

Ave atque vale

Remarks of Wayne H. Strine, chairman of the board of trustees, Mary Fate park, in the dedication of the football field Friday night.

"Mr. Chairman, Reverend Clergy, our friends from Buckeye Central and Ladies and Gentlemen, my friends and neighbors.

I come here tonight with a pleasant task, and I shall get to it at once.

The trustees of Mary Fate Park, each of whom was nominated by the mayor and confirmed by the council of the Village of Plymouth, have voted to acknowledge and recognize the long and faithful service, much of it as chairman, rendered until his untimely death by Robert A. Lewis.

For 32 years this park was his passion. He was here every wakeful day, save when he was off visiting his children, both are here tonight, I am happy to say. He took an interest in the park as though it were his own home. He fought for what was right and he fought against what he thought was wrong. When our time comes, we should all hope that no worse than that can be said of each of us.

He was one of the prime movers in the making of this field and in the establishment of the lighting system. When the team began to play night games, he missed a home game.

It is said that in our society we have not yet learned to give credit where credit is due when it can be enjoyed by the recipient. And here we are tonight in just such a situation: we did not give Robert Lewis the credit he deserved when he was around to appreciate it.

William Shakespeare said, "The evil that men do lives after them; the good is oft interred with their bones."

Robert Lewis did no evil. His interest in his church, in his fraternal affiliation, in his civic duty as trustee of this park, and above all in his family are undying tributes to his character and his turn of mind.

Now I have the great honor and privilege, as his successor to the chairmanship of the board of trustees of Mary Fate park, in the presence of those he loved most and who loved him, and of his many friends and neighbors here assembled, to dedicate this field, over which during 32 years he shed many a bead of sweat and perhaps a tear or two, to the memory of Robert A. Lewis; and I further declare that this shall henceforth be known as "The Robert A. Lewis Memorial Field."

Remarks of Co-Capt. Reggie Ganzhorn of the Big Red football team in the award of an honorary letter, posthumously, to Robert A. Lewis Monday night:

"Mr. Chairman, Reverend Clergy, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Starting in 1962, the Plymouth football squad awarded an honorary letter to a person who had made, over many years, a substantial contribution to the football program. The first recipient was the late Elton A. Robertson, who was honored for having helped to build this field and to light it and who, for as long as it was needed, furnished free of charge a public address system.

Thereafter the squad honored others, including our local industry, for similar noteworthy contributions.

The honorary letter is limited to persons who are not graduates of Plymouth High school. Nominations must be approved by a board of review, which includes a captain of the team.

This year, for the first time, the team will award a posthumous letter.

I shall read the citation that goes with this honorary letter."

For distinguished and faithful service to the Big Red football squad over a continuing period of years, from the inception of the 11-man game in 1948 until his untimely death during the 1980 season, and for a record of attendance at home night games that was perfect until Almighty God took him from us, this is awarded to ROBERT A. LEWIS with the love and affection of those to whom he gave his full measure of devotion while he was among us.

Big Red to face South Central tomorrow

Can Plymouth turn it around at Greenwich tomorrow? His coach certainly hopes so.

He's not been able to defeat South Central since he took over for Mike McFarren and he's had enough of the Trojans.

But he respects them and he's worked his team hard this week, considering that he lost money, more or less, to prepare for Coach Bill Lewis's outfit, which took a lacing from Northmor last week.

What can Plymouth expect from South Central?

Cregg Fetter seeks to fill the shoes of all-conference Doug Fidler, who's playing at Ashland now. He bolted for the Trojans' only score last week.

Tom Hall is his brother's likely successor as slotback.

Jeff Music, another of a long line of players of that name at Greenwich, is the quarterback.

South Central has considerable experience in the interior line. And there is some size there.

Mark Evans, a 12th grader who scales 180, is the pivot. Robbie King and Scott Somask, guards, are lettermen as well. Mike West, who weighs 180 pounds, and Kelly Magill, also a 180-pounder, play the ends.

Only at the tackles is there a paucity of experience. Here the size is there. Mike Keller scales 210, Brad Beasore 195, Bryan Oney 200.

Is South Central suspect on defense? Northmor passes just three times and failed to connect with any of them.

Steve Morris is the leader of the Trojan defense at tackle. He weighs 230 pounds. Robert Willett is a seasoned end. Magill, Evans, Hall, Somask and Music are also two-way performers.

Lewis obviously was disappointed that his team did not do better against the Golden Knights. South Central always likes to do well against Plymouth and Lewis & Co. will be trying to do just that tomorrow.

