20-year water pact signed and sealed

It is signed and sealed! Village council Monday night authorized Mayor Eric J. Akers and Village Administrator James C. Root to sign a 20-year contract with Willard to furnish water to Plymouth.

A third revision of the contract for the water system was gone over with a fine tooth comb, paragraph by paragraph.

Councilman D. Douglas Brumbach, head of the service committee, led the attack on the new contract, with which some councilmen agreed.

Several changes were made. They were readily approved by Paul Capelle, Willard's city manager.

The first point brought up was the ownership of the line north of Skinner road to the Willard water treatment plant.

Councilman G. Thomas Moore said the contract language was vague since Plymouth will finance the line with a $300,000 HUD grant and the borrowing of about $250,000 from Farmers Home administration for a 20-year period.

The mayor explained that the line cannot be transferred to Willard unless FHA agrees because of the loan and the lien it will have on the water line to assure payment.

If the line remains in the name of the Village of Plymouth, Willard will give the village a credit on water usage of $100,000 during a 10-year period.

Brumbach suggested the Ohio Department of Health be put in another paragraph instead of the Environmental Protection agency. His reasoning was the state department would long outlive the present EPA system. Moore disagreed with him.

The biggest stumbling block was who pays for cleaning water lines should a break occur before Plymouth picks up the water on its meter.

Brumbach said it would be necessary to clean the Plymouth lines because of contamination.

Capelle assured the council that should a break occur, the Plymouth meter would be bypassed, which will solve the problem.

The council was in complete agreement that the water meter should be calibrated twice a year and not annually to assure that it is accurately metering the water.

Root and Capelle said that water meters can be accurate if installed properly. Should a problem arise, it is more likely that not all the water passing through the meter would be registered.

It was agreed, however, that Plymouth will reserve the right to request a second testing of the meter if it is thought to be necessary.

Capelle said that Willard will have the sole responsibility for cost of water consumed during the construction period.

Councilman James Holloway asked the mayor not to approve a mobile home park within the village until the Village Planning commission studies it further. The mayor would have the authority, Holloway said, to approve it.

An ordinance covering such an installation was passed about 10 years ago. The commission has not studied it.

A resolution was approved to approve a new three year fire contract with Plymouth township.

The first year will be billed at $7,500 but because the township has paid part of the year, the village will only receive $7,000. The second year will be $8,000 and the third, $8,500.

After 20 calls each call will be billed at $200. There will be a $25 charge for a false alarm.

'77 alumnus killed in motorcycle crash

TERRY SNIPES

A 22-year-old Plymouth High school graduate of 1977 was killed Sunday when his motorcycle struck a pole near Olivesburg as he was returning from a fishing trip at Mifflin.

Terry E. Snipes, 236 Riggs street, was pronounced dead on arrival at Samaritan hospital, Ashland.

He had earlier Sunday purchased a fishing license at Bob's cafe and this was his first fishing expedition of the season.

Born in Willard Nov. 25, 1958, he lived his whole life in or near here.

He was employed by Shelter Globe Corp., Norwalk, and was also engaged in farming.

He is survived by his parents, the James Snipeses, Plymouth route 1; three sisters, Ella, Columbus, and Corinna and Treva, at home; a brother, Timothy, at home; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Elbert Grizzle, Willard, and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Susanne Hughes, Willard. A brother, Paul Gregory, died earlier.

Interment took place here Friday for Marcus A. Tomlinson, 88, Shelby, who died in Memorial hospital there Apr. 22 of a brief illness.

Born in Tiro July 24, 1892, he lived in or near Shelby all his life. He retired as a timekeeper for Ohio Steel Tube Co. after 48 years.

He was a member of First United Methodist church, the Daughters of America and of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

His wife, nee Gertrude Smith, survives.

The Rev. Dr. Henry Sedlack, his minister, conducted the last service.

Shiloh to erect fence at Little league field

A new fence will be erected at the perimeter of Shiloh Little league field before the season begins.

Shiloh's village council so voted Apr. 27.

Parents of players will install the fence. Councilman Charles R. Reeder reported some bids have already been received.

Whether to buy a new truck for the village street department was discussed. Mayor Francis Gowitzka said the present truck is deteriorating rapidly. The council agreed to inquire into costs of a new and a used vehicle.

Who should be responsible for sounding the fire siren to warn of a tornado was discussed. It was agreed the first fireman into the building should do so. Keys to sound the warning have been issued to the sheriff's department and the fire department.

Should an eyecore house in Main street be removed? The council debated how it should proceed.

Amount of chlorine in the village water is excessive, some councilmen said.

Should Scott street be paved? Discussion on the subject produced no consensus.

Three films on sprocket at library

Children's movies scheduled at Plymouth Branch library Tuesday are "Madeline and the Bad Hat," "Dragon Stew" and "Pierre."

In the first film Madeline calls the Spanish ambassador's son Pepito a "bad hat" because of his habit of caging every wild animal he can find. After she succeeds in teaching him a lesson he releases all his captives.

