

Mobile home taxes due

Mobile home owners are reminded of their obligation to register their homes and pay the tax to avoid penalties, loss of work to appear in court, plus fines and court costs by W. Dale Efinger, deputy auditor. As of Jan. 23, over 900 still have not paid their mobile home tax.

Because of the excessive snow and highway conditions, the payment deadline date and time has been extended to noon on Feb. 4.

The auditor's office computed each mobile home tax and mailed the registration certificate to the owner. The certificate also stated it is necessary to present the certificate of title, or memorandum certificate of title at the time of making payment to the Huron county treasurer. Registrants wishing to mail their check, title and pink registration are reminded to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for the return of their title, sticker and paid receipt.

Taxes on mobile homes are calculated in a manner similar to real estate property taxes. The tax rate used is the same millage property owners pay in that district.

Efinger periodically checks throughout the county to inform mobile home owners of registration requirements. All mobile home park managers are required to keep a register of owners, and occupants in their parks. It is their responsibility to report changes to the Huron county auditor's office each month.

Will ambulance service for all be paid on electric bill?

A revolutionary notion was laid before village council during its Jan. 17 meeting.

It was that no one should be required to pay for an ambulance call.

Councilman Ervin Howard suggested the village charge each utility user on his monthly bill a dollar a month for free use of the ambulance service.

Root said this could bring about useless nuisance calls. Howard said that rules and regulations would be laid down to avoid this. The matter is to be studied.

The mayor said she received a bill for the sum of $1,858.32 as the village's share in fighting a rate increase of Ohio Power Co., which the village entered into with 12 other communities that purchase power wholesale from Ohio Power in 1974. She said it was understood at the time that Plymouth's payment of some $300 was a one-time expense and that the city manager of Wapakoneta, who originated it, had left his position and there was no direction after that.

The village will receive $1,347.61 in a refund for overcharges, which the council thought it worth all.

For the first 15 days of January, the police department received 25 complaints, made four traffic arrests, investigated four motor collisions and assisted at three funerals. In seven cases, it assisted other departments. It drove 1,690 miles, using 420 gallons of gasoline.

An effort by Councilman David Howard to preempt the authority of the mayor and at least two other councilmen was knocked in the head Tuesday night.

A warrant signed by Councilman James L. Jacobs, Sr., the senior member of the council, was delivered to the mayor and all councilmen on a Monday, calling for a special meeting on Tuesday to discuss three items: the situation concerning the police chief, problems in the utilities department and the village solicitor's contract.

It was Howard, the clerk reported, who organized the meeting and dictated the agenda.

Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock was at pains to point out that under the provisions of Sec. 731.46 of the Revised Code, the mayor or three members of the council may call a special meeting. Therefore, she said, Tuesday's meeting was not legal.

Accordingly, although Howard specifically directed that the out of town press, but not The Advertiser, be notified of the meeting, presumably so that his remarks could be reported, no roll call was made, the meeting was not officially convened, and no minutes were taken.

The council nevertheless undertook a public discussion of three items.

The mayor did not budge from her stand that she will in time recommend the appointment of a new police chief. Jacobs said he thinks the acting police chief, W. Robert See, may have a conflict of interest

Senate seat to be sought by Borgia

Huron County Sheriff John Borgia confirmed Monday what was rumored for months he will seek election as Ohio senator from the 13th district.

He says he will take nominating petitions at the Lorain county board of elections tomorrow.

Borgia would oppose the incumbent, Ronald Nabakowski, a Lorain Democrat, who acceded to the post by appointment when Donald J. Pease was elected to the Congress.

Borgia has been sheriff for 22 years. He and his wife, Audrey, are the parents of a son and three daughters, one of whom is in college and another in high school.

Reed says enough is enough

HELP WANTED Experienced fiscal manager, to serve as Huron county auditor. Four year term commences March, 1979. Applicant must be citizen of US and of Ohio, year resident in county, 21 or over. Salary $13,760.

Reed, who lives in Willard, was first elected auditor in 1970. His term began in 1971. He was re-elected in 1974 to a term that began in 1975. He is a Republican.

No candidates for the post have surfaced as yet. The primary election is set for June 6. Nominating petitions must be filed Mar. 23.

It will be on Feb. 11 in Elbert Parsel Post 447, American Legion.

Mrs. James D. Cunningham was admitted to Willard Area hospital Thursday.

Joyce Caudill, Shiloh, was admitted Saturday. Louis Lillo, Lois Caudill and Jerry Hartman were released at Willard Saturday.

Shirley Taulbee was released on Friday.

Hydrants open

Plymouth firemen spent Sunday afternoon unclogging fire hydrants covered by the last snow storm and plowing.

They request villagers to keep the hydrants near their property unclogged during future snows.

The Voice of The Advertiser -

Is it enough?

The question of positive identification of a citizen, or even a non-citizen, who seeks to negotiate an instrument, to register to vote or to comply with other aspects of Ohio law has been partly resolved by a bill initiated by Rep. Sherrod Brown (D-Mansfield).

The bill, which took formal effect Jan. 18, enables Ohioans without a driver's license to obtain official state identification. Any Ohioan 18 years of age or more is eligible. Cost of the card is $3, renewable every four years.

This is all well and good for what we presume to be a fairly substantial portion of the population, otherwise the General Assembly in its wisdom wouldn't have passed it and the governor wouldn't have signed it.

But it doesn't go half far enough.

For one thing, neither it nor the driver's license states whether the bearer is an United States citizen. For another, the state motor vehicle bureau tells us that the program to replace all driver's licenses with a new card that bears a likeness of the person to whom it has been issued is not by any means complete. As the old licenses expire, the new ones will issue.