Non-toxic smoke tests sewers

Village personnel are smoke testing the sewer lines throughout the village. The smoke is non-toxic. This is being done to determine if storm sewer water from downspouts is going into the sanitary system.

Shelbian hurt, car destroyed

A 24-year-old Shelbian escaped serious injury Sept. 2 at 11:08 p. m. when his car struck two small poles and a tree in Kuhn road and caught fire.

James E. Webb was treated and released at Shelby Memorial hospital.

State highway patrol said he drove off Kuhn road south of London West road, Shelby and Plymouth Fire departments battled the blaze which gutted the car.

Plymouth emerged from its trouncing by Buckeye Central without serious injury, save to its pride, and it will be trying to overcome that bruise. To do so, it must generate more offense and reduce mistakes to zero. In Class A football, it's less a matter of which team is superior than which team makes the most mistakes. The Big Red made enough Friday night to last it all season.

Game time is 8 p. m. The stadium is in the rear of South Central High school in Angling road. Best route: Proceed in Route 61 to Guinea Corner, turn right in Boughtonville road, proceed to Angling road, turn left to stadium.

Mike Metcalfe, No. 82, is the Big Red punter. A collapse of his protection led to a blocked kick in the first period here Friday night. Result: Buckeye Central scored. He'll be booting for Plymouth at South Central tomorrow, when the Big Red seeks to snap a 12-game losing streak.

Red sets 10th game Sept. 25

Football fans with no place to go on Sept. 25, owing to the cancellation of the Lucas game, because Lucas isn't fielding a team this season, can rest easier.

Sam Cook, athletic director of Plymouth High school, announces he's found an opponent - a big one!

It's a Class AA school, Lewistown-Indian Lake, near Bellefontaine, and it will come here to play at 7:30 p. m., half an hour earlier than usual.

Holders of season tickets will be admitted at the gate.

Water line parley set Tuesday

An informational meeting concerning the water line from Willard to Plymouth will take place Tuesday in the New Haven township hall.

Persons interested are asked to be there at 7:30 p. m.

POWU clear winner in NLRB complaint

Plymouth Office Workers union has won a complete victory over Plymouth Locomotive Works, Inc., which has been ordered by an administrative judge of the NLRB to bargain with the union as exclusive representative of the employees, to offer Ervin W. Howard immediate and full reinstatement to his former job as timekeeper or a substantially equivalent position and to pay him for any loss of earnings or other benefits he may have suffered, to pay Margaret Reeder for earnings or benefits lost for a one week layoff, and to post in the plant a copy of the order for 60 days.

POWU is composed of all office clerical employees and technical employees on the payroll of PLW save for all production and maintenance employees, guards and supervisors. The administrative judge ordered PLW to cease and desist in making or effecting any change in wages, hours or other terms or conditions of employment. PLW is prohibited from demoting, discharging, denying the right to bump or other discriminating against any employee for supporting POWU. It may not threaten employees with withdrawal of insurance and wage increases. It is prohibited from saying to employees that but for the union, employees would not be laid off, and from maintaining any rule that prohibits any employee from distributing or soliciting literature on behalf of a labor organization in non-working areas during non-working time.

Council approves $9 a month for 1,000 gallons of water

New water rates were agreed upon Tuesday night by village council.

The minimum will be $9 for 1,000 gallons a month rather than the original proposed rates by Lester Poggemeyer, P. E. Inc., which called for a $10 minimum.

The gallonage rate over the minimum has been reduced 10 cents from the first set of rates.

This will generate $167,000 annually, based on present usage by consumers.

The engineers estimate the annual cost of the water from Willard, based on 200,000 gallons a day, will be $92.

Debt service for money borrowed from the Ohio Water Development administration is pegged at $15,400.25. Operations and maintenance is set at $50,000 and future capital improvements at $16,000.

This brings the total yearly cost for operating the system to $174,292.75. However, the village will receive a credit from Willard of $16,272.40 for the installation of the line.

Thus, the total annual cost will be $158,020.35.

Poggemeyer prepared six columns of figures showing the monthly charges, with an $8, $9 and $10 minimum with the average based on the original gallon charge and its newly calculated one.

Mayor Dean A. Cline said the rate, which would bring in the $167,600 amount, is realistic. Councilman Thomas Moore agreed with him.

Councilman Bill Taulbee said the $10 minimum should be approved.

His reasoning was that people will be conserving on usage and it could be possible that the sum would be greatly reduced and might cause a real financial crunch.

