

Leak repaired

Commotion at east end of Square early this week was caused by repair of gas line in front of Plymouth Laundromat. Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., during routine inspection found a leakage and excavated to repair it. Work was completed Tuesday afternoon, much to dismay of schoolboys who stood by watching.

Four of village staff strike for higher pay

Four village employees walked off the job on strike Thursday morning in the second work stoppage in history by municipal workers.

Peaceful picketing occurred in front of the village hall but employees were not permitted to display strike posters on the building itself, nor on village vehicles.

They said they would respond to emergency calls and indeed did so during the high winds Thursday night that caused power outages in Trux street, where a transformer caught fire and was dealt with by the fire department.

Their unhappiness derived from what they said is failure of the village council to enact a pay raise. Workers who struck were Terry Jump, electric superintendent; James Neely, street supervisor, and his crew. James Holman and Theodore Brown.

Jump said they asked for a 10 per cent pay increase, life insurance, dental insurance and time and one-half for overtime work.

A special council meeting was called for Saturday at 10 a. m. by Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock. Only four members appeared.

Because Councilman Michael R. Taylor, who did most of the legwork in preparing the village's offer to the employees, could not attend, the others did not choose to proceed with a new pay ordinance.

It was agreed in executive session that Taylor and his colleagues on the negotiating committee, Councilman Ervin Howard, would meet with the employees Monday night. This meeting took place.

Meanwhile, the council session, which Councilman G. Thomas Moore could not attend until Tuesday night.

After the employees met with the committee at 6 p. m., the village council reconvened its recessed meeting at 7:30 p. m.

After the meeting was called to order by Mayor Elizabeth G. Paddock, Village Administrator James C. Root approached her and said the employees wished to have a new negotiating committee appointed.

Plymouth's contract expired last year, and the mayor suggested it would be a wise move for the village to join with the others in an attempt to obtain a contract that is beneficial to the users.

The second item she broached was the use of the council room by Ervin Howard for his labor negotiations with Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc.

She said that when Howard asked her for the use of the room, she did not hesitate to agree since it was a public building. Later, she said, she had received several complaints from citizens of the village who do not think this was proper. Mrs. Paddock suggested that Howard inquire about the use of the meeting room in the school administration building. Nevertheless, the council by motion gave approval to Howard's use of the room.

Root objected to this by saying that anyone can have access to any village files and materials that are not locked in a safe.

Then having finished two items on the agenda, the mayor said "the time has come to deal with the negotiations with the employees."

Taylor immediately asked for an executive session. The mayor said she wished to avoid another such session and that any conversation should be in the open. She was overruled, and the council went into an executive session.

At the conclusion of the session, the village employees were invited back into the council meeting and informed that the council was in agreement with what the committee had suggested to them earlier.

Terry Jump, spokesman for the employees, said the village is offering enough money and that the proposed fringe benefits really do not count and that the offer amounted to a "cut in pay."

Taylor was firm in his reply to Jump and said the council had agreed to the offer and that they would meet again Monday at 5 p. m.

Methodists to mark Easter

Easter Sunday will be celebrated by Methodists at the regular hour of 9:30 and 11 a. m. in Shiloh and Plymouth, respectively.

Special music will be provided by Miss Maurine Motel on the organ, accompanied by the organ or piano. Additional music will be sung by Mrs. G. Deming Seymour, piano, and Mrs. Alan Chandler, organ, in the Shiloh church and by Mrs. John H. Hutchison, Jr., piano, and Mrs. Willard Rose, Se. organist, in the Plymouth church.

Also, in Plymouth, the church, junior and the adult choir will present Pasa! music.

During the service the annual Lenten-Easter sacrificial offering, the Joab bags, will be received. The brief form of holy communion will be used for those unable to be present at Maundy Thursday observance of communion.

James resigns -

Four administrators, 22 teachers rehired

Four administrators and 22 teachers received new contracts from Plymouth Board of Education Monday night.

No administrator or teacher with an expiring contract was turned down.

One teacher absent for a year on maternity leave was reinstated and another asked for and got a year's leave of absence for maternity reasons. A veteran teacher resigned, as of Apr. 6, not without some rancor by the board.

Four year contracts were authorized, on recommendation of the county superintendent, for Douglas Stagg, administrative assistant; Richard L. Horton, high school principal; Edward M. Kinsel, junior high school principal, and Mark Sheely, Plymouth Elementary school principal.

Mrs. Timothy Redden, nee Susan Smith, whose mother is a general teacher on the staff, was accorded a continuing contract, bringing to 25 the number of teachers with life tenure here.

Four year contracts were authorized for Gertrude Backensto, Doris Chandler, Carrie Kissar, Keith Johnson, Margaret Sloan, Ethel Briggs, Eliza Fugate, Jeanette Hamilton, John Hart and Cathy Williams.

