in 1888.

His papers for the most part reside in the Rutherford B. Hayes Memorial library at Fremont.

Locke was an early champion of rights for the Irish. After a visit there in the 1870s, he wrote a powerful indictment of the British treatment of the Irish, one that enflamed many Americans, some of them with Irish connections, in behalf of the Irish people.

Others from Richland county who are similarly enshrined are John Sherman, U. S. Senator from Mansfield who wrote the Sherman Anti-Trust law and served as Secretary of State and Secretary of the Treasury; Louis Bromfield, the novelist who was active in conservationist causes; Reolfit Brinkerhoff, a lawyer, soldier, newspaper publisher and pioneer in mental health and prison reform, and Frank P. Lahn, one of the first military aviators, who was taught to fly by the Wright brothers at Dayton.

Services were conducted by the Rev. Mrs. Nellie Sheets, pastor of Richland Church of the Brethren, from McQuate Funeral home Sunday at 2:30 p. m. for Mrs. Minnie Brown Aiken, 86, Monroe, Wash.

She died in a hospital there Jan. 11 after a brief illness.

Born Oct. 27, 1885, in Richland county, she lived in Butler and Bloominggrove townships before moving to Washington.

A sister, Mrs. Catherine Mickle, Everett, Wash., and nieces and nephews, some of whom live in Cass and Bloominggrove townships, survive.

Burial was in Adario Methodist cemetery.

Two sentenced

Two juveniles arrested here on charges of possession of marijuana and improper sex acts were sentenced by Richland County Juvenile Judge Ralph Johnson Tuesday to three years of probation, he having their previous behavior unexceptionable.

Lawyer to seek seat in Congress

Charles W. Johnson, a Mansfield attorney and businessman, is circulating petitions for candidacy for representative in the 17th Congressional district.

A Democrat, he is assistant solicitor for Mansfield and the first to announce as a Democrat for the House seat in the newly revised district.

He is a member of the Richland County Democratic central and Executive committees, the Richland County Bar Association, Alpha Chi Rho fraternity, Mansfield Chamber of Commerce, Federated Order of Police Associates and the Optimists.

He earned a B.A. Degree in history from Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., and holds a juris doctor degree from Case-Western Reserve university law school, Cleveland, where he graduated in 1951. He is a veteran of World War II and served in the European Theatre of Operations.

A resident of Mansfield since 1953, he lives with his wife, Mary, and their daughter, Ella Jean, 14.

Ontario ousts Big Red from shot at JAC crown

Plymouth lost whatever chance it had at a share of the 1972 Johnny Appleseed conference title at Ontario Saturday night in a 79 to 76 defeat at the hands of the Warriors.

The Big Red had lost two games prior to Saturday's contest and had only an outside chance to share the lead. To do so it would have had to down unbeaten Lexington, here on Jan. 29, and defeat Ontario twice, meanwhile hoping for Ontario to edge the Minutemen in their second outing.

But it was not to be. The two teams matched shots for 16 minutes, each scoring 13 in the first period and 22 in the second period.

PLYMOUTH NEVER led in the second half. It played catch-up basketball throughout. Catch up it almost did. Four times in the final period it came to within a point of the Warriors.

With nine seconds left, Lee Wilkins dumped one from under the bucket, cutting the lead to one at 77 to 76. But Plymouth could not obtain possession. John Conley fouled Randy Gates with one second left and Gates calmly stepped to the line on the one-and-one situation and converted both.

Plymouth was dead. When Ontario has been beaten this season, it was beaten for the most part because its opponent employed the fast break. Save for two assaults on the Warrior basket, Plymouth did not do so Saturday night.

Wilkins outscored his rangy opponent, Roger Ash, 23 to 20. Ash fouled out with less than a minute to play.

GATES CONTRIBUTED 20 for the Warriors, Rex Linkenbach 19, Ron Chilcote 11.

The Warriors shot exceptionally well from the field with 29 successes in 59 tries. They had 34 free throws and made 21 of them.

Plymouth outbounced Ontario, 38 to 30.

The Big Red shot for field goal 68 times and made 31 of them. Its free throw record was 14 of 20.

Larry Taylor again led Red scorers with 24. Brad Ream was the only other Plymouth player besides Wilkins to reach double figures. He had 12.

Six straight at home — Plymouth whips Bulldogs by leading throughout Plymouth walked over Crestline in a Johnny Apple seed conference game here Friday, 66 to 55. It was an easy victory for the Big Red in a dull contest devoid of interest after the first minute, when Plymouth took a lead that it soon enhanced to 16 to 2.

Eight Plymouth players broke into the scoring column in this one, a record for this season for Coach Bryan Neff's charges. Larry Taylor led with 17, John Conley, heretofore a scoring disappointment by comparison with last season's record, collected 16 and Bill Van Wagner had 13.

Plymouth led by 12 after eight minutes and by 13 at the half.

The Big Red was outscored by the Bulldogs in the last half, 35 to 33.

But the damage had been done and only the blindest loyalty to the home team could convince Plymouth fans that this, indeed, was basketball.

Plymouth outbounced the visitors, 47 to 40, Lee Wilkins taking down 11 defensive and five offensive caroms for 16 to lead both teams. Bob Schwam of the Bulldogs had 14.

CRESTLINE TURNED the ball over without a shot on 23 occasions, Plymouth on 16.

Plymouth converted 29 of 74 tries for field goal, eight of 17 free throws. Crestline, meanwhile, made 20 of 64 field goal shots and 15 of 27 free throws.

It is always dull to watch one team play catch-up basketball. It is especially dull when its opponent does nothing important to prevent it.

