

Berries, folks?

And what does a little boy do on the 4th of July when there're no firecrackers? He goes berry picking, that's what. This young man is seven-year-old David Refett, son of the James Refetts, who found a rather poor crop in the Huron river bottom.

The Voice of The Advertiser —

Now is the time!

Do schools create juvenile delinquency?

A New Jersey judge, B. Thomas Leahy of Somerset county, says so.

"My own work," he said June 30, "shows that the common denominator of delinquents appearing before me is a lack of self-respect." That lack, he said, grows at least partly from feelings of inadequacy resulting from poor academic performance.

A child, he reasons, finds his job, his primary obligation in life, is school. If he finds he can't do the assigned work properly, he is branded lazy by parents and teachers. The child becomes frustrated and more pressure is applied to make him behave. Frustration becomes anger, as more demands for compliance and performance are made on the child. Finally, the judge said, the child expresses his rebellion and ends up hauled into court, branded as a delinquent.

He cited studies in Snohomish county, Wash., and Sonoma county, Cal., as well as in Cascadia, Wash., Juvenile Reception and Diagnostic center that prove a strong correlation between juvenile delinquency and reading performance below grade level.

Schools are not deliberately or intentionally creating delinquency problems, the judge said. But they aren't paying enough attention to diagnosis of hidden learning disabilities.

All children with learning deficiencies, the judge affirmed, do not become delinquents. Many have strength in the home and school environment that helps them to overcome these learning problems.

We think the judge is oversimplifying, perhaps to grab a headline, which he got right on the front page of his home town newspaper. Vandalism, which is the most common juvenile offense, is also caused by children who have no learning disabilities.

Nevertheless, at the very time that we are considering a school budget for the next fiscal year, it behooves each of us to consider whether enough attention is paid to those who eventually cost us money.

We can't all of us be experts. We must rely on professional educators to guide us. And the place to find out if those educators are doing their job, if they're passing out to us the right kind of information, is at the budget hearing and the school board meeting.

No change in recount

Recounts paid for by the public resulted in no change in the outcome of the June 8 primary election.

Mrs. Jane Adelman, who was at first declared the winner against James Seitz in the Democratic race for a county commissioner's post, lost by 11 votes. That was the difference on June 9 and that was the difference last week, after the recount of the 145 precincts

In Huron county.

And Mrs. Marie Tanney's margin of victory over Richard E. Rench in the GOP race to succeed Mrs. Ethel G. Swanbeck as 72nd district representative to the General Assembly was fixed at 32 votes, even though she was accorded two more ballots after the recount. So was Rench, the difference, respectively, 3,582 and 3,550.

Brooks in hospital for surgery on legs

Postmaster Raymond L. Brooks was admitted to Mansfield General hospital Tuesday to undergo leg surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Keath and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colten, and their three children, Warsaw, returned Monday night from South Bend, Ind., where they attended the assembly of the Jehovah Witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy DeWitt drove to Washington, D. C., to spend the holiday weekend with Capt. Ted Capps.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. MacMichael, with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Ramo, and their children, Shelby, spent the week-end at October Hill near Loudonville.

The Larry Taylors, Percilla Thornberry and Dean Cline were guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cline, at Camp Cozy on Lake Erie Monday.

Willford sues Enderbys for damages

Carl R. Willford filed suit June 28 in Huron county common pleas court seeking $25,000 each from his sister, Doris, now Mrs. William C. Enderby, and her husband.

Willford, who is defendant in a suit for damages seeking $25,000 filed in the same court by William C. Enderby, alleges in his petition, filed by his attorney, Robert A. McKown, that his sister stepped up on his back, forced him to the ground, and caused grave injury.

The dispute occurred at the home in Sandusky street of their late mother, Mrs. Ora Hartz.

$698.31 spent by Elmlinger

John Elmlinger, young Sherman township trustee who aspires to be Huron county recorder, was unopposed in his party's primary but nevertheless spent $698.31 to "get my name around".