Mrs. Eric J. Akers, who has been on maternity leave, asked for reinstatement. She received a two year contract, with a salary of $11,000.

Other two year contracts went to Molly Heck, David Sotora, Alice Krebs and Dorothy Olewiler.

One year agreements were authorized for John Conklin,

Donna Janovich, Deborah Poling, Paula Kessler, Kathy Knowles and Barbara Schmadan.

Debra Pruner was told she can have a one year contract when she completes her certification.

Lack of federal funds is likely to mean that Mrs. Paul McClintock will not be re-engaged as remedial reading teacher.

Robert W. James, business education teacher who has been here nine years, resigned abruptly. He asked to be released Apr. 16. Supt. John Fazzini recommended he be released as of Apr. 6, with the understanding that if his replacement does not succeed in the classroom, the board take steps to revoke James's teaching certificate.

James said he plans to enter business.

Huron county board of elections was accorded authority to move the polling place from Mr. Pizzo to Charles Rhine armory.

Four days lost because of bad weather will not need to be made up, the board ruled.

The dates of Jan. 17 and 24 and Feb. 26 and 27 were certified as calamity days to the state department.

Mrs. Carol Knapp, a first grade teacher, was accorded maternity leave for one year.

Keith Diebler was assigned as assistant baseball coach.

Mileage payments to administrators and teachers on official business will be raised to 20 cents a mile, effective May 1.

School furniture will be purchased and roofs repaired without bids, the board ruled.

on Fazzini's recommendation, because there is insufficient time to solicit bids.

James Hawk was hired as substitute bus driver.

A basketball camp for pupils in grades five through 10, to be conducted by the varsity staff, will begin June 25 and close July 7. Fees $35 per pupil. The first 80 boys and the first 80 girls will be enrolled.

Parent volunteers to assist in Plymouth Elementary school were approved. These are Mmes. Roy Barber, Richard Paulo, Frank Berks, Willard Osborne, Edgar Fletcher, Bill Young, Michael Christoff, Earnest Martin, Phyllis Taylor and Norman Burton.

A school calendar for 1979-80 was adopted.

It calls for classes to begin Aug. 29 (teachers will report Aug. 27) and to close on June 4, 1980.

School will be recessed on Sept. 3, Labor day; Oct. 5, in-service training; Nov. 22 and 23 for Thanksgiving; Dec. 22 to Jan. 2 for Christmas; Jan. 21 for Martin Luther King day, Feb. 18 for Presidents' day, Mar. 31 through Apr. 7 for Easter and May 26 for Memorial day.

If calamity days must be made up, priority will be assigned to Presidents' day, first, spring holiday exclusive of Good Friday, second, and after June 4, third.

Punch card vote system on display

The new punch card system of balloting adopted by Richland county board of elections will be demonstrated at the fire house in Shiloh Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Public is invited to this event sponsored by the auxiliary, Garrett-Riest Post 503, American Legion.

Cancer drive to start here

Annual Cancer Crusade will be conducted here from tomorrow through Apr. 30.

Mrs. Roy W. Carter and Mrs. Stanley E. Condon are in charge.

Four hurt in crash in Rt. 61

A Willard couple and their two small children were taken to Willard Area hospital Apr. 3 about 7:30 p. m. by the Plymouth ambulance for treatment of injuries received in a two-car collision at Sandusky and North streets.

The injured were the Randy I. Rowe family.

Rowe was driving south in Sandusky street when Robert Baker pulled out of North street and hit the Rowe van.

Baker was charged by the Plymouth police with failure to yield the right-of-way and driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Egg roll set here Sunday

Sixth annual egg roll sponsored by Independence Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will take place in Mary Fete park Sunday at 3 p. m. weather permitting.

Children of pre-school age through sixth grade are invited to participate. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of the gold and silver eggs in the pre-school category, grades kindergarten through three, and grades three through six.

Reams capture intruder after early-hour scare

The Reams told this story:

A noise was heard in the staircase. Byron Reams was awakened and he addressed the noise. At the time he saw a husky man making his way up the stairs. He warned the man not to proceed farther. The man said, "You invited me here and I'm coming up."

The man got to the eighth step from the bottom when Reams cocked his weapon.

At this point, the Reams' young son, Jeffrey, an 11th grader in Plymouth High school, asked the man if his name were not Sherman. He was told that it was Jeffrey. Then he asked the man where his brother was. He was told the brother was "at the bottom of the stairs."

Conley was taken to Huron county jail, where he was later freed on $1,500 bond, to await action by a grand jury.

Voter registration deadline set; only one issue on ballot

Deadline for registering to vote in the June 5 primary and special election is Saturday, May 6, at noon.

