

Red upsets Crestview in JAC play, 71 to 67

Sensational 90 per cent shooting accuracy and smart floor play in the final period led Plymouth to 71 to 67 upset of Crestview in Johnny Appleseed conference basketball here Tuesday night.

It was a make-up game, the first Plymouth has played on other than a Friday or Saturday in eight seasons.

Ray Hughes sank two free throws with 4:38 on the clock to establish a 58 to 56 lead that Plymouth never gave up.

Ralph Nolle's only field goal of the night, off the end line at 3:44 gave the Big Red a five point lead and it matched the Cougar shot for shot thereafter to preserve its advantage.

WITH 52 SECONDS left, Hughes drove in for lay up off the weave and was fouled by Tom Tule. He calmly converted the free throw for a three-point play and Plymouth led by six.

When Ken Bise threw one home at 40 seconds, Plymouth stalled and that was it.

Earlier in the game, notably in the first period, the Big Red was tight and committed countless errors, both of technique and judgment.

The name of the game is to shoot accurately and to move well without the ball, on offense, and to defend sensibly.

Coach Bryan Neff was patient with his players in this one, went to his bench with some surprise choices late in the game, switched defenders on Terry Newman, the Cougar gunner who scored 26 points, and it paid off.

When Joe Lasch tallied Newman, he was shut off.

EARLIER, NEWMAN kept Crestview in the contest with six straight baskets, all that Crestview scored from 1:32 of the third period to 5:57 of the fourth.

Plymouth led by a single point at the half, thanks to poor choice of shots by the Cougars.

In fact, Crestview's shooting percentage on its home floor was strangely weak this night - only 38 plus per cent.

That kind of shooting with strong rebounding and low turnovers would have produced a victory for any JAC quintet.

But it was not to be. FOR PLYMOUTH outrebounded the taller Cougars, 34 to 25. Laach taking down 12 and McPherson 11.

These two and the redoubtable Hughes kept Plymouth cruising when the hour seemed darkest.

McPherson finally found his shooting eye -- indeed, the whole Big Red offense was successful. With exactly half of its tries for field goal -- and scored 25, three less than Hughes, who drew an exceptional number of foul shots.

Plymouth converted 15 of 22 of these and that was the difference, because Crestview cranked the Red from the field, 29 to 28.

The victory in the 10th game gave Plymouth hopes for a better record in the last half of the season, although it faces powerful, conference-leading Ontario here tomorrow. Ontario's coaching staff scouted Plymouth thoroughly Tuesday night.

Vegetable crop ranks first in Huron county income

What's the most important cash crop in Huron county? Soy beans? Wrong!

It's vegetables.

This highly productive muck area in Richmond and New Haven townships in 1971 produced cash crops that sold for 23 per cent of the total of $23.515 million paid for the country's agricultural produce during 1971.

Soy beans rate second, with 22 per cent. Corn is third, with 14 per cent and dairy products fourth, with 12 per cent.

Cattle sales ranked fifth in value with eight per cent, hogs sixth with seven per cent, wheat seventh with four per cent and poultry and poultry products eighth with two per cent. Poultry products category includes broilers, farm chickens, chicken eggs and turkeys.

Vegetable products grown in Huron county in 1971 sold for $5.837 million.

Soy bean sales amounted to $5.215 million.

Butler chief man of year for police

Butler's police chief, Fred W. Horn, was chosen "police chief of the year" by the Village Police Chiefs association in annual banquet here Saturday night.

Capt. Phillip Storz, Butler; Capt. William Kochar, Lexington, and Patrolmen Lester Albertson and Robert Gury, Loudonville, were honored for service as outstanding officers.

Capt. James J. Fullenkamp, commanding District 2, state highway patrol, Bucyrus, urged policemen to measure up to professional standards.

Horn said he learns to take criticism, he said, and heed it to upgrade their profession.

Woman seeks to be trustee

A woman will seek election as trustee of Plymouth township in November, the first time in history any female has sought that office.