And finally, the card is for persons who don't have a driver's license, which means they can't legally get to the only place of issue in the county -- Huron County AAA club, in Benedict avenue, Norwalk -- unless they walk. Unless and until steps are taken to make the card available to all persons where they are domiciled, we fail to see that any genuinely useful purpose has been served.

$54.40 rate set for taxes during 1978

Huron county taxpayers will settle their 1977 tax bills with the treasurer at rates considerably higher than 1976.

The bills, says the treasurer, John M. Arthur, will be delayed somewhat. Reason: the direct tax for which is computed in Columbus, has just been received. Also, vocational school taxes in adjoining counties were late in arriving.

Tax rate on the Huron county side of Plymouth will be $54.40 for each $1,000 of valuation, an increase of $8.50 over last year.

Reason: $4.50 additional school tax, $3 additional tax for the fire department, $1 additional tax for the cemetery.

Oscar Gowitzka dies at 80 at Shelby

Oscar C. Gowitzka, 80, 87 1/2 Mulberry street, for 40 years a Plymouth businessman and electrical contractor, died in Crestwood Care center, Shelby, Jan. 17.

He had been in failing health a long time.

A stroke of apoplexy robbed him of his speech two years ago.

He served a term as village councilman in the 1960s.

He formerly owned Plymouth Electric, Inc., and specialized in installation of electrical service in elevators.

He was a member of Richland Lodge 201, B.A.M., which conducted Masonic services at M. Quate-Secor Funeral home Thursday evening.

For many years he was a member of First United Presbyterian church here. It was his custom to suit up as Santa Claus and distribute gifts to children at the annual church school Christmas party. After he moved to Florida, he transferred his membership to the Presbyterian church at Maitland.

Born July 24, 1897, at Castilla, he formerly lived in the south side of Trux street.

He is survived by his third wife, Mildred, a daughter, Helen, now Mrs. Robert Spence, Clyde, two sons, Francis, Shiloh, and Harold, Plymouth, two brothers, William and Luther, Castilla, two sisters, Mrs. Clem Duffett, Fremont, and Hazel, Sandusky.

He had 32 great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted from the funeral home Friday at 2 p. m. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery.

Political pot starting to simmer slightly

The political pot is beginning to simmer.

To the surprise of no one, Freeman J. Swank, 52-year-old Democrat who is Richland county commissioner, will seek his party's nomination to succeed its bell cow in the courthouse, Norman L. Wolfe, the veteran auditor who has served in that post longer than anybody in Ohio history. Wolfe has decided to retire.

If no other Democrat comes forward to run in the June 6 primary, Swank would oppose Dale Bricker, the veteran GOP officer who has been director of elections for some years. Bricker must resign that post before Mar. 26, when his nominating petitions must be filed.

Oliver Fairchild's sister dies at 76 at Shelby

Sister of Oliver Fairchild, Mrs. Joseph H. Davis, 68, Shelby, died Thursday morning at her home there of a lengthy illness.

Lo, the red fire truck

The preferred color is now yellow

By AUNT LIZ

And to think, years back when we first moved to Ohio, I felt sorry for our kids that there was never enough snow for them to go sledding or it was not cold enough to freeze, so they could ice skate, which we did in Minnesota from November until March.

I take it all back now. And not being a superstitious person, I am finding myself walking around the house and periodically knocking on the woodwork with the hope that we do not have any broken water lines or power outages. This makes me a strange, strange woman. Most of all, I worry about getting grey hair and wrinkles. Since I have both, I just do my best to think about them any more.

Do you know how the "knocking on wood" deal ever started? I heard it's somewhere. Away back, maybe about the year 1000, people turned to the "happy spirits" for good advice. These spirits lived in trees, so they would knock on the tree to get the spirit's attention, and that is how the knocking on wood for luck started.

Since this has been a real "stay at home week", I caught up with a lot of back reading that had been hoarded up. One thing I came across, which I think is fascinating -- and this makes me more odd ball than ever, is the history of why fire engines have been red for years.

The very first fire engine, built in Cincinnati in 1853, was a dark blue. It was later that they all became a maroon, then a brighter red. Now they are fast becoming a bright yellow, which the experts say is a better color to see at night and in storms, which is really logical. There are something like three big manufacturers of fire equipment that I know about. The biggest is in New York state, and it is now furnishing only 45 per cent red models and 40 yellow. The other 15 per cent is in various colors, mostly white. This company has

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Hutchinson for his visits and consoling words, all the wonderful friends and neighbors for all their cards, food and removing the snow, McQuate-Secor for its services. It was greatly appreciated. Thanks and God bless each and every one.

Mrs. Dean Hall and family 26p recently filled an order from Saudi Arabia and they are all yellow vehicles.

I can see the yellow deal, but it is kind of sad for all those little boys every Christmas morning who will not have a bright red fire engine. Such things are not so popular now as they were when our kids were little. Then that was the nicest thing any little boy could have. They loved them.

None of us can live in the past, but sometimes I wish it would partly come back.

This is a real today recipe. Years back, you would not have had the handy things to make it with. It is a special stew. Start with a casserole, put in about two pounds of beef stew pieces. Then add a can of cream of mushroom soup and a package of onion soup mix and a half cup of either red or white wine. Mix it up, cover tightly, and cook at 325 degrees in the oven for four hours. No peeking or you defeat the steaming process. Meanwhile, cook some vegetables on top of the stove to add when it is finished.

This is a real old fashioned recipe because we have had graham crackers for so long. Fix up a 10-inch pie pan with the cracker mix. They melt four ounces of unsweet-ened chocolate in a double boiler, add a third of a cup of coffee, a third of a cup of sugar and a fourth of a cup of milk. Cook over slow heat, stirring until it thickens. Pour in the crust and cool. Then add a recipe of boiled custard. Chill again and serve with whipped cream.
