The longest work stoppage in the history of Plymouth industry came to a halt Friday when hourly employees of Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc., accepted a company offer of a new three-year contract. Only 22 of the member-

The Voice of The Advertiser — On Nov. 8

Four constitutional issues appear on the Nov. 8 ballot. It is the duty of each citizen to consider them carefully and to vote accordingly.

The first issue has generated almost as much heat, and about as little light, as the second one. But perhaps it is the fourth one to which more attention should be given.

For the record, the issues are:

No. 1: Shall instant voter registration be the rule?

No. 2: Shall leghold traps be prohibited?

No. 3: Shall the state and municipalities thereof be permitted to extend their credit to provide for new or improved housing?

No. 4: Shall the statutory debt limitation be raised from $750,000 so that the state can spend as it wishes, subject to three-fifths vote of each house of the General Assembly?

If what the secretary of state has said is true, and we do not doubt his word, there were scores of false identification cards used in Cleveland's election a couple of weeks ago. Which is alone a sound argument for voting FOR the amendment, which will require an elector to be registered to vote for 30 days prior to election and the removal of his name from the voting rolls if he fails to cast a ballot in at least one election during a four year period. Vote FOR Issue No. 1.

Neither official argument in the case of Issue No. 2 impresses us. Nobody in his right mind would wish to be party to the torture of helpless beasts. Similarly, any sane person recognizes that proper wildlife management, given the urbanization of our state over the past 25 years, is essential to the common weal.

What bothers us is that this kind of thing doesn't belong in our constitution. It is better left to administrative regulation, even as hunting laws are laid down. For this reason, we shall vote NO on Issue No. 2.

If the city is to survive, and we all have a stake in its survival, it must meet the needs of its people. Those needs specifically extend to proper housing. There are parts of each city in the state where access to conventional risk capital is impossible or unfeasible. Private investment in such places is so risky, and so unlikely to provide a return on the investment, that housing merely deteriorates and deteriorates and its occupants suffer the more.

Is public housing the answer? Public housing's record, so far, has been dismal. In every city one visits, the most derogatory term in town is "the project" or "he lives in the project".

Nevertheless, those who live in cities are best equipped to study what's needed and to act on their findings. Their government, which is, after all, the people collectively, ought to be allowed to extend its credit (read the credit of the people) to people-oriented needs such as housing. Reluctantly, we'll vote FOR Issue No. 3.

We are flatly opposed to Issue No. 4.

Ohio may not be the best state in the union to live. But it would be a much less satisfactory place in which to live with a big floating debt, a debt promoted by political machines anxious to build or buy a constituency. The word in political jargon is "porkbarreling".

The amendment as offered sets no ceiling on what debt may be voted by three-fifths majority of each house of the General Assembly. There is a requirement that four per cent of the debt must be settled each year. But four per cent of infinity is still more than Ohio can or ought to afford. Vote NO on Issue No. 4.

ship of 142 employees turned the proposal down in a secret ballot. The strike lasted a week.

Total cost of the package to Banner Industries, Inc., parent corporation of P.L.W., is $2.48 an hour for each employee over three years.

Highlight of the contract is that pay will be advanced by 25 cents an hour at once and by 30 cents an hour in each of the next two years.

Pension allowances are raised from a maximum of $202.50 for each year to $292.50.

Sick pay is raised $1 a day to $24 in the first year of the contract, to $26 in the second year and to $28 in the third year.

Paid holidays are increased by two, the day after Thanksgiving and Dec. 24. Total paid holidays are now 10.

Effective Jan. 1, employees with 25 years of service will be entitled to six weeks of annual vacation, those with 15 years to five weeks, those with seven years to four weeks, those with five years to three weeks, those with three years to two weeks.

Retirement at 60 is now possible with no penalty

Marvin Perry succumbs at 70

Marvin Poyer Perry, 70, Snake road, Shiloh, died Thursday in Willard Area hospital.

Born July 5, 1907, at Mt. Gilead, he was a molder at Burch Plow Co., Crestline.