She is Miss Rosemarie McLaughlin, Shelby route 3, employed as a reporter by the Shelby newspaper.

She is circulating a nominating petition now.

Hemer chosen by commission

Veteran Huron County Commissioner Arthur F. Herner will serve as chairman of the board this year.

He succeeds Maurice Smith, New London Democrat.

20% electric rate increase to take effect next month

Electric rates will go up by 20 per cent with the February billings.

This is the first raise of rates since July 1, when the Board of Public Affairs approved the rate schedule prepared by its consultant, J. S. Sawvel, Findlay.

At that time the residential rates were reduced 15 per cent and business rates increased 4.8 per cent, paralleling rates then charged by the private power companies.

Since 1970 the village has been paying almost $1,000 a month more for current power from Ohio Power Co. because of the fuel clause in its contract. The company's rate remains the same in the 10-year contract which expires at the halfway point now, but the fuel clause states that as the company's costs increase, that increase is then passed on to the user.

The company says its costs have increased in the last few years because of the federal government's environmental protection policies.

Councilman Donald E. Akers said the council "didn't have much choice and cost we continue to operate the distribution system at a loss, the users will be unhappy. I think I'll go away on a vacation."

At the request of the cemetery board, the council raised the fee for opening and closing graves of non-residents from $65 to $75.

Foundations for markers are also increased from $2.50 a cubic foot to $3.00.

The increases are effective Feb. 1.

Request of Police Chief Robert L. Meiser that the village apply with other communities in Richland county for new radio equipment, which will cost the village about $600. The village pays 25 per cent of the total cost.

The new units will include two mobile units and two walkie talkies to update Plymouth's police radio system, which is fast becoming obsolete.

He also reported members of his department who have not had police training courses will begin them shortly.

Councilman James L. Jacobs, Sr., reported that the large water tanker has been welded and is in good order.

The council agreed the second revenue sharing check in amount of $4,366 should be used to pay off the village's loan of $2,500, to avoid unnecessary interest charges. The remainder of the check will remain in a special fund. The first check of $4,628 has been invested in a time deposit.

Councilmen Frank R. Garber and Donald Akers said the charge to minimum water users in comparison with heavier users is not equitable and the rates should be investigated.

Garber also asked why one of the water lines in West Broadway breaks so often.

Supt. Thomas Baker hinted the manner of installation in 1958. He said there are approximately 25 repair clamps in it. Garber asked that a recommendation be made to remove them.

Baker said a booster pump creates a problem because of its age and suggested a new one be purchased, the present one to be a spare.

The council approved an ordinance prepared by the Department of Highways which will require the village to pay $20 as its share in the painting of 905 feet of the guard rail in Route 98 which is within the village.

Resolutions were requested by Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock to request the Huron and Richland county commissioners for financial aid in street work this year. She said that if the streets are torn up with the sewer installation, this would be a good time to execute a sound street program.

Madam Legislator

Another first for Plymouth! For the first time since it was founded in 1815, the village is represented in the General Assembly exclusively by women.

Mrs. M. Joan Douglass was sworn as 61st district representative by Ohio Chief Justice C. William O'Neil, the only person to serve as House speaker, governor and chief justice.

found it difficult to maintain residence in Plymouth school district, as required by law. Since he intends to enter graduate school at Bowling Green, the new demands on his time would have made the retention of residence impossible.

Mrs. Pugh's choice was "obvious" a member of the board who wished not to be identified, told The Advertiser.

"She said she wanted the job when she filed her petition," he said, "and she ran an honest race and was defeated, which is no crime. Now that there is a vacancy it's better, I think, to appoint somebody who openly sought the job and wanted to serve - she showed it by attending some meetings of the board - than to choose someone from the power structure to satisfy some real or imagined pressures."

Mrs. Pugh's appointment will be made of record when the board meets in formal session Feb. 12.