In a sworn statement to the county board of elections, his committee treasurer, Marilyn J. Elmlinger, said receipts of the committee, all from the candidate, were spent on advertising in newspapers, bumper stickers and other political advertising.

Elmlinger seeks to unseat the veteran Republican incumbent, Jay Thomas, on Nov. 2.

Thomas W. Carabin, successful GOP candidate for Huron county commissioner, term starting Jan. 2, 1977, spent $274.89.

An opponent, Gerald W. Fife, North Fairfield, spent $152.76 on his unsuccessful bid.

Dale V. Stearns, former clerk of New Haven township who sought a second time to become county commissioner, spent among six to the nomination of the Republicans for the Jan. 3 term.

He was defeated by Roy Palm. Stearns swore he spent $451.76.

Dr. William B. Holman, incumbent Huron county coroner, was unopposed in his party. He reported he spent nothing.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Winans and their children, Cleveland, were Saturday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Webber, Monday the Jones guests of his parents.

The Woodrow Smiths and Douglas A. Dickson spent the weekend at Huron. Last night Jean Ann Smith was guest of honor at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Gerald W. Caywood and her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Roethlisberger, Shiloh.

The Larry Keathns are attending the assembly of Jehovah Witnesses at Richfield this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Miller, their son, James, and E. Beryl Miller were Monday guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. Martin Miller, Kenton.

Merger due for decision

Merger of Peoples National bank with First National Bank of Mansfield may occur at any time, sources in Washington said this week.

Approval of the controller of the currency is pending.

It has 90 days from the date of the first application, which was May 12, when stockholders of the two institutions approved the merger, to give a decision.

If a formal objection to the merger is filed, final action could be delayed. Although Willard United bank has said it's unhappy with the merger, it has not yet filed a formal objection.

If the merger is approved, there must be a waiting period of 30 days thereafter before physical merger can occur.

Village buys two parcels of land, buildings from Bachrach Co.

Purchase of two parcels of real estate, each of which includes buildings, was agreed to by village council Tuesday night.

The village will pay $20,000 to the Bachrach Co. for the two parcels, both of which lie in the Huron county section of the village.

The first parcel, described as Lot 144, includes a building measuring 60 x 46 feet, in which the village will store rolling stock.

The second parcel, known as Lots 96 and 97, includes three buildings, totalling about 8,400 square feet of floor space. The parcel abuts the right-of-way of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad and fronts on Walnut street.

It is commonly known as "the old seed house".

The village will pay $1,000 from the street fund and $6,666.67 from each of three funds, water, sewer and electric.

The village will pay $2,000 to Bachrach Co. as down payment to bind the contract and the remainder when the deeds are delivered.

Acquisition of storage space became necessary when the village lost tenancy of Charles Rhine army. The army would be conveyed to Plymouth Local School district on its application for quiet title without payment. The village could only obtain the army site by buying it from the federal government, where as the school district by special legislation could obtain it at no cost.

The decision to purchase the site was made by Councilman D. Douglas Brumback led an attack on the purchase. He said there were some councilmen who had never been inside the buildings, that the village would have to spend $20,000 to make the buildings usable, that at least one building's roof leaks badly, and that there is no clear method to finance the purchase.

Village Administrator Thomas F. Baker quickly arranged a tour of the buildings. When the council reassembled, on roll call vote there was no dissent.

After a heated discussion the council agreed to approve allowing the Boosters' club to stage its annual carnival in the west section of the Public Square during June, 1977.

After a public hearing an hour earlier, the council voted to retain the public right-of-way in an alley abutting the properties of Mrs. George W. Cheesman, Hubert V. Akers, George Hicks and Eric Hedeon, all lying south of West Broadway and west of Bell street in the Richland county section of the village.

The council had under consideration two petitions to vacate the alley. One was signed by Mrs. Cheesman and Akers and his wife. The other was signed by Mrs. Cheesman and Hedeon.