A veteran of World War II, he lived near Shiloh 42 years. His wife, Dollie, survives.

The Rev. John H. Hutchison, Jr., Shiloh United Methodist church, conducted services Saturday at 2 p. m. from McQuate-Secor Funeral home.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the American Legion, Shiloh, conducted graveside services in Mt. Hope cemetery, Cass township.

Mrs. McGill dies at Shelby

Mother of Mrs. Albert Shuty, Plymouth route 1, Mrs. Mildred M. McGill, 75, died in Crestwood Care center, Shelby, Saturday of a lengthy illness.

Born in Moneesen, Pa., she lived in Shelby 31 years. She was a member of First United Methodist church there. She was formerly employed by Wilkins Air Force station, Shelby.

She taught school in New York and Pennsylvania. She was a graduate of Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority.

A daughter, Mrs. Gerald Bendie, Shelby, and five grandchildren also survive.

Private services were conducted in Shelby Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. Burial was in Oakland cemetery there.

Village cited as tax delinquent

Three real estate owners, including the Village of Plymouth, have been advertised by the Huron county auditor as delinquent in tax payments.

The village owes $539.92 on the former Birch property in New street. It must be paid, because a municipality may obtain tax remission only at the beginning of a tax year.

Others are Shelby and Lucille M. Green, premises in Maple street, $190.76, and Verlin and Edna Green, premises in Park avenue, $238.72.

Jerry and Rose Kilgore, New Haven township, are delinquent in the amount of $277.06.

for early retirement before 65.

Cost of living allowance is advanced over the three-year term of the contract.

Sick leave is increased by 20 days a year to 120 working days next year and to 130 working days in the third year.

Group Life Insurance premiums will be paid by the employer and policy value will be advanced to $12,000 for each employee in the third year.

Police foil try at robbery

An attempted break-in at Plymouth Beer Dock Monday at 12:05 a. m. was thwarted by Patrolman William Hodges while on routine cruiser duty.

He sighted several young men climbing the roof of the building, and when they saw him, they left immediately, but he was unable to catch them.

Owner of the establishment, Kenneth Echelberry, had left a ladder against the building while he was repairing the roof.

Theft of a CB radio, tape player and tapes was reported to Richland county sheriff's deputies over the weekend by Weldon Schrom, Fenner road.

He said he left his car in Henry road when it stalled and the items were taken from it when he returned.

Akers named professor at Ashland

Eric J. Akers has been appointed assistant professor of business law by Ashland college.

Younger son of the Donald E. Akers, he is a law partner of his father. He was graduated by Plymouth High school in 1965 and received a bachelor of arts degree in history from Ohio Northern university at Ada in 1969.

After a year of teaching and coaching at New Bremen, he returned to Ohio Northern and took the juris doctor degree from Claude Pettit college of law there in 1973.

He was associated with the law firm of his cousin, Paul Chorpensing, now common pleas judge in Ashland county, between 1973 and 1975.

He is married to the former Debra Fessenmeyer, Ashland.

Retired pastor succumbs at 83

Pastor of Rome Community church for 27 years, the Rev. Edgar E. Eckert, 83, died in Heritage Care center, Shelby, Oct. 5 morning.

He was ill a long time. He lived in Shelby, where he retired 14 years ago after 50 years as a machinist for Ohio Steel Tube Co.

He served the Rome church from 1970, when he retired. He was a member of Trinity United Methodist church and taught a men's Bible class. He served on the church's board.

He was for six years a councilman in Shelby and steered the construction of Veterans' Memorial park there. He served three years in the U. S. Cavalry. He was a past president of United Steelworkers Local 3057.

His wife, Ella, two sons, Eugene, Grand Rapids, Mich., and David, Shelby, where he retired 14 years ago, and a daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Carlson, Shelby, are surviving grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren survive.

Services were conducted from his church Saturday at 11 a. m. Burial was in Oakland cemetery, Shelby.