It was agreed that water meters will be read on a monthly basis, rather than on the bi-monthly readings. James C. Root, village administrator, said this would make the job of meter reader almost a full time one. He strongly recommended that the council consider the installation of remote water meters be required when an old one needs to be replaced.

In new houses, the remote meters are installed automatically. The first step was taken when the council agreed to accept the bid of Abel Paving for the resurfacing of Nichols and Beelman streets. Work most likely will be in several weeks.

Abel was the only bidder on the street projects planned for this year.

Its bid was $12,000. The bid for resurfacing Springmill road was $9,390 and for West High street $9,000.

Two young families who live in Beelman street approached the council with a request that the street be done because of the danger to children riding their bicycles.

Mrs. George Lewis told the council that one of her children had been severely injured when her bicycle hit a hole.

The mayor said that after the mishap occurred he had seen the child and realized that something had to be done immediately.

Lester Sexton, who lives at 173 Beelman, presented a petition signed by 32 residents of the two streets. He pointed out there are a total of 49 children.

No action was taken on the other two projects. Councilman James Holloway is to discuss the possibility of Plymouth Locomotive Works and Sobigro Service Co. sharing some of the cost for West High street, since they are the heavy users of it.

The service committee will meet with Jerry Tucher, division manager, Mansfield division, Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc. Tuesday.

Two horsepower!

A 21-year-old Newarker sojourning in Michigan decided to go home for a new start. How? He bought a team of ponies, an 11-year-old and a 15-year-old gelding, rigged up a wheeled, covered wagon, put his dog and his girl friend in it and set forth. He was here Friday, to wash his clothing, pick up supplies and rest his animals. They stopped in the firehouse parking lot. Rate of speed? "Oh, about 25 to 30 miles a day."

Red mistakes lead to 32 to 6 defeat

Plymouth's mistakes gave Buckeye Central an early lead here Friday night and the visitors trampled the Big Red, 32 to 6.

The home team got into Buckeye Central territory early in the game when on first down after a Big Red Aaron Allenbaugh fumbled the ball loose.

Plymouth went to the air for the first three plays of the game and managed only five yards. In the second series, immediately after the fumble, the Big Red sought to gain ground by running. It was held to just three yards and was compelled to punt.

The visitors connected with a 45-yard pass play in the next series but failed of first down at the Plymouth 31. A poor punt gave the Bucks good field position at their 41 but they couldn't move either and got off an equally poor punt to Plymouth 33.

Unable to advance, Mike Metcalfe on fourth down sought to punt.

The kick blocking broke down and Buckeye Central smothered the ball, recovering at the Plymouth 15.

The Bucks needed only two plays to score, Mark Houston getting home from the eight. Karl Mahaffey booted the PAT.

Midway through the second period, the Bucks were in the end zone again this time at the climax of a 53-yard drive in 11 plays after fielding a Metcalfe's punt.

Houston again was the scorer, with a four yard bolt through tackle.

Mahaffey's kick was short. Plymouth did not penetrate Buckeye Central territory after its second series until midway in the fourth quarter.

By this time the game was all but out of reach.

A long runback of the kickoff beginning the second half gave the visitors first down at the Red 15. Jeff Pifer fielded the ball at his 24 and passed through the Red defenders until Steve Jamerson pulled him down. Buckeye Central needed only three plays to score. Chet Johnson banged in from the 11. The place kick for PAT was again short.

Midway through the third quarter, Plymouth fumbled at its five yard line. Buckeye Central recovered at the three and in one play Steve Kehres was into the end zone with the fourth Buck TD. Mahaffey's kick again went away.

Buckeye Central disassembled the punt in the fourth period. It failed of first down at its 46 and Plymouth took possession.

The aerial game was resorted to make first down, Red Hampton to Darrel Hale for eight yards. After Jeff Jacobs broke through right tackle for six, Hampton hit Rick Hawkins and Hale for a total of 18 yards to make first down at the Bucks' eight. On first down, Hampton struck through the air again and hit Tom Baker for the score. The place kick for PAT didn't work.

Buckeye Central was to score one more time.

It took the ensuing kickoff and marched 41 yards in 10 plays to spring Randy Payne into the end zone from the one. Mahaffey was accurate this time.

Buckeye Central was clearly experienced and it was a bigger team, perhaps a faster one, than Plymouth may encounter for their remainder of the season. But had Plymouth not made so many tragic mistakes, the score would have been closer.

A comer!

It isn't often that a ninth grader in his first varsity game plays so well that he stands out.

There've been some in the past.

One of them was clearly noticeable Friday night.