"Dragon Stew" is a fantasy about a king who loves food, a royal cook who never cooks, and a small fat dragon who is to be the main ingredient in a secret recipe.

In "Pierre" a small boy's response to every question, suggestion, or statement is "I don't care!" until an encounter with a lion causes him to change his mind.

The free triple feature will begin at 10 a. m. in the branch library at 21 West Broadway.

Big Red opts to stay put

Plans of the Firelands Conference to enlarge by adding Crestview and Plymouth won't materialize this year.

It's questionable if they'll ever materialize.

Crestview, which issued an emphatic refusal when the invitation was first extended, on the grounds "we don't want to compete against Edison", hasn't altered its position. Plymouth, which had made a commitment to the infant Black Fork Valley conference, was never more than lukewarm about joining the Firelands league.

Supt. Douglas Staggs has now communicated to Firelands management, specifically Robert Werner, New London's high school principal who's president of the Firelands conference, that Plymouth's first obligation is to the BFVC and will continue along that line.

Black Fork Valley invited four Firelands schools, South Central, New London, Black River and Mapleton, and Hillsdale of the Wayne county league to join it. South Central has no intention of moving. New London will stand pat. Black River could be induced to move if Mapleton and Hillsdale join BFVC. Mapleton's board of education has already given permission for the school to resign from the Firelands conference and to join BFVC.

May will be a crucial month. The schools making a move will need to notify their conferences by May 31 so that contracts can be adjusted to allow the moves to take place at the beginning of the 1982-83 athletic year.

Boys last, girls sixth in Mapleton meet

Big Red track and field squad managed five points Saturday and finished last among 10 schools in the annual Mapleton Invitational.

Lucas won with 92½. There followed Crestview with 79, Black River with 62, South Central with 51½, St. Mary's Central Catholic with 51, St. Paul's with 49, Mapleton with 31½, Monroeville with 21½, Northwestern with 11 and Plymouth.

Big Red scoring:
440-yard relay team, fifth, 48.8 secs.;
Jim Will, fifth, pole vault, 10 ft. 6 ins.

Girls' team finished sixth with 32½, trailing the winner, Black River at 72½, South Central at 68, Crestview at 61½, St. Paul's at 47½ and Northwestern at 43. Behind the Big Red were Monroeville at 30, Mapleton at 28, Lucas at 26 and St. Mary's Central Catholic at 25.

Plymouth scoring:

Ninth grader pitches victory

Margaretta scored three runs on one hit in the fifth inning at Castalia Monday and defeated Plymouth for the second time this season, 3 to 0.

Plymouth was limited to one safety, a bunt single by Bill Hudson in the seventh.

Marty Carty was the victim of the Polar Bears in this one.

After a leadoff single, Carty issued two walks. A sacrifice fly scored one run. A stolen base, another sacrifice and a wild pitch and two more runs scored.

The Polar Bears made only three hits.

Line score:

'68 alumnus won 15 games at Worthington

By THE OLD TIMER

A 1968 graduate of Plymouth High school now head basketball coach of Worthington High school completed a dandy 15-and-7 season in March.

He is Jon Daup, elder son of County School Supt. Harold E. Daup and Mrs. Daup.

Shiloh, who learned how to coach from his father, a successful basketball mentor at Shiloh and Plymouth, and in the on-the-job training at Crestview, where he was first reserve and then varsity coach. His Worthington team was ousted by Newark in the district championship.

His younger brother, Jacques, now head basketball coach at South Central High school, is the likely successor to Terry Hunt, who is quitting coaching after 17 seasons. Daup now directs the reserve squad.

Girls draw Chieftains in tourney

Softball team will play Hopewell-Loudon Saturday at noon in the Bettville sectional tournament.

Winner will meet St. Wendelin of Fostoria Wednesday at 4:30 p.m.

Plymouth is drawn in the lower bracket, which also includes Old Fort and Seneca East. Upper bracket teams are New Riegel, Northwood, Bettville and Ottawa Hills.

Boys draw Wildcats in tourney

Plymouth will play New London at Wynford in the Class A sectional tourney Monday at 4 p.m.

The Big Red is drawn in the lower bracket, together with South Central and Buckeye Central.

If Plymouth wins Monday, it will play the winner of the Trojan-Buck contest for the right to advance to the Old Fort district.

Other schools in the Wynford tourney are Crestview, which plays St. Peter's, and Crestline, the No. 1 seed, which plays Lucas.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
The Village of Plymouth has been invited to submit a full application for HUD's Small Cities CDBG Imminent Threat Program in the amount of $300,000. The proposed grant is tentatively earmarked for improvements to the Village of Plymouth Water System by the construction of a finished water transmission main from Willard.

A public hearing will be held May 11, 1981 and again on May 13, 1981 at 6 p.m. at the Village Hall, 25 Sandusky Street, Plymouth, Ohio. The purpose is to provide residents an opportunity to submit their views, and to more fully explain the program.

Please attend the meeting May 11 and/or May 13 and help the village plan this program. 30c
