Determination is forte of Mike Berberick, 12th grader, who plays in Big Red back court. He's scored 46 points in four outings, faces big weekend with teammates in opposing Loudonville in league play there tomorrow and Lucas here Saturday.

Pinata

Tammy Tash was one of members of Junior Girl Scout Troop 119 who took stab at pinata made of papier mache and filled with goodies during annual Yule party Monday. Girls carolled around the town, then went to home of Miss Linda Hollenbaugh for hot chocolate. Party and gift exchange took place in United Methodist church.

Mounting a pinata is a Mexican custom at Yuletide. There were three of them, each made by the girls.

Council's hands tied

Minor matters also occupied village council Dec. 5. The council realized its hands are tied over a trailer, which has adequate space as required with two, also owned by the same person. A West High street resident asked permission to move a trailer in while he rebuilt a house destroyed by fire. He apparently changed his mind about building.

Councilmen were reluctant to accept the monthly report of the mayor's court because they did not have copies for themselves. Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock said they were free to obtain one from the clerk but she thought it was a great waste of paper to be making copies of so many things. Taylor thought not and his motion to require a copy be made for each councilman each month carried. The total turned over to the village was $211 with $18 to the state treasurer for traffic violations. Donald Vanderpool reported the Plymouth ambulance made five runs in the village and one in Plymouth township during November. It drove 110 miles and used 22 gallons of gasoline.

Rein given to Caudill by Masons

Herbert Caudill was installed Dec. 4 as worshipful master by Richard Lodge 201, F&AM. Willis Hughes, Ada Lodge 341, was installing officer. Howell Caudill, Sager Lodge 513, Lafayette, was installing marshal. Other officers are Bernard A. Garrett, senior warden; Max Caywood, junior warden; John T. Dick, treasurer; Norman B. McQuown, secretary; Wayne H. Strine, chaplain; G. Thomas Moore, senior deacon; Carl Armstrong, junior deacon; Harvey Robinson, junior steward; Robert A. Lewis, tyler; Wallace H. Redden, trustee; and Robert Fogleson, lodge education officer. Thirty members, wives and families of officers attended.

Three cards

Not one, nor two but three birthday cards were delivered to Dalton F. McDougal, former fire chief of the village, for his 80th anniversary Dec. 5. What made them so exceptional is that they came from President Jimmy Carter.

Shilohan dies at 69

Marshall Clabaugh, 69, Shiloh, died in Licking County Memorial hospital at Newark Dec. 5. He was ill with cancer. Born in Bedford, Pa., July 14, 1909, he lived in or near Shiloh for 62 years. He was retired from Ohio Brass Co. at Mansfield, where he was a boiler fireman. He was a member of FOEagles, Wilard. He was a widower. He is survived by two daughters, Wanda, now Mrs. Charles McCormick, and Peggy, now Mrs. Winfrey Prater, both of Newark; four sons, Daniel G., Pocomokey City, Md.; Kenneth L., Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; Ronald E., Newark, and Jeffrey L., Milwaukee, Wis.; two brothers, Stanley, Los Angeles, Cal., and Rutherford, Columbus; two sisters, Mrs. Verna Levy, Mansfield, and Mrs. Leona Short, Moraga, Cal.; 11 grandchildren and one great-granddaughter. The Rev. Arthur Hamman, Shiloh Community Gospel church, conducted services at Shelby Saturday at 11 a. m. Burial was in Mansfield Memorial park.

Milk price to rise 3¢ for all pupils, adults

Price of milk to pupils and adults using the school cafeterias was advanced three cents a carton by Plymouth Board of Education Monday night.

Pupils will pay 10 cents a carton, effective Jan. 2. Adults will pay 18 cents a carton. Reason for the raise, price of milk was set too low in August, when bids were received, and there have been escalations in prices charged by suppliers, in accordance with the terms of their bids.

Larry Wallace, a custodian, was terminated on recommendation of the superintendent. He has been on sick leave, complaining of a recurring back injury, and his sick leave was extended to Dec. 1. He failed to communicate with the school administration and termination was approved.

Angela Refett, a pupil, was engaged as a National Youth Corps cleaner in the high school. She becomes the fifth such pupil. Becky Morris, Shiloh route 1, was hired as substitute bus driver.

Mrs. Jewell Justice was employed as substitute cleaner, to work four hours a day.

one in the high school and three in Plymouth Elementary school.