Member David Howard that he intends to press for resignation from the Johnny Appleseed conference at the November meeting, which is set for Nov. 21.

Supt. John Fazzini reported that his survey of attitudes of pupils participating in the hand-and summer activities is overwhelmingly favorable. The only question in their minds, he said, is what punishment might be exacted for failure to attend a practice or a formation. He said there is no need for concern on this score, "since the program carried no academic credit".

Fazzini told the board the attitude of the athletic control board toward a future athletic affiliation "lies to the north rather than the south". He said the only known options are to affiliate with Danbury, Hopewell-Loudon, please see page 4

School bond issue endorsed by Plymouth, Shiloh councils

Backers of the school bond issue got their second important endorsement of the campaign when village council voted unanimously Oct. 4 to support the issue.

Earlier, the no one, Shiloh's council had unanimously voted to support the issue.

Supt. John Fazzini made the pitch to the village council here.

He got some questions from some councilmen. Later he said he does not think there is a need for at least two years for the school district to ask for more operating money. He said the state is funding 70 per cent of the cost of running the schools. Councilman Duane V. Keene moved to back the issue and Councilman D. Douglas Brumback seconded it.

More about council on Oct. 4

The council agreed that the curfew will go into effect as of Oct. 5. It will ring at 9 p. m. No one under 18 is to be on the streets unless accompanied by an adult or returning home from a school event, when a reasonable period of time will be allowed.

For the last half of September, police reported, 19 complaints were answered, 18 traffic arrests were made and 2,738 miles were travelled while patrolling. The cruisers used 470 gallons of gasoline.

Day and night dispatchers paid from CETA funds are being sought from Richland and Huron counties.

Councilman Brumback is to present a plaque in memory of Mark Didion to Fire Chief Judson A. Morrison. It comes from the Huron County Safety Council and had been obtained when the council existed.

Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock told the council that again the wording on the voting machines for the fire levy will read "For Current Expenses". When it failed in June, it was believed that the wording was responsible for it. On the printed sample ballot, however, the purpose is fully stated, that the money generated by the levy is to be put aside for the purchase of a new pumper in the future.

No objections were raised concerning the request of Joseph L. Laach and Robert E. Hall to obtain a C-1 and a C-2 liquor license for a drive-in restaurant in Plymouth street. The village could have requested a hearing before the Liquor Control board had there been any objections.

Acting Police Chief W. Robert Seel told the council it and said he had not charged the village for damages done to his truck while using it for work in the village and that he thought it was a fair exchange.

He sent two estimates of the repairs to the Tuesday meeting. One was for $205.49 and one was for $213.61. The tool kit was less than $100.

Brumback said he would not consider the repair estimates until he sees the police accident report of the mishap, which was in the Reeman street area.

William Hodges, who was put on temporary full time duty with the police department a number of months ago, was put on regular full time.

Ronald Humphreys also was elevated to a full-time position, which allows him to qualify for police training under a veterans' program, for which most of the monthly salary will be paid.

The mayor told the council that upon checking with the telephone company, it was found that three former members of the police department still had police telephones in their homes and that one had been gone almost three years, for which the village has been paying. The other two should have been taken off about the first of this year.

Ontario overpowers Plymouth, 21-8

Warriors use stout defense, Arnett's running to win 15th in 16 games

Plymouth's hopes of an unbeaten season died with 6:20 left in the game with Ontario before the biggest football crowd in Plymouth history.

Trailing 14 to 8, Plymouth gambled on fourth down with less than one to gain for first down. It sent Mike the Knife Messer through the line. But the name of this game is defense, and Ontario's stout forward wall rose to the occasion and stopped Messer three inches short of the stake.

The Warriors took over at their 43 and drove 57 yards in 13 plays for the final score.

They came to see Mike the Knife perform and he did not disappoint them. But they saw another challenge when Ontario outscored Messer in this 21 to 8 defeat. His name is Steve Arnett.

All he did was carry 28 times for 149 yards and took one pass for 17 yards, scoring three touchdowns.

