The Voice of The Advertiser —

Well done, Mr. Craycraft!

It was wise for the board of education to continue what seems to us to have been a successful experiment with the high school principal's discipline system.

The capable administrator said publicly on Aug. 10, "The principal spends 90 per cent of his time with 10 per cent of the pupils." So the precepts he set forth in his discipline report are particularly pertinent.

"All people involved (staff, parents and pupils) must know what is expected of them.

"The people involved must know that they will be supported by the administration and treated fairly.

"The school board must be aware of the program and expect that the policies are being enforced with fairness and good judgment."

That this procedure has value tends to be shown by the data: 90 per cent of the pupils received 15 demerits or fewer, 84 per cent received 10 demerits or fewer, 64 per cent received five demerits or fewer.

The number of offenses dealt with also showed remarkable decreases: fighting, 78 per cent; tardiness, 17 per cent; use of profanity, 40 per cent; misbehavior and insubordination, 24 per cent, to mention but three.

Of course, since the program was in force for one year only, the principal can only compare results of the second semester with those of the first. It is likely that when another full year of results can be examined, there will be even more dramatic comparisons.

No system is perfect. Each new class differs markedly from its predecessor. Ninth graders, for example, in 1980-81 had the worst discipline record: 18.25 per cent of the 126 pupils were suspended at one time or another.

The Saturday school classes, which are chosen by pupil and parent together, were chosen in 66 per cent of the instances where there was an option between them and out-of-school suspensions.

When professional people deal with others in a professional manner, not just sometimes but always, the results invariably show what real professionalism is. We see it here and we all ought to be proud of it.

Legion to stage roast at hall

Annual oct and corn roast of Elfrase Post 447, American Legion, will take place at its grounds in Trux street tomorrow and Saturday.

Vance C. Hoffman, Sr., second vice-commander of the post, is general chairman of the event.

Twelve hundred pounds of beef will go into the pits tonight for serving beginning tomorrow at noon.

Bernard A. Garrett is chairman of the pits and meat committee, James A. Enderby of the beer truck, Raymond Babcock of bingo, Robert Metcalfe of games, Jack Carney of the corn tent, J. Max Fidler of advertising, William L. Van Wagner, the commander, of ticket sales, Mrs. Harvey Robinson of the food committee, Joel Van Loo of woodcutting and Hoffman, Sr., of entertainment.

Showman, a country band, will play tomorrow. Brandy band will play Saturday.

Six seeking three seats on school board

A hot race for three seats on Plymouth Board of Education was assured Thursday, the deadline for filing nominating petitions.

Incumbents Don M. Echelbarger, the Rev. Arthur Hamman and A. George Miller will be opposed by Charles Reinhart, Keith Mowry and Robert Sponseller.

Mayor Dean A. Cline will not be opposed in the race for mayor. He is the only candidate to complete the four year term of Eric J. Akers, who resigned last month.

Three incumbents and two newcomers seek four seats on the village council.

Incumbents G. Thomas Moore, Billy Taubee and Ervin Howard face opposition from Mrs. Terry Jump, 139 Maple street, and Terry Hopkins, 49 Woodland street. At Shiloh, Mayor Francis Gowitzka is in the same situation as Cline here. He is unopposed in an effort to complete a four year term vacated by Mayor Charles Bell.

Only two candidates, both incumbents, seek four seats on Shiloh's village council. These are Frank Cline, father of Mayor Cline, and C. Richard Reeder.

In Plymouth township, the incumbent trustee, Chester Jones, who lives in Hazel Brush road, is opposed by W. Robby Seel, 98, 88, and Mark Fry, Diner road. Two seats are vacant.

Shilohans' kin, Mrs. Hicks dies at Shelby

Mother of Mrs. Madison Hicks and Mrs. Berlyn Hicks, Shiloh, Mrs. Rome Hale, 81, Greenwiche, died in Shelby Memorial hospital Saturday night of a brief illness.

Born in Salversville, Ky., she moved to Greenwiche in 1942. She attended the Baptist church.

Her husband died in 1950. She is also survived by three daughters, Lula, now Mrs. Ishmal Bailey, Prestonsburg, Ky.; Josie, now Mrs. Birtle Bailey, Salversville, Ky.; and Joyce, now Mrs. Bob Jewell, Greenwiche; five sons, Frank, Willard, and Joe, Henry, Clayton and Ishmal, all of Greenwiche; a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Delbert Bailey conducted services Tuesday at 1 p. m. from Noble Road Baptist church. Burial was in Greenlawn cemetery at Greenwiche.

Seven candidates seek two seats as trustees of Bloomington township.

These are Charles Bly and Ollie Wagers, incumbents, and Forest Peters, Paul Barker, Nancy Lewis, Carl Smart and John Low.