The Arthur Jacobson, having moved to Ladow road, New Haven township, which is in Willard School district, asked by letter that their son, Douglas, be permitted to finish the 12th grade here. This was acceded to, subject to the acquiescence of Willard schools.

Plymouth schools will pay $127.37 a month for each of three pupils attending Mansfield schools as handicapped children. Last year the rate was $114.32.

Five pupils of the schools are attending private schools, by choice of their parents. Two are in Mansfield, two are in Celeryville and one is in Shelby. The board approved payment of $85.34 to the parents of each of them in lieu of furnishing of public transportation.

Cash bonuses and gifts of government bonds went to employees of New Haven Supply Co. for the 30th consecutive year during the annual Yule party at Bucyrus Dec. 8.

Missy and Rhonda McDougal, Belinda McQuillen, Shawna Meade, Angie Oney, Kimi Reno, Kim Stephens, Tracy Tash, Renee Taylor and Jenny Young.

The other troop, 106, which is led by Mrs. Richard Paulo and Mrs. Margaret Chase, has the following members who worked on the decorations: Nancy Beverly, Jenny Burkhalter, Lori Caudill, Jenny and Kathy Chase, Sue Connolly, Rachel DeLombard, Rhonda Endicott, Valerie Johnson, Also, Tracie Kammann, Amy Luser, Jennifer Lawrence, Amy McClure, Diana Nickles, Laura Paulo, Traci Reinhardt, Katrina Riedinger and Tina Tackett.

of the three buildings. Big Red Boosters club by letter thanked the board for its loan of the elementary school cafeteria for the annual turkey dinner, which produced slightly more than $800 for athletic purposes.

Two ranges, a steam kettle, a dishwasher and a meat chopper attachment will be purchased for the cafeterias and a van will be bought to transport food between the Plymouth Elementary cafeteria for slightly more than $12,000, the board was told. The state will reimburse 75 per cent of the costs. Owing to an emergency, formal bid procedures were suspended.

Leave set for staff

To afford its staff annual leave, and in accordance with its custom, the newspaper will not be published during the last week of the year.

The annual Christmas issue will be mailed Dec. 20. It will be dated Dec. 21. Businesses and professional persons wishing to insert greetings may telephone the business office until noon on Monday.

What if it snows? ARC announces preparations to cope with blizzard or other disaster

Another hard winter coming? Firelands chapter, American Red Cross, doesn't know but is organizing for the worst. Plymouth is one of seven such areas within Huron county prepared. The Rev. John H. Hutchison, Jr., volunteer disaster chairman, reminds villagers, as well as those residing outside the corporation limits, certain measures will be taken by him as well as other local volunteers in case of a repeat of last year's blizzard or any other type disaster. These measures have been coordinated with the safety forces and other officials in order to insure proper channels for maintaining services of these groups, such as police, fire and emergency squad.

The following procedures are to go into effect in event of disaster:

1. Those available volunteers who are members of the disaster site valuation committee will report for instructions to the disaster chairman, the Rev. Mr. Hutchison or Tom Reno or Robert A. Lewis, at the United Methodist church. If necessary these members will determine and evaluate the disaster area and report to the chairman or acting chairmen. These same volunteers are to stand by for additional help or in preparing a shelter to receive individuals who may be injured or homeless. 2. The chairman will compile reports and evaluations and forward them to the American Red Cross office. 3. A decision will then be made as to the need to open and prepare a shelter or shelters and which one or ones will be used. Three are currently planned to be used when and if needed. They are, in priority, Plymouth High school building, the Plymouth Elementary school building and the American Legion building. Backups for these will be the local church buildings.

Richard L. Horton is the volunteer disaster site chairman for the village and shelter manager for the high school. His responsibility is to alert the other shelter managers if their shelter is to be activated as well as beginning the preparations for opening the shelter(s).

5. Once a shelter(s) has been selected other volunteers who have received training from the ARC will assume responsibility for activities within the shelter or in Committees working in the shelter(s) will include transportation, feeding, food supply, shelter communications, first aid, medical needs and other services. Additional volunteers may be needed to assist the trained personnel and those wishing to help should report to the shelter manager to be directed to the area where they may be of the greatest help.

6. The disaster committee and a communications center will be in the village offices (if usable). The emergency telephone for the ARC locally will be 687-4331 (listed under clerk's office in telephone book). Calls to police, fire or ambulance service are to be placed at their regular telephone numbers. Official information will be released only from and through the headquarters via press, telephone or radio communications. Persons seeking information must come in person to headquarters as the telephone will be limited to emergency calls only. Two additional means of communication will be used in the event of a disaster. A CB base is available in the police office and ARC radio emergency network will be used to relay needs to the ARC Firelands chapter.