By comparison, Messer carried 26 times for 107 yards. He scored the lone Red touchdown with a brilliant burst of 20 yards around the visitors' left end in the second period. And Tom Miller passed to Messer for the PATs that gave Plymouth a lead that stood up until the early moments of the final period.

THE WARRIORS DREW first blood.

They drove 53 yards after a Red punt to score with 3:22 remaining in the first quarter. Arnett cracked home from a yard away. Luiz Fossati, an exchange pupil, booted the PAT.

Ontario scored the first time it obtained possession, and advanced at will in the drive. Counting the score, the Warriors collected four first downs.

And they submitted to a 15-yard holding penalty in the bargain. Plymouth could not gain in the ensuing series and John Ross punted. Ontario was shackled and a short punt of only 19 yards from scrimmage gave Plymouth possession at the Warrior 38.

The Big Red needed only five plays to produce the tying touchdown. On third down, Messer carried the ball for the seventh time in the game and romped home after breaking two tackles.

Miller's pass play seemed aimed to go to his right. But he wheeled and passed to Messer on the left for the PAT.

ARNETT PUT ON SOME heroics with 1:30 left in the half.

Setting out from his 32, he broke through Plymouth's left guard, wheeled twice and dashed 45 yards before he was hauled out of bounds.

But Ontario could not produce further yardage to speak of and on fourth down Fossati tried a field goal from the Red 30. It was on target but short.

At halftime, Ontario had slightly the better of it statistically. The Warriors in 26 plays had rolled up 113 yards rushing with five first downs and had collected nine yards passing with one completion in four efforts. They had punted twice for 25 yards average and taken two penalties for 20 yards.

Correspondingly, Plymouth in 29 plays amassed 94 yards rushing with five first downs and 15 yards passing, with two successes in four tries. Ross had punted twice for an average of 39 yards and there were no penalties. IT WAS IN THE SECOND half that Ontario began to assert itself.

Plymouth could not advance from its own territory with either possession in the third period. Ross's fumble went over to the Warriors to stop an advance from the Red 27. Ontario took over at the Red 36.

Here, on third down, there occurred a bizarre play. The intended pass receiver was behind the Red secondary. As he dashed for the ball, he tripped and fell. It seemed to some on the sidelines that he was inadvertently tripped by the Red defender. But there was no flag.

Not, anyway, until the Warrior player hotly screamed "You blew it" at the official and the yellow handle promptly fell, costing Ontario 15 yards.

A strong runback of another Ross punt by Arnett put the Warriors in business as time was running out in the third quarter.

Ross's punt carried 32 yards to the Warrior 34 but Arnett ran it back to the Red 40.

ONTARIO NEEDED eight plays to penetrate the end zone, which Arnett did at 11:24 with a burst from the one. The place kick was again good.

Shouts from the Plymouth Homecoming crowd encouraged the Red eleven and it came back smartly.

From its 20, it advanced to the Ontario 43, where on fourth down Messer was just a tick short of first down.

A face mask penalty against Plymouth gave Ontario first down at the Plymouth five with 51 seconds left in the game. Plymouth would have taken over at that point and had one last shot at winning. But it was not to be. Arnett got five yards in the first shot, raising the score to 20. Fossati's kick made it 21 and Plymouth was done.

This was the 16th meeting between the two schools. Plymouth tied one at 12 to 12 in 1966 and has lost all of the others.

McClain sets school record

Plymouth Warriors competed in the Ontario Invitational Saturday and finished ninth among 12 teams, but the venture wasn't all lost.

For the first time, all five Red runners finished in under 16 minutes for the 2.5-mile jaunt. Mike McClain set a new school record with a time of 14:59. He finished in 35th position.

Others finished thus:
Dave Lewis, 47th, 15:23;
Mike Branham, 49th, 15:25; Scott Kennard, 53rd, 15:44; Randy Neeley, 55th, 15:50.