Mrs. Pugh to get post left by Rook

Mrs. Annabell M. Pugh, Shelby route 1, the unsuccessful candidate for member of Plymouth Board of Education in November, 1971, will be appointed by the board to complete the unexpired term of Timothy L. Rook, who resigned effective Jan. 1 for "personal reasons."

What these reasons were became increasingly apparent of late. Young Rook was so involved with his education at Heidelberg college in Tiffin that he Remember when skating was enough for 'teens'?

By AUNT LIZ
For years I have felt a real sympathy for this part of Ohio. There is hardly any snow, and the winters are too mild for real ice skating.

Having lived most of my life in Minnesota, where the average winter temperature hovers around zero most of the time, we had all this good wintry weather.

We lived a few blocks from Macalester college, where former and now Senator Humphrey taught classes. The small Presbyterian college will be here for a long while, and it is heavily endowed by Readers' Digest -- Mrs. Wallace, the wife of the editor, is the daughter of a past president of the college, so they have millions to exist on. Every winter, the college flooded its football field for a neighborhood skating rink. You had to pay or buy a season ticket, which then was only a few dollars, but they had a warming house where you could put your skates on. Back in the thirties it was the dating place of the neighborhood.

Back then the boys had no money for dates. Nor did the girls, to finance a night out like they do today. Everyone went on his own -- bunches of gals and bunches of guys, and after you got your skates on, and started out on the ice, the boys would come up and ask you to skate with them to a record. They had a good sound deal with the then popular records, like "Winter Wonderland."

The whole thing was fun. When it was time to go home, the guys went their way, and we would end up at someone's house for hot chocolate. Perhaps this sounds a bit old-fashioned now, but at the time it never occurred to our parents that we were not having a good time.

AND WHAT DO WE have today? Parents furnishing cars so there is a great deal of "backseat-ting". They are asking for it. When their children come up pregnant, who should be blamed? For this, I have no sympathy. It is great to have children, but since we live within social customs, they should be born within those customs. It is changing, that I realize, but think of what the poor child must go through in school with his or her contemporaries? It is not pleasant. And it will take a number of years to change the average thinking of the whole population.

As ordinary people, we all have an interest in such problems. How many of these people are seeking monetary aid from federal or state funds? Why should we as taxpayers (and this time of the year, I become very conscious of what we pay) have to contribute for a "night out"? To me, it is enough to take care of our own.

As an individual, I blame our churches and schools. They both feel they must take over the complete life of everyone because they are very aware that there has been a complete failure among people. They are right on that score, but somehow they are not doing the job. There is no real leadership nor understanding. They are always too late.

This sounds as though everyone is bad. Everyone is not. Just a few who live among us are. But we all must pay for them. That is not fair, really.

Old as I am, it is hard for me to even think that people my own age would indulge in complete shadiness, like a middle aged person being a pusher -- and only for the money that is gained. This is sad and should make everyone think twice.

What we need is a magic wand to somehow turn all of us into the good people we like to think we are, but are not.

ONE WAY TO BE GOOD is to brew up something quite tasty. This will go a long way for nice hot sandwiches on a wintry night. Economical, too, since it came from our Simmer a four pound chuck roast with a large chopped onion, a half cup of diced celery, two tablespoons vinegar and a couple beef cubes.

When it is well cooked, take it out and shred the meat. Mix it all with two tablespoons of brown sugar, a cup and a half of catsup, three teaspoons of Worcestershire sauce, a teaspoon of chili powder, a cup and a half of water and a teaspoon of lemon juice. In between salt and pepper it all. This makes a good deal of barbecued beef, and it can be put in containers and frozen very well. It is really good, but you can vary the flavoring a little to suit your own family.

Bird census shows 34 species hereabouts

Annual Audubon bird count taken Jan. 1 showed 1,708 individuals of 34 species, the report filed by Vance Snyder, Shelby, shows.