"We realize that our planning is contingent on many factors," the Rev. Mr. Hutchison says. "What type of a disaster occurs, the damage done, and who is available to help when the need is there, for example. These are questions we have. However, in the light of last winter's experience we know there are many who will respond to help others. The disaster committee is comprised of nearly 30 individuals who will make every effort to work together for the good of the village. We assume that there are others of like mind who will help when they are needed. Our wish is that we will not be needed but we stand ready."

Date pinwheels once again: a Yule cookie to savor!

By AUNT LIZ

'Tis the time to hole up in your kitchen every spare moment you have for the next couple of weeks and make those holiday favorites that every family has.

Date pinwheels may not be too Christmasy, but they taste good any time and they are the one thing we have two batches of. They can be extremely tasty when dunked into something tasty, like even milk since they do harden after being baked.

Start with eight ounces of dates chopped up, add one-half cup of water. Cook while stirring until it thickens.

While it is cooling, you can add about a half cup of fairly small nut pieces, but they are not necessary. Nuts are beginning to behave like caviar, price-wise, lately, so think twice about them.

Then you mix two cups of flour with a half of a teaspoon each of salt and baking powder and a fourth of a teaspoon each of cinnamon and cloves.

Have this ready. Then cream a half cup of shortening with a cup of brown sugar. Beat in one egg and a teaspoon of vanilla. Add the dry things, roll our in a rectangle. Spread the date mixture and roll up like a jelly roll. Wrap in wax paper and chill so that it will slice nicely.

Bake at 375 degrees for 10 minutes or so. They will be soft when they come out of the oven, but do harden quickly.

This is one recipe we not double because it is simply too hard to mix it all up, so we have two bowls going for a single recipe, which is easier than doing two batches separately.

THEN THERE IS A NEW holiday recipe which was in an advertisement in a magazine. It is rated "PG", which is very right, it seeks and should only be served at the rate of one every six hours.

It is a new version of brandy balls. I really do consider them as real food; we kind of use them as a fun thing for people who drop in over the holidays.

Start with a 13½-ounce package of graham cracker crumbs. Add a cup of powdered sugar, a fourth of a cup of cocoa, a half cup of finely chopped nuts (use pecans), a fourth of a cup of light corn syrup, a third of a cup each of brandy and orange liqueur, which can be Triple Sec, which is not too expensive and perhaps you can share it with a neighbor. Mix well, then let it sit for maybe an hour so it dries a little. Roll into balls.

This also the time you will have relatives and friends for special dinners, and this makes a nice dessert.

It is a recipe which has been around the countryside for years because it comes from one of the best caterers in the state.

Gather up a cup of brown sugar, a half cup of sauterne, a fourth cup of cider vinegar, 15 whole cloves, two sticks of cinnamon, and a little pinch of curry powder.

Put it together in a sauce pan and heat thoroughly. In a casserole combine eight drained chick peas halves, and eight of pears, at least 16 dethawed canta-loupes balls and one can of drained pineapple chunks.

Pour the sauce over the fruits, chill over night and the next day carefully pick out all those 15 cloves, which isn't too much of a chore.

It is not exactly a dietetic dessert, but with a couple cookies, anyone will be conned into the fact it is less caloric than one large piece of cake or pie.

If you are a part of a group of happy friends who dream up a "progressive dinner", which is great for everyone and easier on each hostess, ask to do the first course. Along with some of store bought dips with various crackers and vegetables, throw in a hot canape, which will work like a dream on a cracker or whatever you have.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Paddock, 3rd, and their infant daughter, Murray, Ky., will arrive Wednesday to pass the Yule holiday with his parents, the A. L. Paddocks, Jr., 78 Plymouth street. They will be joined on Dec. 26 by his sister and brother-in-law, the Tracy L. Hettricks, and their infant daughter, LaFabra, Cal. The younger Paddocks intend to fly to Dallas, Tex., to witness the annual Cotton Bowl game on Jan. 1, when the University of Houston meets the University of Notre Dame.

Cook up a pound of ground beef with a half cup of chopped onions and once-minced clove of garlic. When the beef is lightly browned and the onions look tender, pour off any excessive grease. Add to it an eight-ounce can of tomato sauce, a fourth cup of catsup, a teaspoon of sugar and a fourth teaspoon of oregano (so kitchen can exist without that stuff).