Any person wishing to register must be a native born or naturalized citizen of the United States, at least 18 years of age by the Nov. 6 general election, and a resident of Ohio for 30 days prior to the day of the election.

Seventeen-year-olds who will be 18 by the November election may register and will be permitted to vote on candidates, but not on issues, at the June 5 election.

Any qualified person may apply for registration forms on the board of elections in person, by mail, by telephone or through another person.

Any registered resident of the county may apply for registration forms at the day of the election in the precinct in which he is aware of and will comply with the law, and go out and register people or distribute the forms. Completed forms must be returned to the office by the closing date of registration.

Registered electors who have changed their residence prior to the May 6 deadline must notify the board of elections in person, or in writing, including the written signatures of each elector concerned, prior to the day of registration. Registered electors who move from one precinct to another in the same county or from one county to another within 30 days prior to the election may vote at the next succeeding election in the precinct from which they moved, where they were legally registered. Change of residence forms, in these cases, will be available at the voting precinct on the day of the election.

When registered electors change their names, they shall report the change to the board of elections. However, these electors may vote under their former names at the next election occurring after the change, but only in the precinct in which they are legally registered. Thereafter they shall not qualify to vote until the report has been made.

Richland county residents may register at the office of the county board of elections in the courthouse at Mansfield.

High school pupils may register in the office of the principal.

The Voice of The Advertiser -

The work stoppage

It is too bad that some village employees resorted to work stoppage to gain a dubious victory.

A pay raise was already in process. That it did not move faster can be attributed, in part, to the fact that those negotiating it for the village are new to the task. One of them has less than a year of experience as councilman.

A wise American once argued for "open covenants openly arrived at". Hardly anybody knew the total demands of the employees as laid down before the salary committee. Those on the public payroll owe it to their employers - the public - to speak out, to spell out what they want, and to permit the public to have its rightful input.

The Easter story

But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they went to the tomb, taking the spices which they had prepared.

And they found the stone rolled away from the tomb, but when they went in they did not find the body.

While they were perplexed about this, behold, two men stood by them in dazzling apparel; and as they were frightened and bowed their faces to the ground, the men said to them, "Why do you seek the living among the dead? Remember how he told you, while he was still in Galilee, that the Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and on the third day rise."

And they remembered his words, and returning from the tomb they told all this to the eleven and to all the rest.

Fifth graders prevail in fourth tourney

Fifth grade Vikings came up through the losers' bracket to win the Plymouth Band Parents' tourney Saturday, defeating Jimmy's Cafe, Mansfield, 27 to 19.

It was the fourth tourney victory of the season for the Vikes, who wound up the year with a 27-and-2 slate.

On Friday night, in the semi-finals, the Vikings trimmed Jimmy's Cafe by a 40 to 26 count. Steve Hall scored 14 points.

Sixth graders bowed out of the tourney on Friday, meeting defeat at the hands of Mansfield Celtics, 45 to 25.

They ended the season with a 25-and-7 record. They were runners-up in the Friendly House league and won second place in two of the tourneys in which they were entered.

Celtics went on to win the hardware here. Mansfield AFL/CIO was second. Plymouth third.

Annual basketball banquet of the Vikings will be served Thursday in Eshel-Parsel Post 447, American Legion.

Davis a winner

A 1977 alumnus of Plymouth High school who excelled in basketball, golf and tennis is an important cog in the University of Akron tennis team.

He is Robert M. Davis, younger son of the James C. Davises, who helped the Zips defeat Ashland college 5 to 0

Sunday.

With his parents looking on, young Davis played No. 5 singles and defeated Gary Dougherty, 6-2, 6-2. Later he teamed with Dan Davis in No. 3 doubles and won nandany, 6-1, 6-0.

Davis is a sophomore.

Boosters ailing; Why?

By THE OLD TIMER

Hard after the announcement that the booster organization at South Central is in deep trouble and likely to disband comes word that all of the officers of Crestline's booster club have quit, as the end of March.

Crestline has had an active booster organization for many years and it seemed to do a good job. The president, in a public letter, complained that most of the work was left to George - and his name is Paul. What he was getting at is that less than a handful of adults participated in the booster organization. Nobody will continue to serve very long as an officer of such an organization - and it makes little difference whether the organization's aim is to foster athletics, instrumental music, kids' baseball, or whatever - if he has to shoulder the burden himself.

We tried it, for one season. The first kids' summer baseball program was organized here in 1955. There were four teams: the Reds, the Cubs, the Braves and the Pirates. The managers were Donald E. Akers, Guy Cunningham, Jr., James C. Davis and the late James Ryan. One person organized the teams, recruited the coaches, paid for the equipment, bailed the village out of the expense of the lights (what wasn't contributed when he passed the hat, that is) and bought the first uniforms (with help from an old friend, David William Jump).