Cass township trustees R. Eugene Russell and Francis Snyder have no opposition.

Frank V. Smith and Wilard Baxter, incumbent New Haven township trustees, are unopposed for reelection.

Masons to serve breakfast

Breakfast will be served Saturday by Richmond Lodge 201, F.&AM, from 6:30 until 10 a. m. Public is invited.

Red mangles Monroeville in scrimmage

Hope that Plymouth's football season will rack up some victories this season was strengthened at Monroeville Saturday, when the Big Red took on the Eagles and administered a sound trouncing.

Coach David Coulter's team entered the controlled scrimmage with some question marks, not all of which were resolved. Plymouth will engage Hillsdale here Saturday at 10 a. m. in the final scrimmage of the pre-season training period. Its first game will be in Mary Fite park on Sept. 4, when Buckeye Central comes here.

Coulter has two southpaw quarterbacks to choose from. Jeff Jacobs is the older and more mature player. Rod Hampton comes of a long line of Hamptons who've played for Plymouth — his father and uncles did so, with distinction, for a number of years — and he has an arm on him that delivers the ball with power and distance.

Co-Capt. Scott Harris, Mike McKenzie and Richard Cunningham contributed some meaningful running plays to the Red offense, which nevertheless needs some work on it.

The 1981 squad numbers only 37 players, of whom nine are 12th graders, 11 are 11th graders, 11 are 10th graders and six are ninth graders.

Big game player on the team is Jim Jamerson, who scales in 200 pounds. Junior Adams is five pounds lighter at 195.

Mayor tells how village intends to execute plan

Mayor Dean A. Cline responded Friday afternoon to the five items which the accountants in charge of the financial recovery plan for the village had requested.

Concerning the capital improvement plans for the next several years, Cline said he and James C. Root, village administrator, prepared a list of about 20 projects that are now being checked by the clerk-treasurer to determine if the funds would be available.

During the Aug. 17 meeting, it was agreed that street repair was the first priority.

In response to a question by James C. Root, village administrator, prepared a list of about 20 projects that are now being checked by the clerk-treasurer to determine if the funds would be available.

Root said that if the $5 additional license fee for Richland county residents of the village is not up at the polls in November, the street fund might expect an additional $350 a month will be forthcoming to the street fund from the additional gasoline tax recently imposed by the state legislature.

It pays to have good connections.

We're your hometown power company. But we're also part of American Electric Power, one of the most efficient electric systems in the country.

When you turn on a light switch, or an electric appliance, you probably don't care where the electricity comes from. As long as it gets there.

But we care, because the cost of making electricity can vary from plant to plant at different times of the day. And, since we're part of the 7-state AEP System, we can tap the best combination of generation and transmission efficiency to get the most economical power to you instantly from anywhere in the system.

Being part of this power system and its split-second efficiency is one reason why we've been able to keep your electric rates below the national average.*

Sue A. Shuty bride of Roy L. Bauman

Miss Sue Ann Shuty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shuty, Route 98, became the bride of Roy Lee Bauman in a late morning service Aug. 15, in First Alliance church, Cook road, Mansfield.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bauman, Bellville route 2.

The Rev. Neil E. Veydt performed the double ring ceremony before the candle-light church altar, decorated with gladioli, daisies and chrysanthemums on either side.

Pre-nuptial guitar music was played by Darcy Turner, who sang "Wedding Song".

Ursula Estelino, Shelby, guitarist, sang "Be Not Afraid", "If" and "Longer".

Selections on the harp were played by Renee Meyer, Tiffin. These were "Fantasia", "Evergreen" and "First Arabesque".

While the mothers were escorted to their pews, she played "Blest Be The Tie That Binds".

After the couple exchanged their vows, they sang "Author of Love" while the bridegroom played the guitar.

The harpist played The Lord's Prayer. During the candle lighting ceremony, Mr. Turner sang and played "Melt Us Together", which he wrote for the couple.

Mary Louise La France, organist, played "Veni Creator Spiritus" as the ceremony began and "Fanfare" when the couple left the altar.

The bride was escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents.

She wore an ivory gown designed with a beaded Queen Ann neckline and sleeves of organza and Chantilly lace. The skirt of the gown ended in a chapel-length train. She wore an off-the-face hat trimmed with rolled organza flowers. A cathedral length veil fell from the back of it.

She carried a cascade arrangement of Sonia roses. Miss Debbie Hord, Willard, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Chris Meisters, Ashland; Mrs. Charles Knight, Loudonville, and Mrs. David Bolinger, Warren.

They wore apricot gowns trimmed with Chantilly lace and carried ivory lace fans with Sonia roses and forget-me-nots.

The bridegroom's cousin, Steven Schwartz, Detroit, Mich., was best man. Darcy Turner, Mansfield, the bride's brother, James, and the bridegroom's brother, Gary, ushered.