Cover and simmer this for maybe 12 minutes. You must time this for your guests, this can be done while they are taking off coats. Then throw in an eight ounce package of cream cheese—room temperature—and a third cup of grated Parmesan. When the cheese melts and blends in, you are ready to start spreading it all out.

Why Crestview won

Crestview won in second half here Friday because it contained Plymouth's Jeff Ream, who was double teamed, and kept Ron Schuller off the boards. Here, Dan Kuhn, No. 40, and Fred Stimpert, No. 22, hold off the redoubtable Ream, who nevertheless scored 23 points to lead both teams.

Matmen manage to tie Roughriders

Plymouth wrestlers opened their dual meet season Dec. 5 with Western Reserve and emerged with a 36 to 36 tie. Stimpert (P) pinned Kump (P), 3:45. 105-lb.: Moorman (P) pinned Cammarn (W), 4:55. 112-lb.: Brobauer (W) pinned Sloan (P), 3:57. 119-lb.: Daron (P) pinned Osborne (W), 1:00. 126-lb.: Grys (W) pinned J. Messer (P), 3:03. 132-lb.: D. Miller (P) def.

Musser (W), 6 to 4. 138-lb.: Blankenship (P) pinned Moleky (W), 5:47. 145-lb.: Wheeler (P) def. Bennett (W), 11 to 8. 155-lb.: Lauch (W) pinned J. Miller (P), 3:55. 167-lb.: Grosswiler (W) pinned Barrer (P), 1:07. 175-lb.: Fashing (W) pinned Shepard (P), 5:50. 185-lb.: M. Messer (P) pinned Kendrick (W), 14 sec. Hwt.: Lewis (P) won by default over Skinner (W).

Cougars too much!

A bit slow in warming up to the task, a determined Crestview quintet blew Plymouth from the floor in the second half here Friday and walked away with an 81 to 56 victory in Johnny Appleseed conference play.

The Big Red led at half-time, 32 to 29. But the Cougars scored the first eight points in the third quarter and never looked back in storming to a crushing defeat. They did it with sensational shooting in the final 16 minutes, led by Fred Stimpert, who scored 18, and Ron Schuller, who scored 19. Crestview's shooting performance was 24 of 35.

Plymouth was limited to 18 field goals in 48 attempts, only 23 of which were in the last half. The Big Red fired 20 of 29 free throw attempts. Once again, the third period was a disaster. The Big Red scored only six points, on three field goals, and got off just 12 shots.

Jeff Ream kept Plymouth in the fore during the first 16 minutes, when he scored 18 points, on seven field goals and four free throws. But he was pretty well contained in the second half.

Where the Cougars excelled was in keeping Ron Schuller off the boards. He got off just two shots in the entire first half and scored just one point. He wound up with 11.

Plymouth's tendency to err cost it dearly in the third period, when the Big Red committed 10 turnovers - it made 37 errors all night - and couldn't shoot better than 25 per cent accuracy.

Neither did the Big Red rebound well. Crestview hustled 39 caroms off the boards, Plymouth only 29.

Coach Keith Diebler changed his starting lineup and for half of the game it seemed he would turn out to be a genius. But his bench did not come through and aside from Ream, nobody did well enough to carry the offense.

One Plymouth player was ejected in the final period. John Bond scored 16 for the Cougars.

There were nine visitors who scored, all told. In Stimpert and Stimmell Coach Jon Daup, a Plymouth alumnus, was two of the finer players in the league.

Whatever it is that Daup says or doesn't say to his players in the locker room during the halftime, Diebler ought to buy some of it and use it here. Plymouth's third period performances have not so far been up to standard.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Elton Robertson

HO HO
Just what it is they are referring to when they speak of "The High Priced Spread?" Understand. Pete Rose is going to loan the U.S. Government enough to make it through '78. Received "sales" catalog. Only thing in it I could see on sale was peanuts regularly $1.25 for 89¢!
Near as I can tell from the media, Christmas starts in August! At least in the stores. Troubled with dry skin? After hearing this for 1,000 times I put on grease. Kinda hard to stay in bed, though.
How do they know in these pet feed commercials that it is tasty and delicious? Whoever tells you how to cook a 3 minute egg must have been using pullet eggs (or eggs at room temperature). Try taking a large egg out of the 'frig and poke a small pin-sized hole in the large end, drop it in that bubbly stuff and pull it out after 5 minutes (for hard-boiled eggs, remove pan from fire and let sit 9 minutes before removing).
HAPPY HOLIDAYS!