Picking up the pieces at 10:30 p. m. and then taking kids home was a little too much for a fellow with a young family. Once he took a player to his home in Fenner road. The house was dark. The boy said he knew where the key was but couldn't reach it. So the fellow got the door. Then he opened the door.

"Are you going to be all right now?" he asked.

The boy said, "Yeah, but who's gonna say my prayers with me?"

So the fellow trudged up the stairs, helped the boy get into his pajamas, knelt by the bed while he said his "Now I lay me," went downstairs, locked the door and got home to an indignant wife at 11:20 p. m.

One season of that is enough.

Another time the same fellow undertook to be Cubmaster. There were no den members except Willy, so he prevailed (?) upon her to be

GTE

Newest sport: carp, then find whom to blame

By AUNT LIZ

With all the problems our happy country is having right now, there has developed a new indoor sport, a real game.

Name the problem, then find who is to blame. Some of them you can quickly guess at the over-usage of gasoline can be laid to those nice, beautiful large cars; the price of beef going sky high can be laid to the raisers of cattle, whom I firmly suspect are not selling what they have produced but are being simply smart, and keeping it for their own kitchens. What can be more logical? And can you blame them? Not one bit.

Now our economy has come up with another problem. Ladies are simply not using yarn and other needle-art items like they did back in the 60's, and guess who is being blamed for this? Us grandmothers. They think we have quit making things. The worst part is that they are quite right. I know one grandmother who has made afghans for everyone, rugs and this and that, and that is it. How many of these things can one house use?

Such projects are perhaps a once-in-a-lifetime deal. I remember one lovely grandmother who had something like 12 grandchildren, and one year she made each an afghan for their Christmas gift. They were beautiful. She let each child choose the colors.

Styles come and go. Way back as high school girls we all knitted like mad and would never be caught dead in a store-made sweater. Our mittens were not store-bought and for years I was the official bed sock knitter in our family. In Minnesota you wear such things.

My knitting career continued to the point that our kids started to grow faster than I could knit and that did it. When they were really little, they had every thing home made. They did not know what a real store sock was.

Then the change came, and this is what the big survey I just read about is saying is the big trouble of why most of us are not knitting away. There is simply not the time anymore.

Everyone is out working. How did all this happen?

For years I thought I knew all the answers, and now this has hit me between the eyes. I know the answer, which I do not want to admit. But I really do not quite know why it has happened.

What can be better than a young mother with children staying home to take care of them? Perhaps the couple must live on a smaller budget, but this is what a family means.

You can say I am living in the past, and I am very much so. I grew up with a bridge-playing, tea-drinking mother, but so help me, we had perfect dinners which she did ahead of time and was home to finish them up. Granted, this was long before the day, of frozen dinners.

And I have another silly theory: I think that kids who grow up in a house where either the mother or father (I must give the guy some credit, although I take a very dim view of doing so) can produce a really nice meal, you may not realize it, but the little ones do. They may not say so, but memories live on. AND THIS CAN BE A nice memory.

Care and peel three apples and slice each into three nice slices medium thick. Save what is left and chop it up so you have a cupful. What is left, just munch on or save for a salad.

Then in a square baking dish melt up three tablespoons of margarine (who uses butter anymore? If you have some, it is better), sprinkle it with a half cup of packed-down brown sugar, then put the apple slices over it. They can be lined up in rows of three.

Then mix a half cup of sugar with one egg. In another bowl mix two cups of flour with a teaspoon each of baking soda, cinnamon and ginger and salt. In another bowl combine a half cup of molasses with a half cup of boiling water, add this alternately with the dry things to the egg and sugar mixture. When it is mixed, fold in the apple pieces.

If you are the owner of a nice amount of walnuts, cut up some and toss them in too. It makes it that much better.

Bake it at about 350 for not quite an hour. Invert it out when a little cool, shake it out of the pan.

It is good enough without a topping, but vanilla ice cream piled on carefully, just a dab for each serving, can really make it a prize.

Boosters ailing; Why?

den mother for the whole pack. They both had a ball that year. But once is enough.

Booster clubs survive because there is a continuing cadre of folks who're experienced, or who gain experience. It is intended that these folks shall be, for the most part, parents of players or participants in the program. Others not parents then, or not at all, are certainly welcome. But why is it that John Doe or Mollie Peters will expect their child to have a program to participate in while withholding their services as volunteers?

He who can come up with the correct answer to that question can move into 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C.

But before he does, will he please let us know what the secret is, so that some life can be blown into booster clubs everywhere, including Plymouth, and not just South Central and Crestline?
