

Power rate to rise

Beginning tomorrow, Ohio Power Co. will increase its power rate to the village by 25 per cent.

This means that an additional $3,000 will be billed on an average monthly charge by the power company of $12,000. At the moment, this is more than the village is collecting from users of electricity. Village council agreed Tuesday night to ask the solicitor to prepare an ordinance to raise rates for consideration Tuesday night. The percentage will be determined then, but the village, on suggestion of Councilman D. Douglas Brumbach, will put a fuel clause on each bill, based on the previous month's billing of the power company.

This will bring in enough money so that the percentage increase will probably be about 25 per cent. The mayor said the only way to pay the monthly bill and maintain operation of the system, a 100 per cent increase in power bills would be necessary. By joining with other communities in a holding action to put a 25 per cent increase off for about five months, the village saved about $15,000, which was also a saving to the electrical users.

Rebecca Osborne, 19, Shiloh, was hired as utility clerk.

Borrowing of $6,000 for 120 days to add the general fund was ordered by the council. Mayor Elizabeth G. Padlock said the loan is necessary because the balance in the safety fund as of Dec. 31 was only $52 and a payroll must be met Friday to pay the police department. The loan is earmarked for the maintenance and operation of the department.

The Voice of The Advertiser --

Gumballs

The whole question of General Half-track's gumball machine is kind of silly.

What are the facts?

On Sept. 19, 1972, the village council, by vote of four to two, approved the merger of the civil defense unit into the fire department. From and after Sept. 19, 1972, the civil defense unit ceased to exist and all actions taken in its name and authority thereafter are null and void.

On Sept. 20, 1972, one day later, on the signature of the captain of the civil defense unit, the late Robert G. Garrett, the state fire marshal authorized a gumball machine for General Half-track's vehicle.

It has not been the practice here for any fireman to be authorized to display a red gumball machine on his private vehicle, not since the whole question arose throughout Ohio a few years ago and a law was passed to restrict use of red gumball machines.

The mayor may or may not have been justified in deciding to "let the matter ride" lest she be accused of nitpicking in her continuing disagreement with General Half-track (he has recently said, before witnesses, to the mayor, "Whatever you propose I will oppose"). But the police department and the authority of the village are now subject to ridicule to such extent that General Half-track's gumball machine must go.

All it takes is a note from the proper local authority to the state fire marshal to revoke the issuance.

Charlie McCarthy, please take note.

Mrs. Pugh new president of local school board

The board will continue its regular meetings on the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p. m. Special meetings when necessary will be set on the fourth Wednesday. Members will be paid $20 a month.

Village native, Mrs. Remmy dies at Shelby

Mother of Mrs. Thomas Baker and a native of Plymouth, Mrs. Betty W. Remmy, 58, Shelby, died of cancer in Memorial hospital there Friday morning.

She was 72 years.

Born Helen Corrine Garrett, daughter of Encl and Mabel Garrett, in Plymouth, she was employed 21 years by Michigan Standard Tube Co. at Shelby before she retired in 1968. She was a member of First United Methodist church, Shelby, whose pastor, the Rev. Robert D. Snyder, conducted services at Shelby Monday at 2 p. m. Burial was in Maple Grove cemetery, New Haven township.

She is also survived by her husband, a daughter, Betty, now Mrs. Jack Garrett, Willard; a son, Robert C. Ashland; seven sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Poole, Mrs. Dorothy Perry, Mrs. Anna Paramore and Mrs. Jane Kepple, all of Mansfield; Mrs. Betty Lillo, Willard; Mrs. Rose Meyer, Tiro, and Isabelle Burley, Shiloh; three brothers, Elmer and Thomas, Garrett, Mansfield, and John Garrett, Plymouth route 1, and 11 grandchildren.

The family requests memorial contributions be made to the Shelby-Plymouth-Shiloh unit of the American Cancer society.

all members was authorized. Premium is $40 each.

Fazzini was named purchasing agent for 1976. Mrs. Pugh appointed these committees:

Mack and David Howard, also sworn as new member, finance; Garber and the Rev. Arthur Hamman, buildings and grounds; Howard and Garber, transportation; Hamman and Mrs. Pugh, personnel and policies; Mack and Howard, athletic control board.

Salary scale was adjusted to accommodate Senate Bill 170. Thirteen certificated employees will receive increases varying from $27 to $344, for a total of $1,988. The law requires these adjustments, in the amount of one-tenth of one percent, to non-certificated staff as well.

A resolution declaring the board's intent to abide by a new law prohibiting discrimination for any reason, including sex, if federal funds are spent was approved. It names Fazzini as the coordinator of continuing studies to remove all vestiges of discrimination.

A study committee will meet Jan. 28 at 7:30 p. m. in the library of Shiloh Elementary school to prepare a written policy governing drug abuse. Edward M. Kinsel, principal at Shiloh, is chairman pro tempore. Other members will be Richard Horton, high school principal, two teachers, the Rev. Mr. Hamman and Mrs. Pugh, two pupils, the police chiefs at Plymouth and Shiloh, and the president of the Shiloh P-TA and the president of Plymouth Mothers' club.