These include 12 ruddy ducks, one sharp-shinned hawk, 10 red-tailed hawks, one marsh hawk, 10 sparrow hawks, 15 bobwhites, 169 mourning doves, two yellow-shafted flickers;

Also, one pileated woodpecker, four red-bellied woodpeckers, four red-headed woodpeckers, one hairy woodpecker, eight downy woodpeckers, 16 horned larks, 10 blue jays, 41 common crows, three titmouses, six white-breasted nuthatches, one red-breasted nuthatch.

Also, three robins, two Eastern bluebirds, 927 starlings, one myrtle warbler, 305 house sparrows, six Eastern meadowlarks, five redwinged blackbirds, two brown-headed cowbirds, 21 cardinals, one purple finch, 24 American goldfinches, 24 slate-colored juncos, 52 tree sparrows, three swamp sparrows and 19 song sparrows.

Fairfield, also made the census.

Freddies break tie to win in IAC, 64-57

Plymouth made more mistakes than did Fredericktown in the final period here Saturday and was defeated, 64 to 57. The Johnny Appleseed conference game awaited at 4:45 going into the last eight minutes.

The issue hung in the balance until the clock read 6:42. Steve Doyle canned a shot and was fouled by Ralph Noble. The doughy Freddie star, who led all scorers with 25, missed the free throw but the lead was established and Fredericktown did not thereafter face difficulty.

TWO FREE THROWS BY Craig McPherson closed the gap to two points with 2:10 on the clock but Tim Scarborough bagged a trash shot and it was all over.

Ray Hughes got into foul trouble in the first half and sat out most of the fourth period and all of the third.

Chuck Willford came through with his best scoring performance with a 22-point output, all of it on field goals.

Scarborough collected 20 for the Freddies. Bill Levering had 10, the only other visitor in double figures.

McPherson wound up with 16 for the Red, which converted 25 of 61 tries for field goal and seven of nine penalty shots. Plymouth was charged with 13 turnovers and credited with 30 rebounds, 11 of them by McPherson. The Freddies were 26-for-60 and 12-for-17, with 14 turnovers and 27 rebounds.

Determination

Red leads throughout to nip Crestline

Plymouth outscored Crestline during only one period on the Bulldogs' fine new floor Friday night but it was enough to win a Johnny Appleseed conference game, 57 to 54.

For the Big Red it was only the second victory of the season -- the other also came in league play -- and at what was supposed to be the ninth game of the schedule Plymouth has a dismal record to show for it.

Plymouth led by plenty after eight minutes and by 12 points at the midway point.

IT WAS HERE the Bulldogs began to chip away. Mike Miller, a splendid big sophomore, and Tim Glauer fired away with some consistency and with 1:18 on the clock it was 54 to 51. Craig McPherson went to the foul line for two free throws. He canned the first one and missed the second, but snatched the rebound and sent it into the hoop. This three pointer broke Crestline and Miller's last ditch rebound shot that went in was no threat to Plymouth.

Ray Hughes collected 21 to lead all scorers. McPherson had a dozen and Chuck Willford and Ralph Noble 10 apiece. Joe Lasch, the fifth starter, fouled out toward the end of the third period. McPherson and Noble were in foul trouble immediately after the fourth quarter began.

PLYMOUTH SHOT extremely well, converting 27 of 60 tries for field goal. It did much less at the penalty line, where it converted only three of 10 tries.

Crestline was 23-of-73 and eight-of-18.

Colt loop entry seeks players

Plymouth will enter a team in the Ashland Colt league for summer baseball play.

Rules allow three 17-year-olds, who've already been recruited. These are Larry Brown, Ralph Noble and Rich Scott. There is room for five 16-year-olds and seven 15-year-olds. Boys wishing to compete for places may obtain application blanks from Manager Kenneth Hall, 91 Walnut street. They must be resident in Plymouth Local School district.

The Case of the Shocking Carpet.