Junior high cross country team finished sixth among 12 competitors with a score of 145. Mike Beck placed eighth in 12:49, Rob Smith 18th in 13:17, Kevin King 34th in 14:01, Doug Nease 46th in 14:01, Patti McKenzie 45th in 14:24.

Defender

CREDITABLE performance on defense is the wont of Terry Tash, who plays in the secondary. He has nailed some key interceptions for the Big Red and looks to do so at Belleville tomorrow.

Can Big Red come back?

Clear Fork is huge test

Tomorrow's contest with Clear Fork will show just how much character Plymouth has in what the scouting report says about the Colts and the Big Red.

Beaten by a superior defense before the largest crowd in Plymouth history Friday night, the Big Red must beef up its own defense and get its offense going again.

Its defense must be on Amos Fry, who gained 53 yards in 11 attempts against a stout Loudonville defense last week, and on Jerry Layfield, who was 67 for 14. Fry produced the Clear Fork score against Loudonville with a 29-yard sprint up the middle on a trap play.

The Colts were also victims of a fourth down plunge that fell inches short of the first down stake. Starting from their 35, the Colts marched 57 yards in 14 plays to the Redbird eight where Greg Sharp's dive fell inches short.

Can the Big Red come back? Clear Fork hasn't been so tough for Plymouth since the two schools began their rivalry. The Big Red has won a few, whereas it is winless in 10 starts against Ontario. The Colts are always hard to beat before their home crowd. And they're spoiling to improve their record.

ored, which stands at a single victory, two defeats and two ties. A tie, they say, is like kissing your sister.

Plymouth's offense produced good yardage Friday night but it wasn't enough, particularly in the last half. The Big Red was contained in its own territory for much of the last two periods. Butch Ballard, Joe Horvath and Steve Santmyer had the Plymouth running game pretty much dia-

Afterwards the department will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers for a winter roast. The Myerses are showing their appreciation of the help they received during the June storm.

Shilohan hurt, car overturns in Route 511

A 22-year-old Shiloh woman and three passengers were injured Sunday at 4:30 a. m. when her car entered a curve in Route 511 at Ashland county road 500, hit a embankment and upset.

Jethro Wilcox, 26, Mansfield, and Margie Williams, 24, Rocky River, were treated at Ashland and released.

Cathy Williams was treated in Samaritan hospital, Ashland, and released. Ozella Reaver, 20, Mansfield, was taken to Mansfield General hospital for treatment of concussion and bruises of the head.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Gooding have moved here from Columbus and are now making their home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. Cramer.

Mr. Paul McClintock, who is on maternity leave as teacher, was engaged as part-time reading teacher, to serve four hours a day.

Use of the high school baseball field as the site for the annual summer carnival staged by the Boosters club was approved.

Annual Christmas music program will be presented Sunday, Dec. 18. The Rev. Arthur Hamman abstained from voting.

Member R. Harold Mack and Fazzini outlined plans to urge support of the 4.51-mile building bond issue. A 16-page illustrated pamphlet will be distributed to the household in the district.

Fazzini said the Plymouth and Shiloh Fire departments have endorsed the issue. A letter will be sent to the parents of each child enrolled in the schools, Fazzini said, because research shows that 60 per cent of the registered vote is comprised of non-parents.

SPIRIT OF FREEDOM

"I CAN STRETCH YOUR HORIZONS, BUT NOT YOUR GROUND ROUND."

I can recite poetry to you on a mountain top and sprinkle flowers at your feet in the spring. But if you live on more than love alone, I suggest you consult the Consumer Information Catalog.

It's published by the Federal Government and lists over 200 booklets you can send away for. Over half are free. And all are wise. With tips on stretching your food budget, shopping wisely for a home, the virtues of jogging, even what to look for in a new shampoo.

So send for this free catalog which you will find very helpful. Write: Consumer Information Center, Dept. B, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. Poetry and music may be the "Food of Love," but a little meat loaf goes a lot further at dinner.