Garber said the board should not retreat from the written agreement with the village governing access across board property to Mary Faye park. The board adopted his recommendation that a written inquiry be addressed to the mayor to inquire when the board may expect reimbursement for expense of road repair.

The clerk was authorized to seek $15,000 as a tax advance from Huron county and $80,000 from Richland county.

Kinsel will be in charge of a district-wide survey from Feb. 1 to obtain the names and addresses of handicapped pupils, including those with hearing impairment, physical disability, visual impairment, learning disabilities or behavior disorders, mental retardation, speech and language impairment and the like.

Renewal of a contract by which educational television is furnished to pupils in Plymouth Elementary school a year was approved. Principal Gary P. Burge explained its advantages.

Temporary appropriations for 1976 in the amount of $255,200 were approved.

Police charge harassment by Brumbach

A fiery discussion touched off by the police department and the refusal of two councilmen to go along with the issue of revamping the traffic pattern in the Public Square highlighted the Jan. 6 meeting of village council, in which Councilman James L. Jacobs Sr., was again elected president pro tempore.

It is common for Councilman D. Douglas Brumbach to be in the center of fiery discussion and this time was no exception.

It was he who led the opposition, in which he was joined by Councilman Dennis Sprules, to approval of the final plans for the revamping by emergency ordinance.

Authorization was given for legislation to purchase low and high band, two channel radio for the ambulance in the sum of $2,340. The village will pay half, $1,170.

Plymouth and New Haven townships will each pay $630, plus $55 for contingencies in setting up the system. The village will pay $100.

The village's share of the cost will be taken from revenue sharing funds. A three year mutual aid fire agreement with the Village of New Washington was approved. Police Chief Robert L.

Metser accused Brumbach of harassment and false accusations over an incident that occurred Dec. 25 after councilman Robert Neel, who was on duty.

The problem involved a newly installed red flasher on the police cruiser.

Brumbach thought it might have been the one stolen from his van about two months ago, for which he has received a "ransom" note from a group called "The Cherry Pickers".

The current red cruiser is from the old cruiser.

The mayor said that although she was many miles away in California when the occurred, she was to blame for it all because she did not use her authority to have Brumbach remove the red flasher. She said she believed it would have been a "nit-pick action since it was such a toy".

The mayor named these committees: Councilman Dennis Sprules, cemetery; Councilman Toy Patton, finance; Brumbach, parks and recreation; Councilman Hubert V. Akers, fire, police and ambulance; Patton, electricity; Councilman John Ray, water, and Jacobs, streets and sewers.

When a cook signs a recipe, you can be sure of it!

By AUNT LIZ

Did you know that one thing we simply take for granted in our everyday lives - the pencil -- was dreamed up in England in 1564?

And that there are in this country 17 manufacturers of that produce two billion a year?

Of that number, we are responsible for wasting about one every two weeks because they somehow drop on the floor and are considered very edible by our pup. Our other dog preferred pens and there is nothing worse than seeing the only one you own that works all chewed up. Should you be planning on visiting Washington, D. C., this summer, do not miss the Smithsonian Institution. It is setting up an exhibit showing how pencils are made. It should be rather fascinating. Some 40 different raw materials go into the making of one pencil. And even though the price of a pencil has only increased eight per cent in the last 10 years, the cost of California cedar has jumped up 120 per cent, so maybe an ordinary pencil of today will become a big collector's item.

Wouldn't you know that our government is the most important purchaser, buying about 8,000,000 a year! I do hope that it is making certain that each pencil it buys has an eraser, which is so badly needed in government today. That really is a nasty crack, but somehow we all must admit we are very capable of and adept at making wrong decisions and plain ordinary mistakes.

There is, however, one place an eraser cannot help, and that is in the kitchen. There is no way to make a change in something you have made to eat either pretend it is the tastiest thing you have ever touched in your life, or have the backbone to throw it down the garbage disposal, which is a heart-breaking experience in this day and age. We eat the stuff that was a big mistake.

Usually such mistakes come from the fanciest cookbooks we own, and a long time ago we all learned (meaning our daughter and daughter-in-law) that those cookbooks put out by local organizations with recipes turned in by ordinary people who sign their names to them are truly tested and good and reliable.

THIS WEEK ONE SUCH

cookbook was delivered, and there is one recipe that looks really good. Even though we have not tried it, I know it has to be good because we know the family who contributed it and also know that that particular "man of the house" simply would refuse to eat anything that is not tasty and good. It is a sausage loaf, and I must leave the name out so as not to hurt feelings. It is very simple. Buy a pound of good bulk sausage. Take it home and mix it with four beaten eggs, a cup of dried bread crumbs and a can or two cups of cream style corn. Put it in a baking dish and spread about six tablespoons of catsup over the top and bake at 350 for an hour. The friend who contributed it says it is good hot or cold.