"There was something strange about that house. The thermostat registered normal, but everyone felt chilly. Furniture creaked. House plants drooped. A thin film of dust covered everything, even with daily dusting. Rufus, the family dog, was nervous and whiney. And crackling jolts of static electricity leaped from door knobs and light switches to shock unsuspecting victims."

THE MAN BEHIND SUNSHINE'S MOTOR SALES

Born Dec. 8, 1940, deep in the hills of Eastern Kentucky, I was the second child out of a family of seven, and the first to be born in a hospital which was at Paintsville, Ky. I then returned to my home which at the time was a three room Log Cabin, located in Rock Fork, Ky., close to the line where Floyd and Knott county meet. The things I remember most about this home was the old fireplace which by the way was our only source of heat, and drawing water with a bucket and chain out of the old well. When evening came all the older folks gathered on the front porch to talk, and as I remember, it was often talk about the war.

As I became older, then, of course it came time for me to go to school. The picture at left is one taken of me in the first grade. The things I remember most about my first years in school were the three mile walks to school, and then the three miles back home at night. I then went to Rock Fork Elementary School. Yes, and I do remember the occasional nickel I got to buy some candy at the little country store along the way. Then I remember we moved to Breathitt Co., Ky., where there was a little coal mining community named Evanston. Incidentally, my father was a coal miner for 28 years. That's why we moved. They had just opened a new mine there and he got a job working in it. The thing I remember most about my earlier school days, there was the walk out of the hollow we lived in which was a mile or better and crossing over the creek on one log.

Then, as you can see in the picture, transportation was a little better at times. My brother Chester and sister Lola and myself in the middle are aboard our loved horse Old Bill. Standing close by was my father, Andy Inmon, and across the way my mother, Zora Inmon. You know, it's no wonder I sell cars after transportation like that. It's easy to see why I want everyone to own a car.

In this picture I was learning how to enjoy my little cane bottom chair. After all, I had probably had a hard day playing hop-scotch in the front yard, which by the way never had grass on it from too many little bare feet stomping on it. Or I could have been out back trying to climb a pop-paw tree for another pop-paw or I could have been chasing the chickens around the yard, or maybe even swinging on the old apple tree in the front yard. But anyway, I was relaxing in my little chair alongside my sister, Lola, which is something I remember the folks used to do in those parts a lot. Something that maybe a lot of us should do now. Relax and get a little more out of life.

2ND ANNIVERSARY SALE

Jan. 22nd is our second anniversary and we're celebrating it with a one month anniversary sale to Feb. 22. Anyone that test drives one of our cars will receive $1 for just driving it. Prices will be unbelievable, and we'll have refreshments, rolls and a door prize on the 22nd!

Rt. 224 at Myrtle, Willard, O.

As you can see in the picture to the right, I was still in my little coveralls when I was introduced to my first set of wheels. I don't really remember how I got the little tricycle but I can't help but think someone must have given it to us because I do remember that in my older days I used to have to stand around for maybe an hour before I could beg someone to let me ride their bicycle, because Dad could never afford to buy one for us.

He always kept us in plenty of food to eat and a place to stay, but in a family of seven children there wasn't money for a lot of extras. You know when I mentioned food that brought back some memories unlike today. I used to know most of my food pretty well, before I ate it. We used to kill most all our meats. I usually got the chance to feed it, kill it, help slice it and then watch it either in the smoke house or hanging on the back porch.

Most of the vegetables I got to help plant, then help hoe, like corn, beans, and others, and then I watched them can it.

And the milk, I usually got to go on the hill to find the cow and then on cold mornings hold its tail in order to prevent it from swapping my Mom while she was milking. Yes, I'd say I know my food pretty well.

My First Wheels

10 Years old. Notice the haircut. It only cost 50¢ but didn't take the barber very long to cut.

In this picture I was about 10 years old and the memories I cherish most about this age was getting to go to young peoples meetings. Young peoples meetings were held every Friday night by a wonderful and dedicated missionary named Margaret Paul. She used to come every Friday night in her old station wagon, blow her horn on the way up the hollow, and then pick us up on the way back down.