Jerry Blum with 18 points led all scorers.

Now's time to start thinking of flowers!

By AUNT LIZ
It's that time of the year again.

Gardeners are glued to their chairs going through seed catalogues making earth-shaking decisions of what they will plant when spring gets here. Flowers have been around a long time. Probably longer than people. They have always had a fascination. Today it may differ; gardeners are more interested in keeping a healthy plant going and admiring its blooms. Maybe it's because there are so many other things to think about.

When the world was a little younger and there was no radio, no television nor a mean newspaper to read, people had to think up something to keep themselves amused. That is really the good thing about us human beings, always thinking up something. May the good Lord really help us when people stop dreaming up such little activities.

Add one other ingredient which has always existed -- love (we do not use the word sex in a family newspaper). Flowers naturally became associated with it.

You know about the wonderful legends of the rose, starting back with the beautiful words of the Bible. The medieval knights who were the gladiator boys of their time wore roses attached to their armor as emblems of having the love of a pretty maiden. The Cherokee braves gathered wild white roses for their gals, which they wove into braids to ensure eternal love.

We all know the wonderful story of how Cleopatra carpeted the floor of her palace 20 inches deep with rose petals, through which poor Anthony had to wade to reach her bower.

Can't you just see him in his Roman toga with probably loose fitting sandals that maybe didn't quite stay on his feet?

Special meanings were given to various flowers and to their colors.

It really started in China and Japan and slowly spread westward until our civilization gained the knowledge from Persia. With great imagination, each little blossom sent its own message; a gardenia means "I love you in secret", the lilac said, "Do you still love me?" and a Parma violet made the flat statement of "Let me love you."

THE VARIOUS COLORS had their meanings: red for true love (we also do not use such words as passion, but that is the really right word and meaning); white, of course, was for purity, and poor yellow -- it was picked upon -- had horrible meanings. Yellow carnations meant disdain; yellow pinks, rejection; and yellow roses, infidelity and jealousy. Should anyone want to send me a large bouquet of yellow roses, I would consider it a very nice thing, since they are so beautiful, and I know everyone else would, too. Some yellow flowers, however, like the wild mullein, were used to make love potions, of which a few drops would make young men and young ladies fall into each other's arms.

Don't laugh. We do the same thing today a bit differently, but we do it. The boys spend hours combing their hair and choosing clothes to make themselves attractive and the gals become little masterpieces with eyeliner. These do credit to their artistic ability. Has everyone tried to put the stuff on? It takes real skill. It would really be easier, I think, to just drink a few drops of something which is supposed to do the trick than to have to go through the great routines we have today. And since it takes us so long to try to make ourselves presentable - and it can be an absolutely losing battle - there isn't much time for other things... like cooking. This is a really quick main dish. Open a can of baked beans, whatever size you need. Cut up enough wieners in about two-or three-inch pieces, combine them with honey, two teaspoons for a small can of beans, more if you use a larger one, and a teaspoon of prepared mustard and a half teaspoon of grated orange rind. Heat with a little stirring, and that is it.

Gardeners told how to make plant food

Eleven members named their favorite house plant when Shiloh Town & Country Garden club met Jan. 10 at the home of Mrs. John Bernhart.

During the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Ethel Steepie, members discussed flowers for a club project but decided to wait until next month to make a choice.

Mrs. Bernhart gave the Kingwood report.

Mrs. Robert Forsythe, topic leader, discussed care and feeding of house plants. She spoke about many types of house plants in the foliage and flowering categories. She said there are many commercial plant foods that may be purchased. A plant food that can be made for use consists of 1 1/2 teaspoons of soluble fertilizer analysis 20-20-20, dissolved in one gallon of water. Another is one tablespoon 8-12-4, in one gallon of water.

February meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Alvin Garrett.

Mrs. Josephine Daup, who has been confined to Dunlap hospital, Orrville, for the past six weeks, is showing some improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kruse, Los Angeles, Cal., became parents Jan. 13 of a six pound, 12 ounce son, Byron Grant. The Joseph McQuates, Atlanta, Ga., are the grandparents. Mrs. C. H. McQuate is the great-grandmother.

Loyal Daughters will meet tomorrow at 8 p. m. with Mrs. N. N. Ruckman.

Newly elected councilmen will be installed at the 10:45 a. m. service Sunday in Mr. Hope Lutheran church.

At Wednesday's meeting of Angelus Chapter, OES, there will be a Robert Morris memorial service. He founded the OES. It will be obligation night.

A family reunion of sisters and a brother took place Jan. 11 at the David

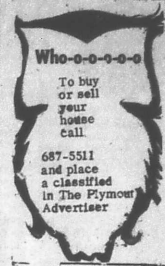

Dick home. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner, Van Buren; T. W. Harvey, Greenwich, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cuppy and Mrs. Grace Barnard were present.

Mrs. Ina Boyce spent three days last week in Hayesville at the home of her grandson Jesse H. Harman, returning home Sunday.

Looking for a tailor who'll suit you?

Before I joined the Payroll Savings Plan all I could save was string.

When it comes to saving money, most of us can use all the help we can get.

Joining the Payroll Savings Plan is one easy way to force yourself to save. When you sign up, an amount you specify is set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's automatic. Everything is done for you.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5 1/2% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra 1/2%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970.

with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Stick with the plan and before you know it you'll have a bankroll waiting. That's when you'll find you can do a lot more with money than you can with string.

Bonds are sold in $10, $20, $50, or $100 denominations. They are sold at a discount to their face value. They must be held to maturity. See your nearest post office for more information.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.