Both sought to close the alley so that Hicks could obtain access to his property from the rear or southern portion of his lot.

It was Brumback who argued that the village should not be a party to any action that might landlock any resident. Councilman James L. Jacobs, Sr., said the village doesn't have enough to pave the alley, and in any event it should not be opened for its full length.

Akers, who is a councilman, abstained on the vote. Jacobs voted nay. The motion by Brumback to keep the alley open and to pave it at village expense was approved. Akers threatened to seek to enjoin the village from opening the alley.

Checks due members of the fire department will be distributed this week. They were held up when it was discovered that the fire operating fund would be overdrawn until payments from New Haven and Plymouth townships are received.

Jacobs moved that $2,000 be borrowed from the revenue sharing fund for 60 days so that the checks would be honored.

The pay period for the first six months was approximately $2,600, which is just $1,000 less than what was paid out in 1975. Assistant Fire Chief William L. VanWagner said more fire calls have been answered than usual in the first six months.

$21,000

Y drive gets that much here

Contributions from Plymouth and Shiloh of over $21,000 have been recorded on the "Yes we can!" campaign for a new Y community center at Shelby.

Early in the week pledges had tallied to be reported to the campaign office.

The pledges have put the annual drive over the $1.4 million mark. The goal of $1,500,000 will provide a full facility to be built in Shelby, including a year-round pool, meeting and exercise rooms, gymnasium and possibly handball courts if enough is raised.

Plymouth residents are expected to have the opportunity to participate in the campaign through the Fate-Rock-Heath Co. or a special mail campaign begun today.

period of the year and that they lasted longer.

The fire department has offered to give the street department its red tank.

Eric said he could find several good uses for it.

Who is responsible for inspection of emergency sewer taps into the new sanitary system was questioned. Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock stated so long as the village has not formally accepted the system, any connections were done with the full approval of Eugene C. Gerken, sewer engineer.

In each instance the council's approval was obtained, although in some cases it came after the fact.

The mayor said some connections to the sanitary sewer, executed by Leonard Fenner, Harry B. Forquer, and James Jordan, all of whom have retained counsel and threatened to charge the mayor and the administrator with malfeasance, were not legally done. She said these connections must be uncovered and inspected by the village administrator.

Trustees of Greenlawn cemetery asked for and got the council's approval to put an additional one mill operating levy on the Nov. 2 ballot. Brumback voted nay.

Plymouth Civic organization has paid for equipment for the ambulance.

Checks due members of the fire department will be distributed this week. They were held up when it was discovered that the fire operating fund would be overdrawn until payments from New Haven and Plymouth townships are received.

lance in memory of the late Robert O. Garrett. APPROVAL WAS GIVEN to the budget for 1977.

The mayor said the village doesn't know exactly how much tax money will be available since the figures have not been furnished by the county auditors. She said, too, that in each department a 10 per cent salary increase was provided for.

General fund expenses will total $81,040.

The police department is budgeted at $57,500 for salaries and $10,000 for operating expenses.

The ambulance costs are $1,500 for salaries and $1,000 for expenses.

All elective officials' salaries will remain the same. So will the pay of the solicitor.

Fire department will get $4,500 for salaries, $4,100 for operating expenses and $4,000 transferred to its reserve fund.

A sum of $14,000 is available to be spent from the revenue sharing funds, providing the money allotted the village is not cut by the federal government.

The street fund is estimated to have $17,000 for expenditures, with $1,800 in the state highway fund.

The cemetery fund, which will have an approximate income of $9,900, has estimated expenses of $15,500, which will leave a deficit at the end of 1977.

gave you your relatives and you are plain stuck with them.