It's time to make fruit cake, and here's a classic recipe

By AUNT LIZ

The frost is just about on the pumpkin, and we already have one soaped car window.

It is time to stash amaryllis plants in a darkened room or a corner in the basement, but do not forget where it is come December. It is also time to survey your gift wrappings to see what you need and avoid the big rush on them. For years we had an ex-turkey box that held bits of reusable paper, ribbons and bows, but three holidays away from home has done it. We are completely out of such things.

And while listening to football games, you have a fine time to start addressing cards, to which you add happy messages whenever it is more timely. And if you have no cards, it is your fault. Every good housewife should have a January and December.

I guess the first turning of the leaves gets to me and I realize time is going faster than I am. It is also time to start fruit cake. Since they have so much in them, plan on a week to shop before starting.

Start with a three and a half ounce can of candied cherries (red) (or mix them with green), 10 to 12 ounces of glazed pineapple, three cups of black seedless raisins (this is a 15-ounce deal), two cups of broken-up pecans, one and a half cups of dried black currants. Put these in a bowl with a half cup of either bourbon, brandy or rum and let sit so they mellow.

The next day toss in a half cup of flour to coat them.

Cream a half pound of butter (use the real thing, it is worth it) with one and three-fourths cups of sugar. Then separate six eggs whites. Beat until stiff, and carefully fold them in. This is a good sized recipe and will make a number of loaves. Depending on your sizes of pans, it will go a long way. Just be sure all are well greased or have greased waxed paper. Fill them to one inch of the top because all the baking powders, soda and eggs do something chemically and it will all expand.

Once baked they will keep for months in a closely covered container in a dark place and should upon occasion be doused a little with whatever flavor you used in the batter. They can also be frosted with fondant before serving or giving away.

BY NOW YOU SHOULD be completely exhausted but still must face a meal for your family. This is when tuna helper comes in handy. It is not bad at all (stay away from the other version, it is ghastly). It is great for cleaning out your refrigerator. Throw in those six stuffed olives (cut them up a little) that are left in a jar, even a half cut-up cucumber can go in, and those two lone tomatoes which are a little over-ripened. But skin them first. What gives it a really added touch at the last minute to sprinkle some Chinese noodles or fried onions over the top.

This is not really a cheap meal with the price of tuna, but it is considerably less than a steak. There was a time that liver, onions and mushrooms could be our most economical meal. Now the mushrooms have really gone underground and when they do surface, they are fantastic.

Sometimes I stop and wonder where it will all end. We are fast going to be without a lot of things we take for granted today. The day gasoline goes, which it will, has got to change our civilization completely. Even the little things like spices are running out.

We will most likely live it out, but what about our children and grandchildren? Now that we are grandparents, I worry for them.

Betsy Fackler, Toledo, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fackler. She is taking classes in special education at the University of Toledo. She holds a bachelor's degree from the College of Wooster.

Eric Rath, son of the David Rath, Shelby route 3, competing for Cub Scout Pack 41 in the Johnny Appleseed district Olympics at Shelby High school Saturday, won a bronze medal in the standing broad jump.

Golden Buckeye cards for senior citizens are available in Plymouth Branch library and the village utility office.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Smith, Celina, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hawk, New Philadelphia, were weekend guests of their parents, the Ivan Hawks.

Karen Hanline, who is attending Bowling Green State university, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanline.

Mr. and Mrs. William Archer and their family, Cuba, N. Y., visited his mother, Mrs. C. R. Archer, over the weekend.

Mrs. Wanda Lynch, who recently underwent surgery in Cleveland clinic, needs to replace five pins of blood and is requesting that local donors give it in her name.

Next visit of the Bloodmobile to the Willard Junior High school will be Nov. 15.

The Rev. David Root and Mrs. Root, Newton Falls, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. James Root, and attended the Plymouth homecoming game Friday night to see his niece, Shannon, as part of the queen's court.

Independence Chapter, Order of De Molay, is planning a Halloween party on Oct. 31 for youngsters of the village. Details and times will be announced later.
