

Here was start of tornado's havoc . . .

and here it went in seconds . . .

past this spot to further destruction

Twister set down just west of this house at Routes 103 and 224 in southwest Willard and rampaged on both sides of Route 224 for about a mile. This photograph was taken Friday morning, before National Guardsmen allowed free transit of Route 224.

A monstrous tornado struck New Haven township Thursday, leaving in its wake three known dead, about 105 injured and damages estimated "in the millions."

The tornado struck about 6:03 p. m. at the southwest edge of Willard and swept along Route 224 until it veered across the highway, over the building and parking lot of R. R. Donnelley & Sons Co., east along Neal Zick road, thence slightly southeast across Route 598 and on into northern Richland county.

An estimated 350 persons, most of them occupants of house trailers in three trailer courts clustered about the intersection of Routes 99 and 224 were left homeless.

In one trailer court, Briarwood Estates, only one of the estimated 81 trailers standing there was left intact.

One of the dead is Mrs. Ethel Strauss, 76, formerly of Plymouth, who was an occupant of a trailer.

Another is a two-year-old boy who was struck by falling debris in the basement of a house in South Main street. He is Willis

All that was left of Buckingham Farm Equipment, an established business in the south side of Route 224 and the first large one east of the Myrtle avenue intersection.

A Plymouth High school pupil is the winner of the PPG Industries Foundation plant community scholarship for 1973.

He is Willis R. Castle, son of the Willis R. Castles, Plymouth route 1, whose scholarship award was announced Thursday by K. A. Gibson, plant manager, PPG Works No. 26, Crestline.

He was selected by a three-member scholarship committee of prominent educators from among seven finalists who were interviewed for the scholarship in February.

He will receive a four-year scholarship valued at from $250 to $1,500 a year at an accredited college in the United States. He has opted for the University of Dayton, where he will study computer science.

Two Shiloh Junior High school pupils, Steven Shuffy, an eighth grader, and Jennifer Kramz, a seventh grader, made a 4.0 grade-point average during the fifth six-week period ending May 7. Principal Edward M. Kinsel announces.

Eighteen pupils were named to the honor roll (3.5 and above) and 47 to the merit roll (3.0 to 3.49).

Honor roll pupils are Michael Baker, John Bailey, James Cunningham, Robert Davis, Lonette Stevens, William Suter, Douglas Tallman and Jill Von Stein, eighth graders;

William Hills, who died in the arms of David Hirschy, Willard Junior High school's principal. To prevent looting -- and although there were numerous reports that looting prevailed, none of these could be absolutely verified -- National Guardsmen and police from about 20 jurisdictions were stationed in the area roughly extending Route 224 and extending eastward to include the Donnelley property and Neal Zick road east to Route 598.

The Carnahan house at Routes 103 and 224 appeared to be the first struck by the tornado, which then swept eastward along the north side of Route 224 and removed the roof of Holland Market, taking some of its walls and strewn merchandise, then plowing onward to Lee's Drive-In and Exter Bros. Tire service but remarkably leaving more or less intact Schaffer Motor Sales and Willard Beverage Drive-In, at the northwest corner of Myrtle avenue and Route 224, and the service stations and restaurant and motel across the street, still in the north side of Route 224. It then roared down Neal Zick road and tore apart two houses and a trailer in Route 598 north of New Haven.

In the south side of Route 224, beginning from Willard airport, nothing was left standing.

Sunshine's Motor Sales building and automobiles, Buckingham's Farm Equipment, Cy Reed's Ford-Mercury Sales and Mastron's Buick-Pontiac Sales buildings and rolling stock were destroyed.

The house in the curve at the foot of Route 99 was split as though Paul Bunyan had brought his fabled axe to Huron county.

In the PATH OF THE twister were about 175 trailers. Fewer than 10 per cent remained when the terrible wind had spent itself.

Electric power was terminated at 6:05 p. m. and remained out until varying hours, generally after 10:45 p. m. Telephone service was interrupted until party connections were restored after 10 p. m.

The parking lot of the Donnelley printing plant resembled nothing so much as a page from some science-fiction piece, as though a giant dinosaur in high anger had stamped on every car parked there.

Sixty-five persons were treated in Willard Area hospital. Twenty-two of them were admitted. Five were taken to Fisher-Titus Memorial, Norwalk; two to Mansfield General hospital and four to Shelby Memorial hospital.

Red Cross rescue headquarters were established but few of the beds were occupied. Signs were that others more fortunate had provided housing for the homeless.

DAMAGE WAS ESTIMATED by Gary Manager Michael G. Orenic, Jr., at "over $5 million." He said $2 million of it was caused to R. R. Donnelley & Sons Co., where much of a roof was blown away.

Other damage estimates included $250,000 to Triangles motel, $200,000 to Cy Reed's Ford-Mercury sales, $200,000 to Mastron's Buick-Pontiac, $400,000 to Coble Village mobile home park, $51,000 to Willard Mobile Home park.

Willis Castle wins prize

Young Castle is a member of the National Honor society and was Buckeye Boys State delegate in 1972. As an 11th grader, he was outstanding pupil of the school in foreign languages and physics.

He was the highest scorer in the American Legion Americanism in Government contest and he won this year the Veterans of Foreign Wars "Voice of Democracy" contest. His classmates have voted him best student of the Class of 1973. He ranks second in a class of 109 graduates.

Other finalists in the competition were Eric Christenson, Gallion; Timothy Guenther, Diana Mollit and Linda Tucker, Shelby; Carol Kepler, Bucyrus; and Arthur Stormer, Nevada.

Two make 4.0 at SJHS

Also, Elaine Burton, Arthur Edgson, Maureen Flora, Jamie Jacobs, Jennifer Evans, Amy Postema, Karen Reber, Lisa Robinson, Dianna Russell, Connie Steele and Deborah Wright, seventh graders.

Merit roll grades went to John Adams, Gloria Bailey, Brenda Baugh, Cheryl Bernhard, Brenda Burkey, Debbie DeWitt, Michael Dick, Cindy Faulmer, Pamela Griffiths, Debra Hall, John Harp, Marsha Hartman, Henrietta Haugh, Kevin Humbert, Jay Havers, Rex Kligover, Linda Lewis, Michael

Cars collide

A collision at Route 61 and Plymouth East road May 9 at 7:10 p. m. resulted in damage to both cars.

More severely damaged was a Pinto driven by John Mack, 19, Plymouth East road, who turned into Route 61 and struck a car driven by Ginda Keplervier, 21, 214 Euclid avenue, Willard.

Chuck Christopher banged a two-run homer and Bob Donaldson and Randy Palmer hit run-scoring doubles to lead the 12-hit assault on Greg Ryan.

Kim Carr limited Plymouth to four safeties and never was troubled after the first, when a double by Dan Carry, a single by Larry Brown and a sacrifice fly produced two Plymouth scores.

Don't be surprised to see a girl shooting a basketball. Your favorite high school basketball team come next November.

Ohio High School Athletic association has taken note of a decision by U. S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth District, of which Ohio is a part, in a Michigan case, and ruled that girls may not be excluded from high school teams in non-contact sports.

The rule now reads "Boys teams must be composed of boys only, IN ALL CONTACT SPORTS".

Since the only such sport is basketball, there is apparently no reason why a girl can't play on the basketball team, or baseball team, or compete in track and field, or play on the golf or tennis teams.