Perhaps just about every family in this lovely country has its problems, but only the Hatfields and the McCoy's became really famous for it.
Grin and bear it, go and have a good time and laugh about the quirky things that every family wants to hide. Years ago a gal about my age came to me to see what ideas I could come up with to help her write a family history of her husband's family, which had settled in this area 'way, way back. She was truly interested about it all, but she was run-

Birb's

A son, Mark James, their second child, weighing 8 lb. 12 ozs., was born June 29 in Shelby Memorial hospital to the James McClores. Mother is the former Nancy Cole, daughter of the Verne Coles, Shelby route 3. She is the proprietor of Nancy's Beauty salon. Mrs. Ross Van Burskirk is the maternal great-grandmother.

Jacque Daup, Miss Thatcher plight troth

Jacque Daup, younger son of the Harold E. Daups, Shiloh, was married June 19 in Jackson, Mich., to Miss Patti Jo Thatcher, daughter of the Burr Olin Thatchers, Horton, Mich.

The Rev. V. L. Kilgorn performed the double ring ceremony in Brookside United Methodist church. The bride's sister, Mrs. James Fountain, was matron of honor. Another sister, Mrs. Leonard Risner, and the bridegroom's sisters, Mrs. Michael Ruckman and Cindy Daup, were bridesmaids. Jennifer Risner, the bride's niece, was flower girl.

Owayne Kok, a high school and college classmate of the bridegroom, was best man. Mr. Ruckman, Roy Fuller, and the bride's brother, Michael, ushered.

The bride attended Jackson Community college.

An alumnus of Plymouth High school, where he was an outstanding athlete, the bridegroom was graduated by Spring Arbor college, Spring Arbor, Mich., where he excelled in baseball. He has a bachelor of science in education degree and is a teacher and coach in the South Central system. They will live in Green-ning up against a brick wall of two elderly aunts who simply did not want to give any information to her about the date they married and when their children were born.

Who doesn't have a skeleton some place? Time heals, and you can laugh about it. We had them on both sides of my family. One grandfather had a really drinking brother he took care of. And my grandmother on the other side had a sister married to one of the biggest crooks in Chicago back in the '20s. I remember both of them very well, and they were charming people.

So you have a reunion coming up. You have the obligation to go as a friendly relative and also the dire duty to outdo every other cook in the crowd.

THIS RECIPE SHOULD work. It is easy and so help me, has a unique flavor.

Buy a five pound canned ham.
Cut the center part out, leaving a good inch for the bottom and sides. Grind the ham you have cut out with two cups of fresh spinach, then beat in four eggs, a fourth of a teaspoon of nutmeg, a half of a good cream and two loaded tablespoons of ordinary bourbon. Mix it all up, and pile it back in the ham shell. Bake it for about an hour at 375 degrees until it seems set and browned.

Put it on a platter to carry and have a good sharp knife to slice it. If you are to take a desert, then here is another one that is a little different. It is an Hungarian version of cheesecake. You can make a sweetie pie dough for it, bottom and top crust, or you can use a graham cracker crust. It's the filling that is different.

Cottage cheese, not cream cheese. Start with a fourth of a cup of unsalted butter, which is soft, and almost, not quite a cup of sugar and two egg yolks, and beat like mad. Then add a teaspoon of vanilla and the grated rind of a good size lemon. When this is thoroughly mixed, slowly stir in a pound of cottage cheese. Do not beat vigorously, but blend it all.

In another bowl beat three egg whites (frankly I think that other yolk will not hurt the cottage cheese mixture a bit and it is not wasted) with a tiny bit of salt until they are stiff, then fold into the cheese mixture.

Pour into the pie shell and either cover or not, bake it at 350 degrees for about three quarters of an hour. Stick a silver knife in to see if it has set.

Donald Beverly, Plymouth, was admitted to Willard Area hospital Thursday.

Benjamin M. Kensing, Plymouth, was admitted to Mansfield General hospital June 30.
He was released Sunday.

Douglas C. Smith, Shiloh, and Cynthia L. Baker, Plymouth route 1, have applied in Richland county probate court for a license to marry.
So have Dean A. Cline, Shiloh, and Percilla D. Thornberry, Plymouth.