His name is Bill McVey, he wears No. 71, and he played well on defense for a Big Red team that was hard put to contain a bigger, faster, more experienced Buckeye Central eleven.

Crestview asks to join Firelands

Crestview High school has asked to join the Firelands conference.

The Cougars at first were adamant about accepting the invitation of the Firelands conference, which was carefully structured in advance to coincide with an invitation to Plymouth so that the FC would become a 10 team league. Although nobody at Crestview would say why, the inference was that Crestview, like Mapleton, really wants no part of Edison, the biggest (in Group III) school in the conference.

But developments of a fiscal nature in Lucas district and reluctance of some southern schools to join the Black Fork Valley conference have apparently prompted Crestview to reconsider.

Whether this change of heart will overcome some umbrage taken by some schools over Crestview's initial decision remains to be seen.

A meeting of the principals of the Firelands conference as it is now organized will take place Sept. 23.

At that time, the applications of both Plymouth and Crestview will presumably be discussed and perhaps voted upon.

Step to join Firelands hailed as 'about time, long overdue!'

By THE OLD TIMER
The move by Plymouth to accept what it believes is a still valid invitation to join the Firelands conference is a sound one. It should have been accepted on the spot. Indeed, Plymouth should have sought to be a part of the Firelands conference when it was organized.

The reasons why are so apparent that a blind man can see them.

Save for one school, which competes in Class AA in basketball and baseball and in Division III in football, the size of the schools in the Firelands compares favorably with Plymouth. In fact, Plymouth is larger than half of them.

The facilities offered by the eight Firelands schools compare favorably with Plymouth's, although perhaps Plymouth's locker rooms are older and more antiquated than any of the others. If the football program can be turned around and sustained, there are hopes that a field house can be constructed, with more up-to-date dressing room facilities.

The number of inter-scholastic sports and the type of competition offered by the Firelands schools compares favorably with Plymouth's. Not all FC schools offer wrestling, but seven do. Plymouth has dropped tennis, leaving only two FC schools with that sport. In girls' competition, Plymouth teams will find competition in each of the sports of the autumn and winter. Not all FC schools field softball teams.

The distances between the schools are compatible with the energy crisis and with safety of competitors and their fans.

Greatest distance for Plymouth teams and their fans is to Black River, which lies northeast of Sullivan down Route 224, a U. S. highway that's much more likely to be free of snow and ice in the winter than the secondary state highways that lead to, say, Lucas or Mansfield.

Will Plymouth and now Crestview obtain admission to the Firelands conference?

The O. T. has learned that no concerted opposition is likely to surface so long as the original formation of two divisions, a North and a South, will prevail. Edison, Monroeville, Western Reserve, St. Paul's and New London would comprise the North, Plymouth, South Central, Crestview, Black River and Mapleton the South. In football each team in North would meet each other team in North during the season. The winner would then meet the winner of the South division. The same technique would prevail in basketball, save that each team in North would play each other team in North two games and each team in South one game.

Reason for this: we've built up backyard rivalries with other schools that make us money and keep fans coming in and we don't want to spoil it," says one principal, who wants to remain anonymous.

An example: Edison will play Norwalk in its basketball opener this season. Plymouth drew a big crowd for its game with Buckeye Central and would probably not wish to drop its athletic relations with the Crawford county school.

We think it's a good move. What a pity it couldn't have been made sooner!

Kesslers take part in parley

Son-in-law and daughter of the Robert N. MacMichaels, the Wayne Kesslers, Las Vegas, Nev., were recent speakers at the unit convention of Worldwide Marriage Encounter. The topic of their presentation was "Come Back To Me With All Your Heart" and dealt with communication in a relationship in marriage focusing in the areas of dialogue, sexuality and prayer.

At this convention, the Kesslers were asked to co-ordinate a campaign to get the State of Nevada to declare Feb. 14, 1982, as "We Believe in Marriage Day" in the state. There are couples in every state in the union doing the same thing and the ultimate goal is to have President Reagan declare it nationally.

Why leave home when you can phone social security.

Increased costs of operation necessitate a change in this newspaper's classified advertising acceptance policy.
Effective Sept. 1, the newspaper will not accept a classified advertisement not paid for in advance, unless the advertiser appears consistently and has an established line of credit.
There will be no billing. Repeated monthly billing for small charges is prohibitively expensive. Cost of mailing and materials and labor more often than not eat up the price of the advertisement by the time it is collected.
No telephoned classifieds will be accepted.
In an effort to furnish the maximum service at the lowest possible cost to its customers, the newspaper is compelled to adopt this new policy.