She took us to the church down the hollow a ways and then she would teach us from the Bible and after our lesson we would all go downstairs in the basement and play games together, and sometimes have a little snack. I even tell her today that one of the things I liked most was the turkey salad sandwiches we used to have every Thanksgiving.

It might not sound like much fun, but it was. And as I think back I thank God for people like Margaret Paul. It might have been all the entertainments we had available at that time, but I don't think that even today it can be best.

Taken first year of High School

The picture at the right was one taken when I was a freshman in high school. I went to Breathitt Co., High school in Jackson, Ky. I remember the trip there, too. Yes, I used to get up and leave before daylight and get home many nights at dark.

I went to a county wide school and I lived right close to the county line. It was 50 miles to school and if you counted going up at couple hollows, probably more. And most of that was gravel road. It was on this trip of 100 miles a day that I really got experience in reading. As a matter of fact, I began to love to read. I used to check a library book out of the county library on Friday evening, and Saturday if I didn't have to hoe corn, I would lie by my bedroom window and read.

I say by the window, because this was the light I used for I don't remember having a light in that room. I would lay there and read a book completely through in a day. You might think that I didn't enjoy school much by having to stay so long, going and coming, but I did like it and very much. I think even for more reasons than just getting me out of feeding the hogs and hoeing the corn.

This picture was taken when I graduated from high school as the youngest one or boy in my class. I graduated from South Central High School in Greenwiche, Ohio, where we had moved after the coal mine closed down where my dad worked. I graduated in the top half of my class and after graduation I went to work in a little plastic factory making $42 a week, and at night went to a business college in Ashland. I worked during the day and went to college at night until about October of my third year at college. Because I didn't go full time I had to go to active duty in the Army.

After returning I got a job as a car salesman and sold for one dealer in Mansfield for three years, then in Norwalk for one year, and then I wanted a lot of my own close to home, which had been Willard for the last four years. Of course you know the rest.

We are celebrating our first year in business now, which was a good one. It is at this time the "Sunshine" Family, wife Kathy, two daughters, Jill and Lora, and myself say, "Thank God and our many friends and customers for a great year!"

We Feel That A Car Deal is only as good as the man behind it.

ORDINANCE NO. 16-72P
AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNCIL, VILLAGE OF PLYMOUTH, OHIO, AUTHORIZING THE CLERK TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS FOR A NEW POLICE CRUISER, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

SECTION 1: The Clerk shall be and is hereby authorized to advertise for bids by parties interested in selling a new police cruiser equipped with the regular police package of the Village of Plymouth, Ohio. The police cruiser shall have the following minimum specifications:

Model: 1973
Style: Four Door Sedan
Color: Black and White
Engine: Eight Cylinder;
400 to 428 Cubic Inches
Transmission: Automatic

Rear End: Positraction or Equilok or Equivalent
Battery: Heavy Duty
Alternator: 70 Amp
Tires: Five each, H78 x 15, Belted Radial
Brakes: Power Disc
Miscellaneous: Heavy Duty shocks and springs; Front and rear end stabilizers; Spot light mounted on left side; Protective screen mounted between front and rear seats; Power steering, heater and defroster; Door locks with central control; Vinyl seats and interior; Red lights, siren, gunlock and radio to be installed by dealer, but will be supplied by Village and delivered to dealer for installation.

SECTION 2: An Eight (8) cylinder, 1967 Chevrolet, two door Bi-s. ayne, owned by the Village shall be traded upon the new vehicle specified in Section 1; and the amount received for said trade-in shall be deducted from the overall delivery price of said new vehicle. The amount allowed for said trade-in shall be set forth as a separate item on each bid.

SECTION 3: The Village reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

SECTION 4: This ordinance is an emergency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, welfare and safety and shall go into immediate effect, the reason for this emergency being that a new police cruiser is necessary to protect the lives and health of the people of the Village.

Passed this 19th day of December, 1972.