There is another recipe that sounds very intriguing and has to be good because I know that family has a bunch of mouths to feed, and they all look very well fed.

It is a 7-Up cake. Mix a box of yellow cake mix (and thank heavens for such mixes) with three fourths cups of vegetable oil and a box of either pineapple or vanilla instant pudding mix. When that is all mixed together add a cup of 7-Up. Bake in large glass pan for less than an hour at 350 degrees.

While it is baking, start the frosting which is poured over the hot cake when it comes out of the oven. I would suggest you use a double boiler for this. Mix one and a half cups of sugar with a stick of butter, two beaten eggs, a tablespoon of flour and a cup of drained crushed pineapple. Cook it up and when thickened add a cup of coconut.

Red upsets Freddies, 59-51

Plymouth came from behind in the second half here Friday night to upset Fredericktown in Johnny Appleseed conference play.

The score was 59 to 51. The Big Red strung together seven unanswered points at the opening of the fourth period and hung on gamely to win.

The Fredericktown bench and crowd were bitter over what was said to be poor refereeing. A fight that broke out after the game may have been connected with that argument.

Plymouth stayed close throughout and outshot the visitors in the last eight minutes to pull it out. Until that time, the Freddies had been a model of consistency and accurate. In each of the first three quarters, they took 12 shots and made six.

Brad Turson, who wound up with 15 points, nine of them on free throws, collected four straight points to break it open.

Fredericktown led by three at the half and by two after three periods. There were only eight Plymouth players who got into the game and just six of them scored. The leader was Mike Carty, who fired in 20 points, 18 of them on field goals. He was shooting from outside the right Freddie 1-3-1 zone defense, which Plymouth attacked with success only in the last eight minutes.

The Big Red made a game of it from the outset because its shooting improved. And it cut down on its floor mistakes.

Going into the last period, Plymouth was 46 of 46, while Fredericktown was 18 of 35.

And in the final eight minutes, the Big Red shot six of 21, whereas the Freddies fired 6 of 18.

Plymouth took down 49 rebounds, compared to 35 for the Freddies. There were 19 Freddie turnovers, only 16 charged against the Big Red.

Plymouth shot well from the free throw line and that was the difference, since each team scored 24 field goals. Plymouth missed only four of 15 tries. Fredericktown missed half of six.

Colts win over Red

Jerry Watson scored 18 in the first half and Chuck Stallard 20 in the second half at Bellville Jan. 6 and Clear Fork trounced Plymouth, 70 to 49, in Johnny Appleseed conference play.

The Colts led at every stop and never were in trouble.

They won because Watson and Stallard are superior shooters and the whole team scored well (it was 33 of 71) and because they made fewer mistakes (the Colts were charged with nine turnovers, Plymouth with 21).

Plymouth was not able to get inside very much and its shooting from outside, such as its style of play allows, was not so good. The Big Red overall went 19 for 52. Its free throw shooting was superb. It missed only one of 12.

The rebounding was about even, despite the Colts' superiority in height. Clear Fork took down 35 rebounds, Plymouth 33.

Plymouth was behind by 12 at the half, by 15 after three periods.

Coach William Northrup once again altered his starting lineup.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our gratitude to our family, relatives and friends for the kind consideration given us during the loss of our father, D. L. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Smith and family 15p

Sir:

Being past three score years and ten, I think we look backwards—more to the "Old Horse and Buggy" days. I remember the first "Tin Lizzie" from Ford Motor Co. Milk was brought around by horse and wagon and one had to take out his container and it was dipped out of large buckets at five cents a quart. Bread five cents for a loaf, enough hamburger for four people at 10 cents. At that time we did have gas and had gas lights, which were lighted by mantles and matches. If one walked across the floor, the mantle would fall out.

I wouldn't want to go back to those days. My father rented a horse and buggy in the spring and summer and a sleigh.

Read The Advertiser

Plymouth Advertiser, in the winter. Then came the old street cars from Mansfield to Norwalk, had to change at Newnan's Corners for Willard, or Chicago Junction as originally named. I think the Americans of today do not appreciate the stride in transportation, all sorts of appliances, especially the electric refrigerator, washers and dryers, etc., not to mention the numerous types of saving medicines.

Now we can go to the library and get all types of literature and the historical books that tell of the Pioneers' setting out country east to west and north of south. Our forefathers made the Constitution giving us freedom from England, the Civil War fought for freedom of slaves. We should pray each day of our bicentennial year for what God has done for the greatest nation of our times, despite taxes, inflation, etc. There will be many celebrations through our 1976 but let us pause for thanks whenever possible and may we go on for many more centuries, God willing.

Sincerely yours,
Donna Russell

WHEREAS: The Council, Village of Plymouth, Ohio, Ordinance Number 12-75 enacted on July 1, 1975, did appropriate a construction easement thirty (30) feet in width and a force main permanent sewer easement twenty (20) feet in width over, upon and through the property of Roy and Miriam Johnson, the same being necessary and essential for the completion of Contract III of the Village project of said Village.