Jenny and Scott Anhorns, children of the Dennis Anhorns, Akron, are spending the week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis, while their parents are visiting her brother and sister-in-law, the Richard Lewises, Phoenix, Ariz., and in Denver, Colo.

The Thomas Rots spent the holiday weekend with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Morlok, Wayne, Pa.

Dr. and Mrs. Pierre E. Haver were hosts at a picnic Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. David Sindel and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wise, Columbus; Mrs. H. L. Youmker, Fremont; Mrs. Wayne Edwards, Johnstown, and Mrs. and Mrs. Glenn Frakes, their son Peter, spent the weekend in Ravens with classmates from Kent State university.

Seven attending cage camp

Seven boys are attending Hidden Hollow camp this week while ex-Shelby, Ohio State and Boston Celtic star Larry Siegfried is conducting some classes. Siegfried is now assistant coach of the Houston club in the NBA. Boys are Chuck Tuttle, Marty Garry, Jeff Jacobs, Scott Harris and Bob, Steve and James Jamerson.

Circusset by Boosters July 25

Boosters club will sponsor a one day appearance here Sunday, July 25, of Hoxie's Great American circus.

Performances under the tent to be raised on Plymouth High school baseball field will be at 1 and 3 p.m.

Advance sale of tickets is under way. Purchase of these tickets at reduced prices may be made from several merchants.

The circus will set up here early Sunday, July 25, on a stopover between Bucyrus and Fremont.

Signer Zoppe, an Italian, puts his head into the mouth of a lion twice a day. His act also features a lion that rides bareback on a trained horse.

Kongo, said by Hoxie's to be the largest gorilla on tour, travels in a special 40-foot, air conditioned cage.

During the June 28 meeting of the Taylortown Trollers 4-H club, demonstrations were given by Lisa Baldridge on summer coolers, Lynn Snider on posture, James Stenz on changing a spark plug and Ernie Wells on feeding a steer.

Next meeting will be Tuesday.

The Rev. George Koerber spent the holiday weekend in Toledo with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Harold Mack are back from a vacation trip to Ft. Collins, Colo., where they visited their daughter, Patricia. They were accompanied by Mr. Mack's mother, Mrs. V. C. Mack, Clintonville, Wis.

Mrs. Joan Stranski and her daughter, Barbara, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Akers. Monday they were guests of the Robert Youngs, Gallon, who were camping at Wagon Wheel.

The Reed Whites, the Raymond Riedingers and the Dale McPhersons are among the campers this week at the National Campers and Filters campvention in Duquoin, Ill.

Thomas, Matthew and John Fletcher spent last week with their grandparents, the G. Thomas Moores, while their mother, Mrs. Phillip Fletcher, was a patient in Mansfield General hospital for surgery.

Girl cagers invited

Friendly House has invited fifth and sixth grade girls to compete in a basketball league that would play Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Girls interested in playing may notify Kenneth Kelley in Kuhn road, Tel. 347-2600. A volunteer coach may also notify him.

"Tonight you have the opportunity to join the thousands of folks who've invested in the campaign and help put the effort over the top."

Together we've raised a staggering $1,450,000 toward our goal of $1,590,000. We're confident we'll win. And we want you to be part of the victory. In Plymouth and Shiloh alone, we've raised more than $20,000.

Please send your pledge card to the "Yes We Can" campaign office at 82 E. Main St., Shelby, O., 44875 or the Plymouth office, 22 1/2 West Broadway on the square.

No hitter! Tuttle whips Greenwich

Calvin Tuttle pitched a no hitter against the Greenwich As June 29 at Greenwich.

The Angels won, 7 to 1. Tuttle struck out 12, walked three and was the victim of an error.

It was the first no hitter for the Angels since 1972, when Ron Akers hurled two of them.

The Angels are now tied with Greenwich in first place.