Mrs. Shuty chose a gown in aquamarine and Mrs. Bauman wore a green gown. Both wore corsages of orchids.

A reception took place in the LOmoose hall, Shelby, with music by Mike Michaels band.

The bride's cake was served by Bobbi Emery, Vermilion; Cyndie Damers, Loudonville; These Damron, Grove City, and Jeri Clark, Willard.

Lisa King, Shiloh, registered guests. Mrs. Bauman is a 1976 Plymouth High school grad.

Be careful of what you eat at fair

By AUNT LIZ
It is fair time again. You get to see lots of fluffy looking sheep, large furry rabbits, fancy groomed dogs. It can be a real ball, especially for kids.

But a senior citizen can live it up too. Remember the pink fluff stuff you ate once a year as a little one at a circus? It still exists, and you can kind of relive those days.

You can munch on this and that. But be careful what you munch on. In this day and age, all health departments are there to oversee foods are

O.K., but they can miss the boat. No long ago we had a dinner guest who had to be excused from the table and spent the night stretched out on my bed, sick as a dog.

Once she came to, I asked what she had eaten during the day. The answer was a sausage sandwich from a stand someone had put up.

She was young and healthy and threw it off after something like six hours. Had she been older, it might have been the end.

This sounds very gloomy, but it never hit me before. We have gone to this and that and eaten as we saw the stuff with no fear.

You can pick up bugs in your own house. For the first time in my life I called a friend whom I had asked for lunch, and said, "Don't come".

It made me feel very badly, but my stomach felt even worse, and it had to be what I ate out of my own kitchen.

Granted, they were leftovers from the night before, which I was really pleased about.

We had found a recipe to goop up happy chicken breasts with a sauce made with "thick cream". It is impossible to find it any more and if you can find it, it is like investing in a good producing oil well.

Years back we had some nice friends who had a friendly cow and we could take an empty quart jar and exchange it for a jar filled with cream, which was so thick that you had to scoop it out with a spoon. Those happy cows are now gone.

To solve this recipe problem, which took me several days, I decided that a can of cream of chicken soup would do the trick.

It did. It was darn good. Just as the breasts which must first be skinned, and if you can, bone them, but that is really not necessary. After they are well browned, put them in a baking pan, pour over the soup, which has been rather generously dosed with sherry, (be careful that you do not dilute it too much). This can be steamed in a slow-going oven to keep it hot until you are ready to eat.

If you have managed to bone the breasts, do not miss out on what you can so with the bones. They will have some meat clinging to them. Start a kettle with some carrots, celery and little onion, and you will end up with a beautiful broth.

Kevin Humbert, Debra Patton wed at Mansfield

Kevin Dwight Humbert took Miss Debra Jean Patton as his bride in Trimble Road Bible church, Mansfield, Aug. 1 at 2:30 p. m. in a ceremony performed by the Revs. Donald Cox and Larry Humbert.

The bridegroom, an alumnus of Plymouth High school who attended Pioneer Joint Vocational school, is the son of the Kenneth Humberts, Shiloh. The bride, daughter of the Donald Pattons, Mansfield, is an alumna of Crestview High school and of Mansfield Business college.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white quiana with blouson bodice. There were lace accents at the shoulders and neckline. The gown was gathered softly at the waist. She wore a cap with a fingertip veil.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Brenda Wright, matron of honor, wore a light blue gown with blouson bodice. It was gathered at the shoulders.

The bride's sisters, Ann and Cheryl, and Miss Laurie Hartwig, were bridesmaids. Sara Eagleston was flower girl.

Charles Huston, Shiloh, was best man.

Steven Humbert, cousin of the bridegroom; Timothy Hipsher, Steven Baldrige and Keith Humbert, another cousin, ushered. Mrs. Nina Hopp, organist, accompanied the soloists, Denise Willis and Larry Humbert.

A reception took place in the church rooms, where LuAnn Miller and Nancy Eagleston assisted guests.

The bridegroom is employed by Springfield Mold & Die Co., Ontario.

After a honeymoon at Aurora, the couple is living in Mansfield, where the bride is employed as a medical assistant.

Dianna Baker, Steven Post to wed Sept. 5

Dianna Lynn Baker will become the bride of Steven J. Post Sept. 5 in an afternoon ceremony in New Haven United Methodist church.

A reception will take place in Ehret Parsel Post 447, American Legion.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Baker, Greenwich. Her father is a former Plymouth village administrator.

Mr. Post is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Post.

Newsy notes...

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne H. Strine and the Wayne E. Strines returned Thursday from a two week vacation in Canada. Among the places they visited was James Bay.

The Kenneth Echelbergs spent the weekend at their trailer at Marine City on Lake Erie.
